THE BABBLER

VOL

34

Crisman Memorial Library David Lipscomb College Nashville, Tennessee

EDITOR PEGGIE HERRON

VOLUME XXXIV 1954 • 1955

ASSOC. EDITOR MARY LOU CARTER

EDITORIAL PAGE GEORGE PATTERSON

FEATURE EDITOR CORNELIA TURMAN

MATTHEW MORRISON

CIRCULATION MANAGER BENNY NELMS

DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE

NASHVILLE, TENN.

The Baller Navy Band Is Here Sept. 27

David Lipscomb College, Nashville 4, Tenn., September 17, 1954

Faculty Reception Tonight Climaxes Opening Events

The annual faculty reception for freshmen and transfer students will climax the social activities for this week tonight in Sewell Hall. The affair is to be formal.

Composing the receiving line will be the college faculty, the Board of Directors, Dr. T. E. Simpkins, school physician, and Charles Chumbley, minister of the campus congregation. This line will form at seven-thirty in the Sewell Hall living room.

After meeting the school officials, the students are to go to the Student Center for refresh-

Taking place on the athletic field last night, the freshman mixer welcomed some four hundred new students to the campus.

Games were planned for the evening and were under the supervision of Mrs. Ollis Smith, supervisor of Sewell Hall. Refreshments were also served.

A bonfire concluded the evening at which time the students gathered around the fire to sing.

A picnic for both freshmen and upperclassmen is currently scheduled for Monday at 3:30 in the afternoon, pending the opening of the Nashville Parks. This event concludes all pre-school activities

News Briefs:

Stunt Nite Is Oct. 15

The traditional Stunt Nite, which is one of the major entertainments of the fall quarter, will be Friday night, Oct. 15, according to Willard Collins. All Lipscomb clubs will compete for prizes awarded to the clubs presenting the best skits.

PRINCE RESIGNS

Burrell Prince, who has been head supervisor of Elam Hall for the past three years, resigned recently. His former position has been filled by William Hunt.

Supervisors working under Mr. Hunt will be Myron Keith and Paul Breakfield. Assistants will be Dale Brown and Carl Rogers.

FORMAL OPENING IS SEPT. 23

A. C. Pullias, President, will deliver the opening message to the joint schools on Sept. 23, at 10 a. m. This is one of the two times during the year when all students of the Elementary, and High Schools, the College, and the faculty members, convene.

EDITORS TO ATTEND CONVENTION

The national convention of the Associated Collegiate Press will as classes will begin on Tuesday morning.

Listed below is the complete schedule of events for all students.

FRESHMEN Friday, September 17

12:00-Lunch

1:00-Math Placement text-Room 324 (for students who plan to take math and/or physics)

2:30—Group Assembly 5:00—Dinner

7:30 Faculty Reception for freshmen — Sewell Hall (Dress for this occasion will be formal for girls)

Saturday, September 18

7:00—Breakfast 8:00-Registration of Freshmen

-College Hall 12:00-Lunch

1:00-Registration continued -College Hall

5:00—Dinner

7:30—Group Singing

Sunday, September 19 7:00-8:30 a.m.—Breakfast

9:45 a.m.—Sunday School

10:55 a.m.—Worship

12:30-1:30 p.m.—Dinner 2:30 p.m.—Film —

5:00-6:00 p.m.—Supper 7:30 p.m.—Evening Worship

Monday, September 20

7:00-8:00 a.m.—Breakfast 8:00 a.m.—Group Assembly

-Alumni Auditorium 8:30 a.m.—Physical Examinations for Freshmen (men)

10:00 a.m.—Seashore Music Test (Women room to be assigned) -Lunch 12:00

1:00 p.m.—Physical Examinations for Freshmen (women)

1:00 p.m.—Seashore Music Test (Men room to be assigned)

3:30 p.m.—Picnic

UPPERCLASSMEN SCHEDULE Monday, September 20 8:00 a.m.-Group Assembly

-Alumni Auditorium 9:00 a.m.—Registration of juniors and seniors-College Hall 12:00 -Lunch

1:00 p.m.—Registration of sophomores—College Hall 3:30 p.m.—Pienic

be in Washington, D. C., Oct. 21-

Students eligible to attend are the editors and business managers of the three campus publications, all of which are members. They are, respectively, Martha Copeland and Joanne Edmondson, of the Backlog, Bettye Beazley and Ruth Campbell, of the Tower, and Peggie Herron and Paul Rogers, of the BABBLER.

Photo by James Clipp

WHOOPING IT UP IN SEWELL are incoming freshmen, left to right, Jane Alsup, Marilyn Buchanan, and Jenny Smith. Buddy Caldwell and Jimmy Smith (at the piano) lend able assistance to the merrymaking, which is only a prophesy of good times to come as freshmen get settled in their new home.

93 Freshmen Get Scholarships

Attending Lipscomb with the aid of scholarships this year will be 93 freshmen. Eighty of the scholarships are honorary, given on the basis of high school achievements, and 13 are for musie ability.

The honor scholarships extend over the four years on the provision that the student maintains a 2. (B) average or better. To hold a music scholarship, a student must have a I. (C) average or better in all subjects, except music, in which he must have a 2. average. The scholarships have a total value of $480 for each student.

Freshmen receiving honor scholarships are: Jeanette Aronld, Myra Ann Barr, Martha Beasley, Dorris Bell, Max Cagle, James Castleberry, Rodney Eugene Cloud, Joe Cooper, Bobbie Burt Eagan, Aliene Fann, Hallie Fields, Linda Faye Foster.

Marianne Gates, Edwin Gleaves, Jr., Frankie Gregory, Linda Jo Hall, Kitty Ann Hardin, Lewis Danny Harless, Wyna Ellen Harper, Kenneth Harwell, Kay Hill, Thomas Hipps, Helen Hobby, Yvonne Hodge, Donald Holliday, Mary Dale Holland, Eddie R. Holley, Jr., Ann Huffins, Judith Ann Johns, Barbara Jones, Wilmoth Killebrew, Hugh Roy King, Shirley Lee, Nancy Loyd, Norma Mc-Whirter, Jimmie Mankin, Jimmy Ann Meadow, Don Montgomery, Benny Nelms, Marian Parker, Billy Peach, John Phifer, Violet

Nell Quinette, Anita Carol Quisenberry, Haley Randolph, Norma Riggs, Ray Roark, Georgia Roberts, Dorothy Robertson, Donna Rogers, Bobby Shoulders, Wm. Simpson, Maxine Smith, Jenny Smith, Betty Teasley, Charles Trevathan, Bobbie Ann Turner, Peggy Turner, James Vandiver, Jerry Frank Watson, Lucille Willis, Nancy Wilson, Glenda Winsett, George Ann Wolf, Janice Woodward, Joanne Wright, Vivian Wright, Wm. Alton Yates, Beverly Brawner, Shirley Floyd, Gilbert Hunter, Rex Miller, Anita Clarice Tidwell, Robert Wade.

Six honor scholarships carrying half value of the regular ones were given to Willa Dean Brown, Alan Burton, Billie Fort, Martha Jones, Clarence Mason and Quita Fay Simon.

Students who received music scholarships were Ann Alexander, Jack Brown, Elmer Carothers, Ruth Margaret Deason, Sarah Jeanette Holt, Rita NaDean Jamison, Shirley Ledford, Tyler Mills, Patricia Powell, James Sain, Margaret Sherrill, Carolaide Swindle, and Oliver Abernathy.

To Be First Attraction Of '54-'55 Artist Series

The U. S. Navy Band, billed throughout the country as the "world's finest," will be the first attraction in the 1954 David Lipscomb College Artist Series.

Two performances are scheduled in McQuiddy Physical Education Building on September 27—a matinee at 3:30 p.m. and an evening concert at 8:15.

Programs for the two concerts will be entirely different, with selections of interest to young music lovers featured at the mat-

Student Admission Is 50c

Vice-President Willard Collins, director of the Lipscomb Artist Series, has announced a special rate of 50c as the admission price for students-elementary school, high school and college—to each of the two performances. This low price was placed on student admission, he said, to make it possible for every public school child in the community to hear the band at the matinee performance, at

General admission tickets are $1.00—the same price for both matinee and evening concert. Reserved seats are not being sold, but Vice-President Collins said that groups of 20 or more wishing to attend in a body may make arrangements through his office to reserve special sections.

Tickets are on sale down town at Reale Jewelry Co., 706 Church St., and Claude P. Street Piano Co., 168 8th Ave., N. Mail orders will be accepted at the college if accompanied by check or money order. These should be addressed to R. H. Kerce, assistant to the President of David Lipscomb College.

Hopeful Writers Urged to Enroll In Journalism

For the first time in several years, Lipscomb students will have opportunity to take a course in journalism, which will be taught by Miss Eunice Bradley, head of the Lipscomb News

The editors of the BABBLER urge all students interested in journalism and work on the BABBLER to register for the course, which will be taught on the sophomore level.

Miss Bradley, formerly with the bureau, has the Master's Degree injournalism, and is co-sponsor of Commander Charles Brendler is conductor of the famous band, to which he was assigned to fill a vacancy in the clarinet section in 1917. He was still a member when President Calvin Coolidge signed the special act of Congress in 1925,

Brendler is Conductor

Commander Charles Brendler, conductor of the famous U.S. Navy Band, which will appear here for two performances Sept. 27.

designating it the "official U. S. Navy Band."

Appointed assistant conductor in 1937, he was promoted to conductor four years later, and has achieved notable distinction on the concert tours, radio and television for himself and the approximately 100 musicians under his leadership. They have grown up together in national fame, and prestige and have made the annual concert tour to different sections of the country a tradition.

Band Belongs to U. S.

Commander Brendler believes that the band belongs to all the people of the United States, and insists that their repertoire include selections that appeal to old and and young alike. The matinee especially is designed to appeal to young people in a phase of their work in which he takes pride and interest.

The band will play at Middle Tennessee State College, Murfreesboro, Saturday, September 25, and at Clarksville the next day, Sunday, September 26. Commander Brendler expects the two chartered buses which transport the group to arrive in Nashville around noon on Monday, Septem-

'54-55 BABBLER Staff Is Announced This Week

Three sophomores hold the chief positions on this year's BABBLER staff, according to Peggie Herron, Editor-in-chief, who also revealed that one vacancy exists on the editorial staff.

The position of associate editor is held by Mary Lou Carter of Brentwood, Tenn. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carter, she is a sophomore English major. A graduate of David Lipscomb High School, she was editor of her high school paper and was a reporter and columnist for the BABBLER

George Patterson of Chattanooga was appointed second-page editor. The son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Patterson, he is also a sophomore and is majoring in Eng-

Another Sophomore, Cornelia Turman of Savannah, Tenn., is this year's feature editor. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Turman, she was editor of her high school paper and is majoring in journalism.

Matthew Morrison of Baltimore, returns to his position as cartoonist for the third year.

Bob Sivley, a senior psychology major of Chattanooga, Tenn., will be the editorial advisor. He is also student editor of the Lipscomb News Bureau, a position which he held last year. He was associate editor of the BABBLER during his sophomore year and Editor-in-Chief last year.

The position of sports editor is yet to be filled. Neal Ellis, who was appointed to the position earlier in the year, decided not to return to Lipscomb this year after getting a job with a Houston, Tex., Any student, newspaper. freshman or upper classman, who wants to apply for the position should contact Peggie Herron immediately.

The business manager is Paul Rogers, who is a junior. He is the son of Mrs. A. W. Rogers of Birmingham, Ala., and is a speech

Mills Receives VU Medal, Degree Paul C. Mills of the English Department was presented the Founder's Medal at Vanderbilt University summer graduation ex-

The medal, the original gift to the University by Cornelius Vanderbilt, is presented annually to the student in each of the six schools who maintains the highest scholastic average.

The schools represented are Arts and Sciences, Religion, Engineering, Law, Medicine and Nursing. Mills had the highest average in the School of Religion. He was awarded the Bachelor of Divinity Degree.

A part time instructor in English here, Mills is currently working towards his Ph.D. degree in English at Vanderbilt.

dents who elected her to this of-

Ruth has been a student at Lips-

During the coming year Ruth's

It is interesting to note that this is the first time in many years

that both the president and secre-

ary are from the same city. Old

Hickory is a suburban community

Buy Cosmetics at Hutcherson's

comb since her freshman year by

Welcoming Committee Says, 'We're Glad You're Here'

After designating ourselves an unofficial welcoming committee, we hard-working staff members decided that the best way to show you "we're mighty glad you're here" was by putting out a special issue of the BABBLER in your honor. And here it is.

We didn't mind returning to campus a week earlier in order to put this issue out. In fact, we rather enjoyed being here to meet you first early arrivals. But it did create a problem, having so few of you to furnish us with news.

We hope that in the months to come, you will find our pages full of interesting news and other good reading material -furthermore, we hope you'll read it! And don't stop with the front page-read everything, from columns to editorials.

After you read us, let us know what you think. We thrive on constructive criticism, and nobody can give us the kind we want better than you, our readers. We want to print what you want to read, so let us know. Opinions, brickbats, bouquets-they're all welcome. Either pay us a visit at our office on the second floor of Crisman Memorial Library, or better still, write a letter to the editor. Chances are, we'll print it.

Is Press Club Oyster?

Here also, is your special invitation to join the Press Club. It's the organization behind the paper. If you are interested in any phase of journalism (whether you know anything about it or not), then the Press Club is your oyster. The time and place of the first meeting will be announced, so watch for that date, and be there!

This Is Not Advice, But-

We of the BABBLER staff are flattered to be among the first "upperclassmen" to welcome you, the Class of '58, to the campus. We are indeed sincere in hoping that the next four years will be among the happiest in your life. We remember our first year in college. Our first big step away from home-our first big choices to make. It was rather a queer feeling to say, "I'll do this," or, " I won't do that," and have no wiser voice to intervene. At first we sort of leaned over backward, first one way, then the other, but gradually, we began to gain our balance, and we're still balancing as best we can, although sometimes the law of gravity kind of backfires, it seems. This happens all through life they say-this constant attempt to balance, but the more we practice, the better we become.

You have a great deal to look forward to in the coming year. You are getting a second chance, as it were. The next four years will be what you make them. We hope that nowpossibly before you finish reading this-you will sit down and give some serious consideration to your college career. What do you hope to accomplish this year? Dean's list, popularity, leadership? Or possibly all three. How are you going to gain them-have you counted the cost? What will you put first in your college life-studies, good times, what? What will be the basis of your choices? The easiest way out, or the most profitable? By what standards will you choose your friends? By what standards will you conduct yourself?

Perhaps you have already asked, "Who do they think they are, giving advice?" But you can see, we are not giving advice. We don't practice that false art. We have made these suggestions because we have been where you are now, and because we have high hopes for, and great confidence in, you.

The Babbler

office, Nashville, Tenn., under the Act of March 3, 1897. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1916; authorized, Nashville, Tenn.

Published weekly during the regular school year except during holidays or examination periods by the students of DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE, Nashville, Tenn.

Office located on second floor Crisman Memorial Library.

Associated	Member Collegiate	Press
EDITO	RIAL STAI	FF

Peggie Herron				Editor-in-Chief
Mary Lou Carter				Associate Editor
George Patterson				Editorial Page
Cornelia Turman				. Feature Editor
Matthew Morrison	× (+ x)			Staff Artist
		BUSINESS	STAFF
Paul Pagers		The second secon	THE COLUMN TWO IS NOT	Business Manager

ADVISORY STAFF Editorial Advisor Bob Sivley Faculty Advisor truly or any member of the staff,

Willard Collins

Paul Mills and Eunice Bradley

LIPSCOMB DAY by DAY By Fyfe

Greetings, greenies-and all you eager beavers who simply couldn't wait to return to this institution of higher learning(?). Welcome to Lipscomb with all its newest innovations and decorations and all the things, including this column, that have cluttered up the scene time immemorial.

Speaking of new decorations, we mustn't fail to mention Johnson Hall's recent redoing-very recer.t redoing. What it is to live in the midst of mops, paint brushes, painters, buffing machines, tarpaulins, et cetera, et cetera, is beyond the wildest imagination-as one of our staff members can testify. Seems Peggie Herron, editor of the BABBLER (take note, boss-your name in the first item), left a note instructing aforementioned staffer to come to her room, which is serving as the temporary BABBLER office as well as painting storehouse. While she was out, the recipient of the note popped in and began a thorough search for ye olde editor. He was last seen disappearing under one of the multitudes of tarpaulins and

"Are you in there, A busy boy was George Patterson as he began his dorm life anewscrubbing his floor, washing the windows, cleaning the closets, making beds, and so into the night. As he stepped back to view his handiwork, the horrible truth struck him. His room was next door!!!! As if matters weren't bad enough. George got the brilliant idea that he could save time by moving his mattress complete with sheets, blanket, spread, and pillow next door. While making the transfer, he tripped on a dangling sheet corner. George now has a laundry bill in addition to the job of repeating the cleanup process. How does the saying go . . . "Haste makes waste" or something of the sort. A similar tragedy occurred in Sewell Hall when Juanita Sprott came to the conclusion that the gouged out and scarred up top to her desk just could not be endured a moment longer. Industrious girl that she is, Juanita set to work with one of her father's rotating power tools. She did a lovely job and is now the proud possessor of the smoothest desk in Sewell. But she also has the only room filled with sawdust flung from a rotating device. Just don't believe her when she tells you that a fine layer of sawdust over ceiling.

in decorating.

All you Texans have heard of hoof and mouth disease? Well, here at Lipscomb there has lately been ease, and among the more recent sufferers is James Clipp. To make pictures for an article which appears elsewhere in this weekly

James went to the home of Elvis

Sherrill and his wife. There, the gracious hostess served lemonade to the poor boy slaving over his hot camera. After several sips of that cup which may cheer, but definitely does not inebriate, friend Clipp beamed rapturously,

"This is the best tea I've had in ages!" Pray tell what has been masquerading as tea at your home,

Mrs. Ollis Smith (whom you freshman girls will find of particular interest) in the most consistent latecomer to faculty meetings.

During this hectic week she awoke

one morning to discover she had overslept and had only a few minutes to get to an 8:30 meeting.

Determined to be on time she streaked away to the meeting

without pausing for breakfast.

Breathless, she stepped into the room . . . which was empty! On the door the schedule plainly stated that the meeting was to be held exactly one hour later. Miss

Gleaves seems to think Mrs. Smith was only making up for lost time.

To all you guys and dolls: This is your column. Take advantage of its infinite variety of uses-poison

pen letters, voodoo, blackmail. . . .

Seriously, if you have any humorous item (let these serve as horrible examples) report it to yours

Press Club Sponsors We'd appreciate any and all.

an epidemic of foot-in-mouth dis-walls, furniture, and all exposed every morning, tell her. And if clothing is simply the latest thing

'Greeting,' Says Student President

come you to college life at D. L. the spirit that exists on our campus and discover here the friendship and happiness that will enrich your life.

You will find the devotional at-

also provide advantages for fun and recreation. You will receive enjoyment from intramural and intercollegiate sports whether you are playing on the hardwood or sitting cheering from the bleach-

Oh, yes, incidentally let us not overlook the academic side of college life. With all of the other activities which are so interesting. we must remember those two hours of outside preparation per

Seriously, may we give our best to the activities in the year ahead

President, Student Body

Pen Points:

Penhead Is Back Again; Will Write and Advise

By Peggie Herron

Well, here I am, back for another year of writing. I just couldn't see going to school here and not giving the increased enrollment the benefit of reading what I have to say, as well as listening to it. Especially you Freshmen-but then, I think you will come to realize more fully the privilege you will have for the next nine months as time progresses. Not that the column will mprove, of course-it's tops al-

Also for your benefit, Freshmen, I would like to say that this column is what you are supposed to read first. Don't throw the paper away after you have read it, for there are other good things to read too, (Fyfe's column, for example) but naturally none as good as my column.

I'm not conceited, although you may get that idea after reading these first two paragraphs-I just believe in being honest (especially when it's something good about me), and when you know something is true, there's no use trying to be modest. Let everybody else know too! And I know I'm great. If you don't believe think I'm great, just ask some of the people who have known me awhile. Especially members of the BABBLER staff. Or maybe you had better wait another week -I haven't had time to indoctrinate them as fully as I intend to yet. Besides, if you can give me 10 reasons why I'm not great, I'll give you a kick in the shins. But let us not get into that here. Besides, I know you must be convinced by now.

Now that we've got that settled, and you know how good I am, leave us go on to something else. I hope you haven't had any roommate trouble yet. You know, there are ways of avoiding that. Since that is another of the profound subjects on which I am an imminent authority. and since I want you to know from the first how great I am, I will now deign to give you a few tips on the best procedure to use in taming a

First off, be firm. If you want your roommate to make your bed

It is certainly a pleasure to weltitude which is expressed in chapel, evening devotions, and Bible classes a great inspiration. As part of the student body, you will enjoy social activities such as Beautiful Day, freshman initiaion, dates, dormitory life, and banquets.

The school's athletic facilities class period.

and make improvements where such are needed. If I may be of service to you at any time, please feel at liberty to contact me. Again may I say a hearty welcome and good luck in the year -Dick Batey

she "forgets," remind her. This will teach her to sit up and listen

September 17, 1954

when you speak. Furthermore, if you get ready to wear her clothes, just wear them! She can't wear them all at once, anyway, and everyone knows we are supposed to share. Of course, this rule doesn't apply

Boys, be sure to let your roommate know in advance when you plan to use his car. This will not only be the courteous thing to do. it will also give him opportunity to fill up the gas tank, so you won't have to bother with this minor detail.

Another thing, if roomie wants to study while you shampoo your hair, just turn on the radio. This won't bother her probably, and anyway, she needs to learn that she won't always be able to have her way about things. Everybody needs to learn how to concentrate under stress.

You will really get a chance to show your fine sense of humor when it comes to practical jokes. You can easily impress roomie in any number of ways — for example, don't settle for that old trite trick of short-sheeting; instead, use your imagination! A dash o itch powder will really add zip to roomie's college career. Equally effective is a dainty layer of boiled spaghetti applied to the lower sheet. And won't roomie be mpressed!

You can also impress roomic vith your love of cleanliness if you give the room an occasional fumigation. There are a number of commercial fumigators on the market, but I daresay none are as effective as limberger cheese left to melt slowly on a hot radiator.

If, after you have tried all these sure-fire tricks, you still want to further impress ol' roomie-see me, I have a room in Johnson Hall. (P. S., a PRIVATE room.)

Act of Congress Created Navy Band

On his Inauguration Day, March 4, 1925, President Coolidge signed a special act of Congress, designating the Washington Navy Yard Band, as the official United States Navy Band. In the Fall of 1925, the Navy Band made its first annual tour. Except for the years of World War II, the Navy Band has made annual tours, playing before countless thousands.

Today, the United States Navy Band is composed of approximately one hundred individual artists, each of whom could take his place with the world's greatest symphony orchestras. The Navy Band contains within itself a complete symphony orchestra, which presents the works of the great masters as skillfully as any group in the country. On the other hand, its ultra modern "swingphonette" section gives sparkling personality to light operas and the latest "hit"

Commander Charles Brendler. who has conducted the Band since 1941, was the first Navy musician to attain the rank of Lieutenant Commander in the Regular Navy, and now holds the permanent rank of full Commander, by special act of Congress, 1953. He has conducted the Band before tremendous audiences throughout the United States, Canada, Alaska, Puerto Rico, Panama, Jamaica, Haiti, and the Virgin Islands.

The United States Navy Band has made thousands of radio broadcasts during the past quarter of a century, the best known of these broadcasts is the UNITED STATES NAVY BAND HOUR.

High School News

HS Has Record Enrollment

Mack Craig, Lipscomb High School Principal, announced last Monday a record enrollment of

'If You Don't See It, Ask,' Advises Traughber

services running smoothly.

total of 31 full-time and 30 student employees are required in the big business of meal planning, preparation and serving at Lips-

Wants Everybody Happy

broader this year than usual, because of the improvements made in his campus domain. The College Cafeteria has been completely redecorated throughout,

and the Student Center has a new paint job. That off-the-street entrance to the Cafeteria is new,

too. No longer do you have to climb up the steps and down the steps of Sewell Hall to find the New students won't appreciate these changes as much as those returning to the campus, but as school opens again, and he begins his sixth year at Lipscomb

Traughber hopes everybody's happy and pleased with the food

Alloway

BROS. COMPANY

TURRENTINE REALTY

COMPANY

2915 Nolensville Road

Sales—Insurance—Loans

FITTS

&

CRAWFORD

FLOWERS

2816 West End Ave.

7-5946

6-1148

serving line.

By Eunice Bradley

September 17, 1954

One of the first campus personalities new students learn to recognize is Gilliam O. Traughber, genial director of Lipscomb Food

Around mealtime each day, whether the student eats in the Student Center or the College Cafeteria, sometime during the meal he is sure to see Traughber making his rounds with the cheerful advice: "If you don't see it,

Housewives complain of their burden of decision in planning three meals a day for perhaps four or five people in one establishment. Traughber comes up smiling after arranging for food in five different places, served to something like 1,500 people, for a total of 2.755 individual meals a day. These meals are distributed among the different food centers as follows: College Cafeteria

College Student Center 500 High School Student Center 325 Elementary School Lunch Room

Kindergarten

In addition to these daily meals, Traughber's services are required for some forty luncheons and banquets during each school year, where meals are served to groups of from 20 to 1,500 people.

Jerry Reynolds Is Assistant

Of course, in carrying on these food services, Traughber has able assistance. Jerry Reynolds can usually be found around the Student Center or College Book Store, discharging his duties faithfully as assistant to the director.

Improvements Meet Upperclassmen

Returning upperclassmen will find several changes made since they left the campus in the spring. The college cafeteria has been repainted throughout, with rose and green. The entrance to the cafeteria has been changed to come straight in off the street, and a brick sidewalk has been added. Johnson Hall rooms have been painted on all floors. Fresh paint has also been applied to the halls and bathrooms The College Student Center has been repainted in brilliant purple and gold, School colors. Alumni Auditorium has come in for its share of the redecorating and has a new coat of paint. All corridors in College Hall have also been repainted. The girls swimming pool is now a brilliant seafoam-green color. The biology building has been given a coat of white, and the bathrooms in Sewell Hall have been redone also. Other improvements include two new sidewalks, one from College Hall to the cafeteria area, formerly an unsightly path. The other walk connects Granny White Circle with Mayfair Avenue, providing access to the new church building which is scheduled to be completed for use Oct. 10. Other improvements have been made in the Elementary and High School departments.

Purity Dairies

Nashville's Finest Milk 360 Murfreesboro Road

> Need a Haircut, Boys? Are Those Clothes Dirty Aga.

BUTCH'S BARBER SHOP

Right Across the Campus

Haircuts-Laundry-Dry Cleaning-Antiques-Gifts "Butch" and Clarrice Hatcher

Club Variety Adds Zest to Lipscomb Extra-Curricular

Mrs. Frances Law manages the Because a vital part of college High School Student Center and life includes extra-curricular actikeeps the situation well in hand vities, Lipscomb provides a variety of clubs which meet regularly Joyce Brown, secretary to the throughout the year. These clubs director, performs all the duties are open to all students who show usually associated with her job, particular interest or ability in plus a few added specialties required to keep the Lipscomb food

The Backlog Club, composed of tudents interested in year-book work, meets bi-weekly and has as its main purpose the publication of the Backlog, the Lipscomb an-

Students who show journalistic Traughber came to the campus inclinations are urged to join the in 1949, after operating his own Press Club which meets weekly. restaurant for three years. He Special attention is given to writserved with the U.S. Navy from ing for the BABBLER. This club 1942 to 1946, drawing duty on a annually sponsors Stunt Nite at destroyer in the Pacific Theater. which time all the clubs on the A graduate of Battle Ground campus present skits and acts. Academy, Franklin, he later at-Endeavoring to promote creativtended Milligan College and ity, the Creative Writers' Club Central Michigan State Teachers meets each week and published College. At both Milligan and the Tower, a literary magazine. CMST he was captain of the tennis team, and at CMST he lettered in To become a member of the Footlighters, the dramatic club, a student must receive some part With Mrs. Traughber and Gilda Jane. 7. he lives out on Old Hardin one of its several productions. ing Road, where he has made a Working Students Club Newest name for himself in the commu-The Working Students Club is nity as a breeder of fine dogs and the newest campus organization.

It was organized only last year, and is made up of all students who work on the campus. Consistently good-humored and friendly, Traughber is smiling The International Relations Club meets each week to discuss current affairs. Last year it played host to the Model United Nations which was held in Mc-Quiddy Physical Education Building. Membership is open to anyone interested. The Scholarship Club is made up of all Lipscomb students who have received either an honor or nusic scholarship. Composed of members of the art classes, the Art Club fixes the sets for most Lipscomb produc-

Club is made up of anyone who is taking or has taken Spanish and is interested in learning Spanish culture. It meets semi-monthly. The members of the Speech

Los Companeros, the Spanish

Major's Club are majoring in speech and many of them are preparing to preach. Anyone who is interested in photography may become a member of the Photographers' Club. It takes various field trips during

Radio-TV Club Also New

Another relatively new organization on the campus is the Radio-TV Club which was organized two years ago. This group makes chapel announcements, is in charge of cafeteria music and various types of radio work.

The "L" Club is open only to those students who have won letters in some field of athletic endeavor. The majority of the members are also members of some varsity athletic team. Last year for the first time the group gave jackets to the members of the club who had served in any capacity during the year.

The Home Ec. Club is made up of girls who take or are majoring in home economics. It sponsors a Christmas bazaar annually.

Any student who plans to teach is invited to join the Future Teachers of America Club. Last year the F. T. A. state convention was held on the Lipscomb campus and was attended by college and high school students throughout this area.

Clubs for Musicians

The Men's Glee Club is under the direction of Buddy Arnold and meets three days each week. Tryouts are held for membership.

Those who wish to be in the chorus may tryout and take it either as a credit or a non-credit course.' It is the largest singing group on the campus.

Announcements as to when the clubs shall meet will be made within the next few weeks in chapel.

Eighty per cent of vehicles involved in fatal traffic accidents in 1953 were traveling straight ahead

Batey, Behel Find Work Has Just Begun By Mary Lou Carter gained the confidence of the stu-

Student Body President, Dick Batey, and secretary, Ruth Behel. have now officially begun the work which they have been planning since last May 14.

It was on this date that the virtue of a scholarship awarded on the basis of her high school BABBLER came out with these record. An honor-roll student for headlines: "Batey Wins," and four years, she attended DuPont "Ruth Behel is '54-'55 Student High School in Old Hickory. Body Secretary." Batey was elected in a run-off, whereas Miss Behel won on the first ballot. aim is to work with the Student Each of the officers was opposed Board towards establishing better understanding between students by two candidates. and the functions of student gov-

President Batey, who has been student at Lipscomb since the first grade, brings experience to new post, having served as president of the sophomore class '53. When a freshman he was elected Most Representative Stu-

In the summer of '53 Batey was married to the former Carolyn Turrentine, who graduated from Lipscomb last June. They now live on Maplehurst Lane, just a few blocks from the campus, and have a baby daughter born this past summer.

Serving also as president of the Future Teachers of America Club, Miss Behel is a business administration major from Old Hickory,

While she held the office of

McKay-Cameron

Headquarters

CHINA, GLASS, SILVER

212 3rd Ave., N.

Patronize THE LIPSCOMB LAUNDRY

Joy's Flowers 601 Church 6-4144

WELCOME STUDENTS, OLD AND NEW

6-0427

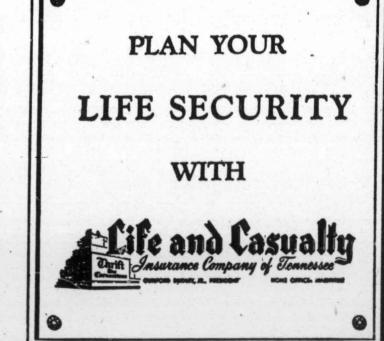

A. & S. Super Market

Just across from the campus

Nashville's Own Department Store

Fifth Avenue at Church

Phone 5-4661

He's the Bison's Top Backer

A personality with whom some of the freshman boys will soon become better acquainted, is the Lipscomb Bison Coach, Elvis Sher-

Coach Sherrill, a 1952 graduate of Lipscomb, was probably one of the best players ever to perform with a Lipscomb team. He played four years of varsity basketball with three of these spent at reg-

During his senior year he served as alternate captain and was also chosen all-conference guard. His greatest thrill while playing for Lipscomb occurred during his junior year when the Bisons beat Vanderbilt 59-57.

Sherrill was also a member of the Lipscomb baseball squad and a member of several semi-professional teams. A graduate of Howard High School where he participated in all athletics, he served two years in the service where he took part in athletics and coached a special service team in Japan. While a student at Lipscomb he served as president of the L Club for two years and also as sports editor of the Backlog for two

First Game Was Thrill

His first game as head coach of the Bisons provided his biggest thrill thus far in his coaching career as the team edged past Middle Tennessee's Blue Raiders 68-67. Sherrill's former high school coach was head coach of the Blue Raiders. Lipscomb went on to win three out of four games against these foes that

Last spring when the Bison nine

Bisons Gain Six Prospects

Five new freshman prospects and one transfer will be on hand this year when the Bison basketball season rolls around.

Coach Elvis Sherrill said that these boys were standouts last year for their respective high school teams, They include:

McCoy Kilpatrick from Linden, Tenn., a participant in the state tourney at Vanderbilt Gymnasium last March. He is 6' 1" weighs 185 and is left handed. He was selected to first team all

From Cleveland, Tennessee's Bradley Co. high school is James Whaley, a 6' 3", 185 left hander who was named to second team Another all state performer from Warrior, Ala., is Thomas Pate who is 6' 1" and weighs 180.

Two Kentucky boys, both making second team all state, are Terry Villines, 6' 2", 175, from Dixon and Keith Gerald from Scottsville, who is 5' 11" and weighs 155. A 6' 4" standout from Smithville, Tenn., is Audie Elrod. Ed Binkley, a transfer from Vanderbilt, is a graduate of Lipscomb high school and is 6' 2" and

Photo by James Clipp

THE MAN BEHIND THE TEAM, Coach Elvis Sherrill, relaxes with wife, the former Pat Williams, '53 Homecoming Queen. The Sherrills have a modern, pine-paneled apartment on Maplehurst, near the beat T. P. I. for the first time in the six years since he has been at

Today, at 26, Sherrill has the distinction of being one of the Lipscomb, he realized another youngest college head coaches in the country.

Sports Review

Headlines Reveal Story Of Last Year's Sports

By Cornelia Turman At the beginning of this new school year of 54-55, we want to remember some of the outstanding sports events of the past year. Will this year's teams and events be as good or better than last year's? Only time will tell. Meanwhile, let's take a backward glance at the previous record. Oct. 2 Hoosier Basketeer Strong Bison Find John Friend of Crown Point, Indiana, invades the Lipscomb campus. He's an 18-year old, 200 pounder who should be a great addition to the cage crew. Oct. 9 Letter Club to Sponsor

Class Tourney The D. L. C. "L" Club is sponsoring a class tournament designed 'to promote school spirit among the

Nov. 13 Cheerleaders Selected Gay Barnes, Mamie Grindley, Mary Ann Thomas, Vivian Wilson, Bill Threet, and Charles Smith were chosen cheerleaders this week with Jane Cunn and Charles Carpenter as alternates.

Nov. 20 Brown, Parrott to Lead 1953-54 Bison Quint Dec. 4 T. P. I. Eagles Edge Inspired Bisons 68-66 A last minute goal gave Tenn. Tech a victory over the Bisons

Jan. 29 Batey Leads Intramural Feb. 5 Bisons Fall to Raiders in Overtime Thriller Feb. 26 Girls All Stars Chosen Alley Cats Are Champs Apr. 2 Onion Dell Scene of Bison

Baseball Opener

Three Returning Vets Bolster 54

Tennis Squad Charles Hailey, Dean Spear and Allen Dixon form the nucleus of this year's netters.

Apr. 23 Bison Baseball Squad Continues Winning Ways Defeat Murray 12-4.

May 21 Bisons End Season With Belmont Win

Netters Vie for Title The V S A C tennis title is at stake today as David Lipscomb's Western division champs take on the Eastern loop winners, East Tenn. State, at Johnson City. May 28 "Most Valuable" Awards Presented Players receiving the MVP awards this year were: Ken Donelson (basketball) James Smith (baseball) Charles Hailey (ten-

Boyce Directs Intramurals

Eugene "Fessor" Boyce has again been appointed director of the annual intramural program this year. The program, designed for both men and women, has been for many years a vital part of the Lipscomb athletic schedule.

In the men's division, sports to be offered are football, basketball, Women's sports include basketball, badminton, tennis, pingpong and horseshoes.

The intramural program is scheduled to begin within the next few weeks, according to Boyce.

Lipscombites Are Eagerly Awaiting 'Flag' Football

Eugene Boyce, director of intramurals, states that the football season at Lipscomb will get in swing about the first week in Oc-

One type of football played at Lipscomb is called "flag" football. This game requires almost the same skill and teamwork as does "tackle" football.

A "flag" football team is made up of six players—two ends, a center, two halfbacks, and a tailback. Each player is an eligible pass receiver. There must always be three men on the line of scrimmage on offense as well as on de-

A "flag" football field is sixty yards long and is marked off in three twenty yard sections. A first down is made when any line is crossed during a series of four

Each player is given two flags which are long pieces of cloth about two inches wide and twenty-four inches long. These flags have knots tied at one end. Each player tucks the loose end in his pants at his waist and leaves the knot on the outside. The flags come to about half way between the hips and the knees.

A touchdown in "flag" football counts six points just as in "tackle" football. The extra point may be made by a run or pass. The game is divided into halves which last about twenty minutes each. A player may be stopped by being knocked out of bounds, by having one or both of the flags pulled away, or by being knocked off his feet by blocking.

In "flag" football, tackling is illegal. Leaving the feet to make a block is also illegal and is subject to a fifteen yard penalty. A player must block without leaving his feet because no equipment is used in "flag" football.

The referees for the games are students who are taking officiating classes or team sports classes. There are different referees for each game and each referee is given a set of rules and is familiar with them before he comes on

Touch Football Also Played

"Flag" football is a favorite sport among the men of Lipscomb, but anyone who does not wish to play "flag" football can play "touch" football.

There are two intramural football leagues because of the large number of students wishing to play and because of the various skills and interests. The "A" league plays "flag" football and the "B" league plays "touch" foot-There are eight intramural teams each having an "A" and "B" league team.

> LANDON'S Your Neighborhood HARDWARE

Sportlite

By Ronnie Morrell Everyone has heard of the great spirit of the New York Yankees. The "never-say-die" spirit has characterized the play of the Yankees as long as most of us can remember. Even though it is not likely that they will win the American League pennant, the Yankees are still able to come through in the clutch. When the going gets tough, the spirit of the Yankees shows itself best. The will to win and the "hever-saydie" spirit sparks them every day.

Coach Sherrill reports that the desire shown by the returning lettermen is great. This desire, which is already present, and a 'never-say-die" spirit could well mean one of the finest basketball seasons at Lipscomb in many years. The freshman basketball players and the freshman class as a whole could supply the spark that will fire Lipscomb on to a great year.

CLASS TOURNAMENT

Just a few weeks after school begins, the annual "L" Club Class Tournament will be held. The Freshman Class was runner-up last year. Great interest was shown in this event and the freshmen are urged to be ready for the games. Any member of the "L" Club will be glad to give more information concerning this tour-

LOCAL AMUSEMENT AVAIL-

Each Friday night high school football is played. The type football played in Nashville is very good. Hillsboro High School is located just a few blocks from the campus and this Friday night they will host Tennessee Industrial School. Lipscomb is well situated and students are easily able to satisfy their interests.

ATHLETIC CLUB WELCOMES FRESHMEN

The athletic club on the campus is the "L" Club. On behalf of the "L" Club, Charles Hailey, president, welcomes all the freshmen and wishes them the best ever. The "L" Club will strive to help the incoming students in any way possible and each member of the club wishes to make everyone feel at home this year at Lipscomb.

Everyone who has received a letter in sports at Lipscomb is eligible to be a member of the club. Each year the "L" Club endeavors to better the interest in athletics on the campus.

Even though freshmen are not eligible to be members, the "L" Club wishes to impress on the incoming studen's the importance of supporting the athletic teams of Lipscomb. Nothing can beat good school spirit and with all the ing in with gree enthusiasm, this year, athletically speaking, could be the best ever at Lipscomb. Come on Freshmen

Buy Parker Pens at Hutcherson's

Films and Developing

Famed Navy Band Performs Mon. The Baller Admit Students All Lipscomb students in the elementary and high school and college departments will be admitted free on their activity cards to the afternoon performance of

Tower Staff

Betty Beasley and Ruth Campbell, elected by the Lipscomb

Board of Publications, will serve as editor and business manager, respectively, of the Tower for Miss Beasley, daughter of Mrs.

Allie Beasley of Nashville, was circulation manager of the Tower

last year, and has been a member of the Creative Writers' Club

for three years, and is a senior

Pontiac. Mich., is a sophomore, agers, Bailey McBride, circulation manager, and Jim Peltier, as-

Herron Is Associate

Brook and Jo Helmers, of Nash-

weekly column in the BABBLER, last year. They are members of the Press Club and Creative Writers' Club, and last year Mrs.

Helmers served as secretary of the latter. He is a sophomore, and

Bailey McBride, a transfer from Central Christian College, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Mc-

Bride, of Tulsa, Okla. Last year

at Central Christian, McBride was a member of the annual staff, a reporter on the campus newspaper, and runner-up for Best

All Round Boy. He is a junior

Jim Peltier, of Wytheville, Va., is a sophomore. He has been a member of the Creative Writers'

Miss Beasley also revealed this enlargement in size, and a differ-

Mrs. Walter Wyckoff of the Lipscomb Patron's Association ansociation luncheon and fashion

The luncheon, which precedes the fashion show, will be held in the Student Center at 12:00. Immediately following the luncheon,

the fashion show, sponsored by

Harvey's, will take place in Alumni Auditorium. Ray Walker, vocalist, and Nancy Wyckoff, accompanist, will provide musical

Models for the fashion show will be Linda Gail Russell, Gwen

Thurman, Jackie Burton, Gay Mc-

Farland, Gloria Meyer, Mrs. Al-

den Smith, Mrs. Fred Friend, Mrs.

Ben Whitelaw, Mrs. Ralph Rice,

Mrs. Nelson Burton, Mrs. R. K.

initial meeting Monday at five o'clock in room 200. New students are especially invited to at-

Eyans, and Mrs. C. H. Gregory.

Club News

selections at intermission.

ent type of paper and print.

Patrons Sponsor

Fashion Preview

show for September 24.

English major.

Club one year.

sociate circulation manager.

Writers' Club last year.

Miss Campbell, daughter of Mr.

Beasley Names Alumni Loyalty Fund Established

Establishment of a permanent David Lipscomb College Alumni Loyalty Fund, to be directed by John Robert Sanders, Nashville business man, was announced recently by Jim Bill McInteer. alumni association president.

McInteer said that the organization of alumni support for David Lipscomb is not to be a "whirlwind campaign, but is to be continued on a long-range basis as an appeal to everyone of our alumni to give each year to the support of Christian education and our alma mater."

and Mrs. J. L. Campbell, of A committee appointed earlier to investigate the possibility of orand was a member of the Creative ganizing alumni support on a Other members of the staff, as permanent basis, also met in the announced by Miss Beasley, are offices of President Pullias, and reported enthusiastic reception of as follows: Peggie Herron, associate editor, Brook Helmers and the plan among Davidson county Jo Dixon Helmers, publicity man-

> Sanders Is Chairman Sanders, who served as president of the Nashville alumni for the past year, is chairman of this

Peggie Herron, daughter of Mr. He said that he plans to open and Mrs. F. B. Herron, of La the loyalty fund campaign in Center, Ky., is editor of the Davidson county, extend it into BABBLER this year. She was as-Middle Tennessee and other parts sociate editor of both the BABof the state, and gradually reach BLER and Tower last year. A every center in the country where member of the Creative Writers' there is an organized Lipscomb Club for two years, she served as alumni chapter. its president last year. She is a junior elementary education

The immediate goal is to raise $10,000 through 100 units of $100 donations each. Sanders, who will not be paid ville, wrote "Day by Day," a for his services as director, said: "I count it a privilege to contribute of my time, talent and money to David Lipscomb. Those of us who have been beneficiaries of the school should certainly be the first to give. How can we justify asking outsiders to support Lipscomb. unless those of us who have profited most from the school lead

Formal Opening Was Yesterday EXCERPTS FROM PULLIAS' SPEECH

"The Christian college should humbly propose to provide the education which Luke outlined in describing the growth of the Masweek that several new plans are ter (Luke 2: 52): 'And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature These include, among others, an and in favour with God and man.' There is no improvement to be made on this four-fold plan of education. . ."

"The final test of David Lipscomb College will always be the quality of the young people who leave these halls. The extent to which you-and I mean each one of you, personally-increase in nounces the annual Patron's As-'wisdom and stature, and in favour with God and man' is the exact extent to which Lipscomb is suc-

> "The essential elements to the achievement of his ideal in Christian education are: an adequate physical plant, a well-trained and dedicated faculty, a large number of generous people who will support such an education program, and a student body of young people who 'hunger and thirst after righteousness.

"Lipscomb has all of these essentials, including a marvelous company of generous people who have given in the millions, who give each year in the tens of thousands and who will continue to give in ever-increasing amounts in the years to come . . .

"The opportunities are here and The Press Club will hold its you are here. How much they will mean to you individually depends upon you individually. I beg you to make the most of

Camp Awarded Honor in U.N.

David Lipscomb College, Nashville, Tenn., has just been advised that Hope Camp, 5 Keowee St., Greenville, S. C., has been elected to the National Board of Directors of the Collegiate Council of the United Nations

Camp, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Camp, will be a junior in Lipscomb during the 1954-55 session.

Earlier this summer he attended a meeting of the Collegiate Council in New York, as a representative of the Lipscomb International Relations Club

The council is an affiliate of the American Association for the United Nations. Approximately 100 students representing colleges and universities throughout the country convened at the UN Secretariat Building in New York for a six-day round of speeches. panels, and other sessions, in June As a member of the national board, Camp will attend the midyear meeting of the directors of the Collegiate Council, to be held in Washington, D. C., in 1955. A graduate of Greenville High School. Camp was vice-president of the senior class and head cheerleader. He was also president of his freshman class at David Lipscomb. He is a member of the church of Christ and is following a ministerial program of studies.

to the afternoon performance of the U.S. Navy Band in McQuiddy Gym Monday, September 27.

All College students will also be admitted to the night performance free, upon showing their activity cards, according to Willard Collins, head of the Artist Series committee. The performances will be at 3:30 and again at 8:15. A total of 6,400 people are expected to crowd the gym for both perform-

The Tour Band of the United States Navy Band consists of not less than fifty carefully selected artists. Each man must be a musician of solo ability on one or more instruments. Since the tours of the Band are exacting in every detail, a member, when on tour, must be both physically and mentally alert at all times and ready to fit into a concert presentation within a matter of seconds. On each of its tours, the U.S. Navy Band carries many na-

Band's two performances, matinee and evening. Three of the Nation's finest cornet players will harmonize in group presentation for the evening concert of the Band.

tionally famous soloists, many of whom are featured at each of the

Frank Scimonelli, Harold Wendt and Gordon Finlay widely traveled members of the Navy Band have appeared on hundreds of concert stages throughout the United States and are always a repeat of-

Tenor Vocalist Featured

Ben Mitchel Morris, brilliant young singer on tour with the Band, is rated one of the really

New Teachers Include Former U.S. Army Col.

The Board of Directors has officially announced the appointment of four new faculty members who began work at Lipscomb at the beginning of the fall quarter. They are featured for the first time in the BABBLER today.

isn't the Army, Mr. Jones" met Colonel Murray J. Martin as he laid down his stars and stripes for the last time and walked onto the campus of David Lipscomb College to become assistant professor in business administration.

A Michigan state bank examiner, a public school teacher for many years, and now a reired U. S. Army color Martin and his wife have lived in Nashville only since last May when he retired from the service. They are members of the Franklin Road Church of Christ.

Prior to his 14 years of service with the armed forces, during

The fading strains of "This which time he traveled extensively in Europe, Alaska, and Hawaii, Martin was affiliated with the Michigan state banks. He served as national bank receiver before being appointed state bank examiner in 1937.

Martin was stationed in Chicago for many years during the war supervised training expenditures with the Fifth Army Headquarters. It is interesting also to note that he wrote the revisions of the Army regulations pertaining to ROTC training in colleges and secondary Miss Bradley Makes News

A new course, a new depart-(Continued on page 3)

TAKING A MUCH-NEEDED RELAXER AFTER THE FIRST ROUND OF REGISTRATION, are new teachers, left to right, Colonel Murray T. Martin, Miss Eunice Bradley, and Miss Frances Moore. Absent when the picture was snapped was Miss Corrine Cline, new instructor in

'Stunt Nite' Plans Begin

The annual Lipscomb Stunt Nite sponsored by the Press Club will be held on the evening of October 15, beginning at eight o'clock, in Alumni Auditorium

Each campus organization and club is invited to participate in this first student production of the year. In dependent group and individual presentations will also be welcomed. A $10.00 prize will be awarded for the winning stunt which will be selected by an electric applauso-

Skits of the past have included ake-offs on different phases of pscomb school life, imitations, and instrumental numbers.

Last year's winning stunt was Hairnet," the Musicians' Club's presentation based on "Dragnet," the radio program, and on the record by the same name.

According to Paul Rogers, president of the Press Club, the success of last year's Stunt Nite is expected to be repeated this year in even greater measure.

Any club or group planning to participate should contact Rogers insure no duplicates of their

Church of 64 Sends Six Here

Freshman registration here September 18 was the scene of a reunion for six students who are all members of the Tabernacle. N. J., Church of Christ.

They are: Richard H. Matheny Toms River, N. J.; Alice M. Cutts, Tabernacle, N. J.; Pearl E. Cutts. Vincentown, N. J.; Norma Louise Cutts, Tuckerton, N. J.; Grace Moore, Vincentown, N. J.; Rodney E. Cloud, Toms River, N. J.

The three Cutts girls are cousins and Alice and Pearl are graduates of the Rancocas Valley Regional High School at Mt. Holly, while Norma Louise was graduated from Tuckerton High School.

Matheny and Cloud are graduates of Toms River High School. All are 1954 high school graduates who were interested in coming to Lipscomb through learning about the school in their church.

Grace, Alice and Pearl expect to follow a program leading to the B.S. degree in elementary education; Matheny plans to work for a legree in secondary education with speech as his major subject: Cloud will be a business administration major; and Norma Louise will follow a program in home

The six students all come from a church whose total membership

where he prepared budgets and SACSS Group Will Be Here Oct. 13

Dr. J. M. Godard, Executive Secretary of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, has notified Lipscomb that the Visiting Committee of the Southern Association will visit the campus October 13-15.

The membership of the committee includes: William Hugh Mc-Eniry, Jr., Dean of the College of Liberal Arts, Stetson University DeLand, Fla., who is chairman of the visiting committee; Jameson Jones, Dean, Centre College of Kentucky, Danville, Ky.; and Gordon W. Street, Dean, Queens College, Charlotte, N. C.

This committee will every phase of the work being done at Lipscomb-educational, financial, and extracurricular. In a prepared statement, A. C.

Pullias, president, said: "It is the desire of the administration to improve Lipscomb in every way that we can, so that it will become the best college it is capable of being." "The counsel and suggestions of this visiting committee will be of utmost value to us. Every teacher and staff member is requested to give the committee whatever information it may desire about the work of David Lipscomb College and to cooperate to the fullest extent with the com-

GREETINGS, OLD AND NEW STUDENTS

Prescriptions

Sheaffer Pens

Revlon Products

Right Across the Campus

HUTCHERSON'S PHARMACY

Make Our Drugstore Your Headquarters

A. C. HUTCHERSON, PROP.

School Jewelry

Parker Pens

The above description typified

the usual two days of registration which preceded the opening of school last Tuesday. Perhaps you think it a bit exaggerated-that is, unless you were one of the hundreds who came down the aisle, only to find yourself in the midst of forty 'leven endless lines

If you're an upperclassman, this with no place to turn for advice.

mad dash wasn't too strenuous-

at least you knew what to expect.

But the poor freshmen were completely bewildered. Imagine being miles from home and suddenly finding yourself caught in this situation. No wonder half the freshmen leave before the year is

But now, let's look at the brighter side of this gala event called registration. After all, those cards do serve a purpose-and a

of each six weeks for the teachers to have a pretty white card to write your grade on. Then too,

this makes it easier for the grades to be sent to the Registrar's office. Anyone knows that little individual cards like these are easy paper you filled out have a purpose; your mid-term and final grades are recorded on them. You may have them back, however, when grades come out, simply by going by the Student Guidance

Center and making your request

Since no one minds bragging about his achievements, you probably enjoyed the big white card

where you listed all your past accomplishments. This goes on file

The student-location card is for you to keep, so you'll know exactly when you're supposed to be where. The other card goes to the switchboard. This way, if anyone calls you, they'll know just where to find you at any time of

So now—you see, it wasn't really too bad to go through this ordeal, especially when you have twelve whole weeks to rest before it must be done again! As someone famous once said: "The reward of a job well done is having done it." And when you've done all this, you've done it.

known to the secretary.

in the Dean's office.

the day or night!

Also the two little slips of thin

Think how nice it is at the end worthy one at that.

to keep up with

Tribute . . .

Perhaps one of the greatest shocks in years came to the Lipscomb students when they learned of the death on July 13, 1954, of S. C. Boyce.

He possessed numerous qualities which made the students down through the ages go to him for advice and counsel. In the classroom he had a good sense of humor. His sincere interest in people made him want to know each student personally and not merely as someone who occupied a seat in one

He probably acquired some of his understanding ways during his 37 years of work in the U.S. Post Office Department. He used to speak of the time when people would come to his window and talk over their problems and often times ask to borrow money. "And you know," he said, "I just never could turn anybody down." At the time of his death, he was writing some articles about these incidents, hoping someday to put them into book

S. C. Boyce was a person who loved God and put Him first in his everyday life. The Lipscomb congregation had enough faith in his wisdom to appoint him as one of the elders. On Sunday before his death on Tuesday, he preached his last

And so to the memory of S. C. Boyce we bow in humble submission. Because of his deep devotion to God, because of his unfaltering interest in those about him, because of his years of Christian service to David Lipscomb College may we offer our tribute of praise.

About 'Reds', Narcotics, And American Youth

Another proof that the Communists will stop at nothing to gain their ends was furnished recently, when the Federal Narcotics Commissioner told Senate investigators that a "substantial number" of American servicemen in Korea and Japan have been addicted to narcotics by Communists, and that the situation is "not yet under control."

The Commissioner, Harry J. Anslinger, also disclosed that 2,400 Communist dope peddlers have been arrested in Japan and Korea as a result of the U.S. armed services campaign to eradicate addiction. He stated further that the effort to addict American soldiers is a deliberate attempt "to neutralize

One of Hitler's earliest efforts was the organization of a "Youth for Germany" movement in which he sought to win the support of the German youth. Subversives have long known that the quickest way to conquer a nation is to drain it of its life blood-its young and vigorous supporters.

The selling of dope to young American soldiers is just another trick employed by the Communists to sap the vitality and strength of this nation. Other new and ingenious ways of doing this are constantly being devised by these enemies.

We have heard the terms "Red." "Communist," and "Prothis-or-that" so often that many of us have been lulled into a sort of half-secure sleep. Those terms mean little when they are tossed to and fro, but we need to wake up to the threat The American soldiers who were sold by the dope peddlers are a part of us-the American youth. We are the target now. Let's do our part to "Keep America Strong."

The Babbler

Entered as second-class matter, December 26, 1923, office, Nashville, Tenn., under the Act of March 3, 1897. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in

Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1916; authorized, Nashville, Tenn. Published weekly during the regular school year except during holidays or examination periods by the students of DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE, Nashville, Tenn.

Office located on second floor Crisman Memorial Library.

Member Associated Collegiate Press

				LA
Peggie Herron	 	 	 						 	 	 	Editor-in-Chief
Mary Lou Carter .	 	 	 				1		 			Associate Editor
George Patterson .	 	 	 				. ,		 		 	. Editorial Page
Cornelia Turman .	 	 	 							 		. Feature Editor
Matthew Morrison	 	 								 *		Staff Artist
				-	-	_	_	-

BUSINESS STAFF

ADVISORY STAFF Editorial Advisor Bob Sivley Faculty Advisor Willard Collins Paul Mills and Eunice Bradley

Paul Rogers

LIPSCOMB DAY by DAY

THE BABBLER

Registration is over (at least to some degree) and, no, that wasn't an explosion. It was the collective sigh of relief of the hundreds of students who at last were re-

that torture chamber called Col-

Evidently those on the faculty weren't immune to the vigor of "registrationitis" either. Witness Ralph Bryant, the Registrar no less, who announced to Monday's assembly that those with surnames beginning with "a" through "h" would take their physicals that morning. He then went on to say (in all seriousness) that those with names from "i" through the rest of the alphabet, that is, "i" through "x" would report later. They're redoing everything around here nowadays

Another who failed to make it through registration without a babble was Jim Dark. He was seen wandering down the hall and moaning over his fate. Seems he had been signed into a girls' phy. ed. course and his schedule required-shall we say "minor"-

Notice freshmen girls: George Spain is not taking an official poll. You are not required to answer when he inquires whether you have gained or lost weight over

Sidney Maddux had a rather difficult time locating her room when she arrived. Oh, yes-she did too have a reservation. But somewhere along the way her name led someone astray and she wound up a resident of Elam Hall! No, boys, you needn't look for said room. She's now situated in

Many tests were taken by the freshmen during their first few days here. Many more hours were spent (with pleasure, of course) upperclassmen grading les examens. It was during these wee hours of the morning when nothing comes through quite clear that Frances Gaither wearily began the scoring process and asked Harvey Carter of the 'Stupid Guidance Service' how many questions it was possible to get Peering from behind his stacks of stencils, pencils and papers. Carter replied, "All of them, of course. Some learn about upperclassmen the hard way and among that number are Dickie Adams and Frank Gill. Rumor has it that they were shot a line about having to rent chapel seats and wound up shelling out real live money-50 cents apiece to be exact—to secure a place to call their own during chapel. They did, nearer.

Registrar Bryant was giving instructions to those who were to help with freshmen orientation. "Now we want to get these freshmen completely broken down," he began. But he blotted out that fiendish gleam of anticipation in his assistants' eyes as he added, "Into groups according to curricu-

A word of caution to you boys and of encouragement to you girls. Recently an outlander (which, to all the unlearned, is a non-Lipscombite) was inquiring about the unusual class rings here at Lipscomb. "Strangest thing," he remarked, "I've seen only girls wear them. And they look so costly, mostly diamonds. . . ."

During the rain that finally came, LouAnn Simmons and Jo-Ann Bigham dashed over to breakfast. With ducked heads they ran up the stairs-and out into space! Between all the fanfare bulletins, and news items how could anyone have forgotten that there have been some structural changes made at the cafeteria entrance? Force of habit maybe.

Overheard in one of Lipscomb's eternal lines—a freshman waxing poetic and we quote:

"All the lines Around this college Make me lose My thirst for knowledge."

President Pullias Sends Welcome

It is a genuine pleasure to welcome the student body of David Lipscomb College for 1954-55. You are the 64th student body to come to the campus of the Nashville Bible School and David Lipscomb College. There were thirty-two young people who attended the first session in the fall of 1891. Your number will be nearly 1,500, ranging from kindergarten through senior college

A faculty and staff of more than a bundred well-trained and conecrated people stand prepared to guide and assist you in your educational progress. The campus and facilities of the College are in the best condition of its history The faculty is the best trained that Lipscomb has ever had. There are boundless opportunities for growth for every one of you.

May I wish for each of you the best year of your life in growth and development. Lipscomb is now your home, and I certainly hope that all of you will be very much at home here. If I may be of assistance to any of you it will be a privilege.

Sincerely yours, ATHENS CLAY PULLIAS

Just Looking

of this column, which we hope will appear in the BABBLER each week, is to give a brie summary of the world situation. especially as it applies to our own country, and to draw certain conclusions concerning the trends of national and international affairs. As much as possible, we hope to avoid partisan politics, but our interest is in setting forth world events as they pertain to a dynamic and changing world.

Perhaps the most vital problem before us this week is the present Red Chinese assault on the island of Quemoy, a point vital to the defense of Nationalist-held Formosa. The big question: will the U. S. stick its neck out even further in Asia to step the overwhelming Communist progress?

The U.S. Seventh Fleet is stationed in that area and has orders to defend Formosa. Some observers, among them chairman of the joint chiefs of staff Admiral Arthur Radford, believe that the defense of Quemoy is vital to the defense of Formosa. Others contend that if the II. S undertakes the defense of Quemoy, that they should be prepared to attack the Chinese mainland, thus bringing the danger of World War III much

Another round in the "Joseph McCarthy versus All Comers" fight ended last week in Washington, when the sixsenator committee, headed by Watkins (Rep., Utah) heard the final witness in its investigation into the actions of the Wisconsin senator to determine whether or not he should be censored by his fellow-legislators.

Observers hailed this latest hearing as the most orderly of all. Sen. Watkins, a stern Mormon, was quick to rap the gavel and showed early that he meant busi-

The last witness, Gen. Ralph Zwicker, whom McCarthy is charged with abusing on the witness stand last February, answered questions which he had refused to answer before the McCarthy committee. Asked why, he replied: "I am much more familiar with proceedings and hearings . . .than I was on February 18."

We echo the praise of Miss Lee Ann Meriweather, 19, of San Francisco, California, expressed by Cleveland Plain Dealer columnist Wes Lawrence, "We are delighted that the new Miss America is a young lady who can be just as attractive when she is shedding only a tear."

Exhausted Editor Returns for Rest

September 24, 1954

By Peggie Herron WELL, HERE WE ARE again After wrestling with mosquitoes and heat waves all summer, we're glad to get back to the ol' campus for a little rest. And now that registration's all over, there's nothing left to do except change courses and drop the ones with outside reading.

Sort of hated to change our major again this year, but just couldn't seem to make that eight o'clock every a.m. After all, when you get to be a junior, you're entitled to a few privileges.

WE WERE TRICKED into signing up for Calesthentics 109meets twice weekly at eight a.m. Went to class the first day and got down-right disgusted-just didn't feel up to wriggling our toes that early in the morning. We dropped the course immediatelydecided we might want to get a Master's someday, and haven't yet heard of a graduate school for toewrigglers

ON THE LEVEL though, we hope you had a real cool summer and are-uh-ready to take off or those first invigorating assignments. Well, whether you are or not-happy landing!

WE DON'T KNOW if you're reading this or not (doubt it frankly) but we want to warn you before you go any farther-it can't be counted as outside reading. Under only two conditions will you profit from this brainwash-1, if you're a hopeful young freshie with a yen for a staff position, and 2. if you have a fiendish desire to ever see your name in print. (Chances are, you'll get neither, but this is a device resorted to by editors with little integrity to insure themselves of a few readers.) In either case, the prerequisite is an oral recitation of all this reading matter, including proper placement of commas and periods. Proceed cautiously to next paragraph.

REGISTRATION MUST be improving. At least we didn't hear anyone buying tickets to see the registrar, as three boys did last year. (According to reports.)

Some large-hearted freshman was heard to remark, "Registration's fun-just like a family reunion," as he watched the harrassed upperclassmen scurry from room to room. Which just goes to show that it's all in the point of view. To illustrate:

The peet and the ornithologist Differ in ways absurd. One writes, "The bird is on the wing":

The other answers, "No such thing; The wing is on the

It seems that the middle of September should be the beginning of a new year, for college students at least. Well, maybe it is. New friends, new activities, new opportunities-for all of us.

DALE CARNEGIE said it: "You months by becoming interested in other people than you can in two years trying to get other people interested in you."

HEARD IN PASSING: A careful driver approached a railroad. He stopped. He looked. He listened. All he heard was the car behind him crashing into his gas

Class Elections Scheduled Oct. 1

Upperclass officers will be elected Friday, October 1, after chapel. Nominations shall be made from the floor, and voting for the president and secretary shall be by secret ballot. The vice-president and treasurer will be elected by a standing vote. Freshman officers will be elected the following week.

High School News

J. Garvin Smith has been appointed faculty advisor of the Pony Express, high school newspaper. Nora Jean Vaughan is editor of the bi-weekly publication.

Last year's traffic toll of deaths and injuries was the heaviest in Celebrities and Whirlwind Greeted Camp at Model U.N.

HOPE CAMP, LIPSCOMB REPRESENTATIVE TO THE MODEL U. N., which was held last June in New York City, is shown with Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt at the annual dinner for delegates.

By Hope Camp

Some 85 college students, representing 50 college campuses all over the world, met in New York City this past June for the ninth annual leadership institute on the United Nations.

The institute, held each year at Finch College in downtown Manhattan, meets to study the U. N., and elect officers for the Collegiate Council for the United Nations.

The atmosphere created by so many people from so many different places was certainly international. A whirlwind of conferences, committee meetings and noted speakers brought delegates from such places as Ethiopia, Jordan, Germany, and Korea—not to mention Tennessee-into close and constant contact.

From eight a.m. until two a.m. daily, we were engaged either in heated debate or peering at a speaker through tired red eyes. Although this may sound ex-

Navy Band

(Continued from page 1)

great tenor vocalists of today. During the short time he has been with the Navy Band, his development has been called spectacular. His singing has the unusual blend of small boy appeal with a debonair worldiness. From the gifted unknown of yesterday, he is probably one of the most versatile and popular artists with the Band today. He probably has the largest collection of fan mail of any of the Band's members.

Wiehe Was in McKinley Band Born in Centralia, Ill., Lawrence Wiehe was coaxing melodies from his horn when he was four years old. He studied under Huber, famous teacher and musician from St. Louis, who was once a pupil of musician-composer Herbert Clark, ex-conductor of the Long Beach

Municipal Band. During his sojourns at Mt. Vernon Township High School in Illinois and North Texas State College, Mr. Wiehe was in constant demand for appearances in St. Louis studios, and was a member of the Ray McKinley dance band in that area. Gordon Finlay, cornet soloist with the Band is also one of the handsomest men in the organization Former personell manager of the Band, Finlay has many tour miles to his credit and has played in hundreds of concert appearances throughout the United States. Featured on the Herald Trumpets, he also plays in the evening cornet trio.

Band Is Versatile The United States Navy Band is primarily a military band, capable of doing justice to all the magnificent works of music written for the Band. The approximately one hundred musicians who make up the group are men of such fine musical versatility that the Band may, on a moment's notice, furnish a great symphony orchestra, a lively feettickling dance band or a string ensemble.

hausting, there were some very pleasant moments when one could completely relax. Some of this time was spent around the table. The food was superb. Then too. the city of New York offered many opportunities for sight seeing and entertainment.

If there were any attitude of indifference among the delegates to the institute towards the U. N., I did not notice it. I can say posi tively that I was impressed with the sincerity of the personnel connected with the U. N. concerning the purpose of organization.

Among some of those outstanding personalities we were privileged to meet were Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Dr. Ralph Bunche, and Mr. Clark Eichelberger, Director of the American Association for the United Nations.

Visited U. N. Buildings

Another highlight of the week was our trip to the U. N. buildings on the East River. We toured the secretariat, the glass house, the home of the international civil service, the General Assembly Hall, the Security Council and the Economic and Social Council chambers. While visiting the Trusteeship Council, we heard part of a debate between the U.S.S.R and the rest of the world.

All of us at the institute left New York with the hope that this grand symbol to world understanding would succeed in its ob-

Drug Needs at Hutcherson's

Patronize THE LIPSCOMB LAUNDRY

Joy's Flowers

LANDON'S Your Neighborhood HARDWARE

McKay-Cameron Co.

CHINA, GLASS, SILVER

Headquarters

6-0427 212 3rd Ave., N.

New Teachers

(Continued from page 1) ment, a new teacher-these three things are brought to the campus in the person of Miss Eunice Brad-

Miss Bradley also teaches the new course in journalism, offered for the first time at Lipscomb.

The new department is the Lipscomb News Bureau, which in reality is not new, but will operate this year for the first time under the guidance of a full-time

The new teacher is, of course, Miss Bradley, who comes to Lipscomb from Vanderbilt University. She has served as secretary in the Graduate Dean's office and more recently, as assistant director of the News Office there.

Miss Bradley is a member of the Phi Beta Kappa honorary liberal arts scholarship society at Vanderbilt. At the University of Missouri, where she received her B.J. in 1951 she is a member of Kappa Tau Alpha honorary journalism scholarship society.

It is not unusual that Miss Bradley's two hobbies are writing and collecting folk songs since she has done work in the field of journalism for the past five years Vanderbilt.

Miss Bradley, whose office is in the Vice-President's office, lives in the Jefferson Apartments and is a member at Hillsboro Church of

Frances Moore Returns

After an absence of one year, Miss Frances Moore returns to the campus as instructor in physical education. She will fill the place vacated by Audrey McGuire, who is now teaching in South Dakota.

Miss Moore, a graduate of Lipscomb in 1953, taught last year at the Marshall County High School in Lewisburg, Tenn. She was girls' physical education director and teacher of health. While a student at Lipscomb from '49 to '53, Miss Moore was active in the Future Teachers' Club, Biology Club, the band, the Art Club and intramural athletics. Miss Moore is particularly interested in swimming, having attended the American Red Cross Aquatic School.

Her home is in McMinnville Tenn., but while at Lipscomb, she lives on Mayfair Avenue. Coming from McCaysville, Ga., to take the place of Margaret Smith, who is now Mrs. Dalton Stroop, is Miss Corrine Cline, the new music instructor.

Miss Cline Teaches Music Miss Cline was a student at Lipscomb from 1948 to 1950, having been awarded a music scholarship. Active in musical organizations, she was a member of the Musician's Club, the chorus, and the Girls' Glee Club.

At the University of Chattanooga and also at Peabody College in Nashville, Miss Cline has studied for the past music. During the past two years she has taught music in the high school and elementary school at Ducktown, an elementary teacher in Mc-Caysville.

Miss Cline, a sister of Jackie Cline, a former sophomore at Lipscomb, lives on the campus and is a member of the church of Christ at McCaysville.

Alloway BROS. COMPANY Eggs Poultry Meats

FITTS & CRAWFORD

> 2816 West End Ave. 7-5946

FLOWERS

Weary Scholars Smile-For a Quarter, at Least

By Mary Lou Carter

And down the aisle came some eight or nine hundred scholarswearing a smile? Well, not exactly a smile, but at least wearing several dozen little colored cards each hand and frantically searching for something constructive to do with them.

College Life Like Three-Ring Circus College life goes on in the main tent of a three-ringed circus with all sorts of excitement going on distract students from their main purpose of getting an education, according to Dr. Wray H. Congdon, director of admissions at Lehigh University, in a new booklet. "Brains Aren't Everything," for prospective students issued recently. Survival in this main tent will depend on eight "can you" questions proposed by Dean Congdon, plus a broad smile and a neat appearance. Here are the eight questions prospective college applicants should ask of themselves. "Can I write five consecutive paragraphs on a given topic and express myself coherently, correctly and intelligently? "Can I read an article in "The Atlantic Monthly" rapidly (400 to 500 words per minute) and retain the main arguments lucidly in mind for three days? "Can I listen to an address or lecture and note briefly the main points so that, when I've gone home, I can reconstruct the essential theme of what the lecturer

"Can I prepare successfully for examinations so that I don't become confused, panicked, and ineffectual when I face the necessity of taking a test or examina-

"Can I go to a library and find quickly the reference and source books I need for preparing a paper, and take the necessary notes effectively for writing an assignment on the topic? "Can I make up a budget for the daily use of my time to meet all necessary assignments, have a proper amount of time left for sleeping, eating and wholesome recreation and then stick to the budget in spite of all lures?

During the cleaning of the swim-"When I have homework to do. can I settle down to it promptly ming pools, prior to the opening and concentrate on my work at of fall session over one million gallons of water were used daily once without daydreaming and frittering away my time?"

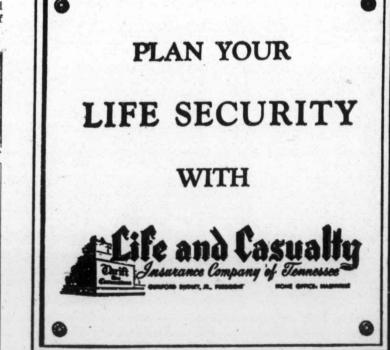

Need a Haircut, Boys?

BUTCH'S BARBER SHOP

Right Across the Campus

Are Those Clothes Dirty Again?

Haircuts-Laundry-Dry Cleaning-Antiques-Gifts "Butch" and Clarrice Hatcher

Bisons Gain

New Sparks

Three bright spots in the '54-'55

basketball roster are freshmen

Keith Gerald, McCoy Kilpatrick,

and Roger Villines, who come to

D. L. C. with outstanding high

Keith Gerald is a boy who has seen a lot of action in the past five years. He started his basketball career in the eighth grade at

Allen County School in Scotts-ville, Ky., where he played for three years on the second team.

In his junior and senior years he played varsity ball. As a junior

he made All-Region, and also All-

Region, All District, and Honorable Mention All-State in his senior year. At 5' 10" and weighing 150

oounds he is a fast moving guard

whose specialty seems to be dribbling with a good eye for the

McCoy Kilpatrick, who hails

rom Linden, Tennessee, has the unique advantage of having played in 106 out of 106 games during his four years on the varsity. During his freshman and sophomore his senior year was All-District,

All-Region and All-State First

From Dixon, Ky., comes Roger

Villines, who for the last three years has lettered at his guard position. In his junior year this

Trade at Hutcherson's

Phone 5-4661

GOOD 'MIXER'!

Purity Dairies

WELCOME STUDENTS, OLD AND NEW

A. & S. Super Market

Just across from the campus

LATH STOAN CO

UAIN-DLUAN UU.

Nashville's Own Department Store

years he was All-District, and in

Eugene ("Fessor") Boyce has long been a living example in the hearts and lives of many young

He attended the Nashville public schools and in 1929 graduated from Calvert Junior High. "Fessor" also attended David Lipscomb High School and graduated from David Lipscomb College in 1934, while it was a Junior col-

"Fessor" served as Vice-President of the senior class, president of the Day Student's Club, and played number one on the tennis team. The doubles team, made up of Batsell Barrett Baxter and "Fessor" Boyce, went to the finals of the Mississippi Valley Tennis Tournament.

"Fessor" Eugene Boyce, popular instructor in physical education.

After Lipscomb, "Fessor" attended Harding College in Searcy, Ark., and served as student tennis coach. His team was runner-up in the State Intercollegiate Tennis Tourney. "Fessor" received an invitation to play in the National Singles Tournament in Evanston, Ill., but was unable to go because of his grad-

While at Harding, he was Vice-

Funny Stuff

AND WHERE DO YOU

IN SUCH A HURRY ?

President of the "H" Club, and President of the Tennessee Club. He graduated in 1936 and in 1938 received his Masters Degree from Peabody College.

'41-'43 Big Years

In 1941 he married Mildred McMahon, a former student of his. Two years later, on Christmas Day, twin boys, Terry and Ranny arrived. Also in 1943, "Fessor's" high school tennis team was City

Former Basketball Coach

The following years, 1943-48, "Fessor" coached the college basketball team. In 1947, his team won 13 games and lost seven and were beaten in the semi-finals of the VSAC Tournament by Lincoln Memorial University. He also coached the golf teams in 1947 and 1948. On April 21, 1951, the Boyce family was blessed with a daughter, Nancy Gayle.

"Fessor's" hobby is "all kinds of sports." His favorites are tennis, golf, and fishing. He has played in a number of badminton and tennis tournaments and at one time was ranked as the number four tennis player in Nashville. His favorite foods are steak and chocolate pie.

The name "Fessor" was given to him because there was already another Bro. Boyce on the faculty. his father. In order to distinguish between them, a student called him "Fessor," and it stuck.

One of his favorite stories of actual experiences goes like this: It was a cold and snowy night, All the highways were closed. Lipscomb had a basketball game scheduled with M.T.S.C. and had to find some way to get to the gym. They rode the Flagler and played the game. The team returned to the station and waited for the next train to Nashville. which was due at 11:00. The train was a little late and the boys waited until 5:00 in the morning to get a ride home. "Fessor" said that they almost froze.

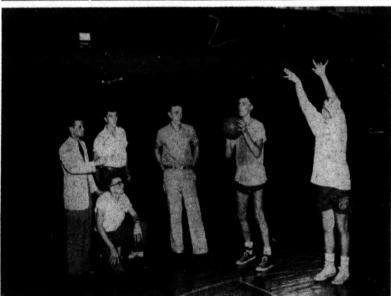

Photo by James Clipp

COME ALONG - I'LL SHOW YOU WHAT!

I GOT A DATE WITH THE CUTEST ULL OLE BEONDE FRESHMIN - SHE'S WAITIN' FOR ME IN THE STOOMY CENTER NOW. SHE'S

GETTING SOME POINTERS from Coach Elvis Sherrill and members of the Bison squad Jerry Jones and Gary Colson, are three freshmen prospectives, who are, left to right, Roger Villines, Keith Gerald, and McCoy Kilpatrick.

Don Blasingame Achieves Success With Texas Club

Don Blasingame, former Lipscomb student, has made a name for himself during the past baseball season while playing for the Houston, Tex., Buffs. This club is a member of the Class AA

"Blazin'-game," as Don is called by the Houston fans, blazed the trail out of the cellar for the Buffs this year. A .340 hitting shortstop, he is more dangerous on base than at bat. He drives opposing pitchers to distraction with his Jackie Robinson-type antics

"He wears the dirtiest uniform on the club," says Houston Manager Dixie Walker. "That's the ighest tribute I can pay him." Blasingame's sliding, diving trips around the bases have endeared him to fans. He's the only player on the team who can hit weak grounder to the pitcher and still receive a big hand as he heads back to the dugout.

Don never stops hustling, and once he gets on base the buzzing begins in the stands. He takes long leads and dares pitchers to pick him off or catchers to throw The fans cheer his every move and he has already become the most popular Buff since "Vinegar Bend" Mizell and Solly Hemus. With this popularity, and encouragement from the fans, Don is sure to become more than a six foot one inch strapper made springtime sensation. All-Region and followed this up Don was a freshman at Lipsin his senior year by making Allcomb in '53-'54. He will be re-Region and Second-String Allmembered by upperclassmen as a star on the freshman basketball team in the Class Tournament last

360 Murfreesboro Road

Fifth Avenue at Church

VERY INTELLIGENT, STUDIOUS (A-MON.)

HAS A GOOD PERSONALITY, ATTRACTIVE

NEAT, UNDERSTANDING, MAKES

GOOD BOCUTS, AND IS

From Freshmen

Vanderbilt University will host the strong Baylor Bears Saturday night at Dudley Stadium. Baylor has perhaps, one of the finest teams that Vanderbilt will face this season. Vandy will try to avenge the 47 to 6 beating given to them by the Bears in Waco last year. Vanderbilt is expected to field a better team than last fall and may be ready to play a good game. An added attraction in the Baylor line is huge James Ray Smith, an All-American candidate at tackle. He was an Associated Press lineman of the week last year and was picked on the Collier's All-America.

Lipscomb Graduates in the News James Smith, captain of the 1954 Bison baseball team, is Physical Education Director at Woodbine Elementary School. The school has six grades and provides an excellent chance for advance-

Jack Fuqua, first baseman of the 1954 Bison team, is head coach at Burton Elementary School, which is located just out Granny White Pike. Jack is presently coaching football in this school which has eight grades. His debut as a coach was a successful one. Friday evening, his team defeated M.B.A. 9 to 6. Jack reported that he was proud of his boys for the fine game that they played and I know also that the boys are proud of their coach. Jack has made a hit with the parents of the boys and is doing fine as a graduate of Billy Hooper is Physical Education Director at Dan Mills School. This is also a good school and an excellent place for experience and

•

Don Blasingame, freshman last year, was reported to be one of the most popular young baseball players ever to play for Houston in the Texas League. When last heard from, Don was hitting over .300 and playing great ball. The other night in a play-off game, he hit a home run in the eleventh inning and won the game four to three.

Roy Sims, president of the L Club and catcher for the 1954 Bison baseball team has been awarded a fellowship to the University of Tennessee in Knoxville and will work toward his M.A.

Sad News in Mudville

The rain that finally came Monday night must have been prompted by the tears that were being shed by loyal Bums while the thunder cracked off the bats of the New York Giants as they clinched the 1954 National League Pennant.

Last year the Dodgers clinched the Pennant over second place Milwaukee Braves in Milwaukee, medicine as the Giants took their toll in Ebbet's Field.

Many people have heard of silver dollars and rabbits' feet as lucky charms, but who has ever heard of a full grown man being a charm. However. Leo claims 'Say Hey' Willie Mays is the Giants charm. Back in 1951 he claims Mays sparked the team to the pennant, only to be drafted soon afterward. The team dragged for two years until he returned this season, to ignite the ball club to their '54 pennant. The Bums are already saying, "Wait 'til next year."

Intramurals Roll Soon

During the season one intramural team will look better than another, but the reason will obviously be due to team work. If teams are power houses this year it is not because they have height, weight, or experience. The captains choose their players not personally but by drawing names from a box. This is the only fair way, "Fessor" Boyce assures.

Saturday

The Baller Plan Now For Stunt Nite Oct. 15

Supporting members of the cast of the three-act comedy are Jerry

Henderson, Don Osborn, Nancy

Wyckoff, Gail Holland, Myrt Cunningham, Denny Loyd, Nicky

Boone, Bud Daney, Bobbie Menne-

The play, although it is a comedy, attempts to draw a contrast between a group of people who are actually crazy and a family known for its idiosyncratic, but sane

This cast, selected by Dale

Brown and Don Garner, was chosen from a group of nearly 50

The play is a recent Broadway hit and enjoyed a two-week's run

last year at the Circle Theater in Nashville. Miss Sparkman played a supporting role in this produc-

Miss Sparkman is a graduate of Lipscomb High School and has studied dramatics for the past fourteen years. While in high school she played leading roles in

"Our Miss Brooks" and "Magnifi-

Miss Cunningham comes highly recommended from Freed-Hardeman College where she appeared in numerous productions during

Also a graduate of Lipscomb, persons who attended tryouts.

fee and Ann Hackett.

Vol. XXXIV

Press Club Awards $30 in Prize Money

A first prize of $20 will be awarded to the winning stunt on Stunt Nite, Oct. 15, in Alumni Auditorium. This year a second prize of $10 will be given to the stunt that is runner-up. Last year's winning stunt was the text of his address has not

"Hairnet," brainchild of the Mu- been published. sician's Club. It starred Ray Flannery as Sgt. Joe Friday and Nancy Wycoff as "Little Red Riding Hood," an inhabitant of

Sgt. Friday's detective work was superb when he discovered that Little Red Riding Hood was smuggling "goodies" in her grocery sack into Grandma's Hall. The case was solved by "just getting the facts."

This presentation was based on the radio and television program "Dragnet" and the record by the same name.

One of the most original stunts was presented by the I. R. C. It was a panel discussion about the Lipscomb Endowment Program and was held in the Security Council of the U. N.

The main speaker of the evening was Issa Azzat, representative from Palestine. Since most of his comments were in Arabic,

L Club Will Give Party

The "L" Club invites all students to a party tomorrow afternoon and evening.

It will begin at 3:30 on the athletic field. There will be football, softball and other games for Several of the varsity athletes will be in charge of all recreation. The party will climax with a picnic

Dick Batey, student body president, said Monday, "This party is going to be different and I will be there, playing and eating." Last Saturday night the party was held in the Student Center. The entertainment included: Ray Walker as emcee, Shirley Lee, his accompanist, Corkey Brown, Jimmy Walker, Carol Swindle, who plays the piano by ear, Hugh Ellington and his band, Paul Dunkelburger, Ed Warren, Peggy Scott, and the Lipscomb Quartette.

These parties are not planned for every week. They are given primarily for the boarding students but any Lipscomb student

It is hoped that more people will attend in the future.

Five Teachers Seek Degrees

By Jeannette Arnold

Five members of the college faculty, Jennings Davis, Jr., T. Coy Porter, Harold Baker, Joe Sanders, Nathaniel Long and Earl West are now on leave of absence working toward the doctorate in their respective fields.

Davis is expected to return in January to the Physical Education Department. At present he is at Columbia University in New York

At L. S. U., Baker is specializing in radio-T.V. work in the Speech Department.

Sanders is at Boston University where he will receive his degree Nathaniel Long is working toward the Ph.D. in sociology at Vanderbilt. Although West is technically on leave from Lipscomb, he has been asked to teach a chemistry course while studying for his degree in that field at Peabody College.

After one bull fight, Frank

Donnelly has decided not to continue in his ambition to be a matador. "The Bull Fight" was

The preceding are just a few sponsored by the Spanish Club.

of the skits presented last year.

Paul Rogers, Press Club President, said this week, "We are hoping to make Stunt Nite one of the best performances on the Lipscomb Campus. Plan now to Enrollment

ment record has been set.

to 1,487 for last year.

for the drop.

special students.

school to 295 this year.

Sets Record

A new all-time Lipscomb enroll-

Ralph R. Bryant, Registrar, announced Tuesday that the total enrollment in the three academic departments is 1,494, as compared the college department. The figures for last year show an enrollment of 886 in the College, as compared to 875 this year. No speculations were made concerning the reason

Analysis of the figures according to classes reveal that there are 348 freshmen this year, 234 sophomores, 170

iuniors, 110 seniors, and 13

Other figures show an enrollment of 332 in Lipscomb High School as compared to 306 last year, and 287 in the elementary

Alumni Notes

By LAURA TARENCE

who received the B.A. degree as pre-law students in 1953, have had their scholarships in Vanderbilt

School of Law renewed for their sophomore year. Renewal of the scholarships is contingent of high scholastic standing, and Tom and respectively in their freshman

E. Trimble, 920 Russell Street. He

of directors for the Collegiate

Council of the U. N. for 1952-53.

Mrs. Fred Estes of Milan, Tennes-

Mary Carroll Rucker of Nashville.

During his senior year he edited the BABBLER and headed the Lipscomb Student News Bureau.

the position of Sunday editor.

Married on Monday night in Both are teaching.

WSM radio and TV.

Sessions Court.

Montice Bissinger and Nita Long

Wayne's parents are Mr. and

Tommy is the son of Mrs. John year in the Law School.

Tom Trimble and Wayne Estes,

There was a slight decrease in

'Savage' Cast Is Named Mary Cornelia Sparkman as Mrs. Savage will star in John Patrick's "The Curious Savage" on October 29. This announcement comes from Dale Brown, director of the play.

Backlog Staff . . .

MAKING PLANS FOR THE '55 BACKLOG are recently-named staffers, Jerry Jones, Tommy and Janice Hall Burton, Joanne Edmondson, cent Obsession." This past summer she and Boone starred in the Mary Margaret Grounds, George Spain, and editor, Martha Copeland Circle Theater production "My Three Angels."

Martha Copeland Announces Members of Backlog Staff

Martha Copeland, editor of the the Backlog Club for two years. 1954-55 Backlog, announced this week the staff which is to work with her on the annual this year. They are: Joanne Edmondson, business manager; Tom Burton, associate editor; Morris Zeigler, associate business manager; Janice Hall Burton, feature editor; Mary Margaret Grounds, organizations editor; Wilma Campbell and Edgar Smith, student life editors; Phillip Morrison, religious editor; Jerry Jones, sports editor;

and George Spain, art editor. Martha Copeland, a senior from Eastman, Ga., is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Copeland. She has been a member of the Backlog Club for two years, and served as associate editor of the Backlog last year. Joanne Edmondson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Edmondson of Nashville, was associate business manager last year. She is a Wayne ranked third and fourth senior and has been a member of

WSM, Plus 25 was elected to the national board Other Stations Carry DLC Singing

Twenty-six radio stations throughout the United States are see. He is married to the former presently carrying weekly broadcasts of Lipscomb's chapel sing-

> Among this number is WSM, the local 50,000 watt clear channel station. W. E. Stevens, manufac-

Scottsboro, Ala.; WRGA, Rome, Ga., WAIN, Columbia, Ky.; WMPA, Aberdeen, Miss.; WCLD, Cleveland, Miss.; WATA, Boone,

'51 and Victor Charles Batson, Jr. H. Clyde Hale performed the Hugo, Okla.; WAGC, Chattanooga, Tenn.; WKRM, Columbia, Tenn.; ceremony. The couple will reside at 1701 Bonner Avenue, Nashville. Mr. Batson is connected with Sam Delk Kennedy '44, of Co-

Tom Burton, last year's student life editor, is a junior from Nashville. He was also president of the Backlog Club last year. Morris Zeigler, a junior from

Pulaski, Tenn., was a member of the business staff last year. Janice Hall Burton, of Nashville, is a junior and has been a member of the Backlog Club two

Mary Margaret Grounds is senior from Wheeling, W. Va. Wilma Campbell and Edgar

Smith, both juniors, are from Pontiac, Mich., and Jacksonville, Fla., respectively. Phillip Morrison, of Old Hickory, Tenn., is a senior. Jerry Jones, a junior from Crown Point, Ind., is a member of Henderson played a supporting role in "Harvey" last spring. News Briefs Church Building the past two years.

Ready Oct. 10 The new church of Christ at 3805 Granny White Pike will hold opening services Sunday, October 10, according to Charles Chumley, Gloria McDaniel, senior from Mobile, Alabama, will serve this year as art editor of the Tower. Tonight at 7:30 p.m. the annual High School Stunt Nite will take place in Harding Hall. Each high school club will be represented.

Bobbie Ann Turner Awarded First McGuire Scholarship

A new scholarship award, created in memory of a former Backlog editor, has been given to Bobbie Ann Turner, pretty freshman from Winchester, Tenn. The scholarship, officially called

The Willie Hooper McGuire Memorial Scholarship was instigated in memory of Mrs. McGuire who died in Memphis of a brain tumor Oct. 18, 1953.

A Lipscomb graduate in the award of the first scholarship to Miss Turner, a 1954 graduate of Franklin County High School.

The daughter of Mrs. Clarence Roark, she was outstanding in high school activities. She was business manager for three years of the school paper, Basketball Queen, and also held offices in the Press, Beta and Spanish Clubs.

Will be Annual Award

The scholarship, founded by friends of Mrs. McGuire will be awarded annually to a Lipscomb woman student on the basis of outstanding scholarship, character rate scholarship."

and general qualifications, and is renewable by the holder until

The Alumni contributing plan to start a new fund each year, until four girls are attending Lipscomb under its provisions.

In awarding the scholarship, Dean Sanders made the following statement in his letter: "Those giving it are anxious that it should be given to a student of excellent Christian character and of first

'51 are living at 404 La Verne class of 1950, she edited the Backturer of work clothes, sponsors the Street, Chattanooga, Tennessee. log, was a member of the Student WSM broadcast at 5:15 p.m. each Board, and was listed in Who's Allen Pettus '42 of 4308 Utah Saturday. Who in American Colleges and Avenue, Nashville, has recently Other stations include WSIX, Universities. She was also elected Nashville, Tenn.; WELR, Roanoke, been appointed editor of the Ten-"Miss Lipscomb" in her senior nessean Magazine. He has been Ala.; WWWB, Jasper, Ala.; WCRI, connected with the Nashville Dean J. P. Sanders announced paper since 1946 and formerly held

Nashville were Frankie Wallace N. C. WELS, Kinston, N. C.; KIHN,

> WDXI, Jackson, Tenn.; WHDM, McKenzie, Tenn.; WGNS, Murfreesboro, Tenn.; WTPR, Paris, WDBL, Springfield, Tenn.; WCDT, Winchester, Tenn.; KFTV, lumbia, Tennessee, will be married during November to Miss Elizabeth Ridley Finney, also of Paris, Tex.; WCEF, Parkersburg, Columbia. Mr. Kennedy is now W. Va.: and stations in Kittery, a judge in Maury county General Me., McMinnville, Tenn., Albertville, Ala., and Charleston, S. C.

Education Versus Training

"You should go in strong for math or chemistry or physics -anything that leads to engineering." This was the admonition everyone gave Junior before he left for college this fall. "That's what our nation needs. In Russia 53,000 pre-engineers graduated from high school last year against less than 30,000 in this country."

These same people looked politely puzzled when they learned that Junior's sister was studying history in college simply because she "loves it." They considered it as an interesting study but as far as having any practical value, it lacked tremendously. "What kind of job could a history major hold in this advanced technical age?" they wondered.

But this type of "thinking" is unrestricted; it goes on in everybody's mind these days. As our thought trends have grown in complexity so has our society been transformed into the scientific realm from the humanity thinking one it once was. The call is now for more scientists, chemists, engineers, but not for students of language, literature, history, logic, philosophy.

And by these trends of thought our people have lost sight of the need of our nation for men and women who are educated rather than merely trained. In the words of Dr. Wilson Compton, president of the Council for Financial Aid to Education, our people must be encouraged to "seek truth, to try to unravel the endless mysteries of the universe, and to explore the ways to a peaceful society on a planet plagued, now more than ever, with power and pride and poverty."

Yet this is not to say that no emphasis at all should be placed on the training of technologists. For example, Junior should study engineering if he has the necessary aptitudes and interest and the stamina to follow through in both the professional training and the broader education that business is increasingly demanding. "Attrition in engineering schools is running high because too many youths enroll merely as a means of going places fast."

There are still a few educators who say Junior's sister has settled her own career problem when she says she "loves history." The young person of today is fortunate who has found an alluring mental road and set out upon it with surety and enthusiasm. The market place, the state, the nation, and the world have need for such.

Let's Be Careful . . .

Now that the administration has taken the step of having the walls in the cafeteria, administration building, and Johnson Hall painted, we should be more aware of our part in keeping that clean look. Not only should this be done because of the appearance to ourselves and strangers, but it will also save money that can be applied to other uses, such as buying new books for the Library, more modern facilities, and, in a long period of time, even contribute to hiring new teachers. It seems foolish to destroy what has to be replaced over and over. The paint will get dirty over a period of time, but it is up to us whether that time is long or short.

So for our own good, let's be careful with the new paint.

Iust a Reminder . . .

We here at Lipscomb try to be friendly to all. It has been said by visitors that this school has the friendliest students of any other school they have ever visited.

You will find a friendly atmosphere between the older students and the teachers; you will have people speak to you

"Courtesy and friendliness, the golden chain by which society is bound together."

The Babbler

office, Nashville, Tenn., under the Act of March 3, 1897. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in

Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1916; authorized, Nashville, Tenn. Published weekly during the regular school year except during holidays or examination periods by the students of DAVID LIPSCOMB

COLLEGE, Nashville, Tenn. Office located on second floor Crisman Memorial Library.

		the state of the s
		Member
	Associated	Collegiate	Press
	EDITO	RIAL STA	FF
de Herron				Editor-in-Chief
y Lou Carter				Associate Editor
ge Patterson .				Editorial Page

Cornella Turman Feature Editor
Matthew Morrison Staff Artist
BUSINESS STAFF
Paul Rogers Busines: Manager
ADVISORY STAFF	1
Bob Sivley Editorial Advisor	,

LIPSCOMB DAY by DAY By Fyfe

THE BABBLER

if your head brating, we'll get on with it.

Batsell Baxter was telling his junior Bible class one of his many stories and mentioned that the hero of this particular little episode taught at the Louisville Baptist Theological Cemetery. Said friend taught Latin, no doubt. It's the "dead language" you know. In a furry preparing for the first of the regular Saturday night blow-outs, Joyce Warren rushed into the midst of one of the ever present gab' fests and gasped

'What time does the starty part?" Encountering one of the daintier tidbits served in Traughber's Hideway Monday night, Ben Bessent remarked to his fellow sufferers, "I said when I came in here that I was hungry enough to eat a horse and sure 'nuff, I am!"

To all those who have not been initiated into the Loyal Order of Knights of the Granny White, those little orange slips of paper are zone checks. One of our naive freshman (as usual) received a startled stare from the bus driver when she innocently asked for "One rain check please!"

Hail the conquering hero! It was brave Bob Bowersock who spied a ferocious mouse scurrying across the floor of the audiovisual room during one of Elvis Sherill's lectures. Valiantly Bob gave chase, but the cowardly little heast dashed behind a door and refused to acknowledge the challenge to "come out and fight like

"If at first you don't succeed, try, try, try, try again and again" to be the motto of those who give blood tests around here. If you care for testimonials see Tom Warren, Jim (He-of-thewhite-face) Blevins, and a whole host of others.

In the "get-acquainted" class meeting, Miss Brown was cautioning her students against pronouncing Cliett Goodpasture's name as "Cliett is the way you pronounce your first name, isn't t?" she asked. "No. ma'am, its pronounced John," came our witty one's reply. Get that can of red paint and make a big circle around Oct. 15 on your calendar. That, dear friends, is Stunt Nite. Better plan

There's a call comes ringing o'er the whole campus-the call of the wild. As yet, we haven't been able to discover who all the Tarzans are, but they sure have mighty strong lungs.

It was most evident that A. C. Pullias didn't realize how his opening statement sounded as he began his introduction of the introduction of the Navy Band conductor, "Board, faculty, and stu-

In general speech class, introductions were being made. Jenny Smith wound up her speech with 'Now I produce-oh! I mean introduce-Gerald Bowers."

Life's little embarrassing moments. Tommy Burton introduced his wife as "Janice Hall" to a group of friends three times in a row. All the nudges in the ribs and kicks in the shin she gave him were in vain.

Some of our day students love this campus so much that they just can't stay away. Take Mary Lou Carter for instance. Every evening her beaming face pops up in Johnson Hall, and because she has had training to "Be Prepared" she has left a toothbrush in at least a dozen rooms. Confusion reigned as Dr. Ellis tried to find books for the new students in his phonetics class. "Now," he addressed his other students, "would any of you be Editorial Advisor willing to sell your . . . oh! no . . . Faculty Advisor that's not what I mean." Yes, Dr. Press Club Sponsors Ellis, they need books too.

Pen Points

Wednesday Gives Facts on Fri.

By Peggie Herron My name's Wednesday. I'm a cop. I patrol the Belmont side. That's my beat,

It was Monday, September 27, 1954. About 7:14, I got a tip-off. Two girls had been seen leaving the Student Center. It was believed they were missing 7 o'clock room-check. I grabbed my water pistol and rushed to the scent. I accosted them on the Library the week's news was dominated by the magic name of the junior senator from Wisconsin Joseph R. Mc-Carthy, as the senate committee, appointed to investigate charges brought against McCarthy by Senator Ralph Flanders of Vermont, voted 6-0 to censure the controversial Communist-hunter on two counts. First, said the special committee headed by Senator Watkins of Utah, McCarthy was in contempt of the Senate itself for failing to appear before a 1951-52 senate subcommittee investigating his finances and other activities And second, his treatment of Brig. Gen. Ralph R. Zwicker was abusive and reprehensible. Censure was not recommended for any of the other 44 charges brought against McCarthy.

Just Looking

A floor fight is expected when the Senate convenes at a special session next November 8 to vote on whether or not Joseph R. Mc-Carthy will be the fourth senator in the history of the United States to be officially censured by his

Maine Goes Democrat "As Maine goes, so goes the nation," says an old political proverb, but Republicans are now conceding only that "As Maine goes, so goes Maine." This is the result of the election held there last week, in which Sixtus Muskie became the first Democrat to be elected governor of that state in

The G.O.P. candidate for senaor, popular Margaret Chase Smith. retained her senate seat, but considered significant was the percentage drop in her total votes. over the 1948 election.

Democrats hastened to acclaim a trend for the coming November election, while Republicans disclaimed any such probability. However, still conspicuous was Republican campaigner Richard Nixon, urging his fellow party-members "run scared," and Democrat Adlai Stevenson, assisted by Tennessee's Estes Kefauver and Frank Clement, making speeches on behalf of the Democratic

French-German Friction

The government of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has made it clear that Germany is not willing to accept a status of "second-class citizenship" in any Western pact. Last week the Bonn government's terms were presented: full sovereighty, membership in a Western Alliance, in the form of an enlarged Brussels pact and equal membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Britain seemed willing to accept these terms, with the exception that Germany's army be restricted as to size. Similar restrictions would also be placed on other participating nations, according to British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden. The United States also was agreeable to the full sovereignty and independence of the German Only from France were rumblings of opposition heard. The French still will not agree to any settlement in which strict control is not maintained

over their traditional enemy.

steps. I looked at them. They looked at me. They went into the Library. I followed. There was a tenseness in the air, an unnatural quiet. I made myself inconspicuous atop the card catalogue

8:56. One of the girls slinked up to the circulation desk and with the attendant. They left. I followed-all the way to Duel Hall in my helicopter. waited until the girls disappeared. Then I called for Miss Myth, the supervisor. She was greatly disturbed when I explained my business. It was hard to believe that her girls had been guilty of suspicious actions. I told her it happens in the best of families. Her's was no excep-

9:04. Miss Myth decided to call the two girls. Under skillful questioning the girls admitted their offense-taking one hour reserve books from the Library.

Taking one-hour reserve books from the Library is punishable by a 102-day campus, or by writing a 2,000-page theme. Since it was the first offense the girls were given the lighter sentence.

WE HEARD: A man who trims himself to suit everybody will soon whittle himself away . . . If you cannot do great things, you can do small things in a great way . . . Motto found in the study of a Chinese student: WHAT I AM TO BE, I AM NOW BECOM-

Dear Editor:

Dirty Windows Are Discouraging

The girls in Johnson Hall have been putting forth much effort to get their rooms in "tip-top" condition to begin another school

With freshly painted walls and everything clean and orderly, it is so discouraging to have to look out through dirty windows.

Even though the windows have been thoroughly cleaned on the inside, one cannot detect this by looking at them.

Presently the girls in Johnson are not able to clean their windows on the outside, due to the fact that the screens have to be removed, which involves diffi-

Therefore, I would like to suggest that either the windows be cleaned, or that a plan be instituted whereby we could clean them ourselves.

Sincerely, A Johnson Hall Resident

Music Review:

Band Concert Thrilled Listeners

By Pat Eyfe

The first program of the year on the Lipscomb Artist Series was one of the most enjoyable ever to be presented here.

Before a packed house Monday night, the United States Navy Band, conducted by Commander Charles Brendler, gave a program varied to suit tastes ranging from operatic to pop.

The soloists for the evening were Lawrence Wiche, Trombone, Lee Swinson, Harp, and Ben Mitchell Morris, Tenor. Wiche displayed fascinating technique on the Arthur Pryor variation of the "Blue Bells of Scotland." As an encore, he gave a sentimental rendition of "Stardust."

"Shangri-La," the harp solo, was done lightly and excitingly. An exotic arrangement of "Malaguena" and "Whispering" were Swinson's encores.

Morris sang "Rudolph's Narrative" from "La Boheme" quite well and presented "Granada" and "Because" as encores. His performance was marred only by the fact that the microphone hurt his tone quality. In general, the acoustics of the gymnasium left much to be desired.

Meet Versatile Joyce Mosley-'Master' of Four Languages

After spending five years in a British school where the entire student body from kindergarten through the first year in college numbers 52 and an average term's work includes 16 subjects, Joyce Mosely says that American schools are surely different.

Daughter of Rubber-company Official

October 1, 1954

Joyce has spent these five years in Porto, Portugal, where her father is a rubber company official. Her first school years were spent in Carcas, Venezuela, and after four years the family returned to the US and Joyce attended school in Akron, Ohio,

Learned of Lipscomb from Cousin Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Odis Mosely, are natives of Tennessee. Betty Knott of Bradford. Tenn., and a junior here at Lipscomb, is Joyce's cousin and Joyce first learned of Lipscomb through

Is Fluent Linguist, Useful in dorm Because of her Tennessee heritage Joyce speaks our native English with a southern accent. She also speaks French and Spanish fluently and Portuguese from necessity. She is already finding a place in the girls' hearts in the dorm for she is a patient and expert language tutor.

Find U.S. Schools Easy

Although taking several freshmen courses, Joyce will have to take most of her subjects on the sophomore level because of the differences in the school systems. The British schools are much harder and Jovce has studied quite a bit more than many of us. School System Unlike Ones here

The Oporto British School which Joyce attended is divided into forms instead of grades, and she spent longer in a form than we spent in each grade. There are few extra-curricular activities except for an annual Sports Day in which they all participate. There are no clubs, no parties, only occasional plays and few classmates

Will Return to adopted homeland But to Joyce, whose friends are still in Portugal, there's Speeding on U.S. streets and highways injured nearly 700,000 men, women and children.

Patronize THE LIPSCOMB LAUNDRY

Two Complete Families Brvan and Mr. and Mrs. Paul T. intendent of Elam Hall, boys, dor-Breakfield, Jr., completed registramitory. Breakfield works as a student assistant under Hunt, and Mrs. Breakfield is a student employee in the Lipscomb mailing Bryans from Fla.

leave to complete his undergraduate program at Lipscomb for the

Their hometown is Burlington,

N. C., and both were in the 1939 graduating class of the Burlington High School. They now live

Breakfields Also Floridians

The Breakfields came to Lip-

he is on leave from duties at the Naval Air Station base there.

A ministerial student concenof Lipscomb said today that he did not recall a similar instance of the enrollment of one entire

Buy Cosmetics at Hutcherson's

business headquarters.

Technology in 1950.

family, much less two.

706 Church Street

Winter Haven, Fla., Bryan's

B.A. degree in business adminis-

Bryan is an employee of the

Bryan and Breakfield are both sophomores and their wives are special students in the college. Marguerite Bryan, 11, and Ger-Seaboard Railroad Company on y Bryan, 9, are in the seventh and fifth grades of the demonstration elementary school, Sandra Jean Breakfield, 10, is a sixthgrade elementary school student, and Tommy Breakfield, 14, is beginning his first year in the High

tion Sept. 20, two entire families were enrolled in classes on the Lipscomb campus.

still no place like it, and since

there's a certain young man

that figures in her future

plans, it is pretty certain

Joyce will return to her beloved adopted country at the Joyce's first impressions of Lipscomb are somewhat like those of all freshmen and transfer stu-

end of her college career.

To make the Lipscomb connection of the Breakfields more extensive, Mrs. Breakfield's brother,

Mother's Club Has Carnival Oct. 8

A carnival will be presented by the elementary school Mothers' Club on October 8. The affair will be held in and around Mc-Quiddy Gymnasium. An annual event, the carnival purposefully planned for the fun and entertainment of grammar school children. The food stands will open for sales at 3:00 p.m., and at 7:30 a variety show will begin, emceed by Sydney Hooper. Several of the activities planned are pony rides, merry-go-round, hayrides, a fish pond, a "surprise package" booth, and a sweet shop, Movies will be shown in the audio-visual room.

Mrs. Sydney Hooper is president of the Mothers' Club.

WAVERLY BELMONT

SELF SERVICE LAUNDRY

Closest to David Lipscomb College

Granny White At Halcyon

2.4555

PLAN YOUR LIFE SECURITY WITH

One in a Series:

27 Colleges Send Transfers; Meet 17 from Freed-Hardeman

for herself, for in addition to being the annual editor, she also was elected "most popular," and Miss

Margaret Rasbury, former editor of the FHC paper, was also in the chorus and Thespians, and on the Student Council. At graduation, she was one of eight honor

Betsy Gately, formerly at FHC,

was a cheer-leader, Thespian,

member of the chorus, assistant business manager of the annual

Tom Downey played the number one spot on the tennis team.

and typist for the school paper.

students

transfer students this year.

Leading the parade with 17 new transfers, is Freed-Hardeman College of Henderson, Tennessee. In second place is Central Christian College of Bartlettsville. Oklahoma, which furnished 11 transfers this year.

From Florida Christian College. Tampa, came five new students. Twenty-four other colleges also are represented by new transfer students.

ients: She is rather bewildered, onesome and hates to get back From Freed-Hardeman came the into the study grind. But she is editors of the two school publicacharming person and will soon tions. Myrt Cunningham of the have many friends among the stuannual, and Margaret Rasbury of

of the school tennis championship. G. B. Cochran says, "I was the only man from Alabama to play Another Lipscomb First; in the Arkansas Club's band." John Shelton, Jr., was president of four clubs.

Joan Stone, another FHC transfer, was on the annual staff two years, and held membership in a number of clubs, several of which she served as an officer. Elma Donaldson, a member of the Thespians, was a representative to the Student Council, and also held membership in several organizations. Carmack Skelton, president of the Preacher's Club graduation date. Some of the more modest transfers were Anne Butler. Fred Johnson, and Joe Hardin. The former two wrote simply that they are "transfers from FHC." Hardin brother to June, who graduated here last June, also mentioned that he went in for basketball, tennis, and base-

Former president of the Home Economics Club, Eloise Crews, was also a member of the annual staff. Nancy Davis was in the chorus and a member of the annual editorial staff. She was also active was also team captain and winner in FTA and the Library Club. An all-star football player for two years, Bobby Turner also sang

> Wade Cnandler is perhaps capable of offering suggestions for chapel programs since he helped to direct tnem at FHC, in addition to holding club offices.

Frances Brummitt was president the Girls' Religious Training Class and a leader in the FTA chapters.

Next week the BABBLER will present another series of transfer students. The editors feel that this is a fitting way to recognize those upperclassmen who are new and the Evangelistic Forum, re- here this year.

Clubs Get Organized; Elect Officers, Make Other Plans

By Joyce Wright

The various clubs on the campus are today announcing their new officers and a few of their immediate projects. The Backlog Club held its initial meeting Tuesday of this week. New officers were elected scomb from Jacksonville, Fla., and for the coming year. They are Tommy Burton, presi-George Spain, vice-presi-Breakfield is a native Nashvillian, dent; Mary Ann Thomas, secre-

however, and attended Isaac Littary; Gloria Brannan, treasurer. ton High School before graduating Plans were made for a social from the Jacksonville School of activity and a skit in the forthcoming Stunt Nite.

Chorus Begins Practice

trating on courses in business ad-The Big Chorus has already beministration, he, like Bryan, came gun its practice under the directo Lipscomb last year as a freshtion of Miss Irma Lee Batey. President Athens Clay Pullias

> TURRENTINE REALTY COMPANY 2915 Nolensville Rose

> > 6-1148

Sales—Insurance—Loans

Purity Dairies

Nashville's Finest Milk

360 Murfreesboro Road

Wear The Best

'DEER CREEK' SPORTS WEAR

REALE JEWELRY CO.

Specializing In DIAMONDS - WATCHES - FINE JEWELRY

ENGRAVING, WATCH AND JEWELRY REPAIRING Any Lipscomb Student Can Open A Charge Account! Special Discount to Students Fair Trade Items Excluded

> BOB DRAPER, Class of '35 At Entrance to Doctors' Building

Corky Brown will serve as president of the Chorus; Bill Jarrett, vice-president; Paul Methvin, Librarian; and Mary Katherine Armistead, Ovita Faye Simon, Linville Hanback and Manson

Benel, librarian assistants. Several musical programs have currently been planned for this

New officers have not yet been selected for the Creative Writers' Club; however, plans are underway for a pie supper to raise expenses for the Club's delegates to the press convention in Washing-

Blevins Footlighters President

Newly elected officers of the Footlighters are president, Jimmy Blevins; vice-president, Tommy Warren; and Willella Littrell, secretary-treasurer. The only project of the Club thus far is its annual fall-quarter play under the direction of Dale

Under the supervision of Ruth Behel, president, the F.T.A. has made temporary plans for a program for American Education

Other officers of the club are Bill O'Neal, Betty Burns, and Joyce Warren. Thomas Whitfield and James Hobbs are sponsors of the club.

Home Ec. Club to Have Bazaar The Home Economics Club, led by Ernestine McAdams, will sponsor a bazaar and a tea for the freshmen soon. Shirley Clipp, Hulene Jarrett, Janavee McDaniel and Bettye Beasley are the other club officers.

Hope Camp will lead the International Relations Club with Neal Smith, and Mary Margaret Grounds. They will present a skit at Stunt Nite.

The "L" Club, whose officers are announced today, is working on the inter-class tournament. Loyd Lemasturs, Jeannette

Fleisher and Doris Pardue, will guide the Mission Study Class. Under the direction of Ann Derseweh, the Musicians' Club is planning a "Get Acquainted" Party. Pat Thrasher, Ann Becker and Madolyn Hudgens are the other Club officers. Press Club President, Paul Rogers says the Club's immediate project is the sponsoring of Stunt Nite. George Patterson is vice-president of the Club and Peggy

Scott is secretary. Officers of the Spanish club, Los Compañeros, have not yet been

Herd... Sportlight

Lipscomb is a school known for its fine sportsmanship on and off the athletic field. Its teachers and coaches are constantly impressing upon students the importance good sportsmanship plays in the reputation of a school.

The best example of good sportsmanship this year occurred during a tootball game between the University of Oklahoma and Texas Christian University Saturday afternoon, September 25th.

Captain Johnny Crouch of Texas Christian University refused a touchdown and this, to all intents and purposes, cost T. C. U. a victory over Oklahoma, a team rated number one in the nation in a recent poll by the International News Service panel of experts.

During the second period, Quarterback Ronald Clinkscales passed to Ken Winburg in the end zone. The Field Judge called it a touchdown, but Crouch told him that the ball had hit the ground before it was caught.

In the report of this story in the NASHVILLE BANNER, Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson said, "that's as good a sample of sportsmanship as I've ever seen. A lot of boys wouldn't have done the same.'

This nullified the touchdown and possibly cost T. C. U. the game, for it took two Okiahoma touchdowns in the last five minutes to pull the game out of the fire, 21 to 16.

Crouch's act took character and courage. In this day and time, too much importance is put on winning the game and not enough on fair play.

It isn't that players are taught to play dirty, but there is entirely too much pad sportsmanship on the athletic field today. We need to take note of the wonderful courage and character of Captain Johnny Crouch and try to be just as fair in our activities as he.

The New York Giants will try to make it a clean sweep in the World Series this year. The Giants, led by fiery Leo Durocher, will again be the underdog just as in the regular

Leo arways seems to get his men up for the "money" games and this year's world Series is, possibly, the richest in the his-

Durocner has been compared to a jockey. He starts off just a little ahead of the pack and tries to keep just a little out

It he starts to fall back, he calls on his reserve strength and then gets pack into pace. He is content to finish as ne has started, just a little bit out in front.

If he can keep his team going, keep just a little ahead of - his rival managers, this World Series will be great and Cleveland had better be careful.

"Fessor" Boyce states that the 1954-55 Lipscomb Intramurals will begin Monday October 3, 1954 at 4:00.

Flag rootpail will be played by the "A" league teams and touch rootball will be played by the "B" league teams.

The members of each team were chosen last Tuesday after-

Everyone interested in playing should contact "Fessor" before the season officially starts.

Mel Allen to Announce Crosley's "Game of the Week"

America's ace sportscaster, Mel Allen was signed to do the play-by-play as Crosley's new series "Game of the Week" got underway Saturday, September 18, on NBC-radio and spot

The first game of the series—the outstanding clash between Kentucky and Maryland at Lexington, Ky.

For a twelve-week period Crosley will select the game each week that promises the best in the field of intercollegiate football, and Allen will fly to the field to bring a rapid-fire account to the radio-listening audience.

Mel Allen, the Alabama boy who first broke into the bigtime New York Sports scene in 1937, has collected top honors in every field of sports. From dog shows to polo, from title fights to tennis, as well as in football and baseball, Mel's energy and versatility have proved unfailing.

Often called the "Voice of the Yankees," Mel last January covered the Rose Bowl Game from Pasadena for NBC-TV. Last year he handled the color of the Kentucky Derby, and for the 13th time announced the All-Star play-by-play in Cincin-

For the 11th time Mel's reporting brought the World Series to listening America, and these assignments won for Mel the coveted Radio-Television Daily Award for "The Best Sportscaster." Shortly thereafter he received the Fame Magazine

Little Boy Who Got Impression Is Now Entertainer, Athlete

A father took his small son to the circus many years ago and the little boy was so impressed with the tumbling and trapeze artists that he decided right then to become one.

And so today the BABBLER presents that little boy, all grownup, in the person of Tom Hanvey. At the age of 16, Hanvey, a native Nashvillian, began gym

Trampoline artist Tom Hanvey, who has been physical education instructor at Lipscomb for nearly a decade, was rated as Nashville's "finest physical specimen" while still in high school at Hume-Fogg.

work at the local Y.M.C.A. He was instructor from that time until he went into show business was Dr. L. K. Gordon, then the "Y" gymnastic instructor.

Some of the first performances which he presented were at County Fairs where he and the Hoff twins were billed as the "Three Rockets." They were a trio of acrobatic stars and became known nationally for their outstanding entertaining.

One of their exhibitions was presented at the Texas Centennial Exposition in 1937. An Evansville, Ind. paper called Hanvey "an Adonis with a Greek god's physique who tosses the twins about in strength revealing Finest Physical Specimen While a senior at Hume-· Fogg high school, Hanvey was declared by physical educafinest physical specimen. He was an example of "how the well-built athlete should

After graduating from Lipscomb Junior College in 1942, Hanvey entered the Army Air Force where he became a physical training instructor.

While in the service he coached a number of gymnastic teams that traveled and gave exhibitions. Some of his teams performed on shows that were presented to sell War Bonds. Once within a few week's time they had sold over a nillion dollars worth of bonds. For this work he was presented a citation by the Secretary of the United States Treasury.

After being discharged from the service, he attended Peabody where he received both the B.S. and M.A. degrees.

Since returning to teach as gym instructor at Lipscomb two years later, he and two of his teams the "Olympians" and the "Astranauts" have performed on various shows throughout Middle Tennessee. Some of these include: The Bob Hope Show, "Furbelows

L Club Names New Officers

Charles Hailey, president of the "L" Club, announces the other newly elected officers of the Club. Serving as vice-president for the coming year will be Wayne Wright, Bison baseballer. Mary Ann Thomas and Ralph O'Neal are secretary and treasurer, respectively. To the office of publicity manager Ronnie Morrell

Miss Margaret Carter and Howard White are active sponsors of the Club and Batsell Baxter is

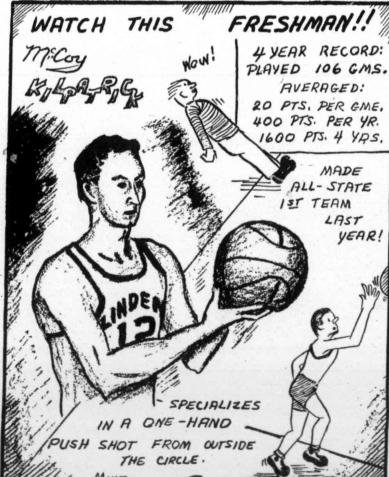

Try-Outs Open

Tryouts for varsity basketball practice began yesterday afternoon and will continue today.

The purpose of the tryouts is to select the group of boys who will participate in further practice. It is from this group that Coach Elvis Sherrill will pick the varsity

Several young hopefuls came out for the tryouts and will provide Coach Sherrill with plenty of material from which to choose.

Outstanding newcomers who took part in the tryouts are Mc-Coy Kilpatrick, James Whaley, Thomas Pate, Roger Villines, Keith Gerald, Audie Elrod and Ed Binkley, a transfer student.

berry Festival in Petersburg.

In November of this year they will present an ibition on the Policemen's Benefit" program. All of his performers are from

Has Peabody Circus

Every summer he is in charge of the circus on the Peabody campus, which includes all types of trampoline and tumbling acts. He has also taught at Vanderbilt, where he coached the Vandy swimming team for two years.

Tom Hanvey can certainly be called "an all-around athlete" as he was touted at Hume-Fogg. He is truly a great one.

Intramurals Had Beginning Monday

By Tommy Hipps

The intramural athletic program, under the supervision of Gene Boyce, had its official beginning Monday, September 27.

New students and the nonparticipating students of the past year were briefed on the fundamental aspects of the intramural program Tuesday

Members of the individual clubs were selected Tuesday. The members were chosen by the club presidents and assigned to a designated club for the remainder of this school year.

Individual awards, as well as team awards are given to the top teams and the outstanding performers at the close of the intramural program.

These sports are offered in the intramural athletics: flag football, basketball, volleyball, softball. golf, tennis, track, swimming, horseshoes, free-throw, badminton, table tennis, archery, tumbling and gymnastics.

Flag football competition will officially begin the intramural program the first week in October, and competition will continue throughout the year.

The main objectives of the intramural program are (1) To promote physical and mental health through exercise; (2) To promote safety education; (3) To stress Christian principles through fair play and sportsmanship; and (4) To provide the student with an opportunity to experience competition.

Trade at Hutcherson's

Alloway BROS. COMPANY Poultry Meats

FITTS CRAWFORD FLOWERS 2816 West End Ave. 7-5946

McKay-Cameron Headquarters

CHINA, GLASS, SILVER

212 3rd Ave., N.

SIVLEY, SMITH, ENZOR ELECTED CLASS HEADS

The Baller Secretaries Named Are Elliott, Grindley, and Doak The president and secretary of the senior, junior and more classes, as elected this week, are, in their repeating

These Are the Winners...

Hobbs, Landon

Added to Faculty

Mr. Hobbs comes to Lips

In 1948 he graduated from Mid-received his M. A. from Peabody in 1950. Also at Peabody he earned his Master of Education degree

A member of the National Education Association and the Tennessee Education Association, Mr.

Hobbs is married and has two little girls, Pamela Diane, seven, and

Patty Landon Teaches

at Lipscomb in 1953 was Patty

Ann Landon, who is now the new instructor in commerce and busi-

Miss Landon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Landon, and her father and grandfather own and operate Landon Hardware

Last year she graduated from

Ohio University with the Master of Education degree. She is also a graduate of Lipscomb High School in 1949. Her brother, Bob,

She is a member of the United

Business Education Association and the National Business Education Association.

is a senior in the College now.

Store across from the campus.

Salutatorian of the senior class

the past three years.

Doris Jean, five.

ness administration.

The big man with the red hair

Applauseometer Will Not Determine Stunt Nite Winner

Special judges will be selected to rate the skits presented at Stunt Nite this year, according to Paul Rogers, the director, Last year the winning skit was chosen by use of an ap- of Cornersville, Tenn. plauseometer. This method has been discarded because it is

The applausometer does not measure length of applause and is affected unfavorably by whistling and shouting. These were the reasons given for making the change in this year's judging believed to be unfair.

Rogers, director of this year's annual production, is a junior He is business manager of the BABBLER, president of the Press Club and president of the Gladiators Intramural Club. The son of Mrs. A. W. Rogers of Birmingham, Ala., he was circulation manager of the BABBLER last year.

The event will run thruogh Friday, Oct. 15, and a special ritual

at Stunt Nite will climax the Members of the Student Board appointed to the arrangements committee are Ed Enzor, Earline

Freshmen to Be

Initiated Oct. 13

student body president.

Doak, and Ed Smith.

A ministerial student, he preaches for the Old Jefferson Church of Christ. Rogers announces that several clubs and individuals have already "copyrighted" their ideas. A unique feature of this year's program will be the presentation of the winning stunt in the Lipscomb High School Stunt Nite, Oct. 1. The stunt was a hill-billy band act produced by the 15 Per Cent-Prizes are $20 and $10, which will go to the two winning stunts.

Students may buy tickets early from Press Club members. The price is 60¢ each.

Notice Paul Rogers, president of the Press Club, announced that Freshmen initiation will begin Tuesday, October 12, is the last Wednesday, Oct. 13, according ot date to submit skits for the anan announcement by Dick Batey, nual Stunt Nite, October 15. All clubs, individuals, and other groups who plan to perform in this year's production should notify Rogers as soon as possible to insure no duplication of skits.

Tickets are now on sale for 60¢ from Press Club members.

The president and secretary of the senior, junior and sopho-

Siyley former editor of the Tom Doak of Nashville Miss Doak BABBLER, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Chandler of Chattanooga. His major is psychology, and he preaches regularly for the Church at Pegram Station, Tenn. He was most representative student in the junior class last year.

Miss Elliott is from Brookport, Ill., and is the daughter of Mr. of the supervisors in Johnson Hall. The son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Smith of Jacksonville, Fla., Ed entered Lipscomb in the winter of '53. He is a liberal arts major and student-life editor of the

Miss Grindley, who also served as secretary of the class in her freshman year, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Grindley of Mendham, N. J., and was a cheer-

Enzor, from Arlington, Va., was Elam Hall's representative to the Student Board last year. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. E. H.

Dinner, Board Meet Is Tomorrow

The seventh annual dinner for Lipscomb Board members, faculty, and administrative staff will be tomorrow night in the Student

The dinner is given annually by President and Mrs. A. C. Pullias. Other guests will include the secretarial and general staffs and their wives and husbands.

The dinner will climax the regular quarterly meeting of the Lipscomb Board of Directors, which will take place tomorrow.

Scheduled on the agenda for tomorrow's meeting are the approval and announcement of several new teachers, a special tribute to the memory of S. C. Boyce, and special recognition to Mrs. Elizabeth Bell and Miss Marie Hille. both of whom are retired faculty members.

Clarence Haflinger, organist, will present several selections during the evening.

is the new assistant professor of Faculty Firesides education James N. Hobbs, formerly of Pulaski and more recently Again Scheduled from Cornersville High School Members of the freshmen class have an evening of enjoyment in where he served as principal for store for them in the near future. The Freshmen Faculty Firesides originated two years ago, but was dle Tennessee State College and abandoned last year. This year the Administration is planning to revive this special for the fresh-

> Individual faculty members will invite between 10 and 15 freshmen students to their home for an evening of entertainment and refreshments. Every freshmen will receive an invitation.

The date for this event has not yet been decided. This will be done at the faculty meeting scheduled for October 9.

The purpose of the Freshmen Faculty Firesides is for the faculty and freshmen to know each other better and also for the freshmen to become better acquainted.

ANNOUNCEMENT

A. C. Pullias announced this morning that students will be admitted to all athletic events this year on their student activity

He also stated that the administration has revoked the practice of charging rent for use of the auditorium to campus organizations. This move was decided on more classes, as elected this week, are, in their repective order, Bob Sivley and Ada Elliott, Ed Smith and Mamie Grindley, and Eddie Enzor and Earline Doak.

represented Sewell Hall on the elementary education and works

Tommy Warren and Billy Mc-Cleskey, and Marlin Connelly were elected vice-president and treasurer of the senior and sopho-Warren is from Miami, Fla.,

W. T. Warren. His major is business administration. He is a graduate of Lipscomb High School. Minister of the Radnor Church of Christ, McCleskey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John K. Mc-

Cleskey and is from Nashville. Connelly, a ministerial student. lives in Nashville and was a member of the varsity basketball team last year. He is active in debate work and forensics. Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Connelly, Sr., are his

The classes also elected faculty sponsors who are, for the seniors Howard White and Willard Collins, for the juniors, Dr. Carroll Ellis, and Buddy Arnold, and for the sophomores, Dr. Ira North and

Special Bulletin

Richard Craig and Mary Alice Smith were elected vice-president and treasurer, respectively, of the junior class Wednesday.

The delay in the election was because two run-offs were necessary in electing the class president.

News Briefs:

Writers Elect Club Officers

Creative Writers' Club officers were elected at the initial meeting on Thursday night, September 30. Glenn Tucker and Beverly Brawner, freshmen, are president and vice-president, respectively.

Chosen secretary-treasurer, Bailey McBride is a junior transfer student from Central Christian College at Bartlesville, Okla. Club meetings, as announced by Betty Beasley, will be held every Thursday night at 7:00.

New members of the Choristers. as announced by Buddy Arnold Wednesday, are: Sopranos: Margaret Deason, NaDean Jamison. Katie Morgan and Jewell Snell: Alto: Gail Holland and Julia Secrest; Tenor, Roy Davis; and Bass. Jack Parks.

Betty Prosser has been named student director of the Curious Savage, according to Dale Brown.

Welfare Board Is Announced

Willard Collins, vice-president, has once again been named chairman of the Welfare Board, according to a recent announcement by A. C. Pullias.

The Board held its first meeting Oct. 1.

Other members include J. P. Sanders, Dean; Miss Ruth Gleaves. Johnson Hall supervisor; Mrs. Ollis Smith, supervisor of Sewell Hall; William Hunt, supervisor of the men's dormitories; Robert Kendrick, instructor in business; and Dr. J. E. Choate, professor of

The committee meets weekly to discuss difficulties of student welfare, social activities, and general student problems.

Congratulations ...

To all of you who were today announced as class officers. With your appointment your class can officially begin its activities, and in your hands lies the ability to make this year either a success or a failure.

The year ahead is filled with great potential good, and because of the trust your classmates have placed in you, it is your duty to see that this good is expended to the fullest.

And so it is that your responsibility is two-fold, for not only must you lead your class in its usual activities-banquets, parties, Stunt Nite, but primarily you must guide your class to a year to useful and constructive Christian service. If you fail in this endeavor, you shall have failed in everything.

The BABBLER congratulates each one of you for your achievement and wishes for you much success in the weeks

Previously, plans were to hold the election results until today; however, since the first ballot was cast on Monday, and it is a violation of the constitution to keep back results for more than three days, the outcomes had to be posted as soon as votes were counted.

Dream Becomes Concrete . . .

We are glad to see the new church building of the "College" congregation completed.

We can remember back two years ago when the dream was nothing more than an architect's handiwork on heavy paper, and now it has become walls of brick and cement. The zeal and determination exhibited by this congregation in putting up its new building reminds us of the Biblical verse, "... Here the frosh go out on their The people had a mind to work. . . . "

The beautiful and modern building will serve for many years as a monument commemorating their devotion to a Cause. We commend the unselfishness and love that fostered

Congress and Joe McCarthy

The constitutional foundation of the United States Senate was built in 1787. The builders thought they were building a place of dignity and deliberation. James Madison said, "The use of the senate is to consist in its proceeding with more coolness, with more system, and with more wisdom than the popu-

Then, 167 years later, a junior senator from Wisconsin, disturbed that coolness with some heated army hearings and disturbed many with his investigations.

Last week a select committee of the senate recommended that McCarthy be censured on two counts: McCarthy had been "contemptuous of and had obstructed the senate sub-committee when they had attempted to investigate him," and "had acted in an 'inexcusable' and 'reprehensible' manner toward an honest and honorable soldier, Brigadier General Ralph Zwicker."

This ringing reassurance of the senate's dignity pleased many. We are glad that the organization has not been dealt a blow that we as citizens cannot overcome.

When A Girl Marries-Is College Training Wasted?

A college-trained woman who marries is more useful to of the most fun ever had on Lipsher family and community than she would have been with- comb campus (publicly). out a college education, a survey of the class of 1922, the first class to graduate from New Jersey College for Women, has

In a survey made in connection with the 25th anniversary of the pioneer class of '22, a majority of the married women of the 46 active members of the class agreed that the "family and the community benefited, indirectly but definitely, through the college experience which stimulated and developed the ability to think clearly and fairly, fostered the adoption of new ideas, sympathy and understanding with the difference of others, and the ability to hold judgment in abeyance and to evaluate the choices life has to offer." that "The ayes are over the noes."

An Invitation for You...

The Music Room of the Nashville Public Library invites you to take advantage of its musical opportunities.

It has an exceptional Klipsch High Fidelity Sound System for pleasant listening. The record collection is numerous and varied-classics, semi-classics, plays, Broadway shows, dra-

These records may be checked out for a period of one week on your library card.

Some of the latest acquisitions are: Stephen Vincent Benét's JOHN BROWN'S BODY; Broadway show KISMET; A Wagner Orchestral Prograve; Motion Picture Theme Music ("Gone with the Wind," "Lost Weekend," "Spellbound," etc).

LIPSCOMB DAY by DAY

By Fyfe Are we all through with those nasty ole initial tests? They weren't so bad after all. Well, now were they'

The regularly nightly ritual for Houston Billingsley is to remove his mattress from his bunk and make his bed in the middle of the floor. Height frightens him since his roommate Bill Peacock awoke in the dead of the night to find him sprawled in the middle of the floor instead of his top bunk.

Someone has started a vicious rumor that Dale Brown was seen leading a group of students in the Bunny Hop from the cafeteria across to Alumni Auditorium. Ah, be sure your sins will find you out.

Freshmen are in the news again: some of them don't take to room check "too hot." One was heard to complain, "At home when Mother came in and found my room dirty she just pitched in and cleaned it up. Not here. They just leave a little slip of paper telling me to get busy."

After threatening his junior Bible class with an initial test for the next class meeting, Dr. Stroop breathed the benediction "God be with you when we meet again."

Other colleges and universities make their freshmen wear dinky little beanies. But not Lipscomb! own and purchase bright aqua "things." Check the heads of Larry Chunn, Timothy Black, David, Woody, and Gale Williamson.

Bill Smith has at last let us in on the real reason why Marilyn and Joe busted up. Bill (of all people) had given her a ring. At least so he says.

So that none of our innocents will be led astray, let this be a warning to exercise extreme caution in obeying the signs on the campus. For instance, the room behind the sign proclaiming "Student Health Center" really belongs to Buzz Hall and Jimmy Duer. Not only did these industrious ones steal the sign, put it on their door and hope to lure the unsuspecting into their lair, but they tried vainly to bring their petty larceny to the attention of the supervisors.

Obviously these boys at Lipscomb have a devastating effect on the fairer sex. Take for example the case of the lad who winked at a lassie in the cafeteria and sheno, not fainted-retained her composure and merely dropped her tray that had just been filled with delicious provender from the steam

Our private detectives (private eyes to you Mickey Spillane fans), spies, gum-shoes, and dorm supervisors report that there are still some calendars on ye old campus sans a red circle around October 15. The sentence for failing to correct this is missing two hours

Never let it be said that only unknowns enter our tennis matches. Liberace, Marilyn Monroe, and Eleanor Roosevelt have signed up to play in the contests

Student Center says. Newly-elected vice-president of the senior class Tommy Warren began his duties by presiding over the election of the class treasurer. When a motion was made that the nominations cease, he called for a vote on the motion, then announced the decision of the chair here. That's what the list in the Brilliant observation, my boy. J. B. Whittaker was explaining the prevalence of a social custom in one of his sociology courses. "Why, four-thirds of all college students have this habit." he said. Due to the increased enrollment.

Rapidly Dot Scott walked in one door of the Student Center, paused, then dashed out the other door. No sooner had she gone out than she rushed back and disappeared out the first door. This went on some time before she explained that she was lost. The question that presented itself was how on earth did she ever find her way from Sewell Hall to the Student Center in the first place.

Pen Points

Editor Takes a Gander At Old Mother Goose Tale

By Peggie Herron

ticle by an eminent British phychologist in which the author stated that such Mother Goose stories as "Cinderella" and "Snow White" should be banned. He charged that they conwoman-" Grandma whined, tribute to an idealistic conception of marriage, and when the little girls grow up, they are disillusioned. He stated further that the story of "Red Riding Hood" is also unwholesome for little girls.

AFTER CONSIDERING this seriously, we think that maybe he has a point there. Being realistic in our attitudes and conscientious toward public duty, we decided to rewrite one of the offenders for the sake of posterity. Here, we present our modern version of 'Little Red Riding Hood"-

ONCE UPON A TIME, there lived an almost-normal family by the name of Riding-Hood. Their one little girl had no feelings of rejection, neither was there cause or sibling rivalry.

One spring morning, Mrs. Ridng-Hood looked out the back door o where her little girl was reading a Yerby novel

"Red!" called Mrs. Riding-Hood, "Come take these frozen icebox cookies to your grandma." Red Riding-Hood looked up from her book and scowled. "Oh

dear," thought Mrs. Riding-Hood,

'I've frustrated her." Reluctantly, Red put her book aside, snatched the cookies, and drove off in the Cadillac.

BREEZING ALONG at 80 per on the six-lane super highway, she glanced out the rear-view mirror and saw a huge wolf right behind her. He pulled up beside her in his souped-up convertible and yelled:

"Hi ya, Babe, where ya going'?"

"None of your business." she replied, noticing that his green-andpurple-plaid wool zoot suit looked "I know," he chuckled, "Yer goin' to Gran'ma's place. I had my eye on ya fer a long time, Suddenly Red bore down on the accelerator and pulled in front of him. He was soon lost to view, and her self-concept was greatly enhanced when she thought how easily she had given him the slip. In a few minutes she pulled up at Grandma's Place. She was grateful for the electric-eye door since she had her hands full of cookies

She found Grandma rather ill. Her arthritis was acting up again. and she was out of cortisone tab-

Red began immediately an attempt to bolster Grandma's ego. She had learned how in her applied psychology classes. "Why, Grandma," she said.

"You look so young and beautiful. You have the most luscious eyes." "That's because I use Kurlum-Mo mascara," Grandma snapped. "And your new false teeth are rings just send me. Wherever did you find them?" Further conversation was stopped abruptly by the crash of glass. Red looked up into the muzzle of a sawed-off shotgun. It was held by the wolf.

gorgeous. Those big hoop ear-

"All right, Gran'ma, this is a stick-up. Give me yer jools." "But I'm just a poor old

THE BABBLER Entered as second-class matter,

December 26, 1923, at the post office, Nashville, Tenn., under the act of March 3, 1897. Accepted for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1916; authorized, Nashville, Tenn. Published weekly during the regular school year except during holidays or examination periods

by students of DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE, Nashville, Tenn. Office located on second floor Crisman Memorial Library. Member

Associated Collegiate Press Peggie Herron .. Editor-in-Chief Paul Rogers ... Business Manager Willard Collins . Faculty Advisor

IN OUR READING the other day we came across an ar-opening her wall safe The wolf stuffed the diamonds and pearls into the three gunny Just as he dropped the last rings into the bulging sacks, the door behind him opened stealthily and there stood B. Brayver, the local cop. He sneaked up behind the wolf and bopped him over the

THIS is Cold-Deck Charlie!" he exclaimed. "We've been combing the country for

"Oh, Officer," Red cried, "You're tho big and bwave to save iddy-

"Poor guy," muttered B. Brayver, "He must of gone to the wrong psychiatrist.

One of the year's biggest events in the field of foreign affairs took place last week when the ninepower conference meeting in London reached a long-sought agreement on the status of West Ger-

According to the final decision, Germany will be restored as a sovereign nation, and allowed to rearm, by building a 500,000 man army. The agreement was a definite victory for the Bonn government of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer

The London conference was called when an European crisis followed the rejection of the European Defense Community, by the French National Assembly, Germany will rearm under NATO and an expanded Brussels pact.

Added pressure was placed on the European powers by the announcement made by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles that the U. S. would withdraw all troops from Europe if the conference

Under the new agreement, the strength of West Germany's great military potential will be added to the western alliance.

The plan does not mean immediate withdrawal of all French, British, and American troops from Germany. They will remain as part of the defense of West Eu-

New Era Emerges

Observers see a new era in European politics emerging, as the ties between the U.S. and Europe become more and more solidified against the gradual encroachment of the Iron Curtain over the free

A new Germany, with allies that once were enemies, faces the Red foe with the industrial might, national fervor, and innate energy that has made that nation a power to be reckoned with in modern world politics.

Trieste Dispute Settled Another touchy question was settled last week when an agreement was finally reached on the Trieste dispute between Italy and Yukoslavia.

Phenix City Being Cleaned Up Notorious Phenix City, Ala.,

scene of the murder of anti-vice crusader A. L. Patterson, after a long period of crime, including city-wide gambling, prostitution, municipal corruption, has finally begun to be cleaned up. Besides numérous indictments against the various felons, who made their living preying upon the soldiers stationed at nearby Fort Benning, the state reported progress in their search for the gunman who shot Patterson 15 weeks

15 More Transfers Enter Here, Represent Central, Florida

Christian College, Bartlettsville, Okla., and five from Florida Christian College, Tampa, are being introduced to readers of the

October 8, 1954

From Florida Christian, comes Jim Richardson, who attended FCC in 1951-52, after which he served a two-year stint in the U.

At FCC, his chief activities included Sowers' Club, Areta Club, Camera Club, Courteous Collegians, and Footlighters. Cornelius Abbott, Jr., a sopho-sports editor of the FCC school paper, and in the Areta Society. Ben Bessent, also a soph, was outstanding in "eating," according to his transfer report. Harold (Bud) Comer was a more here this year, was assistant member of the Junior Rotarians and of Phi Sigma Chi. Jim Wilford also belonged to the Phi Sigma Chi Society. Of the 10 from CCC three are annual, the La Quinta, an individual winner of the intramural speech contest, and member of the A Capella choir.

They are Joyce Renner, Betty Penrod, and Delores Her-Joyce was editor of the college

Betty Penrod was active in various student organizations, as was Delores Herrold, who was also secretary-treasurer of the sophomore class and a member of the Student Advisory Committee.

President of the class at CCC was Don Shackelford, who is now a junior at DLC. He lettered in basketball for two years and was

Alumni Notes

By Laura Tarence

The Alumni Loyalty Fund was the main topic of discussion at the special meeting of the Davidson County Chapter on September 28. V. M. Whitsell, president of the local chapter, and Bob Sanders, director of loyalty funds, were in charge. Seventy-one persons were presnt on the Lipscomb campus for a picnic supper prepared by the school and for the business which followed.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodford Yankee (Ruth Swan), '50, are the parents of a son, William, born Sept. 25 in Nashville. The Yankees, former Faducah, Ky., residents, now live at 110 Fairway Drive, Nashville.

James Frederick is the new son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Stroop, Jr., '47, of Nashville. He was born on Sept. 28. Mrs. Stroop is the former Fredda Mae Pinckley.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rayford Grose (Grace Harper) '41, of 1407 Ebert Street, Winston-Salem, North Carolina, have named their son, who was born Sept. 9, William Rayford, Jr. Rachel English, x'55, of Frank lin, Tenn., and James Shannon Norman of Nashville were married in Franklin on Oct. 1. The couple will reside at 1414 Riverside Drive, Nashville, Tenn. Nancy Anne Anderson, x'56, of Nashville, and David Ansel Eason, x'55, of Adamsville, Tenn., were married on Sept. 27 in Nashville. The building was constructed by Boone Construction Company at a They will make their home in Brentwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Shields (Cora Beal Hardison), '46, are now living at 1012 Gale Lane, Nashville, while Doug is working on his Doctor's degree in physics at Vanderbilt University. The Shields formerly lived in Murfreesboro.

SACSS Group Will Arrive Wednesday

A committee from the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools will arrive here Wednesday for a three-day visit. On Wednesday night, they will confer with A. C. Pullias, president, Willard Collins, vice-president, J. P. Sanders, dean, and Robert Broadus, librarian. The group will visit various classes, inspect general college facilities, and appraise the education standards of the school.

In Columbus, Kan., Don preached regularly for the Church.

Jim Blankenship, former business manager of the yearbook was also a member of the chorus Vice-President of the Campus Commercial Club at CCC was Kerneth McPherson, Jr. Dale Janua was chairman of the Harvester's Club for preachers and a member of the Mission Study

Another newspaperman, James Beckloff was reporter for the

Bailey Mc Bride, president of the dramatics club, was awarded the Lamer Bible Award for contribution to spiritual life.

Padre football captain, Roger

Todd, was president of the Sooner Club and chairman of the Mission Study Class. Stanley Reinhardt was full-time minister for the Nowata Church of Christ while a student at CCC. This completes the second in a series of three articles, the purpose of which is to introduce Lips-

By Mary Lou Carter "You look like you have more sense than to be driving all over

These were the words which greeted Alumni Secretary Laura Tarence as she drove into Atlanta some two years ago, just one month after she learned to drive. Perhaps this trip wouldn't have been so bad if there hadn't been the country by yourself at a time

a group of escaped prisoners from the Federal Penitentiary loose, if the roads hadn't been under construction, and if Laura hadn't been a novice behind the wheel!

But prospective - student work must go on in spite of such seeming difficulties, and Laura has been seeing that it does go on, ever since her graduation from Lipscomb in '52, where she was Miss Lipscomb, "Backlog" editor, and listed in "Who's Who in American Universities and

'College' Church Completed New $380,000 Meeting House

than $380,000, the new Church of with a slight elevation, is cover-Christ at 3805 Granny White Pike ed with tile. will hold its opening services Sunday, October 10. Charles Chumbley, regular minister, will

The building is equipped with nineteen Sunday-School rooms, a glassed-in cry room at the rear of the balcony, and a nursery. Also located in the building are a small library, a minister's study and an office for the secretary. With pews of fumed oak and walls of lad pannel, the auditorium has a seating capacity of 1.122. The ceiling lights have been installed with dimmers which regulate their intensity. Facilities are provided for air conditioning; however, a unit will not be placed in operation before the summer of '55. Windows in the building cost of not quite $400,000.00.

360 Murfreesboro Road

Constructed at a cost of more stained glass and the baptistry,

Boone was Contractor

A walk leading from Harding

Hall to Mayfair Avenue, just behind the new building, was laid this summer by Boone Construction Company. This firm has been contractors for the new structure which is located on Granny White Pike, one block north of the campus.

The building fund was started some two years ago while Eldred Stevens was minister. The usual spring meeting was not held last year, so as to contribute more money to this fund.

Photo by James Clipp

6-1148

The new "Lipscomb" church will hold opening services this Sunday.

Purity Dairies

Nashville's Finest Milk

The National Life and

Accident Insurance Co.

NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

This past summer she took her first plane trip to Greenville, S. C. Previously the congregation has to attend the American Alumni met on the Lipscomb campus in Council Convention. She is plan-Alumni Auditorium. Dr. Wendell ning to go to Breton Woods, N. H., Clipp, Max Hamrick, E. P. Landon, and Howard Youree serve as next summer to the Convention. Her only real hobby is music; she has studied voice with Sydney Dalton, local critic, chance to know everybody.

and this summer gave a joint recital with Tommy Carter in Alumni Auditorium. While Laura was in school, she had the lead in the Chorus Opera for three consecutive years. Jasper, Ala., is her home town although she has been away from home for nearly ten years. Next fall her sister will enter the College, and the following year her prother plans to come. And if all the escaped prisoners get caught and the roads aren't torn up, Laura is going back to Atlanta again in November to another convention. By now she has earned to drive a little better!

Poetry Contest Is Open to Students

Alumni Secretary Laura Tarence spends from two to three to submit original verse to be condays each week visiting prospecsidered for possible publication in tive students in their homes and the Annual Anthology of College

This is the Twelfth Annual Colhave been submitted to the National Poetry Association in the past 10 years. Of these, about 4,000 have been accepted for publication. Rules are as follows:

written in ink on one side of a

She learns of these people appear on each manuscript. through the National Beta List on which is a record of every high school senior, his choice of college, and his church preference. Laura says her favorite town is McMinnville because the hotel there is so small that she has a er efforts are preferred.

Manuscripts is Nov. 5.

'Should Recognize Red China,'

Henley, who has been work-sored by the debate squad, was the first of a series of studies on the new deabte question, which deals with the topic that Mr. Henley

Henley laid the foundation for discussion of the highly controversial topic with background information on the policy which has been pursued by U. S. presidents and secretaries of state in regard to recognition of countries which had undergone politi-

Quoting Thomas Jefferson, Henry L. Stimson, and other political leaders, Henley emphasized the point that the U. S. has never made legality of a government's hold on a country the deciding factor as to whether that government pointed out, governments had been recognized solely on the hasis of their real possession of the administrative functions of a nation, and their true rep-

In answer to a question, speaker said that he felt that U. S recognition of the Peiping government of China would assure them of acceptance into the United Nations organization. He defended Red China's entrance into the Korean War by comparing it to action that would be taken by the J. S. if the event of an invasion of Henley also made the point that he did not believe that the government of Red China was being controlled by Russia. He interpreted the present Communist sweep of the Far East as being a revolt against the imperialism of the great colonial powers of France, Great Britain, and the Netherlands.

The speaker criticized the investigatons of Senators McCarthy and Velde, asserting that they were wish to think for themselves.

because a "new entity cannot carry on normal diplomatic intercourse with a non-recognizing state, nor can it conclude treaties which safeguard vital political and commercial interests, nor can it sue in the courts of a non-recog-

All college students are invited

lege Competition. The recognition afforded by publication will reflect definite credit on the author, as well as the school. Over a hundred thousand manuscripts

Manuscripts must be typed or

Student's home address, name of College and College address must

Students may submit as many manuscripts as is desired. Theme and form may be in accordance with the wish of the student contributor. In order to give as many students as possible an opportunity for recognition and because of space limitations-short-

Closing date for submission of Manuscripts should be submitted to Dennis Hartman, Secretary, National Poetry Association, 3210 Selby Avenue, Los Angeles 34, Speech Review:

Lipscomb Professor Contends

By Bob Silvey

"I believe imperatively that we should recognize Red China," Ralph Henley, assistant professor of history and political science, told a group of more than 30 stuon U.S. recognition of Communist China, Monday evening.

ing on his doctor's degree at Vanderbilt University, returned to the history department this Fall after a two year absence from the Lipscomb faculty. The speech, which was spon-

Cites Former Policy

cal revolutions in the past.

should be recognized. On the other hand, Henley resentation of the people.

Mexico by the Soviet Union.

Criticizes Investigators

stifling the freedom of thought and speech of men in this country who Recognition of Communist China is important, Henley contended, nizing state."

Pros Pective . . . She Is Lipscomb's Top Salesman ... Meet Miss Tarence their schools

the Church.

nessee and Alabama.

As a rule, Laura travels two or three days per week during

Georgia and particularly in Ten-

Sometimes she visits high schools on their "Career Days"

coming to Lipscomb. If a particular school happens not to have a career day, she visits the homes of the prospective students in that community who are members of

and talks to the students about

Herd... Sportlight

Class Tournament

The annual "L" Club class tournament has been scheduled for Friday and Saturday night November 19 and 20. This is the week just before Thanksgiving and everyone should be present to support his team.

The coaches of the respective teams will be chosen Monday night so they can start getting their team lined up. The coaches will be taken from members of the Bison basketball squad who are members of the "L" Club.

Jerry Jones, Bison guard, did a great coaching job last year. Jerry led the Freshmen to the runner-up position, just being nosed out by the Seniors.

We are sure that he would like to be given another chance to win the tournament and if he is he will do another great

If he is chosen this year the best way to help him is to back him with spirit and fight.

The official selections will not be made until Monday, but we want to give Jerry another chance to show his coaching ability. We have heard of his knowledge of the game and feel sure that if the classes will get fired up and support their teams in this tournament that the tourney will be worth its effort.

The "L" Club trophy, which is given each year to the winning team is a mighty fine prize and the winning class can be justly proud of it. Everyone should think about this class tournament and plan to have a great one. No class is just going to stand by and be beaten.

The Juniors, for one, are planning the tourney and according to last year the Sophomores and Seniors are going to be tough. All in all it will be a great tournament if you, the students, will get interested and back your respective teams.

Correction

We stated last week that the players for the intramural teams would be chosen Tuesday afternoon. This was incorrect. The respective intramural teams were chosen Friday, October 1, at 4:00. All team members have been posted on the bulletin board and everyone should check their team assignments.

School Spirit

In order for any college team to have a successful basketball season, there has to be interest shown by the students.

Many times last year the Bisons would play before just a handful of spectators and we don't see how anyone could expect a team to show interest in winning games if its own student body will not come to see them play.

School spirit helps win many a game and helps keep the coach and his team interested in the games. It is about time that the Lipscomb student body woke up.

Last year the Bisons did not have a very good year but how many students came to the games? The Bisons this year are really wanting to have a good season. How bad does the Lipscomb student body want to have a good season?

If the basketball team has a good year everything will prosper. More people will come to the campus, there will be more publicity for the school, and people will be more interested in coming to school at Lipscomb.

The Bisons and their coach work many hours each day so that we can see a good brand of basketball. The boys on the team are great guys, and all that they want is for the students to create interest and get people to come to the games.

Lipscomb is growing and will continue to do so. Let's get behind the Bisons this year and let them show us their wares. As we stated before, the boys have worked long and hard hours and all they want is a student body that will come to the games and yell for them.

If we get behind the team this year we will be in for some good ball games because Lipscomb has a great and tough schedule this year.

The Bisons open with Belmont College before long, so let's start planning to come out and watch the boys take the opener.

HIGH QUALITY PRINTING

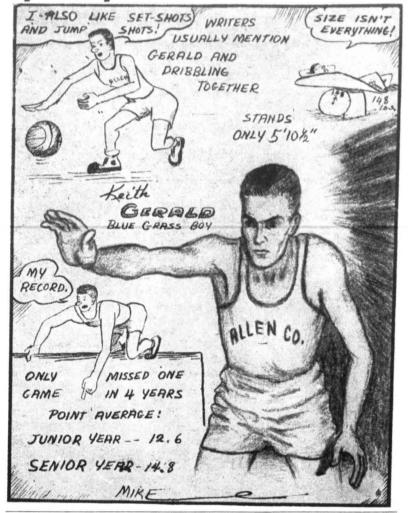

Books, magazines, catalogs, folders . . . anything Contact one of these Lipscomb alumni in our office:

PAUL W. MOORE, CLASS OF '38 LARRY WILLIAMS, CLASS OF '39 V. M. WHITESELL, CLASS OF '41 JAMES W. BOYD, CLASS OF '51

Williams PRINTING CO.

417 COMMERCE • NASHVILLE • TELEPHONE 6-7126 J. R. OVERALL, PRES. E. A. BERGSTROM, VICE-PRES.

Sport Spots

Intramural Kick-Offs Begin As Team Members Are Chosen

The fall intramural program got off to a start this week with the selection of new members by the club president. The rosters of the clubs now stand as follows:

PIRATES: Dan Kimbell, Pres., Ronnie Morrell, Buddy Caldwell, Gary Colson, Gene Hibbitt, Marlin Connelly,
Charles Estes, Billy O'Brien, Jessee
Clayton, Bill Camp, Don Montgomery,
Ed Holley, Jerry Brandon, Roger Todd,
Honnie Hogue, Rex Miller, Max Cagle,
Robert Burnette, Ed Gleaves, Marvin
Goodman, Gale Williamson, Linville Hanbac. George Radford.

Goodman, Gale Williamson, Linville Hanbac, George Radford.

BUCCANEERS: Carl Walker, Pres., Gene Mullins, Jack Copeland, Jimmy Walker, Dorris Davenport, Rudy Senn, Charles Eubank, Ray Swing, Waylon Lawrence, Allan Cullum, Richard Bates, Arthur Gardner, Harry Rose, G. W. Head, Jimmy Mize, Arnold Wright, Louis Bewden, Robert Newton, Robert Dungeun, James Vandiver ton, Robert Dunagun, James Vandiver, Tommy Hipps, Ronald Levell, Bob Nor-wood, Charles Newson, Jimmy Sween-

KNIGHTS: Wayne Wright, Pres., James McDonough, Charles Hailey, Dave Westmoreland, Morris Zeigler, Bob Landon, Billy Burgess, Ronald Tucker, Ed Enzor, Boodie Fox, Jimmy Jenkins, Terrell Seavers, John Turner, Keith Gerald, Danny Harless, Jim Burnette, Ronald Cloud, Kenneth Harwell, James Costelle, Benny Nelms.

James Costelle, Benny Nelms.
GLADIATORS: Paul Rogers, Pres.,
John Fisk, Ray Walker, Connell Taylor, Nicky Boone, Paul Dillingham, Bobby Turner, Don Osborne, Ed Binkley, Bob Greathouse, Robert Muliins, Bill Patten, Ed Smith, John Richardson, Deems Brooks, John Phifer, Steve Merritt, Jerry Watson, Harold Jones. EAGLES: Charles Shelton, Pres., Robert Taylor, Charles Anderson, Ralph O'Neal, Ernest Mills, Bob Knight, Wil-liam Wilder, D. Williams, Jackie Ray,

James Clipp, Ronald Joyce, John Sew-ell, Brooks Helmers, Ken Williams, Darrell Blaylock, McCoy Kilpatrick, Ronald Smith, Tom Sparks, Walter Aiken, Ralph Flannery, Frank Gill, Elmer Blanton.

COMETS: Robert Brown, Pres., Jerry Jones, Bill McCleskey, James Davy, Max Wilcox, Hope Camp, John Eason, John Friend, Fred Lassen, Archie Crenshaw, Del Elkins, Chuck Jones, Don Holladay, Harold Comer, Herbert Murphy, Sam Hall, Sam Ragsdale, Lucien Anderson, Bill Jarrett, Gary Osborne, Larry Chunn, Richard Davidson.

Larry Chunn, Richard Davidson.

CAVALIERS: Gene Ward, Pres., George Massey, George Brazil, Jack
Parks, Jerry Wilkerson, G. Thompson,
Jack Hooper, Harry Miller, Walter
Glass, Robert Cobb, James Pryor, David Woody, Philip Slate, Paul Roark, R. H. Jackson, Miller Frast, Jack Hogan, Glen Tucker, Joe Helman, Joe Camp.

RAMS: Don McAlister, Pres., Jim Throneberry, Tom Warren, Spencer Gilbert, Bill Abler, Wayne Tincher, Bob Harris, Don Jenkins, Bob Bowersock, George Spain, George Howard, Gene Kidwell, Ken Dugan, Jack Boustead, Tom Burton, Bill Banewsky, Ben McPherson, Joe Hardin, Tom Downey, Charles Lawson, Dan Riddick, Dick Adams, Roger Villines, Alvin White, Bud Dancy, Hal Wilson, Nelson Roark.

Drug Needs at Hutcherson's

Joy's Flowers 601 Church

TENNESSEE REAL ESTATE CO. Nashville's Largest Business Brokers Rentals • AUCTIONS • Sales REALTORS 121 Third Avenue, North Campbell Jenkins

Flag Football League Opens

The Flag Football League pened play on Monday.

October 8, 1954

The Eagles tied the Cavaliers 13-13 in a thrilling contest. In an important early season game on Tuesday the power-laden Rams edged the Comets 26-21.

Other games scheduled this week were the Pirates vs. the Knights on Wednesday and the Gladiators vs. the Buccaneers on Thursday.

Four games are scheduled for next week: Monday-Comets vs. Cavaliers Tuesday-Pirates vs. Bucca-

Wednesday-Rams vs. Eagles Thursday-Knights vs. Gladi-

All games start at 4:15 P.M. Next Monday marks the beginning of the Intramural Singles Tennis tournament for boys and the Intramural Golf Tournament

Any college boys interested in entering either of these tournaments are urged to sign their names to the lists posted on the Intramural bulletin board in the

Meet McAllister-Chief Recorder

The man with the books-that's Don McAlister, senior physical education major, from Fayetteville,

By Ray Swing

Don is beginning his second year as chief statistician and record keeper for the men's intramural program. His job is to keep the eam and individual scoring records accurate and up to date.

Any contest will usually find Don on hand, jotting down figures in one of his books. He is responsible for recording the touchdowns in football, the goals and fouls in basketball, and the runs, hits, and errors in softball.

Time-Keeper . . .

A good background in athletics helps Don with his work. He played football, and basketball for two years, and baseball for three years at Fayetteville High School. At Lipscomb, in addition to his record keeping Don has participated actively in the intramural league. winning the coveted Most Out-Standing Intramural Athlete award in 1953.

Don says that he would like to see more interest shown in the intramural program. He is ready and willing to answer any questions about the records, schedules, or memberships of the competing

Trade at Hutcherson's

Alloway BROS. COMPANY Poultry Meats

FITTS & CRAWFORD

2816 West End Ave. 7-5946

FLOWERS

Presenting the Traughber Awards in a Stunt Nite preview is Max (Nancy Wycoff) of Milton Berle TV fam. Receiving the Traughber award for his outstanding performance in "From Here to Serenity" is Frank Sinatra (Al Smith). The awards will be presented tonite by finds kinder people than those in

The audience is calculated to love every one of the inmates.

There is poor, pathetic Florence

who is suffering from a mother

fixation; she is played by Myrt

Denny Loyd portrays Hannibal,

who fancies he can play the violin,

and Gail Holland is Fairy Mae, who thinks she is beautiful and

Jeff, the pilot whose plane crashed during the war and whose scars "go deeper than anyone will ever know," is played by Nick

Boone. Sweet, lovable Mrs. Paddy, who "hates everything in the world," is portrayed by Wilmeth

The actions of these inmates, along with those of Dr. Emmett.

played by Don Osborn, and Miss

Willie, the nurse, played by Bob-bye Menefee, and Mrs. Savage's three children are planned to bring

Samuel, the senator, played by

Jerry Henderson; and Lily Belle,

the cruel daughter, who has been

Air" will be broadcast over WSIX day night, Nov. 16, as the second

Purity Dairies are co-sponsors.

Town Meeting will go on the air at 8:00 p.m., local time, but the program will be preceded by a preliminary meeting consisting of audience participation, starting

Meeting is carried by more than 300 stations of the ABC network

in the United States, Canada, Ha-problems facing our nation.

of speakers are to be announced.

waii, and Alaska. This program

On the air since May, 1935, Town

Lipscomb Artist Series.

at 7:15 p.m.

tears of sympathy.

Killebrew.

wants everyone to love her.

the outside world.

'Curious Savage' To Be Staged Here Oct. 29

The first in a series of productions by the Footlighters will be the "Cloisters," the home, she staged on Oct. 29 with the presentation of The Curious Savage in Alumni Auditorium.

A play by John Patrick, author of The Hasty Heart, The Curious Savage is the story of Ethel Savage, whose children have her committed to a home for the mentally ill. This is done in order to prevent her setting up a memorial fund to give away her $10,000,000 to people who want to do "foolish" things.

Whether or not Mrs. Savage, played by Mary Cornelia Sparkman, is really unbalanced is for

Alumni Notes

Meet the children of alumni, who are freshmen in Lipscomb this year.

Jane Alsup is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peyton Alsup (Ruth Overton) '32 and '33, of 3715 Rosemont Ave., Nashville.

Doris Elise Bell is the daughter of Mrs. W. E. Bell (Doris Elise Blitch) '32, of South Hill, Virginia. Jackie Burton comes from Winchester, Tenn., and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Bur-

Larry Chunn comes from Route 2, Gadsden, Alabama, and is the married six times, will be porson of Mrs. G. W. Chunn (Gladys trayed by Nancy Wyckoff. Hamilton) '17.

ton (Katrine Lynch) '29.

Joe Cooper is the son of Mrs. L. H. Cooper (Irene Shearer) '31 of Crossville, Tennessee.

Jim Dark is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Harris J. Dark, Morrow Avenue, Nashville. Dr. Dark attended Lipscomb in 1928.

Billy Dorris of Brookwood Lane, Nashville, is the third gen- from Alumni Auditorium on Tueseration to attend Lipscomb. Not only are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. and final program of the 1954 Charles Dorris (Opal Shoulders) '37 and '33 alumni, but his two grandfathers were here before them. C. E. W. Dorris '96 of 1103 Caldwell Lane, Nashville, and the late James Shoulders were students in the Nashville Bible School

Danny Harless is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Daniel Harless (Lady Eloise Neely) of 1132 Quilliam Road, Cleveland Hts., 21, Wyna Harper is the daughter of Edward Harper '32 and Mrs. Harper of Wilson Dam Road, Florence, Alabama.

Jack Hogan comes from Bogart, Georgia, and is the son of Bedford Chester Hogan '35. Eddie Holley comes from 1046

Maryland Avenue, N. E., Atlanta, Georgia, and is the son of Mrs. E. R. Holley (Christine Edmondson) tend diplomatic recognition to the '25 and Mr. Holley. .communistic government of

The remaining students whose parents attended Lipscomb, will Lipscomb students will be adbe listed in the next issue of the mitted on their activity cards. Admission otherwise will be Killed in a B-50 crash at Wil-$1.00 for adults and 50c for stulows, California, Wednesday night,

October 6, was Captain Keith B. Wright, class of '43. Keith served in World War II and had been in The annual faculty-senior basthe armed forces 11 years. Last June he received the Distinguished ketball game will take place next Friday night in McQuiddy Gym. Flying Cross.

Stunt Nite Is 8:15 Tonite

rise on the annual production of Stunt Nite in Alumni Auditorium.

A first prize of $20 will be role awarded to the winner and the Flaming Scarlet to Appear runner-up will receive $10. Special judges have been selected to rate the skits instead of using an applauseometer as was done last

The "Traughber Award Win-Dramatics Club. Emceeing the show will be Milton Berle, famous radio and television com :dian, and his "dumb" girl friend. Max. They will be portrayed by George Brazil and Nancy Wycoff. "Arthur Godfrey's Talent Scouts," presented by the L Club will have as two of its stars John Friend and Gary Colson.

The Spanish Club will give a tions" with the club sponsor, Miss Gladys Gooch, playing a starring

"Flaming Scarlet" will lend fire to the cast of "Gone with the Wind," another take-off presented by the Backlog Club. For the opposite of the famous Ralph Edwards production "This ners" will be presented by the Is Your Life" the Art Club will present "This ISN'T Your Life."

> The Press Club will give a take-off on the McCarthy hearings but it will not be judged in the competition. "Malarky," chairman of the other Great Step in Science."

Some individuals will also present skits, one of which is "An-characters are Jerry Reynolds.

Bob Howard, and Corky Brian.

vestigate temporary activities on the Lipscomb campus. Matthew Morrission will portrav Malarky.

These are just a few of the different stunts that will be seen on

The Fifteen Per Centers, winners of the Lipscomb High School Stunt Nite, will present their skit as an added attraction. This is a hill-billy band act and it will present its versions of popular

Bob Howard will provide music between acts.

Tickets are now an sale for 60c each and may be purchased from any Press Club member in advance, or at the door tonight.

The Babbler

Vol. XXXIV David Lipscomb College, Nashville 4, Tenn., October 15, 1954

Subject for Debate Revealed by Ellis

Carroll Ellis stated last week that the 1955 college debate subject is: "Resolved that the United States should extend diplomatic recognition to Communist government of China."

He also said that on Monday. Oct. 18, Col. Martin will speak on the military aspects of the recognition of the Communist government of China. Approximately twenty students are working with the debate squad this year. The first contest will be a discussion tournament at the University of Alabama in Novem-

The squad meets regularly on Tuesday and Thursday at 2:00 p.m.

on howls of laughter and in places, Graduate Record Her children are Titus, the Tests Are Set judge, portrayed by Al Smith;

The Graduate Record Examinations, required of applicants for admission to a number of graduate schools, will be administered at examination centers throughout the country four times in the coming year, Educational Testing Service has announced.

This fall candidates may take the ABC Program GRE on Saturday, November 20. In 1955, the dates are January 27, April 30, and July 9. 'America's Town Meeting of the ETS advises each applicant to inquire of the graduate school of his choice which of the examinaions he should take and on which dates. Applicants for graduate school fellowships should ordinarily take the designated examinations in the fall administration.

The GRE tests offered in these nationwide programs include a His primary job is to take care of test of general scholastic ability and advanced level tests of achievement in sixteen different subject matter fields.

presents competent authorities Nov. 23-Union-T with firsthand information on The discussion topic and panel Dec. 1-U.T.-T Dec. 3-Freed-Hardeman-H Dr. Carroll Ellis, head of the speech department, has suggested Dec. 11-Tenn. Tech-T the National Collegiate Debating Dec. 16-Florence State-T Tournament question: "Resolved Jan. 3-Tenn. Tech-H that the United States should ex-

Jan. 13-Austin Peay-T Jan. 15-Belmont-H Jan. 22-Chattanooga-T Jan. 24-Vanderbilt-T Jan. 28-Austin Peay-H

Jan. 29-Union-H Feb. 1-Florence State-H Feb. 3-Chattanooga-H Feb. 5-East Tenn.-H Feb. 11-Abilene Christian*-H Feb. 17, 18, 19-VSAC Tourn.

-Homecoming

Banowsky, McFarland Win Freshmen Elections Bill Banowsky, of Ft. Worth,

Texas, and Gay McFarland, of Lebanon, were elected president and secretary of the freshman A speech major, Banowsky served as president of the student body and the senior class in high school. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wade B. Banowsky. Miss McFarland, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. McFarland.

was secretary of her senior class in Lebanon High School. Both Banowsky and Miss Mc-Farland were elected in a run-off ballot. Jess Hall was the other

News Briefs:

Cheerleaders Will Be Elected Nov. 1 Preliminary cheerleader elections will take place Nov. 1. All students are eligible to try out. Vice-President Willard Collins announces that it will not be possible for the U.S. Navy Band to return for at least three years. The Band tours all sections of the country, and three years are repleted.

Ronald Tucker has been selected as the student assistant to Dale Brown, Director of dramatics.

presidential nominee. In the runoff with Miss McFarland were George Ann Wolf and Jeanette

The vice-president and treasurer of the class were elected after chapel this morning.

Herron, Rogers

Go to Press Meet Peggie Herron, Editor-in-Chief, and Paul Rogers, Business Manager, will represent the BABBLER and Lipscomb at the Associated tion in Washington, D. C., Oct. 21-The affair, which is annual, will be held at the Hotel Statler in Collegiate Press National Conven-

the nation's capitol. Scheduled speakers are men famed in the field of journalism. They include Roscoe Drummond of the New York Herald Tribune, Russell Wiggins, of the Washington Post, Fred L. Kildow, A. C. P. director, and John Tibbel, of N.

Other highlights of the convention will be newspaper seminar sessions led by staff members of the Washington Post, instructional courses for business managers, and numerous clinics and short courses. A dinner will be the social highlight for Friday evening.

Rogers and Miss Herron will leave Tuesday afternoon, and rethe technical aspects of produc- turn early Saturday evening via an Eastern Air Lines plane.

Receiving congratulations from A. M. Burton, of the Lipscomb Board of Directors, are Mrs. Elizabeth Bell and Miss Marie Hille, retired faculty members. They were presented gifts at the quarterly Board meeting Saturday. President A. C. Pullias and Mrs. Burton

BASKETBALL SCHEDULE Nov. 22-Belmont-H Nov. 25-Freed-Hardeman-T Nov. 29-Birmingham-So.-T Dec. 4-Middle Tennessee-H Jan. 8-East Tenn.-T

Lipscomb Health Clinic . .

Did you know that the Student Health Center has eight rooms? That Dr Simpkins is a graduate

In January of 1951 the new clinic was set up in

There are eight rooms which house the clinic at

The Study of a Criminal

We followed, through the summer, various accounts about a man in San Quentin, Calif., prison, who has written a bestseller novel, and thereby gained an unusual type of publicity.

The man, Caryl Chessman, was scheduled to die in the gas chamber on July 30. However, he managed to gain a reprieve from the governor just in the nick of time. This was the second such reprieve he had won, and, startlingly enough, he has fought his legal battles through the courts of the nation without the aid of an attorney. Psychologists rate his Intelligence Quotient as just below genius level.

However, as interesting as these facts are, they are not the chief reason for our interest in this criminal. To us, he stands as a figure in whom all criminals are consummated, and this man's case has provoked us into many thoughts.

His book, entitled "Cell 2455 Death Row," has been described as "a remorseless self-analysis of a condemned man." In it, he seems to stand at a distance and view himself as another

Chessman is but one of many criminals who need help in the form of understanding from society. He did not deliberately decide to turn to crime, he-as many youths today—was, in a sense, driven to it.

His tragedy began with a series of illnesses that destroyed his tonal sense and ended a promising musical talent; following this, his mother became paralyzed as the result of an auto accident, then Chessman, himself, suffered an attack of asthma that almost took his life.

These misfortunes destroyed the family's savings and left them deeply impoverished. To supplement them, Chessman began stealing. He was sent to reform school where he learned to be a criminal, and hasn't tried to "go straight" since.

As Chessman himself states, "My purpose in telling this is not to try to justify or to excuse what I have done. Perhaps my actions cannot be justified. . . . But surely they can be understood, and a larger social significance derived.

"I believe the story demonstrates the fact that even those who, as adults, menace society, did not spring full grown from Satan. They are the result of a complex called environ-

"They were young once, and something happened to them. They gave and give society ample warning. The danger signals are always flashed."

Of course, we do not respect nor excuse criminal actions, no matter who commits them. Offenders must be punished; but we do think that the guilt, in many cases, rests not on the criminal alone. That's one reason we thought this man's case—the study of a criminal—interesting enough to pass along.

Increasing Alcoholism-What's Behind It?

In 1940 there were 2.632,000 alcoholics in the United States. By 1950 the number had jumped to 3,876,000 and was still climbing. From these figures the American public can get an over-all picture of the condition of its citizens as a result of whiskey, beer, wine and other intoxicating beverages.

Particularly alarming about this increase is the fact that more women have become slaves to this habit in the past few years. The number of female alcoholics increased by 20,000 between 1949 and 1950.

In January the old headline House Group Raps Wine Ads—Finds Practices "In Bad Taste" will have a sequel. House Interstate Commerce Committee members have asked radio and television spokesmen to report by Jan. 1, 1955, as to steps already taken and proposed for meeting "widespread complaints with reference to advertising of alcoholic beverages over their media.'

Recently, a number of legislators stated that they had received more mail relative to the liquor advertising issue than on any other measure considered during that session of Congress. Because of this, the Committee feels that "consideration could profitably be given by beer and wine industries to the possibility of eliminating or curtailing their advertising over radio and television."

The Committee further stated that "advertising of alcoholic beverages on television is not in good taste if such advertisement includes a scene of a family or any person drinking, serving or preparing drinks, or contains any representation primarily appealing to children."

It is the opinion of the Committee that the radio and television agencies should, in their own enlightened self interest, give serious consideration to such complaints.

Of those who start drinking on the social level, some six percent end up as habitual drunkards. Perhaps this percentage seems small, yet in comparison to our growing population, it is an alarming proportion and is worthy of deep thought and concern, particularly to the college student of today, who is at an age where social drinking is considered necessary and vital to one's being accepted by his group.

LIPSCOMB DAY by DAY

Time marches on and Friday is here again. Ah, but this is no ordinary Friday. For tonight is STUNT NITE! Remember, this was the date to be circled in red.

The basement of Crisman Memorial Library is not the place to take naps. And so George (Jo-Jo to most of you) Brazil discovered. While he was snatching forty winks in the nether regions of C.M.M., Mrs. Whitten and Miss Gooch slipped and poured icewater in his ears. Isn't that what's called a rude awakening or something of the sort.

They had been wanting to go horse-back-riding ever since school started. So Gay Barnes and Bobba Jean Moody got up bright and early Saturday morning and went riding for an hour and a half-on the bus. After spending half the morning on the bus and walking a good mile from the end of the bus line to the stables, they asked for some horses. The stable boy grinned ind informed tnem that all the horses were over in a parade in Madison. "For want of a horse. . .

That strange sound that was heard in the cafeteria was none other than Ed Enzor and his fox-After several blasts, the only things that turned up in response were a few fellow sophomores and the woe-begone dog that peers in the windows of the cateteria during every meal.

This to satisfy the curiosity of those wno have made inquiry concerning all the men's socks hung out to dry on the third floor of Johnson Hall: Sidney Maddux is taking in washing. Only ten cents a pair and they come back all in

After much sleuthing, we've discovered what the R in Al R. Smith's name stands for: Rapunsel. Due to his long curly locks

It was in his discussion of "The Taming of the Shrew" that Morris P. Landiss pointed out that 'the heart of a happy home is the rule of the husband." Casting a meaningful glance at his wife, Tommy Burton requested, "Will you repeat that, please, Mr. Lan-

One of our more competent biology lab instructors began introducing the students to the intricacies of a laboratory. As she began dismantling a microscope (the better to instruct them with), she proceeded with the explanation, "First. I want to show you the parts of this typewriter . . . " A anyone might have made. Beautiful Day of 1954 is now history-the kind that would be interesting to study. Before the Baxter was expressing the hope that all the prospective students who would be present would be favorably impressed. "Don't you mean the new students?" someone asked. "No, they're prospective students. They haven't started perfectly natural mistake that

studying yet," Baxter rejoined. P.S. Hope to see all of y'all at STUNT NITE tonight.

Send a contribution to U.S. OLYMPIC TEAM FUND 540 North Michigan Ave., Chicago 11, Illinois

The United States Olympic Committee is this month soliciting aid to finance U. S. participation in the 1955 Pan American Games in Mexico. Congress authorized President Eisenhower to proclaim Oct. 16 as the first National Olympic

Buy Cosmetics at Hutcherson's

MARK TWAIN in his early days was editor of a Missouri newspaper. A superstitious subscriber wrote him saying that he had found a spider in his newspaper, and asked whether that was a sign of good or bad luck. The humorist wrote this answer and printed it in the next Go ahead, take the chance. We'll spider in your paper was neither good or bad luck for you. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant is not advertising so that he can go to that store, spin his web across the door, and live a life of undisturbed peace ever aftercent below a year ago.

the like 1952 week.

"The bank said department store officials in New York blamed the drop partly no the fact that there was no newspaper advertising Sunday, Monday, or Tuesday of the preceding week."

However, many newspaper readers seem to forget the importance of the advertiser to the newspaper. The small rate of subscription charged by newspapers does not begin to cover the cost of printing, and the defcit must be made up by the sale of advertisements. Every newspaper depends heavily upon its dvertisers for necessary finances.

The BABBLER is no exception. Business manager Paul Rogers is ousy selling ads long before school begins in the fail-for without the advertisers, there would be no BABBLER. That's why we ask our reagers to snow their appreciation by patronizing our advertisers. And don't forget to mention that you saw their ad in the BABBLER when you buy.

NOTE TO HOPEFUL reporters In San Angelo, Tex., a newspaper reporter frustrated a would-be robber with the mere flick of his press card.

take, buddy.

out the door and fled. Here and There-If you can't think of any other way to flatter a man, tell him he's the type that can't be flattered . . . Sign on a junk shop a few yards from a railway crossing near Denver:

Dear Editor:

Student-'Thanks for Beautiful Day'

I should like to take this opportunity to express through you our appreciation to the admini-

of activities which were provided for everyone, even the football seemed to join enthusiastically in anything which was suggested; this is a credit to the planning com-

it again sometime. Sincerely,

"Old subscriber: Finding a HEARD IN PASSING: The rain it raineth on the just And also on the unjust fella: But chiefly on the just because The unjust steals the just's um-

By Bob Sivley

experienced one of its most embarrassing moments this week

when labor circles and the Democratic party took exception to a statement by Secretary of the De-

The statement: ". . . I've always liked bird dogs better than kennel dogs myself."

It was not just the secretary's preference for a certain type of canine, but the fact that he was talking about the plight of America's jobless, that

Wilson hastened to announce a correction, 24 hours after the American press had spread his words all over the U.S., bringing criticism from all sides, even from

The President himself, obvious

v concerned over the impact that the furor might have on the coming election, issued a statement saying he was sure Wilson's state-

Political observers were already predicting that the faux

pas might have some effect on congressional elections.

which are only 3 weeks away.

Meanwhile. Democrats has tened to make all the political hay possible from the inad-

Here are the principal contentions of the two major parties, as they go into the home stretch of the current congressional cam-

ican people should elect a Republican congress, because (1) the administration has been successful in its efforts to root out cor-continue this constructive program, President Eisenhower needs

Say the Democrats: A Democratic congress should be elected this fall, because (1)

the Republican administration has allowed the economy to become stagnant, throwing thousands out of work, (2)

bungled the foreign policy,

causing the U.S. to lose prestige abroad, and (3) only a Democratic congress can make

THE BABBLER

December 26, 1923, at the post office, Nashville, Tenn., under the rate of postage provided for in

Section 1103, Act of October 3,

1916; authorized, Nashville, Tenn.

Published weekly during the regular school year except during holidays or examination periods

by students of DAVID LIPSCOMB

Office located on second floor

Associated Collegiate Press

Peggie Herron .. Editor-in-Chief

Paul Rogers ... Business Manager

Willard Collins . Faculty Advisor

COLLEGE, Nashville, Tenn.

Crisman Memorial Library.

Accepted for mailing at special

Entered as second-class matter,

a Republican congress.

things right.

act of March 3, 1897.

Say the Republicans: The Amer-

Parties Continue Fight

ent had been misunderstood.

within the Republican party.

aroused public disapproval.

fense. Charles E. Wilson.

The Eisenhower administration

The newspaper strike in New York last December illustrated once again the value of newspaper advertising. According to a newspaper article, "The Federal Reserve Bank of New York estimated that the dollar volume in New York stores (for the week preceding the report) ran 10 per

"In Philadelphia, where newspapers were printing, store sales were off only six per cent from

The reporter was waiting for a friend at the Western Union offices, when someone poked into his back what felt like a knife. A voice said, "Tell your friend to give me all the money in the

The reporter fished a press card ruption, (2) end the Korean war from his shirt pocket and flour- and stay out of other wars, and ished it before the intruder, say- (3) lessen the controls placed on ing, "I believe you've made a mis- the American people. In order to

Where upon the intruder backed

Dear Editor:

stration for the typically beautiful Beautiful Day. I especially enjoyed the variety which has ceased to be altogether a boys' game, as of yesterday! Most of the students I noticed

And so I say again to those responsible, thank you, and let's do

A grateful student to readers of the BABBLER, This list includes 26 students from colleges and universities all over the United States. From George Peabody College here in Nashville come Le Eleanor three articles to introduce the transfer students to Lipscomb and

October 15, 1954

Last in a Series:

and Barbara Fay Smith. Both were members of the Mermaid Club, Hockey Team, and Social Activity Committee and Le Eleanor was a member of the Peabody Also from Nashville and Belmont college is Richard Williams who was a member of the "Philathians," a men's society, Ed Binkley, a sophomore Business Administration major, was a member of the Freshman basketball team at Vanderbilt last year. Forrest and Carl Suddeath are transfers from Austin Peay State College in Clarksville, Tenn. Orean Poe comes from Martin College in Pulaski, Tenn., where she was art editor of the school yearbook and secretary of the

From West Tennessee come Nelda Ann Brasfield of the University of Tennessee Martin Branch and Bill Jarrett from Union University of Jackson.

Nelda Ann was a Campus Leader and also a member of the Nu Kappa Nu dormitory society, Nu Kappa Nu council, college chorus, college sextet, secretary of the business club, and an intramural team captain.

Bill was a member of the chorus and played first alto saxophone in the band.

Elmer H. Blanton says "I left Johnson Bible College and the Christian Church to become a member of the Church of Christ and come to Lipscomb."

Jommy Hill comes from T.P.I. at Cookeville. Robert L. Bumette played freshman football at Tennessee Wesleyan College. Boodie Fox, a sophomore transfer from the University of Chattanooga, was a member of the varsity football and basketball teams. From Harding College in Searcy, Ark., is Ina Swan. She was a member of the Kappa Kappa Kappa Social Club and an attendant in the May Court. Lee Mefford transferred from Southwest Missouri State College where she was a member of the volleyball team and Wayne Young comes from Southeast Missouri

Darrell Blaylock is a transfer from the University of Mississippi and Zibby Smith is a transfer from the University of Georgia, Atlanta division.

State College.

TURRENTINE REALTY 2915 Noiensville Road

Sales—Insurance—Loans Phone 42-2651

FITTS CRAWFORD

2816 West End Ave.

FLOWERS

McKay-Cameron Co. Headquarters

CHINA, GLASS, SILVER

6-0427 212 3rd Ave., N.

Meet 26 More Transfersonorary Fraternities.

Julia Secrest is from Franklin transfer from Murray State Col-

From Sullins College in Bristol. Va., is Betty Ann Capps. Alvis H.

Technology, in Detroit, Mich.

school yearbook and newspaper.

At Ohio State University, Thomas Pogue was president of the Ohio State Forensic Society, co-ordinator of debate for the university, a member of the first squad in varsity debate that paritcipated in 128 intercollegiate debates during last year's season. and was a member of the Delta Sigma Rho and National Debate

College of Franklin, Ind., and was a member of the college concert choir. Jerry D. Brannon is a lege, Murray, Ky.

Payne came here from Sam Houston State Teachers College in Huntsville, Tex.

They Specialize in Aches and Pills

At Shimer College in Mount

Carroll, Ill., Bette Jean Gifford played volleyball and baseball. Herman Montgomery comes from the Lawrence Institute of ville Junior College, Jacksonville, Fla., was associate editor of the of Lipscomb High School? That neither the doctor nor the nurses charge for their services? If you didn't, then this is your opportunity to "get acquainted" with your Student Health Center. the basement of Elam Hall. Until then, it had been in Sewell Hall and had only one nurse on duty. this time. The first is, of course, the reception room. The daily record book and file case, which has a record of every college student, are kept

Next is the room where minor ailments are treated. Equipment includes: an automatic nose spray, a device for the examination of ears, a blood pressure instrument, and fever thermometers. Supplies are kept in the third room and no one s allowed in here except the doctor and nurses.

The large treatment room is modernly equipped with a supply cupboard, an instrument and syringe table, a large treatment table, Mayo table, spotlight two sterilizers, one small autoclave, linen supply cupboard, and a hot plate for heating water for

been the national interest of this

Especially interesting was

White's appraisal of America's 16 year refusal to recognize Communist Russia. He believed that

Franklin D. Roosevelt took the more realistic viewpoint when he began diplomatic relations with the Soviets in 1933.

Room number five has a bed for any emergency. charts for examining the eyes, and a set of scales. The next room is the laboratory; number seven is the doctor's office and the last is the restroom. The staff includes Dr. T. Emmerson Simpkins as head, and three registered nurses. They are: Mrs. Willie Barron and Misses Earline Duncan and Vernell Harris. Dr. Simpkins completed four years of high school and two years of college here. He attended Vanderbilt and received his degree at Harding College in Sercy, Ark. In 1934 he received his doctor's degree at the University of Tennessee Medical School in Memphis. He interned at John Gaston hospital there.

Mrs. Barron graduated from St. Thomas Hospital here in Nashville in 1938. Earline is a 1957 graduate of St. Vincents in Birmingham, Ala., and Vernell received her training at Nashville General Hospital, graduating in 1953.

Earline and Vernell are working on their B.S. degrees in Nursing Education here at Lipscomb and Mrs. Barron relieves them while they attend

The duties performed by the staff are: to give physical examinations to all college students, and first aid to all school children, which includes elementary, high school and college departments, and all workers on the campus.

They are also responsible twenty-four hours a day for all boarding students, as medical advisors. Dr. Simpkins and the nurses are on call at all times if the clinic is not open.

The Health Center is open from 8 A.M. to 11 P.M. Monday through Friday and from 8 A.M. to 12 noon on Saturdays. There is a nurse on campus all week-end.

History Professor Discusses Recognition of Red China

"Frankly, I don't know," said Howard White, professor of history, in answer to the question "would it be to our national interest to recognize Red China?" during the question-answer period following his speech on "A Historic Appraisal of U.S. Policy in Recognizing Foreign Countries." A witty and personable speaker, Mr. White kept the crowd of some 30 students, mostly from the debate squad, interested in his review of the relations between the United States and those countries in the past who have set up new governments and then sought diplomatic recognition.

Began with Latin Nations

Beginning with the relations between the U.S. and the Latin American countries, and reviewing relations between our country and Panama, Mexico, and finally Soviet Russia. White pointed out that the guiding light of U.S.

> TENNESSEE REAL ESTATE CO. Nashville's Largest Business Brokers Rentals • AUCTIONS • Sales REALTORS 121 Third Avenue, North Campbell Jenkins

Harveys Has it

4-9511

NASHVILLE'S LARGEST STORE

WAVERLY BELMONT SELF SERVICE LAUNDRY

Granny White At Halcyon

Closest to David Lipscomb College

Wear The Best

'DEER CREEK' SPORTS WEAR

The National Life and Accident Insurance Co.

NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

HIGH QUALITY PRINTING

Books, magazines, catalogs, folders . . . anything Contact one of these Lipscomb alumni in our office:

PAUL W. MOORE, CLASS OF '38 LARRY WILLIAMS, CLASS OF '39 V. M. WHITESELL, CLASS OF '41 JAMES W. BOYD, CLASS OF '51

Williams PRINTING CO.

417 COMMERCE • NASHVILLE • TELEPHONE 6-7126 E. A. BERGSTROM, VICE-PRES. J. R. OVERALL, PRES.

The "L" Club tries each year to help David Lipscomb College in any way it can. This year's first accomplishment was made possible by the effort of Carl Walker.

Carl secured a clock for McQuiddy Gymnasium. The clock was presented to the "L" Club by Reale Jewelry Company and the "L" Club in turn presented it to the college.

Coach Sherrill and 'Fessor Boyce will place the clock in the gym.

High School Football

The Isaac Litton Lions will play host to Oak Ridge tomorrow night.

Oak Ridge is one of the most powerful teams in East Tennessee and plans to revenge the licking given them last year by the Lions. The Oak Ridge team has a host of fine players eager to show their stuff.

Isaac Litton, this year as well as the past few years, again has one of the best teams in the state.

The Lions are undefeated this season and hope to keep their unbeaten string alive. The game Saturday night is one of the best attractions presented in Nashville this year.

Both teams are powerful, undefeated and ready to play a great game. For the best in Nashville high school football, be sure and see the Isaac Litton Lions before this season is

Tennessee Plays Alabama

One of the finest football rivalries in the country will be renewed tomorrow in Knoxville, Tenn.

The University of Tennessee tangles with the Crimson Tide of Alabama. For many years these two have played great games and the one this year looms just as close as ever.

Tennessee, one of the very few major colleges to use the single wing formation, has another fine team and as always, great blocking and tackling.

Likewise, Alabama has a large team with plenty of power. The Crimson Tide has the type of team that will wear another Vandy played right up to Alabama until about the middle of the third quarter. Vandy went down 28 to 14.

Although Tennessee does not have one of the great U.T. teams, many people feel that they will rise to the occasion and play a great game.

If they block and tackle like any U.T. team does, it will be a wonderful game and the University of Alabama will have their hands full.

Great interest always accompanies this game and this is

As a native Tennessean I am pulling for U.T., but I also know that those boys from Alabama are not going up to Knoxville to get beat.

Sport Spots

Ball Practice Is Underway

Tennis, Golf Play Gets Into Swing

The tennis and golf intramurals are now in full swing. The golf tournament should be interesting to watch as two newcomers are pressing Wayne Wright, last year's champion, for the title. Donald Bowden and James

Pryor are both good golfers, shooting consistently in the low 80's. In the tennis intramurals a new champion will be named this year. Spencer Gilbert, last year's winner, will be ineligible to compete this year because he is on the var-

There are, however, four players who are pressing each other for this honor. James Sweeney, James Vandiver, Bob Knight, and Eddie Gleaves seem to be the four to watch in this tournament.

All those scheduled to play in these tournaments must play their first round matches by tomorrow or be automatically disqualified.

Dan Kimbell Leads

Dan Kimbell, speedy Pirate

league in scoring with 19 points

Tommy Warren of the Rams is

The leaders and their totals

Herman Montgomery, Knights—13

On Wednesday of last week the Knights clipped the Pirates 25-20

in a hard fought battle featured

by the passing and running of

Boodie Fox of the Knights and the

The next day the rugged Buccaneers routed the hapless Gladiators 40-7, as five Bucs shared in

On Monday of this week the rebounding Comets topped the Cavaliers behind Dick Batey's passing

Next week's schedule follows:

and Bill McCleskey's receiving.

Monday-Knights vs. Buccaneers

Tuesday-Pirates vs. Gladiators

Trade at Hutcherson's

Patronize

THE LIPSCOMB

LAUNDRY

LOVEMANS

All-occasion fashions

from dawn to dating

Distinctive Clothes for Men

of Discriminating Taste

Sixth at Union

avitts

Wednesday-Eagles vs. Comets

Thursday—Rams vs. Cavaliers running of Dan Kimbell of the through games of last Friday are:

leads the flag football

Football Scoring

a close second with 18 points.

Dan Kimbell, Pirates—19

Don Holiday, Comets-13

Boodie Fox, Knights-12

Tommy Warren, Rams-18

David Woody, Cavaliers-13

Carl Walker, Buccaneers-12

Bill McCleskey, Comets—8

after one week of play.

Last Wednesday the basketball team began its training period. Between now and Nov. 23, the boys will lay the groundwork for the

Much of the success of a good team lies in the fact that it is well-conditioned; the first two weeks of basketball practice will consist of improving condition of

Those boys who will be playing their first ball at Lipscomb are Gayle Napier, Tom Pate, Mc-Coy Kilpartick, Keith Gerald, Roger Villines, Audie Elrod, Jerry Brannon, Ed Binkley, Robert Thomas, and Jack Hogan. Ken Donaldson, Jerry Jones, Gary Colson, Archie Crenshaw,

Walter Glass, Leslie Sherrill, Marlin Connelly and John Friend are among the returning letter-It is unusual to note that there are no seniors on the team, only four juniors, five sophomores, and that should make for a good season, barring injuries and other

Donaldson, Jones, Colson, and Friend will provide the spark which the team needs, with Crenshaw, Glass, and Sherrill supplying that "finishing touch."

Coach Sherrill states, "I'm fairly optimistic at this stage of the

Drug Needs at Hutcherson's

LANDON'S Your Neighborhood HARDWARE

Alloway BROS. COMPANY Poultry Meats

Purity Dairies

Nashville's Finest Milk

360 Murfreesboro Road

6-1148

One of America's really fine coffees . . .

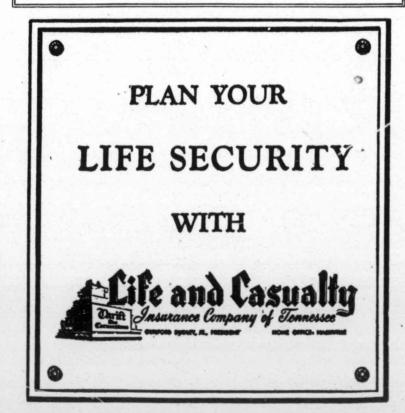

AT YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD GROCER

Nashville's Own Department Store

Fifth Avenue at Church

Phone 5-4661

On Page Three

The Babbler

Student-Faculty
Game Is Tonite

Vol. XXXIV

Photo by James Clipp

TAKING A RELAXER after the recent frosh elections are new officers, Johnny Burns, vice-president; Bill Banowsky, president; Gay McFarland, secretary; and Jennie Smith, treasurer.

Freshmen Finish Elections

vice-president and Jenny Smith, treasurer, completed the officers of the freshman class. The election was held after chapel last

New Auto Rule; Ali Must Register

A rule went into effect this week that all students who drive cars and park them on the campus, are required to register them.

Boarding men students may register and get their sticker from the dormitory supervisor, William Hunt. Senior girls may get theirs from Miss Ruth Gleaves. Day Students may get theirs through the business office.

All cars parked on the campus without the registration stickers will be ticketed by the campus policeman and drivers subject to

Faculty Approved

The Board of Directors has announced the appointment of seven new faculty members.

They are Juanita Sprott, J. B. Whitaker, Dale Brown, Charles Chumley, Caroline Jones and Marshall Gunselman.

Although these faculty members began teaching at the beginning of the fall term, their appointment was not made official until the

High School Notes:

Nora Jean Vaughan, daughter of Mrs. Viola Vaughan, Nashville, has been named winner of the Lipscomb Patrons' Association The award was presented Oct. 15 at an assembly of the Lipscomb High School students. Miss Vaughan is editor of the High School newspaper, has a three-year scholarship standing of 99, and is active in several clubs. An annual presentation, the scholarship is awarded to the LHS senior qualifying on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and char-

News Briefs:

Thomas C. Whitfield, Head of the Department of Education, attended the State Board reviewing com-

In regard to the new ruling on teacher's permits, he said, "All prospective teachers are now taking about the same curriculum for their first two years of college re gardless of the school." He continued to say that the faculty here is now being organized to continue er-education program.

Mrs. J. W. Burns of Valdese, N. C. The daughter of Mrs. C. C. Smith Miss Smith is from Smyrna, Tenn. Bill Banowsky and Gay McFarland, president and secretary, respectively, were elected the preceding day and announcement was made in the BABBLER last week of their election. Banowsky and Burns are both speech majors and were presidents of their respective class in high school. Burns who was also president of the Beta Club, lettered in football and basketball. Miss McFarland served as president of her high school sophomore class in Lebanon, Tenn., and worked on the school annual and As salutatorian of the senior class at Lipscomb High School, Miss Smith was elected homecoming queen for the basketball team last year. She was also a columnist for the Pony Express, school newspaper. She is majoring in Dr. Batsell Barrett Baxter and

Robert Kendrick were elected

TEA Journal Features Story By Gunselman

The December issue of the Tennessee Teacher, magazine lished by the Tennessee Education Association, will carry an illustrated article by Marshall Gunselman, audio-visual director and instructor in audio-visual educa-

Title of the article is, "So You Don't Have a Budget for Audio-Visual Materials." James Clipp, campus photographer, photographed a series of audio-visual processes to illustrate it.

The editor of the magazine has expressed interest in seeing other articles by Gunselman for future publication.

Shannon Elected Class Treasurer

Jane Shannon of Nashville was elected treasurer of the sophomore class. The announcement of this was omitted when the BABBLER featured a story on the class The daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Richard F. Shannon, Miss Shannon to the Cloisters because her family is a graduate of Litton High School where she was DAR Medalist and salutatorian of the senior class.

Shannon was a member of the ple in their amibition to do at with a three and four-year teach- State-champ debate team. She is a speech major.

Student Board Completed

Boy's day representative, Earl

Edwards, is also a local radio announcer. He is a junior history major from Nashville and transferred last year from Central

Christian College in Oklahoma.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D.

Miss Montgomery, who represents the girl day students, is from

Joe Camp, Pat Crownover, Earl Edwards and Wanda Montgomery

Ericson, from Weirton, W. Va., will represent Elam Hall upperclassmen. He is a senior speech major and served as president of the junior class last year. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ericson are his parents. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

S. E. Johnson of Hartsell, Ala., Miss Johnson is majoring in home economics. She represents John-Camp, son of Mr. and Mrs. H.

Camp, Sr., is from Greenville, C., and is Elam's freshman representative. Camp is studying pre-med.

Editorial:

Nashville and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Montgomery. She is a junior, majoring in general business.

E. Edwards of Carthage, Mo.

Other members of the Student Board include the President and

A Request-for Vendors

For several years now, we, along with others, have wanted to see one suggestion carried out in the dormitories-we want milk and a variety of soft drinks on hand for our purchase.

Many students would prefer a cold bottle of milk to a bottle of pop," and especially late at night when a quick refresher is needed We know that milk-vendors are in operation, for we have seen them in filling stations and other public places. Moreover, we think that practically any dairy company would see that they were installed in the dorms if given the opportunity.

(See VENDORS, Page 2)

Attending Convention . . .

Statler, while Miss Tarence will do prospective student work. They CAUGHT LEAVING for Washington, D.C., are Paul Rogers, Peggie Herron, and Laura Tarence. Rogers and Miss Herron will attend the national convention of the Associated Collegiate Press at the Hotel representative, is the daughter of presidents and secretaries of the Mr. and Mrs. Jim Crownover of four classes: the editors of the Franklin, Tenn. She is studying three publications. Dick Batey and Ruth Behel, the president and secretary, respectively, of the student body, act in that capacity. Both are

The class representatives are presidents and secretaries respectively of their classes: senior, Bob Sivley and Asa Elliott; junior, Ed Smith and Mamie Grindley; sophomore, Ed Enzor and Earline Doak; freshman, Bill Banowsky and Gay McFarland.

The editors of the three publications are also Student Board members: Martha Copeland of the Backlog, Bettye Beazley of the Tower, and Peggie Herron of the BABBLER.

The Board meets each Wed. at 5:00 p.m. to discuss student life and problems and to make recommendations to the administrations concerning campus improvements.

Faculty, Srs. Vie Tonite

By Cornelius Abbott, Jr. Tonight at 7:30 in McQuiddy Gym, the Seniors and Faculty will square off in their annual basketball game.

Coaches Erickson and Sivley seemed quite confident that their boys will be victorious. Seniors that are expected to see action tonight are Phil Dunn, Tom Warren, Don McAlister, D. D. Davenport, Charles Hailey, Billy Mc-Clesky, Dick Batey, Wayne Wright, Max Wilcox, Jimmy Thornberry, George Brazil, and Roland Roberts.

Spark-plugging the Faculty team will be Coach Sherrill and Eugene Boyce, both of whom saw a lot of action last year, along with Stroop, North, Friend, Hanvev and Kendrick.

As an added attraction President Pullias, Vice-President Collins and Dean Sanders will sell popcorn, while cheerleaders Ellis and White will try to inject some enthusiasm into their team.

The game tonight will be sponsored by the Student Board Association, and Student Body President Dick Batey encourages everyone, "To get 35¢, come out to the game and have a wonderful time."

Footlighters Interpret Life in 'Cloisters' Friday

Where Is the Fortune?; 2) a

"I wish I'd been born a cat so I could see in the dark," says Gail Holland as Fairy Mae in the opening lines of John Patrick's "The Curious Savage."

will return to the campus early tomorrow evening.

The curtain will rise on this production next Friday night at 8:15 in Alumni Auditorium.

Brown, Prosser Direct

Under the direction of Dale Brown and Betty Prosser, student director, the play is a three-act comedy centered around Ethel Savage and her children who have been committed to a home for the mentally ill. In the "Cloisters," home of the mentally ill, Mrs.

Savage, Mary Cornelia Sparkman, finds the people kinder than those on the outside world. The inmates of the home are Florence, Myrt Cunningham; Denny Loyd, who is Hannibal, the violinist;

Fairy Mae, Gail Holland; Jeff, the pilot, played by Nick Boone; and Mrs. Paddy, by Wilmeth Killebrew. Other characters are Don Osborn, Bobbye Menefee, Al Smith, Jerry Henderson and Nancy Wyckoff. Ethel Savage and her one-eyed Mrs. Savage's philosophy is teddy bear have been committed somewhat akin to that of Elwood P. Dowd, the leading character in thinks she is trying to dispose ca-"Harvey." priciously of their father's for-The entire action of the tune. One irrational act is her play takes place in the mental institution. The action pro-At Lipscomb last year Miss morial fund to aid frustrated peoceeds at several interrogatory levels: 1) a farcical one of least one foolish thing in a life-

Rehearsing for "The Curious Savage" are purs. Savage and the inmates of the 'Cloisters.' From left to right thtey are Mary Cornelia Sparkman, Myrt Cunningham, Denny Loyd, Gail Holland, Wilmeth psychological one of How Mad Is the Lady?; 3) a philosophical one of Is Sanity So Won-

This play had its run on Broadway in 1950. The author, Patrick, also wrote "The Hasty Heart."

Tickets, which are soon to go on sale, are priced at 60¢ for students and 80¢ for adults.

A hot time was had by all, even a diet of such typically-Mexican foods as tortillas, tamales, arros, ensalada, enschiladas, and iced tea.

the preeminence by giving the first class party of the year. The banquet hall was tastefully decorated in the colors orange and royal blue which must have some unknown significance for they certainly aren't beautiful. Pre-dinner music was rendered by the Duke

Laments Departure

We members of your visiting foreseen circumstances caused us your column in the last issue, and made it necessary for us to depart this happy land without the experience of Stunt Night. We that the male student body survive the wild west skit and that we may one day enjoy Stunt

Night with you.

nope that shoes remain shined,

Once again the class of '56 took Vendors . . .

(Con't, from Page 1)

For the benefit of students who prefer neither milk nor the one type of cold drink now available, we suggest that a vending machine which holds a variety of drinks be procured. We have seen these too—they offer choices of several different flavors and kinds of soft drinks. Furthermore, these are all in the same machine, so there is no increase in bulk or size over the one-drink type.

So for the pleasure and health of the students, we would like to see milk vendors and/or vending machines that offer a variety of soft drinks installed in the dormitories.

Why Physical Education?

"Our aim is not to develop skilled athletes; it is rather to provide a program of physical education which will be of benefit to all students in their later life." This statement was made by Dean Sanders when he was asked to cite the reasons for compulsory physical education at Lipscomb.

It is believed that there is a direct correlation between physical fitness and mental ability, hence, a chief objective of the compulsory program is to establish good health habits which will enable the student to maintain a good physical condition throughout the year. Sanders also said. "I know of no large school in Nashville which does not have a requirement similar to the one at Lipscomb."

If a student is able to develop skill in some sport, or at least a basic knowledge of the fundamentals of a few games, he will find such assets to have a great carry-over value after he has finished school. Few indeed, are the home lacking either a ping-pong table or a badminton court.

Such traits as teamwork and sportsmanship are also basic objectives. Throughout life one is forever engaged in competition on every hand. The person who is able to master himself by practicing teamwork and sportsmanship in each relationship of life is fortunate and has profited much from his training.

Another Problem: Parking

The city of Nashville has a problem that is common to all large cities-where to park. There has been some talk of building parking garages three floors high on the parking lots that are now in use. Just what the outcome will be, we do

We also have a problem here at Lipscomb concerning parking; but, it is not due to the fact that we do not have the room it is because some do not take the time to park correctly.

We have noticed spaces between cars that were about a foot too narrow for another car to get into. When several cars use up an extra two or three feet, or pull in a parking space non-parallel, it means a loss of many parking places.

Let us be more cautious about our parking so that every student will have room to leave his car without stopping in a "No Parking Zone."

Worried About the Draft

We are now enjoying a lull, or a so-called peace with the Red aggressors. Of course it is our prayer that it will last! Many have been able to come home because of the peace; and many have not been drafted because of the new situation.

It is of interest to note that the future draft outlook for A-1 college students is very good.

Not as many have been called into the service since the peace began, as there were in the same length of time before the peace. Too, with those that are volunteering for duty, and considering the fact that those who aren't in college will be drafted first, the college student who is interested in college, and stays up in his work, should not worry about being drafted.

The Babbler

office. Nashville, Tenn., under the Act of March 3, 1897. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103. Act of October 3, 1916; authorized, Nashville, Tenn. Published weekly during the regular school year except during holidays or examination periods by the students of DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE, Nashville, Tenn.

Office located on second floor Crisman Memorial Library.

Associated	Member Collegiate	Press
EDERO	DYAY CITIAT	DATE:

	EDITORIAL
Peggie Herron	 		Editor-in-Chief
Mary Lou Carter	 		Associate Editor
George Patterson
Cornelia Turman
Matthew Morrison
	BUSINESS S	TAFF

Business Manager Paul Rogers ADVISORY STAFF Editorial Advisor

Bob Sivley Faculty Advisor Willard Collins Paul Mills and Eunice Bradley Press Club Sponsors

Dear Editor:

Not 'Up to Par' Said of Stunt Nite

The Stunt Nite of Oct. 15 was a great success financially but was a distinct mark against the College in the matter of morals. There was entirely too much immorality displayed in the form of drinking scenes and speaking lines. This is the first time that I have ever seen the principles for which Lipscomb stands disregarded in such extreme circum-

One lady remarked that her daughter was not coming to Lipscomb; the local county high school near her home would not even permit such scenes on its stage Many others were heard to remark similar words of disap-

I think this matter should be brought before the administration and rules set to force all programs of this nature to be censored by at least three faculty members, and that such rehearsals must be in complete costume as they would be the night of perform-

A Student

Dear Editor:

We here at Lipscomb have a fine cafeteria of which we can be proud. There are, however, some things which take place in the cafeteria at mealtime of which we cannor be proud

Some students seem to think of it as a sort of recreation room, and seemingly try to make as much noise as possible. Certainly I think we should talk and be friendly, but the shouts and bad remarks could be done away with.

Another thing which is commonplace in our cafeteria, though definitely out of place at a Christian college is the habitual com-

Many students would not think of eating a meal without first thanking God, yet they do not seem to mind complaining as soon as the blessing is said. Is this

It seems that these things are apt to make a bad impression on newcomers or visitors and so hinder the school from doing as much good as it might.

> Yours truly, A freshman student

Dear Editor:

October the 25th will be celebrated on the Lipscomb campus as the 10th birthday of the U.N. In a short time the U.N. has left a significant record that can only be improved by the years to come. The United Nations is not the perfect cure-all for the many important problems that face the world today However, before we condemn the U.N. because of what it has failed to do, it might be wise to consider what the United Nations has done to help mankind. Aggression has been stopped in Korea, and our country with some sixty-eight nations of the world are working together for a common aim

Our religious faith has underlined that no nation can "go it alone." We must live together, if we are to live at all!

May we resolve on this United Nations Day to commit ourselves to the process of working together to build peace and justice through negotiations and cooperation among nations.

Sincerely, Hope Camp

STUDENT BOARD NOTES The freshman initiation, after being postponed one week because of the committee from the Southern Association, got underway last Wednesday after chapel.

All sorts of inspirations have appeared around our campus in the way of hats. The initiation will close tonight with the Faculty Senior Ball Game.

There will be two prizes each for the winning girls and for the winning boys who have the most original hats. There will be a ceremony at the game to present the four winning "sackies."

The Student Board meeting day was tentatviely set for Wednesday, at 5:00 P.M. However, when the entire Student Board convenes, the meeting date will be decided definitely.

Respectfully submitted, Ruth Behei, Secretary

Living Religion By Paul Rogers

"What are you doing?" a man asked three laborers beside a building under construction. The first man replied, "Stonecuttin'." The second answered with a smile, "Puttin' in time-until a better job comes along." The third man paused a moment and then said simply, "I'm building a cathedral.

The attitudes of these three men are also characteristic of the great human family. The values placed by men on their work, education, life, and soul differ sharply. An insight into the Lord's sense of value is seen as he asks the question. "For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole vorld, and lose his own soul?" Three students might be asked,

'Why have you enrolled in col-The first would answer, "to please my parents." The second would grin and reply, "to have a good time." The last, and most wise, would say "to prepare for future usefulness." Will Durant, in his book, The

Mansions of Philosophy, stated that education should be considered as the means of enabling one to comprehend, control, and appreciate his world.

The inspired writer James once asked, "What is your life?" Millions of people, in answer to this query, would consider life as a busy circle of working, playing, eating, drinking, laughing, and As David expressed it, they are men of the world, which have their portion in this life." Such an attitude spells disaster to its Man must recognize that this life is merely a preparation for a more noble existence. Jesus said, "a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth." He knew that even the paths of glory lead but to the grave and the seriousness of days spent on this earth. We are not just "passing time." but rather, preparing ourselves to 'pass eternity" in Heaven.

By Bob Sivley

The south's biggest problem came to the front twice this past week, and each time the signs pointed to a successful solution. The problem: integration of heretofore segregated public schools.

In New York the 23rd annual New York Herald Tribune forum presented a number of outstanding speakers (including many from the south) who presented a variety of opinions concerning the present problems facing southern schools. The over all opinion: the south will successfully integrate its schools, as the radicals gradually cool off and the people take a more patriotic, reasonable stand.

One of the most enlightening statements comes from Jeanne Rogers, education writer for the Washington Post and Times-Herald: "The attitude of students in the recent anti-segregation demonstrations in Washington was that of teen-agers on a lark and did not smack of real racial big-

A new move to improve the understanding between segregated southern schools and integrated northern schools was made by students in high school at New Rochell. New York.

Ten students from newly integrated Washington, D. C. and Baltimore, Md., were invited to New Rochelle high school, where 25 per cent of the student body is Negro, to observe the harmony existing between the races there.

The visiting students were surprised to find that the colored students were "accepted and liked." As one boy summed it up, "You just don't think anything of it

LIPSCOMB DAY by DAY

By Fyfe

At ease, men. The committee has left, so you no longer have to look studious and/or happy. Now you may put away all encyclopedias, learned journals, texts, and

Never let it be said that we labor under any other mental delusion than that all the meat served in the cafeteria is succulent and tender, but . . . Dale Brown began to cut the substance that was fed us Sunday when his knife blade gave a shiver and broke. Maybe that's food for thought, but never for poor mortal stomachs

It was a beautiful night-just made for romance-but Carolyn Swindle was confined to her room because of a hurt knee. To her rescue came Billy Ables. Johnny Fisk, Doug Taylor, Matt Morrison, and Roger Flannery with a serenade of tender love songs such as 'Ba-zoom." Their thoughtfulness touches the heart strings, doesn't

There's always one around. In order to see his name in this column a certain swain on Lipscomb's green has been kneeling before this columnist and singing her praises at every opportunity. So here it is: BUZZ HALL.

Have any of you seen a stray billfold wandering around this institute? It belongs to Pat Jones. "I don't care about the money, jewels, stocks, and other trivia in t, but please return my meal ticket. Ten pounds I've lost already," she hegs

There have been strange offices created on this campus and even stranger people have been elected But none has topped Mike McCrickard and the office he won in the Choristers. He is "First Vice-President in Charge of Carrying Buddy Arnold's Mujudgment. May we ever realize sic Stand.'

Checking to see if his class had read a poem that had been assigned, Dr. Ellis asked if they had read all of "Richard Corey." David Westmoreland spoke up, "Well, no sir, I haven't read too many of his works." And another attempt to display erudition bites the dust.

A brand new typewriter (vintage 1887) was one of Tommy Warren's latest acquired prize possessions. Returning from a gay week end off campus, he found on his desk: no typewriter, a box containing ten bottle caps, and a piece of scrap paper, and a note. Which note read as follows: "We have traded you these for your typewriter. You owe us in the deal $3.00 and your '47 Oldsmo-

Biggest laugh of the week: Jean Robertson was afraid she wouldn't be laughed at when she made her appearance in Stunt Nite as the starlet advertising All-Smear Liphaze.

Those aren't over-zealous chapel singers you see in Alumni every night. They're (and we quote the BABBLER) the "Savage cast." Seriously, those Thespians are doing great things on that stage. Make your plans now to attend "The Curious Savage" next Friday, October 29.

What a sight greeted the eyes of Betty Morrison as she began checking her charges into their rooms in Sewell! Every girl on second floor was standing at attention in her door and as Betty checked them off, each gave a snappy salute. When she had finished, she heard the command shouted, "Into your cells!" and all the inmates disappeared behind doors for the night.

You've heard of sweet revenge? Well, lend me your ears . . . Marian Parker set out for the library one evening (as all good freshmen do), but the note she left for her roommate Janice Broadus said that she had been called home

Janice was really concerned about her roommate and the great calamity that had befallen heruntil someone let her in on the joke. So big-hearted Janice packed a bag for her prevaricating friend, lugged it across campus, and presented it to Marian in the

Stunt Nite Review:

October 22, 1954

'Shoot 'Em Up' Wins First, L Club Takes Second Place

took first place honors in Stunt Nite last Friday night and the L Club's rendition of "Sh-Boom" won second place.

The winning skit, independently produced, was a saga of the old west that took place in a saloon. The characters were John Fisk, Matt Morrison, Jay Smith, Doug Taylor and Billy Ables.

"Sh-Boom"

Jerry Jones, Mamie Grindlev. Carl Walker, Charles Hailey and Archie Crenshaw did a take-off on Stan Freeburg's version of "Sh-Boom" in the stunt sponsored by the L Club. Ken Donaldson, Gary Colson, Ronnie Morrell, and Wayne Wright as the McGuire sisters sang "Deacon Jones."

STAN FREEBURG'S MOTHER probably wouldn't recognize the new rendition of his demonstrated at the annual Stunt Nite Friday.

Some other original stunts were presented by various clubs. "The Death of a Saleswoman" presented by the Home Ec Club showed the ordeal of a shoe saleswoman and her customers.

Science Moves On

"Another Great Step in Science" produced by Jerry Reynolds, Corky Brian and Bob Howard, showed how to make things grow faster by reducing the amount of time and adding a larger supply of energy.

The Backlog Club presented two skits in one entitled "Gone With the Rent" and "That Real Gone Rent." They showed the contrasts of the lives of Rhett and Scarlett in 1861 and 1954.

Alumni Notes

By Laura Tarence Meet more freshmen whose parents are Alumni-Jeanette Holt is the daughter of Buford C. Holt '33 and Mrs. Holt of 2900 Wellington Avenue, Nash-

Patsy Powell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Marvin Powell Mildred Cliett) '30 of Boyd Mil Road, Franklin, Tenn. Gay McFarland comes from 242

East Spring Street, Lebanon, Tenn. Her parents are Dr. and Mrs. Sam B. McFarland (Gwendolyn Moss) '26 and '27. Bobbye Lou Menefee is the daughter of Mrs. W. A. Menefee (Nova Sullivan) '30 of Pitts Avenue, Old Hickory, Tenn. Nelson Roark comes from 4011 Colorado Avenue, Nashville, His parents are Earl Raymond Roark

28 and Mrs. Roark. Paul Roark is the son of W. H. Roark '29 and Mrs. Roark of 323 Forrest Park Road, Madison, Tenn. James Vandiver is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Brown Vandiver of 4018 Aberdeen Road, Nashville,

Mrs. Vandiver is the former Corinne Harwell. Patsy White comes from 1203 Main Avenue, Northport, Ala., and is the daughter of Owen L. White

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Gaw (Ranelle Austin) '52 and x'56 are living at 3012 Dickman Road, Battle Creek, Mich., where Doyle is preaching and teaching. Their young son, Jay, was born on Mar.

Lucien and Ida Palmer '45, with their two children, left recently to work with the church in Nigeria, West Africa.

burn were on hand to receive their Traughbers from Milton Berle and his girl friend Max at the annual presentation of the awards. Sinatra (Al Smith in real life) received a Traughber for his performance in "From Now Till Then" and Miss Hepburn (played by Gale Holland) won hers for her performance in "Beautiful Holiday." This stunt was presented by the Dramatics Club.

Lipscomb Mutineer Found

"Lipscomb Mutiny" was the ti-'Dear Editor' tle of the F. T. A. skit. It was a take-off on the "Caine Mutiny" SACSS Committee scene where a quart of strawberries was stolen from the storeroom

Dear Miss Herron, committee regret deeply that un-Dr. Stroop had his own solution to reverse the decision printed in coat of "mail" won the duel and the fair lady. Charles Trevathan and Faye Kinzer were the leading characters of this skit. The Musicians' Club had a "bottle symphony" that played "Chop

Sticks" and "The More We Get Together."

The Art Club presented Mrs. Sara Whitten's life in a new version of "This Isn't Your Life." The emcee was Alf Redwards, played by Jerry Henderson. Jean of "the lipstick that glows in the presented some musical numbers. A congressional hearing centering around Sen. Mo Malarky was brough to the audience by means of the television camera and the

Frank Sinatra and Audrey Hep-

President Pullias finally found that he himself was the thief who took the strawberry red paint being used to paint his office.

of the case but he let all the faculty members make their own guesses. Ed Enzor and Marlin Connelly played these two char-The I. R. C. presented "Duel in the Tower," to show that chivalry is not dead. Sir Halagad, in his

"This Isn't Your Life"

Robertson gave the commercials dark." It's slogan was "You Can't

Hugh Ellington and his band

if all the doors in Old Mexico things). Said band's finale was (Burton Gym) were open during their own special version of "The the junior class Mexican Supper. Star-Spangled Banner." And who wouldn't be warm after

Ed Smith, class president toast master, etc.—began the evening's program with several introductions: Buddy Arnold, class sponsor, Bernie Arnold, class sponsor's wife, all transfer students who were present, the class officers. the other members of the class who were present, and Jerry Jones, coach of the junior class team in the class basketball tour-

Juniors Eat in Old Mexico

Several class projects for the year were discussed. Among those forensic tournament as well as the ment. Jerry took advantage of the situation to sneak in a pep

fused with a band of the same The highlight of the evening name which has gone on to greater was the hot pickle pepper eating contest and winner by a pepper was Ann Butler. Close behind her

> Smith. The first prize was 6 pounds of crushed ice. This week the second rounds of the golf and tennis intramurals are in progress. Those who won their first round golf matches were Donald Bowden, Bob Harris, and James Prvor. James Sweeney, Dan Kimbell, were George Massey, Jack Copeland, and the already famous Ed

Bob Knight, Tom Downey, Nick Boone, Buddy Caldwell, Linville Hanback, Eddie Gleaves, Joe Hardin, and Gene Hibbitt won in the tennis division.

The second round matches must were definite plans to win the be played by Oct. 23, or the play-

Martin Speaks on Formosa; 'Do Not Recognize China Outposts of Defense Threatened

Col. Murray Martin spoke to the debate students last Monday night on Formosa as an outpost against communism, and gave three reasons why the U.S. Government should not extend diplomatic recognition to the communistic government of China. (1) The communist regime in require the withdrawal of recognition of the Nationalist government of China on Formosa

Club to Entertain

noon in Percy Warner Park.

Joy's Flowers

TURRENTINE REALTY

COMPANY

Sales—Insurance—Loans

6-4144

601 Church

It has been a pleasure to be on your campus. China continues to attack our vital Sincerely interests and cannot be trusted; (signed) Hugh McEniry (2) If we recognize her, it would

Gordon Sweet

Jameson Jones

Sophs Plan Picnic

Ed Enzor, president of the sophomore class announced the other day that the first sophomore social will be a barbecue tomorrow at Edwin Warner Park. The tickets are 95¢ and may be purchased from Earline Doak or Jane Shannon. Marlin Connelly is in charge of transportation, and any one needing a ride to the park should con-

Gene Boyce, class sponsor, is in charge of the activities for the

'Class Spirits' Are Aided

Many of the students around the campus are really enjoying their class periods, especially when that period is spent in watching a

That is one reason our audiovisual department is doing such big business these days. Teachers year that films offer broad educational opportunities in every field, be it English, biology, physical education, or any other field of

D. L. C. has made some major progress in McQuiddy's small but adequate projection room this year. From the new sign at the entrance to the complete schedule of new films, the department has been reworked. Gunselman Added

Mr. Gunselman received his B.S. degree at Lipscomb in 1952 and his M.S. degree in education

McKay-Cameron

6-042

has laid down definite plans for the betterment of the department as well as for the education of the students interested in the field. Some of the main points of the program include: (1) The study of audio-visual materials and methods, (2) Student participation, and (3) Direction by "outside" ex-regularly under direction of Mr. Gunselman that Lipscomb's educational advantages might continue to grow each year. This list includes Bobby Barnes, John Fisk, Deems Brooks, Nancy Foulkes, Richard Craig and Mark Hearn.

Trade at Hutcherson's

Fifth Avenue at Church

(3) Occupation of Formosa by communist China as above indicated would threaten outposts of our Pacific defenses! And, with these three reasons, he made them exclamatory by adding, "It is advisable that Formosa remain in non-communist hands.'

done against us and said. "The communist regime has been consistently and vehemently opposing the United States." He also mentioned that they

He spoke of the many things communist China had (China) had sold dope to finance their subversive activities.

Seven Million Inhabit Formosa The Photography Club will hold The Chinese government of a combination wiener roast and Formosa, which is populated by snapshot contest tomorrow afterseven million people, provides a voice for them in the United Na-The contest will be held to tions. He pointed out that in the determine the best black and event of war, we would take a white and the best color pictures stand in a line from Korea to Jataken at the scene of the outing. pan, to the Philippines, to Aus-A prize will be awarded the person taking the best picture in each In summing up his talk, the Colonel said, "It is imperative to keep Formosa from China because she is viciously hostile to us, she is untrustworthy, and it would place seven million Formosians at

> MID-TERM EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

October 25-29 Monday, October 25 Bible 111 Bible 221

Bible 311

Bible 411

and any class not provided for in the schedule below. Tuesday and Wednesday, + October 26, 27 1:00 and 4:00 O'clock classes meeting on Wednesday will have exams on Wednesday All others on Tuesday. 9:00 and 2:00 O'clock classes meeting on Tuesday will have exams on Tuesday. All

Thursday and Friday, October 28, 29 8:00 and 12:00 O'clock classes meeting on Friday will have exams on Friday. All others on Thursday.

others on Wednesday.

11:00 and 3:00 O'clock classes meeting on Thursday will have exams on Thursday All others on Friday.

IMPORTANT NOTICE Programs Prepared—literary, scientific humorous. Speeches—five minute min-imum. Research—historical, scientific mum. Research—instorical, Scientific, political, social. Critical review of books or assigned subjects. All work neatly typed—original and one copy. Reasonable rates: estimates free: by the hour or for job complete.

Mr. and Mrs. Hillary Park

Patronize

LAUNDRY

1505 Acklen Avenue Phone 42-0942

By Audio-Visual Department at Indiana University in 1953. He Does Big Business

The largest change for the better, however, was the addition of Marshall Gunselman of the de-

'25 and Mrs. White. Co. Headquarters

> CHINA, GLASS, SILVER 212 3rd Ave., N.

Several students are working

TENNESSEE REAL ESTATE CO.

Nashville's Largest Business Brokers

Rentals • AUCTIONS • Sales

REALTORS

121 Third Avenue, North

Campbell Jenkins

Nashville's Own Department Store

Phone 5-4661

THE LIPSCOMB

Herd... Sportlight

In this age of the split-T-formation and straight-Tformation, the single wing formation has almost been forgotten. Football fans were rather quickly shown that the single wing formation is still a great football formation. I am speaking of UCLA's rout of Stanford last Saturday, 72 to 0. This beating was the worst defeat in the history of Stanford University. It is evident that former Vanderbilt coach Red Sanders did not pour it on, but rather emptied his bench during the game.

Single Wing Is Successful!

Year in and year out people have argued as to the best forformation. I am not getting into an argument; all I am doing is showing what a good single wing team with good blocking and tackling can do to another team. It takes a lot of good football to score 72 points and Red Sanders seems to get it out of his boys.

Vandy Frosh Romp

The Vanderbilt Freshman team defeated the Kentucky freshmen 26-6 last Saturday night. The baby Commodores sparkled the whole night as they completely dominated play. They showed great spirit and Vandy followers are looking forward to next year when these boys will be eligible for varsity competition. The Vandy frosh are reported to be one of the best group of boys in the history of the school.

Seniors Show Wares Tonight

Tonight the senior team will show their wares in the annual Senior-Faculty game. Everyone else will be spying on the faculty. The faculty has a fine team, and it will take a lot more than spying on our part if we are going to dethrone this team.

The faculty has some ideas of their own about their opponents. Each year this game is one of the most interesting spectacles of the school year. The game will be full of surprises and never a dull moment. Everyone should make plans to come and support his favorite team. For one of the best programs of the year come out to the Faculty-Senior game.

Sport Spots

6-1148

One of America's really fine coffees . . .

Montgomery Ties Kimbell's Lead

Dan Kimbell

Boodie Fox

Carl Walker

David Woody

Bill McCleskey

Don McAlister

Connell Taylor

as follows:

Rams

Arthur Gardner

Tommy Warren

Herman Montgomery of the Knights caught up with Pirate Dan Kimbell and tied him for the scoring lead in the Flag Football League through games of last Friday. Both have 25 points and close behind are Boodie Fox, another Knight, and Tommy Warren of the Rams. The leaders follow:

Comets

Buccaneers 13

Gladiators 13

Gladiators

Rams

The Pirates bounced back on Monday to trim the winless Gladiators 35-33 and win a place in the play-offs. Kimbell scored 14, but Bobby Barnes was high man for

The standings for the Intra-through games of last Tuesday are

League II (regular season completed)

At the close of the regular season the top three teams in each league will compete in a series of play-off games to determine the Flag Football Champion

Drug Needs at Hutcherson's

Alloway

BROS. COMPANY

Poultry

FITTS

&

CRAWFORD

FLOWERS

2816 West End Ave.

7-5946

LOVEMANS

All-occasion fashions

from dawn to

dating

Distinctive Clothes for Men

of Discriminating Taste

Sixth at Union

Flag Football League

won lost tied

won lost tied

0

0 3 0

Meats

CLUB POINTS Pirates Knights Knights Rams Buccaneers 19 Cavaliers Rams points. Herman Montgomery paced the Knights with 12. The met Tuesday night in the gym for organization of teams and practice games. Regular competition games day night throughout the quarter.

the game with 19 for the Gladia-Other games set this week were Carolyn Jaynes. the Rams vs. the Cavaliers on Wednesday and the Comets vs. the Players are still needed for all intramural teams. If you would like to enter any sport, see Miss Moore as soon as possible, as these same teams will be used throughout the year. Sports for girls' intramurals will include softball, basketball, ping pong, tennis, and badminton.

The purpose of intramurals is to provide wholesome recreation, contribute to social life, group spirit, better health, and permanent interest in sports.

Meadow Gold Gream

as top team in League II for the regular season.

Buccaneers-27 Knights-18. For the first time in three years of play the defending champion Knights have been beaten in Flag

The never-say-die Buccaneers turned the trick on Tuesday afternoon, coming from behind to win on the hard running of Carl Walker and fierce team-blocking.

Walker led the scoring with 19

Girls Begin Play

The girls intrested in volleyball will begin Tuesday night October 26 and will be played each Tues-Team Captains Chosen

The four teams are being led by captains Pearl Cutts, Beverly Youree, Imogene McAlister, and victory enabled the Bucs to finish

REALE JEWELRY CO.

DIAMONDS - WATCHES - FINE JEWELRY

ENGRAVING, WATCH AND JEWELRY REPAIRING Any Lipscomb Student Can Open A Charge Account! Special Discount to Students Fair Trade Items Excluded

706 Church Street

'DEER CREEK'

SPORTS WEAR

13 Seniors Take '54-55 'Who's Who' Honors

Those selected for the honor are Dick Batey, Ruth Behel, Robert Brown, Bettye Beazley, Martha Copeland, Joanne Edmondson, Ada Elliott, Keith Ericson, Mary Margaret Grounds, Phillip Morrison, John McRay, Bob Sivley, and Nancy Wyckoff.

a student at Lipscomb for 16 years. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Batey and is a ministerial student,

Student Body Secretary, Miss

Behel is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Behel of Old Hickory, urer of the junior class and is now president of the F. T. A. organi-

Brown is majoring in speech and has attended Lipscomb for the past six years, having graduated from the High School Department. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Brown of Goodlettsville are his

He has been amember of the College Quartette for three years and president of both the Glee Club and the Chorus. Brown was vice-president of the junior class last year. He is married to the former Peggy Ellis, and lives in the Tower, is the daughter of Mrs.

An elementary education major, Miss Beazley is a member of the Creative Writers' Club and the Home Ec. Club.

Ericson is a speech major from and Mrs. F. A. Copeland. Wierton, W. Va., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ericson.

He represents Elam Hall on the president of the junior class and FTA vice-president of the Footlighters The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Edmondson, Miss Edmonson is business manager of the Back-

She is majoring in history Miss Beazley, who is editor of and plans to teach in high school When a junior, Miss Edmonson preaching regularly for the James zation on the campus. Miss Behel A. A. Beazley of this city. She was class secretary and a member

she is a member of the F. T. A. and Backlog Club

From Eastman, Ga., Miss Copeland serves as editor of the Backlog. She is the daughter of Mr.

When a junior, Miss Copeland was associate editor of the Backlog. She is majoring in elemen-Student Board. Last year he was tary education and is active in the senior class and a business administration major. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Elliott of Brookport, Ill., are her parents.

In high school Miss Elliott was valedictorian of the senior class,

Town Meeting of the Air' Broadcast Is Set Here Nov. 16

America's Town Meeting of the Air is bringing its audienceparticipation radio program to the Lipscomb campus Tues-

Marquis Childs, nationally known newspaper columnist whose column appears in the Tennessean, will speak for the affirmative side of the question, "Can West Germany Be An Effective Ally?" The negative speaker and the moderator have yet to be announced.

Jointly sponsored by the Libscomb College Artist Series and Purity Dairies, Inc., the program will be broadcast over station WSIX locally and 315 other stations throughout the country.

Appointed to serve as assistant moderators in the audience participation part of the program are Creed Black, editorial writer for the Tennessean; Bill Surber, editorial writer for the Banner. Dr. Carroll Ellis and Robert Ken-

A pre-broadcast show will begin at 7:15 p.m., and the regular broadcast will begin at 8:00 in Alumni Auditorium.

General admission charge is $1.00 for adults and 50¢ for students. Lipscomb students will be admitted by presenting their activity cards.

Members of the International Relations Club will act as ushers.

Fall Meeting Begins Mon.

M Norvell Young, minister of the Broadway Church of Christ in Lubbock, Tex., will speak in a series of gospel meetings sponsored by the Lipscomb Church of Christ beginning Monday, Nov. 8, and extending through the following Sunday.

There will be four services High School and College chapel periods each day, and in the evening at 7:30 p.m.

The morning service is primarily for students and those who work. related fields. It will enable those In order that students might attend at this hour, the cafeteria will be open at 6:30 a.m.

Besides an additional ad in the newspaper, 1500 printed cards have been mailed announcing the meeting.

Besides his ministerial duties, Young writes for the Twentieth Century Christian magazine. In 1948, he visited the Holy Land and the mission work in Germany which is sponsored by the Broadway Church of Christ in Lubbock.

High School Srs. Have Play Tonite

Pride and Prejudice will be dramatized by the by the high school seniors tonight at 7:30 p.m. in Alumni Auditorium.

Dot Horn and Paige Baird star in the production which is being terests include education, busidirected by Mack Craig, principal of the High School Depart- and home economics.

teenth century.

Alumni Notes

By Laura Tarence

Mrs. Allen C. Johnson (Annette Robertson), '39, was honored last Sunday as an ideal classroom teacher. She was presented an orchid and featured on the "Orchids to You" program over Nashville station WSIX.

Tomorrow at 8:15 a.m., Mrs. Johnson will be saluted on the WLAC "Your Neighbor" program—a feature which will usher in American Education Week.

During her 13 years of teaching in the Nashville schools-Hillsboro, East Jr., Lipscomb, and West high schools-she has made an outstanding record both as instructor and as participant in local education programs.

Mrs. Johnson, with her husband and one son, Clarke, Lipscomb elementary student, lives at 1029

Caldwell Lane, Nashville. The Wayne Bloomingburgs (Helen Bonner '49 and '51 and their two little girls are living at 1124 Canterbury Lane, Alexandria, Va. Wayne is teaching in junior high school.

Studies Divided Into 5 Major Groups

The various courses of study

The purpose of these divisions is to enable the faculty to work together in solving problems in who teach in fields in which there is only one teacher to work with instructors in related fields.

major groups.

The five divisions are humanities, headed by Dr. Carroll Ellis: Natural Science and Mathematics, Dr. W. V. Clipp; Social Studies, Howard White; Vocational and professional interest, Dr. Thomas Whitfield: Bible and Religious Education, Batsell Baxter.

Courses included under humanities are: language, English, art, music, speech, philosophy, and sociology. The natural sciences include mathematics, biology, chemistry, physics, engineering, and drawing.

Social studies include economics, sociology, psychology, political science, geography and history.

Vocational and professional inness, health, physical education,

These groups have scheduled The story occurs in England dur- three regular meetings each year. ing the early part of the nine- However, additional meetings may be called if necessary.

was vice-president of his class and

Thomas, Mamie Grindley, Janice Hall Burton, Gay Barnes and Phil Dunn were elected cheerleaders for the 1954-55 basketball season in a special election after chapel Wednesday. George Spain and Frankie Gregory will serve as alternates.

Burton, a junior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Glen Burton of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. He is associate editor of the Backlog and

News Briefs:

Collins Hosts Student Board

Vice President and Mrs. Willard Collins entertained members of the Student Board at a dinner at their home last evening.

The official Thanksgiving holidays will begin on Nov. 25 and continue through Nov. 28. Christmas vacation begins Dec. 8 and registration for the winter quarter is Jan. 3, 1955.

Season tickets to all Lipscomb home basketball games are on sale for $4.00 to persons outside the school. Bob Kendrick, Bob Mason, and Laura Tarence are in charge of ticket sales.

Willard Collins, Vice-President, trict Five of the American College Public Relations Association next week. The meeting will be held in Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 8-10.

elected vice-president of the As- stead of the proper answer "Doeg." sociation for Student Teachers, a division of the Middle Tennes- in Elam Hall that Ed Smith rushed see Education Association for Stu- into class no less than twenty dent Teaching, at a recent meet- minutes late. "I'm sorry, sir, but ing where Lipscomb was repre- there was no water in the dorm sented by eight teachers.

home economics bazaar.

all supplies have been exhausted.

the enthusiastic club members.

other needs with these funds.

event will begin.

Tenn. This will mark her third season as a Bison cheerleader. Last year she was a sophomore attendant to the home coming queen. Grindley Is Secretary

Miss Gridley, who is secretary of the junior class, is from Mendham, N. J., and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Grindley. She past two years and was a Campus Beauty last year. Mrs. Burton, wife of Tommy Burton, is the daughter of Mr. and

LIPSCOMB DAY by DAY

The casualties of that

- Halloween

-have been

has also been a cheerleader for the

Mrs. Jess W. Hall of Fort Worth,

rum. Scrape the paraffin from your car windows and put away your No-Doz pills, and we will carry on.

We can all understand the plight of a fellow-student who becomes confused during tests. Like this scholar. . . . On one of Dr. Stroop's tests the question was "Who?" Our bright boy was only a little Miss Margaret Leonard was off when he wrote "Eggnog," in-

> It was during the Great Drought (Continued on page 2)

Yule Bazaar in Making

By Margaret Rasbury

pin cushions and houseshoes-these are only a few of the numerous items being cooked and stitched in prepartion for the forthcoming

Shortly after chapel has adjourned on November 30, this annual

Cookies, candies and fruit cakes,-novelty and practical aprons, enough survivors for a quo-Conference Nov. 4-6 By Vivian Wright bama Discussion Conference No.

The members who will attend accompanied by Dr. Carroll Ellis. debate coach, are Clara Armstrong. Hope Camp, Don McWhorter, Phillip Morrison, Bill Phillips. Thomas Pogue, Jane Shannon, and

There are to be five rounds of discussion of the subject "Should the United States extend diplomatic recognition to the Com-

The purpose of the conference is to enable students to fully explore the possibilities of the question without prejudice and regard to previous points of views. Some 135 students from at least

The bazaar will be held in interest of the home economics department and is to be sponsored by the Lipscomb Home Economics Club under the direction of Miss Margaret Carter, club sponsor, and Ernestine McAdams, club president. Sale will continue until Thrifty Christmas shoppers will find an array of assorted gifts He was graduated from Lipscomb in '52, with a major in physifrom which they may choose just that special gift, according to cal education.

> Bureau, McKinney will cover all Lipscomb basketball and baseball games during the season.

Purity Dairies Nashville's Finest Milk

360 Murfreesboro Road

Knights Defeated by Bucs; Carl Walker Leads in Upset

Eagles Defeated Twice

The Rams made it two straight as they plastered the Eagles 34-6 on Wednes' v of last week. Tommy Warre Bob Harris, and Don

McAlister played their usual good

On Thursday of last week the Knights beat the Gladiators 32-19 with the accurate passing and shifty running of Boodie Fox leading the way. Connell Taylor ran well for the losers.

Last Friday the Buccaneers nipped the Pirates 21-19 to set up their show-down battle with the Knights. Carl Walker again starred for the Bucs with help from Arthur Gardner and Bobby Newton. Bill Camp and Dan Kimbell led the loser's offense. Barnes Scores 19

Coaches Picked; Elected by L Club

Monday night the L Club elected the coaches of the respective classes for the class tournament. The coaches are Leslie Sherrill and Ken Donaldson, freshmen; John Friend and Archie Crenshaw, sophomores; Jerry Jones, juniors; and Gary Colson and Walter Glass, seniors.

In the near future the respective classes will meet and elect three cheer leaders each to represent them. These cheer leaders will work with their classes and build up interest in the games.

> LANDON'S Your Neighborhood HARDWARE

Specializing In

BOB DRAPER, Class of '35 At Entrance to Doctors' Building

Wear The Best

are native Nashvillians and two from Old Hickory are today announced as being listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, for 1954-55.

Batey, from Nashville, has been

At present he is President of jor. the student body. He has also been president of th sophomore class, Most Representative Freshman, and a member of the varsity basketball team for two years. Married to the former Carolyn Turrentine, Batey is the father of a daughter, Yvonne, born last Tenn. She attended DuPont High She served last year as treas-

The Babbler

Vol. XXXIV David Lipscomb College, Nashville 4, Tenn., November 5, 1954

Six Cheerleaders Elected Wed. Tommy Burton, Mary Ann

Most Representative Sophomore cheerleader last year and as secretary of the sophomore class. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. From Amarillo, Tex., Miss J. S. Thomas, Miss Thomas is a Barnes was a cheerleader last home ec major from Lewisburg. year and freshman attendant to the homecoming queen. Mr. and

Dunn Is Senior

Dunn, the only senior on the squad, is from Martinsville, Ind. He is a ministerial student. During the past three years, he has been active in the Footlighters and Men's Glee Club. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy A. Dunn. Miss Gregory is a freshman and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gregory of Hartsville, Tenn. She is majoring in home

Mrs. Raymond D. Barnes are her

The other alternate, Spain, is a sophomore from Nashville and a graduate of Lipscomb High. He is art editor of the Backlog. Mr. and Mrs. George Spain are his Other finalists selected by la Wiggins, Nancy Wyckoff, Babs King, Mary Alice Bell and Joe Camp. Debaters to Attend the Student Board were Ange-

The Lipscomb debate squad is to attend the ninth Annual Alavember 4-6 on the campus of the University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa, Ala. Wayne Tincher.

munist government of China?"

six different states will take part.

Bureau Names Aid

Charles E. McKinney, Jr., of Jasper, Ala., has been appointed sports editor of the Lipscomb News Bureau.

As sports editor of the News

Proceeds will be used for the further development of the department which in the past has purchased drapes, furniture, and

Are Day Students 'Left Out'?

Recently, we overheard a remark that set us to wondering Two students were discussing a forthcoming party and one of them asked, "Why don't they have something for the day students? We're always left out?" That's when we began to wonder-are day students really left out?

In thinking about this question, it came to mind that day students hold many important positions on the campus. Take the president of the student body, for example, as well as various officers in the four classes.

Day students also hold key positions on two of the campus publications, as well as in other activities.

As for the matter of weekend activities on the campus, we doubt if many day students even want to attend the parties "primarily for boarding students." These parties are chiefly for the stranded few who can't go home, or for some other reasons, are compelled to stay on campus over the weekend.

Day students are free to attend if they want to-but most of them, we daresay, had rather do something else on weekends, for which they are not to be condemned.

Furthermore, day students have as many representatives on the Student Board as the boarding students, which is a good plan. Each dormitory has only one representative on the Board, and the day student girls and boys each have a representative on the Student Board, also.

All campus organizations are open to day students, and those who do not participate have only themselves to blame.

We feel that there should be no distinction between day and boarding students in any phase of school life, and after considering the question, we are inclined to conclude that no individual nor group is left out of the school affairs except those who "leave themselves out," regardless of whether they are day or boarding students.

Sneaking in the Side . . .

We think of college students as being more mature than grammar school students, or even high school students. But, it seems that of late some our college students have been acting as if they were "small kids" still in grade school.

There seems to be an unusual amount of yelling and noise in the cafeteria. There is a athletic field for such antics, and we think it better than the cafeteria for such pranks

What kind of an impression do YOU think that YOU would make at home before company when YOU do such things as YOU are doing here before your classmates—as well as visitors? We are not speaking to all when we ask this question, but to those few students who are making themselves

All of us are guilty, to a certain extent, about being too noisy in the library. We should have respect for the library rule of "Quiet Please", and if not for that, for others who go to the Library to study.

Let us all start acting more like college students, and not forget that there are others around us whom we should respect at all times.

Congratulations, Who's Who ...

The BABBLER extends its warmest congratulations to those of you who have been selected to be listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. This honor is indicative of achievement of the highest caliber in one's col-

Because of your accomplishments throughout college, and because of your contribution toward the end of aiding Lipscomb in the four-fold development of its students, yours is a record of which the BABBLER staff, the student body, and the faculty are appreciative and grateful. Your tenure at Lipscomb shall

The Babbler

office, Nashville, Tenn., under the Act of March 3, 1897. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in

Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1916; authorized, Nashville, Tenn. Published weekly during the regular school year except during holidays or examination periods by the students of DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE, Nashville, Tenn.

Office located on second floor Crisman Memorial Library.

Member Associated Collegiate Press EDITORIAL STAFF

Peggie Herron Editor-in-Chief
Mary Lou Carter Associate Editor
Mary Lou Careet
George Patterson Editorial Page
Cornelia Turman Feature Editor
Matthew Morrison Staff Artist
BUSINESS STAFF
Paul Rogers Business Manager
ADVISORY STAFF
Bob Sivley Editorial Advisor Willard Collins Faculty Advisor
Paul Mills and Eunice Bradley Press Club Sponsors

Day by Day

this morning," Ed explained. "Oh? And you had intended to row over, suppose." Dean Sanders queried.

Although it hasn't been confirmed yet there is a rumor that new self-service push-carts for the campus store in the Student Center have been ordered. They will be tastefully decorated in magnificent purple and gold to match the equally tastefully decorated surroundings.

Living up to his name "Rapun-Al Smith now has beautiful curls gracing his brow. To out-do nature he merely had Ray Walker (of singing fame) to give him a Bobbi. Huh-roar!!

Considering that there are so many hazards involved in dating girls from Sewell Hall-(water bombs and water pistols from second floor windows)-why not choose your companions from the dorm where you'll be welcome: Johnson Hall? This advertisement is paid by the residents of the aforesaid dwelling and Dr. North, who so heartily approves of mar-

Do you like birds? Do you like birds well enough to get up at five o'clock to watch them? Then you'll be interested in joining the Junior Birdmen. The officers are Archie Crenshaw, Jerry Jones, and Gary Colson. Such avid birdwatchers are these three that they can name any and all birds found in their meeting-place, which is room 256, Elam Hall. Such excitement! There had been a wreck! Katie Morgan, Keith Ericson, and Bob Sivley rushed back in the drugstore telling that "A car has run right through the barber shop window!" One of the excited listerners popped out with. 'Oh-h, Did it break?" Latest word is that it did break-into smithe-

Traughber has competition Joyce Wright has more equipment her room than the Student Center, cafeteria, and Student Health Center combined. With it she can serve up anything from fudge to a sparhetti supper.

Halloween was made for mischief and so were Tommy Warren, Nila Jo Garmon, Gail Holland, and George Brazil. After serenading one quiet household with "Silent Night," ringing the doorbell several minutes, and just plain making noise, the pranksters called out Twick or Tweat." All this at two in the morning! No wonder they

Sonia Riley really considered herself complimented when Lonnie Shivelle told that she looked prettier than ever before the past Saturday night. Then she remembered that on that occasion she had been shrouded in a sheet for the Johnson Hall Halloween

Dear Editor:

Recent Letter Gave 'False Impression'

Recently in the BABBLER letter was published criticizing the Stunt Night skits. We question the validity of such criticism.

We wonder if the proposed good intended by this letter can be compared to the damage which resulted. We wonder if the author of this letter realized how many people who did not see the program would read the BAB-BLER! We wonder if a person with no more judgement than this has the ability to distinguish between immorality and clean fun. We wonder if more good could have been accomplished by this person had he talked to the administration instead of placing one man's opinion before an uninformed public. Perhaps the things which makes us wonder most is the fact that five Christian judges, who were not ashamed for their names to be known, chose for the first place winner the skit which caused one unnamed individual to tell an uninformed public about an "immoral" show presented at Stunt

> Respectfully, Keith Ericson Ed Smith

What do you think about when you're riding 800 miles on

Always wondered, and last week I found out-how much father is it? That's the big problem in the mind of a bus

The three of us-Laura, Paul, and I-left Nashville Oct. 19 at 1:25 for Washington, D. C. We could go round trip by train or we could go one way by bus and splurge ourselves to a plane ride back-we splurged.

The first 200 miles weren't bad-the man behind us gave scholarly reports on the complete works of Norman Vincent Peale. I became an expert on how to say no without sounding negative.

And then the rest stops beganeach with a maximum time limit of 10 minutes. We decided to eat "dinner" as we rolled merrily along. We did-coffee one place, sandwich another, etc. We began the meal just outside Knoxville, and got to Wytheville, Va., just in time for dessert at midnight. Leisurely, to say the least. The people who got those cards

we wrote at the bus stops probably are still wondering what gives. We never could write a full card at one time so they were more or less a continued series. Every time one of us achieved completion of a card, Paul hopped off the bus and mailed it. That's why some were posmarked at such a-

Not counting the six times Laura and I almost got left finishing our coffee, nothing really exciting happened, and we got to Washington at 12:30 p.m. Wed. After riding 23 hours with two hours sleep, we were really rarin' to go. We did-to the hotel, where we collapsed on our beds.

teresting places.

At five o'clock, I propped myself up on the pillow. By then it was 5:30.

"What time is it, Laura?" moaned, between yawns, "Five o'clock," she chirped,

"Let's go eat; I'm famished." I hated her right then and there. Nevertheless, I fell out of bed, literally. This ·awakened enough to dress for dinner. We called Paul, and he and Laura gaily set out to eat, dragging me-barefoot, I think. "Oh, goodie! Here's a cafeteria!" Laura chortled after we'd walked 15 blocks. (She doesn't live in the dorm, you know.)

We went in, and Laura and Paul ate for 45 minutes, while I stared at my blackeyed peas.

We started back to the hotel. and after walking 15 more been dragging me the wrong way. We reversed our direction, but got suspicious again after we passed the same restaurant the fourth time. Finally, we spied the hotel three blocks away and decided we'd better creep around the corner and sneak up on it.

Wednesday night, Laura went to church at Arlington, Va., and Paul and I went to Southeast. At Arlington, Laura met Bobbie and Ed Holley, Lipscomb alumni, and decided to spend the night with

This was perfectly innocent, except that when she phoned the hotel, the clerk forgot to put the note in my box. When

STUDENT BOARD NOTES There were several complaints aired" at the Student Board Meeting this week.

It was mentioned that the heat has been going off in the buildings too early at night. Vice-President Willard Collins said that he would talk with the heating engineers concerning the problem. the heating engineers concerning the problem.

Also, an item of 'interest to note, is the new "Suggestion Box" system that is to be initiated immediately. Any sugestions on the improvement of the status quo should be addressed to SUGGESTION BOX or RUTH BEHEL, and dropped in the local mail of the campus postoffice.

It was also brought up that there has been an undue amount of noise in the library. Steps will be taken to remedy this. I got in, I sort of wondered where Laura was, but was too tired to care much, so I went to hed leaving the lights on for her benefit

At 8:15 the next a.m., the phone rang, and the operator announced pleastantly that it was a good (Continued on page 3)

The big news of the week was nation-wide congressional elections, in which 432 seats in the House of Representatives and 37 seats in the Senate were at stake. Also contested were 33 state governorships.

The campaigns came to a noisy end Monday the night before the election, with angry flare-ups from both the Republican and Democratic leaders. As is well known by now, the Democrats won control of the House

Democratic titular head Adlai E. Stevenson, national chairman Stephen A. Mitchell. and Republicans, President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon all urged the American voter to perform his duty by casting his vote in the Tuesday election. All predicted victory for their party.

This election has two especially disappointing features, regardless of who wins the majority of seats in the national capitol. These two features suggest serious threats to the American free election system.

First, the election was just not very interesting to most of the American people. In spite of the fact that the future of American foreign policy—and perhaps the future of international affairsare to be greatly affected by whoever goes to Washington in January, not many voters felt much responsibility to help make the

This lethargy of these people on whom the success of the democratic way of life depends-the voters of American-is one of the gravest threats to democracy.

The second dark feature of the campaign-and this one may be partly an outgrowth of the firstwas the low standard of ethics exemplified by the campaigners themselves. Those men who sought to represent free men in a democratic government were willing to stoop to the level of lies, malicious misrepresentation of facts, and distortion of the truth in order to gain their goalpolitical office

As evidenced by Democratic distortion of Mr. Wilson's statement about dogs, and the Republican efforts to make the American people think that Russia wanted the Democrats to win, neither party held to the pre-campaign pledges to keep the race honest and clean.

The people of the United States can feel justly outraged by the fact that neither the leaders of its major parties, including the vice-president of the United States himself, found it necessary to be consistent in their presentation of facts nor honest in all their speeches. The keynote of each campaign was: "Win. Be honest if you can, but win!"

Perhaps politics has never been the cleanest of sports, but as this election has come to its end, we cannot help but be reminded of the Biblical statement: "a doubleminded man (is) unstable in all his ways."

Footlighters Bring in Don In Time to See Final Act

After four long-distance phone calls to Fort Jackson, S. C., sev- in tears. By this time Betty and eral tears, and more phone calls to various airlines, Don Garner, arrived in Nashville last Friday night in time to see the last act of "The Curious Savage." Don is the popular former speech instructor at Lipscomb, who was drafted into the army during the

November 5, 1954

All the excitement began Tuesday night before the play when the cast was having a hamburger supper at Denny Loyd's, one of the members. As usual, there was a lot of "shop talk" in the air, hoping the play would be a hit. etc., when someone said. "Wouldn't it be wonderful if Don could be here!"

At this suggestion, everybody got busy, and before long the officers of the Footlighters had been contacted. Eastern Airlines had been called, and plans were set to call Don at Fort Jackson, to see if he could get a pass.

Prosser called

Betty Prosser, student director of the play, put through the first call. "He's in bed," the voice at the other end of the line greeted her. "Call back in the morning."

Wednesday morning Betty placed the second call. He was out. Call back at five. After two futile attempts, she finally got him on the line that afternoon. While depositing the money, she could hear the voice in South Carolina saying, "Betty, Betty, what are you kids up to?" "How would you like to see 'The Curious Savage'?" she answered. "I'd love to," was the reply, "but I've pulled all the strings I know, talked to all the upper crust, and I can't get a pass in time." The only way he could come would be to fly, and he couldn't afford that on a private's pay. "But that's why I called," Betty told him. "The Footlighters are the Lyle Morrow farm tonight. going to fly you home."

13 Seniors Take...

(Continued from page 1) editor of the annual and active in

music groups. A liberal arts major, Miss Grounds is from Wheeling, W. Va., and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

E. H. Discher. She served as secretary of the freshman class and also on the Student Board. Miss Grounds participates in the Girl's Ensemble and Choristers.

McRay, a consistent member of the dean's list and honor roll, was an orientation leader last year. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. McRay of Holdenville, Okla. McRay is a Bible major and has regular preaching

Morrison is pursuing a ministerial course. He was runner-up last year in the election for Student Body President. For the past three years he has been active in debate work and the I.R.C.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Morrison of Old Hickory, Tenn., Morrison preaches regularly for the Corinth Church of Christ. Former editor of the BAB-BLER, Sivley is a psychology major from Chattanooga, Tenn. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Chandler are his parents. Last year he was Most Repre-

ing year he served as vice-president of the sophomore class. Miss Wyckoff is studying music. She is the daughter of Mr. Mrs. Walter Wyckoff and live Nashville.

sentative junior, and the preced-

Miss Wyckoff played recently in the Footlighters' production of "The Curious Savage." She is active in the L Club and various musical groups.

The names of these students along with short biographical sketches will appear in the annual Who's Who publication.

By Peggie Herron Mary Cornelia Sparkman and Al

Thursday it was discovered that no plane reservation could be made in Nashville so the club wired the money to Don to try from that end of the line. That night the final long-distance call was made and he said he would arrive in Nashville at 7:52 Friday

Smith, who were crowded around the phone, were all crying, so Don decided he had better hang up

Because of bad weather, the plane didn't get here until 9:38. Don was met at the airport and rushed out to Lipscomb in time to see the last act of the play. Afterwards he went to the cast party at Nancy Wycoff's.

Since he didn't have to be back at camp until five o'clock Monday morning, he spent the rest of the weekend visiting at Lipscomb.

High School Notes

Barbara Melton, Doris Cordell, Nita Tatum, Norma Watson, and Marylou Hogue were elected high school cheerleaders.

For the first time, B team cheerleaders were elected, and they are Sandra Zapp, Carolyn Gower, Ann Brien, Carolyn Hodge, and Barbara Morrell.

A Pep Club has been organized and will seek to support the high school varsity by selling shakers and beanies at the games, promoting "color days" when the school colors will be worn by the student body, and by chartering buses to games when possible.

CHORISTERS PLAN PICNIC

The Choristers' first outing of the year will be a Bar-be-que at The cars will leave the circle at

Trade at Hutcherson's

IMPORTANT NOTICE Programs Prepared—literary, scientific, humorous. Speeches—five minute minimum. Research—historical, scientifical, social. Critical review of books or assigned subjects. All work neatly typed—original and one copy. Reasonable rates: estimates free: by the hour or for job complete. Mr. and Mrs. Hillary Park 1505 Acklen Avenue Phone 42-0942

Taystee Bread For Taystee Toast

Joy's Flowers 601 Church 6-4144

> LANDON'S Your Neighborhood HARDWARE

Davitts Distinctive Clothes for Men of Discriminating Taste

Sixth at Union

Liberace Can Talk

"Yes, I can talk," was the reply smiling George Liberace made to one of the typical queries after his and his brother's performance in Vanderbilt gymnasium Saturday night.

The question was framed by a high school student, one of the gleeful fans who thronged to the stars' dressing rooms after their Saturday-evening appearance.

Had Police Protection

A small crew of policemen was assigned to protect the pair from the over-zealous feminine fans, most of whom were either elderly or of high school age. Many of the enthusiasts who were fortunate enough to get ahead of the rest were granted two-minute interviews with their idols.

George Liberace reported in glowing terms the visit the two made to the Hermitage earlier Saturday. There, they were served lunch in the dining roomthe first time this was ever done in honor of any visitors.

He reported that the meal consisted of fried hominy grits and "ham what am." He confessed charmingly that this was their first introduction to the famed southern-fried grits. "but not the last," he hoped.

"The greatest thrill," he confided, "was when they let us into the living room and allowed my brother to actually play the Jack-It was somewhat out of tune,

Met Descendant The Liberace brothers were introduced to Mrs. E. W. Graham, of Madison, while at the Hermitage. They said they were "proud to meet a living descendant of so great a family." Mrs. Graham is but still played, he reported.

In reply to another question, George revealed that the blonde harpist, who will be remembered by members of the audience, is his wife

He concluded the interview by the great grand-niece of Rachel remarking that he and his brother both looked forward to returning to Nashville again soon, and to that "wonderful, wonderful southern hospitality." (Interview courtesy Mrs. J. Fred Garrett)

Drug Ceeds at Hutcherson's

It Says Here That Jones, Crew Parrot Freeburg, Find 'Sh-Boom' Step to TV

That crowd around the TV set afternoon wasn't watching the again, send a card to the 'Eight World's Series-it was just Jerry Jones, Carl Walker, Archie Crenshaw, and Charles Hailey giving Penpoints . . . their pantomimed rendition of the current rhythm and blue hit

These boys, who a few short weeks ago were only L Club members trying to think of a skit for Stunt Nite, were giving their third performance on Noel Ball's "Eight Ball" television program.

Someone who saw their presentation of Stan Freeburg's "Sh-Boom" that won second place Stunt Nite, called Ball and he asked the boys to come out and be on his program. They consented, and have performed four times since then.

They have the distinction of being the only amateur group to appear more than twice on the show. This is probably due to the fact that there have been so many requests for them to reappear. "To say the least it's gone above and beyond our expectations," Jerry Jones, spokesman for the group, said this week. "One outstanding feature of our act," he added, "is that not one of us can sing a note. I don't know what we'd do if someone asked us to."

The first performance was "Sh-Boom" and they were assisted by Mamie Grindley, who played as Stella. Since then, they have done "C'Est Si Bon," "Dear John and Marsha," "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise," all by Freeburg; "Juke Box Saturday Night" by the Modernaires, and "I Spoke Too Soon," by the Crew Cuts. When Ball asked the boys what they called themselves, the reply was "Nothin'!" Once, while giving the "Sh-Boom" performance, the record stuck on sh-boom, shboom, and they had to stand there and sing those words until somebody hit the recordplayer.

Patronize THE LIPSCOMB LAUNDRY

WAVERLY BELMONT

SELF SERVICE LAUNDRY

Purity Dairies

Closest to David Lipscomb College

Nashville's Finest Milk 360 Murfreesboro Road

The National Life and Accident Insurance Co.

NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

RAGLAND, POTTER & CO.

Distributors of

LIBBY FOOD PRODUCTS—FIRESIDE COFFEE

Jerry said, "but we have a lot of in the Student Center last Friday fun. If you would like to see us Ball Show' in care of WSIX-TV.

(Continued from page 2) morning and time to get up. I mumbled thanks and rubbed my

Hearing a key in the lock, I turned as quickly as I was able to and in walked Laura brightly beaming. Too sleepy to comprehend, I just looked at her.

"Miss me?" She asked happily "No-" I replied inquiringly, "Been to breakfast?" 'Nope, just got in," she warbled.

For the first time, I noticed that all the lights were on. "Had a wonderful time," she added; "we had a little party last night just for some of the young people." I was beginning to get excited when she added that some of them seemed interested in attending "Just where were you?" I asked before donning my other shoe. "Why at Bobbie Lee's and Ed's."

she replied innocently, "didn't you get my note?" Thursday night the Holley's invited us over to their apartment for dinner. (Ed is a lieutenant in the Navy and works in the Pentagon building, and Bobbie Lee teaches English in Washington-Lee High School.)

The dinner was worth the trip -bus ride and all. We're all looking forward to another chance at the victuals Thursday night, Paul and I also had to attend a reception for all visiting delegates. We walked into the "reception room" and nearly strangled on smoke. Got a glass of punch and went to a movie. Friday was for more meetings and another shopping spree. went to town alone this time, and didn't even get lost. Seems none of us got lost except when we were together. We went to a banquet Friday night in the VERY plush Presidential Ballroom at the Statler, where incidentally, the whole convention was held. The $10.00-aplate dinner seemed a bit overvalued, however.

Saturday was sight-seeing day. Bobbie Lee and Ed took us to all the places we'd ever heard of plus some we hadn't. The Capitol building, White House, Archives Building, Arlington Cemetery, Mt. Vernon, Washington Cathedral and memorial buildings were all examnied rather minutely, and we saw most of the other important places, courtesy of the Holleys. The only regret we had was that all ended too soon.

Before we knew it, five o'clock had come and it was time to go to the airport. The plane was scheduled to mechanical troubles, we were informed, it was two hours late. We weighed our luggage and winced inwardly when the official dropped it resoundingly into a long chute that took it to the ground. I worried about all my earthly possessions until I got back to

Nashville and found them sound, leave at five o'clock, but due to despite the jar. The National Airport is as large as most small towns. It has restaurants, drug stores, candy shops, clothing and perfume shops, book stores, souvenir shops, and rows and rows of ticket offices. We spent most of the time wandering around in the mase and watching the people. Finally the big moment came, and we boarded the plane-my first time. It seemed as though it would never get off the ground!

The roar was rather unpleasant, but other than that, the ride was thrilling. We landed at Louisville, Ky., for a few minutes then back to Nashville at 9:15, and to use a clinche'-we were tired but happy."

Golf, Tennis

Reach Finals

toward completion.

semi-final scrap.

quarter-final tussle

The intramural tennis and golf

In the tennis tournament Jimmy

Sweeney of the Bucs plays Tom

Downey of the Rams in one semifinal match, while Gene Hibbitt of the Pirates meets the winner of quarter-final match between

Knight James McDonough and

Pirate Ed Gleaves in the other

The contests are slated to be played by 3 p.m. tomorrow. Finals

In golf Louis Bowden of the Bucs has gained the semi-final round and will face the victor

of the John McRay-James Pryor

The other semi-finalists will be the winners of the Tom Downey-

Dan Riddick and Allan Cullum-

George Spain matches. The semifinals will be 18-hole contests and Finals matched in both tourneys are set for tomorrow morning.

will be played next week.

will be played next week.

tourneys are well on their way

The Lipscomb varsity is beginning to shape up into a hustling, ball-hawking combination of which the school can be proud.

A pleasant surprise of the young practice season has been the play of Gayle Napier, junior transfer from Florida Christian. He's a good team man and rough on the boards. Look's like he's headed for a starting berth.

Jerry Jones is a real holler-guy on the practice floorand can he drive for crips! Just mean, that's all.

"Slim" Donelson seems ready for a great year. If there's rebound within ten feet, he's got it. Look's good on the post too-got that slick ball-handling down pat.

Just to keep him from getting conceited, next time you see him, ask him if he knows anyone named Robert Barnes. That ought to quiet him a little.

Have you ever seen anyone as smooth-working as Gary Colson? He's oil, brother. Can hit too. Don't forget John Friend, big soph forward. He's built for rugged action—and can give it.

Several freshmen are showing up well also. Roger Villines, guard from Dixon, Ky., may be a first-line sub. McCoy Kilpatrick, forward from Linden, will probably see lots of action, also.

Nov. 22 Is Big Day

November 22 is the date they're all pointing for. We need some sweet revenge. Come on, Bison's let's see you plaster Belmont on the rafters of McQuiddy Gym.

Intramurals

Carl Walker is the hardest running back in the Intramural Football League. Any disbelievers? If so, you haven't played against him vet....

Ken Dugan has got the speed to burn. He spells touchdown when he starts an end run. . . . Boodie Fox is quite a passer. He really keeps the defense loose. Can knock hard, too. I know from experience....

The shiftiest man around must be Dan Kimbell. Not fastjust elusive. . . . That Don Montgomery is a real rag-snatcher. Some boys just have the knack.

Well, the Pirates finally beat the Comets. After tieing 20-20 in their first meeting, Don Montgomery scored on the next-to-last play of the re-match to give the Pirates the win, 18-13.

The Basketball League is getting an early start this year. Several practice games were held this week. Many of the frosh athletes may be surprised to find intramural basketball faster than high-school ball.

You've got to scrap to stay around. A quick hint—the Bucs and Rams are loaded. Comets and Knights appear to be darkhorses. Let's all pull for the Gladiators to win at least ONE game this year.

Odds and Ends

'Fessor Boyce has got a new all-sports clock. It's real purty with its red, yellow, and green trimmed face. Works, too.

Have you been watching the NCAA football games televised on Saturdays? If you haven't, you've missed some good football. And have you seen the film of "Hopalong" Cassady's touchdown sprint to beat Wisconsin? A truly great run.

I hear the faculty wants to play the seniors again. I think the rumor's false. They know when they've had it.

Class tournament is coming soon. Watch the sophomores! A Vandy man says the Commodores will take the Bisons by 40, come January. Oh, yeah?

Rams, Bucs Cop Fooball Firsts

Private Score Lead

Dan Kimbell, flashy Pirate back, seems destined to run away with the individual scoring honors in

Through games of last Friday

the Intramural Football League.

he had upped his lead to eight

Walker of the Buccaneers.

Carl Walker, Buccancers

Dan Kimbell, Pirates

Boodie Fox, Knights.

Don Holliday, Comets

Corky Brown, Comets

Bill McCleskey, Comets

Doug Taylor, Cavaliers

David Woody, Cavaliers

Tommy Warren, Rams

Connell Taylor, Gladiators

Ken Dugan, Rams

Meadow Gold

points over second place Carl

The leaders and their totals are:

Herman Montgomery, Knights 37

Bobby Barnes, Gladiators ... 31

The star-studded Rams are the Kimbell Maintains champions of League I in intramural football play.

Led by rugged Tommy Warren and speedy Ken Dugan they have beaten the Comets, Cavaliers, and Eagles to cop the crown. The Rams now rank as favorites to win the play-off title in the postseason competition which began this week.

The Buccaneers, champions of League II, could pull an upset, however, and wind up with the

_	Final	Stand	ings	of	Leagu	e I
	Team		W	on	Lost	Tie
	Rams			3	0	0
a	Comets			2	1	0
t,	Cavalier	S		1	2	1
	Eagles			0	3	1

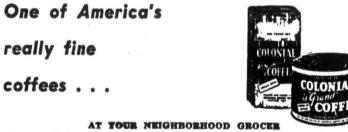

In the first game of tournament play, the Comets were eliminated by Kimbell, Inc., 18-13 in a halfgame skirmish after they had tied 20-20 at the end of the regulation length game.

Other play-off games this week were the Knights vs. the Cavaliers on Wednesday and the Bucs vs. the Pirates yesterday.

Today the Rams meet the Knight-Cavailer winner at 4 p.m. The championship game will be held next Tuesday at the same

TURRENTINE REALTY COMPANY 2915 Nolensville Road Sales—Insurance—Loans

Phone 42-2651

LOVEMANS

All-occasion fashions from dawn to dating

FITTS CRAWFORD

FLOWERS

2816 West End Ave. 7-5946

McKay-Cameron Co.

Headquarters

CHINA, GLASS, SILVER

212 3rd Ave., N. 6-0427

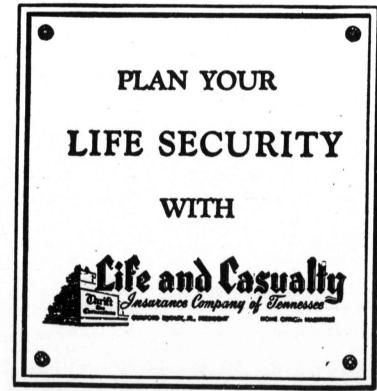

HIGH QUALITY PRINTING Books, magazines, catalogs, folders . . . anything

Contact one of these Lipscomb alumni in our office: PAUL W. MOORE, CLASS OF '38

LARRY WILLIAMS, CLASS OF '39 V. M. WHITESELL, CLASS OF '41 JAMES W. BOYD, CLASS OF '51

Williams PRINTING CO.

417 COMMERCE • NASHVILLE • TELEPHONE 6-7126 J. R. OVERALL, PRES. E. A. BERGSTROM, VICE-PRES.

Funny Stuff By Matt Morrison

Three Days Left To Attend Meeting The Baller

Vol. XXXIV

Sun. Service Ends Meeting

Attendance at the Lipscomb senights are left in the schedule.

Presidents of clubs and classes day morning were students.

Lipscomb congregation.

these meetings, is Vice President of the Lipscomb Alumni Association having attended Lipscomb in 1932-34.

A native Nashvillian, Young is its beginning.

Young has preached extensively in this area and for three years was regular minister for the congregation which met on the cam-

The Lubbock congregation with which he now works supports missionary work in Germany, Japan, Nebraska, and Utah and also has a Bible chair and student center at Texas Technical University where 450 of the 6,000 stu-

The most recent project of the congregation is a children's home operated on the Cottage Plan. Whereas they now have only two cottages, the goal is set for twenty cottages.

Supporting the Bisons . . .

ries of gospel meetings has increased each day, particularly at the 7:00 a.m. service. Only three have cooperated in encouraging student attendance at both norning and evening services. An estimated 250 of 514 present Tues-

Through Tuesday, two persons had been baptized, one restored to the church, and two persons placed their membership with the

Tomorrow night the subject will be "Has Christ Laid Hold on You?"; "Christ and the Church" and "You Can Live Forever" are the topics chosen for Sunday services.

M. Norvel Young, speaker in Edits Magazine

editor of the Twentieth Century Christian magazine in which he took a major part in founding 16 years ago. Thirty thousand copies of this magazine are printed each month and more than a million copies have been published since dents are Christians.

aid in the forthcoming basketball season. Beginning with the bottom row from left to right, the cheerleaders are Mary Ann Thomas, Mamie Grindley, Frankie Gregory, alternate, Janice Burton; second row: George Spain, alternate, Gay Barnes, and Phil Dunn; top row: Tommy

What Became of Alma Mater?

What ever became of the Alma Mater? We wonder.

The need for a Lipscomb Alma Mater was apparent to all last year in a chapel program when copies of a song composed by former students were distributed throughout the student body after a vocal Immediately, students began to talk about an "Alma Mater for Lipscomb." Everybody seemed enthusiastic.

The BABBLER came through with full support. In a front-page editorial in the March 12 issue last year, three basic reasons were advanced why Lipscomb needs an Alma Mater. We are still of the opinion that these are valid reasons, which is why we are repeating (Continued on Page 2)

An Apple for the FTA...

ment in free government.

School visitation and educational interpretation lend themselves to many projects which bring the people to the schools and the schools to the health conditions and bring good schools within the reach of all provement of our schools and make the 1954 volume of the

'Don't Leave It to George'-- Planned Tomorrow Theme Stressed in Ed. Week United States, on their invest-

By Anita Quandt

The spotlight is turned on public education and its unique contribution to American life this week, the 34th annual American Education Week.

During November 7-13 the history, aims, achievements, needs, and problems of the American schools and colleges pass in review. The general theme for the week is, "Good schools are your responsibility."

The celebration, observed during the week in November which includes Armistice Day, points up the importance of strengthening the American public schools in terms of their mighty responsi-

"Don't leave it to 'George'!" has been the attitude of American educational leaders throughout the year in their efforts to make the 1954 American Education Week result in better understanding of

Each year U.S. schools report to their owners, the 157,000,000 people of the Faculty Meeting Is

By Bobbye Menefee

The faculty meeting tomorrow will begin the first in a series of meetings of the five major divisions of study. These five divisions have been set up to enable the faculty to work together in solving problems of their related

The five divisions are: human-Estimates indicate that nearly ities, natural science and mathe-20 million people attend openmatics, social studies, vocational house and see the schools in acand professional interests, and tion. Millions are reached through Bible and religious education.

the press, radio, television, ex-Aside from the first meeting of hibits, meetings, and literature. related groups, the faculty as a The purposes of American Eduwhole will have a short general cation Week have been broadened meeting. They will discuss the since its origin in 1921 in the light financial problems of the school of changing conditions and needs. and the work expected from the But the basic aim remains unfaculty and students. changed and the drive to improve

H. S. CARNIVAL IS NOV. 20

The Lipscomb chapter of The this week announced plans for its Future Teachers of America distributed posters to arouse greater carnival to be held Saturday, Nointerest in the well being and im-

Activities will get under way with a spaghetti supper at 5:00 American Education Week story P.M. Tickets for the supper will

Speakers Are Named For 'Town Meeting'

Marquis Childs, Miss Lillian Schultz, and James F. Murray, Jr., will be featured speakers on the forthcoming America's Town Meeting of the Air program at 8:00 next Tuesday evening. The program, broadcast direct from Alumni Auditorium, is an ABC network presentation.

Miss Schultz, a newspaper correspondent in Bonn, Germany, is internationally known as a lecturer, commentator and magazine writer. During World War II she was a war correspondent in Germany.

In 1914 Miss Schultz received a Childs Received Award In 1951 diplome de certificat d'Etudes Superieures from the Sorbonne in Paris. She later studied at the University of Berlin.

Author of the book Germany Will Try Again, Miss Schultz has been broadcasting for Mutual Broadcasting System since 1939. She was appointed assistant foreign correspondent in Berlin for the Chicago Tribune in 1919 and was in charge of the Berlin office for the Tribune in 1925.

Debaters Take Honors

On November 5 Don McWhorter was rated superior and Philip Morrison excellent at the Ninth Annual Discussion Tournament at the University of Alabama.

Twenty colleges and universities of the south sent delegates with 130 students participating. These students were divided into discussion groups of five to seven people.

There were five rounds of discussion on the topic, "Resolved: that the United States should grant recognition to the communist government of China."

The judges rated each person on the basis of personal responsiveness, use of evidence, use of logical thinking and reasoning, and presentation and delivery. The rank of superior was given to those who placed in the upper 5% and the rank of excellent was given to those in the upper 10%. On Friday night, the participants were honored at a banquet. Tom Sims, creator of the famous comic strip, Popeye, was the after din-

Childs, who has been a United Features Syndicate Columnist since 1914, received the University of Missouri journalism award in

Lillian Schultz

He has previously been a reporter for the United Press and for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch as their Washington correspondent. Childs is the author of such books as Washington Calling, They Hate Roosevelt, and This Is Democracy. He holds the honorary

LL.D. degree from Upsala College. Murray will serve as moderator for the discussion "Can West Germany Be An Effective Ally?" Childs will be the affirmative speaker, and Miss Schultz will speak negatively. Murray, a New York City attorney, specializes in International Law and is a noted author and Since the end of the war he has made numerous visits to Europe in his professional capacity. On one trip in 1948. Murray was seized and held (Continued on page 3)

Baxter, Choate Have Book, Dissertation Published Soon

Dr. Batsell Barrett Baxter, Professor of Speech, and Dr. J. E. Choate, Professor of English have recently completed books which will be available to the public in the near future.

Dr. Baxter has just recently completed his second book. The first one, Heart of the Yale Lectures, has been received successfully by the public. His second one, entitled Speaking for the Master, has been bound and preparations are being made for it to be in readiness on the publication date.

It is a study of public speaking for Christian men and is designed especially for men's training classes in congregations.

"Speaking For the Master" deals with the importance of learning to speak well, stage fright, making announcements, reading the Bible, prayer, delivery, im-The High School junior class provement of the voice and selection of words. The last chapter concerns the final step which is

> The book is being published by the Macmillan Company in New York and is being distributed through the Opaths Book Club as

The book is dedicated to Dr. its December selection. Beginning Baxter's father, Batsell Baxter, Tuesday, November 16, "Speaking head of the Bible department here. For the Master" can be secured at any leading bookstore for $2.50. Choate dissertation published

Dr. Choate completed his dissertation and obtained his Ph.D. Degree at Vanderbilt University this past June. This doctoral dissertation entitled, The Myth of the American Cowboy, was written for the Vanderbilt University English Faculty.

It is to appear in published form by the University of Oklahoma Press in 1955. The Myth of the American Cowboy is a study in western folklore and of the literature which has been written about the Alma Mater . . .

(Continued from page 1)

(1) An Alma Mater is a traditional feature of American college life. At ball games, school programs, alumni meetings, and other occasions, collegians are knitted together with the stories of their school song

(2) An Alma Mater would improve school spirit as a symbol of student unity, an Alma Mater inspires students to greater pride in their college.

(3) An Alma Mater renews memories of happy college days for Alumni

But the talk dwindled down, and left only a few students actually interested. Unless we want future classes to wonder, "what ever became of the Alma Mater" (as we do now), we should stir the coals to life again!

Are you listening, Student Board?

'Town Meeting' Worth Seeing

Perhaps there are some of you who have not given serious thought to attending the Town Meeting broadcast next Tuesday night. As a general rule, most students are not vitally interested in discussions concerned with governmental or international affairs. There are, however, a few basic reasons why college students should attend such a program.

First of all, few of us are given the opportunity to see LIVE NETWORK presentations very often. "Town Meeting of the Air" has been on the air since 1935 and may be heard over some 316 radio stations. It is a distinct privilege for Nashville to have the honor of originating this broadcast on Nov. 16.

Also the student of college level should endeavor in some way to familiarize himself with current events. Many times we dislike reading the newspaper, possibly because it is not lively enough, but such will not be the case with this broadcast, for each of the three speakers is a specialist in his particular field and has lectured to cross sections of audiences all over the world.

Are you not willing to let your attendance at this program serve as a means for widening your interests and views?

Here's the Reason Why...

Webster defines news as "a report of a recent event; recent information." The late Willard G. Bleyer has said, "News is anything timely that interests a number of readers and the best news is that which has the greatest interest for the greatest number."

Several students here wonder sometimes why they have to wait for the BABBLER to find out the results of elections, play casts, and other important news. The reason for this is that we want the paper to have news, that is timely and interests you.

We have heard criticisms of the BABBLER that sound like this: "I don't read the BABBLER, except maybe Day by Day, because I don't care what it says." (This is especially true of the editorial column.) Perhaps those who say this have found out the most important news before it was published and maybe nothing else is interesting to them. But if something is published that is disagreeable to some students, these same people are quick to criticize.

This year a special effort is being made to present each week, some of the most important news in world affairs. One reason for this is to enable you who don't have time to read your daily paper, to "catch up" on current political campaigns, war situations, and other news of world wide interest.

It is our hope that when you think about these things you will begin to read your BABBLER each week.

Entered as second-class matter. December 26, 1923, at the post office, Nashville, Tenn., under the Act of March 3, 1897.

Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1916; authorized, Nashville, Tenn. Published weekly during the regular school year except during holidays or examination periods by the students of DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE, Nashville, Tenn.

Office located on second floor Crisman Memorial Library.

Member Associated Collegiate Press EDITORIAL STAFF

	DOLLO CALLE
Peggie Herron	Editor-in-Chief
Mary Lou Carter	Associate Editor
George Patterson	Editorial Page
Cornelia Turman	Feature Editor
Matthew Morrison	Staff Artist
	BUSINESS STAFF
Paul Rogers	Business Manager
The state of the s	ADVISORY STAFF
	Editorial Advisor
Willard Collins	Faculty Advisor
	Bradley Press Club Sponsors

Penpoints

By Peggie Herron

We can't help but pause to sympathize with the Omaha woman who is allergic to money. We've never heard of anyone else who started itching when she touched money-the folding kind.

'Most all of the folks we know start itching long before the cash is in hand. That's usually why the itching starts-because someone wants to get his hands on having to resort to writing checks to dodge the itch malady. This presumably means that she, or someone else, has deposited some of the itchy stuff in the bank.

If we were going to have to itch and we had a choice as to the cause, we can't think of a happier way to be miserable than with a loaded pocketbook

For some of the folding green stuff, we would gladly take on the risk of a long itch-even of sevenyear duration. Wonder how that lady acquired that allergy? We doubt, however, that we'll ever have it in sufficient quantity to start a rash. At least not during our green years.

For the benefit of you freshmen, ol'Pinhead has derived the following list of daffynitions from reliable sources. You may have already learned some of them in orientation, but these are simpler

COLLEGIATE: Descriptive word used profusely by manufacturers about anything they are trying to get you to spend Papa's dough for.

DICTIONARY: Fifty-pound book found in all libraries for the purpose of hiding behind. UNABRIDGED DICTIONARY: One made on this side of the river.

BRIEF QUIZ: Test consisting of 150 questions hastily drawn up by professor who loses his notes on way to class. LIBRARY: Place where valueless old editions are stored until needed, at which time they are sent to the bindery. CLASS DISCUSSION: A method used by some teachers who are willing to give their A-students a chance to say what the teacher expects. NOTE-TAKING: Legal opportunity to sketch teacher's portrait, with frequent notations concerning what you plan to do with next week's allowance.

Living Religion

By George Patterson

It would help us immensely in living the Christian life if we would think like Christ. The only way to do so would be to think on things on which Christ would

We know, as we are told in Proverbs 23:7, "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." So, what we think makes us what we are. Then, in Phil. 2: 5, Paul encourages us: "Let this mind be in you, which was also in Jesus Christ." What mind is this?—A pure mind-a Christ-like mind. He tells us on what to think in Phil. 4: 8: "Finally Brethren. whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, if there be coast of Japan was downed by two any praise, think on these things."

The church at Colosse received these words from Paul: "If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God. Set your affection on things above, and not on things on the earth. We can develop a Christ-like mind by keeping our minds on our relationship with Christ and with our Father.

LIPSCOMB:

minder to those of vou who turn in reand who are around the edges. behind in a few day of reckoning is nigh at down degree-seekers. But don't let haste make waste, as one young man did. He handed in a theme whose cover was filled out as follows: Name: Haley Randolph Subject: Extended Definition

Grade: Freshman

The news that dueling is no longer legal has failed to reach the dim recesses of Elam Hall Bill Camp and Harry Rose were seen on the field of honor smiting one another with dime-store foils swiped from two innocent babes (children, that is) who were standing nearby. Both have declined to name the fair damsel who was the cause for the dispute.

Great Drought II struck Elam Hall last weekend. The hot water

By Bob Sivley

The big news of the week was the election of the 84th Congress which will convene in January of 1955. The question of the week was: Will the Democratic Party organize the Senate and House with Democrats at the heads of the committees.

Opinions of most party bigwigs was that the Democrats would take charge even though there was talk of leaving the organization in the hands of Republicans until the present presidential term was over.

83rd Still Working

Meanwhile, the 83rd Congress was still working on one of the big issues of its existence: the McCarthy question.

Though McCarthy seems to be a dead issue in many states, the Wisconsin Senator continues to rate headlines, as the Senate debated whether or not to censure him, according to the recommendations of the Watkins committee.

This committee, set up several months ago, and presided over by Senator Watkins of Utah, has recommended that McCarthy be censured on 2 of 5 charges brought against him by the censure resolution.

Indications were that the special session might run into December, since debate is expected to be quite long and drawn out. McCarthy's own opinion: the majority of the Senate will approve the recommendation. The whole affair he describes as a

Communists Strike Again

day morning when the news of a tain a road map for such emer-Communist attack on an American gencies. B-29 was announced The U.S. plane, flying off the "Russian-built MiG-type" fighters. the broken windows in his room. One crewman was killed and 10 others injured. The state department dispatched immediate protests to Moscow, but the Russians charged that the Americans fired first, refusing to apologize or take responsibility for the incident.

The Soviets also charged that the American plane violated Russian territorial rights by flying near the Soviet border.

This is a re- tanks were in dire need of a paint job, so our Boys of the Sacrificial Spirit toughed it out with cold water. IN case you need a way to identify the non-bathers, they search papers are the ones who aren't blue

Lipscomb students are not getsubjects: the ting enough rest. Exhibit A: the freshman who was so sleepy that he wandered over to breakfast hand. Buckle still wearing his bedroom slippers and his pajama top. Suggested remedy: stronger coffee, fewer

> Most squirrel hunters come back with at least one squirrel or a reasonable facsimile thereof but Cliett Goodpasture, John McRay. and Jim Woodruff returned with their quarry of three badly wounded hunting-caps. Their only excuse is that they weren't having much luck with squirrels But is that any reason to take it out on each other?

For rent: tree #14, excellent location, near shadows and Brewer Tower, available two weeks in each month between the hours of seven and ten. For further information contact Johnny (Healthy) Burns who acts as campus monitor at half-month pe-

Would you like a recipe for permanent hot-chocolate? See the president of the Footlighters, Jim Blevins, who doled out hotchocolate left over from their picnic for three days afterwards. We'd like to know if it mellows

Yes, Lipscomb boys have a way with women. In the cafeteria, Faye Kinzer watched Wayne Tincher disappear over the horizon and dreamily nestled her chin in her hand. She snapped back to consciousness when she realized that she had smeared mashed potatoes over her face. We know that one does strange things in such a dazed condition, but we still wonder why she was holding a fistful of potatoes in the first

A black cocker-spaniel trotted in the open door to Dr. Stroop's Bible class, proceeded across the back of the room, ambled up to the front, and paused before the lectern. "You're excused," Dr. Stroop sternly announced. Whereupon, the little beast obediently walked out. There must be a moral to this story somewhere....

Don McWhorter isn't easily flustered, but something happened on the debate trip to Alabama that makes us wonder. He was enjoying a "scholarly" conversation with a debater of the opposite sex and not until a blue stain spread over his shirt front did he realize he had put his pen in his pocket without replacing the top.

Valley Lake was the destination of a biology lab field trip. But Bobbie Turner, Jack Stevens, Bertha Turner, Norma Sullinger, Doris Gilbert and Priscilla Dellinger didn't get there until fifteen minutes before the end of the period because, according to them they were lost. A dozen stops to inquire the way made it possible o for them to miss the lab test. The nation was shocked Mon- The next lab manuals will con-

Speaking of tall tales (we were, weren't we?), Bill Banowsky has a unique explanation for one of "Somebody came and sat on it," he tells. Can you top this?

Strange things are happening! While distributing tracts for the meeting, Shirley Lee knocked on one door and was encountered by a voice from nowhere. After carrying on a rather lengthy conversation with this disembodied voice, she spied two eyes peering at her from a slit in the door. Seems the owner of the voice and eyes liked privacy.

'It's My Job,' Says Hunt, Versatile Supervisor of Elam

By George Patterson

November 12, 1954

William Hunt, dormitory supervisor of Elam Hall, stopped his work on the bookcase he was assembling, and after contemplating for a few moments, he laughed and said, "I have never been asked

The question was, "How do you feel about being responsible for the 263 students that reside in Elam Hall?". He thought seriously for a second longer and replied, "Well, I look at them as individuals. and not as a group; my job is to do for each of the boys as

I would do for my own." He had not planned on doing this type of work. Five years of his life were spent in the service as a paratrooper. He graduated from the United States Naval Air Station, a technical school of engineering.

Wanted to Be Engineer

"I had in mind to be an engineer, but I decided that I could not preach effectively and do engineering work. I knew the best thing to do was to come to a Christian college and prepare myself for preaching; and, so I did," he explained.

Bill, as he is called by his friends, was born in Nashville thirty years ago and started his work at Lipscomb in the Fall of '53. He is a speech major, and classified as a Junior.

He has preached for several churches, and recalled an amusing incident that happened to him at a church service in Florida, which was his home for five years.

With his deep chuckle he remembered one night that the congregation sang "Send the Light" just before preaching service began. While they were singing, the lights went out. "Then I was hoping that He would send the light so I could preach " He is presently engaged in the work with the Bethel Church of Christ. Sunday evenings usually find the Hunt family visiting various members of the congregation. Hunts Squirrels On Friday afternoons before their mid-week Bible class, Bill likes to step out on the back of some of the members' farms and hunt squirrels with his new rifle. They feed well up around Bethel, and "I like 'preacher' food," he "My pet peeve is for people to tell me how much they enjoyed the sermon when I know they slept through it!' Hunt takes his job seriously and s always fixing things around the dorm.

At the beginning of this regular school year-even before the arrival of the Freshmen-he, along with some early arriving working students, painted the stairways on the first floor of Elam Hall.

"We want to have the place looking good," he explained. He did not seem to mind the fact that he was doing work that he was not required to do. "It's my job."

Bill lives on the first floor of Elam Hall in a six room apartment with his wife, Jean,

ARMOUR ADDRESSES JOURNALISTS

Mrs. Joan Link Armour, reporter for the Nashville Tennessean, will speak to the journalism class on Tuesday, November 16. Her main subject will concern feature writing.

Mrs. Armour, who is a former editor of the Tennessee Tech Oracle, has worked for the Tennessean a little over a year. Her home is in Portland, Tenn.

Anyone who is interested in hearing the talk is invited to attend the class which meets at 9:00 in the Library Music Room.

Meet Our Girls Friday . . .

They Work Behind the Scenes

To give you a bird's-eye view of just what goes on in the adminstrative offices, the BABBLER presents some first hand information from the four secretaries who work therein.

hour-a-day, seven-day-a-week Jamie Ussery, secretary to Vicejob, he usually has a project work-President Collins, says that she thinks everyone has a good reaing a bookcase, and covering their son for continuously teasing her about having a heart attack right "I am going to do the best I can before chapel time. She gave her reasons for saying

two activities are scheduled at

A baffling example of this was last year when the high school basketball tournament

and Model United Nations

General Assembly were scheduled to be held in the gymna-

Some of her other duties include putting out correspondence.

preparing the weekly calendar of events, helping with the writing of chapel-singing script, typing minutes of board meetings, and executive and administrative staff

Biggest Tennessee Rock

Collection Becomes Her Hobby

the same time and place."

sium at the same time.

Banner column.

the State Geologist?

at the job I have, and provide a this by explaining that it is her Christian education for our chilresponsibility to see that all chapel dren." Those are his plans. announcements are made out so Philosophy Is Christian as to have no conflicts, to see that His philosophy on life is truly a the speakers are present, and that Christian one. "You know," he the auditorium and stage are in proper condition said, "people treat you the way you treat them; and that has been All campus events are scheduled one of the most truthful things through the vice-president's office. In answer to the question, "What do you consider the har !est part of your work?" Jamie quickly replied, "Seeing that no

Town Meeting . .

and their children: Kathy, 6 yrs.; Dorthy, 41/2 yrs.; San-is 7 months.

sofa are recent jobs.

ders, 8 yrs.; and David, who

He always has time to talk with anyone who wants to see him-and, in spite of his twenty-four-ing around the apartment; build-

(Continued from page 1) as a spy by the Soviets in the Russian zone of Vienna.

Murray is a member of the faculty of St. Peter's College where he has conducted courses on "The United States in the Present World

Marshall Gunselman, of the audio-visual department, has announced that Kenneth Harwell, Richard Craig, John Fisk and Deems Brooks will handle the microphones during the broadcast.

This program, the last presentation of the Lipscomb Artist Series, will begin at 8:00 p.m. The audience-participation part will begin at 7:15. At 7:45 all doors will be closed and locked.

Admission charge to the general public is $1.00 for adults and 50¢ for students.

CAMPUS COUPLE . . . Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Coleman, stars of the new television show, "The Halls of Ivy" which began Tuesday, Oct. 19, 7:30-8:00 p.m., on CBS teletheir duties as President and America's most mirthful seat of

> Alloway BROS. COMPANY Poultry Meats

South to Florida. In addition to this Mrs. Johnson has brought her Did you know that a rock is many samples when on trips unanything from limestone or coal accompanied by Miss Frizell. to a diamond? That briefly a rockhound is anyone who loves the the collection are her students. earth, the gems, minerals and rocks created in nature? That Miss Frizell has the biggest collection of these "rocks" in the state of Tennessee, according to at the size and beauty of it. Miss Mary Frizell has been here at Divid Lipscomb College for the past 10 years. Previous to this she taught psychology and elementary education at Middle Tennessee State Teachers College, Murfreesboro. Miss Frizell recognizes four people who are responsible for her collection. First her interest Rocks are Useful was aroused by her mother who herself had a small collection. After being made aware of the being an interesting hobby, there beauty and wonder of the rocks, are uses to be made of these rocks. "First Lady" of Ivy College, her interest was increased on her Miss Frizell makes truth out of entrance as a student into David the old saying "useful as well as > Ward who was at that time teaching chemistry. He also had a small collection. Mrs. Johnson Aids

'54 ARTIST SERIES , , , , ,

After becoming a member of Lipscomb College by Dr. J. S.

Others who have contributed to

The collection itself contains samples of anything from coal to diamonds. This statement might sound ambiguous but "seeing is believing". I, for one, was amazed

Samples have been secured from countries all over the world as well as all over the United States, Some of the foreign countries are: Anartica, Africa, Greenland, Japan, China, Afghanistan, India, Ceylon, Russia, Norway, Burma, Spain, Europe, Italy and many

Strangely enough besides this ornamental".

To mention a few, there are paper weights, bookends, and although she does not go in for jewelry much she has pins, earrings, cuff links made of rocks. the faculty Mrs. Helena (Grand- Also these rocks are used as an ma) Johnson has taken her on added attraction in her mineralogy numerous trips out West and and geography classes.

LEAVING THE DEAN'S OFFICE are the four secretaries to the Administration. They are L. to R., Mary Sherrill, Rachael Alexander, Jamie Ussery and Jo Newsom. she decided to remain here upon staff, who constantly seek her adgraduation in 1951, rather than vice on matters of office form returning to her home town, and Lipscomb procedures.

Doddsville, Miss. Mary travels all the way from Whites Creek daily, get-She says that such incidents ting up about 5:30 in the morn. as receiving a letter addressed to Jamie Ussery, Vice-Presiing to give her time to cook breakfast for her family and dent, and a person telephoning and asking to speak to David Lipscomb are among the things that make her work very enjoyable. Mary Sherrill is President Pullias' Girl Friday. A familiar echo in the administrative offices is the shout, "Mary," that comes meetings, and typing the weekly from the president's office.

She is an authority on more Coming to Lipscomb her senior things around Lipscomb than any year, Jamie liked so well that other member of the secretarial get to Lipscomb at 8:00 a.m. She even makes biscuits for breakfast, too. To Mary, Lipscomb is the only institution, because it's the only place she's ever worked. This is her eighteenth year here. Rachael Alexander, as secretary to the Registrar, has one of the hardest jobs in school—that of keeping graduates in line so that they won't come up with deficiencies at Commencement. Try hard as she may to keep candidates for degrees informed of their shortcomings, it seems that somebody is always disappointed. Rachael's job is continually hard, being full of record keeping at registration, partly in preparation for preparation for Commence-

She is slender, quick of movement, always busy, always intent on seeing that things are done as they should be. She's a perfectionist in all phases of her work-sympathetic, but firm and immovable on matters of meeting re-

Before coming to Lipscomb in 1945 when Dr. Stroop was still registrar, Rachel was secretary of the Central church of Christ in Jo Newsom, a slow-speaking, Alabama native is secretary to Dean J. P. Sanders.

She is the wife of Charles K. Newsom. She says that because she started working in Dean Sanders' office after her first year in Lipscomb, students took for granted that she was older than Charles, when they were married a year ago. Known as Jo Billingsly for her first year in the Dean's office, people still call for Miss Billingsly, and confuse new switchboard operators.

The editorial "we" is a device to make readers think that someone agrees with the editor besides the editor.

Funny Stuff By Matt Morrison AN AIR OF EXPECTANCY SETTLES ONER THE CAMPUS WHERE FEATURING MARQUIS CHILLS REPARATIONS ARE UNDER WAY FOR -

The Interclass Basketball Tournament will be the big news on the campus next week.

Several of the teams have already held practice sessions and are rounding into shape for some hot games next Friday and Saturday.

Gone are many of the stars of last year-Don Blassingame, Guerry Moorer, Roy Sims. To take their places will be men like Tommy Warren (if knee o.k.), Don McAlister, Dick Batey, Boodie Fox, Jack Parks, Bob Harris, Ronnie Morrell, and Jimmy Walker.

And who knows? Maybe some unknown star will rise to glory as leader of his team. Seriously, if you're looking for an evening of real fun make plans now to be in McQuiddy Gym next Friday night at 7:15. Spectators will especially want to see the championship game on Saturday, when the high-school stars of yesteryear battle to the finish for possession of the "Golden Goblet" significant of class supremacy.

The Bison squad continues to show improvement with each practice session and should be ready for the Belmonters when they invade McQuiddy on Monday week. The Herd will be in the under-dog slot, and will need all our support to help bring victory. We've paid for our activity cards-let's use them! And use your lungs when you get inside, too!

Intramurals

We've got a new set-up in intramural basketball this year. There will be three divisions instead of the usual two. The B League will remain the same, with each club furnishing a

The old A League, however, will be divided into A and AA leagues, with four teams in each.

The teams are fighting it out now in a double elimination tourney to determine who's good enough for AA. And "fighting" is the word for it-three men were laid out on opening rivals, Belmont.

I know 'Fessor Boyce is pleased with the number of boys who tried out for the teams in practice games. We shouldn't have any four-man teams playing this year. It was embarrassing when you lost to one.

The Bowls

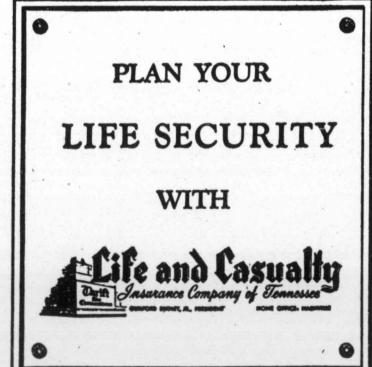

If you're planning on watching-football on New Year's day, maybe a quick run-down of the bowl situation will give you an idea of what to expect.

Southern Cal and undefeated Ohio State appear set for the Rose Bowl. The Cotton Bowl should feature Arkansas against Georgia or Ga. Tech. In the Orange it looks like Nebraska vs. Duke. The Sugar Bowl picture is cloudier, with Mississippi, Florida, Baylor, and Rice as leading contenders.

Now if Lipscomb had a football team we might be in one of those bowls. Think what it would do for the school! We can dream, can't we?

Seems Like . . .

- . . . Vandy may not win a game.
- . . . it's time to shift to the hardwood. . . . we may get intramural tee-shirts.
- . . . it's fine weather for sports (at this writing).
- . . . the varsity will be better than last year.
- ... studies are trying to take the place of athletics.
- . . . that's about all.

The sophomores will play the juniors and the seniors will meet the freshmen in the first round games of the Interclass Basketball Tournament next Friday at 7:30 p.m. in McQuiddy Gym.

Sport Spots

THE ONLY SQUARE

First Bison Clash

optimistic. I am . . ."

"Yes, a positive yes," was Sherrill's answer as to whether or not Lipscomb has improved. "Of course, many things go together to make an improved team: spirit, morale,

the desire to win are all important to a successful team.

I believe this team will be one

we will be proud of-one that will truly represent Lips-

As for a starting line-up he contered with this reply, "We have been working with one unit in particular—that of Gayle Napier and John Friend at forwards, Ken

Donaldson at center, Jerry Jones and Gary Colson at guards. This unit has looked very well at times,

but boys such as Walt Glass, Les

Sherrill, Marlin Connelly, and several first-year men are still in the thick of the battle for the

THING ABOUT MAC IS HIS

The ROUGH AND READY RAM PRESIDENT !!!

CONSISTENT.

TEAM

ALL- AROUND

PLAYER!

mined by a drawing held by the class presidents this week. The soph-junior clash is set for 7:15, and the frosh-senior scrap will follow at 8:15. The losing teams will meet in a

BIG WHEEL 52-53

ING INTRA-

MURAL ATHLETE.

2ND PLACE

53-54!1

MAC, HOW

DID YOU

GET THAT

MAC IS

THE IN-

B TRAMUR-

D (YERR?

OUTSTAND-

test will be at 8:15. The champion team, will gain possession of the coveted trophy cup for a period of one year. The name of the winning class and the year 1954 will be inscribed on the cup.

Advance ticket sales for the games will be announced in chapel next week. The admission price will be 25 cents for each night of

7:15, and the championship con-

Charles Hailey, president of the L Club, stated that the proceeds earned by the tournament would be used to finance a school project. The construction of bleachers for the Bison baseball field, though not definitely approved, is under consideration as the project.

The tournament, annually sponsored by the L Club, proved to be a very popular event last year. Great class spirit was aroused, and attendance reached 400 on the second night. This year the L Club is expecting an even larger turnout of students for the four thrill-

Zibby Smith Is Girls' Tennis Champ

Zibby Smith, daughter of Mrs. M. F. Wiegert, of Atlanta, Ga., is the tennis champion of the Girls' Intramurals. Because of adverse conditions all matches were not played and Miss Smith won by

This is her fifth year in tennis. During these five years she has played no. 2 doubles at Bass High School, Atlanta, her sophomore year, no. 1 double her junior year and no. 1 single during her senior

Zippy has entered the City High School Tournament, the Atlanta Lawn Tennis Association, and the City Tournament. In 1952 she emerged victorious in mixed doubles in the Atlanta Lawn Tennis Association and was runner-up in doubles in City High Tourna-

In 1953 she was runner-up for singles in City High School Tournament and in the City Tournament she was winner of doubles and runner-up for singles.

Winning teams of the Tuesday night game of Girls' Inframural volley ball games were headed by Carolyn Jaynes and Pearl Cutts. This puts the team led by Jaynes one game ahead in the tournament. Games will continue each Tuesday night as scheduled in McQuiddy Gym.

Pirates Take Bucs In Football Round

The Intramural football playoffs moved into the final round this week, as the scrappy Pirates upset the Buccaneers and the mighty Rams topped the Knights.

On Monday the favored Bucs went down under the fired-up onslaught of a hustling bunch of Pirates. Led by the great running of Dan Kimbell and Roger Todd, the Pirate crew pulled away to win 24 -6.

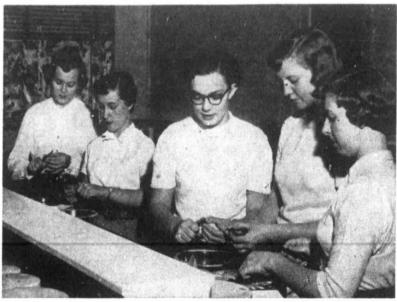

In the other semi-final contest on Tuesday the running of Ken Dugan and Jimmy Throneberry and the passing of Bob Harris brought defeat to the Knights. The score was 33-18 as Charles Hailey made all the loser's points.

Trade at Hutcherson's

TURRENTINE REALTY COMPANY 2915 Notensville Road

Sales-Insurance-Loans Phone 42-2651

Christmas Is A-comin' . . .

MAKING EARLY PLANS for the annual Home Ec Bazaar scheduled for Nov. 30, are from left to right: Adelia Roberts, Paula Michaels, dies and cookies are among the items from which one may choose.

keenly aware that there are only

34 more shopping days until

Christmas will be interested in

All funds from the Bazaar will be used to benefit the Lipscomb

Menu Tuesday

That a holiday spirit might be aroused among the students, a traditional Thanksgiving dinner will be served Tuesday in the cafeteria. Serving time will be during

To carry out past customs,

linens will be used and candles will bedeck the tables.

This is one of the two times during the year that linens trimmings-will be served.

X-Ray Unit Comes

A mobile X-ray unit will be on the campus Nov. 29-30.

All students are urged to take advantage of this free service.

operetta in one act, will be presented by the fifth and sixth grades of the Elementary School night. This is a romantic story

Vice president Willard Collins

was elected last week to the National Board of Directors of American College Public Rela-

Bob Kendrick and Henry Arnold.

Mrs. Joan Link Armour, reporter and feature writer, spoke to the journalism class last Tuesday

After her talk, she opened the meeting to class discussion. She stated that it is still hard for a woman to get a job as a reporter.

There are only two women on the editorial section of the Tennessean.

on feature writing.

woven around the thing children

play in Grandma's attic.

tions Association.

"The Enchanted Attic," an

Here Dec. 29-30

the regular hours.

are used.

invited to attend.

News Briefs:

Time-conscious persons who are

Grace Walker, Ina Swan, and Hulene Jarrett. Yule Bazaar Begins Nov. 30

this event.

Shortly after chapel on Nov. 30, the annual Yule Bazaar under the sponsorship of the Home Economics Club will begin,

An array of gifts, fruitcakes, candies, etc., all made and prepared by the nimble fingers of those future home economists will be awaiting purchase-orders are also being taken for those fruitcakes which range in size from one to four pounds and sell for 80¢ per pound.

Scuffs in various colors ond designs, frilled organdy aprons, can-

Stroop Research Is Used by U.N.C.

Prof. J. Ridley Stroop, head of the Lipscomb psychology department, has been asked for permission to use testing materials devised by him in research studies at the University of North Carolina.

Coyprighted some years ago under the title, "Inhibition Test Charts for Laboratory Use, by J. Ridley Stroop," the materials have interested Dr. L. L. Thurstone, director of the university's psychometric laboratory, as having value for personality studies planned by his department.

Dr. Stroop has referred Dr. Thurstone to a Chicago concern granted the exclusive right to produce his testing materials some years ago.

If clearance can be arranged, the Thurstone research reports published from time to time will include the Stroop Tests.

Law School Tests Are Scheduled

The Law School Admission Test required of applicants for admission to a number of leading American law schools, will be given at more than 100 centers throughout the United States on November 13, 1954, February 19, April 23, and August 6, 1955.

A candidate must make separate application for admission to each law school of his choice and should inquire of each whether it wishes him to take the Law School Admission Test and when.

The Law School Admission Test. prepared and administered by Educational Testing Service, features objective questions measuring verbal aptitudes and reasoning ability rather than acquired in-

Since many law schools select their freshman classes in the spring preceding their entrance, candidates for admission to next year's classes are advised ordinarily to take either the November or the February test, if pos-

Bulletins and applications for the test should be obtained four to six weeks in advance of the desired testing date from Law School Admission Test, Educational Testing Service, 20 Nassau Street, Princeton, N. J.

ectures Scheduled Jan. 16-21.

ship, the theme of which is Spreading the Kingdom, is to take place on the campus Jan. 16-21 This announcement is made today by Willard Collins, vice-president

Opening on Sunday night, the ectures will continue through the following Friday afternoon and will cose with the address by Marshall Keeble, president of the Nashville Christian Institute. Unique Feature

A unique feature of this year's program will be the display of several exhibits. The Broadway Church in Lubbock, Tex., will show a scale model of a new orphan's home being built there. Also the Gospel Advocate will have a display in honor of its 100th anniversary.

Plans are being made to accommodate some 1500 persons at the annual Fellowship Dinner on

Founder's Contest home economics department. Is Set for Jan. 21 Turkey Heads

By Benny Nelms

Jan. 21 is the date set for the and Elaine Burns will lead the Founder's Day Oratory contest, according to Dr. Carroll Ellis, who is in charge of arrangements for

This event is held each year in honor of David Lipscomb, cofounder of the College. The contest, which is scheduled for lecture week, will be open for original orations.

In the past, subjects have been religious; however, any topic appropriate for the occasion will be considered.

A conventional Thanksgiving Any male student who is carryday menu-turkey and all the ing 12 or more hours and who has not won a previous contest is All administrative personnel eligible to participate. and their wives or husbands are

A preliminary round will be held Jan. 13 to select three speakers for the final contest. Anyone interested in entering should contact Dr. Ellis soon for further details. Complete rules and information will be available next week.

The winner will receive an attractive gold medal, appropriately engraved. The second place winner will receive similar medal of

KENDRICK ATTENDS MEET

Robert E. Kendrick, Assistant Professor of Business Administration, went to Biloxi, Miss., last in Alumni Auditorium at 7:30 toweek to attend the Southern Eco-like most to do on a rainy-dayfor the convention, "Practicing subjects and work out schedules. tion Teacher in College."

The convention was Nov. 11-13. tration.

Thursday evening. This banquet 10-11 a.m.—Cornelius Abbott, Sr was attended by nearly 1100 people last year Miss Ruth Gleaves, Johnson Hall for all out-of-town visitors. A schedule of the activities during the week is as follows:

The Babbler

supervisor, serves as hostess during the week. She will be in charge of making arrangements

Monday, Jan. 17

9-10 a.m.-Dr. J. Ridley Stroopvantage in Starting a New Congregation in Spreading the Eternal Life, A Promise to the Faithful in the Kingdom. Kingdom.

Frosh Picnic Is Tomorrow

The freshmen will begin a spirited weekend tonight at 7:00 p.m. when they gather in Burton Gymnasium for a pep rally before vying with the seniors in the intramural basketball tournament

On hand to accompany the class in singing several songs written especially for the rally, will be a band composed of freshmen boys. Dressed in pink and black outfits, Bobbye Menefee, Dot Scott, frosh in cheers. Following this rally, the freshmen will proceed across the campus in a body to McQuiddy Gymnasium where a section has been reserved for them.

Outing Is Tomorrow

Tomorrow, the freshmen are having a barbecue at Percy Warner Park; this is their first outing

Tickets for the event will be on sale until 5:00 p.m. this afternoon and are priced at 90¢

Two buses have been rented for transportation to the park addition to private cars. All freshmen who will bring cars are asked to park them at Sewell Hall by 11:45 a.m. at which time the group plans to leave.

Serving will begin at the park at 1:00 p.m.

Pre-Registration Scheduled Dec. 7

Ralph R. Bryant, Registrar, announced this week that the schedule for winter quarter will be available Wednesday, Dec. 1, and pre-registration will take place at the Registrar's office Tuesday,

Kendrick had prepared a paper to check with teachers on various Attorney as Business Administra- All accounts must be settled at the business office before regis-

FINAL EXAMINATION SCHEDULE Fall, 1954

This Association is composed of	THU		AY, DE 0	c. 2	10:30-12:30		1:00-3:00	3:00-5	:00
1,061 member colleges, Collins being one of the two representatives	Eng.	111	B,D,F	300 324	1:00 P.M. clas		11:00 A.M. classes	3:00 P.M.
in southeastern United States. Collins was elected while attending the convention in Jack-	Hist.	211	C,G,K L,M H,J,N A,B	226 309 200 305	meeting 3, 4, o times per wee		meeting 1 and 2 times per week.	meeting 3, times per sonville, Fla. The Lipscomb Veteran's Club recently elected the following officers: Paul Breakfield, Jr.,	FRID Hist.	111	DEC. 3 A,B C,E D,F G,H	226 324 200 309 305	Bible 221 A Bible 111 C D	226 324 200 300	2:00 P.M. classes meeting 3, 4, or 5 times per week.	3:00 P.M. omeeting 1 times per Span. 121	and 2
president; William Rogers, vice- president; Charles Davis, secre- tary. Sponsors for the Club are	9:00 /	A.M.	DEC. 6	309	9:00 A.M. class		Biol. 111 A,B 226 113 A,B 200	Econ. 211	A 311 B 324

8:00 A.M. classes meeting 3, 4, or 5 times per week.

3-4 p.m.—Reports from Mission

4-5 p.m.-Jeff Green, director, DLC Band. 6:45-7:45 p.m.—(classes meeting

-Spreading the Kingdom

through Personal Visitation.

11-12 a.m.—Charles Lemons—

a Consecrated Life.

Rural Congregation.

Spreading the Kingdom through

Mrs. I. B. Thompson-Class

1-2 p.m.-Jack Wilhelm-Spread-

2-3 p.m.—Andrew Brown—Ad-

ing the Kingdom through the

at same time) Joe White-Growth of the Kingdom in the Last 50 Years; Ira North-Spreading the Kingdom through Vacation Bible School and Sunday School.

8-9 p.m.—Daniel Harless— Spreading the Kingdom through Life's Occupation. Tuesday, Jan. 18

9-10—Dr Stroop (same topic) 10-11-Joe White-Growth of the Kingdom in the Last 50 Years. 11-12-Sterl Watson-Spreading the Kingdom in Metropolitan Area; Mrs. T. B. Thompson-Spreading the Kingdom through the Influence of a Christian

Home (class). 1-2-Norman Beaman-Spreading the Kingdom Through our Personal Lives.

3-4-Panel (members-Boone Douthitt, Norman Beaman, A. M. Phillips, Charles Taylor, Carroll Ellis, chairman) Spreading the Kingdom Through Gospel Meetings.

(Continued on Page 3)

Alumni Notes Mr. and Mrs. Ed Holley (Bobbie Lee Gault) '49 and '50 are living at 2703 South Wayne Street, Arlington, Va. Bobbie Lee teaches English in the Washington-Lee High School, and Ed, a Lt. Junior Grade is stationed in the Penta-

They, of course, have plenty of time for feeding and entertaining any alumnus and future alumni who pass their way! A group of high school students met at their house on Wednesday night after the church service for refreshments and for getting information about Lipscomb.

Billy Hood '44 is living at 3111 P. Street, S.E., Washington, D. C. and is preaching for the South east Church of Christ. Mr. and Mrs. Hood have two daughters. Marilyn, 41/2 and Kathy, 3 years

M. Sgt. Bill Tucker, '42, and Mrs. Tucker, are living at 706 N.W. Apt. 105, Arlington, Va. Bill is on the staff at Hdg. Marine Corps, Arlington Annex. He was recently awarded the Bronze Star medal for meritorious service in his field while on duty in Korea.

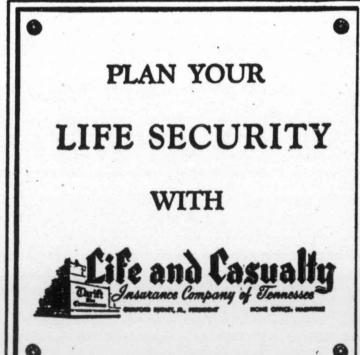

Miss Aileen Bromley '22 of 41st Avenue, Hyattsville, Md., is teaching in the English department of Roosevelt High School.

Mrs. Herman Sidwell '33 (Mary Emily Watkins) is living at 422 Leonard Road, Falls Church, Va. She does secretarial work in the Bill Threet, '54, is living in Savannah, Tenn., where he is minister of the Church. Bill was married Sept. 5 to the former Patsy Woody:

Mrs. Scott Fisher (Audrey Mc-Murray) '51 and Mr. Fisher, are living at 3100 South Hill Street, Arlington, Va. They have one son, Ricky, 21/2 years old.

Floyd R. Jackson '51 is teaching social science in Hartsville, Tenn., in high school.

Basketball Is Belmont Nov. 22 Play Opened

TROPHY AGAIN THISS-SS

The 1954-55 basketball season Basketball entered the intrabegins Nov. 22 against cross-town mural spotlight this week with When Coach Sherrill was asked. the opening of competition in 'How do you feel about the Bisons' a double-elimination tournament. chances for success in the coming The top four teams will play in a

He replied, "With eight returnfour will remain in the A League. ing lettermen and several talented first-year men on the squad, I feel In games Monday night the these boys will give a very credit-Comets beat the Gladiators, the able impression. This team will Knights edged the Cavaliers, and improve as the season progresses. the Rams whipped the Eagles. This is the year for coaches to be Scores are not being kept, as these tournament games will not figure in determining the individual

new AA League, while the other scoring champion. Monday night's schedule fol-

7 P.M. Cavaliers vs. Eagles 8 P.M. Knights vs. Rams 9 P.M Buccaneers vs. Pirates

Drug .. eeds at Hutcherson's

FITTS 8z CRAWFORD

FLOWERS 2816 West End Ave.

7-5946

6-1148

chosen circle—the starting five." Purity Dairies

Nashville's Finest Milk

360 Murfreesboro Road

LIPSCOMB SEWING SHOP 40041/2 Granny White Pike (Upstairs)

Plain and Fancy Sewing

Mending and Alterations

Letters and Numerals

Telephone 9-0113

Mrs. C. C. Albin, Manager

Lectures . . .

Crime Picture Has No Beauty

In the rapid-moving world of today the general tendency of the American people regarding crime and crime prevention seems to be "scan the statistics, groan about them, and then go back to sleep."

To an extent, this outlook is understandable because crime is not pretty, and statistics on crime are no prettier. Yet our idea of failing to face the facts on such statistics when they are brought to public attention hardly succeeds in abating their

"Each day during the first six months of 1954, it is estimated that an average of 35 people were slain and 252 other felonious assaults were committed; 48 rapes were committed; 608 cars were stolen; 197 robberies and 1,454 burglaries were com-

And all of this did not take place in some distant metropolis branded a crime capital either! Every town, city and state in this country were guilty-even Nashville and Davidson County and Tennessee. In Nashville alone there were reported more than 2,000 cases of murder, larceny, assault, auto theft and burglary during this six-month period.

These alarming figures have been compiled by the FBI not to provide something sensational for the American public to read; rather, its purpose is to bring a "twinge of conscience throughout America" and arouse every citizen, parent, child, and student to combine their efforts so that this toll might be headed off and finally brought to a stand-still.

Song of Open Road May Become Funeral Dirge

More college students drive automobiles during the holidays than at any other time throughout the year. Statistics show that traffic increases as much as three times on holiday

Last year traffic accidents killed 38,300 Americans—8200 of whom were of college age. Many of these fatalities occurred during the Christmas holidays when the peak use of automobiles by college students combined with poor driving conditions.

We, as college students must take the problem into our hands, and Be Safe This Season. Our senses are in excellent shape: our eyesight is keen: our reactions and coordinations are quick and smooth; but, many of us are poor drivers, or

Unless we iron out our bad driving habits and bad attitudes-and unless we take advantage of our keen senses, the tragic toll this year will again be as high, or even higher than it was last year.

The only way we can lower the fatality rate among ourselves is for each of us to feel the responsibility that rests upon us. It is only by our caution that we hope to better last year's bloody record.

If we will Be Safe This Season, we will be doing our part in the never ending struggle for safety.

Now Thank We All ...

No, we are not going to say here—"Be thankful because it is Thanksgiving." We are not even attempting in this short space to tell why we should be thankful.

We do not believe that simply because next Thursday is Thanksgiving that we should be more thankful than any other

But, neither are we discrediting Thanksgiving or the thankful season for which it stands. None of the above is the case. We only wish to suggest to you that we should be as equally thankful the other three hundred-fifty-odd days that are in office, Nashville, Tenn., under the Act of March 3, 1897. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in

The Babbler

Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1916; authorized, Nashville, Tenn. Published weekly during the regular school year except during holidays or examination periods by the students of DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE, Nashville, Tenn.

Office located on second floor Crisman Memorial Library.

menty mou current
George Patterson Editorial Page
Cornelia Turman Feature Editor
Matthew Morrison Staff Artist
BUSINESS STAFF
Paul Rogers Business Manager
ADVISORY STAFF
Bob Sivley Editorial Advisor
Willard Collins Faculty Advisor

Paul Mills and Eunice Bradley Press Club Sponsors

LIPSCOMB: DAY by DAY

drinking speed imit. There is a big red and yelow sign at the Granny White entrance reading "Drink Slow," but it fails to give the limit. The Lipscomb Quartette was giving one of its many programs and each of the members was beintroduced. "And the bass is Ray Walker, star of T.V.A.," coninued the master of ceremonies. You Democrats will probably want o speak with him.

In philosophy the subject under liscussion was the mind. Pointing to the cranial region of Ed Smith, George Massey said, "Here is a concrete example." Deems Brooks quipped back, "Oh, I had taken it for granite." See how alert one must be to study philosophy!

Dr. Whitfield, called for the outside reading cards in one of his education classes, as usual, asked the students to pass in their activity cards. Imagine his surprise when he received a bright yellow card bearing the inscription "Not good for athletic contests," the bold numerals 440, and the name

Shorthand doesn't make allowances for a southern drawl. And so Bobba Moody discovered when she tried to read the notes she had in shorthand in Miss Brown's English class. It took her five dictionaries and some strain on the grey matter to discover that there is no such word as "de-

Have you planned to attend the Interclass Basketball Tourney? And are you planning to root for your classmates? You have? Good

Journalism has its hazards, and George Patterson found it out the hard way. In the BABBLER office beating his brains out on an editorial, he failed to notice the hands of the clock creep past the hour of the Library's curfew. When he at last emerged from the cubicle in which he had been toiling, the book-house was dark, deserted, and locked tight.

And no way of escape had been provided. After futile efforts to rouse the populace of D.L.C., George converted a basement window into an emergency escape hatch, thus avoiding having to bed down on back copies of

Who threw the unmentionable in Boodie Fox's laundry bag? When he began returning gym clothes to the Bisons, there among the freshly cleaned socks, practice uniforms, and tee-shirts was one (1) ladies' heavily-boned corset!

Here's a switch. A goodly portion of Lipscomb's female population stood outside Elam Hall and serenaded Tommy Warren with their version of "Campus Cutie." That boy must have something.

Dear Editor:

'Credit to Whom ...' I write this letter because I think credit should be given to whom credit is due.

In the past, there has been some criticism as to the programs selected for the Artist Series, but as students of Lipscomb this year, we have been most fortunate to have had the privilege of hearing one of the most famous bands of the world, "The United States Navy Band" and witnessing an actual broadcast of "America's Town Meeting of the Air." I'm sure many of us have never seen the actual operation of a radio broadcast, especially that of a nation-wide program. To those who have made possible these opportunities, I want to commend you on the programs that you have chosen for us.

Sincerely, Ann Becker Penpoints?

By Peggie Herron (or, Don't Hang the Turkey. Squanto, He's Half Hung Now) SCENE I

Scene somewhere in America (Music: "America"). Enter JOHN SMITH, followed by the NINA PINTA and SANTA MARIA.

SMITH: "Just blew in from Chicago, Squanto. What's for suy-

SQUANTO, entering from up left, playfully shoots SMITH with

SQUANTO is wearing a feather in his scalp. He speaks with a broken Norwegian accent: "Just got back from hunting, Cap. (At this the audience roars. Hunting cap.) What's with Chi-town these days? Ug." (This word is necessary. SQUANTO is an Indian.)

SMITH (Withdrawing arrow and scrutinizing it coldly): "They haven't settled there yet." (Shoots

Enter MASSASOYT driving Cadillac. He drives over SMITH Somebody behind curtain hurriedly recites "Captain! My Captain." SQUANTO winks knowingly at SANTA MARIA.

MASSASOYT: (With dignity)

JOHN SMITH: (Crawling from under car.) "Been watching TV again, I see." (He exits right, twirling gracefully on tip-toe. He saw a ballet last night).

SQUANTO exits right in manner similar to SMITH'S. He is less graceful, however, having not seen the ballet.

MASSASOYT: (forgetting his lines, giggles embarrassedly, exits center left, pulling the Cadillac behind him. He waves to audience as curtain falls.) SCENE II

Scene: Somewhere in the forest Enter first turkey from down right, humming "Santa Claus is Coming to Town." He is purple and gold. He is a boy turkey. Seating himself on a stump, he gazes about as if waiting for something. FIRST TURKEY: Where is my Clotilda FIRST TURKEY: (louder) Oh where is my Clotilda?

SECOND TURKEY enters hurriedly from left. This one is a girl turkey. She carries a yardstick. She is a Lipscomb alumna. They stare at each other. The curtain falls.

SCENE III During this tender interlude, MASSASOYT and SQUANTO have been lamenting the turkeys' devastation of the corn crops. They are secretly devising a foul plan, unknown to SMITH, JOHN ALDEN, PRISCILLA, FIRST TURKEY, SECOND TURKEY PINTA, NINA, SANTA MARIA. SQUANTO: How we eliminate turkeys? MASSASOYT: Gottom crazy

(Both add "ug" here-it was supbut they forgot. They whisper softly. The audience can hear them, but the members of the cast cannot. Of course, the other actors really know what they are saying, having heard it in rehearsals, but they play dumb because this is part of the plot). SQUANTO: Man, that's a frantic idea! (Picks up his .410 and shoots into air. Five turkeys fall to the stage dead. They are FIRST TUR-KEY, SECOND TURKEY, THIRD TURKEY, FIFTH TURKEY, and SIXTH TURKEY. FOURTH TUR-KEY missed the cue because the cafeteria line was so long.) MASSASOYT: (surveying the scene keenly). Fall kill all five. Curtain. Audience has left. SCENE IV

The Pilgrims are seated around a Lazy Susan. There is food, including barbecued ribs, French fries, and turkey, on the table. The turkeys are dead, having been partially eaten. The Pilgrims are watching television.

SQUANTO, aside to MASSA-SOYT: Pilgrims go oo-papa-dow. MASSASOYT: Ug. Thinkum turkey good to eat. Ho. Ho. (His upper plate falls out).

Curtain falls, and the cast takes a curtain call, not noticing that the audience has left.

Turkey Tradition Changes, As Do Dates, Days, and Data

With Indians as guests of honor, about tables loaded with game and fish, wild fruits from the forest, and corn-bread and vegetables from their new gardens, the Pilgrim Fathers celebrated their first American harvest festival, in October 1621, the first autumn of the exiles in their new home.

November 19, 1954

The origin of this harvest festival, called Thanksgiving, is attributed to Governor Bradford of Plymouth colony. On Dec. 21, 1620, the Pilgrims landed on the bleak coast of New England and passed the winter with great suffering and privation

In the spring seed was sown and the people watched its growth with great anxiety, for on its result depended the lives of the

When the grain was cut and the harvest was found to be abundant, the colonists rejoiced over their good fortune, and the governor proclaimed a day of thanks-

In preparation for the occasion he sent out four men in search of game, and they soon returned with a large number of turkeys.

It is probably due to this incident that the turkey has always been considered a necessary feature of Thanksgiving feasts.

The summer of 1623 again brought drought and near starvation for the colonists. This drought began in May and almost destroyed the crops. About the middle of July the Governor appointed a day for fasting and prayer.

Soon after this the weather changed and the crops were saved. In acknowledgment of the blessing a day of thanksgiving was appointed and held on July

It is most likely that both these celebrations had their influence in forming our present Thanksgiving

A proclamation was issued by President George Washington in 1789 to honor the Constitution appointing Thurs., Nov. 26, "as a day of general thanksgiving for the establishment of a form of government that would make for safety and happiness."

This date was observed for a time, but a break occurred and one by one the states began to

Trade at Hutcherson's

TURRENTINE REALTY COMPANY

Sales—Insurance—Loans

Phone 42-265

Davitts.

Distinctive Clothes for Men

of Discriminating Taste

Sixth at Union

McKay-Cameron

Co.

Headquarters

CHINA, GLASS, SILVER

6-0427

212 3rd Ave., N.

(Continued from page 1) 4-5-Mack Craig-High School Chorus.

6:45-7:45-Joe White and Ira North (same) 8-9-B. C. Goodpasture-Spreading the Kingdom through Christian Journalism Wednesday, Jan. 19

9-10-Dr. Stroop (same) 10-11-W. L. Totty-Current Obstacles in Spreading the King-

11-12-Batsell B, Baxter-Spreading the Kingdom through Preaching; Mrs. T. B. Thompson

1-2-A. R. Holton-Spreading the Kingdom in the Northeast.

2-4-Panel (members - Robert Brooks, Paul Bachanan, Lawrence Hazelip, G. L. Mann, Charles Chumbley, chairman.) Spreading the Kingdom through Personal Evangelism.

4-5-Miss Irma Lee Batey-Big Chorus 6:45-7:45-Ira North and Joe White

8-9-Otis Gatewood (church bldg.) Spreading the Kingdom in Germany. James Baird (Alumni Aud.) Spreading the Kingdom through the Local Congregation.

Thursday, Jan. 20 9-10-Dr. Stroop-(same) 10-11-A. C. Pullias-Spreading the Kingdom through Benevolent Work. 11-12—J. P. Sanders—Spreading the Kingdom through Christian Education.

Mrs. T. B. Thompson (same) 12-1-Alumni luncheon for all former students-College Student Center -2-Report from Mission Field.

3-4—Panel (members—Paul Hall, A. R. Holton, John Imerson, E. W. Stovall, J. P. Sanders, chairman.) Kingdom is Spreading by Radio and T.V. 4-5-Henry Arnold-Cloristers

5:50—14th Annual Fellowship Dinner for ministers who have been preaching for more than 40 vears.-H. A. Dixon, High School Chorus, Quartette, Men's Glee Club.

8-9-Otis Gatewood (Alumni Aud.) same

James Baird (church bldg.)

Friday, Jan. 21 9-10-Dr. Stroop (same) 10-11-John Iverson-Spreading the Kingdom through the Home. 11-12-Carroll Ellis-Founder's Day Oritorical Contest; Mrs. T.

B. Thompson (same) 1-2-Bob Anderson - Spreading the Kingdom through Work of one Congregation. 2-3-Tennessee Orphan Home: Potter Orphan Home.

6-1148

Purity Dairies Nashville's Finest Milk

3-4-Marshall Keeble.

360 Murfreesboro Road

Wear The Best

'DEER CREEK' SPORTS WEAR

> LIPSCOMB SEWING SHOP

40041/2 Granny White Pike (Upstairs)

Plain and Fancy Sewing Mending and Alterations Letters and Numerals Sewed on

Telephone 9-0113

Mrs. C. C. Albin, Manager

Hey, Look . . .

Pink Isn't Sissy Any More

The colors pink and black are at present the height of fashion, from the "tiny toddler" to the collegiate male to the

All the way from pink and black striped ties to pink and black socks (and even pink shoes for the men) the baby color has taken over

Charcoal is the popular new color for men's suits, girls' skirts jackets and almost all other sport outfits. There is charcoal grey, which is a shade darker than plain grey, and also charcoal black which is black with flecks of white in it.

executive. And the girls like them too!

Light grey flannel pants are another popular item in the man's wardrobe. A charcoal coat with his grev flannel pants and pink shirt makes a snappy outfit. New Trend in Ties

The new style in ties is narrow, about two and three-quarters nches at the widest. The majority of men like a striped tie out stripes haven't dominated the scene by any means.

Some of the black knit ties have pink designs on them that resemble the Eiffel Tower. There are also dots and "dodads" and just about every other design one ing out in pink and black. One unusual pin had a pink background with a black horse's head on it. The boys are wearing pink pull-

Even the tie pins are com-

Page 3

over sweaters and also pink dress shirts with button down collars and narrow pink belts to match. But, not to be out-done, the girls are wearing blouses made like men's shirts with French cuffs and, they too, are pink. Red and white striped blouses with belts to match are popular too with the female set.

It isn't sissy any more, for the new baby boy in the family to be decked out in pink sweaters caps, booties, or buntings-he's right in style. From dad on down to baby son-"It's pink-and-charcoal-season.

leaders had broken promises and double-crossed whenever many they have relied on two factors: national power and national unity. They played the of their old leader Bismarck that to be strong is to stay united with

Childs stated that we have to face reality-if we work at an effort to integrate, there is a chance that we can have unity with West Germany and thus they

He asked Miss Schultz if she believed that Germany is still the entity that it was under Hitler.

Her reply was that it was not as strong, but that the United States had done much to help strengthen

"They believed in the teaching

East against the West.

Must Face Reality

can become our ally.

its entity.

"In past experiences with Ger-

Schultz, Childs Give Views On U.S.-German Alliance She added that the German

"'Can West Germany Be An Effective Ally?' is a question vital to young Americans," was the opening statement of James F. Murray, Jr. Tuesday night at the beginning of America's Town Meeting of the Air.

Murray was the moderator of this audience-participation program which originated on the Lipscomb campus under the cosponsorship of the Lipscomb Artist Series and Purity Dairies, Inc.

Marquis Childs, internationally known newspaper columnist and commentator, speaking for the affirmative, referred first to West German Chancellor Conrad Adenauer's desire for effective alliance between West Germany and other free countries. World War I," Childs pointed out, "Russia wanted a neutralized Germany so they many.' "War has made a lasting impression on them," he added. "They are not likely to want another one could dominate all of Ger-

The negative speaker, Miss Sigrid Schultz, noted author of Germany Will Try Again, said as her main point, "The basic requirement for an effective ally is loyalty.'

LANDON'S

Your Neighborhood

HARDWARE

At this point, Murray asked the question, "Would Germany abandon unity with the United States for unity of their whole country if Russia offered it?"

Miss Schultz, in reply to the question said, "If West Germany can escape a war and be united with East Germany, they will join with Russia."

One of her main arguments through-out the evening was that the German government is infiltrated with ex-Nazis and there-

The last part of the program was open to the audience to ask questions of both speakers.

The National Life and Accident Insurance Co.

NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

HIGH QUALITY PRINTING

Books, magazines, catalogs, folders . . . anything Contact one of these Lipscomb alumni in our office:

PAUL W. MOORE, CLASS OF '38 LARRY WILLIAMS, CLASS OF '39 V. M. WHITESELL, CLASS OF '41

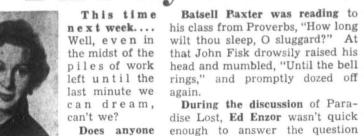

JAMES W. BOYD, CLASS OF '51 Williams PRINTING CO.

417 COMMERCE • NASHVILLE • TELEPHONE 6-7126

E. A. BERGSTROM, VICE-PRES.

J. R. OVERALL, PRES.

Member Associated Collegiate Press EDITORIAL STAFF Editor-in-Chief Peggie Herron Associate Editor Mary Lou Carter

know the

"How many angels fell from para-"Come now, Mr. Enzor.

Surely you have discussed this with your Bible teacher," reprimanded the teacher. "As a matter of fact. I have. But he says he has his own opinions," came

By Bob Sivley

In a world filled with vital and complex problems demanding the ttention of able men, the United States Senate last week argued about whether or not to censure one of its members.

Though this Senator refused to appear before a committee appointed by the Senate itself, and though his abuse of an officer in the United States army is a matter of record, and though a mere scanning of newspapers for the past three years reveals numerous insulting remarks about the lack of sanity, intelligence, and loyalty of certain of his fellow senators are all matters of record, the Senate could

Said one observer: "There is a three-ring circus going on in Washington, and there are a lot more than three trying to get into not decide whether the member in question should be cen-

comments describe the present Senate haggling over whether or not to officially reprimand Senator Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin. The debate ran the gamut of proposals to expel McCarthy from the Senate to suggestions that a "watered down" censure resolution be passed, all the way to recom-erected in appreciation of the service that he has rendered. Says McCarthy himself: "I still believe I will be censured." The majority of observers agreed with mendations that a statue be

Ike Calls for Ratification President Eisenhower called on the senate last week to ratify the agreement of western powers, reached in London and Paris this Fall, in which plans are made for the rearming of West Germany, vent the rise of German mili-The president's request was interpreted as a move to quiet the fears of the senate, concerning the effect that ratification may have on France, Germany and Russia.

while maintaining controls to pre-

The agreements are the result of months of labor on the part of the leaders of the western powers, including the United States Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles. An analysis by Dulles accompanied the Eisenhower message to the senate.

This agreement may well turn out to be one of the most important documents of our time if it accomplishes its purpose: the inclusion of the sovereign state of Germany-the new Germany-into a coalition of powers, dedicated to stopping Communist advances toward the west.

STUDENT BOARD NOTES
President Pullias told the Student Board last Tuesday that Lipscomb had met the minimum requirements for entry into the Southern Association.
This does not mean that we will be accepted.

The Student Board has decided to furnish half of the expense for the decorations that will be used in McQuiddy gym for the Inter-class basketball tournament. The "L" club will furnish the other half.

The question of lights for the tennis courts was brought up again. Nothing definite has yet been decided.

have their celebrations at different

In 1864 the second proclamation was issued by President Lincoln. In it he "appointed and set aside" the last Thursday of November as a day of national thanksgiving "for the defense against unfriendly designs without and signal victories over the en-hold. Until 1939, each president folowed Lincoln's example in proclaiming the last Thursday of November a national day of thanksgiving. In that year Franklin D. Rooseemy who is of our housevelt, desiring to lengthen the interval between Thanksgiving and Christmas, named the next to the last Thursday as the date of celebration. But in December 1941 Congress passed a resolution making the fourth Thursday a legal celebrated by appropriate sermons and religious exercises. Then comes the traditional family reunion at Grandmother's house and the traditional Thanksgiving tur-However, the turkey we eat

Thanksgiving Day is usually today has only the vaguest sort of kinship with the native North American wild turkey which was the heart and symbol of the Pilgrim Long before the men who were to become the pilgrims were born in England the Spaniards came upon flocks of the noblest fowl

they had ever seen, which the Indians had been raising in their corn patches for hundreds of The Indians did not name the turkey in honor of an Oriental land of which they had never heard. They thought "turkey" sounded like the cry it gave when it was excited. Thus our traditional Thanksgiving bird was named!

> FITTS &z

FLOWERS

CRAWFORD

2816 West End Ave. 7-5946

Herd... Sportlight

Tonight's the night! Everybody comes to the class tournament.

If you haven't got your ticket, borrow a quarter and be at the gym by 7:15. You'll see a great first game between the juniors and sophomores. The sophs have been mentioned by several around campus as being the easy marks of the tourna-

They'll be out to see that a few words are eaten by those "several." Merely the fact that they are upper-classmen will be incentive enough for an all-out effort by the juniors. Imagine the humiliation of losing to a lower class! Would take months

The senior-frosh game should really be interesting. Freshman president Bill Banowsky somehow feels that his little lambs are being fed to the senior wolves. His teammates hope to prove him wrong. The highly-confident seniors feel that the tourney is in the bag. It may bethey certainly have the material.

The cheerleaders are ready. The teams are ready. Are you

Varsity

Monday night at 8:00 p.m. in McQuiddy gym the '54-'55 Bison cage season opens—and don't you forget it! We want the dorms empty and the gym filled. Day-students invited too. The promise of seeing Robert (30-points-a-game) Barnes pit his style against Donelson and crew should bring you out. We think the Bisons will show you a scrapping team. And if they do scrap they stand a good chance of springing an upset.

Put that ol' s.a. card in your pocket and come to the game. Colson, Jones-Fast break artists

The team is giving out with a lot of hustle and "go" in practice sessions. Saw them hit forty straight crips the other day. Colson and Jones are shining on fast-breaks defense. Freshman Keith Gerald can really jump for a

Here's a tip-if Belmont uses a man-to-man defense, look for some double-post play patterns by the Herd. They've been working on them a lot.

Congrats to the football all-stars—twelve men who could make a lot of college teams. What a hustling bunch those Pirates were! Dan Kimbell kept those boys so fired up they had to win. The Rams had a fine team, but this is one time when spirit topped ability.

Paul Dillingham thinks we should apologize for our jibe of two weeks ago concerning the fact that the Gladiators didn't win in basketball last year. Men, we're sorry if we offended. We were hoping the remark would spur you on to greater effort in your attempts to gain a victory. We want you to win.

Ronnie Morrell is a hard man to guard. . . . Jimmy Walker can turn on the steam when driving for the basket. . . . Don McAlister can block those shots around the circle. . . . "Timber" is the Knight's mascot. . . . Says she's the trainer also. . . .

In college football this seems like the week when conference champions are decided. Ohio State plays Michigan tomorrow at Columbus for the Big Ten title. If Michigan wins it's a tie.

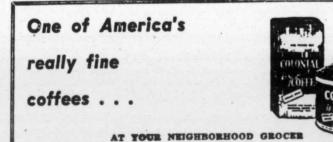

UCLA can clinch the Pacific Coast crown if they beat Southern Cal. Oklahoma will be tops in the Big Seven if they whip Nebraska. Yale can rule the Ivy League with a win over

In the SEC we must wait until next week for the verdict. Ole Miss needs a victory over Mississippi State on the 27th to sew up the championship.

If Ole Miss loses the winner of the Georgia-Ga. Tech. clash will be champ. The Southwest, true to form, is a three-team

Last week's defeat of Arkansas brought Baylor and SMU into the title picture.

Locally, the big game finds Vandy putting its perfect record (0-6) on the line against Villanova. The string might be broken this week.

12 Football All-Stars Selected

THE BABBLER

NEWLY ELECTED ALL-STAR members in the Intramural Football League are-Front row-left to right: Don McAlister, Tommy Warren, Wayne Wright, Carl Walker, Jimmy Throneberry, Don Montgomery. Back row-left to right: John Lawson, Boodie Fox, Herman Roger Todd Montgomery, Dan Kimbell, Ken Dugan, Max Wilcox.

The 1954 Intramural All-Star of the club presidents and direcfootball team was selected this tor Gene Boyce. week by a committee composed The Rams pace the team with Dick Batey twelve. The Pirates and Knights were runners-up with two each. The Comets led the second team with four places.

The All-Star teams are as fol-FIRST TEAM

Max Wilcox Comets
Boodie Fox Knights
Don Montgomery Pirates
Carl Walker Buccaneers
Dan Kimbell Pirates
Charles Lawson Rams
Ken Dugan Rams
Don McAlister Rams
Tom Warren Rams
Herman Montgomery Knights
Jim Throneberry Rams
Wayne Wright Knights
SECOND TEAM
Bill McCleskey Comets
Don Holliday Comets
David Woody Cavaliers
Doug Taylor Cavaliers
Bob Harris Rams
Bill Camp Pirates
Roger Todd Pirates

Buccaneers

Gladiators

Knights

Comets

Arthur Gardner

Robert "Corkey" Brown

Charles Hailey

Meet the Bison Herd . . .

READY TO FIGHT BELMONT are Bison cagers, who are, left to right, Jerry Jones, Leslie Sherrill, Jerry Brannon, Coach Sherrill, Gary Colson, Roger Villines, Tom Pate, Keith Gerald, Walter Glass, Marlin Connelly, McCoy Kilpatrick, Archie Crenshaw, Ken Donaldson, John Friend, Gayle Napier, Ed Binkley.

Pirates Take

rates winning over the Rams 31-

The Pirates were the first to score on an interception by Max Cagle. The Rams struck back swiftly to go ahead seven to six.

Shortly thereafter, Bill Camp took a 40-yard pass from Ronnie Hogue and went all the way to put the Pirates back in front.

Ken Dugan very quickly placed the Rams back in the lead with several nice runs. Camp then drifted behind the safety man and took a long pass from Hogue to set up the next touchdown for the Pirates.

Kimbell went over for the Pirates to again put them ahead. As soon as the Pirates took possession of the ball, Kimbell made another run for a score to put the Pirates still further ahead.

On the following kickoff, Billy Ables of the Rams went all the way for another Ram score, making the score 25-20. The Pirates scored again in the closing minutes on a spectacular run by Roger

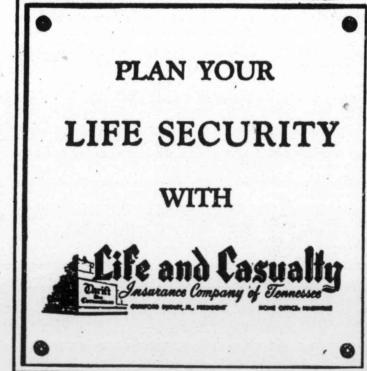

Basketball Match Under Full Swing

The Intramural Basketball end last Thursday with the Pi- round of the double-elimination tournament Monday night.

The defending champion Rams topped the Knights 35-28 behind the twelve points of Jimmy Throneberry and the all-round floor play of Don McAlister.

The tall Bucs overpowered the Pirates 42-28 with the Walker boys, Carl and Jimmy, leading the way with 12 points each. The surprising Eagles upset the Cavaliers Intramural football came to an League moved into the second 45-39 as Ronald Joyce made fif-

> The B League opens its play next Tuesday with four games: 5:15 p.m. Pirates vs. Knights 6:15 p.m. Gladiators vs. Buccaneers 7:15 p.m. Comets vs. Eagles 8:15 p.m. Cavaliers vs. Rams

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION ACCEPTS LIPSCOMB

The Baller Pullias, Sanders Attend Meet In Louisville

Six Seniors Complete Work,

Receive Degrees in June

cessful completion of their work this quarter:

Forensics to Begin Next Month

Bible Reading Added This Year

by Jeannette Arnold

The sixth annual Intramural Forensic Tournament is scheduled for Jan. 31 through Feb. 4.

Seven events will be open for competition and each class is allowed to enter two men and two women in each of the following events: Extempore Speaking, Oral Interpretation, After-Dinner Speaking, Radio Speaking, and Bible Reading.

Students who have won first or second in intercollegiate competition in any event are ineligible for that event.

Bible reading has not been

Miss Wilma

Curtis. Lips-

comb High senior from Nash-

$1,000 scholarship by the

Lion Oil Schol-

High School Senior Wins $1000 Award In 'Lion' Contest

arship Foundation. This an-Wilms Curtis nouncement comes from Mack Craig, High School Principal. Miss Curtis was declared first place winner in Lion Oil's annual essay contest for her entry entitled Why I Want A College Winner in the Southern Region, Miss Curtis will also compete in the National Contest sometime in 1955. The winner in this division receives a $4,000 scholarship.

Miss Curtis will enter Lipscomb College in the fall and will use the award to further her education. Her English teacher, Miss Eva McCanless, will also receive $200 from the Foundation.

offered in previous tournaments and those who compete in this new division may select their own passages from either the Old Testament or the New Testament and the three and five minutes. "Resolved that the United States should give diplomatic recognition to Red China" will be the debate issue. Each team will debate at least four times, twice on the affirmative and twice on the nega-

reading should last between

As many as five teams may be entered by one class. Each team, consisting of two debaters, may be composed of men, women, or may be mixed. However, a debater must not have participated in more than five intercollegiate judged debates.

Each class will present a oneact play chosen with the approval of the class sponsor. Any student is' eligible to participate in the plays with the exception of Dramatic Club members who have played a leading role in a major

Anthology Accepts ville, has been Two Student Poems awarded a

Poems written by two Lipscomb students. Frances Brummitt, and Peggie Herron, have been selected to appear in the College Anthology of Poetry, published annually by the National Poetry Association, at Los Angeles.

FHC Transfer Miss Brummitt, a junior, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cayce Brummitt, of Gleason, Tenn. A transfer from Freed-Hardeman, Miss Brummitt won second prize in an essay contest there her freshman year. She also had poetry published in the High School Anthology, and is a member of the Creative Writers' Club.

Edits BABBLER

Miss Herron, also a junior, is Editor-in-Chief of the BABBLER, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. (Continued on page three) production at Lipscomb or at any other college. Members of the Footlighters may supervise or direct the plays. "National and International Affairs" will be the general subject for Extempore Speaking. Sub-· jects will be drawn forty-five minutes before speaking time and the speeches, limited to a maximum of six minutes, will be judged on the basis of content. organization, and delivery.

For Oral Interpretation. contestants will select appropriate lyric and/or narrative (Continued on page three)

Martin Thomas Binkley, B.A.

John Cliett Goodpasture, B.A.

Binkley, who majored in elementary education and minored in physical education, is the son of

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Binkley,

Nashville, and a graduate of Bellevue High School, where he lettered

A home economics major, Miss

Butler minored in general business. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs.

E. G. Butler, live in Jackson,

Tenn., and she is a graduate of Goodpasture has followed a ministerial program, with a major in history and minor in speech. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. C.

Goodpasture, Nashville, and a

Also a ministerial student,

Lipscomb High School graduate.

Keith majored in speech and minored in Bible. His home is in Birmingham, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H.

Keith and another Lipscomb

One of the 13 seniors selected

High School graduate.

Jackson High School.

Beverly Anne Butler, B.S.

Charles Myron Keith, B.A.

John Robert McRay, B.A.

Hillard Story, B.A.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 2, (2:00 p.m.)—David Lipscomb College is officially accepted by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools

This step came as the result of Membership in the Southern As-Lipscomb's first application for sociation will enable the College membership earlier in the fall. President A. C. Pullias and Dean young people as years go by." J. P. Sanders attended the meeting of the Association and received word of Lipscomb's acceptance vesterday.

According to Pullias, "Membership in the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools is the final step in the permanent change of David Lipscomb College from a junior to a senior Officials of the Association have been most helpful in every way, and Lipscomb is grateful to them. This is not the end of our journey toward improvement: it is just a milestone along the way.

for WHO'S WHO IN AMERICAN

COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES.

McRay is completing a ministerial program as a major in Bible and minor in Greek. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. McRay,

Holderville, Okla., and a graduate

Story is another ministerial student, majoring in Bible and minoring in Greek. His parents, Mr.

and Mrs. Harley L. Story, live in Spring Hill, Tenn., and he is a graduate of West Plains High

ment at the University of Florida solved that the United States should extend diplomatic recognition to the Communist government of China," McWhorter and

Morrison will be in the affirmative and Connelly and Slate in the Debating on the subject. "Re-

School, West Plains, Mo.

Debate Teams

Go to Florida

at Gainesville Dec. 9-11.

of Holderville High School.

to render better service to more

Killebrew Wins New York Trip

student, Miss Wilmoth Killebrew, a freshman, won the Kentucky State Farm Bureau Young People's Talk Meet in Louisville, Nov 16. Her subject

Pre-nursing

Miss Killebrew was "Democracy Doesn't Just Happen - It Must Have a Christian Founda-

In winning the contest, she also won a trip to New York, Dec. 11, to compete in the National Farm Bureau Young People's Talk Registrar Ralph R. Bryant reports that the following will qualify for their respective degrees next June with the suc-

A 1954 graduate of Trenton Independent High School in Trenton, Ky., Miss Killebrew had previously won the Todd County contest in Elkton in September and the District contest in Madisonville, Ky., in October.

Founder's Day Speeches Filed

The winning speeches in the Founder's Day Oratory contest to be held Jan. 21 will be filed in Chrisman Memorial Library. This practice has also been carried out in past years; however, this fact was not generally known.

For the last four years the winners of this event in honor of Don McWhorter, Philip Morri-David Lipscomb have also won son, Marlin Connelly, and Philip the State Oratorical Contest. Slate will attend a debate tourna-

"Judging from the number of persons who took copies of the rules for the contest," Dr. Ellis said, "there seems to be an unusual amount of interest this year."

Three judges will be selected for the preliminary and final contests. The preliminary round will be held Jan. 13 to select three speakers for the final contest.

Greetings from the Staff ...

wish all 800 of you the most joy- Herron, editor-in-chief; Paul Rog- Patterson, second page editor; THE AIR THIS CHRISTMAS we of the BABBLER staff would ous holiday season ever! The ers, business manager; Mary Lou Cornelia Turman, feature editor;

EVE, each of his lively reindeer like to take this opportunity to Staff from right to left: Peggie Carter, associate editor; George and Matthew Morrison, cartoonist.

Thanks for New School Spirit

We have heard talks that were made to stimulate school spirit; editorials have been written for the same purpose. We have talked about it to other students. At our last home game we saw some good school spirit.

The cause? It could be the new system of being admitted on student activity cards. It could be the effect of all the writings (both scholarly and otherwise) and comments on the subjects. We know that the team has helped; but we are sure it has been largely the efforts of all the student body.

May we say, "Let us keep up the good work." Tonight, tomorrow night, and all other game nights, let all of us be over in the gymnasium to show our team that we are behind them and that we have good school

No Holiday Season in Russia

No Christmas? Certainly not! We will have our celebrated holiday this yuletide as we have had for many years in the past. There will be that happy, cheerful feeling that always comes during the season. There will be laughter and merriment around the Christmas tree that night as we open packages; the next morning there will be the pleasure of watching the little ones see what Santa Claus left for them.

But, on the other hand, some people will have no Christmas. There will be no Christmas in Russia. There will be no happy cheerful feeling that day; they will only have another day. The Red leaders will not let the Russian people celebrate Christmas. There will be no Christmas tree.

They will be happy if they have some extra wood to burn in their crude stoves. Christmas morning will bring no delight to the young children; that is, unless they have enough to eat for their breakfast.

May we remind you, as we did in the last issue, that every day should be a day of thanksgiving—thanks for our freedom to enjoy holidays, for our freedom in government, and most of all, for our freedom to worship God.

Band Renders Delightful Music

May we take this opportunity to express appreciation to the revolutionized Lipscomb Band and to director Jeff Green for their delightful chapel program last Wednesday. The music was enlightening, and the variety of selections was especially appropriate.

One student was heard to remark that a portion of the Student Body acted rather "juvenile" by laughing and squirming as the chimes rang, during which time the Band was playing the "Nutcracker Suite."

Perhaps this behavior should not be severely attacked since such an incident has not previously occurred during this quarter; the guilty ones may condemn themselves if they like. To do so here would but detract from the praise and thanks which the Band and its director merit.

Student Board Is All Yours

Whenever, and wherever people live or work as a group under a government, they like to have a voice in the making of the laws and rules. That is evidenced by our senators and various other representatives.

The Student Board is the voice of the students. The Board meets weekly with the school officials and voices the com- from a scaffold. This definitely plaints, passes along the compliments, and suggests new ideas of the students.

We wish to remind you that the Board depends upon you ten out that Ralph Bryant in his to voice your opinions to them-whether it be through the dorm representative, the "suggestion box", or a personal talk

The Babbler

Entered as second-class matter, December 26, 1923, at the post office, Nashville, Tenn., under the Act of March 3, 1897.

Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1916; authorized, Nashville, Tenn. Published weekly during the regular school year except during holidays or examination periods by the students of DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE, Nashville, Tenn.

Office located on second floor Crisman Memorial Library. Member

Associated Collegiate Press

			D
Peggie Herron																, ,				1	Ed	lit	or-	ir	1-	Ch	lef
Mary Lou Carter																		 		A	.58	00	ciat	0	E	dit	OF
George Patterson	 																				E	di	tor	ia	1	Pa	ge
Cornelia Turman	 					4								ike is							F	ea	tur	e	E	dit	OF
Matthew Morrison	 													*			٠.		*				Sta	f	I	Art	ist
		1	BI	JE	31	IN	I	35	S	S	T	A	U	F	F

Business Manager Paul Rogers ADVISORY STAFF Editorial Advisor Bob Sivley Willard Collins

LIPSCOMB DAY by DAY

Here it is the middle of finals already! Tempus will fugit, won't it. It's been great meeting you here each week (you have been here, I hope), so since this is the last column of the year, I've enclosed a little message for you.

MOST of us like turkey, but nothing like the way that Anne Hackett does. She eat's it bone and all. Thanksgiving Day she began to devour the traditional bird, but was brought to an abrupt halt when a bone got stuck in her

The rest of the day and that night were spent going through two clinics and a hospital. And, Anne, you had had turkey only two days before.

EAVESDROPPING (if you'll pardon the expression) on two of the faculty members, we overheard the following conversation: Dr. Landiss: Where are you living now. Dr. Clipp?

Dr. Clipp: At home. Ask a logical question and you get a logical answer.

REMARKABLE, isn't it. The npressions that children can get. that is. Take for instance the little girl who was talking to Jim Blevins in the drugstore. "My brother goes to Father Ryan. Do you go to school at St. David Lipscomb here?" she queried.

READING the labels isn't always the safest precaution that one can take. "Drene" was what the label said, so Mary Kay Armistead began to "shampoo" her hair with the contents of the bottle. Too late she discovered that her hair was soaked in baby oil and jodine Seems her roommate Carolyn Collins, was using this concoction for suntan lotion and had put it in the shampoo bottle for safekeeping. Better luck next

YOU'VE heard of taking candy from a baby? See JoAnne Bigham to find out how it's done. While standing in line to see Santa Claus (she was, honestly), she heard him say, "Here's a lollipop for you, little girl." Not til she had taken the candy did she see the tot standing with outstretched hand beside her. At least, that's XACTLY what's going on, wonlered the Bisons when they returned from Union at two o'clock in the morning. Here came a mob of females with pajamas flapping and hair done up in curlers. So fired with school spirit were the Johnson Hall lasses that they could not wait to welcome back the victorious Herd.

MAYBE it's a secret society. Probably Communist cell. Whatever it is, it's mark is to be seen on every scrap piece of paper, every napkin, every table top in the Student Center—a man hanging calls for an investigation.

AND something else that needs looking into, The word has gotmath class has been leading his group in lengthy discussions of that mysterious game - called

SURELY was sorry to hear that Hope Camp caught cold. Will someone please tell him that if he will wash them out earlier they will get dry and he won't have to wear them wet.

AND

A HAPPY NEW YEAR, TOO!!

STUDENT BOARD NOTES

Williard Collins, Vice President of the college, resumed his place at the weekly Tuesday meeting of the Student Board; he had been away for the last two meetings.

Three items of interest to students this week are: (1) Elam Hall will officially have two representatives on the Student Board-one freshman and one

(2) Heretofore, the editor of the Tower, Lipscomb's literary publication, has not officially been on the Student Board. However, the constitution has been amended to provide for that publication's editor to be on the Board.

(3) Milk vending machines will be Faculty Advisor located in the dormitories sometime as the leaders of this country Paul Mills and Eunice Bradley Press Club Spensors during or before the Winter quarter. flounder and sputter.

Book Review:

Overstreet Writes Of Modern Problems

The Great Enterprise, by H. A. Overstreet, W. W. Norton & Co., New York, 1952.

The sub-title of this book is Relating Ourselves to Our World," and this phrase sums up the task of this great book from the pen of the author of The Mature Mind and a number of the other more outstanding works of

With his characteristic insight nto the problems of the modern American, Mr. Overstreet deals first with our own self image and then branches out, in the second part of his book, to the relation of this self to the world of today.

Among the more penetrating topics discussed is the subject of otalitarianism. Though the author does not give a special chapter to this theme, he is constantly shedding light on the conditions

By Bob Sivley

The basic difference among top U.S. leaders concerning American foreign policy became more apparent than ever before this week. as a result of dissatisfaction in this country over the treatment of 13 American prisoners of war by the Communist Chinese government.

Newspapers played up Senator Knowland's (Rep., Calif.) suggesion that the U.S. 7th Fleet should blockade the China coast in protest of the Reds' sentencing of the Americans to long prison terms.

However, many Americans breathed a sigh of relief when Secretary of State John Foster Dulles stated in his Chicago 4-H Clubs speech last Monday that we will not "be provoked into action which would be a violation of our international obligations and which would impair the alliance of the free nations." The 13 prisoners are guilty of espionage according to the Peiping government. The U.S. State Department claims that they are nothing more than prisoners of

More serious than the mere fact that the U.S. government is again bickering with the government whose existence it does not recognize over the lives and well being of American military men, is the fact that a top Republican, majority leader William Knowland, s spoken out in direct opposition to the policies of the Presi-

Their different approaches represent the two alternatives now facing America's leaders: whether to try to live in peaceful coexistence (a well-worn but still beautiful phrase) with the Communists or to take the other alternative, an all-out war.

Showdown is at hand By now, the U.S. Senate should have said "yes" or "no" as to whether or not it is to censure Joe McCarthy of Wisconsin.

The famous "Red-hunter" emerged from the hospital last week and for the first time offered a kind of half-hearted apology for some of the bad language and discourteous remarks he had made on the Senate floor.

This column is willing to go out on a limb at press time and predict that the censure resolution passed by a narrow margin, and that both sides are claiming that the results indicate a victory for their

Regardless of the results, we are glad that the spectacle that has existed in Washington for the past few weeks is no longer there for the world to see and gloat over, praise and devotion to the one in

in the human personality which foster the growth of political dic-

Very interesting, in the light of recent developments, is his exposé of some of the tactics being employed by present congressional committees, dedicated to uncovering subversion in this country. In pointing out the dangers of some of this work. Overstreet says: "... they have meant that a few members of Congress are in a position to define as they themselves may please the terms 'left winger,' and 'radical' and then to proceed to ruin, through the medium of newspaper publicity, the reputations and livelihoods of those who do not live by their particular definition of free enterprise." Later he says, "The most deadly danger of the committee lies in the fact that it substitutes for the established American principle of freedom to disagree the un-American principle of compulsion to conform-the ideas to which men must conform being prescribed by the

In an amazingly impartial manner. Overstreet discusses America's relations to the Soviet Union and what the implications of the Communist attitude toward the free world are. His solution to the problem: "The most effective way to drain the strength of the Communist enemy is to do the things that freedom calls for."

The Great Enterprise may be called a book of modern philosophy, written in the light of the latest scientific findings, especially in the fields of psychology and sociology, and of recent international developments. It has the effect of presenting to the reader the gravity of the world situation, but offering to him hope if the world can use the insights that the social sciences have provided through experimental study. These insights will enable modern men to approach the present crisis with a maturity that will enable them to see the viewpoint of all the peoples of the world and work, with their cooperation, toward a more united and humanity-centered society.

Living Religion

by Paul Rogers

"The place whereon thou standest is holy ground." These words, spoken emphatically to Moses, perhaps retain somewhat of their meaning for God's people today.

Among the more cherished moments of the Christian's life are spent in worshipping him which giveth life to all things. Unfortunately, however, the beauty of those moments is often blighted by an irreverent atti-

Is it not true that many times our worship to Jehovah consists of mere formalities, worn dull by constant repetitions?

We have encouraged all believers in Christ to partake of the Lord's Supper each first day of the week. Should we not as heartily endeavor to restore a reverent attitude in worship?

Jesus taught that "God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in

On one occasion, Ezra stood up to read the law to the people of Israel. "And when he opened it, all the people stood up." They arose in wonder and praise before the God of heaven.

How often are we guilty of talking, studying, or daydreaming when assembled for the express purpose of drawing near to God? All such action seems inconsistent with the occasion.

May it ever be our prayer that as we grow spiritually we may tune our hearts to more complete whom "we live, and move, and have our being."

Dear Santa

December 3, 1954

Teachers Tell Xmas Wishes

who believe in Santa Claus! At College Church in Abilene. least after interviewing several teachers at Lipscomb we have month will meet daily at 11:00 a.m. Students are especially income to that conclusion.

Some of the teachers even ask for things that are impossible, just have to go next door to watch as Junior wants a Rocket Ship to fly to the moon or a supersonic ray gun to change people into animals One example of these impossible gifts is Howard White, history professor's wish. He wants "more students who will read more of the excellent materials on history that are in the library." Mrs. Sara Whitten, English and French teacher, wants a television set so she can keep her sister's children at home and they won't

Mrs. Thompson On Lectureship

in January. Her hemeis Mrs. Thompson "Spreading the Kingdom through the Influence of a Christian Home.' Mrs. Thompson, a native of Dickson, Tenn., is a widow of T. B. Thompson, widely known gospel preacher. Her sister, Sarah Andrews, is one of the oldest missionaries on the foreign field, having served in Japan for many

Mrs. Thompson has taught special classes for women and intermediate groups in Tyler, Waco, Dallas, and Ft. Worth, Tex. She

> FITTS CRAWFORD

FLOWERS 2816 West End Ave.

McKay-Cameron Co.

Headquarters CHINA, GLASS, SILVER

212 3rd Ave., N. 6-0427

with what I get." "To get my car paid for," was Spanish teacher Miss Gladys conse c u t i v e Gooch's answer when asked what vear Mrs. T. B. her wish was. Thompson of Denton, Tex., will conduct a ladies' training

class during

Lecture Week

Dr. Ira North, speech professor, wants a hunting coat, trousers, and boots, and a box of 25 gauge shotgun shells. Physical education teacher, "Fessor" Boyce also wants new clothes. "I want my mother to be well

Her classes at Lipscomb next

From the basketball team, Coach

Elvis Sherrill wants a belated

Christmas gift, which includes a victory over Vanderbilt, and a

VSAC championship and tournament championship. "They can

Dr. Carroll Ellis, speech professor, wants only one thing-more students to be on time at his eight o'clock oral interpretation class

four is my wish," said Buddy Arnold. Dr. J. Ridley Stroop, psychology professor, wants "nothing

in particular, so I'll be satisfied

"Chapel singing at ten, two and give me all of this," he added.

vited to attend.

"Howdy Doody."

so we can have a good Christmas with all the grand children coming to visit." said Miss Jennie Pittie Brown, English teacher. Miss Eunice Bradley, journalism teacher, said, "I want a shorter Christmas seasonat least wait until Thanksgiving is over before putting up the decorations."

Anthology Accepts ...

F. B. Herron, of La Center, Ky.

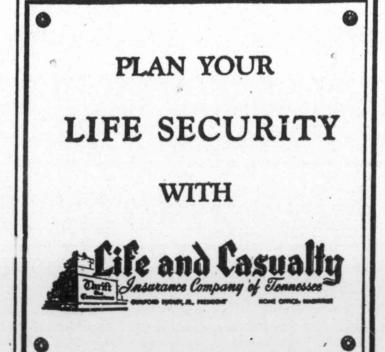

Last year she was associate editor of both the BABBLER and Tower, and president of the Creative Writers' Club. She is also associate editor of the Tower this year.

She was winner of the Creative Writers' short story contest in 1953, and has had work published in the Tower. Other of her writings have appeared frequently in the Progressive Farmer, the Christian Woman, and other publica-

The College Anthology of Poetry, according to Dennis Hartman, secretary to the National Poetry Association, "Represents the best in poetry being written by college men and women throughout the U.S. Of more than 100,000 poems submitted in the past 10 years. only 4,000 have been accepted for publication."

> Patronize THE LIPSCOMB

> > LAUNDRY

Yuletide Traditions Come from Afar

In tracing a few of today's customs, we find that the Christmas tree dates back to the 8th century, when Boniface was sent to the people with decorated trees.

Prince Albert, consort and Italy.

famous cedar trees.

The lighted trees were typically German and were introduced to England by

Queen Victoria. Santa Claus

comes from Holland and the stocking from Belgium, France

The Christmas trees in Syria

and other Middle East countries are perhaps the most beautiful in all the world, as they are the

Also in this section the gayety centers around Santa Claus. He has on his usual scarlet and his snowy beard, but his "belly" is bigger than in any other country

special beverage like our eggnog, called "Monkey's Tail."

because of the good food there.

Santa Claus Bigger in Syria

by Cornelia Turman

"It's Christmas all over the world," is a familiar phrase about a month before Dec. 25 each year.

When Charles Dickens wrote his famous Christmas story "A Christmas Carol," he was undoubtedly thinking only of England. But in this present day we can find the spirit of Christmas from all over the world without ever leaving the

We need merely to visit the Secretariat of the United Nations where we find over 60 nationalities, representing nearly every religion, race, and creed in the world

Thirty-six hundred men and women staff these offices. And here we can glimpse the true and forget my birthday too, if they'll deepest meaning of Christmas when each year as the season rolls around, American members of the staff invite their colleagues from placed the idols worshipped by overseas to spend the holiday season in their homes.

> From these colleagues we learn their picturesque customs and traditions that are associated with Christmas, just as they learn ours. Cards Come from England

Our annual Christmas card exchange is a new experience for many visitors. The cards were an English idea that has grown continuously in the last one hundred years. Even our popular phrase "Merry Christmas" comes from old England. Mid-winter festivals of the early peoples are inter-woven with the beginnings of Christmas. The Saxons, the Druids, the Romans, adn the Scandinavians all poetry and will read between three and five minutes. Special attention should be given to certain factors such as moods, rhythm, vocal variety, action, and imagery. After-Dinner speeches should rather true after-dinner speeches in keeping with the situation. These speeches should be original with the speaker and the time limit will be five minutes. Any student who has been em-

Forensics to Begin ... (Continued from page one)

three months is ineligible for the Radio-Speaking division. Each contestant will read a dramatic monologue selected by the director, and the contestant may fore the contest. In addition, a commercial will be read, and this will be given to the contestant five minutes before the contest.

The class winning the largest number of points will be declared winner of the tournament and will have its achievement recorded on the large rotating trophy kept by the college. Individual winners will be given certificates of award ements regarding the number of points to be awarded for ticket sales will be made after the holidays. Probably each class that reaches its quota in sales will receive ten points.

No rules will be mimeographed, therefore anyone needing a copy of the rules for the tournament is advised to keep a copy of this issue of the BABBLER. In a future issue, a definite schedule of events will be announced.

A banquet is to be given at the close of the tournament for all contestants.

Trade at Hutcherson's

Joy's Flowers 601 Church

Alloway BROS. COMPANY Poultry Meats

had been off in Elam Hall was and Wanda Montgomery.

vians is called "papas a la huancaina," or POTATOES BAKED IN HOT STONES. The cooking is very much like a New England Clambake or a Baked Bean Supper in Nova Scotia. A deep hole is dug, lined with hot stones, potatoes are peeled, hollowed out and stuffed with a bean mixture and hot stones are shoveled on top of all this.

Kaidus Tradition in Ecuador

Well-known families in Ecuador are always on the alert for a Christmas custom called Kaidus.

This tradition is for an unexpected notice to be served on a luckless host, that fifty or more riends both hungry and thirsty are going to drop in on the family, all at once. The word Kaidus translated is "falls on one."

The three favorite meats of the Christmas season all over the world are the roast goose, roast pig and roast turkey

Iceland has no Santa Claus. Instead the young boys dress themselves as elves and dwarfs, and for twelve nights before Christmas put a little gift in the shoe of every child in every household.

In all these countries Christmas has religious significance. The church services are usually held on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day is the Feast Day. The very word Christmas means Christ's mass or church festival of Christ.

tual date of Christ's birth, this is where the celebration originated.

Christ's Birth Unknown In Chile many customs are Although we do not know the acsimiliar to ours, including a Quarterly Report . . .

Student Board Submits Plans

Following is the quarterly report of the Lipscomb Student not be sermons or readings but Board that has been submitted to the BABBLER for publication.

Sept. 22 It was decided not to have Saturday Night Parties every weekend, but to try to have better ones. No regional group meetings will be held this year. The possiployed as a radio announcer for bility of music in the Student Center was discussed. Sept. 29 A letter of appreciation was written to the elders of the Lipscomb congregation for the delicious food at the party. A sechave access to this selection betion in the BABBLER was designated for Student Board notes. An agenda was planned for each Student Board meeting. A council of presidents of all extra-curricular clubs was formed. Faculty Firesides was discussed.

Oct. 6 A committee was appointed to work up the Freshman Initiation. Admission to all varstiv ball games will be permitted with activity card. The meal ticket system was improved by having larger numbers put on them. Oct. 13 Final plans for Fresh-for the Faculty-Senior ball game was discussed and a committee was appointed. Oct. 20 The question of work- Johnson Hall. Collins gave the ing students being represented on details of lighting the tennis the Student Board was brought kets to "The Curious Savage" sackies. The regular meeting time for ration of the gym for the ball the Student Board was set for games in a rotating system. Tuesdays at 5:00. A new demerit been installed. forthcoming cheerleader elections were discussed.

port. The strict rules in Sewell stalled during the Christmas Hall were discussed.

Nov. 2 A suggestion box has cided to ask the welfare committee to discuss the problem.

'discussed. The problem of no trays on Sunday night in the cafeteria was brought up but was defeated because the colored help has to have some time off. Nov. 9 More problems in Elam Hall were discussed. It was discovered that the rooms in Elam could not be checked earlier in the day because the room checker could not be there to do it in the

Also the problem of boys' room numbers being turned in without their knowledge was brought up. Dean Sanders met with the Student Board in the absence of Collins. He discussed "Improving Faculty-Student Relations." Nov. 16 The Student Board decided to pay half of the expense of decorating the gym for ball games. The "L" Club will pay the

It was decided to submit the adopting of the Alma Mater to a vote of the student body after a period of trial. Lights on the tennis court was discussed.

President Pullias spoke in the absence of Collins on "Possibiliman initiation were made. Plans ties of Getting in the Southern Association." Nov. 22 The Patrons Association will buy full-length mirrors for courts, and a super system would up. It was decided that two tic- cost $15,000. The possibility of getting a cheaper system was diswould be awarded to the winning cussed. Each class will sponsor the deco-

Nov. 23 Three motions were system was discussed for the boys made for the next quarter: (1) in Elam Hall and this plan has To actively try to sell 400 tickets to the Vanderbilt game. (2) To Oct. 26 The Student Board was charter buses to go to Chattainvited to Vice-President Collins' nooga and Murfreesboro games. home for dinner on Nov. 4. The (3) To actively sponsor homecoming. Collins announced that the milk vendors which were sug-Collins explained the organiza- gested in an editorial in the BABtion of school and financial sup- BLER a few weeks ago will be in-

Members of the Student Board been made in the Student Center are Dick Batey, Ruth Behel, Bob for students to use. The rule of no Sivley, Ada Elliott, Ed Smith, late lights in Sewell Hall except Mamie Grindley, Ed Enzor, Earduring examinations was dis- line Doak, Bill Banowsky, Gay cussed and the Student Board de- McFarland, Peggie Herron, Bettye Beazley, Martha Copeland, Keith Ericson, Joe Camp, Carolyn John-The heat and hot water that son, Pat Crownover, Earl Edwards.

Holidays.

Won two, lost two. That, in short, is the story of the Lipscomb basketball team at the time of this writing. But that is not the whole story.

In the opening game against Belmont the Bisons gave us a sample of the kind of team they are. Those who watched the contest saw one of the greatest all-out team efforts ever displayed in McQuiddy Gym.

The spirit of the team was typified by big Slim Donaldson, who hobbled off the bench to lead the Herd with 16 points though noticeably hampered by a badly sprained ankle.

Napier, Friend, Donaldson Clean Boards

The rebounding of the Bisons was little short of sensational. Gayle Napier, John Friend, and Donaldson kept the Rebels in hot water all night with their board-sweeping tactics. Gary Colson came through with some good one-handers when they

The steady play of sub guard Leslie Sherrill was one of the most pleasant surprises of the game. Les scored six points and exhibited some smooth ball handling that gave promise of more service in future games.

Fellows, we get another shot at 'em in January. Maybe that five-point gap can be closed. Hmmm?

Friend, the rugged forward-center, sparked the win over Union. In addition to his usual consistant rebounding, he flipped in 19 points.

Freed-Hardeman Close Call

In the Freed-Hardeman game the Bisons proved they were a team that could come from behind. The Herd took over the lead from the fighting Lions in the closing minutes and hung on

The finish of the Birmingham-Southern game might have been different if Donaldson hadn't fouled out. The score was tied when he left the game, and the Southerner's went on to win by 18 points.

Tonight we get a chance to prove our school spirit at the opening game was not just a temporary excitement. Real school spirit lasts through victories and defeats with the same enthusiasm and interest in the team. Let's all be in the gym to see Lipscomb take F-H for the second time!

The L club came through in fine style. Spectators and players alike had much fun (even though it hurt to lose). We underclassmen must bow once again before "senior supremacy."

They left no doubt that they were the best. "Crip" Warren, Nanna, Big Mac, Batey, and Thorney were just too much. Congratulations, champs.

Charles Hailey says the tourney was a big success financially, too. The total proceeds came to approximately $140. As promised, the money will be spent for a worthy cause.

The L club has announced plans to treat some 30 underpriviledged children to a Christmas party. The heart-warming will be held in Burton Gym on Sunday afternoon Dec. 12.

Hats off to the new intramural champions! Golf champ James Pryor and tennis king Tom Downey should be proud of the honor they have won for themselves and their clubs.

The officials are really taking it on the chin in the basketball games. Perhaps the blame is to be shared. The whistletooting could use some improvement, but the players' attitudes aren't helping matters any.

After all, referees are only human. They can't help it if they are sometimes struck with momentary blindness.

Tommy Hipps says its true. In an Alabama high school game last year, Lexington led T. M. Rogers of Florence 51-36 with 58 seconds remaining. The Rogers players scored 17 points before the final gun and won 53-51. Some comeback,

Seems Like

- . . . Slim's hand was in Barnes' face the whole game. ... Vandy finally came through
- . . . the swim exam was rough again this year.
- . . . the crowd liked the tumblers.
- . . . volleyball exams have been abolished
- . . . we all ought to know the alma mater by heart.

Purity Dairies Nashville's Finest Milk

360 Murfreesboro Road

6-1148

Seniors Win Class Tourney

Warren Scores 24

Tommy Warren, classy senior pivot-man, emerged as the leading scorer of the Interclass Basketball Tournament. The rangy Warren, playing with an injured knee, scored 11 and 13 points in two games to pace the field.

Close behind in second place were Don McAlister of the seniors and sophomore Gene Ward with 22 point totals. The top ten scorers are listed below:

Tommy Warren Senior Gene Ward Soph. Don McAlister Senior Herbert Murphy Fresh.

Rams Edge Bucs

The defending champion Rams edged the plucky Buccaneers 43-42 Monday night in the opening game of AA league basketball

The Bucs led for most of the game but ran out of gas in the fourth quarter as the Rams began cleaning the backboards.

Don McAlister was a big thorn in the Bucs' side throughout the game with his uncanny tip-ins. Don scored 12 points as did Tommy Warren, who used the hook shot almost exclusively.

Jimmy Throneberry also added 12 with set shots and crips. Arthur Gardner was practically the whole show for the Bucs as he

The qualifying tournament was brought to a close with the A and AA leagues being set for season play. The A league is composed of the Cavaliers, the Pirates, the Eagles, and the Gladiators. The AA circuit has the Rams, the Buccaneers, the Knights, and the

The B league opened play with a full slate of four games. Jimmy Sweeney made 16 as the Bucs routed the Gladiators 41-22.

The Pirates took the Knights 34-28, and the Cavaliers surprised the Rams 35-30 with Alton Yates dropping in 17. The Comets won forfeit from the Eagles.

No more games are scheduled for any league until after the

Harry Rose Jimmy Throneberry Senior Arthur Gardner Jack Parks Wayne Wright Senior

After the final game a tournament all-star team was selected to honor the individual stars of the tourney. Seniors Tommy Warren and Don McAlister, junior Carl

Walker, sophomore Gene Ward, and freshman Arthur Gardner were chosen to the "dream team."

Tom Downey, a business administration major from Lawrenceburg, Tenn., is the new Intramural

Tennis Champion. He defeated

Eddie Gleaves 6-2, 6-0 to win the

The victory will mean 50 points for the Ram intramural club and 100 individual points for Tom

Tom Downey

toward the Outstanding Athlete

Tom, who is a junior transfer from Freed-Hardeman, first learned to play tennis as a boy

on the courts around Lawrenceburg. His high school had no team so formal training had to wait until he entered Freed-

Under Coach Robert Witt, Tom

played No. 1 his freshman and sophomore years and even beat the coach for the school championship. Tom has had quite a bit of tournament experience as back-

He was a simi-finalist in the

Roberts Cup Tourney at Jackson,

Tenn. in '53 and '54. He was runner-up in the Florence, Ala.

Open Tournament in '54. Tom says he plans to try out for the

Tom believes much of his success in tennis comes from his diligent practice and his study of top-

the Bisons eked out a 72-69 victory over Freed-Hardeman in the Lions' Den, before a homecoming

growd of 2,500 fans. Outscrapped on the boards, the Bisons were hardpressed to win, but accurate

shooting, especially by the men out front, brought victory. Ken

Donaldson, lame leg and all, led the Bison five with 16 points,

while Colson got 12 and Crenshaw had 10. J. P. Shelley got 28 points for Freed-Hardeman and

The trip to Birmingham, where the Bisons encountered a victory

thirsty Southern quintet, was not successful in so far as victory is concerned. Birmingham-Southern pulled away during the second half, with Lynn Crouch and Jim

Ensor's deadly shooting, and when the final buzzer sounded. owned

Big Crouch poured in 24 points

during the game and 6'1" freshman Jim Ensor tallied 15 in pac-guard, each had 16 points for ing the Southern five to victory.

a commanding 87-69 victory.

B'ham offered too much

Ellen sunk 15.

Bisons Edge F.H.

varsity squad this spring.

ground for his win over Gleaves.

Hardeman.

Downey Named

Tennis Champ

The juniors played scrappy ball but were never in the game after the start of the second half. The seniors led 26-16 at intermission and won going away, 60-34.

Sophs Win Consolation

The sophomores eked out a victory in the consolation game as guard Terrill Seivers scored a game-winning basket in the fading seconds of the fourth quarter. The final score of the thrilling contest was 39-38 as Gene Ward led the sophs with 14 points and Herbert Murphy made 12 for the Preliminary games to the finals saw the juniors whip the sophomores 50-43 and the seniors clip the freshmen 54-45. Carl Walker of the juniors starred in the first game as he made 12 points and dominated the boards. G. W. Head led the sophs with

McAlister was the hero for the seniors with 16 points, the highest individual single game

Harry Rose scored on 12 free throws and added a field goal to finish with 14 for the losing Frosh.

Napier Strengthens Bison Five

Perhaps the most pleasant surprise of the young basketball season has been the performance of Gayle Napier, Bison forward.

Napier, a transfer student from Florida Christian College, has proven to be a great asset to Coach Sherrill's squad. He has established himself as the top rebounder for the team and a great clutch shooter.

Since he is only a junior, some feel that he can easily rewrite Lipscomb basketball records before finishing school.

Off the court Napier is a shy, soft-spoken young man. One would never guess him to be a basketball player. What's more, he really has something to be proud of-a charming wife and a new baby girl born last Sunday

But Belmont Won . . .

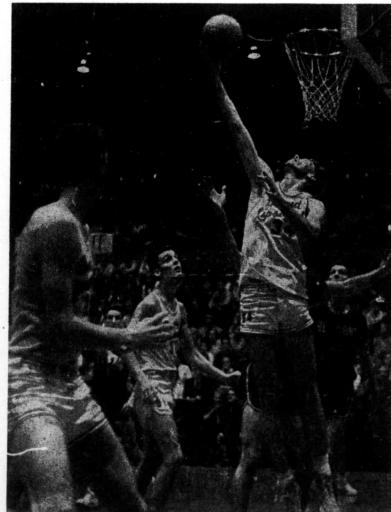

Photo courtesy of J. F. Conn, Jr., Nashville Tennessea BREATHING FIRE DOWN BELMONT'S NECK is GAYLE NAPIER and his fabulous hook shot. COL-SON, center, and KEN DONALDSON, far left are

John Friend continued his scoring and paced Lipscomb with 17 points while Ken Donaldson ripped the nets for ready to spring into action. GROSS of Belmont, No. 8, 14. Substitute Walter Glass and Jerry Jones, pepperpot eagerly awaits the rebound. BELMONT won by five

Board Plans New Projects

The Student Board has launched an all-out campaign to stimulate enthusiasm for the forthcoming Lipscomb-Vanderbilt game Monday night, Jan. 24.

Bob Sivley has been appointed chairman of a committee to plan the ticket sales, and there are 532 tickets in the hands of the Board. Peggie Herron also serves on this

Since the game is to be played. at Vanderbilt, busses will probably be chartered to transport Lipscomb students for a slight The Board also is planning to secure busses for the Murfreesboro and Chattanooga games, and there is the possibility of a plane being chartered for students interested in making the Chattanooga trip.

to the campus several new feaweek, various exhibits will be on

Locally, the Madison congregation has developed a detailed record of its progress during the

In the background of this exhibit will be an old fashioned balance-type scale, which will represent the contribution. A scale

map of Madison showing the 39

zones into which the congregation

is divided, with neon lights flashing on and off until all 39 zones

Over the exhibit there will be a huge banner: "A Local Church on

Lubbock Sends Children's Home

'Tower' to Be

Ready by Spring

A full-scale model of the Chil-

Since its beginning in June 1946

the Tower has had many improvements over the original ten-page pamphlet. This year brings the biggest step taken in its short life-

For the first time the Tower is going to be presented in one issue.

slick paper and will have a photo-

The Tower continues to deal

strictly with the material presented by the students. It is still publication won third place.

week of spring quarter.

Visual Department.

pictures by James Clipp.

Magazine Accepts

Gunselman Article

a national magazine. Both articles have been accompanied with graph cover.

the feature side.

have been lighted, is also a part of the display.

tures Jan. 16-21. Throughout the to the campus. The Home, sup-

A MOB OF LIPSCOMB STUDENTS were on hand to greet A. C. Pullias, president, and J. P. Sanders, Dean, as they arrived from Louisville. Occasion for the giant-sized welcoming committee was acceptance of Lipscomb for membership in the Southern Association of Colleges

The Babbler

will be brought by trailer truck

ported by the Broadway Church in Lubbock, provides a place for

B. C. Goodpasture, president and editor of the Gospel Advocate, is preparing a 100th-anniversary exhibit of the magazine, which will complete its 100th year in students who have "B" on no more than three hours and "A" on all others, includes 18 persons for the fall quarter. They are:

Jack Ashley, Marlin Connelly*, Ann Derseweh, Joanne Edmondson, Pat Fyfe, Jess Hall, Kitty Hardin, Danny Harless, Eddie Holley*, Gilbert Hunter, Nancy Loyd*, James Glen Mayfield, Don Montgomery, Phillip Morrison, Sam Richardson*, Sonia Riley, Katherine Sneed*, and

These and several other exhibits are being prepared especially for the Lecture Series.

40-Year Preachers Honored

Honoring all 40-year preachers, the Fellowship Dinner will be held McQuiddy Gymnasium on Thursday evening of Lecture Week. Some 1500 guests are expected to attend.

The guest list includes all preachers, elders and their wives from churches east of the Mississippi River. All Lipscomb student preachers and their wives and faculty and staff members will also be invited.

The Lectureship will officially begin on Monday morning, Jan. 16 at 10:00 a.m. It closes on Friday with an address by Marshall Keeble, president of the Nashville Christian Institute.

Alumni Notes

By Laura Tarence Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bass (Jane Harris) '50 and '44 are now living at 1017 D Birch Road, East Lansing, Mich.

a literary magazine but is leaning The Phil Cullums (Grace more than ever this year toward Smythe) '41 are living at 1146 Kirkland Avenue, Nashville. Mr. The new goal of the Tower is to Cullum recently became treasurer win the Associated Collegiate of the J. L. Perry Company, dis-Press All-American Award which tributor for Westinghouse appliis the highest award given to a ances and Armstrong and McGhee college magazine. Last year the floor covering and furniture in Nashville. He was formerly office The subject this year will be manager.

"campus life." The seniors will Caroline Jones '53 of Sterling especially appreciate it as a mo-Court, Nashville, will be married during January to James William mento of their last year here at Cross, III, United States Army. The publication date is the first The wedding will be in Heidelberg, Germany,

Jack Wilhelm '52 of Scottsboro, Ala., will be married during March to Mary Alice Smith x '56 of New Hope, Ala. Marian Fish '54 and Roy Clay

Educational Screen, a magazine Ezell '53 were married in Nashwhich gives helpful teaching hints, has accepted the article "Do You Memphis, Tenn. while Roy finishes Have a Droodle Board?" by Marhis medical training. Evelyn Silveman '54 and James shall Gunselman, of the Audio-

Davy '55 were married in Nash-This is the second article by ville on Dec. 18. Gunselman used for publication in

Anna Margaret Givens '52 was married on Dec. 18 to William Estes of Vicksburg, Miss. The wedding took place in Tanner, Ala. McAlister, and Mary Alice Bell.

New Features, Banquet 18 Students Make Highlight Lecture Week

Hillard Story.

Those named on the honor roll which is composed of the upper ten per cent of the regular student body, including the Dean's List, includes the following 72 persons:

David Seth Armstrong, Jeannette Arnold, Geraldine Ball, John Barton, Dick Batey, Bettye Beazley, Ruth Behel, Jo Anne Bigham, Beverly Brawner.

Beverly Butler, Thomas Burton, James Castleberry, James Clayon, James Clipp.

Robert Collier, Martha Coneland, Glenda Dabbs, Robert Dilgard, James William Dorris, Mary Alice Duncan, Randolph Dunn. Joyce Edmondson, Ada Elliott, Charles Eubank, Roger Flannery, Doris Franklin, Frances Gaither. Marianna Gates. Frankie Gregory, Mary Margaret Grounds, Mildred Haws, La-Peggie Herron, Don Holladay,

Mary Ann Jackson, Gordon Jonas, Wilmoth Killebrew, Hugh Roy King, Shirley Lee, Billy McCleskey, John McRay, Morgan Medlin. Joyce Moseley, Benny Nelms, Myrna Perry, Jim Puckett, Norma Riggs, Carl Seigenthaler, Don Shackelford, Jane Shannon, Charles Shelton, Jenny Smith. William David Smith, Jewell Snell, Hoyte Snow, Mary Stewart, Joan Stone, Lee F. Suddeath.

Frances Swan, Ina Swan, David Thomas, Byron Thrasher, Glen Tucker, Hugh Tucker, Patty Walston, Jerry Watson, Charles Weis. Rebecca Williams, Lucille Willis, Janice Woodward, Oliver Yates, Jackie York.

*Straight "A" average.

Girls' Volleyball All-Stars Named

The Volleyball "All-Stars" for the fall quarter have been selected ville on Dec. 21. They will live in from all the girls' volleyball teams entered in the tournament. Selection was made by the team captains and Miss Frances Moore, who is in charge of Girls' Intra-

They are Gail "Timber" Sarvis, Sandra Wilcox, Pearl Cutts, Anita Johnson, Claudia Mosely, Imogene

Footligters Present One-act Plays Jan. 14

A tragedy by Eugene O'Neil and a comedy based on Shakespeare are presentations scheduled by the Footlighters for

The first play, "Ile," by O'Neil, features George Brazil and Mary Cornelia Sparkman in the lead roles. It is the story of a New England whaler, Captain Keenedy (Brazil), who is dominated by unconquerable pride.

The captain, his wife (Miss Sparkman) and a crew of sailors set out on a two-year oil expedition. At the end of the time, they have fallen far short of the quota "Ile," Mrs. Keenedy is ill, and the crew is mutinous

However, the captain's insatiable pride prevents him from returning home even though the time is up. At this point his wife's illness intervenes and finally he is persuaded to turn back for her

On the return trip, whales are sighted, and the captain reverses

'Rigoletto' Is Tonight

"Rigoletto," Verdi's four-act opera, filmed in the Rome Opera House with the Rome Opera House Orchestra will be presented tonight in Alumni Auditorium at

The presentation is jointly sponsored by Miss Irma Lee Batey and Marshall Gunselman for the benefit of the Music and Audio-Visual Departments.

The first complete film version of Verdi's opera, with its score and libretto, is based on the story "Le Roi's S'Amuse" by Victor Hugo. First presented in Venice in 1851, the opera was premiered by the Academy of Music, New York, in 1855, and at the Metropolitan Opera House in 1883. Rigoletto, a hunchback jester detested by the courtiers of the Duke of Mantua for his lashing tongue, plans to have a bandit kill the Duke, who is the false lover of his daughter. Gilda Gilda, however, pleads for the life of her lover, then sacrifices her own life to save him, and her dying body is presented to Rigo-letto in a sack. He, thinking the body to be that of the Duke, suddenly hears the Duke singing "La Donna e Mobile." Opening the sack, he finds his beloved Gilda mortally wounded. She is only able to linger long enough to beg her father to forgive her false lover for his attentions to other women.

'Know Your Bible' Resumes Broadcast

"Know Your Bible," the 30minute TV program which has been off the air since last spring, will be resumed this coming Sunday, Jan. 9.

The broadcast is televised over WSIX-TV at 3:30 p.m. and is under the direction of Ira North. Charles Chumley and Mrs. Sarah Whitten.

Announcement

Jimmie Blevins, head of the Footlighters, announces a special try-out to replace four former members of the organization. The tryouts will be Wed., Jan. 12, at 5 p.m. in room 300. Selections will be made on dramatic ability, judged by readings and on experience in back-stage work sepa-

HOMECOMING ELECTION The Homecoming Queen will be elected Tue., Jan. 11. Requirements are 1.5 average, no disciplinary action by the Welfare Committee, and an academic standing of a senior. The 16 attendants will be elected the third week in this month.

Others in the cast are Jimmie Blevins, Bud Dancy, Mike Mc-Crickard and Gilbert Hunter. Stu-

son and Gail Holland. Shakespeare's Ladies Also Appear The other play on the same agenda is a comedy, "When Shakespeare's Ladies Meet," by dent directors are Jerry Hender-

Charles George. What happens when six of Shakespeare's heroines meet to discuss the universal topic—love will be revealed. The ladies will be portrayed by Willella Littrell, Ann Hackett, Wilmoth Killebrew, Nila Jo Garmon, Betty Prosser and Bobbye Lou Menefee. Student directors for this production are Al Smith and Danny Consultant director for both presentations is Dale Brown. Both plays are one-act long.

Davis Returns To Faculty

O. Jennings Davis, Jr., has returned to Lipscomb after a twoyear leave of absence. He was granted leave in 1953 to complete his graduate study at Columbia University in New York City and he received the Doctor of Education degree there.

An alumnus of Lipscomb, Dr Davis will teach in the Physical Education Department

Previous to leaving Nashville he taught in both High School and College and served for two years as coach of the High School basketball team.

He was graduated from Lipscomb in 1950 and from Ohio State University in 1951 with a Master's degree in physical education.

New Stroop Book Is Off the Press

How to Inherit Eternal Life, the second in a series of books entitled God's Plan and Me by Dr. J. Ridley Stroop is just off the press. The 377-page book has twentytwo lessons with questions. It is the culmination of a Bible course that Dr. Stroop has taught at Lipscomb for the past 13 years.

"The purpose of the book," according to Dr. Stroop, "is to give to thoughtful readers a more meaningful and, hence, a more practicable understanding of God's

In addition to his new book and Jesus' Mission and Method, the first in the series. Dr. Stroop has written a book, Why People Do Not See The Bible Alike and a booklet, What Shall We Do with the New Bible?

The introductory price, lasting until March 1, is $3.00. The regular price will be $3.50.

CSC TESTS ANNOUNCED FOR SCIENTIFIC POSITIONS

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for Scientific Aid (Cotton), $2,750 to $3,410 a year, for positions principally in the Department of Agriculture in Washington, D. C., and vicinity.

To qualify, applicants must pass a written test and must have had appropriate experience or have completed appropriate high school or college courses. Further information and application forms may be obtained at many post offices throughout the country, or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

Applications will be accepted by the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., until further notice.

Short, Short Story . . .

What! No Milk Vendors?

Last quarter in a BABBLER editorial, we suggested that milk vendors be placed in each of the dorms.

This suggestion was happily received and the administration took steps to have the vendors placed in the dorms during the Christmas vacation.

But just as the vendors were set up and ready to be filled with milk, the officials in charge were reminded that Lipscomb has a contract to use Purity Dairies milk exclusively, and the company installing the vendors would supply them with the Jersey Farms product. This technical business was sufficient reason to cause the vendors, already installed, to be

We have been promised more vendors, but with no definite date affixed. We think that it would speed the installation if the students who want to see the suggestion carried out would tell members of the Student Board, and Gilliam Traughber, food services director, their wishes. Do you want milk vendors put in the dorms?

We'll Be Sorry...

A a sneak preview Monday night of the film version of Verdi's opera Rigoletto, we were completely captivated.

We feel that Lipscomb students have a rare opportunity to see this movie. We certainly feel that the fare of 35¢ will not be lamented after you have seen the production.

It is a chance to see, at close range, one of the truly great operas as an actual production in an Italian opera house; and even the highest priced seats in the house would not afford the excellent view seen through the camera lens.

Let us say that we have never been more enthralled with the sounds of the human voice. The acting is commendable, and the costumes and props are good.

We will be sorry if you miss this production, and we believe you will be too.

March of Dimes Needs You...

The value Americans place upon the life and dignity of each individual is not just a civics course platitude. It is a genuine and unique characteristic of our society.

Those of us who have traveled abroad—as tourists or servicemen-know that in many lands the sight of the miserable and ill, huddled in alleys and doorways, is so common that it passes almost unnoticed.

In the United States the life or death of a single person may become a matter of national concern . . . a young girl lost in the woods, a kidnapped baby, a child trapped in a well.

We do not attempt to put a price on a single life nor the value of mending it. We know that here we are dealing with the priceless.

Similarly, we refuse to accept the inevitability of disease and suffering. We band together and fight them. An outstanding example of this is the fight against polio through the March of Dimes.

In this fight millions of men and women, believing in their individual importance and in their collective strength, have joined hands in typical American fashion. They move forward with unfailing determination, butthe way to tomorrow's victory.

For the fight against polio . . . for the task of mending lives to play with those things that look ... give to your 1955 March of Dimes.

The Babbler

office, Nashville, Tenn., under the Act of March 3, 1897.

Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in

Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1916; authorized, Nashville, Tenn. Published weekly during the regular school year except during holidays or examination periods by the students of DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE, Nashville, Tenn.

Office located on second floor Crisman Memorial Library.

Peggie Herron

Eunice Bradley

Mary Lou Carter

Member Associated Collegiate Press EDITORIAL STAFF

..... Editorial Page

Editor-in-Chief

Associate Editor

Press Club Sponsor

Cornelia Turman Feature Editor
Matthew Morrison Staff Artist
BUSINESS STAFF
Paul Rogers Business Manager
ADVISORY STAFF
Bob Sivley Editorial Advisor
Willard Collins Saculty Advisor

LIPSCOMB DAY by DAY

studying once How nice to have that boring ole vacation over and something to do again We're still wondering about the advisability of Dr. Ellis' decision o send Wayne Tincher and Bill of the year. You see, that trip was to Agnes Scott College, where there are no less than 1,200 desirable young ladies—and no

How, we ask you, how did one of our fellow students manage to pull such a slick one? Somehow he succeeded in registering for three classes which met at the same period and went to each in turn for the whole quarter. As if that weren't enough, the originator of the ingeneous scheme got an "A" in two of he courses.

Norvel Williams is either afraid of the dark or is after a sneak thief. Why else would he sleep with his knife? He does, you

When Dickie Carpenter unpacked upon arriving home for the holidays, he kept feeling that he had forgotten something. Not until three days had passed did he remember that he had left his pets in the car. Dickie rushed out, only to find them huddled together and frozen quite stiff at the bottom of their goldfish bowl. We are sorry to report that efforts to revive them were in vain. As usual, registration brought headaches, mix-ups, and mistakes. Betsy Gately rushed in late on the first day to Dr. Broadus' speech "Well, we'll see what can be done about changing the hour of this class," he concluded. "Now, you can't change this class after I've rearranged my whole schedule just to work in this four o'clock class!" Betsy fumed. She went on stating her position in no uncertain terms until someone pointed to the clock. It was only three o'clock.

Tonight is the night for "Rigoletto" and we'll be looking for all of you there. It's seldom that college students are privileged to have an opera brought to them, so take advantage of the opportunity.

It's obvious that a lot of New Year's resolutions about conserving time and studying more are already being broken. The wall peside the cafeteria is just as popular as it ever was.

For being such a good loser, Nancy Wyckoff was elected Miss Bison of a headache for the administra-Lounge of 1955. This entitles the dent Center.

Don MacAllister has learned not like bubbles floating in the ocean. While he and Tommy Warren were relaxing in the Florida sun during the recent vacation (lucky boys). Don spied something in the water, picked it up, and began tearing the "strings" from it. Too late Tommy warned him that the thing was a Portuguese man-owar and not to be played with. Don spent the rest of the day in agony. Live and learn, they always say. Two of our equestrians, Nick Boone and George Spain, were out teaching George Brazil some of the finer points of horse-back riding. But the lesson didn't turn out exactly as they had planned. now held by the Chinese, and ac-First Nick fell from his mount cused of being spies. The men (he says he was thrown). Then were serving as United Nations "Beautiful" Spain dismounted and soldiers. rushed to his rescue, only to have his horse gallop off over the hill. The whole thing ended with Brazil the stables because the two teach- its effectiveness in dealing with the ers were ashamed to show their Reds. If nothing can be done to The word has come to us that Dr. Clipp has ordered a film on "Soap." Looks as if the senior leaders to force a showdown beclass is planning another bubble

'India To-day' Is Picture Painted by Travelogue

Abingdon, $2.) Reviewed by George Patterson

The friendliness of the Indian people and the glimpse of modern conveniences in a land little changed through the centuries are mpressions caught by the author in her on-the-spot report of India

The country has not changed a great deal through the centuries; but. English influence can be seen throughout the land. In describing two Indian children she observed while on a train enroute to Bareille, Miss Wilson writes, Their shoes might have come from any store on Main Street." Reason For Slowness

The reason for the slow change s summed up by one of the au-

By Bob Sivley

The 84th Congress of the United States convened Tuesday, January 4, and both parties wasted no time n getting organized for the present session. No one was surprised by the choices of leaders that the two parties made, and there were no changes in party leadership over the last congressional ses-

Top spots went to Sam Rayburn and Sen. Lyndon Johnson, both of Texas, who are speaker of the house and senate majority leader. respectively. These men have the ask of guiding the legislation of the Democratic-controlled congress for the next two years. Both are veterans in their jobs, Rayburn having been speaker of the house in the 82nd congress, and Johnson having been minority leader for the last two years.

Joe Martin, of Massachussetts, continues to captain the Republican team in the house and Sen. William Knowland, in spite of his publicly aired differences with the present administration, will lead the senate minority. It would be risky to hazard a guess as to the success of tht 84th congress. Only the next two years can tell that story. But as it takes up its task, it is faced with number of difficult problems. First, there is the always-hard-tohandle situation of having a Republican president and a Democratic congress. Many, however, predict that Ike will have less trouble with the 84th than with the 83rd congress, which was conrolled by his own party.

But as if this were not enough tion, there is also the present rift in the Republican party itself, a split that the GOP, in spite of all its efforts, has not been able to

With the voice of Knowland on foreign policy and the ominous threats of McCarthy on Reds in government, the president is having a hard time selling his "progressive moderate" policy to the Hammarskjold visit delayed

United Nations secretary general Dag Hammarskjold delayed his visit to Peiping to discuss the futures of 11 U.S. airmen held by the Chinese Reds to stop in

Hankow, for a talk with his nephew, Swedish charge d'affairs Peder Hammarskiold The UN leader's mission is to protect the interests of the men

The world breathlessly awaits the outcome of the visit since the attitude of this country toward the eading the three horses back to UN will be greatly influenced by save the 11 airmen, renewed efforts on the part of Senator Knowland and other congressional tween the U.S. and Communist China are likely.

(FLY WITH ME TO INDIA by thor's Indian acquaintances: "Fear Dorothy Clarke Wilson. Illus- is the villagers worst enemy. They trated. 127 pp. Nashville: are afraid of everything - evil spirits, government, the landlords, everything. Fear keeps them from any kind of action. It has for the last two thousand years. Individualism is even more important to our kind of India than cooperation. As the reader travels with the author, he visits distant cities whose names sound of new scenes full of intrigue: Calcutta, Lucknow, Vrindaban, and the capital. Delhi.

Miss Wilson gives a very brief description of the inauguration, which took place at Delhi, of India's first president. Departure from India seems to sadden her: "Down there beneath my plane is the real India, which I hate to leave-golden circles of threshing floors, ribbons of roads ... clusters of earth-brown mounds . . . I gaze and gaze, my nose pressed against the glass, unthe circles become mere dots, the carts pin points, and the brown clusters, as I saw them first many months ago, tiny ant hills. No. not as I saw them then, never again like that. For then my eyes were bright with curiosity, not with tears. And I saw only a mass of queer-looking objects, not the familiar dwellings of a beloved and friendly people.'

Bison Spectators Commend Conduct

At a recent basketball game, I was very happy to observe Lipscomb's fine demonstration of sportsmanship. Every act displayed thoughtfulness and fair

Coach Sherrill and his team are to be complimented on their great improvement. Keep up the good spirit, boys!

A group of us attended the Lipscomb and Birmingham Southern Basketball game last night. I want to commend your boys on the way that they conducted themselves at this game.

They displayed every trait of genteel, Christian sportsmen in the most superb manner.

Mrs. Anne Richardson

STUDENT BOARD NOTES After the vacation, the Student Board resumed its regular meetings, at 5:00 P.M. Tuesday, at which time many topics were presented.

Old business included vending machines for the dormitories and Student Center. Milk vending machines were supposed to have been installed in the dormitories during the holidays; have not yet been set up. The ven-dors installed used Jersey Farm milk, while D.L.C. has a contract for Purity Dairies milk exclusively. Willard Col-lins, Vice-President, plans to investi-gate the matter.

"Seven-up" machines for the Student Center were mentioned again. As

"Seven-up" machines for the Student Center were mentioned again. As of yet, however, nothing is definite concerning the vending problems.

News items of student interest worth noting are: (1) A radio station is still a possibility for Lipscomb's campus. Marshall Guselman, Audio Visual Director and Instructor in Audio Visual Education, Ira North, Professor of Speech, and Charles Dorris, a WLAC engineer, spoke to the Board concerning a station.

(2) Busses, and possibly a plane, will be charted to take students to Chattanoga for the U. C.-Lipscomb game on January 22. Announcements will be made later concerning the time of departure, ticket fare and other details.

'Heat Factory' Has Big Job; Eats Coal At 23-Ton Rate

That hunk of metal under your dorm window, plus that tall chimney just below Sewell Hall, together with several hard working fellows on the campus all go into the complex make-up of Lipscomb's "heat factory."

And these winter months are really handing the heat crew a rough time of it, trying to keep some 1500 students warm in 13

News Briefs

The Backlog Club has planned a barbecue to be held at 6:00 p.m. omorrow night at Reservoir Park.

Nicky Boone is in charge of entertainment which will be provided by members of the club. Other committee chairman are Miriam Johnson and George Spain.

At the regular meeting of the IRC next Tuesday, a series of films on the United Nations will be shown. The time of showing is 7:30 nm in the audio-visual room. Members and non-members are invited.

Pres. A. C. Pullias and Dean J. P. Sanders will attend the annual meeting of the Association of American Colleges which will convene in Washington, D. C. January 11-13. Mrs. Pullias will accompany them and will be received by Mrs. Eisenhower at the White House on January 12 at 12:30 P.M., as will all the wives of attending college presidents.

Paul Mills, former instructor in the English Department, and advisor to the BABBLER has left his position here to become minister of the St. Elmo Church of Christ in Chattanooga.

One of America's

really fine

coffees . . .

J. R. OVERALL, PRES.

showers, and heating McQuiddy's two big bath tubs-the boys' and girls' swimming pools. The job requires much more than just tossing a heap of coal into the plant's two giant fur-Claude Hayes, engineer; Bob campus, heating water for approximately 800 students' daily

Shaw, day worker; and Virgil Lyon, morning worker, make this heating business their regular occupation; while Ray West, a student, works 48 hours per week in addition to his regular duties in the class-

G. B. Cochran, another student, is a relief man, working the various shifts three or four times

These men constantly check gauges, refuel the furnaces, load the boilers, and remove ashes from active heating units. Hot job? Quite, but one that must be done every day come rain, snow, or what have you.

The plant itself, built in 1946 has many costly mechanisms; and many expensive metal parts are added frequently as the old ones continually wear out under heavy Upkeep of the plant is also a tremendous job. Water heaters must be cleaned regularly from 17 to 23 tons of coal must be brought in by St. Bernard Company daily and work with a network of pipes and regulators must be carried on.

Yes, the system is doing a big job, and your radiator will continue to "beat the cold" as Lipscomb's heating crew shoots the steam to would-be cold spots.

HIGH QUALITY PRINTING

Books, magazines, catalogs, folders . . . anything

Contact one of these Lipscomb alumni in our office:

PAUL W. MOORE, CLASS OF '38

LARRY WILLIAMS, CLASS OF '39

V. M. WHITESELL, CLASS OF '41

JAMES W. BOYD, CLASS OF '51

Williams PRINTING CO.

417 COMMERCE • NASHVILLE • TELEPHONE 6-7126

The National Life and

Accident Insurance Co.

NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

E. A. BERGSTROM, VIC. PRES.

After the cafeteria closed, she was invited to eat in several different homes and had her dinner brought to her several times by people who lived close to the campus. On Christmas day she was invited out to lunch and din-

"You'd think I wouldn't have been busy on Christmas day," she said, "but even that day someone called and asked to speak to a girl who lived in Sewell Hall."

lady called her and when Frances answered, the woman, who was very disturbed, screamed, "You charged me a penny too much for that meat and I'll have you know that that penny means as much to me as it does to you."

in and told her this was David Lipscomb College she said, "Oh, I thought this was my grocery

"Surely was lonesome' When asked how she felt about being almost alone during all that time, Frances answered, "I learned to appreciate Lipscomb more when everybody was gone, I guess because I was alone and had more time to think. But I was really glad to see everybody coming back from the holidays. It sure-

UH-HUH.

WAIT A MINUTE TILL I FINSH THIS LETTER, WILL YA?

See Anybody You Know?

Deserted Campus-Lonely Holidays

Miss Brummitt

junior transfer from Freed-Hardeman, did. Frances, whose home is in Gleason, Tenn., stayed at Lipscomb all during the holidays and worked at the switchboard. Before the high school students left for their twoweek vacation, she worked fifteen and a half hours a day. "After they went home, I only worked twelve and a half," she said. "That seemed almost like a vacation."

Brummitt, a

were seen in this condition. The clues, though a little remote, may be Another funny thing happened during that time. A

When Frances finally got a word

Patronize

has a talent altogether different

From all these clues you should be able to guess who these people are. Look for their names in the Distinctive Clothes for Mer

of Discriminating Taste

Sixth at Union

and is usually seen "up in the air"

at the basketball games.

frequent chapel speaker.

BABBLER next week.

One of the boys has

THE ABOVE PERSONALITIES MAY OR MAY NOT BE RECOG-NIZED by most of you, since more than a decade has passed since they

By Cornelia Turman

Do you recognize any of these Lipscomb youngsters of about ten

There are at least five of these students in college here now and one other closely connected with Lipscomb. This picture was made when they were in elementary

Here are a few hints as to their identities. Four of them are boys and the other two are girls. Of the five in school, two are freshmen, two are sophomores and one is a junior.

Two of the children's fathers are seen on the campus every day. All of them are day students. One of the boys has a brother that holds a high position on the Student Board. Another of the boys is a great

Bison fan. One little girl has become noted at Lipscomb and in Nashville for a great talent that she possesses. Another of the boys

THE LIPSCOMB

LAUNDRY

By Matt Morrison

SAY LAD, WHAT'S YOUR GIRLS ??

LOVEMANS

All-occasion fashions from dawn to dating

FITTS CRAWFORD

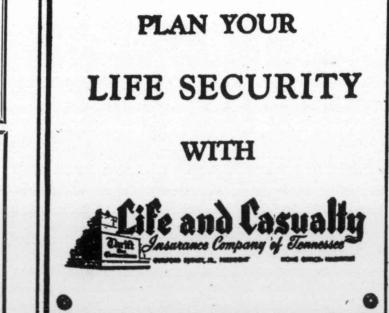

FLOWERS 2816 West End Ave. 7-5946

McKay-Cameron

CHINA, GLASS, SILVER

212 3rd Ave., N.

Co. Headquarters

outlasted the Herd 69-63.

Ken Donaldson scored the first twelve points as Lipscomb rolled out in front in the early stages. This was short lived.

however, for the FSTC quintet eased past the Bisons and roared an 18 point advantage

Ken Donaldson was high point man for the Heard with 21, while

Shotts scored 27 for Coach Dilling-

The 1954-55 schedule is the oughest ever played by any Lipscomb team. After facing Tenn.

Tech on January 3, the Bisons will travel to Johnson City for an encounter with East Tennessee State and then meet Austin Peay, Middle Tennessee, Belmont, and Chattanooga before rounding out the January schedule with the highly

LANDON'S

Your Neighborhood

HARDWARE

rated Vanderbilt Commodores.

ham's charges.

Herd... Sportlight

The Lipscomb Bisons will enter tomorrow night's game at East Tennessee State sporting a 2-1 conference record. Though the Herd's season record is 4-6, the team is near the top of the V.S.A.C. standings.

The Bisons have beaten Middle Tennessee and Union while losing to Belmont in conference play. A win over strong E.T.S. would put the Herd in the thick of the fight for the champion-

The mountain boys are paced by Center Jack Waycaster, who is averaging over 20 points a game. However, if the Bisons play the kind of ball of which they are capable a vic-

One of the leading factors in the early season losses is certainly the lack of experience. The Bisons are a young team with the eligibility list reading no seniors and only two

Coach Elvis Sherrill has expressed confidence that the squad will surprise some good teams before the season is finished. By tournament time the Bisons should be able to hold their own against any team in the league. An advantage not to be overlooked is the fact that the tourney will be held here in McQuiddy gym, as will the last six games of the regular

The Bisons still show a great desire and will to win. The improved guard play of Archie Crenshaw and the steady work of John Friend are two of the brightest spots in recent games. Crenshaw has been a starter in recent games and big Friend just keeps flippin' 'em in. We think the Bisons will change that 4-6 record for the better before the season's end.

January 1 brought some really exciting games to the T.V. viewers of the country. The biggest surprise of all was the licking given Ole Miss in the Sugar Bowl. Quarterback magician George Welsh and hard-running full-back Joe Gattuso were too much for the Rebels.

The mud was the big show in Pasadena as Ohio State's five great backs-Leggett, Cassady, Bobo, Watkins, and Harkrader -won over the great runs of Sou. Cal's Dandoy and Arnett.

The Cotton Bowl had the best game as traditional bowl winner Ga. Tech came from behind in the last half to win.

Here's the latest on Don Blasingame, a Lipscomb student in '53. He has been playing ball for Havana in a Cuban winter Converted from a short-stop to a second baseman, he has been so impressive that Gus Mancuso, St. Louis Card scout says he may be ready for the majors. Congrats, Don. We hate to say it, but Vandy looks good. Bob Polk has a well-balanced, hustling outfit.

Bison Record Stands at 4-6

turned to play Monday night after a holiday rest season, bringing their record to 4 wins and 6 losses in 10 games played up to the

A 69 to 63 loss to Florence State on December 16, ended the preoliday season and pushed the Bisons below the 500 mark. Coach Elvis Sherrill sounded the whistle to resume practice on December 27 in preparation for a return battle with the Golden Eagles of Tennessee Tech. "It will take 100 per cent effort on the part of our entire team to win any game on our schedule," commented the Lipscomb coach after

TECH DOWNS BISONS 71-67

Tennessee Tech's great free throw shooting gave the visitors the win over the Bison five in a game here Monday night.

The game was nip and tuck until the final few minutes. Then TPI put the ball in the deep freeze and held their lead.

Sidwell was Paul Brown's big gun wih 22 points. 16 of these coming from the chari-It was Sidwell who dribbled the ball so effectively in the closing minutes to preserve the victory.

John Friend led Lipscomb with 16 points, while Ken Donaldson and Archie Crenshaw each had a

This game touched off the 1955 part of the 1954-55 basketball sea-

BISONS STUN M.T.S.C.

The Bisons, in a game played here December 4, rolled Ken Donaldson, John Friend, and an eager

'Big' Donaldson Is First in Scoring

One cannot begin to discuss the fortunes of this year's Bison quintet without singing the praise of big Ken Donaldson. "Slim," as he is known to his teammates and friends, is a big cog in the Herd's

Donaldson not only is the leading scorer, with 156 points as of January 3, but he also leads the club in rebounds with a 136 total. Most of Donaldson's points come from a deadly hook shot, either left or right hand, and a good jump shot.

Plagued by a bad ankle at the start of the season, big Ken has managed to hold his own ground on the court and play steady ball

Photo by James Clipp

David Lipscomb's Bisons re- awake squad into a ball and tossed High star, Don Shotts, the Lions it at the Blue Raiders of Middle Tennessee

When the smoke had cleared, a stunned group of M.T.S.C. players left the basketball court scarcely believing what they had seen. What they had seen was a fired-up bunch of Bisons, who played to their top potential stampede over the Raider squad.

with 5 points gone in the final Big Ken Donaldson paced the From this point on, Lips-Bisons with 26 points and John comb was never able to catch Friend tossed in 23. For the Raidup and wound up on the ers, Ken Trickey was top man wrong end of the score.

TECH EXTENDS MASTERY OVER HERD

Playing in their own backyard, Tennessee Tech beat David Lipscomb once again-this time 71-56, for the 12th straight time over a period of years. Kenny Sidwell, Herbie Merritt, and Marvin (Peepers) Reed combined to score 45 points and pace Tech to victory.

Lipscomb attack with 22 points. good for high point honors. The golden Eagles gained 10 points on the Bisons in the first

Big steady John Friend led the half and added five more to their margin in the last half to win by

FLORENCE HANDS BISONS FIFTH LOSS

The night of December 16 saw the Bisons dropping their fifth game of the season, to Florence State. Paced by former Coffee

Alloway BROS. COMPANY Poultry

Joy's Flowers

601 Church

TURRENTINE REALTY COMPANY

Sales—Insurance—Loans

Purity Dairies

360 Murfreesboro Road

6-1148

TENNESSEE REAL ESTATE CO. Nashville's Largest Business Brokers Rentals • AUCTIONS • Sales REALTORS 121 Third Avenue, North Campbell Jenkins

WAVERLY BELMONT

SELF SERVICE LAUNDRY

Granny White At Halcyon

Closest to David Lipscomb College

CAIN-SLOAN CO.

Nashville's Own Department Store

Fifth Avenue at Church

Phone 5-4661

BOB DRAPER, CLASS OF '35

The Babbler

Vol. XXXIV

WYCKOFF TO REIGN AT HOMECOMING GAME

Curtain Time Is 7:30 Tonite For Footlighters' Production

The characters of Eugene O'Neil and Mary Cornelia Sparkman will and William Shakespeare will be appear in the leading roles. portrayed tonight on the stage of Alumni Auditorium by the Footlighters, at 7:30.

Something new in the way of intermissions will be brought about when refreshments will be served in the Student Center for all present, while the scenes are changed backstage.

O'Neil's play, "Ile," is based on the life of a New England whaler who is overcome by an unconquerable pride. George Brazil

This play, directed by Jerry Henderson and Gail Holland, is to be the first presentation of the

"When Shakespeare's Ladies Meet," by Charles George, is a comedy centered around the antics of six of Shakespeare's heroines who meet to discuss the universal subject—love.

direct this production. Dale Brown served as consultant director for ed on the bulletin board in the administration building.

Points for the individual divisions will be awarded as follows:

Oral Interpretation, Extempore

Speaking, After-Dinner Speaking, Bible Reading, and Radio,

first, second, and third places will be awarded five points, three points, and one point, respectively.

15 points and 10 and 5 points will be given the other two winning

The winning play will receive

Class Presidents Change Forensic Ticket-Sale Policy

A change has been made in the policy for selling tickets to the intramural one-act plays given annually as part of the Intramural Forensic Tournament.

graphed.

In previous years, ten points were awarded the class having the largest ticket sales.

However, this year, each class has been assigned a sales quota of 25 plus the number of students in the respective class. Each class which sells its quota of tickets will be given 10 points.

Tickets will go on sale Monday, January 24, and must be turned in to Ira North, tournament director, by 7:00 p.m., Friday, February 4, the final night of the con-

The plays will climax a five-day contest in the sixth Intramural Forensic Tournament beginning January 31.

Each class has appointed student directors to prepare for competition in the six respective divisions, which are Extempore Speaking, After Dinner Speaking, Oral Interpretation, Radio Speaking, Bible Reading, and Debate.

Rules for these contests were published in the Christmas edition of the BABBLER and also a copy has been post-

Board Approves Six New Teachers

At the quarterly meeting of the Board of Directors on Jan. 8, the following persons were approved as members of the faculty: Alan Bryan, Mrs. Barbara B. Clark, Mrs. Charlotte H. Glasgow, Miss Ruth Hutcheson, Paul E. Isaac, and Jennings Davis, Jr.

Mrs. Clark, instructor in home economics, is a graduate of Lipscomb in 1950. She served as a part-time instructor during the 1953-54 session and returned this winter to replace Miss Caroline Jones, who resigned to be married. As high school librarian, Mrs. Glasgow began her work during the fall term. She is a graduate of Mississippi State College for Women. Miss Hutcheson, a graduate of Lipscomb and Vanderbilt, began her work at the beginning of the winter quarter as part-time temporary instructor in chemistry. Bryan and Isaac will begin their work at Lipscomb at the first of the fall term, this year. Bryan will serve as assistant professor of Religious Education, and Isaac, a graduate of the University of Texas, is to become assistant professor in the Department of His-

No rules will be mimeo-Ussery Resigns; A definite schedule of events Replaced by Knott will be published in a later edi-

Miss Ussery had been at Lipscomb four years and three months. She attended Lipscomb her senior year, graduating in June, 1951. She began working as secretary to Vice-Pres. Collins in September,

Each debate team will receive one point for each debate won and the winning team will receive ten points. The class achieving the largest number of points will be declared winner of the tournament following the one-act plays and will have its achievement recorded on the large perpetual trophy kept by the college.

Individual winners will be given certificates and all contestants will be eligible to attend the forensics banquet on the last night of the

Mullins Elected To Student Board

A new representative has been elected to the Student Board by the day student men to replace Earl Edwards, who resigned because he was unable to attend the Student Board meetings.

The newly-elected member is

Gene Mullins, the son of Mrs. Pearl M. Laines. Gene is a graduate of Hillsboro High School, Nashville. He is a Business Administration major and a member of the Senior Gene has been active in Intramurals and has served as president of the Buccaneers Intramural Club for two years.

'TOWER' DEADLINE SET Editors of the TOWER, campus magazine, have announced that all material for the publication must be turned in not later than Tuesday, Jan. 18, at 7:90 p.m. All articles may be put in the campus mail, in care of Bettye Beazley, Box 739.

A DRAMATIC SCENE FROM "ILE," one-act play by Eugene O'Neil, shows Mary Cornelia Sparkman pleading with husband George Brazil to forsake his quest of whales to save her life and sanity. The play is one of two presented tonight by the Foot-

Miss Jamie Ussery served her last day as secretary to Willard Collins, Vice-President, Wednes-

Miss Ussery

Jan. 20 Miss Ussery will begin training as a hostess for the Gulf, Mobie, & Ohio Railroad. After a two-weeks-training, she will begin regular work.

DLC Foundation Pledges $52,000

The David Lipscomb College Foundation, which has as its basic purpose the raising of funds for the College, is pledged to contribute $52,000 annually for operating purposes.

From September through December 31, 1954, this Fund received a total of 240 gifts in the amount of $24,495.18. This is a slight decrease over the gifts of

An intensive effort is now being made to obtain definite commitments from 520 people to give $100 each year to the Foundation. Members of the alumni have undertaken to get 100 of these 520 gifts during this fiscal year.

Nashville Senior Wins By 10-Vote Margin

Edging her opponent by only 10 votes, Nancy Wyckoff of Nashville will reign as Queen of Homecoming for 1955.

Gloria Brannam, the only other candidate eligible to run received 315 votes as compared to Miss Wyckoff's 325.

Miss Wyckoff is the daugh- in American Colleges and ter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Universities. Wyckoff and is a senior music Always active in music groups major. Last fall she was se> as vice president of the Musicians' She is also known among followers of Lipscomb's stage presentations, having appeared in sev-

Miss Brannom is from Clarksenrollment for the winter quarville and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Brannam. She like Miss Wyckoff, is a member of the Choristers and also is ac-are as follows: freshmen, 307; sophomores, 217; juniors, 174; and An elementary education major, seniors, 113. There are 12 special "The drop in enrollment was a fall and winter quarters", Bryant Approximately 163 students took

Founder's Contest Has 10 Entries

823 Enroll

students this quarter.

For Winter

Ralph Bryant, registrar, announced this week that Lipscomb's

ter came to a total of 823 stu-

Individual class memberships

Ten persons have entered the Founder's Day Contest to be held Jan. 21, 11:00 a.m. This event in honor of David Lipscomb will be a part of Friday's lecture pro-

Those who entered were: James Lee McDonough, Phillip Morrison, Glen Tucker. James Vandiver, Joe Moore, Paul Rogers, Fred Johnson, Robert Hamlin, Jerry Hendersor, Dan Gilbert.

The preliminary contest was held yesterday to select the three speakers for the final contest. The award for the winner will be the traditional medal presented annually by J. Ridley Derry-

Debaters Attend Agnes Scott Meet

Lipscomb will be represented this weekend at the All-Southern Inter-Collegiate Debate Tournament by two debate teams. This event is being held at Agnes Scott College in Decatur, Ga.

Dr. Carroll Ellis, head of the speech department and sponsor of the debate squad, has announced that the following debaters will make the trip for the school: Bill Banowski, Jess Hall, Bill Phillips, and Wayne Tincher.

This marks the second time this quarter the debate squad has competed in inter-collegiate exercises. Five teams have just returned from Millsaps College in Jackson, Miss., where they competed with teams from several states.

There Hope Camp and Paul Rogers and Clara Armstrong and Jane Shannon reached the semifinals in their respective divisions. Other teams who entered the competition were Phillip Morrison and Don McWhorter; Charles Trevathan and James Vandiver; and Marlin Connelly and Philip

The national debate question which is being used in all the tournaments this year involves diplomatic recognition of Red on the campus, Miss Wyckoff has been in the Choristers for the past lected to apear in Who's Who four years. Last year she served eral productions, the last of which was "The Curious Savage," last tive in the FTA.

Miss Brannam is a senior and has been at Lipscomb for the past four regular occurrence between the

Board to Launch Ticket Campaign

The Student Board is sponsoring a drive to sell 532 tickets to the Vanderbilt-Lipscomb basketball game, which will be played Monday, January 24, in the Commodore gymnasium.

A committee, composed of Keith Ericson, Peggie Herron, and Bob Sivley is presently managing the campaign.

The tickets will be for seats, all of which are located in one section of the gymnasium, in order to provide a cheering section for the Bisons.

The committee announced that Bison fans will get an opportunity to buy the tickets at the half-time during the Belmont-Lipscomb game, which will be played in McQuiddy Gymnasium tomorrow night. At that time an announcement will be made to all present that they can buy tickets in the

The Board also plans to have someone to sell tickets in the Stu dent Center during the period after chapel next Thursday, Friday, and Monday. Price of the Busses are also being chartered to provide transportation for students who plan to attend the game.

The Bison-Commodore rivalry is being renewed this year after a one year break in the series in which Vanderbilt has won all the games except the Lipscomb home game in 1951.

Interest in the game this year is high, since the Commodores have moved into the national spotlight by defeating both the University of Tennessee and Georgia Tech, who defeated Kentucky for the first time in two years.

News Briefs

Of the 823 students enrolled here this quarter, 95.95 per cent are members of the church of Chapel services will be in Mc-Quiddy Gym next Thursday, Jan. 20, when President A. C. Pullias will address the student body and the visitors to the lectureship. A special section will be reserved for college students.

Elections and the BABBLER

"Should election results be held exclusively for the BAB-BLER?-This problem was discussed at a meeting of the Student Board last Tuesday.

In the past, each time the election results have been held, it has been done with the approval of a majority of the Student Board members through direct voting.

After some discussion, the motion was made that a committee be formed to sample student opinion on the question, and the committee was appointed.

We of the BABBLER understand fully the feeling of you who dislike waiting to know election results, and we are in sympathy with you; however, we also have an argument to present in our favor.

We have as an'ever-present goal the production of a paper with news that you want to read. We strive constantly to make the BABBLER better every week-and the only reward we ask is to see you and you and you reading our publication as though you are enjoying it.

It isn't for "selfishness or superiority feelings" that we ask to hold election results-it is to make a better paper for you. How many times have you heard the question "Why don't they have News in the BABBLER?"

It is particularly hard for us to present items that are really newsy to you because of the chapel announcement arrangement-everything is announced before BABBLER day. That's why we ask to hold elections results-because we want a good paper for you.

It is left up to you, as it should be, but in making your decision, please consider our viewpoint too.

And-no matter what you decide, our goal never changesto serve you by striving constantly to present a better BAB-

On Opening the Library

At a recent Student Board meeting the question arose as to why the Library could not remain open all day on Saturdays instead of from 9:00 to 12:00, as is the current practice.

The biggest complication involving such a change seems to be a lack of help. At present, the Library is open from 2:00 to 5:00 on Sundays, but there is the possibility that those working Sunday would be willing to work the preceding day instead. If this is done, the Library, of course, could not open on Sundays.

The Administration has stated that it has no objection to the Library's remaining open all day Saturday and Sunday afternoon as well. If it is at all possible to find students who will work both days, this change may be brought about.

Your letters to the editor and comments to members of the Student Board expressing which arrangement you prefer, can do much to aid in a satisfactory settlement of the matter.

Hey You Southpaws!

The request we are about to make won't interest most of you, in fact, only a small minority will take any interest in it at all. But to a few of you, the fulfillment of this simple plea could mean a great deal.

It is true that because most of us are "right-handed," we find it no trouble at all to write or take notes on the desks in each classroom. Yet to some 80 or 90 unfortunate Lipscomb students who happen to be neither "right-handed" nor ambidextrous, this situation is not so easily handled.

And thus it is that we make a plea for a few "left-handed"

Sounds like a simple request, doesn't it? It is, and it can probably be answered by your letting a Student Board member know just how much such a grant would mean to you! So speak up, southpaws!

The Babbler

Entered as second-class matter, December 26, 1923, at the post office, Nashville, Tenn., under the Act of March 3, 1897.

Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1916; authorized, Nashville, Tenn. Published weekly during the regular school year except during holidays or examination periods by the students of DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE, Nashville, Tenn.

Office located on second floor Crisman Memorial Library.

Associated Collegiate Press
EDITORIAL STAFF	F
eggie Herron Editor-in-Chief	Į
ary Lou Carter Associate Editor	t
eorge Patterson Editorial Page	S
ornelia Turman Feature Editor	a
atthew Morrison Staff Artist	d

Member

BUSINESS STAFF Business Manager Paul Rogers ADVISORY STAFF Editorial Advisor Bob Sivley Willard Collins Faculty Advisor Eunice Bradley Press Club Sponsor

with deadlines drawing nearer as the hour grows later, the pressure is not possible to catch all the really increases. Besides this, it errors. A perfect paper exists only fable" that goes something like

A certain frog was caught in a deep rut in the road, and in spite of help by his friends.

couldn't get out. They finally left him there is despair. The next day they saw his hopping

happily along, free from the

"What are you doing here?"

the friend asked. "I thought you couldn't get out of that plied. "But a truck came along the road and I HAD to."

somewhat different funny-

"I couldn't," the frog re-

But the end of our version is

"What are you doing here?" a friend asks. "I thought you

"I couldn't," someone replies,

"But report-card time came and Another proof that people are jailed and fined $100 for dumping garbage in the streets of the exclusive Twin Peaks area from his

Here and There . . . It is the quick thinkers who become leaders. He who hesitates is bossed . . . Even if you are on the right track, you will be run over if you just sit there . . . Better to do a little well

Twix optimist and pessimist

The pessimist sees the hole.

The optimist sees the doughnut,

STUDENT BOARD NOTES

At the last meeting of the Student Board, it was decided that recognition pins would be obtained for the Board members.

Gene Mullins will replace Earl Edwards as the representative for the day student men.

Board members were invited to the home of Dick Batey, student body president, for a spaghetti supper on January 25.

anuary 25. It will please many students to note that plans are being made to possibly have the Library open all day on Saturdays. This, however, would necessitate the Library being closed on Sundays.

Hymn Books Help-

I think B. C. Goodpasture and the Gospel Advocate deserve our appreciation for the 600 new song books donated for our use.

It is quite a change to be able to sing during chapel with the aid of a hymn book. The im-

I hope we as students will de-

Gratefully,

A Student

note our appreciation by taking proper care of the new books.

SWIMLES.

Writes Student

provement is noticeable.

'Dear Editor'

than a great deal badly.

The difference is droll,

Heard in Passing:

couldn't pass that stiff course.'

At an interview some years ago, Monday and Tuesday nights. And a reporter asked Claire Boothe

"What are your favorite hobbies, Mrs. Luce?" "Shooting, cats, and photography." replied the noted U.S. The following morning the interview appeared in the paper. Almost immediately, Mrs. Luce was bombarded with angry telegrams and phone calls from indignant readers. Puzzled, she read the story again. To her horror, she discovered that the comma separating "cats" and "shooting" had been omitted.

This incident shows one of the mistakes often made by newspapers, and the consequences that may result. We of the BABBLER are often guilty of such errors, and worse ones, even though there may never have been any similar

With so much copy to read, we find ourselves pretty busy on

The eleven

ple this week. The talks between UN secretary Dag Hammarskiold and China's Chou En Lai closed Monday. In a communique issued by the two officials, the talks were described as "Useful."

Many interpreted this to mean that the release of the UN soldiers. shot down over Red territory and held as spies, would be only a matter of time, though there was no definite word from the Communists themselves as to what their intentions were.

On one thing, however, all would have to agree: the leaders of Communist China, though not recognized by the United States nor the United Nations organization, continued to confer on equal terms with UN officials and to keep their name in the international press.

Even if the men are released immediately, the Red purpose will have been served. China has proved again that she is a nation to be reckoned with.

By committing an act that can only be termed criminal and insulting to the United Nations, she has made that organization send its top official to the Chinese capital to discuss terms for a release.

Trouble in Central America

Trouble in the Americas once again drew the interest of the world, when little Costa Rica charged that she was being threatened by an invation by Nicaragua. The smallest nation in the Organization of American States appealed to that group for protection from the Nicaraguans, which, she claimed, are training an army of adventurers to invade Costa Rica under the disguise of an internal revolutionist movement.

The Costa Rican ambassador. Antonio Facio stated that his country's only defense was "that which dignity and international justice give us."

The OAS, which consists of 21 American republics, including the United States, decided to review the charges and hold another session on the matter after each of the American governments has had a chance to discuss the situation.

Perhaps the most important implication in the dispute was the fact that the charges and countercharges, hurled by both governments include accusations that "Communist and other leftist elements" are behind the trouble.

LIPSCOMB DAY by DAY

winter. For a while it was dubious-with the sun and warm days and all. But now it has snowed and we've had some cold By Pat Fyre (c-o-l-d, that in the dreams of old editors as is) weather, so "Spring has sprung, they totter toward the padded Fall has fell, Winter has come and"- you know the rest. About this time in the quarter, From a very reliable source comes we usually think of a "modern

It must be

the word that someone has an automatic "A" in a music course. On registration day this fortunate lad asked to see "Dr." Corinne Cline to have her sign his card. We have a poet in our midst.

When G. O. Traughber's twins were born on Dec. 22, he named them Gilliam Otis Traughber III and William Louis Traughber. For short, they will be called Bill and Gill. Clever, no?

If you haven't made your plans plans to see the one-act plays, do so now. Our spies have come up with the news that the two plays will be well worth more than the price of admission. Better buy those tickets right now.

Heard voicing the plight of the great majority of our unattached students: two freshmen with laden trays were walking to the back of the cafeteria. "Now, which steady couple will we sit with?" asked one. We suggest that a little Traughber's Hideaway be ar-In San Francisco, a man was ranged with tables for two and candle-light (glow-worms will do) for all the cozy twosomes. This would give the rest of us spinsters and old bachelors a chance to eat without feeling like home-wreck-

> In Choristers Bill Smith was asking, "What's the name of the brunette alto with such a beautiful voice? You know, the female version of Ray Walker." In case you haven't guessed, the name is Julia

A psycopathic case. No doubt about it. Definitely. See what your opinion is. Roland Tucker picked up his tray, carried back to the "tray disposal", tried to put it in a slot, then looked down to see that his hands were absolutely empty. What an imagi-

Truth crushed to earth will After a tres gai weekend, Pat Pinkley, Pat Seavers, Pat Tompkins, Mary Alice Bell and Rebecca Williams came back in more than usual high spirits. They've tried to blame it on some bourbonflavored candy. . . . Flavoring must be mighty potent these days.

How not to treat guests: Gay Barnes left her room so that Nancy Gooch could use her bed while visiting Cornelia Turman. But as she graciously left, Gay set the alarm for two-thirty in the morning. Perhaps she was bitter about Life is just full of embarrassing moments. Such was the discovery that Rachel Waggoner made when Clarence Mason took her to visit his father in the hospital. When they came to the desk, the nurse sighted the overnight case that gentleman Clarence had brought in for Rachel, turned to them, and instructed them, "Turn to your left, and the maternity ward is at the end of the hall." We won't say that Clarence was embarrassed, but the last the nurse saw of him was a ball of red wearing slacks and a sport coat disappearing out the front door.

Patsy Oxford has typists' dementia -or a reasonable facimile thereof. She says that after taking typing for so long she finds herself typing out everything she hearson an imaginary typewriter. That's why you'll see her (if you be bad and peek) in chapel or at church during prayers with her head bowed and her fingers flying.

On the first day of classes Dr. Landiss called the roll from last quarter's Shakespeare course to see who of his brilliant students had failed to return for another three months of enlightenment. Upon reaching the name of George Brazil, Landiss said, "Well, he's had it, and can't take it again." How true, how true. . . .

Davis Likes Sports, Will Get Plenty in New Position

At the quarterly meeting of the nings Davis, Jr., was named official head of the physical education department.

January 14, 1955

Davis' appointment marks the first time in the history of the school that this department has had a head.

Dr. Davis, who has been closely associated with Lipscomb for nearly 20 years, as both a teacher and a student, graduated from the College department in 1950. He served as president of the junior class and was listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universites his senior year.

A member of the varsity basketball team, Davis was captain of the team during the 1949-50 season. He also played on the Bison tennis team for four years and names tennis as his favorite sport

Always an active sports enthusiast, Davis was president of the "L" Club and sports editor of the Backlog. In 1950 he was religious editor of the BABBLER.

A CASE OF . . . IDENTITY

The "youngsters" in the picture in last week's BABBLER that we hope some of you were able to recognize are: Patsy Simpkins. daughter of Dr. T. E. Simpkins of the student health clinic, and the following students now at Lipscomb, Bob Batey, Jim Dark, George Spain, Mary Cornelia Sparkman, and James Lee Mc-Donough.

If you like the BABBLER, tell your friends; if you don't like it,

IN YOUR INITIAL TEST

TOMORROW I'M GOING TO ASK ONE

QUESTION THAT WILL SEPARATE THE MEN

The year following graduation Board of Directors Saturday, Jen- from Lipscomb, Davis went to Ohio State University where he received his Master's degree in physical education. In June after leaving Ohio State, he was married to the former Vera Howard, Jennings Davis, Jr.

who was Homecoming Queen while they were both Lipscomb

Returning to Lipscomb in the fall of '51, Davis taught primarily in the High School department for wo years and coached the bas-

When he decided to get his Doctor's degree, he was granted a $1000 scholarship to study at Columbia University. This past December he received the Ed.D. degree from Davis preached for some of the congregations in and around New York City while he was in school there. Currently he is full-time minister for the Otter Creek Church of Christ, in addition to his teaching responsibilities Lab assign.

4,500 Meals Make Jan. 20 Busy Day

Gilliam O. Traughber will be a busy man January 20. The reason? On that day he will supervise the preparation and serving of 4,500 meals on the Lipscomb

The breakdown of that number reads like this: 1,600 meals at the college cafeteria, 300 meals at the High School Student Center, 300 meals to the elementary and kindergarten students, 800 meals at the College Student Center, and 1,500 meals at the annual banquet given during lecture week for preachers, and elders and their

Last year there were 1.250 people present for the banquet. They were all served within twenty-five minutes. The same procedure will be used this year in serving the

This includes: the banquet tables being set up in the gym by Richard Waggoner and the campus crew, serving cafeteria style with four serving lines and five workers in each line, two supervisors to keep the lines moving, and about 40 girls from Miss Margaret Carter's home economics classes to serve bread, coffee, and the des-

It takes 60 employees two days to prepare the food for the banquet. Paper plates, cups, and wooden or plastic knives, forks, and spoons are used at the dinner. To Serve in Thirty Minutes

Traughber said Monday that the staff is going to try to serve the entire group in thirty minutes. He also said that at the same time this group is being served in the gym, about 500 people will be eating in the college

THAT TEST TOMORROW OUGHT TO BE

PRETTY ROUGH - I'M GOIN' STRAIGHT TO MY CAGE AN' STUDY!

Annual Founder's Contest Set in Memory of Lipscomb

January 21 is Founder's Day had also bought a farm and was marked by the oratorical contest, nessman. is so called because it is the birthday of one of the founders of the school, David Lipscomb

He was born in Franklin Coun-Tenn, near Winchester in 1831. His parents had come here from Virginia in 1826. They were engaged in farming as were most other people during this time.

The family had inherited a few slaves, but, being devout Christians, became convinced that slavery was contrary to the spirit and teaching of Christianity. Believing this, they freed their slaves and moved to Illinois. They lived here only one year, but while they were there David Lipscomb's mother and three of her children died.

After this tragedy the family moved back to Franklin County where his father remarried and became a financially well-fixed and prosperous farmer. The Lipscombs were instrumental in building up the church at Old Salem near Bean's Creek. Religion played the greatest role in the family life.

At the age of 14 he attended a school in Virginia for a year, while living with his grandmother. In 1849, he graduated from Franklin College, whose president was Tolbert Fanning, a famous preacher of that age.

After graduation Lipscomb managed a plantation in Georgia for a while and then came back to Tennessee where he took a contract to help build a branch of the N. C. and St. L. railroad from Decherd to Huntsville, Ala. He

By Matt Morrison

THE NEXT DAY AFTER THE TEST ---

at Lipscomb. This day, which is fast becoming a prosperous busi-

When he first began to preach he had no intention of trying to preach very long. But after he started he never quit, and helped establish several congregations here in Nashville and surrounding towns and counties. Much of his preaching was done in neglected and out-of-the-way places to small

He used to tell the story of baptizing over half of his audience after a sermon one day. There were five people present and he baptized three of

During the Civil War he took a stand against Christians going to war and was denounced as an abolitionist, Yankee spy, enemy of the South, etc., but he held to his

Gen. Nathan B. Forrest sent one of his staff to hear Lipscomb preach and ascertain if he were disloyal. It is said that after the sermon, the officer remarked to a member of the congregation, "I have not yet reached a conclusion as to whether or not the doctrine of the sermon is loyal to the Southern Confederacy, but I am profoundly convinced that it is loyal to the Christian religion."

In 1866, he became editor of the Gospel Advocate. In 1891 he. along with others, established the Nashville Bible School which was later named after him. The school was first located in town, but was moved to its present site in 1903. One of David Lipscomb's best characteristics was punctuality. He was rarely late for a class or any other appointment. A story that bears out tish truth goes that one day he was at his office downtown at the Gospel Advocate Co., when it was time for him to come out to school to teach his Bible classes A man stopped him on his way out and said he wanted to talk to him. He told the man he didn't have time, that he had to go to teach a class. The man said he wanted to pay some money he owed him, but Lipscomb said. "It'll have to wait. I can't be late for my class.'

David Lipscomb was married to Miss Margaret Zellner of Maury County, Tenn., in 1862. Although their only child died in infancy, they raised several children not their own. One of them is the mother-in-law of Dr. J. Ridley Stroop, professor of psy-

Lipscomb died in 1917 at the

Living Religion

The word of God is an inspired

Purity Dairies

Nashville's Finest Milk

360 Murfreesboro Road

6-1148

REALE JEWELRY CO.

DIAMONDS - WATCHES - FINE JEWELRY

ENGRAVING, WATCH AND JEWELRY REPAIRING Any Lipscomb Student Can Open A Charge Account! Special Discount to Students
Fair Trade Items Excluded BOB DRAPER, Class of '35

706 Church Street

At Entrance to Doctors' Building

Nashville's Own Department Store

Fifth Avenue at Church

Phone 5-4661

McKay-Cameron Co. CRAWFORD

2816 West End Ave. 7-5946

FLOWERS

S SA BAR

FITTS

Headquarters CHINA, GLASS, SILVER 6-0427 212 3rd Ave., N.

TENNESSEE REAL ESTATE CO. Nashville's Largest Business Brokers Rentals • AUCTIONS • Sales REALTORS 121 Third Avenue, North Campbell Jenkins

Wear The Best

'DEER CREEK' SPORTS WEAR

message to us from God. In II Timothy 3: 16-17: "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works."

Think, for a moment, about the sufficiency of the word of God. The scriptures can make men wise. Someone once said that a knowledge of the Bible is a good liberal education.

But, not only in that respect can the scriptures make us wiseneither is that the most important aspect of the wisdom which we can gain. From this scripture that Paul wrote to Timothy, two conclusions can be drawn:

(1) The scriptures, or the word of God, makes creeds, disciplines, and manuals unnecessary; anything containing more than the scriptures contain too much, and vice versa. Anything that contains wholly the same thing is repetition and is therefore unnecessary. (2) If the scriptures furnish a man to every good work, more or less than the scriptures can do naught but lead to something other than good work.

Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in

Herd... Sportlight

Tomorrow night the Rebels of Belmont once again invade the confines of McQuiddy gym to do battle with our in-andout Bisons

The Rebels have been taking it on the nose recently-Union, Florence State-and will be eager to bounce back against the Herd.

Robert Barnes, sensational Reb center, continues to lead the small colleges of the nation in total points de-

He has been scoring an average of over 30 a game and poses the chief threat to the Bisons' hopes of victory. It will take a superb defensive job by Ken Donaldson and the rest of the squad to hold this boy under the 24 points he scored in the first meeting of the two teams.

The starting line-up of the Herd seems to be in a constant state of change, as Coach Sherrill seeks to find the right combination that will produce a consistently good performance.

The ETSC game saw two freshmen, Roger Villines and Jerry Brannon, begin the game at the guard positions.

But regardless of the starting five tomorrow night, the whole team will go all out to beat the Rebels. A game with Belmont is always a big game.

Here's food for thought: Kentucky was No. 1 in the country; Ga. Tech beat the Wildcats; Vandy beat Tech. Now if Lipscomb could tumble the Commodores. . . .

We get our chance on Jan. 24 in Vandy's Memorial Gymnasium. We need to do our part by filling our side of the big gym with Bison supporters. V.U. thinks they've really got it. They've got to be deflated.

Intramurals

The Gladiators have done it! After two winless years in intramural basketball they have copped not one, but two priceless victories.

By replacing confusion with teamwork, the Glads have become the top threat for the Class A title.

The AA race looks like a real dogfight. Each team is capable of beating any other of the teams on a given night. But the Rams are still going to be a hard team to de-throne. Their all-star crew of Warren, McAlister, Thorneberry, Harris, and Dugan is rough.

Everybody's wearing a uniform with numbers. What could this mean? More money for the bookstore, perhaps?

Seems Like

- . . . it's turned cold again.
- . . . more students should come to the games.
- . . . the Bisons still have "spirit." Do you?
- . . . we should whip Belmont.

SPORT SPOTS McCrickard PEACH STATE HUSTLER!! COLSON HAILS FROM VALDOSTA, GEORGIA STANDS WEIGHS JUMP SHOT! COLSON IS ACADEMICALLY
A JUNIOR __
THIS MAKES
HIS THIRD YEAR
ON THE SQUAD!! MOVES FAST AND RUNS UNTIRINGLY !! A VERY FINE SPORT!

ETSC Tromps Herd 79-55

mained unbeaten in the V.S.A.C. by rur ing wild over the Bisons in the cond half of the Lipscomb game there. January 8, to gain a 79-55 victory

The game gave every indication of being close all the way. At the odtset, big Waycaster, E. T. center, hit a field goal with the first quarter only 40 seconds old.

Ten seconds later, John Friend ripped the net and tied the count. A quick basket by Waycaster again put the Johnson City quintet in the lead, where they stayed for the rest of the evening, with but

Jerry Brannan, starting his first game, kept the Bisons in the game in its early stages with his fine jump shots. which netted him 11 points.

Creech, of E. Tenn., paced the victors with 28 points while Bowman and Waycaster garnered 15 and 10 points each.

Jerry Brannan and Les Sherrill were high-point men for the Bison attack with 11 and nine points,

Rams Lead AA Basketball League

As basketball intramurals got back in swing last week, the Rams pushed out in front in the AA league by defeating the Knights

Ken Dugan of the Rams took scoring honors for the game with 23 points. Wayne Wright and James Lee McDonough of the Knights both had 10 points.

The Comets could provide rough competition for the Rams by virtue of their 44-24 trouncing of the Bucs. Dick Batey of the Comets was the game's high scorer with 15 points.

Gladiators Come to Life

In the A league, the Gladiators have suddenly come to life with Paul Dillingham leading the way. The Gladiators have beaten the Eagles and the Cavaliers by scores of 39-27 and 47-39, respectively.

The Cavaliers since the holidays have been beaten by the Pirates, 42-31. Bill Camp led the scoring with 14 points. The Eagles have surprised the Pirates in the only other A league game (by press time), 41-36. For the winners, Bill Camp again scored 14 points.

Newsom, Cullum Score 12

In the B league the Bucs beat the Pirates by a score of 50-28. Charles Newsom and Alan Cullum paced the winners with 12 points each, while Max Cagle had 10 points for the losers.

The B Rams took the Eagles 41-25 with Dickie Adams of the Rams scoring 16 markers. In the only other game, the Cavaliers beat the Comets 34-19, with Johnny Adams of the Cavaliers hitting for 16; Phil Dunn had 10 for the losers.

Trade at Hutcherson's

TURRENTINE REALTY COMPANY 2915 Nolensville Road Sales—Insurance—Loans

Phone 42-2651

Patronize THE LIPSCOMB LAUNDRY

Alloway BROS. COMPANY

Poultry

eased past Austin Peay 73-65 Tuesday night.

The game had all the air of an important tournament game, and went right down to the last second with the outcome very much in

Jerry Brannan, on-rushing freshman guard, sent the Bisons stampeding out in front with a basket in the first 15 seconds of play. John Friend and Brannan dumped in 2 pointers before the Governors of Austin Peay managed to score. From this early advantage the Bisons were never overtaken.

Friend and Brannon combined to give the Governors a headache in the first half, and throughout the entire game. Exactly 20 of the team's 38-point half-time lead came from the skilled hands of the big and the small.

The half came to an end with the scoreboard registering a 38-32 score in favor of the Bisons.

Once again the two hatchet men of the Bisons, Friend and Brannon, tossed in 20 points of the second-half total of 35 and helped pace the herd to victory. Long range shooting by Earl

Chance, John Rendek and Ken

Girls' Basketball Intramurals Begin

Girls' Basketball Intramurals started Thursday night in Burton Gym, under the direction of Miss Frances Moore. The Basketball Tournament this year will be a Round Robin, in which each team plays the other teams. The team with the highest percentage of games won will be In the event of a tie, championship playoffs will be held. After the tournament "All Stars" will be selected from all the girls' basketball teams entered in the tournament.

The D. L. C. Bisons finally got West kept the governors in back into the win column as they distance of the Bisons, but, they were never quite able to catch up in score. Big Ken Donaldson and Gayle Napier's rebounding were primary factors in preserving the

January 14, 1955

Still the never-say-die Austin Peay fire of coach Striplin clung on tenaciously, and the Governors were only 2 points away from a tie with about 2 minutes left.

All hope for the Governors was ended, however, when John Friend and Leslie Sherrill combined to hit 3 free tosses in the last 25 seconds, and write "finis" to the game.

Scoring honors for the night went to John Friend with 25 points. Jerry Brannon had 17 for the victors and Earl Chance got 17 for the Clarksville five, while John Rendik had 15 and Ken West had 14 for Austin Peay.

Lipscomb

F.G. F.T. P.F. T.P. 4 3 4 11 Napier, f 10 4 3 24 Friend, f

Donaldson, c 4 2 2 10 Brannon, g 5 7 0 17 Sherrill, g 0 5 3 5 Villines, g 2 0 0 Colson, g 0 2 2 2 0 0 1 0 Jones, g 25 23 16 73

Austin Peav F.G. F.T. P.F. T.P. West, f 7 0 2 14 Chance, f Moore, c 0 2 5 2 Taylor, g 1 1 5 3 Holmes, g 2 1 3 5 Brown, f Rendek, g 6 3 5 15 Bowers, g 0 0 0 0

24 17 24 65 Score by quarter: D. L. C .- 1-21, 2-17, 3-12, 4-23

A. P.-1-15, 2-17, 3-10, 4-23-

Established 1858

PHILLIPS & BUTTORFF MFG. CO.

Manufacturers of

ENTERPRISE STOVES, FURNACES AND STOKERS FOR COAL-GAS-ELECTRICITY

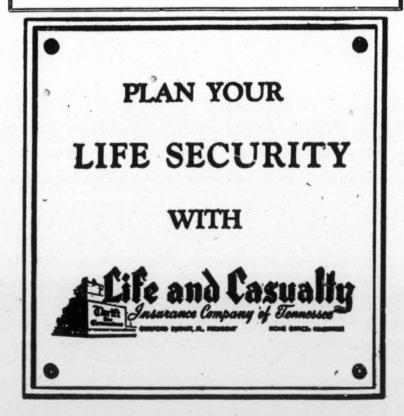

Furnishers of

Commercial and Residential Air Conditioners Cafeteria Equipment for Schools and Hotels Kitchen Wares-Table Wares-Home Wares

Serving A Value Conscious America for Nearly 100 Years

217 Third Avenue, North

Nashville, Tennessee

Nancy Wyckoff and Court ...

THE HOMECOMING QUEEN AND HER COURT are seen entering College Hall earlier this week. The girls, from left to right, include: Nelda Brasfield, Ann Derseweh, Babs King, Faye Kinzer, Katie Morgan, Nancy Wyckoff, Pat Crownover, Gloria Brannam, and Jeanette Arnold. Miss Wyckoff was elected Queen last week. The other girls represent the four classes.

The Balder

On Sale Jan. 24

Tickets for the one-act plays in the Intramural Forensics Tournament will be distributed by the class presidents on Monday, Jan.

Each class selling enough tickets to equal the number of students in that class plus 25 will receive 10 points toward winning the tourna-

No points will be awarded unless the quota is reached.

Also, selections for the radio division will be given out on Monday. Those participating in this division are asked to pick them up and prepare for the contests. The tournament is scheduled to begin January 31.

Knott Takes Post: Replaces Ussery

Betty Knott, the replacement for Jamie Ussery as secretary to Willard Collins, vice-president, is also a member of the junior class.

Miss Knott is a math major from Bradford, Tenn. She has lways enjoyed any type of office work and considers her present job to be in the midst of "ideal surroundings."

With the exception of nine hours each week in class, Miss Knott is in the office from 8-5 daily. During the following hours, she will not be in the office: 11-12 everyday except Wednesday, 3-4 each day, 4-5 on Monday and Wednesday.

American Ass'n. Accepts Lipscomb

"The Board of Directors of the Association of American Colleges, meeting in Washington, D. C., last week voted David Lipscomb College into membership." This announcement came from A. C. Pullias, President, Monday.

President Pullias, who attended the convention with Dean J. P. Sanders, said that this is not only an honor for Lipscomb, but it will give the college the benefit of an exchange of information on a nafund raising, academic problems, tarv. public relations, teacher education,

The association gives particular attention to the work and problems of private liberal arts changing the former audio-visual

Forensic Tickets Go Huff Donates New Batey's Entertain Audio-Visual Aids

Lipscomb students will be seeing a new audio-visual device in their classrooms in the future. Marshall Gunselman, director of the Audio-Visual Center, has an-Board members who will attend nounced that an overhead projector is now available for use by the teachers. It was received as a gift from Boggs Huff, an alumnus of Lipscomb, who is now associated with the Visual Education Company of Nashville. The projector will permit the teacher to face the class and at the same time, work a math problem, diagram a sentence, or do any written work, which may be seen by all the class.

With this instrument, the teacher simply writes on a flat surface on his desk. The image is projected to a large screen just behind the teacher. Thus he can explain his chart, illustration, or diagram as he

It eliminates the necessity of the teacher turning and writing on a blackboard or chart, and then turning back to the class to explain what has been done.

By the use of special frames, the teacher can prepare material before the class period, and flash it before the class whenever it is

As an example, Gunselman said he prepared a test for one of his classes this way. It saved his having to copy the test on the blackboard, and gave the students more time to

An eattachment is being purchased which will make possible the use of slides and photographs.

Art Club Elects Burton President

Every Monday at 12:00 a group of students interested in art meets in the Art Department to discuss vital issues in the world of art.

The president of the club is Alan Burton from Bells, Tenn.; vice-president is Bryant Woldran from Lavergne, Tenn.; Donna Rogtionwide basis in such areas as ers from Camden, S. C., is secre-

> The club sponsor is Miss Nedra Olbricht, head of the art depart-

> Plans for the future include room into a materials laboratory.

Student Board Tues. Student body President Dick

Batey has invited the members of the Student Board to his home for dinner Tuesday. The weekly meeting of the Board will also be

Weather Impedes

Lecture Progress

the most successful week of study and fellowship since their begin-favorable weather conditions which have prevented many peo-

The number who registered for the first day of the series was above the number of any of the previous lectureships. For this reason it is believed the attend-arce record would have been set

tions, there are people here representing twenty-five states, and Canada, Alaska, and Germany.

33¹/₃ RPM Record

Of Singing Sold

in the bookstore Tuesday.

diers," "Blest Be the Tie."

department.

In spite of the weather condi-

Marshall Gunselman and Gilliam Traughber have produced a long-playing record of Lipscomb

chapel singing, which went on sale

The 33 1/3 RPM record includes

Chapel Singing on one side as follows: "Harvest Time," "Abide with Me," "Onward, Christian Sol-

On the other side, the Lipscomb

Quartet sings, "Crossing the Bar;"

College Chorus, "Praise the Lord;"

Choristers, "O' Master, Let Me

Walk with Thee"; and the High School Chorus, "Peace, Perfect

Price of the record is $2.50.

if weather had permitted.

ple from attending.

However, snow has brought un-are Bob Sivley, Ada Elliott, Ed Smith, Mamie Grindley, Eddie Enzor, Earline Doak, Bill Banowsky, Gay McFarland, Martha Copeland, Bettye Beazley, Peggie Herron. Keith Ericson, Joe Camp, Carolyn Johnson, Pat Crownover, Gene Mullins, Wanda Montgomery.

The new students are Wilma Armstrong, Joe Knox, Carol Smith, Euel Fountain, Bob Batey, Charles Merrill, James Jay Nash, William

Eugene Griffin, Bobby Gene Bradley, Stewart Williams, Smitty Carter, Ernest Meadow, Edna Earl Bobo. Joyce Ann Overstreet. Robert Daniel and Elmer Lusk.

Classes Select Members Of Homecoming Court

Attendants have been chosen for the 1955 Homecoming Court of Queen Nancy Wyckoff.

They are Gloria Brannam, Max Wilcox, Ann Derseweh, John Eason, Babs King, Ronnie Morrell, Nelda Brasfield,

Katie Morgan, Dan Kimbell, Fave Kinzer, Phillip Slate, Pat Crownover, Harry Rose, Jeannette Arnold, and Jess

Gloria Brannam and Ann Derseweh are senior attendants. Miss Brannam was runner-up in the election for queen. She participates in of the Choristers.

A prominent campus musician, Miss Dersewch, of this city, is a part-time plano instructor and also accompanies the chorus. She

Tickets Available For Vandy Game

Tickets to the Vanderbilt-Lipscomb basketball game are on sale today in the Student Center. Five hundred and thirtytwo seats have been reserved in the Vanderbilt Memorial Gym where the Bisons will meet the Commodores next Monday night.

Tickets may also be obtained from the business office or at the registration desk in the administration building

The Student Board is currently oushing the ticket sale in order to make a good showing at the game. Dick Batey announced that busses will be chartered to take students from school to Vandy gym.

Price of the tickets is $1.00.

18 New Students Come This Quarter

According to records compiled in the registrar's office, 18 students are enrolled in Lipscomb for the first time this quarter. Of this number, 13 are freshmen, some of which are among the eight who have transferred from

The 1955 Winter Lecture Series started with indications of being holds membership in the Musicians Club, F.T.A., and I.R.C.

Senior escorts are Max Wilcox and John Eason. Wilcox, a ministerial student from Colliers, W. Va., is a member of the Intramural All-star football team, and F.T.A. work and is a member also plays intramural basketball.

> Eason is from Logswood, Tenn.; he is studying in the field of Junior attendants are Nelda Brasfield and Babs King. Miss Brasfield previously attended the University of Tennessee at Martin. A General Business major, she is in F.T.A. and the Girls Ensemble She hails from Dresden, Tenn.

A Nashvillian, Miss King recently joined the Footlighters and has been an L Club member.

Both Ronnie Morrell and Carl Walker, junior escorts, are from Nashville, Morrell, a history major, is publicity director of the L Club; Walker is also an L Club Faye Kinzer, of Old Hickory, Tenn., and Katie Morgan, of Benton, Kentucky, are court representatives of the sophomores. A music student. Miss Morgan is a member of the band and the

In her freshman year, Miss Kinzer was a freshman cheerleader and held membership in the Press and Home Ec. clubs

Dan Kimbell and Phillip Slate will escort the sophomore attendants. Kimbell, from Harriman, Tenn., was an all-star football player: he plans to be a minister. A speech major, Slate has an outstanding record as a debater. He is from Madison, Tenn. Pat Crownover and Jeannette Arnold were chosen freshman attendants. Miss Crownover, of Anderson, Tenn., is Sewell Hall representative to the Student Board.

From LaVergne, Tenn., Miss Arnold is a Press Club member. Jess (Buzz) Hall, of Fort Worth. Texas and Harry Rose, a ministerial student, from Birmingham, Ala., were elected freshman escorts. Hall is a speech major. Homecoming festivities will take place February 11 when the Bisons meet Abilene Christian College. Mrs. Ollis Smith directs homecoming proceedings each year.

Four Reach Speech Finals

THESE FOUR FINALISTS WILL SPEAK TODAY in competition for the annual Founder's Day Medal in honor of the birthday of David Lipscomb. From left to right they are Glen Tucker, Bill Phillips, Bob Hamlin, and Don McWhorter.

Bill Phillips, Glenn Tucker, Bob ior, and "What is Progress?" by the finalists for the Founder's Day Oratorical Contest to be held today at 11 o'clock.

Their subjects are: "For the Brotherhood of Men," by Phillips, project of the Audio-Visual Center, and any profits will go to that "Dreams," by Hamlin another jun- chosen at press time.

Hamlin, and Don McWhorter are McWhorter of the senior class. The winner will be chosen by a panel of five judges. It includes: Dr. Ira North of the college speech department, and the following ministers, Glen Martin of Cincinnati, O., Ray Frizzell, Wytheville a junior, "Whence Cometh Help," Va., and Clifton Trimble of Nashby Tucker of the freshman class, ville. The fifth judge had not been

Fourth Estate Freedom

"Congress shall make no law . . . abridging the freedom . . .

Thus reads the first amendment to the constitution of the United States. Yet, to us it is ironic, how many times this protective guarantee is violated.

The might of some individuals and firms in controlling and Bay muffling the exercise of this "inalienable right" would appall the public should it be revealed. Yet the gullible American people swallow this biased diet of "news" and seldom realize that they are being led in paths chosen by the few who are responsible for this "unlawful censorship."

The duty of every newspaper is to present both sides of issues involving the public's general interest and welfarewhen the paper ceases to fulfill this function, we are disposed to wonder why that paper exists. No real newspaper can thrive only as a publicity agent. If that be the case, it should not masquerade under the guise of "newspaper."

Conviction Or Heirloom?

"I will listen to any man's convictions, but pray keep your doubts to yourself."-Goethe.

When an individual tries to explain his stand on a subject about which he has no conviction, he soon finds himself up in the air without any kind of support. Conviction is like the sturdy oak foundation which supports a house.

In this age of mass production, many students seem to accept ready-made opinions along with all the other ready-

Sometimes we fail to use our powers of judgment for so long that they become impotent, and we must learn anew the way to select the refined from the dross. Often our "beliefs" are inherited and handed-down in much the same way as a day version of Mother Goose family heirloom.

The reason men like Martin Luther are respected is that they had convictions rather than opinions, beliefs rather than acquiescences. Today, in many cases, if an opinion is questioned, the individual who expressed it will begin immediately to apologize. This is because there is an absence of real conviction.

No so-called beliefs about anything should be accepted without investigation on one's own. One must arrive at his own conclusions before he will be able to accept them wholeheartedly, and before he will be able to tell others why he accepts them.

No idea is worth holding if it cannot withstand an honest, open-minded investigation. When one doubts and solves his doubts, the misgivings are dissolved forever, but when one dares not investigate a doubt, that doubt will plague him for life.

Footlighters Make Achievements Is DLC Quartette?

One of the best types of extra curricular entertainment at Lipscomb seems to be the plays that are presented from time to time throughout the school year.

Much of the credit for this entertainment goes to the group is the College Quartette. Footlighters, the Lipscomb Dramatics Club, who go all out to make each play the best that it can be. Last year, at the expense of more than 500 dollars, the club purchased five spotlights to be used by the school.

Since the purchase of these lights, they have been used effectively in "The Glass Menagerie," "Unto Us the Living," and "The Curious Savage."

The two one-act plays presented last week, also showed a lot of hard work, especially by the backstage crews of the Footlighters. The costumes for "When Shakespeare's Ladies Meet" were realistic as was the set. "Ile," a different but interesting play, took place in the captain's quarters of a "whalin" ship. The set looked authentic, especially with the help of the old-fashioned organ used.

We feel that any club on the campus can function effectively when spiced with active officers and members, mixed with some imagination and industry.

On Supporting the Bisons ...

The Student Board is making an effort to win all-out support for the Bisons during the remainder of this season, and especially in relation to the game with the Vanderbilt Commodores Monday night.

We feel that at this critical time, every Lipscomb student should try to clutch the remaining fragments of his school spirit to form a solid wall of support behind our team.

We hope the 532 tickets on hand here for sale to the Lipscomb-Vanderbilt game will all be sold long before noon Monday.

THE STUDENT CENTER after chapel reminds us of a story we heard. Two little sardines were swimming aimlessly in San Diego

One suggested, "Let's go up to San Francisco for the week-end." 'Oh, no, objected his friend, "It's much too long a swim."

"We could go by train," ventured the first sardine. "What! And be packed in like eriously, though, we know we speak for all the students in saving something should be done about the after-chapel crowding.

WE WERE ALSO intrigued the other day when we read a newspaper clipping advocating modernization of Old Mother Goose

The article advanced the argument that witches in Old Mother Goose rhymes are always old-they never look like Marilyn Monroe.

The writer of the article called for a modernization of the rhymes to offset negative ideas about aging. He said children get a warped idea about old folks from Mother Goose stories in which elderly folks are depicted as being

"Even the old woman who lived in a shoe is depicted as a sadistic individual who whipped her chil-

"What is needed is a modernstories in which a truer picture of old age is conveyed, such as the idea of kindly grandparents.'

Well, it's something to think

Just Wondering Department: What would happen if . . . Dr. Stroop were late to class . . . Library fines were paid in campuses . . . Everyone ate breakfast at seven a.m. . . . We had "Be Kind to Frosh Week" . . . Roommates were normal people? We Believe It: If the trend to increasingly wider motion-picture screens continues, before long theatres will be round-houses with panoramic screens, and moviegoers will be seated in revolving

Where, Oh. Where

There is a lot of talent on the Lipscomb campus, but it seems to me that one of the most talented groups is being left out. This

Last year, while in school at Freed-Hardeman, I had the privivery much impressed. That was one of the many things I was looking forward to when I came

It seems to me that the people here should have the chance to hear these boys more often.

> Sincerely, Nancy Davis

News Briefs

The Lipscomb Choristers plan a trip to Atlanta, Ga., on Jan. 28. They will leave the campus early Jan. 27. The program will be presented to a group of Lipscomb alumni and high school seniors on

STUDENT BOARD NOTES

It was decided in the Student Board neeting last Tuesday that the results meeting last Tuesday that the results of elections will be announced in chapel. The BABBLER will run the details and furnish extra information. Dean Sanders is to approve the new library hours. If the library is kept open on Saturdays, it will be closed on Sundays. The students seem to be in favor of this plan.

The Student Center was also discussed. Plans are being made to have it open on Saturday nights, and after the high school basketball games.

Lipscomb has been invited by Jerry Morris, affiliated with WLAC, to submit a float in behalf of the March of Dimes on January 29. Keith Eric on is in charge of the plans for such an action; however, nothing definite has been decided.

Leap Week is being planned for this year. The date has not been set as of yet, but the BABBLER will report more details later.

LIPSCOMB

That hoarding has got to stop! these will be in the library in We've seen you trying to sneak case you want to insult them, out of the cafeteria with those he concluded. Due to his privibags of goodies you're saving for the post-Lecture Week farcine. Eat now, for soon the lectures will be

One would get the impression that the students here had never seen snow. Tuesday night when the first flakes began to stick, there was a mass exodus from the dormitories into the wide open white spaces. One girl even dashed out in shorts—covered, of course, with a long woolly coat.

It was on this same night that someone set up an image to Baal on the front porch of Johnson Hall. He was big and fat and white, with twigs for arms and a snowball for a head. Some iconoclast had ulterior motives in its destruction-he needed more ammunition for the grand snowball fight that was then in progress.

A great discovery was made on the night of the great snow. Bob Sivley uncovered some extraordinary athletic talent quite by accident. As he walked innocently up the stairs to Sewell Hall, a hoard of females (probably unnerved at the sight of snow) suddenly swarmed out the doors and straight at him. One threw a body block at him and together they rolled down the hill. Bob feels that Vandy should investigate the possibilities of signing her up for the varsity football team. Our poential All-American is Rachel

Speaking of athletic talent, don't forget our team and the big game that's coming up Monday night. That's when the Herd meets Vandy. Come on out with the rest of the gang and let's show the team what support really means.

It took some time for our Lecture Week visitors to become acquainted with the ways and means of living in a dormitory. For instance-Louise Breeding and her mother were planning a trip to town. Naturally, Louise was careful to explain the process required of the fairer sex to get outside the Alma Mater's gates and to point out the dangers involved in failing to properly fill out and turn in a request slip before venturing across Granny White. Duly impressed. Mrs. Breeding dutifully turned in a request to go off campus with her daughter. We understand she was given permission to do so. He who laughs last . . . Nila Jo Garmon was fed up with George Brazil's Little jokes, so she decided that turn about was fair play. With that, she went and thoroughly greased the door handles and the steering wheel of Jo Jo's car. But the whole thing back-fired when Tom Warren rushed to Nila the next morning with the news that Jo Jo was in the hospital with injuries received when his hands slipped off the steering wheel. Not until Nila was disolving in tears Better luck next time, Nila. Hammer Gaw, we hate to tell you this, but that cleaning fluid failed to take the lipstick off your coat sleeve. Of course, by time for the evening lecture the smudge wasn't quite as noticeable as it was in Spanish class, but it was did Jo Jo appear-hale and hearty.

The Choristers were discussing the newest movies in general and Marilyn Monroe's latest in particular. And now the secret to her charm has been revealed. "You know, she has so much self-confidence," stated Julie Secrest. Master understatement of the

"Everything happens to me," Wailed Mike McCrickard. To keep from tracking the carpeting n the new church building, he took off his shoes in the vestibule and when he started to leavethey had-guess what-disappeared. That's why Mike could be seen plodding through the snow in Gloria Brannam's snowshoes. In one of his psychology classes

E. N. Cullum reeled off a list of books that might be "of interest" to the majors in that field. "Now,

ledged position, we'll give him the benefit of the doubt and call that

We've been hearing a lot of brave tall from the males on this cam-Two in particular, Hugh Tucker and Jim Blevins, have boasted that their legs are their greatest asset and that they intend to enhance their lovliness by wearing Bermuda shorts this spring. It's not spring now and easier to talk since it's cold. We'll all be waiting to see what happens when warm weather rolls

The island of Yikiangshan, a strategic island off the coast of China, fell to the Chinese Communists this week.

At the time of this writing more than 200 planes have rained hundreds of bombs on the Tachen islands just 200 miles north of

Massed land, sea, and air forces overwhelmed the battalion of Nationalist troops that tried in vain to defend the island of Yikiangshan

The U.S. 7th fleet, still cruising in the Tachen area, took no part in the skirmish, news sources said. In view of a statement by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, in which he pointed out that the Yikiangshan was not vital to the defense of Formosa, the United States does not plan any act of intervention in the struggle.

But in view of the agreements existing between this country and Chiang Kai Shek. leader of the Nationalist army. news of renewed efforts on the part of the Communists to move nearer Formosa is cause for alarm.

The Communist government is committed to a campaign to gain the island of Formosa, where Chiangs 800,000 troops are located.

Should the Red China government decide to invade Formosa. the United States would have to come to their defense, according to a bi-lateral agreement made by

6

Lattimore Charges Killed

The new indictment charges against Owen Lattimore, Far Eastern affairs expert, were thrown out by Judge Luther W. Youngdahl this week.

Leo A. Rover, U.S. attorney had charged in the indictment that Lattimore had lied about being a "follower of the Communist line as a promoter of Red interests."

McCarthy commented that he "expected that decision." and criticized Youngdahl for sitting in on the case, after he had been accused by Rover of being prejudiced in Lattimore's favor.

This is the third charge against the former teacher at Johns Hopkins University that has been dismissed and upheld by the U.S. Court of appeals. Five more charges are still pending.

THE BABBLER Entered as second-class matter, December 26, 1923, at the post office, Nashville, Tenn., under the act of March 3, 1897.

Accepted for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in 03. Act of October 3. Section 1916: at ized, Nashville, Tenn. weekly during the ear except during holidays or examination periods by students of DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE, Nashville, Tenn. Office located on second floor

Crisman Memorial Library.

Member Associated Collegiate Press Peggie Herron ... Editor-in-Chief Paul Rogers ... Business Manager Willard Collins Faculty Advisor

Exhibits Contribute Variety Uniqueness to Lecture Week

January 21, 1955

"The Sun Never Sets on Gospel Advocate Readers," A Local Church on the March, A 200 Acre Farm Site for 20 Homes for Homeless Children.—These phrases aptly describe the displays that are being shown in connection with the Annual Winter Lectures at

With subscribers from Alaska to the Union of South Africa, the Gospel Advocate is celebrating its 100th anniversary this year.

In the display in the lobby of College Hall are several old copies of the Advocate dating back to 1861, when William Lipscomb and Tolbert Fanning were editors. One old copy contained several advertisements such as are seen in our local papers toady. There is also a songbook edited by Alex-

Goal-50.000

Tuesday night at the celebration of the anniversary in Alumni Auditorium, 3,285 subscriptions for the Advocate were sold. The aim is "50,000 in '55."

Tuesday night and Wednesday, 54 people joined the 100 club, that is, they will get 100 new subscribers this year. It is hoped that 10,000 will subscribe by the end of the lectures today.

When Dr. Joe White head, of the Bible department at George Pepperdine College, called Dr. Ira North, minister of the Madison Church of Christ, Wednesday morning to see if he would take him to the Nashville Christian Institute, Dr. North said, "Meet me at the Madison display."

Dr. White asked, "Oh, does Madison have a display, where is it located?

Madison is "A Local Church on the March." As indicated by the Bible School Success Train, that is fired by a coal car of enthusiasm, cars 1-4 are labeled: "cooperationevery member enrolled in a Bible class," "Departmental ized for Efficiency," "Regular Teachers' Meetings," "Annual Teachers' Training School and rounding out the train is the "Visitation Program." ca-

A "Heaven Copter" states "Let's Do More Than in '54," and "Let's

WAVERLY BELMONT

Be Ailve in '55." In 1954 the record attendance for Sunday School was 2,317. A lighted map of the zoning program shows how every member of the church is included in the work.

Every Sunday afternoon, as shown by the TV display, Dr. North is quizmaster on the "Know Your Bible" program on WSIX. Think Big. Act Bold In the Sunday Tennessean Magazine there will be a story of this work-"Think Big, Act Bold," by Elmer Hinton. It is described as 'The Stirring Story of the Madison Church of Christ.' At the opening of the first of the 20 cottages that will eventually be built for the Children's Home of Lubbock, Texas, over 4,000 people visited the home. Since that time, one more home has been built and a third is under construction, to be finished by The model of the campus that has been displayed this week was built on the scale of one inch to 10 feet. The elders of the church at Lubbock worked with Mr. E. J. Urbanovsky, head of the horticulture and park management department at Texas Technological College, in building this model.

One of his senior students. Miss Gerry Kirkwood, built the miniature cottages under Mr. Urbanovsky's supervision. The model measures 15 x 20 feet.

Each cottage will house 18 children and their foster parents. A superintendent's home will be started soon. Plans are being made to build a chapel, administration offices, small hospital garage, warehouse, a school when the need arises and homes for employees, such as teachers and farm supervisors.

There is plenty of space to build tennis courts, football and baseball field and playground for smaller children. The farm, given by Mrs. Ida S. Collins, is located on the Idalou highway two miles outside the Lubbock city limits.

The outer drive of the area surrounding all buildings when finished, will cover 35 acres. The rest of the area is irrigated farm land and is at present in cultiva-

SELF SERVICE LAUNDRY

Granny White At Halcyon Closest to David Lipscomb College

One of America's

really fine coffees . . .

AT YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD GROCER

The National Life and Accident Insurance Co.

NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Nashville's Own Department Store

Fifth Avenue at Church

Phone 5-4661

By Laura Tarence

Mary Lucille Graves '41 of Blacksburg, Va. and James Lawrence Calhoun, also of Blacksburg, were married there on Dec. 18 Both are employed by the Virginia agricultural Extension service of Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

Evelyn Goolsby Bradsford were married in Nashville on Nov. 18. They will make their home at 2901 Belmont Blvd. Mr. Hyde is principal of Fairview school in Wil-Christine Delores Parman of

Ralph William Hyde '39 and

Nashville '48 and Franklin Eugene McKennon were married in Corinth, Miss. on Oct. 31. They will make their home in Nashville. Jackie Barr '50 was married on Dec. 18 to Ralph W. Namie. The ceremony took place in Olney, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. George Bivins, Jr.

(Maxine Luther) '50 and '51 of Nashville are the parents of a little girl, Karen Leigh, born on Nov. Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Bobo (Louise Garrett) '48 of Norwood, Ohio are the parents of a little girl, Kimberly Anne, born on Dec.

M. and Mrs. Allen W. Pettus (Dot Schell) '42 are the parents of son, William Harold, born in Nashville on Dec. 19.

Mohawks Take Win In Intramural Play

Girls basketball intramurals opened with a bang Jan. 13 in Burton Gym when the Mohawks. headed by Imogene McAlister, ran wild over the Kool Kats, headed by Sondra Wilcox.

The game started with the Mohawks pulling out front during the first quarter with a score of 4-0. Evidence still pointed to a tight game as the first half ended with a score of 7-3, the Mohawks still leading With this small margin, Mohawks McAlister, Heflin, and Seavers cut loose and ended the third quarter with the scoreboard registering 23-5.

The last round began with the Mohawks confident of victory as they scored their last eight points. The game ended with the Mohawks chalking up the first victory in the tournament with a tally of 31-9.

Top scoring honors went to La-Fond Heflin and Imogene Mc-Alister of the Mohawks with 12 and 9 points respectively. Gail Sarvis and Claudia Mosely tossed in 4 and 3 points to take the lead in the Kool Kats scoring.

Cosmetics at Hutcherson's

Alloway BROS. COMPANY Poultry Meats

McKay-Cameron

CHINA, GLASS, SILVER

Headquarters

212 3rd Ave., N. 6-0427

of Discriminating Taste Sixth a Union

Alumni Notes When First Ladies Meet Topic Discussed Is Hats

vellow flowers Mrs. A. C. Pullias accompanied President Pullias to the annual meeting of the Association of American Colleges, which was held in Washington, D.C., Jan.

The high point of her visit was being received by Mrs. Eisenhower at the White House on Jan. 12, with all the other wives of attending college presidents. The ladies assembled at the Statler Hotel, where they were given cards, and walked to the East gate of the White House. There the cards were taken up and the ladies were carried to the East parlor, where they formed a

They were then informed that they could either be received with or without gloves as it was informal that time of day.

From the East parlor the ladies went to the Green Room which had an arrangement of pink flowers. Continuing on, the group then came to the Blue Room,

290 Stations Have 'Herald of Truth' Two hundred and ninety radio and 26 television stations are now carrying broadcasts of the Herald of Truth, as shown on the large map displayed in College Hall during the lectureship this week. Of this number, 200 are ABC stations and the rest are independent. On the independent stations the local congregations buy the time and the Herald of Truth sends the tape to be used. This broadcast, started by the Highland Church in Abilene, Tex., in 1952, is now heard in the United States, Canada, Alaska, Burmuda, Old Mexico, and the Canal Zone.

Requests for the program have come from Korea, Japan, Guam, Okinawa, Honolulu and the Philippines. As soon as funds are available it will be taken to these

According to surveys made, each Sunday audience is between 3 and 4½ million persons. There are seven fulltime and two part-time employees for this work.

In 1954, $360,000 was spent for the radio and $160,000 for the TV work. The radio audience contributed $103,000 in unsolicited At this time 55 congregations are sending out correspondence Bible courses from the Herald of Truth. They send from 50 to 2000 courses each, per year, The support for the Herald of Truth comes from about 1000 con-

360 Murfreesboro Road

Promptly at 12:30 the ladies were ushered from the Blue Room into the Red Room where they were received by which featured arrangements of Mrs. Eisenhower. The Red Room was beautifully decorated with arrangements of white flowers Mrs. Eisenhower was very attractively attired in a stylish black dress and wore a small, tight-fitting matching hat with rhinestones. To complete her outfit she had white kid gloves, one was worn and the other was held in her hand. and a beautiful bracelet that gave out an impressive tinkle as she shook each lady's

Each one was introduced to the first lady by an aide who assisted Mrs Eisenhower

"Sweet, Warm and Human"

Mrs. Pullias reports that Mrs. Eisenhower was "very gracious, very sweet, and very human" in that she complimented a black hat, trimmed with gold, worn by one of the ladies standing near After meeting Mrs. Eisenhower the group went into the State Dining Room until all the ladies had been received. When she had very graciously received the ladies, Mrs. Eisenhower left because of a previous engagement. Upon her departure an aide told the ladies they were free to mingle at their leisure back through the rooms they had previously entered. On leaving the White House, the ladies enjoyed lunch at Garffinle's Tea Room, where modeling was featured as an added attraction during the meal.

NEWS BRIEF

Marshall Keeble. President of the Nashville Christian Institute. will close the lectureship this afternoon at 3:00 p.m. All classes will be dismissed at 2:00 so students can attend Keeble's lecture.

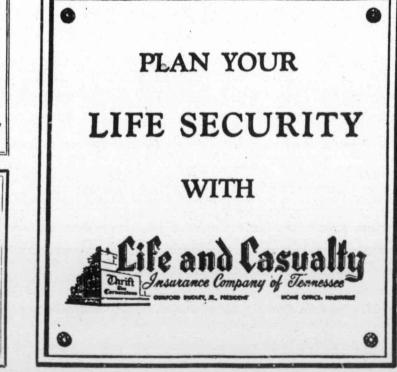

FITTS CRAWFORD

FLOWERS 2816 West End Ave. 7-5946

Purity Dairies

Nashville's Finest Milk

6-1148

The Bisons blew into Memorial Gymnasium in Murfreesboro Thursday night, to find an inspired crew of MTSC Blue Raiders waiting in ambush.

The Raiders, fresh from an 84-77 shellacking of Western Kentucky the night before, gained revenge on the 90-73 defeat at the hands of Lipscomb in their previous meeting, by taking a hardfought 79-68 win.

The Bisons got things off to a fast start, piling up a 6-0 early lead, only to see MTSC come roaring from behind to tie it up at 12-all. After two more early ties (14-14 and 16-16), Render Carden put the Raiders ahead to stay with a lay-up. The never-say-die Bisons kept punching away, however, and trailed only 35-30 at halftime.

The Thundering Herd had a strong chance of pulling it out of the fire—that is until their fatal second half.

Trailing only 36-32, the Bisons went five minutes and 40 seconds without a score; and during that time the Raiders had piled up a comfortable margin. Still not ready to concede, the Bisons kept plugging away, and trailed by only four points with three minutes to go. But late free-throw misses sealed their doom, and the Raiders came away with a 79-68 victory, their third in a row. Big Slim Donaldson led the Bisons with 24 points, and a fabulous 62.5% field goal percentage. Most of Ken's points came from his windmill-type hook shot. John Friend hit for eight in the first half, but ran cold in the second getting only one field goal. Friend hit 13, the only other Bison to hit the double figures. Render Carden and Ken Trickey gave the Raiders the 1-2 punch they needed. Carden hit for 28, while Trickey had 21.

Herd... Sportlight.

Chattanooga and Vanderbilt-Lipscomb's Bisons face two of their toughest non-conference foes in the next three days.

Tomorrow night we play the Moccasins in the Lookout City, then on Monday we catch the Commodores in the Vandy gym. The Bisons will have to show renewed spirit and teamwork to gain a victory in either contest.

The 'Noogans are reported to have one of their best teams in years, and Vandy is regarded as a leading contender in the SEC. The Commodores present a well-balanced and powerful attack led usually by their "Sterling Sophs," Al Rochelle and Bobby Thym.

The Bisons meet Vandy at a time ideal for an upset. V. U. plays Kentucky next Saturday and may possibly be looking over the Herd and concentrating on the Wildcats.

Tickets are still on sale for the game. Our cheering section can be filled if you go to the business office and buy a ducat.

The squad has expressed a vote of confidence in Coach Sherrill—now we must express our confidence in them by attending the games. How about it?

The Bisons admittedly played below par against MTSC and Belmont, but all was not darkness.

Sophomore Leslie Sherrill emerged as a capable first-string guard. Especially against Belmont Les stood out as he scored 17 points with his net-ripping long shots. In addition, he handled the ball well and passed accurately.

A pat on the back is also due freshman Jerry Brannon. Though inexperienced, he has stepped into the lineup and impressed the spectators with his smooth floor play an constant hustle.

Ken Donaldson and John Friend are still setting a good scoring pace. Ken hit in the twenties and John scored in the teens in both games. Donaldson specialized in hooks, while Friend flipped in a lot of rebounds and jump shots.

Ed Binkley looked good in a reserve role. Though big Barnes gave him some trouble on defense, Ed showed a lot of speed driving down the floor for crips against the Individually, the Bisons played well in the two games; but they seemed to lack the co-operation and organization necessary to win. This may best be explained by the fact that the new starting five had not worked a great deal together as a unit before the Raider game.

Another factor may have been the recent ripple of dissension which sought to undermine the Herd's morale. We feel that any unrest among the team members was eliminated in their squad meeting last Monday, and that the Bisons are ready to tear into their remaining schedule with determination and spirit.

Regarding the departure of a junior guard Jerry Jones from the squad, we can only hope that he and Coach Sherrill will patch up any differences they have and that Jerry will return to the School and the team.

Intramurals

We are happy to report that the basketball officiating has considerably improved. Our thanks to 'Fessor, Mac, and anyone else responsible for helping this situation.

Tumbling Gains New Interest Here

tainment at Bison home games. This is an outstanding tumbling show put on by coach Tom Hanvey's tumbling club.

Through coach Hanvey's hard work and efforts Lipscomb has attained one of the South's finest gymnastic programs-according to an outstanding college authority.

Coach Hanvey's team has certainly lived up to that appraisal in providing some very fine halftime tumbling. This team includes Jimmy Dark, Joe Johnson, Lynn Baker, and Sam Beazley.

In addition coach Hanvey will present the cream of the crop in the tumbling world at a later date

He plans to have several professional tumblers from different universities display their talents before Bison fans in the near future.

line proved costly to the Lipscomb Bisons, but paid off in a victory for the Belmont Rebels, as the Herd surrendered an an early lead; only to see Belmont, led by Temp Sparkman, come from behind and roar ahead.

The Bisons led the Rebs the first Slim was still on the bench, with five minutes, then slumped and allowed Belmont to take a 49-31

When the final half started, Big

D. L. C. TUMBLING SQUAD: Front: Lynn Baker. Back row, left to right: Joe Johnson, Sam Beazley and Jimmy Dark.

. McCrickard SPORT SPOTS

HIGH QUALITY PRINTING

Books, magazines, catalogs, folders . . . anything Contact one of these Lipscomb alumni in our office: PAUL W. MOORE, CLASS OF '38 LARRY WILLIAMS, CLASS OF '39

V. M. WHITESELL, CLASS OF '41 JAMES W. BOYD, CLASS OF '51 Williams PRINTING CO.

J. R. OVERALL, PRES.

417 COMMERCE • NASHVILLE • TELEPHONE 6-7126 E. A BERGSTROM, VIC !- PRES.

Herd Takes 88-68 Loss

As usual, with the Big Two leading the way, the Bisons took halftime lead.

Just when the Bisons had a strong chance of coming up with Belmont in the first half, Big Ken Donaldson drew his fourth personal and finished the half on the bench. The Herd lapsed again and trailed at halftime 49-31.

Gayle Napier in his place. Then the Bisons got hot. They fired a 44.7% field goal percentage in the last half, with Donaldson, Friend, and Sherrill leading the way, but they could not overcome the 18point halftime deficit. Donaldson, returned when Napier fouled out, had two good hitting streaks with his hook shot. Big John Friend also hit some beautiful hook shots when the

January 21, 1955

The dazzling play of little Les Sherrill was another Bison asset. In addition to his net-swishing set shots, the floor play of the mightly mite was magnificent.

Bisons were struggling to overtake

However, despite the stellar play of the big three, the Herd could not overcome that 18-point deficit, and came out on the short end of a 88-68 score.

Donaldson, Sherrill, and Friend all hit the double figures, with Donaldson paving the way. Donaldson had 20, Sherrill 17, and Belmont's All-America candidate, Robert Barnes, paced the Johnny Rebs with 33 points. Three other Rebs also hit the twin figures. Hilt Jones, Temp Sparkman and Jack Benz had 16, 14, and 12,

Percentagewise, Belmont hit 31 of 74 from the field for a 41.8%. The Bisons shot only 26.7% in the first half, but roared back with a 44.7% in

The loss left the Bisons with a 4-9 overall record, and a 3-4 VSAC record. They will journey to Chattanooga Saturday night to play in a non-conference tilt, and then take on the Vandy Commodores (8-1) Monday night.

Rams Continue AA Basketball Lead

In the action last week the Rams continued to pace the AA League. The Rams were winners over the Comets in a close game 44 to 41. Herbert Murphy of the Comets and Don McAlister of the Rams scored 17 and 12 points respec-

In the other AA League games the Knights beat the Comets 57 to 40 but dropped a close one to the Buccaneers 47 to 45.

Boodie Fox of the Knights scored 19 and 16 points in the two The Gladiators who were previously unbeaten were defeated by the Pirates 40 to 31. Don Montgomery of the Pirates and Paul Dillingham of the Gladiators had 13 and 17 points respectively.

In the B league games last week the Eagles romped the Comets by 50 to 30. Otis Sneltzer of the Eagles scored 13 points.

The Knights won over Pirates 37 to 23. Dan Kimbell was the game's high scorer with 13 points. In the only other game, the Buccaneers won easily over the Gladiators.

Buy Fountain Pens at Hutcherson's

Patronize THE LIPSCOMB LAUNDRY

TURRENTINE REALTY COMPANY 2915 Nolensville Road

Sales-Insurance-Loans Phone 42-2651

O-h-h-h, What's This?

A TEST OF FORTITUDE IS IN PROGRESS with four Lipscombites battling it out on the open campus. Reveling in the three-inch snow of last Tues., are Joe Camp, Frances Barnes, Glenda Winsett. and Beverley Brawner. (See story on page three.)

Plans Near Final Completion For Homecoming Coronation

Plans are nearing completion for the 1955 coronation of the Lipscomb Homecoming queen, Miss Nancy Wyckoff.

The event is to take place in McQuiddy Gymnasium, Feb. 11. Plans for the processional are under the direction of Mrs. Ollis Smith.

Athens Clay Pullias, president of the College, will crown this year's queen.

direction of the Student Board.

Members of Miss Wyskoff's court

are Gloria Brannam, Ann Derse-

weh, Babs King, Nelda Brasgeld,

Katie Morgan, Faye Kinzer, Pat

Crownover, and Jeannette Arnold,

John Eason, Ronnie Morrell,

Carl Walker, Dan Kimbell, Phillip

Slate, Harry Rose, and Jess Hall.

be attired in dresses made of

make the ceremony earlier.

Faye Simmons Is H.S.

Homecomina Queen

The queens' attendants will escorted by Max Wilcox.

net over taffeta.

The administration is considering a plan to change the location of the queen's throne in order to have it ready before the half-time ceremony, and thus speed up the festivities. In this case the processional will be across the gymnasium floor, as usual.

There is also a plan under consideration to limit the number of speakers. Definite announcement will be made in the next week's BABBLER about these two plans.

Student Board to Decorate Decorations will be under the

DLC Participates In Polio Parade

Lipscomb will be represented in the parade on behalf of the March of Dimes tomorrow.

A blue and white convertible decorated with signs and purple and gold streamers will be driven by George Spain, with the other cheerleaders in the car also. Parts of the parade will be recorded on film and televised later.

In addition to participation in the parade, several Lipscomb students have agreed to take part in the "Telethon" tomorrow evening from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. The "Telethon" is staged annually to raise funds for the polio drive. All Nashville colleges and major

Is Lecture Record

Twenty-eight in a row-this

Chester A Hun-

nicutt for atten-

dances at the

Lipscomb Win-

when the lecture series origin a t e d, Hunni-

cutt was a student here and

Back in 1928

ter Lectures.

is the current record held by attended the first sessions, thence,

began his 27 remaining pilgrimages to the campus each January.

Hunnicutt, from Killen, Ala.

particularly remembers the 1929

series because from them he gained inspiration to go into the mission field, first in East Tennessee and

As a student here, Hunnicutt established himself as quite a barber, advertising with the slogan,

"Let Hunnicutt your hair." Later,

however, he lost all his equipment

in the fire that destroyed the two dormitories on the campus then

In addition to the 1929 series,

Hunnicutt says the 1955 sessions were the best Lipscomb has yet

later in South Carolina.

the parade.

business firms will have floats in escorted by Billy Corlew, President of the High School Student Body. '28-in-a-Row'

Attendants elected by the four classes are Dot Brown, senior: Linda Gail Russell, junior; Carol Beaty, sophomore; Carolyn Hodge, fresh-

Escorts for the attendants will be presidents of the respective four classes: John Vaughn, Larry Bearden, Richard Dickerson, and Gippy

A. C. Pullias, President of the college department, will crown the queen just before the game starts.

BACKLOG

Scholarship Club

Working Students

Spanish Culb

Wed., Feb. 2-

Thurs, Feb. 3-

Fri., Feb. 4-

F.T.A.

PICTURE SCHEDULE (After Chapel) Mon., Jan. 31-Press Club Art Club Tues., Feb. 1-Home Ec Club Photographers Club

> The decision was made as the result of complaints from students who failed to get final grade reports because of overdue library

The Babbler

Forensics Competition Begins Monday

tournament. Second, third, and

The sixth Intramural Foren- first round of debate will open the Gunselman heads radio division sic Tournament, beginning Monday, will be he second, and last, major interclass com- day on the respective days at the 8:00 a.m. Saturday morning. All petition of this year. Events will last through next week, closing Sat. afternoon, Feb.

The following is a complete chedule of events planned by Ira North, tournament director: On Monday, at 4:45 p.m., the

SPECIAL BULLETIN

Dick Batey announced today hat Beautiful Day, long reasured tradition of the Fall quarter, will also be held during the Spring quarter this Batey made the announce nent after various conferences with Willard Collins, Vice-President, and J. P. Sanders.

He said it was planned to oast school spirit, and to bring about better relations on the campus.

Hamlin Wins In Oratory

The winner of the '54-'55 Founder's Day Oratorical Contest was Robert Hamlin, a speech major from Nashville.

He spoke on "Followers

also be held by the Gospel Advocate Company, honoring patrons responsible for 100 or more subscriptions to the Gospel Advocate

Marshall Gunselman is in charge fourth rounds are scheduled for of the radio speaking division Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thurswhich is first on the schedule at radio speeches will be recorded in

Ten debates will be in session

The seniors have the opening spot in the limelight at 7:30 p.m. Friday night when the one-act plays commence. In order, the sophomores, jun judges will announce the outstanding cast members and also the winning play.

Debaters Will Vie In Georgia Meet

The debate squad will enter its next intercollegiate competition during the first week of February, according to Dr. Carroll Ellis, head of the speech department.

rollton, Ga., to participate in the fifth annual West Georgia Intercollegiate Debate Tournament. No announcement has been

The teams will journey to Car-made as yet, concerning the teams who will compete. The question to be used is the national question, which involves diplomatic recognition of Red

The '56 lectures will be held the third week in January. The theme will be "Preaching the Cross."

In addition to the traditional fellowship dinner, a banquet will the audio-visual recording room. At 9:00 a.m. participants in the Extempore division will draw their subjects, and at the following hour, they will present their

Oral Interpretation has been scheduled for 11:00 a.m. Preliminary After-Dinner speeches will be held at 1:00 p.m. and the Bible Reading event, beginning at 2:00 p.m., will close the Room numbers for these events may be checked on the main bulbegins at 5:30 p.m. Saturday evening at which the final after-dinner speeches will be made.

and the announcement of the winning class will highlight the ban-trophy to the winning class on the following Monday morning at the

The Choristers left this morning for Atlanta, Ga., and plan to arrive there about 5 p.m. this afternoon to present an evening pro-

They will attend a dinner at the Henry Grady High School which is being given for the alumni, high a party for the high school seniors and the Choristers. They will take a sightseeing tour

Here's What You Have Waited

continue through Feb. 26, accord-recognition will be awarded the Leap Week, the time when Lips- female achieving most notoriety American Legion Oratorical Con- comb males turn the dating situa- for her dating prowess.

Proclamation Sadie Hawkins Day Wednesday, February 23

by these presents.

ain't married and has no prospects and craves something awful to be, Whereas these gals' boyfriends have been shouldering the burden

Whereas there be at David Lipscomb plenty of young men what

Whereas we deems Student Center privileges and being sure of an escort to something once the biological rights of our DLC

WE HEREBY PROCLAIMS AND DECREES, by right of the power and majesty vested in us a Mayor of Dog Patch.

THE WHOLE WEEK BEING 'DOG PATCH WEEK'

BY AUTHORITY of the law and statue laid down by our first Mayor of Dog Patch, Hekzebiah Hawkins, who had to make it to git his own daughter Sadie off his hands, she being the homliest gal

MAYOR OF DOG PATCH

Robert Hamlin

McQuiddy Issac Litton in East Nashville. Batey, student body president. While there he won the Regional

> He entered Lipscomb in 1948 and stayed until Dec., 1950. During his first two years he was active in dramatics and debate. In '49 he won the oratory contest at Millsaps College in Jackson, Mississippi.

After leaving Lipscomb he entered the Air Force for four years. two of which were spent in Alaska. Hamlin returned to Lipscomb as a second quarter junior.

He is a member of the Footlighters and also is active in the Community Playhouse. His last appearance there was in "The

Dean Announces 'No Grade Delay'

Quarter grades will not be delayed for any reason beginning this quarter, according to J. P. Sanders, Dean.

fines and other petty reasons. Sanders expressed hope that the Creative Writers Club new practice will simplify the situation for both students, and the iors, and lastly the freshmen, will present their studentdirected productions. The most outstanding actor and actress will be chosen from all the casts; following the plays, the letin board in College Hall.

Banquet on Saturday A banquet for all participants

The presentation of certificates

A. C. Pullias will award the

Choristers Sing In Atlanta Today

school seniors, and their patrons After the dinner, the Choristers will present a program, and following the program, there will be of Atlanta on Saturday, and will return to Nashville Saturday night

Fer, Gals-- Leap Week at Last Leap Week-Twirp Week-Sadie tion over to the women, is pro-

Hawkins Days-or what-have-you claimed annually, and all students -will begin Wed., Feb. 23, and are required (by social pressure) A party on Saturday night will Hamlin attended high school at ing to an announcement by Dick end the affair, and some type of

KNOW YE. ALL DAVID LIPSCOMB MEN what ain't married WHEREAS there be on our campus limits a passel of gals that of their coke money and moving picher fare for more months than is tolerable, and could date these here gals but acts ornery and won't and in which woman should pursue man with all her might.

in all these hills and no two ways about that either. Poromentheus McGurgle

'Tower' In Changing Stage

The Tower, campus literary magazine, is undergoing metamorphysis, we are glad to note.

Previously, it has been strictly a literary magazine, holding little interest to the student body; however, informed sources report that the magazine is undergoing such face-lifting procedures, that the readers of preceding issues will have to look twice to recognize it.

The combination of three issues into one is an advance happily made. This should give the editors of our sister publication opportunity to be more selective in student work used. We also understand that larger pages, slick paper, and photographs are on the agenda. Furthermore, the inclusion of humorous and informative features will be appreciated by such as are disposed to examine the changeling.

Here's What It Means-

On Dec. 2, David Lipscomb was admitted to membership in the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the highest accrediting agency in which Lipscomb can hold membership.

Admission to membership in the Southern Association means that Lipscomb's work is fully accredited in every college and university, graduate school, technical school, professional school, and state department of education throughout

Membership in the Southern Association is the final step in the permanent change of Lipscomb from a junior to a fully accredited senior college.

And for this step forward in an era of progress, Lipscomb is indebted to numerous state and local officials. Dean Sanders and President Pullias have for the past 10 years held conferences with officials of Vanderbilt University, Peabody College, the University of Tennessee, and State Department of Education and personnel of the Southern Association.

Lipscomb shall be forever grateful to all of these institutions and agencies for standing by the College during the critical years of changing from a junior to a senior college.

Lecture Success Was Yours

It is always good to see any worthwhile cause supported. It requires teamwork to have a successful ball team. It takes coordination to fly the big jets of this air age. It requires support to have a good lecture series.

That support was given in a notable way by the student body last week. An excellent lecture week came to an end last Friday when the auditorium was practically filled to hear Marshall Keeble, colored minister of this area, and President of the Nashville Christian Institute. All of the lectures were well attended.

While we are thanking you for your support, we would like to express the appreciation we have for Willard Collins, Vice-President, for the time and planning he spent in pre-

Many favorable comments were heard concerning not only the lectures, but the friendliness of the students, and the hospitality that some displayed in inviting visitors to share their

So to all who had a part in making the Winter Lectures a big success, the BABBLER says "Thanks".

Speaking of Impressions ...

First impressions mean much—whether it concerns having a date, getting a job, selling merchandise or viewing a college. There has been some talk about the rough road that leads from Belmont Ave. to the warehouse under Elam Hall.

The road passes in front of the veterans' apartments. It serves as their front street, as well as an access to the West side of the Administration Building where all deliveries to the Student Center and College Hall are made. Visitors use the road in order to park next to Alumni Auditorium.

This road is very rough, and the first impression of our school that some people receive. What sort of an impression could one receive after having been shaken apart at the seams by such an approach? Room for improvement? Surely! Could it be done?

In Defense of Phys. Ed.

"Lipscomb has the best physical education program-more varied and better developed-of any school I have visited over the State." This statement was made recently by a professor at Peabody College.

Perhaps there is no one person in particular who can take direct credit for this statement having been made, for a great many people have had a hand in developing the present program to such a high status.

The excellent plant provides for a wide variety of activities to take place simultaneously at all times during the day under trained supervision. Thus, the physical needs of every student can be met.

Book Review:

Faulkner Has Dual Purpose In Presenting 'A Fable'

This week the American people New York: Random 437 pp.

were shocked to find this country faced with a more immediate Reviewed by George Patterson threat of war than at any time William Faulkner has again since the beginning of the Korean taken some event, woven a tale, and given it a double meaning, as he has done in some of his other At the time of this writing books: As I Lay Dying, The Unthe situation is this: Chiang vanquished, and Absalom, Absa-Kai-shek's Nationalist troops are preparing to evacuate the World War I furnished the au-Tachen Islands, under threat thor with the time and places. of invasion by the Chinese France, then war-torn, plays the Communists. After weeks of principal city in A Fable. hombardment, the Tachens Faulkner gives some very good description in the book: not only are considered indefensible. The House of Representatives voted 409 to 3 in favor of a proposal giving President Eisenhower the power to take military action in that area if he considers it necessary.

THE BABBLER

The same proposal (probably) will have been passed by Senate by the time this is published, even though it is expected to encounter a little more opposition there.

To many Americans the situation is especially alarming since there has been a great deal of talk lately to the effect that war is a more remote threat now than at any time in recent years. What happened to bring about the pres-

Communist China has committed itself to the so-called "liberation" of the island of Formosa. The U.S. State Department has committed itself to the protection of the island for the Nationalist forces. Possibly the Chinese at last feel confident enough to bring the matter to a show down.

Outcome Unpredictable

The outcome of the present crisis is hard to predict, but there are several possibilities: (1) The Chinese may go no farnot attack Formosa, knowing that the U.S. Congress has empowered Eisenhower to defend it with (2) The United Nations could declare Formosa a "trouble spot" and step in to arbitrate, neutralizther than the Tachens. They may ing the area. This would probably not make either the Reds nor Chiang's forces very happy. (3) The United States could go it alone and send men and planes to defend the little island off the coast of China. A purely defensive war in Formosa could last (4) The U.S. could "fight to win" this time, as MacArthur wanted to do in Korea. This would mean bombing Red China and running the risk of war with Russia, since the Soviets have a mutual defense pact with the Chi-

With a Russian-American declaration of war, the other nations would have only one choice: choose sides. But though the situation is serious today, there is still hope that help may come through the United Nations. If it is really true, as many feel, that neither the Communists nor the Western nations want war, now is the time to prove it, and, at the same time, demonstrate the potentiality of the world peace or-

THE BABBLER

Entered as second-class matter, December 26, 1923, at the post office. Nashville, Tenn., under the act of March 3, 1897.

Accepted for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1916; authorized, Nashville, Tenn.

Published weekly during the regular school year except during holidays or examination periods by students of DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE, Nashville, Tenn.

Office located on second floor Crisman Memorial Library.

Member

Associated Collegiate Press Peggie Herron ... Editor-in-Chief Paul Rogers ... Business Manager Willard Collins . Faculty Advisor (A FABLE by William Faulkner. tongueless brotherhood of dread and anxiety. . .

Thus, Faulkner opens the abovementioned writing, and immediately the reader is ushered into the story expecting most anything to happen in the next few lines.

A crowd gathers in the square. woman faints, a conversation between a sergeant and a brassy civilian gives an interesting side light to the beginning. Why the crowd? Thirteen prisoners arrive, and their fate is eagerly

But, to the double meaning -besides a recount of some happenings in the first World War, the reader can see some familiar likenesses. The ones most quickly noticed are He the twelve, a suicide, a crucifixion, a resurrection, two women interested in a body. and others who strike a familiar note in the mind of the reader.

It is a book that requires some effort on the part of the reader. both in application and comprehensive. It is written on a college

A Fable may be found in Crisman Memorial Library.

LIPSCOMB

by adjectives and picturesque writing, but by flashbacks which enlighten the reader on his im-situation in many instances: "Long before the first bugles sounded

from the barracks within the city and the cantonments surrounding it, most of the people in the city

They did not need to rise from

. . . few of them save the

the straw mattresses and thin pal-

let beds of their hive-dense tene-

children had even lain down . . .

they had huddled . . . in one vast

He makes the reader feel the mediate subject.

were already awake.

DAY by DAY

Believe it or not, mid-terms are rapidly approaching. Some of the students are awake to this fact and are diligently setting about to presome are taking an even longer view - they're already planning trips to Florida for Spring Holidays. Stay in the Student Center long enough and eventually the conversation will get around to

Have you noticed the emptiness of the shelves in Crisman Memorial? There is really a simple explanation. This is the season of freshman research papers, which means that you'll not be able to find any book on any subject until all of the frosh have finished. And a word of comfort to you budding research writers: you will live through it. You may not wish you had, but you will.

> These sociology classes can be most revealing. For instance . . . This particular class was discussing the finer points of courting (dating to you) when Bob Bowersock brought up an important question. "What do you girls do when a boy asks you to do something that you shouldn't do?" he queried. And Katie Morgan came up with a perfect solution. "No boy has ever asked me to do anything that I wouldn't do," Kati emphatically replied. Does that come by way of a confession? It's puzzling. It really is. Just why does Jo Anne Bigham have a pair of men's trousers hanging in her room? They are a beautiful charcoal grey flannel and belong to Charlie Adams. But why are they in Jo Anne's closet?

Doesn't it tickle you girls to know that the boys now have to sign out, too? Just think, they needn't feel so superior any more. They're not free either, now. Every night about seven o'clock

Sewell Hall suddenly becomes empty and the Library suddenly becomes full. Feeling that there was some connection between these two phenomena, this reporter made a thorough investigation into the situation. Answer: all the freshman girls go to the library. Reason: as Louise Breeding put it, "There are more boys in the library than there are in Sewell Hall." Brilliant deduction.

Actually the odor coming from the room of Frankie Gregory and Betty McClanahan isn't the latest in incense or a new voodoo charm to aid them in their studies. It's merely the fragrance emanating from the piece of limburger cheese that was "accidently" left under their radiator.

Wayne Tincher told what a hard time he was having finding his unknown in chemistry. Yet he found it easily and by accident at suppare for the day of reckoning. But per the first of this week. Wayne vows that it was the chocolatey dessert served that night. We can hardly find it in us to doubt your word. Wayne. Such a commotion on the third floor of Johnson Hall! At least half of the floor's population had crammed into room 331. Why? To see Mary Alice Smith model her wedding dress. It was "such stuff as dreams are made of" (pardon me, Will) except for the curious bulge under the lace and satin train. When that bulge suddenly emerged as Mary Alice Bell, she was asked for an explanation, "Oh, I was being the stiff petticoat.' Mary Alice B. explained. Please, try to humor her, and tell her what pretty lace she has or compliment her on her blue ribbons every now and then. Will someone please tell Nila Jo Garmon that the Footlighters are not going to present "Kiss Me Kate" and that she will not play the Shrew? She is still convinced that such are the plans and that the script has already been cut, which means here at D.L.C. that things are definitely underway.

Already under consideration is a class reunion for 1960. This is for the benefit of those who wish to see Ed Smith, Deems Brooks. George Brazil, and George Spain when they finally get their mustaches grown.

Dear Editor:

Team Captain Corrects Error

On Jan. 18, 1955, a basketball game was held in McQuiddy gymnasium, between the intramural clubs; the Gladiators and the Buc-

In your latest issue of the BAB-BLER you stated "The Buccaneers won easily over the Gladiators." I would like to report a fallacy in your representation of the outcome of the contest. The Gladiators won the game in the hard fought contest by a score of 29-28. I would like to request an acknowledgment of this error. Respectfully yours, John Richardson Gladiators "B' (Ed. note: Please accept our apologies for the error. We appreciate your effort in calling our attention to this mistake.)

captain elect,

Forensics Tourney Has Come Far Since 1948 Beginning

When Dr. Ira North was a student at Abilene Christian College, one of the features of the school year was the Forensic Tournament.

When the student body president and secretary were elected each year, a forensic director was also elected. This was a highly respected and coveted post on the campus. The director had complete charge of the tournament and also helped with all other forensic activities during the school year. He was also a member of the Student Board

sity and give everybody an

Two students whose talent was discovered through the tournament

The administration has had high praise for the tournament. Dr.

Baxter said at the first banquet of the tourney that it was the most valuable thing done in speech that five years were: junior class, sen-

Dr. North said Tuesday, "I have been very pleased with our intramural forensic tournament and believe that each one has been superior to those at Abilene Christian College, when I was a student.

provides excellent speech experience for students who are majors and minors in subjects other than

I am especially interested in the urnament because I believe it opportunity to participate.

"Most Valuable"

After Dr. North came to Lipscomb, he and Dr. Batsell B. Baxter, then head of the Lipscomb Speech Department, were Anne Cato, a debator who discussed the idea and thought now teaches in the Lipscomb Elesuch a tournament would be mentary School, and Bob Anderson, a former student body presia good thing for Lipscomb. dent who now preaches in Colum-

Three reasons for beginning the tournament were: To give each student practical experience in speech making, to discover hidden talent, this was a thing that could be handled by a small college where it couldn't be in a large univer-

STUDENT BOARD NOTES The Student Board had its regular The Student Board had its regular Tuesday evening meeting this week over a dinner at Dick Batey's home. Among the guests were Vice-Presi-dent and Mrs. Willard Collins, and secretary to the Vice-President, Betty Knott.

The meeting got under way with the decision that Lipscomb will have a float in the March of Dimes parade on Jan. 29. It will be a decorated convertible bearing the cheerleaders. George Spain is in charge of the preparations. Parts of the parade will be arations. Parts of the parade will be televised.

Music for the Student Center was discussed again. Facilities are being investigated by Willard Collins.

Leap Week has been set for the weekend of Feb. 26. It will start on Wednesday Feb. 23, and continue throughout Saturday night, Feb. 26.

Alumni Notes

Officers for the coming year were elected last Saturday night at the meeting of the local chapter of Chattanooga alumni. Forty-four persons attended the dinner held at Edmond's Restaurant. President Pullias brought greetings from the College, and Miles Ezell, Jr., national president, spoke on behalf of the alumni association.

New officers chosen were John T. Smithson, Jr., '36, president; Leonard Johnson '30, vice-president: and Mrs. E. L. Jett (Erin Hanlin) '36, secretary. They succeed former President Leonard Skaggs '49, Vice-President. Paul Keckley '41 and Mrs. Carl Woodall (Edith Shoffner) '28, secretary.

Mr. Smithson is in his sixth year as minister of Central Church of Christ, Chattanooga. He and his wife, with their two sons, John T. III, 15, and David Hood, 10, are living at 1150 Highland Drive. Mr. Johnson is minister for the Signal Mountain congregation and is also principal of the Chattanooga Bible School. His wife is the former Bernice Cagle '31, and they have five children, David, 18, Janice, 15, John, 12, Marilyn, 8. and Richard, 6 years old. Mrs. Jett and her husband, who is a plumbing contractor, live the other apostles would not exat 3501 Martin Road. Their hort the Christians of old to practwo children are Delores, 13, tice. and Eddie, 8.

BEAUTIES' PETITIONING

Petitioning for Campus Beauties will begin Monday, Jan. 31. The only requirements are that the girl petitioned be a member of the student body, and that the petition bear 25 names.

McKay-Cameron Co.

Headquarters

CHINA, GLASS, SILVER

212 3rd Ave., N.

6-0427

'Twas Snow, You Know-or Did You? Even college students (and supervisors) aren't too The weather also caused some brilliant excuses to old to play in the snow! At least one would have to be turned in for class absences—one boy said he was surmise that after seeing how the dorms emptied absent "on account of slickness." within a few minutes after the snow began to fall

Who wants to study?

Over near the front door of the library there was one of the Johnson Hall girls got up to look at the so much snowballing and shouting and laughing go- scene below. A light was still burning in front of ing on that one could hardly study. But who wants to study when it's snowing anyway?

Some of the more industrious people built snowmen. We don't know yet if they built them for fun nating the street, the shining snow made a brilliant or for protection from the fast flying snowballs!

Ministers Receive Special Honors

Eight of the ministers honored at the annual Fellowship Dinner during lecture week have been preaching over 50 years.

longest was G. R. Bethurum, of Nashville, who began his career in 1886 at Thompson Station, Tenn. He concluded his 69 year this year. He is at present associate minister of the Belmont Avenue Church of Christ. S. P. Pittman, former teacher

The man who had preached the

at David Lipscomb College, has The tournament started in 1948. preached 62 years. He has preached in 27 states and Washington, D. C. That year it was won by the junior From Pulaski, Tenn., is J. Clifclass. Winners for the following ford Murphy who has preached lor class, senior class, freshman 58 years. He studied under James A. Harding, co-founder of Lipsclass, and sophomore class, respec-

> Price Billingsley of Nashville began preaching in Blackburn, La., in 1898. He has preached 57 years. Another Nashvillian, R. N. Gardiner has preached 56 years. With 55 years of preaching to his credit is W. C. Phillips of Benton. elder and the treasurer of the Charlotte Avenue Church of Christ, J. E. Acuff of Nashville has been preaching 54 years.

Help DLC Obtain Library service, so that a student may

One scene was described in such a beautiful man-

Early in the morning, just as the sun began to rise,

Sewell Hall and the ground was covered by the flakes. There were no tracks to mar the scene and with the sun rising in the East and the light illumi-

ner, that we'd like to pass it on to you.

By Carol Burt

Effort to improve the Library is continuous. There are approximately 30,000 volumes in the Library at the present time, and books are being added continually at the rate of 2,500 per year.

TURRENTINE REALTY

COMPANY

2915 Nolensville Road

Sales-Insurance-Loans

Joy's Flowers

601 Church

Crisman's Donate $250,000;

"A completely modern building with the very best equipment" is a statement often applied to Crisman Memorial Library. It was constructed at a cost of approximately $250,000, which was donated by the Crisman family of Chattanooga

Dr. Robert N. Broadus, librarian, has held that position since coming to Lipscomb in March, 1953. Dr. Broadus also teaches eight hours each week. Working with him are Mrs. Virginia Tominson, cataloger, Mrs. Betty Knight, employed to keep circulation records, and Miss Mary Glenn Mason, devotes about 60 percent of her time to reference work.

A Microfilm reader was added last year, and The New York Times currently comes to the Library on microfilm. Plans are being made to build up a reference come with questions about his academic work.

The basement of the Library is given over to faculty offices and the Student Guidance Service. There is a reading room on the main floor with a current periodicals room directly above it on the second floor.

A room on the second floor has been set up for rare books and old issues of the Gospel Advocate and other religious papers.

The Library is open from 8 a.m. until 10 p.m., closing during chapel each day, Monday through Friday, It is also open until noon on Saturday and from 2 to 5 on Sunday

Our mind is a sponge; our heart is a stream.

Is it not strange that most of us choose sucking rather than run-

My loneliness was born when men praised my talkative faults and blamed my silent virtues.

Living Religion By Dan Kimbell

In his second letter to the Corinthians, chapter three and verses two through three, Paul tells the brethren at Corinth that they are living letters to be read of all men. The same comparison can be nade of us today We need stop and ask ourselves this question: "Just what kind of epistle am I sending to the people with whom I come into contact?" We need to strive each day to become worthy epistles of our Lord Jesus Christ Let us put off those things which Paul and

WAVERLY BELMONT

360 Murfreesboro Road

CRAWFORD FLOWERS

2816 West End Ave.

whom you have laughed, but never

the one with whom you have

FITTS

TENNESSEE REAL ESTATE CO. Nashville's Largest Business Brokers Rentals • AUCTIONS • Sales REALTORS 121 Third Avenue, North Campbell Jenkins

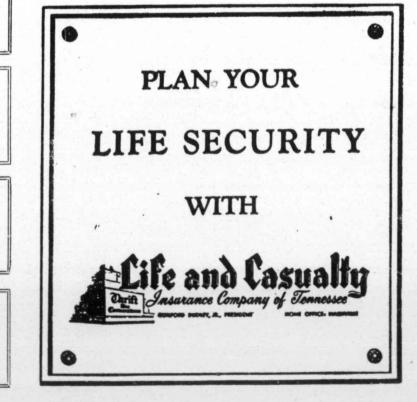

SELF SERVICE LAUNDRY Closest to David Lipscomb College

Nashville's Finest Milk

6-1148

Alloway BROS. COMPANY Poultry Meats

> LANDON'S Your Neighborhood HARDWARE

Purity Dairies

The Austin Peay Governors come to town tonight, and the Lipscomb Bisons will be looking for win number two over the Govs this year. The Bisons walloped them in Clarksville and the A.P. players will have revenge on their minds.

Union, who has also tasted Bison-authored defeat, follows cept for one of the Bison's the Govs to McQuiddy tomorrow night. Both contests are VSAC conference games and a double victory would raise the way in the first half, the game Herd conference record above the .500 mark.

VSAC Tourney Forthcoming

These games open up a six-game home stand for the Bisons, which will end with the close of the season Feb. 11. Then comes the VSAC tournament, also in McQuiddy gym.

The Herd should cop at least four of the six, and if they continue the improvement shown Monday night, a clean sweep is not inconceivable.

But we kid you not, next week's games with Florence State, Chattanooga, and East Tennessee will be toughies. Each has nipped the Bisons once this year.

Though they lost by 27 points Lipscomb's Bisons came through with one of their better showings against the Vanderbilt Commodores. The Bisons were in no way humiliated by the nationally-ranked Commodores, but hustled the whole game and made several neat plays.

Brannon Shines Against Vandy

Guard Jerry Brannon was usually the first man down the floor whether on offense or defense. He embarrassed the Vandy guards with his drives to the outside and then under the basket for lay-ups.

Ken Donaldson handled the ball well on the pivot, faking the defenders out of position and flipping in one-handers.

Leslie Sherrill used his ball-stealing tactics to good advantage by swiping the oval from the smooth Goldmen on several occasions. Shot some good long ones, too.

Walter Glass, reserve forward, played one of his best games this year as he scored eight points though only playing about half the game.

As we see it, the chief weakness shown by the Herd was on defense. Numerous times the Bison guards were screened out, and Rochelle, Taylor, or Thym had a clear road down the free-throw lane. Needless to say, they took advantage of the

Another factor was the superior Vandy rebound strength. They picked 73 off the boards to the Bison's 48.

The Bisons need to improve on these two phases of play if they are to make the coming home stand successful.

A good number of Bison followers turned out for the game. The Lipscomb cheering section looked to be at least three-

Many of the fans seemed to think the officials were a little slow on the whistles. From this corner it just looked like good ol' rough college basketball-though Charlie Harrison's knee did jump out of place a few times.

And that Rochelle-doesn't he ever miss?

Elkins Will Defend Title

A note from 'Fessor Boyce's department: The Intramural Table Tennis Tournament is underway. Defending champ Del Elkins has a long list of competitors eager to de-throne him. Better watch for flying ping-pong balls when you walk through the "recreation hall" in the gym.

REALE JEWELRY CO.

DIAMONDS - WATCHES - FINE JEWELRY

ENGRAVING, WATCH AND JEWELRY REPAIRING Any Lipscomb Student Can Open A Charge Account! Special Discount to Students Fair Trade Items Excluded BOB DRAPER, Class of '35

706 Church Street

At Entrance to Doctors' Building

Wear The Best

'DEER CREEK' SPORTS WEAR

Commodores Down Bisons 88-61

The Lipscomb Bisons, playing one of their best games of the year, fell before the onrushing Vanderbilt Commodores, 88-61, Monday night in the Commodore Gym.

Vanderbilt, ranked 18th in the nation, was hard-pressed to maintain its large lead; exfamiliar shooting lapses midwould have been much closer.

Thym Scores first

Two minutes and 59 seconds had elapsed before a score was made Vanderbilt's 6' 2" sophomore, Bobby Thym, made it 2-0 with a fallaway from the corner, but the at 2-all with a beautiful lay-up. Joe Riley, subbing for the injured George Nordhaus, then hit two quick ones to give Vandy the lead 6-2. Big Slim Donaldson, 6' 6" center from Paducah, Ký., countered with a hook, making it 6-4; and Jerry Brannon made it 6-5 with a foul shot. That was as close as the Bisons were from then on. Until the Bisons went into their shooting lapse midway in the second half, the Commodores were hard-pressed to stay ahead by 4-6 points. Then the Bisons went four minutes and 26 seconds without a score, and Vanderbilt piled up a sizeable margin, which they held throughout the game. Bisons "Look Better"

The game was not without its bright spots for the Bisons, though. Despite the 88-61 score, the Bisons looked 100% better to many fans

Bison Herd Finds

That Friend Is-

great player.

Moccasins Edge Bisons 71-69 at Chattanooga

Big John Arnev's two timely baskets, in the last minute of play, pulled the Chattanooga quintet from behind and gave the Moccasins a 71-69 victory over the Bosons.

Arney and sharp-shooting guard Andy Walker paved the way for Chattanooga's clutch performance with their stellar

Walker got Coach Boulwere's charges off to the races in the first play of the game. The diminutive guard hit one of his accurate long shots and the Moccasins jumped into an

John Friend evened up the count John Friend with such an apwith a two pointer as the early stages proved an omen of things for nearly two years, been the

Arney and Walker combined to score 21 points in the first two cantos and the first half ended with the scoreboard registering a 36-35 score in the Bisons favor.

Edge Was Sharp

The second half was typical of the first two frames. No one team could get a lead and hold it very

Just when the Bison five looked as though they would get going and turn the game into a rout, the Moccasins would come roaring back and take over where the herd

Oddly enough the Bisons reverse their previous free-throw habits, as it turned out, only the ability to cash in at the charity line saved the game from being a complete rout.

The Moccasins hit 30 field goals, while the Bisons got only 23; but the herd dropped in 23 free throws to partially make up for their showing from the field

The Bisons seemed to have he game on ice with less than two minutes left in the game but failure to settle down and work for a good shot cost the herd the game.

John Arney led the night's scorers with 23 points. Andy Walker and Archie Crenshaw were next with 16 points each while Ken Donaldson and Jerry Brannan followe dwith 5 and 14 points.

Rams, Eagles Win

In the only AA League game this week the Rams marched over the Comets 54-42.

Tommy Warren and Bob Harris led the Rams scoring with 19 and 16 points, respectively. Herbert Murphy and Dick Batey each had

In the only A League game the Eagles romped the Gladiators by a score of 47-29. Ronald Joyce, for the Eagles, had 15 points to pace

Buy Fountain Pens at Hutcherson's

Patronize THE LIPSCOMB LAUNDRY

Ken Donaldson used his well-aimed hook to advantage in the first 20 minutes, scoring 11 points, 10 of them on field goals. Big John Friend was steady throughout the game, hitting 13.

The Herd's free throw percentage was much better, too. The Bisons hit 20 out of 28. for a 70.3%, while Vandy hit only 68.7% of their free tosses.

Still another thing that cannot be overlooked was the sparkling play of freshman Jerry Brannon Although he scored only 9 points Jerry looked good on defense, and his spectacular driving-lay-ups and all-round hustle were very

For the winning Vanderbilt Commodores, their bread and butter 1-2 punch, Al Rochelle and Bobby Thym, led the attack with 25 and 21, respectively. Rochelle was the thorn in the side of the Bisons with his magnificent rebounding work and shots from all

Thym hurt the Bisons at the charity line, as he hit ? out of 12. Donaldson hits 19

Ken Donaldson led the Bisons with 19 points, while Big John Friend was the only other Bison to hit in double figures, with 13. Jerry Brannon had 9, and Walt

Remaining games here

The Bisons move back to the friendly confines of McQuiddy Gym for their remaining six To borrow a phrase from one of games, hosting Austin Peay, Union, Lipscomb's eminent history teach-Florence State, Chattanooga, ETSC, ers — "consistency thou art a and Abiline Christian in that oriewel"-, one could well sum up der. Two of these games come this the basketball performances of big weekend-Austin Peay on Friday night, and Union Saturday night. Then February 17-19, the Bisons The big 6'4" sophomore forplay host for the VSAC tourney.

ward, from Crown Point, Ind., has, The Herd now has an overall record of 5-11, and a conference consistent clutch performer that record of 3-4. But the Bisons so well shows the markings of a have improved greatly; and the confines of McQuiddy Gym are going to mean a lot, so yours truly Big John had his greatest night says the Bisons will win their next against Austin Peay, Jan. 11, as he games, and then go on to win poured 24 points through the nets the VSAC Tournament.

ht	enjoyed	by	the Bise	on's
	90	7	JOHN FRIENI)
				ı
	23			ı
	5 1 1.

in leading the Bisons to victory.

"Friend." John tossed in 23 points in the Bisons rout of M.T.S.C. on Dec. 4. and exactly one week later scored 22 against a fine T.P.I. ag-

These figures, however, do not give an accurate summation of John Friend's value to the Bison team this year. Currently Friend is averaging better than 14 points per game and has a total of 225. In addition to this, John is the

Friend's performance comes as no surprise because as a freshman last year he scored over 300 points and was named to the V.S.A.C.'s second best rebounder on the all-tournament team. Used in the pivot much of the time last season, he was switched to forward to make room for Ken Donaldson, a move that is now reaping its rewards as the Bison's top duet continue to rack up the John is a cousin of Bobby Friend, major league pitcher with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

fga-fg fta-ft
19-6 13-9
2-0 0-0 15-5
5-3
1-1
0-0 9-3
3-3
4-1
1-0
5-1 15-11
5-3
1-0 0-0 0-0
17-5
4-4
1-0
0-0 Harrison, c Buechlein Keller Rochelle, g Fridrich Surman Taylor, g

89-33 32-22 Total

.77-21 27-19 20 61 score: Vanderbilt 48

comb 70.3%. Officials: George Conley and Jack

Tennis Tourney Enters Spotlight

Another phase of the intramural program is now underway. The first round of the table tennis tournament has gone into the Winners in the first round were Carl Walker and Bob Landon. The second round gets underway Thursday. Pairings for this round are as follows: Smitty Carter vs. Jack Boustead, Jimmy Jenkins vs. Tom Downey, Donald Jenkins vs. George Spivey.

Louis Bowden vs. David Macey, Fred Lassen vs. Tom Warren, Dorris Davenport vs. Bob Harris, Archie Crenshaw vs. James Clipp, and David Westmoreland vs. Gary

The tourney should be one of the best ever played at Lipscomb. Last year's champion, Del Elkins, has already lost in the tourney and there is no way of telling who the winner will be.

Several outstanding "ping-pong" players promise to make it very

Trade at Hutcherson's

Banquet to Climax '55 Forensic Festivities Tomorrow Night

12 Beauties Reach Finals

Six freshmen, one sophomore, four juniors, one senior were selected as finalists from the 33 girls petitioned in the Campus Beauty election.

The girls are Jeannette Arnold, Jackie Burton, Virginia Cooper, Nelda Brasfield, Levada Gossett, Billie Joyce Howell, Joyce Miller, Betty Prosser, Mary Ann Thomas, Bobbie Ann Turner, Angelia Wiggins, and Glenda Winesett.

Lipscomb High graduates, Miss Arnold and Miss Winsett were winner and runner up, respectively, in the Miss Lipscomb High School election last year. Miss Arnold was editor of the Pony Express, school newspaper; Miss Winesett, from Oakland, Calif., served on the staff of the annual and was voted best all-round girl.

Miss Burton, a freshman home ec. major, was a cheerleader in high school and editor of the school paper.

Gossett, Miller from City

Miss Gossett, who has the lead in the freshman play tonight, is a graduate of Cohn High in Nashville. She is majoring in speech. Also from Nashville, Miss Miller is a freshman liberal arts major. She was a member of the Student Council in high school.

Miss Turner is the recepient of the Willie Hooper McGuire Memorial Scholarship. A freshman from Winchester, she served last year on the paper and annual staff.

When a freshman, Miss Cooper, who is now a junior, was attendant to the homecoming queen and also a finalist in the Campus Beauty contest. Her home is in Crossville, Tenn.

(Continued on page 3)

She's Prospected For Past 12 Years "The work of contacting prospective students for Lipscomb has been handled very efficiently for the past 12

years by Miss

Mary Sherrill,"

President Pul-

lias said of his After talking to Miss Sherrill, it was learned that she gets the names from the National Beta Club of high school students who list Lipscomb as their first or second choice of college or are members of the Church of Christ. The Beta Club obtains these lists from almost every high school in the Southern states.

A personal letter is written to each of these persons and an application for admission is sent to them. There are usually six or seven thousand of these letters written each

All these persons are put on the mailing list to receive literature

Carolina in October. Two DLC Teachers Attend Meeting Mrs. Oscar Foy, teacher in the

David Lipscomb Elementary School, and James M. Hobbs, associate professor of education, are attending the Southeastern Regional meeting of the Association for Student Teachers. The meeting is to last through time this weekend.

tomorrow. The theme of the conference is "Helping Student Teaching through Supervision." Mrs. Foy is to be a group leader in discussing a phase of student Madison exhibit. They will return to Lipscomb teaching. They will return some-Friday morning.

The Babbler

Plans to Follow Traditional Order

The administrative staff decided at a meeting Wednesday afternoon that there would be no changes in this year's Homecoming celebration. The tentative plans that were mentioned in last week's BABBLER will not be carried out.

Leap Week Rules Are Made

A committee composed of Betty Beazley and Peggie Herron has released the rules to be effective during Leap Week, Feb. 23-26. Each girl should keep a list of all dates. Each boy should also keep account of the number of dates he has. Tallies should be placed in a box provided for this purpose in the cafeteria by 7 p.m., Sat., Feb.

From these records will be chosen the King and Queen of Leap Week. The announcement of the winners will be made at the Leap Week Party sponsored by the freshmen Prizes will be awarded to these two students The rules are:

1. All "dates" must be 30 minutes or longer.

2. Meeting for meals will count as dates provided the girls carry trays for the boys. Failure to follow this rule will void counting the date. 3. Church dates will be counted.

4. All students are expected to participate. A special committee has been appointed to determine violators of the Proclamation in the Jan. 28 issue of the BABBLER Punishment will be levied by the Committee.

5. All girls must call for dates at boy's residence. Johnson and Sewell Halls will be strictly off limits to boys from Wed. thru Sat. and all violators will be punished in detected by the Snoopers Committee.

. Telephone calls from Elam to girls' dorms during these days are prohibited except for emergencies.

Further details will appear

Collins Attends Publicity Meeting

Willard Collins, Vice-President, will be at Emory University, Ga., Feb. 5 for a meeting of the American College Public Relations Association.

ecutive committee of district 5. which is composed of five south-The first meeting will be at noon at the University. Plans will be made for the program for the annual convention which will be held at Winthrop College in South

Collins is a member of the ex-

Chumley, North Speak at Abilene

Charles Chumley and Ira North are leaving for Abilene Christian College to take part in the lecture series on Mon., Feb. 7.

Chumley will speak Tuesday evening at Bennett Gymnasium and Thursday at Sewell Auditorium. His topic is "Follow After North, in addition to speaking

during the series, is taking the Tentative Changes in Homecoming Are Discarded According to Willard Collins, Ezell, Jr., president of the Lips-Vice-President, the changes that comb Alumni Association, will were discussed this year will be bring greetings from the alumni considered next fall before the organization, and Dick Batev 1956 Homecoming Queen is elected. president of the student body will behalf of the students.

Nancy Wyckoff

Elam Boys Will

Publish 'Male Call'

The boys of Elam Hall are busy making plans to publish a bi-weekly mimeographed newspaper

which will be called The Male

Jimmy Mankin, who has been named chairman of the editing committee, has announced that the distribution of the publication will begin this week, if possible. Manis a freshman from Atlanta,

Much credit for the publication can be given to William

S. Hunt, dormitory supervisor, and his secretary, Norma

Riggs, who will prepare the mimeographed paper each of interest to the boys of Elam

There will be news, announcements, humor, religious features, and a tribute to an outstanding

Also an incentive to better housekeeping will be offered in the form of lists of the neatest rooms, which will appear regu-

the paper are Bob Bowersock,

Ronald Kendrick, David Thomas,

Jess Hall, and Benny Nelms. Several others are expected to take an active part in subsequent issues.

By Frances Rootes

circulation manager. This anger and president of the Press

The son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E.

Nelms, Nelms is a graduate of Cornersville High School where he was editor of the annual, president of the senior class, and vale-

Nelms is the recipient of an

This year he participates in var-nonorary scholarship from Lips-dictorian of the class.

and intramural debate.

ligious education.

Nelms Appointed

To Babbler Staff

personality of the dorm.

larly in the paper.

pay tribute to Miss Wyckoff on

The 1955 coronation will be staged on the gymnasium floor at halftime, following the practice of the past years. The processional will be across the floor, as usual.

Athens Clay Pullias, president of the college, will crown this year's Homecoming Queen, Nancy Wyckoff. Miss Wyckoff will be escorted by a representative of the

Harry Leathers, chairman of the board of directors, will bring greetings from that group. Miles

'All My Sons' Coming Here March 5 and 6

Wilmoth Killebrew, George Brazil, Levada Gossett and Robert Hamlin will portray leading roles in the Footlighters forthcoming production, "All My Sons," on Mar. 4, 5.

The three-act drama was written by Arthur Miller, also author of "Death of a Salesman." Supporting members of the cast are Jim Blevins, Tom Warren, and Babs King. Dale Brown, director of drama, will supervise the production. Mary Cornelia Sparkman is to be student director and Nancy Douglas will serve as assistant.

Betty Prosser, Jerry Henderson

"All My Sons" was produced on Broadway in 1947 and received the Drama Critics' award for the best new American play of its season. Though only a freshman, this will be Miss Killebrew's fourth appearance on the Lipscomb stage. She appeared in the Footlighters first performance of the year, "The Curious Savage." George Brazil has been seen in numerous Circle Theater and Lipscomb plays. Last year he starred in "The Glass Menagerie." Earlier this quarter he had a leading role in the one-act production, Miss Gossett, also a freshman, will appear for the first time in a Footlighters' production. She will portray the man forensic play tonight.

Robert Hamlin, a junior, attended Lipscomb from 1948 to 1950. After four years in the air force, he returned to school this quarter. He was the winner of the '54-'55 Founder's Day Oratorical Contest. In previous years at Lipscomb, he appeared in several dramatic productions.

News Briefs:

May 6 Is Chosen For Jr.-Sr. Feast

Ed Smith, junior class president, announces that the date of the annual junior-senior banquet is May

President A. C. Pullias will deliver the baccalaureate sermon at Morehead College in May. The election on Bachelor of Ugliness and Miss Lipscomb, Lipscomb's ideal boy and girl, will be held Feb. 20. The Mission Study group will have charge of devotional in chapel the week of Feb. 13. The freshman class will be in charge during the week of Feb. 20.

The new Lipscomb Catalogue is currently planned for Mar. 15. A pictorial bulletin is planned the fall which will include 1955 May Day and graduation pictures.

Trophy to Be Given Mon.

"The banquet will be a delightful and enjoyable evening and is one of the highlights of the school year," said Ira North who has planned and directed the entire tournament

Beginning at 5:30 p.m., the banquet will be over in time for all guests to attend the basketball game.

All tournament participants, including student play directors; the administration; class sponsors; and faculty judges; and their husbands and wives are invited to attend this affair, at which approximately 150 persons will be present.

Twelve noon today is the deadline for all those attending to submit their names to Dr. North. Class presidents are responsible for turning in the names of the class members, and students who wish to bring outside dates must purchase a ticket from North. G. O. Traughber is in charge of in the student center Final after-dinner speeches will conclude the tournament competition, after which, winners in debate and individual events will be

. . . she will be crowned be made by A. C. Pullias to all first, second, and third place win-

> The winning class will also be announced at the banquet, but the trophy will not be awarded until Monday at the chapel hour. Judges for tonight's plays are Mrs. Bill

Tonight the one-act plays begin at 7:30 p.m. when the seniors present "The Last Page" directed by George Brazil and starring Nancy Wyckoff, Al Smith, and Bob

The sophomore cast, including Betty Prosser, Nick Boone, Jerry Henderson, Gail Holland, and Ed

(Continued on page 3)

Gives Recital Beverly Malone, senior in David Lipscomb High School, will pre-

"Poeme" by Stebbins, and "The Flight of the Bumble Bee" by Rimsky-Korsakoff. Those who are working with Mankin and Hunt in publishing

MID-TERM EXAMINATION Winter 1955

Bible 222 B ble 312

Bible 412 and any class not provided for in the schedule below

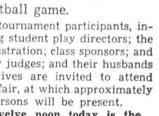

February 8, 9 nouncement is made today by Paul Rogers, staff business mana-meeting on Wednesday will have exams on Wednesday. All others on Tuesday. 8:00 and 12:00 o'clock classes meeting on Tuesday will have exams on Tuesday. All others on Wednesday.

February 10, 11

on Thursday.

meeting on Thursday will have exams on Thursday All others on Friday.

the banquet which will be held

Photo by James Clipp Presentation of certificates will Winner Announced Sat.

Thompson, Mrs. M. P. Landiss and Mrs. Jennie McQuiddy.

Sivley.

Beverly Malone The contents will include items sent an organ recital in Alumni Auditorium on Feb. 14, at 7:30 p.m.

The program will be divided in two parts. Some of the selections are: Bach's "Prelude in G Major."

Miss Malone's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Malone, both alumni of Lipscomb College.

Monday, February 7

Benny Nelms, freshman from Cornersville, Tenn., has been appointed to the BABBLER staff as Tuesday and Wednesday,

1:00 and 4:00 o'clock classes

Thursday and Friday,

9:00 and 2:00 o'clock classes meeting on Tuesday will have exams on Friday. All others ious club activities: FTA, IRC, 11:00 and 3:00 o'clock classes A speech major, Nelms plans to be a minister and work in re-

Forensics . . .

Hamlin are cast members.

(Continued from page 1)

Enzor, will present "Special Guest," directed by Mary Cor-

Jack Ashley is directing "Snow,"

the junior production in which

Tom Burton, Babs King, and Bob

Levada Gossett stars in the freshman play, "In Her Defense."

Bobbye Lou Menefee and Denny

Loyd are directors, and others in the cast are Roger Flannery, Buzz

Hall, Wilmoth Killebrew, Jeannette Arnold, and Danny Harless.

minded to turn in all play

tickets to Ira North by 7:00 p.m. tonight.

The four classes are re-

Tomorrow the schedule for individual events is as follows:

8:00 a.m., radio speaking; 9:00 a.m.,

draw for extempore subjects;

10:00 a.m., extempore speeches;

11:00 a.m., oral interpretation;

1:00 p.m., preliminary after-dinner speeches; 2:00 p.m., Bible reading.

Alumni Notes

THE thirteenth local chapter of

Lipscomb alumni was organized on Thursday night, January 27 in Gainesboro, Tennessee. Several persons were present at the home

Pullias, Miles Ezell, Jr., and Bob

Sanders were guest speakers. Officers for the Jackson County

Chapter are Morris Haile '38

Pres., Mrs. Ruth Draper Quarles

'40, vice-pres., and Katherine

THE local chapter in Atlanta,

Ga. had a record attendance of 170 at their annual get-together

last Friday night. The meeting was held at the Glendale School cafeteria with Clarence Daily '48,

president of the local chapter, presiding. Vice-Pres. Collins, of the College, was guest speaker and a program was presented by the choristers. Twenty-six high school seniors from the Atlanta area were

Caroline Jones '53, of Nashville, was married last Saturday to James William (Billy) Cross III.

The ceremony took place in Hei-

Shirley Coomer '52 was married on Dec. 3 to James Daugherty. The guests of the alumni.

delburg, Germany,

Meadows Cassetty '38, Sec'y.

of Morris Haile, Jr. '38. President

Gossett Stars 'In Her Defense'

'It Takes a Heap O' Livin''

"It takes all kinds of people to make a world," it has been said. We wonder how many kinds it takes to make a college?

Well, there are some Smiley Smiths—the one that never smile when you speak to them. They go out of their way to make it a point not to smile. Oh yes, they speak but, that is about all.

And, of course, some students are evaders-i.e., they will pretend not to see you when you meet them. They have perfected the art of going about with a look of contemplation on their faces.

They have mastered to the nth degree the act of bending down to pick up an imagined object just as they are meeting some one. They are also versed in the knowledge of how to walk backwards when they meet you so that they will not have to speak.

Then there are those who keep their eyes on the ground. This is a most natural way to avoid having to speak. People get the impression that they have lost something. The only trouble with this is that sometimes the party being met will offer aid in the search.

The mumbler is a common person. He can be found almost anywhere. When he is spoken to, he always gets out a mumble —nothing more—just a mumble. Regardless of what you might say to him, he has a stock an-

And, we are glad to report that there are those who are always friendly, and who are always speak-Our hats off to them!

Want a Project?

The other day, a student, (an I.R.C. member) was heard critizing one of his colleagues for not recognizing a prominent man whose picture was in the Time magazine.

The statements made were to the effect that the above mentioned club member felt as though they, as a club, were failing if they did not acquaint other students with international affairs.

The feeling that student had was a wholesome one. It was a feeling backed by someone who felt obligated to serve fellow students through his club.

There are several worthwhile projects on our campus that need someone or some group to sponsor them. If any club desires information concerning a project, we recommend that it ask the Student Board about the new campus recreation center which that body has considered sponsoring providing clubs and students lend support and financial assistance.

Funny Stuff

What Do You Think? Leap-Week Poll Says All in Favor

"What do you think about the idea of Leap Week?" That was the question asked of 20 students this week.

All seemed to be in favor of such a week. Some expressed that they would not participate because they were too bashful. No one expressed dislike for the

We could not possibly print everything that was said about the idea, but here is a cross-section of the ideas gathered. Mike McCrickard-Good idea, everybody likes a change. Bobbye Lou Menefee-It'll give me a shot at them that won't shoot at me. Nila Jo Garmon-Good idea, but we ought to have to pin a patch on the boy for a Saturday night date. Bill Smith-I'm behind it all the way. Newell Cagle—I think it's fine if Rudy will ask me for a date. George Ann Wolfe-Oh, I like it.

Tom Warren - Great - I think they ought to have one every month.

Grace Walker-I think it's a good idea; out, these silly boys around here won't ask us, so why should we ask them?

Jo-Jo Brazil—I think it's a wonderful thing if they will spend boo-coodles on

Dear Editor . . .

O-o-ps! Slipped Again-Says Del Elkins

Dear Editor:

The Jan. 28 BABBLER has the following paragraph on the sports page, "The tourney should be one of the best ever played at Lipscomb. Last year's champion, Del Elkins, has already lost in the tourney and there is no way of telling who the winner will be.'

Thus far, 31 people have asked me if this is true. It is not true! Someone jokingly put Carl Walker's name on the schedule sheet before the match was played. Please consult Carl Walker or the score sheet for the true results. I have not been defeated, yet.

Please, under any circumstances, do not believe Wayne Wright and Carl Walker's story that I was declared ineligible being to their neighbors in the way. cause I played professional table tennis with Goose Tatum of the Harlem Globe Trotters between halves of the Globe Trotters' frames.

If you will, please correct this mistake. Thank you, Del Elkins

(Ed. note: The BABBLER seems to have become notorious lately for printing erroneous material. This week again accept our apologies.)

THE BABBLER

Entered as second-class matter, December 26, 1923, at the post office, Nashville, Tenn., under the Act of March 3, 1897. Acceptance for mailing at special rate postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1916; authorized, Nashville, Tenn.

Published weekly during the regular DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE, Nashville, Tenn.

Office located on second floor Crisman Memorial Library.

> Member Associated Collegiate Press

EDITORIAL STAFF

Editor-in-Chief Associate Editor Mary Lou Carter George Patterson. Editorial Page Feature Editor Cornelia Turman Staff Artist

BUSINESS STAFF Business Manager Paul Rogers Benny Nelms Circulation Manager ADVISORY STAFF

Willard Collins Faculty Advisor Eunice Bradley Press Club Sponsor new plan.

DAY by DAY

begun plans for Leap Week, here is a list of highly eligible males. Bob Bowersock-season tickets to Circle Theater. Richard Craig-season tickets to Circle Theater. Morris Zeigler -season tickets to Circle Theater. George Spain-free tickets to the

When Ed Enzor was asked what he had to offer, he replied, "The keys to my car." Sounds attractive, no?

Making a report in art class, Pat Pinkley told that one of the basic principles of decorating outdoor areas was not to use small lights. "Use large spotlights," she stated emphatically. Somebody from Lipscomb must death. have written the book Pat used.

Forensics are well under way now, and everyone is wondering just which class is going to come out on top. We're prejudiced in favor of the class that has won for was required to shovel ashes evthe past two years, so we shan't make any predictions as to the outcome. By the way, you are planning to called Cinderella. She carried out come to the plays tonight, aren't you? They are to be the cinders, get it?

There is a celebrity in our midst! Not everyone knows it, but D. D. Davenport has been elected mayor of Bakerstown. Although this isn't the largest mayoralty in the world, it still involves many duties and responsibilities. However, no one has told us what they are and we don't see much change in D.D. so we will leave that to speculation.

In psychology class they were having a profound discussion on the rates of maturation in girls and boys. Clara Armstrong came up with this observation: "The girls are usually more mature than the boys until the age of about fourteen. But from then on it's just neck and neck." And neck, we might add.

Free admission to the ball games has helped the dating situation considerably. And so has Hope Camp. Not content with just one date, he took both Peggy Scott and Doris Franklin to the ball game. This is what is known as sandwich dating. Why don't you try it sometime?

The Choristers had quite a trip (as the Choristers usually do) to Atlanta. But one little thing marred the journey for them-the sack lunches that were sent with them. So the sweet singers of Lipscomb joined forces to show Willard Collins the trials and tribulations of traveling under the auspices of D.L.C. At the banquet that night, when all were served fried chicken, tossed salad, and everything else that goes to make a delicious meal, Collins was presented with a brown paper sack. The contents were: one black orange, one baloney sandwich, one cheese sandwich, one peanut butter sandwich (not glue, as some suspected) and two infinitesimal cookies. The sad part is that Collins thought it was from the goodness of their hearts that the Choristers forfeited one of their lunches just for him.

Strange things are happening on this campus! A skunk -that's right, a skunk-sailed through the window and landed squarely in the middle of John Phifer's room. Rather than fool with the offensive creature, John made plans to spend the night elsewhere and left the woodsoussy where it was. However, the odor became so strong that the student supervisor on the other end of the hall. Kenneth Bunting, had to come and dispose of the offender. Well, they say you can find anything in Elam

Even stranger is the case of the mysteriously moving car or who is the strong man on campus. The report is that Corky Brian carefully tucked away his auto for the night, and awoke the next morning to find it completely disappeared. Corky finally found it across campus in front of the gym. That night he took even more elaborate precautions for the safety of his vehicle-only to have it turn up missing again the next morning. This time the car was located wedged into the entrance to the cafeteria. It took eight boys to lift it out. Now, whodunnit?

All those interested in the intramural rook tournament please sign the list on the bulletin board in the boys' dorm. The first annual session of this classic will get school year except during holidays or under way soon, so sign now. The trophy will be miniaexamination periods by the students of ture rooks, to be worn on the key chains of the winning your white horse and shining

STUDENT BOARD NOTES

The question of late lights for Sewell Hall girls was brought to an end in the Student Board Meeting last Tuesday. The result—no late lights on Friday as was previously suggested.

Vice-President Collins, and Bob Sivley are still checking on music for the Student Center. Jimmy Claxton is to contact Collins about the matter sometime this week.

The proposed milk vendors will cost $700 each. One may be installed in Elam Hall on a trial basis. Sometime after the Homecoming game with Abilene, the student body will vote on the proposed Alma Mater. Along with the new Bible reading programs throughout the week there is to be another change. Two or three times throughout the quarter there will be a program given in the second half of chapel period. Possibly, the quartet and other such groups will have a part in this

By Morrison

"Do you go to Zinzendorfer? He's my psychiatrist too," said the prince. "I think he's a real

And so they were married. And outside of occasional quarrels about the prince's overeating and his tendency to leave razor blades on the washbasin, they lived hap-

Penpoints

beautiful young girl named Ella. She lived with her stepmother, who suffered from an acute sponsibility for her husband's

This complex took the form of aggressive actions directed at Ella. Ella, unlike her three step-sisters, ery day, and for that reason was.

conscious wish to destroy Ella, because Ella resembled her mother, the first wife of the stepmother's dead husband, if you're still with me.

Cinderella was an immature type who, dissatisfied with life among the cinders, had substituted for it a dream life.

self wooed and won by the prince peared in her dreams riding a grand ball at the castle. Everybody was invited, but the step-Ella would appear more beautiful than they, forbade her to go,

On the night of the ball, when Cinderella was dreaming all alone in the basement, her psychiatrist to the ball." said the wise old gentleman.

So Cinderella, arraying herself in imagination, in the finest gown that was made (though actually it was just the same old rag she wore every day), set out for the ball, carrying a pumpkin under her arm. She imagined the pumpkin was a fine coach in which she was riding.

At the palace, Cinderella was about to enter the ballroom when she was stopped by the king's henchman.

"The prince wants to see me. He sent for me." Said the poor deluded girl, who was back in her dream world.

rolled up. He was an oily young man with an over-developed paunch. He had a bulbous nose, a leering eye, and sagging jaw. And he had had too much to eat, "You've had too much to eat," sumpin?" inquired the prince. "Whatcha doin' with that punkin under your arm?"

brought the pumpkin up over her head and down over his. "That's what I like-a girl with spirit," mumbled the prince. "Let's you and me get hitched, baby." "Well, o.k.," said Cinderella. "But we've got some things to talk over first-my psychiatrist says there are a lot of adjustments to be made in the marital relationship." "That's just what mine says," said the prince, "Who do you

"I always go to Zinzendorfer. I like him very much he always gives me such disturbing analyses."

"Me too. And he can diagnose a guilt transference quicker than any psychiatrist I ever saw."

Four Get $15 Loot

las, Mary Cornelia Sparkman, Jerry Henderson, and George "Jo Jo" Brazil, "played the game" last Saturday on WSM television.

"Play the Game" is a locally produced program that is like the popular nationwide show called Mike Stokey's Pantomime Quiz. (It also resembles a popular party game called "Charades.") There are two teams of four persons each and the object of the game is to see which team can discover in the shorter length of time, the quotation, song title, movie title, etc. that their teammates are pan-

The Lipscomb team competed against a team from the Nashville Public Library. Two of the quotations they drew were: "Let us sit upon the ground and tell sad stories about the deaths of kings," from Shakespeare's King Richard VII, and "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial."

"Of course," said Nancy Douglas, "Wouldn't you know that the other team would draw a Biblical quotation the first thing." The quotation was ". . . wide is the gate and broad, is the way that leadeth to destruction . . ." Matt.

The library team remained champs by a three minute Feb. 19. They were given a $15 prize which they presented to the club. The winners received $35.

A funny incident happened when Mary Cornelia, who drew the "Caine Mutiny Court Martial." was hobbling around as if on a cane to portray the first word. Jo Jo thought she meant the word sounded like cane and of course it took longer for them to figure it out.

Knowing that he knew the quotation, when Mary Cornelia sat down she said, "Jo Jo, I could kill you!" The emcee heard her (as did the TV audience) and Mary was told that no fighting could be done in the studio but a room was provided for that across the hall.

Shortly after the broadcast, before leaving the station, Jo Jo received a telephone call from the director of the next play at Circle Theatre, who asked him to try out for the lead in it. The name of the play is "Picnic."

THE LIPSCOMB LAUNDRY

TURRENTINE REALTY COMPANY

WAVERLY BELMONT

Granny White At Halcyon

360 Murfreesboro Road

Fifth Avenue at Church

SELF SERVICE LAUNDRY

8-3555

Closest to David Lipscomb College

Purity Dairies

Nashville's Finest Milk

A Peek Backstage . . . The Play's the Thing (We Hear)

The one-act plays scheduled for 7:30 tonight will bring to the Lipscomb audience four dramatic productions entirely student-directed and student-

The freshman class will present "In Her Defense," story that takes place during the last year of the life of Andrew Jackson's beloved wife, Rachel. The setting is a newspaper office where Rachel, played by Levada Gossett, finds out what the people of the It is the story of Jackson's final efforts in trying to vindicate his wife of life-long scandal. Roger Flannery plays the part of Mr. Jackson. Other characters are: Mr. and Mrs. Strickland played by Jess Hall and Wilmoth Killebrew; Mrs. Douglas, played by Jeannette Arnold and Mr. McNairy, played by Danny Harless. Denny Loyd and Bobbye Lou Menefee are the

Sophs Give 'Special Guest

By Benny Nelms

Student Board, mention was made of the possibility of a radio station on Lipscomb campus.

know their opinion.

During a recent meeting of the Marshall Gunselman, director of the audio-visual center, said that it would be both possible and practical for Lipscomb to install a station. He also suggested that students should discuss the problem and let the Student Board

Since an educational institution cannot get commercial

AM radio, he said that Lipscomb should plan to have an

FM station. The purpose of the station would be to broadcast educational and other programs to Davidson County

Several colleges have adopted

this plan, among them L.S.U., Alabama U., Georgia Tech, U.T., and

Kentucky. One station, WSVH, in Huntington, Ind., broadcasts school programs, including musical programs and local basketball

Gunselman pointed out four advantages of a campus FM station.

portunity to become trained in radio technique from actual ex-

2. It would improve the public relations of the college, publicizing

the college in all the home where

3. The college would become a member of the National Association of Educational Broadcasters.

the radio was heard.

Students would have the op-

Advantages

perience.

500

and surrounding areas.

"Special Guest" is the production the sophomore class will present. The setting is the home of John and Nora Andrews in late evening. Nora, bitter over the death of her son, is portrayed by Gale Holland. Jerry Henderson plays the part of John, her hen-

Juniors Adapt 'Snow' The junior class is presenting an adaptation of Robert Frost's poem "Snow." The adaptation was done by Jack Ashley, who is also directing the play. The setting is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cole where the preacher, Bro. Meserve, has stopped dur-

Betty Prosser and Nickie Boone, respectively.

his fiancee Elaine Madison, who have come to the Andrews' home to visit; and Edward, who narrates

the play. These parts are played by Eddie Enzor,

Mary Cornelia Sparkman is the director of this

Bob Hamlin, Babs King, and Tommy Burton, re-The main idea of the play is that of developing ing a snowstorm. These characters are portrayed by character. "The Last Page." the senior play, is directed by George Brazil. The action of the play takes place in a prison cell on death row, the night before Dick is to die. Dick, who will be portrayed by Bob Sivley, has been sentenced to death for a murder he did not commit.

His wife Nancy's diary, plays a major role in determining Dick's fate. Nancy Wycoff plays the part of Nancy. Al Smith is Mike, the prison guard.

12 Beauties . . . (Continued from page 1) Gets Student Board Approval

Miss Brasfield is a junior transfer from the University of Tennessee in Martin. She is a general business major.

corded by the best colleges and universities in the nation, and we could send our best programs to be is a member of the Backlog Club and is a cheerleader.

Miss Howell, the only senior According to Gunselman, the chosen, was a campus Beauty in basic cost of such a station would '53. She also was elected homecoming attendant that same year. Miss Irma Lee Batey, head of She is majoring in psychology. the music department, said re-From these 12, five will be of time in the departments, the station would be helpful. It would be a challenge to students to greater effort to perfect skills in music.' Dr. Wendell Clipp suggested that Lipscomb needed a station of

Dr. Ira North, of the speech department, said that with our speech and music departments we could find a distinctive place in this selective radio audience. "It would provide invaluable experience for our students. Now Lipscomb has a full-time audiovisual man to manage an educational station. Now is the

some type and that the school could render a service by having

Through this group, we would be

4. Educational programs for in-school listening could be sent throughout the listening area.

Fifty-seven thousand students in

Nashville and Davidson County alone have access to FM radios in their schools, and teachers would be eager to have their students hear educational programs in their able to get the best programs reused by other institutions

Educational Programs

classroom work.

be around $1500.

Some of the students have pointed out the disadvantage of the small number of FM sets.

All who are interested in the plan should contact Gunselman or North for further information.

Both from Lewisburg, Miss Thomas and Miss Wiggins are juniors and both represented the sophomore class as homecoming attendants last year. Miss Thomas

Active in speech and dramatic activities, Miss Prosser will appear in teh sophomore play tonight. She is from Fayetteville and a member of the Backlog

Howell Is Only Senior

cently, "With proper distribution selected by off-campus judges as official Campus Beauties for 1955. They each will receive a full-page picture in the Backlog.,

All-occasion fashions

from dawn to

ceremony took place in Detroit. Mich. with Ernest Stewart '50 officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hester (Frances Hunter) x '51 are the parents of a little girl, Patricia Elaine, born on Jan. 16. The Hesters are living in Millington, Tenn. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Morgan (Kathryn Watson) '50 and '40 are the parents of a little girl. Martha Nelle, born in Nashville on Jan. 25. The Morgans have four other

TENNESSEE REAL ESTATE CO. Nashville's Largest Business Brokers

Rentals • AUCTIONS • Sale REALTORS 121 Third Avenue, North Campbell Jenkins

Harveys Has it

NASHVILLE'S LARGEST STORE

4-9511

HIGH QUALITY PRINTING

6-1148

Books, magazines, catalogs, folders . . . anything Contact one of these Lipscomb alumni in our office:

> PAUL W. MOORE, CLASS OF '38 LARRY WILLIAMS, CLASS OF '39 V. M. WHITESELL, CLASS OF '41 JAMES W. BOYD, CLASS OF '51

Williams PRINTING CO.

417 COMMERCE • NASHVILLE • TELEPHONE 6-7126 J. R. OVERALL, PRES. E. A. BERGSTROM, VIC !- PRES.

Peggie Herron resulting from a feeling of re-

The stepmother suffered from a barely repressed sub-

In this dream life, she saw herof the country, who always apwhite horse and dressed in shining

One day the king caused to be published an invitation to the whole countryside to attend a sisters, subconsciously afraid that

"If you suffer from a desire to go to the ball, you must rid yourself of the desire by going

In a few minutes the prince cried Cinderella. "And where's "Whassamatter, you crazy or

Outraged at his tone, Cinderella

good Oedipus complex man."

"Cinderella." "Princey."

'Playing Game'

February 4, 1955

Four Footlighters, Nancy Doug-

Radio Station for Lipscomb

margin, but the Footlighters were asked to reappear on

Patronize

Sales—Insurance—Loans

Phone 42-2651

Joy's Flowers

601 Church 6-4144

Alloway BROS. COMPANY

Poultry Meats

McKay-Cameron Co.

CHINA, GLASS, SILVER

6-0427

212 3rd Ave., N.

Headquarters

Nashville's Own Department Store

Phone 5-4661

Herd... Sportlight

The Lipscomb Bisons close their regular season VSAC play against East Tennessee State College tomorrow night. The rugged Bucs are one of the conference leaders and will bring a high scoring attack to McQuiddy.

The Bisons well remember big Dick Creech who poured in 28 against the Herd in Johnson City. The 24 point loss suffered by the Bisons on that night is incentive enough to make this conference finale a good one. The Bisons are capable of winning, but it will take one of their better games to stay with the Buccaneers. Certainly, a victory would give the Herd a greater confidence to carry into the VSAC tourney beginning Feb. 17. Here's hoping. . . .

Wildcat Coach Has Giants

Next Friday comes the "pomp and circumstance" of Homecoming, as the Bisons meet Abilene Christian. The Wildcats are not to be taken lightly! their coach, "Bugs" Morris, can start a line-up averaging over 6'4" if he so desires. Two men to watch will be three-letter man James Cobb (6-5), and transfer Bill Gregory (6-4).

Last week, Captain Ken Donaldson and Guard Leslie Sherrill were the Bison scoring stars as Ken made 40 and Les 38 in the games against Austin Peay and Union. "Nervous" Crenshaw made one of his best recent showings against the Bulldogs, netting 12 points.

Georgia Tech Over Kentucky?

What's Georgia Tech got against Kentucky? Once was bad, but when a team was a 6-10 record upsets the nation's No. 1 team twice in a row that's homicide. Just to show basketball is "the game of upsets." Maybe we're saving ours for the tournament.

Intramurals

The Knights are mad. They've lost two overtime games in a row to the Bucs. Both games the Knights had the ball with the score tied, but couldn't "make the ones that count."

The Rams continue to dominate play, still undefeated for two years. They appear "set" for the AA crown, with each of the other three AA teams having two losses.

Gem in Murphy

The Comets picked a gem when they selected Herbert Murphy to the club last fall. Herb has been leading the AA with a 15 point average though only a freshman.

Behind the Scenes

It's out of season, and you've probably heard it, but here goes . . . Walter Johnson was pitching for the Washington Senators as dusk settled on the Polo Grounds. (Giants were one run ahead and in the field) with bases loaded. Johnson called the catcher out for a conference with the count at ${\bf 3}$ and 2 on the batter. "It's getting dark," whispered Johnson, "I'll just go through the motions and you pop your mitt.

"O.K.", said the backstop. Johnson wound up and pretended to throw. The catcher's fist thudded into his glove. "Strike three," bellowed the ump. "What th' -," retorted the batsman, "That ball was two feet

ELKINS AND PRYOR BATTLE it out over the ping-pong table as the annual tourney gets underway.

Austin Peay Victory Gives Herd 7-12 Count

Gayle Napier dropped in two charity tosses, giving the Bisons a 22-21 halftime edge, a lead they

One of the highilghts of the game was the Bisons' continued accuracy from the charity line. Spectators seemed well-pleased with their 70.3%

at the foul line in the Vandy game, but the Bisons did even better against A. P., with 72.2%. The Governors hit only 57.8%, and that told the Little Leslie Sherrill, who had had some teeth extracted only

Tuesday, dumped in 23 points for the victorious Herd. Leslie's netswishing set shots kept the Gover-

the double figures-Ken Donaldson hit for 13, freshman Jerry

Brannon had 12, and John Friend

Elliot and Chance led the Gov-

The win evened the Herd's Con-ernors, with 19 and 12, respective-ference record at 4-4, and left them with a 6-11 over-all record.

fga-fg fta-ft pf . 17-5 1-0 5 . 2-1 3-2 1 . 13-4 7-5 4 . 9-4 6-4 0 . 11-5 15-13 1 . 1-0 0-0 1 . 55-19 36-26 12

fga-fg fta-ft
4-1 1-0
16-5 3-2
16-6 11-7
2-0 0-0
7-4 0-0
11-1 1-0
10-4 3-2
2-1 0-0
59-22 19-11
Linscomb 22

Free Throw Percentage — Lipscomb 72.2%; Austin Peay 57.8%.

The intramural table-tennis tourney moved into the quarter-

final round Wednesday, with de-

Elkins has exhibited his mastery

by winning two matches with

Other entrants who had qualified for the round of

Charles Hailey, Lewis Bow-

were the winners of the Brannonden, and James Pryor.

ner-Warren matches.

of arrangements.

eight were Tom Downey,

The remaining quarter-finalists

At Press time Elkins and Pryor

were favored to reach the finals

A Freed-Hardeman alumni ban-

scheduled for Tuesday afternoon.

quet is planned for the College

Student Center on Feb. 28, at 7 p.m. Charles E. Cobb is in charge

FITTS

CRAWFORD

FLOWERS

2816 West End Ave.

7-5946

fending titalist Del Elkins lead-

Elkins Sets Pace

In Table Tennis

Three other Bisons also hit in nors in a dilly all night.

never surrendered.

The Bisons snapped their four game losing streak with a 64-55 decision at the expense of the Austin Peay Governors Friday night in McQuiddy gym.

The Govs roared into Nashville with revenge in their eyes for the 73-65 decision the Bisons took their previous meeting at Clarksville. For a while, it looked as if they might accomplish their mission, taking a 13-8 lead in the first 10 minutes of the contest.

But the Bisons, paced by Les Sherrill's long set shots overtook the Governors. With 6 minutes and 30 seconds left in the first half, A. P. held a 17-14 lead: but they went 4 minutes and 37 seconds with-

That was all the Herd needed. With exactly one minute left,

U U Bulldogs Get Revenge

The Union University Bulldogs, another team seeking revenge on the Bisons, blew into McQuiddy gym Saturday night; but this time the results were not so pleasing to Bisons' fans, as the Bulldogs took a 94-78 win. The Bisons won 71-63 when the two clubs met at

The Bisons thundered out front 21-11 in the early stages and led 28-23 at the end of ten minutes of play, but the Herd cooled off and the Bulldogs caught fire in the last 9 minutes. The Bulldogs scored 25 points to the Bisons' 10 in the last nine, and led 49-38 at halftime.

From there on in, the Bulldogs had fairly easy going, and when the smoke had cleared, they had walked away with a 94-78 deci-

Truett, f12-1	0-0	4	. 2
Byassee, c17-6	12-10		22
Pruett, g 12-5	7-6	1	16
Smith, g	11-0	1	16 31
Daugherty, g 12-5	4-2	4	12
Totals79-32	37-30	16	94
LIPSCOMB (78) fga-fg	fta-ft	pf	tp
Friend, f	2-1	pf 3	13
Napier, f 9-2	7-4	4	8
Donaldson, c 25-10	9-7		27
Crenshaw, g 18-5	2-2	2 3	12
Sherrill, g16-6	4-3	2	15
Colson, f 4-0	3-1	3	1
Glass, f 2-1	0-0	1	2
Totals89-30	26-17	22	78

Although their free throw percentage was a good 65.4%, the Landon, Clip-Wright, and Gard-Bisons were beaten in this department by the 'Dogs hot 81%. The Bulldogs, also hot from the field, hit 32 of 79 field goals for a percentage of 40.5%. The Bisons cashed in on 30 of 89 for a 33.3%.

Big Slim Donaldson hit his high for the year, with a 27point performance. Big Ken connected on 7 of 9 free throw attempts and 10 of 25 field goals. Les Sherrill hit 15, John Friend 13, and Arch Crenshaw 12, as four Bisons hit the twin figures.

The victorious Bulldogs were paced by guard Billy Smith and center Jim Byassee. Smith cashed in on 11 of 17 field goals, and 9 of 11 free throws, for 31 points and Byassee hit for 22

The loss left the Bisons under the .500 mark in VSAC competition again, with 4 wins and 5 losses. Their overall mark is now

Catch Six-Point Win Monday Nite

Led by guard Jerry Brannon the David Lipscomb Bisons jumped into an early lead and piled up an eleven point margin at halftime to edge the Lions of Florence State Teachers College 60-54.

John Bostick hit a field goal with only five seconds gone in the first half to put Florence in an early lead. Jerry Brannon matched this with a twopointed whereupon Bostick immediately tossed in a second field goal.

Ken Donaldson, Leslie Sherrill, and Jerry Brannon each hit for the bucket in succession to give Lipscomb an 8-4 lead. From here on the Bisons were never headed.

With two minutes and 30 seconds left in the first-half the herd pulled into their largest lead 36-23, and went on to obtain a 37-26 halftime advantage. Jerry Brannon and Ken Donaldson combined to score 24 of the herd's half time total.

The second half was a different story. The Bison five managed only 10 points in the first 10 minutes of play while F.S.T.C. was scoreing 15. Big Donaldson got hi sfourth foul in a hurry and sat on the bench about eight minutes of the second half.

With Donaldson on the bench the herd's attack bogged down considerably and with about six minutes remaining in the game the Lions roared to within two points of the now cool Bisons.

Archie Crenshaw tossed in two points with 5 minutes remaining to give Lipscomb a 53-49 lead, but the Lions, of coach Bob Dillingham, came clawing back and Joe Shaw's basket once more brought them within two points of the Bisons. At this point in the game the herd put the ball in "the deep-freeze," passing until Leslie Sherill was fouled and made one free-throw to give the Bisons a three-point lead with three minutes remaining.

Archie Crenshaw then proceded to hit two at the charity line to put the game on ice. Leslie Sherill and Ken Donaldson closed out the scoring for the night, in the last 20 seconds, with four free tosses between them.

High point honors for the game went to Florence's Joe Shaw with 21. Jerry Brannon hit 16 to pace the winners while Ken Donaldson and Leslie each had 12.

Bucs Down Knights; scores of 21-2, 21-0, and 21-11, 21-Wright Tallies 16

In the only AA-League game the past week, the Buccaneers beat the Knights 51-47. Wayne Wright scored 16 points for the Knights. In the only A-League game, the Cavaliers, with renewed energy, won over the Eagles 53-38. Gene Ward with 21 points led the attack for the winners while Bob Knight had 16 for the losers.

The B-League had a busy week with four games being played. The Rams beat the Eagles 43-37. Bill Banowsky had 12 points for the winners, and Jackie Ray had 16 points for the losers.

The Cavaliers won over the Comets 30-25. Tim Black had 12 points for the winners. Kimbell, Gleaves pace Pirates

The Pirates were defeated by the Buccaneers 38-34. Dan Kimbell and Eddie Gleaves paced the Pirates with 17 and 12 points respectively. Charles Newson had 10 points for the winners.

In the only other B-League game the Knights defeated the Gladiators 40-24. Jimmy Jenkins had 14 points for the winners, whereas Roy Hayes had 8 points for the

Burton, Gossett, Howell, Prosser, Thomas Are Campus Beauties

Five of 12 Finalists Chosen By Off-Campus Judges Jackie Burton, Levada Gossett, Billie Joyce Howell, Betty Prosser, and Mary Ann Thomas have been selected from the 12

'Junior Spotlight' Will Feature Pat Boone

from Old Hickory; "The Mello-dears," a quartet composed of girls

The College Quartet, composed of Nick Boone, Ray Walker, Bill

Smith, and Corky Brown will also appear on the program, and a jazz

Bernie and Buddy Arnold,

Nancy Wyckoff and Charles Hailey

will appear in a novelty song act.

to be John Fisk and Matt Mor-

Stage Crew Named

The Masters of Ceremonies are young singer will be the feature attraction on the "Junior Spotlight" sponsored by the junior from Lipscomb High School. class. It is to be presented Fri., Feb. 25, in Alumni Auditorium. Other attractions on the show

"The Three Jays," a trio composed band, including a group of the college boys.

Alan Bryan Joins Faculty Next Fall

Pres. A. C. Pullias announces the appointment of Alan M. Bryan as assistant professor of religious education, effective September. 1955. The appointment has been approved by the Lipscomb Board of Directors. Bryan is a graduate of Freed-Hardeman College and received the B.A. Degree from George Pepperdine College. He will complete requirements for the M.A. Degree from Texas Technological College, Lubbock, Tex., during the summer of 1955, and will have one year beyond the M.A. degree on or before Sept. 1,

Allan M. Bryan

In addition to serving as assistant professor at Lipscomb, Bryan will be director of religious education and associate minister at West End Church of Christ. He and his wife will move to Nashville sometime in the late spring or early summer. Since 1951, Bryan has been holding a similar position to his West End appointment, with the Broadway Church of Christ at Lubbock, Tex.

Texas State Teachers College. Ed Smith, president of the junior class announced that the purpose of the "Junior Spotlight" is not only to provide entertainment but to raise money for the Junior-

Boone received nation wide acclaim after reaching the finals on Ted Mack's Amateur

Hour and winning Arthur

Godfrey's Talent Scouts. His

new record release, "Two Hearts" is currently sweeping the nation.

For "All My Sons" On Monday night the Footlight-Senior Banquet. ers organized committees and began rehearsal on their forthcoming McGurgle Says: Leap Week Is Nigh production, "All My Sons." At that time Al Smith was named stage Girls, put on your track shoes and get ready for the big manager and Ronald Tucker was selected to head the set construcace that begins Wednesday-it's Leap Week, 1955. tion, it was announced by Jim In the words of the Honorable Mayor of Dog Patch, Blevins, president of the Foot-

Two separate ticket boards will be used for the play since it will run both March 4 and 5. Beverly Yource will serve as ticket manager. Tickets are scheduled to go on sale March 1.

Dale Brown, Director of Drama, states, "The play promises to be as great a success as The Curious Savage, the fall quarter comedy production of the Footlighters."

Room Reservations Begin March 1

Students who plan to live in the David Lipscomb dormitories dur-ing the 1955-56 session may reserve rooms next month.

Lipscomb high school students and students who will be college seniors next year will be able to reserve rooms Mar. 1-3. This includes Lipscomb high school students who will be college freshmen in 1955-56.

Forthcoming college juniors may reserve rooms Mar. 4-8, and sophomores Mar. 9-11.

New sophomore, junior, and senior students will be placed in the dormitories beginning Mar. 12. New freshman college students will be placed in Sewell Hall and Elam Hall beginning Mar. 4.

Lipscomb Wins Forensics

Lipscomb won the annual Tennes- Jane Shannon, women's extemsee Intercollegiate Forensic Asso- poraneous speaking. ciation held Feb. 11 and 12. The tournament took place on the Lipscomb campus this year.

Out of ten individual awards, Lipscomb students received six. These students were Robert Hamlin, men's oratory; Phillip Morrison, men's extemporaneous speaking; James Vandiver, men's impromptu; Janivee McDoniel

Alumni Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Gale Gabbart (Nina Tenpenny) '46 are living at 726 E. N. 12th St., Abilene, Texas, where Mr. Gabbart is a contractor. They have three children, Gay Ann, 5 yrs., Vance, 3 yrs., and Dana, 5 months.

Neal Sanders, '54 and Sue Jannette Kenning '56 will be married on February 25 at the Riverwood Church, Nashville. The wedding will take place at 8:00 p.m. with Vice-Pres. Willard Collins of the College; performing the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Briley (Vee Daniel) '51 are the parents of a boy born in Murfreesboro, Tenn. on Jan. 14.

For the second consecutive year, women's after dinner speaking;

Of the debate teams, Bill Phillips and Wayne Tincher received the award for being the only undefeated men's team.

Schools participating in the tournament were Memphis State, Vanderbilt University, Maryville College, Tennessee Tech, Belmont College, Lincoln Memorial University, and David Lipscomb College.

Lipscomb received a total of 39 points in the tournament. Memphis State, with 18 points, placed

WIN IN GEORGIA MEET

The Lipscomb Debate Squad returned from Carrollton, Ga., last Feb. 5 with the First place in the debate tournament which was held at West Georgia College.

Lipscomb won two first places, one second place, and two third places which gave them the vic-

Phillip Morrison won a certificate for Superior achievement in the negative, and Lipscomb's negative team won a certificate for superior achievement over the finalists elected by the Student Body, as Campus Beauties for the year 1954-55.

The 12 girls attend a tea in is a cheerleader and a member of Johnson Hall on Wednesday after- the Backlog Club. Last year she noon and at that time these five was an attendant to the homewere chosen by a committee of off- coming queen. campus judges. The judges were Mr. Charles of Armstrong's, Ger- Howell is from Sparta Tenn. As ald Holley, photographer for the a sophomore she was nomecoming Nashville Tennessean; and Miss attendant and Campus Beauty. Ann Stockler of the Nashville Miss Hovel is majoring in psy-School of Modeling.

A freshman, Miss Burton, is from Winchester, Tenn. She is a home ec. major.

Boone, formerly of Nashville graduated from Lipscomb High School in 1952 and attended Lipscomb College in 1952-53. He is married to the former Shirley Folev and is now living in Denton. Tex., where he is attending North production, "All My Sons," spon- sett. sored by the Footlighters > from Fayetteville and studying elementary education. She is active in the Footlighters.

is a junior home ec. major. She Poromentheus McGurgle, whose proclamation appeared in the BABBLER Jan. 28, this is the week ". . . in which

Each boy and each girl should be sure to keep a record of the number of dates he or she has during the week. The tallies will be placed in a box in the cafeteria by 7 p.m.

Saturday and from these records a King and Queen of Leap Week will be chasen. The winners will be announced at the

A list of rules were published in the BABBLER Feb. 4,

Remember boys, Sewell and Johnson Halls are strictly off-limits to you from Wednesday through Saturday. To the girls, you better take advantage of this "four-times-in-a-life-time" chance (that is if you stay at D. L. C. that long)

this may be your only opportunity ever to visit Elam woman should pursue man with all her might."

and it should be consulted if any question arises.

the '55 Backlog, according to Mar-Miss Gossett is also a freshman tha Copeland, editor. and was the only local girl chosen. Other finalists in the contest She is the daughter of Mr. and were Jeannette Arnold, Virginia Mrs. P. E. Gossett. Active in Cooper, Nelda Brasfield, Joyce speech work, she will play a Miller, Bobbie Ann Turner, Anleading part in the forthcoming gelia Wiggins, and Glenda Wine-

Miss Prosser, a sophomore, is

From Lewisburg, Miss Thomas

U.S. Students May Study in Vienna

The only senior elected, Miss

These five winners will each receive a full-page photograph in

The University of Vienna Summer School at Schloss Traunsee, Gmunden, Austria, will offer courses open to American students from July 25 to Sept. 4, 1955.

Designed to promote better understanding between Europeans and Americans, the curriculum features beginning, intermediate and advanced German courses and courses in Austrian art and music, the formation of the modern European mind, and the history of Middle Europe.

Psychology, political science and aw are also offered. Courses ther than German will be conducted in English. To be eligible for entrance to the three or sixweek courses, American applicants must have completed at least two years of college work by June. Closing date for admission is June 15, 1955. Closing date for scholarship applications is April 18, 1955.

A few scholarships are available to well-qualified students who would be unable to attend the summer school without financial assistance.

Applicants for these awards or for general admission should write to the Institute of International Education, 1 East 67th Street, New York City.

News Briefs . . .

Leap Week Party.

Miss L., B.U. Elected Elected Next Week

(spelled backwards it's male) Hall.

Miss Lipscomb and Bachelor of Ugliness will be elected after chapel Wed., Feb. 23.

Nominations for these honors average, must not have any dis- Freshman class has been attribu- lowing received winner's certificiplinary action against her or ted to its find showing in the dehim, must be academically a senior, and be elected by a plurality of 20 debates. of 75 votes. Harris J. Dark, head of the mathematics department, spoke at the Florida Christian College Lectureship in Tampa last Wednesday

The Horace Heidt Talent Show, sponsored by the Woodmont Ki-wanis Club, will be held Mar. 11 in the Ryman Auditorium. The talent will include ages from 14 to

Talent try outs will be at 7 p.m. Mar. 7 in the W.S.M. Studios on Seventh Ave., North and Union

Tickets are on sale at B. H. Stiefs Jewelry Co., Sixth Ave., The Press Club has set Mar. 11 as the tentative date of its annual banquet which is to be held at

Highland Crest Restaurant. The Patrons Association met yesterday to elect officers for the coming year. Mrs. Otis P. Grant served as president during the past year.

The library will now remain open on Saturday from 9:00-5:00. It will not be open at all on Sun-

The freshman class emerged victorious in one of the most sweepstakes in the one-act play highly competitive Intramural Fo- events. Their production of Sperensic Tournament that has ever cial Guest was named winning been staged at Lipscomb.

In the banquet held to climax the tournament, Dr. Ira North praised all the participants highly. were made by petitions bearing He presented certificates of loyal 25 names. All petitions had to be support to President A. C. Pullias, Vice-President Willard Collins The girl and boy elected must and Dean J. P. Sanders. Much of each have a 1.5 quality point the credit for the success of the bate tournament. They won 16 out

> Bill Banowsky and Jess Hall tied with Alton Yates and Joe Ray Walker and Willella Littrell, Moore for first place in debating. Both were freshman teams and were undefeated in the week's After-Dinner speaking-Pat Jones

Individual Winners Announced In the individual events the folcates: Oral interpretation-George Brazil and Levada Gossett, Bible Reading - Jimmy Johnson and Willella Littrell, Radio speaking-

Extemporaneous speaking-Gloria

Brannam and James Vandiver.

and Marlin Connelly.

Gail Holland, Nick Boone, and

Mary Cornelia Sparkman, all

sophomores, were named best actress, actor, and student director,

Highlight of the Contests . . .

THE ANNUAL FORENSIC BANQUET which precedes the an ouncement of individual and class winners in the tournament was held last Saturday night in the Student Center.

Blood Campaign Is in Progress

The Student Board is planning for the Mobile Blood Bank to return to the campus again this year; according to Dr. Russell Artist, of Biology, there was a very good response to the appeal made for blood last year. They are hoping for more donors this year.

Our banks are in need of blood. We can not help but remember the story of the man who for several years gave a pint of bood as often as the hospital would accept it. He had a rare blood type which was hard to match. One day, that man had a serious accident and was rushed to the hospital.

He needed several transfusions. The blood was on hand for the transfusions, and the man's life was saved. When he recovered, he went to see who had donated the blood to save his life. Much to his surprise, he found that it was his own blood that he had donated in the

According to the radio announcements that are periodically being made in the interest of the public, only ten per cent of the people are giving ninety per cent of all the blood donated. If more people would donate blood, that could satistic could be changed.

When the Blood Bank again comes to Lipscomb, remember the man who saved his own life—remember that it is an opportunity to be a good the form of an announcement that neighbor—and remember that "the the security council was suspending

Debaters Again Bring Prestige

Last year, the Lipscomb Debate Squad had a very successful year. They won the Tennessee State De- munist China on Jan. 31 to send a bate Tournament, and brought many delegation to discuss the possibility honors to Lipscomb. This year they of a cease fire. The Peiping governare still keeping a good record. From ment turned down the offer, dethe announcements made by Dr. manding that the Russian proposal Carroll Ellis in chapel last week and be discussed first, and putting forthen again last Monday, it seems ward their old demand that the that everyone realizes what a good Nationalist delegation be ousted in job they are doing.

Last weekend the debaters won a big victory for Lipscomb: they the outcome of the Formosa crisis, again took first place in the Ten- both sides continue to make claims nessee State Debate Tournament. to being interested only in the peace eyes—two, you know. For all of their achievements, the of the world, and the people of this BABBLER would like to recognize country can see more clearly than them, as well as their able coach, ever that the peace which now exists

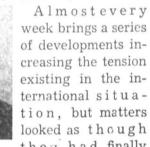

Catch a Guy and Join In

The Student Board through the administration has planned for Leap Week to begin Wed., Feb. 23 and end the following Saturday. Its success depends on the cooperation of all students—both boarding and day

Many times in the past, complaints have been made about not DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE, Nashhaving any campus activities for dating; here is such an event. It is an opportunity for lots of fun. Here is an opportunity to make new acquaintances, and acquire new friends.

Of course most of the work is up to the girls. We believe they will cooperate cheerfully; we believe that we will have a big Leap Week. Let all of us encourage the idea, join in the fun, and have the most successful Leap Week that Lipscomb has ever known.

Bob Sivley they had finally reached the breaking point this week, as war became a more immediate possibility than ever.

From Russian came the speech by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, close on the heels of the shake-up in the Kremlin, in which he branded the United States an aggressor and asserted the Communist claim that Russia is now the leader in the production of hydrogen and atomic

Meanwhile, China's Mao Tse-Tung and Chou En-lai celebrated the fifth anniversary of the Russian-Chinese mutual assistance pact by warning the western world that the Chinese Reds backed by their "solid alliance" with Russia, would "blot out" what they called the "western imperialists" if the latter attacked the China mainland.

UN Drops Cease-Fire

From the UN came sad news in life you save may be your own." indefinitely its efforts to achieve a cease-fire in the Formosa strait.

The council voted down, 10-1, a proposal by the USSR that the United States be branded an aggressor and ordered to withdraw American forces from the area.

The council formally invited Comfavor of Red China.

While the world awaits anxiously is little more than a hollow mock-

THE BABBLER

Entered as second-class matter, December 26, 1923, at the post office. Nashville. Tenn., under the Act of March 3, 1897. Acceptance for mailing at special rate postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1916; authorized, Nashville. Tenn.

Published weekly during the regular school year except during holidays or examination periods by the students of

Office located on second floor Crisman Memorial Library.

Member Associated Collegiate Press EDITORIAL STAFF

Peggie Herron Editor-in-Chief
Mary Lou Carter Associate Editor
George Patterson Editorial Page
Cornelia Turman Feature Editor
Matthew Morrison Staff Artist

BUSINESS S
Benny Nelms Cir
ADVISORY	STAFF
Willard Collins
Eunice Bradley Pr	ess Club Sponsor

DAY by DAY

Have you just recovered from mid-terms and are you now ready to relax? Well, here's something to wake you up again: finals are only three weeks away. Doesn't that make you happy?

Here's another thrilling piece of news for the benefit of you freshmen who are anxiously awaiting the outcome of the grading of research papers: those papers are really being graded strictly. Dr. Choate was explaining the grading procedure to his class thusly, "Now, the first thing we do is to weigh the papers carefully...." To which Charles Trevathan responded with, "Well, you can bet I'm handing mine in soaking wet!"

Have you ever wondered what was holding up that piece of "art" that hung in Johnson Hall living room? One Sunday it was held by nothing at all. Charlie Adams and Joyce Moseley was merely sitting on the couch under it and—lo and behold-if it didn't fall squarely on her head. Of course Joyce's head didn't feel too good for several days, but you should see what she did to that poor picture! It will never be the same again.

The flu bug has really been on the loose lately, so Vernell Harris, one of our nurses, stays prepared to combat this nasty creature at all times. Recently a student walked into the clinic and was immediately ushered to the back and ordered to open his mouth. After receiving a thorough throat mopping, he attempted to say something—only to have a thermometer stuck under his tongue. When he finally had a chance to speak, the victim babbled, "All I wanted was change for a dime, Miss Harris." This is where they usually say, "Better safe than sorry" or something of the sort.

It was at the end of the period and J. B. Whittaker was returning the mid-term test papers of his sociology class. "You may come forward and get your papers, then pass out," he instructed the already apprehensive students. That does wonders for the poor nerves.

And then there's the inevitable popcorn party. This particular one was in ye olde Johnson Hall. Phyllis Quinette, June Bolt, Nelda Brasfield, Betsy Gately, Ann Butler and Doris Franklin had delegated JoAnn Stone number one girl in charge of popping said popcorn. Time passed and passed and JoAnn was having no luck at all with the

"This hot-plate just won't heat," she complained, feeling the stone-cold surface of the contraption. Only after the acrid fumes of cooked tile had filled the room did it dawn on her that she had the hotplate upside down! This machine age can get you

President Pullias was standing in the gym when an attractive young lady rushed up and exclaimed, "I've been looking for you! Aren't you the man in charge of the audio-visual department?" Always did say that Pullias and Gunselman look a great deal alike. Must be their The Serious Side

Living Religion By George Patterson

The Word is the power of God unto salvation. It is through His words that we have salvation.

In John 6:44-45 we find that men are drawn to Christ by hearing the truth; every man that learns of the Father comes to Christ. When we learn of the Father, and are drawn to Christ, we can see the power of the Word.

It is comforting to know that the Word is God's power to save men. In the Roman letter there are these words: "For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek."

That is not as far as the word goes however, for not only is it able to save—it does save. When Peter gave his defense for taking the Word to the Gentiles he related the ident of the three men coming to him to be tau Those three men saw an angel that told them Peter. . . . "Who shall tell thee words whereby thou and all thou is which. house shall be saved."

The Word enables us to live closer to Christ. We as Christians should study the word more, so we will be drawn closer to Christ; and in turn, be able to teach others "of the hope that lies within of going to classes is getting downright

As along as a studentcan maintain a "B' average, he shouldn't be forced to go to Peggie Herron class. Now this oninion is somewhat liberalistic, but we really go for the crusading spirit.

This rule would do something for Lipscomb. Think how appealing it would be to the Gospel Advocate ads. What would we ever do with all them freshmen? Well, this should give a whole new slant to the prospective student

Professors at Mexico City University don't give a sporting chance. There, students who attend less than half the classes get a "senior" test, while those who attend more get "easy" tests. Now anybody, even a professor, should see the illogic of this. The student that's absent most should get the easiest test—that is basing the assumption on the premise that such things exist—which is a faulty one to start with.

We didn't hear of any bloodshed in the Campus Beauty election-but then, you know the student constitution forbids students to conceal any swords, staves, or bludgeons. Guess everybody felt as we did about that-no fun without the suspense. Well, that's the way it is. Some days you don't make $100.

Some of the freshmen research subjects are most intriguing. We plan to print at least three fullength ones in the BABBLER. We haven't made a definite decision yet, but right now, the chief contender is titled: "Vapor Liquid Equilibrium Data for the Binary System Toluene-N-Butyl Alcohol. However, close on its fumes are "Action of Phenylimagnesuim Bromide on 6-Chlorococopromtride. and "A Report on the Research and Development of an Automatic Frankfurter Skinner." Any more

We have decided that man is a colossal egotist in assuming that the earth was made primarily for his benefit. It would be more logical to assume it was made for fish since it is three-fourths water!

After some deliberation, we have decided that if the government keeps issuing orders for the deportation of singer Dick Haymes, it is perhaps within the range of possibility that he may sooner or

You have not converted a man because you have silenced him . . If a man deceives me once, shame on him, if he deceives me twice, shame on me. . . . Some people can stay longer in an hour than others

A chinaman was worried by a vicious-looking dog. "Don't be afraid of her," the woman reassured. "You know the old proverb, 'A barking dog never

"Yes," replied the Chinaman, "You know ploverb, me know ploverb, but do dog know ploverb?"

STUDENT BOARD NOTES

Highland Crest will be the scene for the next meeting of the Student Board. This was decided at the two weeks past meeting.

New business before the Board need to be placed around the campus identifying the buildings. It seems that taxi drivers and visitors do not know which Hall

Plans are being made for the Blood Mobile Bank to visit Lipscomb again this year.

It was also suggested that the serving of meals could be quicker for those who are in the hospital rooms. That problem is now being investigated.

False Teeth or Light Bulb-Warehouse Probably Has It

February 18, 1955

It has been discovered that most of the Sewell Hall girls in their zeal to keep informed about the occupants of the three main floors of Elam Hall, have overlooked the importance of the Elam basement in our everyday college life.

Perhaps others do not know just what goes on in the dark recesses of that part of the Elam basement which is called the warehouse.

To correct this situation, some of the better informed of the campus point out that here is located the central quarters for some of the vital activities of the school.

When offices run out of stationery, or teachers run out of paper to give tests on, or light bulbs are needed in the Administration Building, or chairs and tables for a banquet in McQuiddy, or the plumbing goes beserk in one of the dorms and no one can get hot water, or extra bunks are needed for Lecture Week, then the officials in charge make a direct attack on the central warehouse office in the basement of Elam.

There to meet the attack is Richard Waggoner, assistant to Robert Kerce, and supervisor of the warehouse and its internal ac-

TURRENTINE REALTY COMPANY 2915 Nolensville Road

Sales—Insurance—Loans

Patronize THE LIPSCOMB LAUNDRY

McKay-Cameron Co.

Headquarters CHINA, GLASS, SILVER

212 3rd Ave., N.

The National Life and

Accident Insurance Co.

NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Wear The Best

'DEER CREEK'

SPORTS WEAR

(eepsake

Reale Jewelry Co

VERY ATTRACTIVE PRICES

AND CREDIT TERMS TO

STUDENTS AND TEACHERS

epsake, you protect yourself against unknow

BOB DRAPER, CLASS OF '35

quality and unsupported claims.

By selecting a genuine registered

706 Church Street Nashville, Tennessee

$100 to 350.00

proach him with so many diverse requests? Because through his "dark domain" all supplies are partments of the college; and because the warehouse serves as the chief storage plant for supplies and equipment not constantly According to Waggoner, everything can be found in the warehouse from mattresses to report cards, and from the campus tractor to first received, recorded, inspected and distributed to the various de-paper cutters, not to mention the parking garage for campus bicycles. It must be pointed out that the Elam warehouse is not the only one, but that it is the central post for a whole network of warehouses scattered about the campus. The largest of these is in the basement of McQuiddy Gymnasium, where unused furniture of different kinds is stored. Another branch is located in the basement of Harding Hall. 'Apparent Chaos' A stranger observing these storage rooms would be amazed by the apparent chaos. Yet Waggoner and his crew are so wellacquainted with the supplies that they have no trouble in finding the exact piece of equipment needed, the right kind of stationery, or the correct size of light Much of the credit for the accurate records in the denartment must be given to Forrest Suddeath, student bookkeeper in the warehouse working under Waggoner to help those who need various supplies and repair work done. Twenty of these are students.

way to his present position, when as a student he was appointed supervisor of the window-washing Be Not Deceived

ceiving and delivering supplies, and directing ticket receipt, parking and other details for every ball game.

Aside from his duties with the college, he preaches for the Howell Hill congregation. He was graduated last year from Lipsnb with a B.A. in speech.

Queen Dons 'Satin and Lace'

Photo by James Clipp

QUEEN NANCY WYCKOFF WAS IMPRESSIVELY CROWNED LAST FRIDAY evening by President A. C. Pullias. The coronation took place between halves of the Lipscomb-Abilene game in McQuiddy

The crowning of Nancy Wyckoff climaxed the homecoming activities at Lipscomb last Friday night. Nancy, who was crowned by President A. C. Pullias, wore a white, net over taffeta, floor length dress with a sweep train. The dress, which was partly designed by her, was made with a very full skirt tion edged with lace

The bodice had an off-shoulder drape, also edged with lace and the waist was V-shaped in front and

Dick Batey, student body president, presented a gold bracelet to her with Homecoming Queen, 1955 engraved on one side and "Nancy" on the other. She carried red roses tied with red ribbon. Her crown was made of silver sequins.

The queen's feminine attendants wore purple net dresses over taffeta and the boys wore navy blue suits and black bow ties. This girls carried bouquets of white carnations, snapdragons, and purple

Movies were made of the ceremonies by Tom Hanvey and Buddy Arnold.

Reception Honors ACC Team

After the game, a reception honoring the basketball team from Abilene was held in the student center. The serving table in the dining room of the home economics department was covered with a lace tablecloth with a centerpiece of purple Japanese iris and buttercups

The punch bowl was filled with frozen fruit and there were yellow candles on the table. Cookies and open-face sandwiches were served.

Miss Margaret Carter was in charge of the recep-

Travel in Europe . . .

It's lime lo

By Cornelia Turman

For all of you who are continually late to class and haven't discovered why, here's the answerthe chimes ring at nine minutes after the hour and continue for one-half minute. Therefore, if you don't get to class by nine and onehalf minutes after the hour you The reason for this strange tim-

And to you eager beavers who think you're getting out of class

ing of the chimes is simple-a legal college class is supposed to be 50 minutes long. With the There are 33 other employees chimes sounding as they do, there is a half minute left for books to be opened, pencils to be sharpened. (if you're lucky enough to have a lass in a room where there is a pencil sharpener) and the teacher

Waggoner began working his to put on his glasses.

In his present position, as assistant to Kerce, he directs campus early when the clock clicks twice maintenance, janitor workers, re- at the end of the hour, here's some merely correcting itself with the master clock.

This master clock which is timed electrically with all other clocks on the campus except those in the chemistry and biology building, is located in the business office. It sends out an electrical impulse once each minute to the Bob Kerce, assistant to the President, sets the master clock. It is set by Coca Cola time. A program clock, which also operates in conjunction with the master time-piece, controls the chimes. It is possible to set a different program for the chimes each day of the week. However, right now it is set only for the five school days in the week.

To any of you who might have thought that the little black box in the hall at the south door of the student center was a device for recording the number of people who go in the student center, well it's not.

It is a time recorder that is used by all workers on the campus to keep up with their hours worked. disappointing news. The clock is It and all others on the campus except the ones in Johnson Hall and McQuiddy Gym are also timed to the master clock.

Cosmetics at Hutcherson's

Purity Dairies Nashville's Finest Milk

360 Murfreesboro Road

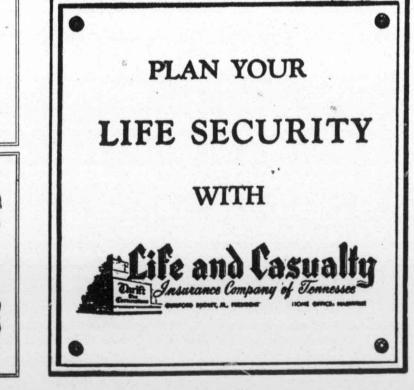

One of America's

coffees . . .

really tine

AT YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD GROCER

European Tour Made Available

Under the leadership of Mont Whitson, associate minister of the Broadway Church of Christ, Lubbock, Tex., a European Vacation-Study Tour is planned for Christian young people from July 1 through Aug. 25.

The tour provides for 54 days Europe visiting Germany, Switzerland, Italy, France, Belgium, Holland, and England for the all-inclusive cost of $765.00

The tour price includes transportation by chartered plane to and from New York, all transportation in Europe, rooms in moderately priced hotels or pensions, three meals daily everywhere, complete program of sightseeing trips, all tips, transfers and por-terage. Travel arrangements are made ov Wells Tours, bonded agent, Los Angeles. Return by boat can be arranged if desired. Membership in the "European Mission Study Tour" is limited to carefully selected Christian young people with a declared interest in the European evangelistic and educational work of the Church of

For detailed itineraries and reservation forms, write immediately o Woodrow C. Whitten, Pepperdine College, 1121 W. 79th St. Los Angeles 44, or to Mont Whitson, Director, Church of Christ Bible Chair, 2406 Broadway, Lub-

ROYAL SCANDINAVIAN TOUR

If you are anticipating a tour of Europe this summer, we have a tour we feel you will enjoy. Sailing from New York on June 8 on the S. S. Castel Felice is the Royal Scandinavian Tour.

This tour is one of the most insive of all European tours. You will visit Norway, Sweden and Denmark; Scotland, England and the continent including Holland, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, Austria, Itlay, Monaco and France. The ship returns to New York on Aug. 16.

The tour will be personally escorted by Mr. C. H. Sargent. Mr. Sargent has lived in Europe and has taken several tours of Europe during previous summers.

The cost of the 70 day tour is $1385., and a $200 deposit at the time of booking will insure you a place on the tour. The tour will be made up of a maximum of 30 persons and when the number has been reached, there will be no other reservations

The deadline on reservations is March 1, so if you are interested, please contact Mr. Sargent at the earliest possible date. Mr. Sargent may be contacted by calling 97-1841 or writing him at 132 Woodmont Blvd., Nashville,

LANDON'S Your Neighborhood HARDWARE

Lipscomb will present a sports-teams. An all-tournament team

This year, Belmont College was seeded first, with the '53 and '54

champ. East Tennessee, seeded second. Lipscomb won the tourna-

The winners of these games will meet tonight in McQuiddy gym, with the first game at 7:30. The finals and consolation game will

the first, second, and third place

teams by the Nashville Tennessean, sponsors of the tourney.

Jennings Davis, Jr., is director

In the only AA-League game

last week the Rams beat the Buccaneers in a low-scoring game, 32-

24. Tommy Warren and Jimmy

Throneberry both had 11 points

In the A-League the Pirates beat

Ronnie Morrell and Billy

the Cavaliers in a close game, 43-

Bushlin hand 11 and 10 points respectively for the winners. Gene

Ward had 19 points for the losers.

In the only B-League game the Comets beat the Eagles 35-31. Phil

Dunn had 10 points to pace the winners while Jackie Ray had 17

Trophies will be presented to balls going to the ten chosen.

ment in '51 and '52.

be held tomorrow night.

of the tournament.

Pirates, Comets,

Rams are Victors

Conference tournament opened Wednesday night in McQuiddy manship trophy to one of the Gym with the Austin Peay-Milligan game. Four games were will be selected, with gold basketplayed yesterday: Union vs. Bethel, Lincoln Memorial vs. Middle Tennessee, Belmont vs. A.P. Milligan winner, and East Tennessee vs. Lipscomb.

Bucs Rip Herd As 'Slim' Nets 30

The East Tennessee State College Buccaneers bounced back from their defeat at Austin Peay by blasting out a 83-68 victory over the Bisons Saturday night

The Bucs came to McQuiddy no more than an even choice against Coach Elvis Sherrill's Bisons, but the Bisons were never ahead. Dick Waycaster took the opening tipoff and scored on a lay-up. After Jerry Brannon made it 2-2 with a jump, Jimmy Creech countered with a hook shot, making it ETSC 4-2, and that was as close as the Jerry Brannon hit 14, the only other Bison to hit the twin figures. Brannon hit 6 of 14 field goals-and in the past three games he has hit 20 of 42 field goal attempts, for a nifty 47.4%.

Jimmy Creech was the big gun for the Buccaneers, with 21. Bud Fleenor hit for 19, and Bill Cooper

LIPSCOMB (68)	FG	\mathbf{FT}	PF	TP
Friend, f		1	4	9
Napier, f	2	1	5	5
Donaldson, C	9	12	4	30
Brannon, g	6	2	0	14
Sherrill, g	. 3	0	2	6
Colson, f	. 0	0	1	0
Crenshaw, g	1	0	0	2
Glass, f		0	0	2
	******	-	-	-
Totals	26	16	16	68
ETSC (83)	FG	FT	PF	TP
Creech, f		9	2	21
Cooper, f	5	3	2	13
Waycaster, c	2	2	5	6
Fleenor, g	8	3	2 5 2 2	19
Kimbro, g	4	0	2	8
Bowman, f	. 2	0	0	4
Upchurch, g	. 1	0	0 .	. 2
Wilhoit, f	. 0	Ö	0	0
Edmonds, f	2	2	i	6
Edens, g	1	2	ō	4
240110, 8	_	_	-	-
Totals	ETSC	21	14 Lipsc	83 omb
22

Bowling Tourney Set for Melrose

Intramural director Gene Boyce has announced that there will be an intramural bowling tournament at the Melrose lanes tomorrow afternoon at 2:30.

All interested college men not already signed up should see 'Fessor Boyce sometime today as the number of alleys is limited.

The institution of the bowling tourney marks another step toward the intramural dream of "sports for everybody."

Poultry Meats

Distinctive Clothes for Men

of Discriminating Taste

Sixth at Union

FITTS CRAWFORD

FLOWERS

2816 West End Ave.

Elkins Reigns As 'Ping-Pong' King

By Tommy Hipps

In the Jan. 28 issue of the Babbler, this writer incorrectly stated that Carl Walker had won over last year's Table Tennis champion, Del Elkins, in the first round of the tournament.

This didn't exactly look good, since Elkins not only beat Walker, but he humiliated him 21-0. The one who bore the brunt of humiliating jibes, however, was Del

This plus the influx of new talent put Del on the spot and he responded handsomely. Like the clutch performer he is, Del, undaunted, breezed through the tourney to further establish himself as the King of Table Tennis.

Elkins had only the finest compliments to pay Jerry Brannon and James Prior, who he defeated in winning the title. Of Brannon, Del remarked, "He has good reflexes"; while he commented that Prior surprised everyone but himself in his fine showing.

The matches with Prior are indicative of the style of play that the two unveiled as Del won 21-19, 22-20, 21-17.

Del is a Bible major from Detroit, Mich. Only a sophomore, he looks forward to more successful table tennis tourneys. Newcomers really have something to shoot for if they hope to dethrone Del Elkins from his lofty perch above Lipscomb Table Tennis talent, because in two years of tourney competition he hasn't lost a game.

ACC Lions Trip Bisons 74-66 Before 2,500 Homecoming Fans

The Abilene Christian College Lions came in with the snow last Thursday, and on Friday night handed the Bisons their 14th defeat of the year 74-66, as 2,500 fans looked on. It was the David Lipscomb homecoming.

For a few brief minutes, the Bisons were red-hot, roaring out front 10-2. Then Abilene roared back and went ahead 12-10. After Ken Donaldson tied it up with a hook, Burl McCoy put the Lions ahead to stay 14-12.

Lions Get Revenge

The Lions, out for revenge for the 65-60 defeat Lipscomb handed them in Texas last year, were not to be denied. Their close defense forced the Bisons to get their shots off quickly; and they were hot from both field and charity line as they led 37-26 at halftime.

In the last half, the Bisons almost overtook the Lions-same old story. Midway in the half, they had the lead cut to a meager point, and later on in the game they cut it to 3. But each time, Burl McCoy and Bill Gregory combined to put ACC ahead by a safe margin.

When the final buzzer sounded, Abilene had a 74-66 decision, and the Bisons had lost their 14th game, against 8 wins.

Scoring honors were in line for big Ken Donaldson. Dononly 7 the first half and then swished 14 in the last half, winding up with 21 points. Les Sherrill was the only other Bison to hit in the double column, with 13.

The Lions' scoring was equally divided. Billy Gregory led the way with 16, followed by Burl McCoy, Tom Morris and Donald Wolf, each

It was the Bisons' last regular season game. They will carry an 8-14 record into the VSAC Tour-

Nancy Wyckoff was crowned Homecoming Queen before some 2500 spectators.

ABILENE (74)	\mathbf{FG}	\mathbf{FT}	\mathbf{PF}	\mathbf{TP}
McCall, f	. 3	2	3	. 8
Gregory, f		2	2	16
McCoy, c		0	4	12
Morris, g		4	2	12
D. Wolf, g	. 3	6	2 4 2	12
Morgan, f	. 2	4	2	8
Blakeley, g	. 2	2	1	6
	_		-
Totals	.27	20	18	74
LIPSCOMB (66)	FG	FT	PF	TP
Friend, f		0	2	2
Napier, f	. ī	0	0	2 2
Donaldson, c	. 6	9	3	21
Sherrill, g	. 6	2	1	13
Brannon, g	. 0	1	. 3	2
Crenshaw, g	. 2	0 2 3 3	0	4
Colson, g		2	1	6
Glass, f		3	1	11
Villines, g		3	0	3 2
Binkley, g		0	2	2
m-4-1-	-	20	13	66
Totals
Halftime Score:	Abi	епе	37; 1	mbs-

Trade at Hutcherson's

Established 1858

PHILLIPS & BUTTORFF MFG. CO.

Manufacturers of

ENTERPRISE STOVES, FURNACES AND STOKERS FOR COAL-GAS-ELECTRICITY

Furnishers of

Commercial and Residential Air Conditioners Cafeteria Equipment for Schools and Hotels Kitchen Wares-Table Wares-Home Wares

Serving A Value Conscious America for Nearly 100 Years

217 Third Avenue, North

Nashville, Tennessee

Herd... Sportlight

The VSAC tourney now in progress on the Lipscomb campus has been predicted to be the most wide-open in recent years. This prophecy has been well supported by some surprising upsets-Austin Peay over ETSC and Middle Tennessee over Belmont. These late season games have been cited to show the capability of any team in the conference to beat any other on a given night. Since five games have already been played (after press time) you know to some extent the truth of this prediction. But no matter which teams are still playing, we're sure you'll see some great games if you ease over to McQuiddy tonight and tomorrow. This tourney could change a bad season to a good one for several teams; they'll be scrappin'.

Coach Employs Change

Two days before last night's Lipscomb-ETSC game, Coach Sherrill stated that the Bisons would employ a few changes in both their offensive patterns and defensive play in an effort to slow down the speedy Bucs. Coach felt the changes would help the Herd make a better showing than they did in two previous games with the Johnson City team. We hope they

Friend, Donaldson On 'Star' Team

The selection of sophomore forward John Friend to the Nashville Banner's Mid-state All-star quintet came as no surprise to this column. John has been the workhorse of the squad this year, playing most or all of every game. At the time of his selection, he had scored 282 points in 21 games for a 13.5 point average.

Captain Ken Donadson, who made the Mid-state second team, certainly exhibited his all-star qualities in the last three games. Ken ripped the nets for 22, 30, and 21 in the games against Chattanooga, ETSC, and ACC. The big center's freethrow shooting in the three games was little short of phenomenal. He hit on 25 out of 28.

Ken also finished the season as the Bison's leading point producer with 377 and a 17 point average.

Late in the East Tennessee game "Slim" really turned on the fire; he scored 14 points in the last ten minutes.

'Cats Brought Balance

The Abilene Wildcats gave the Bisons what we would call a "balanced attack." Three of the starters made 12 each, one made 16, and the other made eight. The 'Cats hurt the Bisons in the last half with a lot of shots from right under the basket.

Might be a good idea... A certain college basketball team had been guilty of numerous bad passes and wild shots during recent games. The team was on the floor now taking their usual pre-game warm-up, shooting at the basket and lobbing passes. Suddenly the coach came from the bench and ordered each player to take a ball and throw it into the stands three times.

Amid the amazement of the fans, each man did as requested. Asked for an explanation afterwards, he said simply, "I just wanted them to get it out of their systems before the game. It hurts a lot more when they do it during the game."

DICK BATEY, RUTH BEHEL WIN TOP ELECTIONS

'All my Sons' Production

at 8:15 p.m. on the Footlighters' production, "All My

The production is under the direction of Dale Brown. Mary Cornelia Sparkman is the student director and Nancy Douglas is her as- for 8:00 p.m. tonight.

families. The entire action of the play takes place in the backyard of the Keller home.

During the war, Joe Keller and Herbert Deever ran a machine shop which made airplane parts.

Deever was sent to prison because the firm turned out defective engine heads which caused many airplanes to Keller was not con-

This catastrophe and the fact that the Kellers' son was reported missing during the war dominate

Kate Keller is very upset over the fate of her son and her hus-

The love affair of Chris Keller and Ann Deever, and the bitterness of George Deever, returned from the war to find his father in prison and his father's partner free, are all set in a structure of power. Supporting members are played by Tom Warren, Betty Flo Prosser, Jerry Henderson, Babs King, and Sanders Hunt. Tickets are scheduled to go on sale March 1. The price of admission will be 60¢ for students and 80¢ for adults. All seats are re-

(Continued on page 3)

All-Campus Party To End Leap Week

A coronation, plenty of food, entertainment, and lots of noise will be on the menu tomorrow night in the Student Center.

At that time the freshman class will play host to the biggest and last all-campus party of the win-

Banowsky, freshman president, states that the highlight of the evening will be the crowning of the King and Queen of Leap Week. The girl who has had the most dates from Wednesday to Saturday and turns a list of those dates in, will be crowned as the sovereign ruler. Her innocent escort will assume the kingly title.

The Keynotes are to be on hand to provide entertainment, and Banowsky also says that many glittering gems of the freshman class will perform in some way or Tom Hanvey was named coach for

Food and refreshments will perhaps be the chief attraction, so since all is free, a capacity turnout is expected.

Festivities will get underway at 7:30 p.m. in the Student Center and will probably last until some young man decides the tables have been turned long enough.

High School Notes:

Gwen Thurman and Chester Burns were elected Miss Lipscomb and Bachelor of Ugliness in the High School department last week. Both are seniors from

In the Who's Who election the following students were elected: Best-All-Round, Betty Weaver and Joe Sills, Jr.; Most Popular, Dot Horn and John Vaughn; Most Intellectual, Nora Jean Vaughan and Bill Clements; Most Athletic, C. V. Tibbs and Joyce Bush; Wittiest. Amanda Talley and John Allen McDonald.

All my Sons' Production Gets Underway The curtain will rise next The curtain will rise next

Friday and Saturday evenings Vol. XXXIV David Lipscomb College, Nashville 4, Tenn., February 25, 1955 No. 17 can come to a student at Lips-

Juniors Spotlight Talent Tonight

the junior class, is scheduled The show is a combination

The story is concerned with the of top amateur and profesfortunes of the Keller and Deever sional talent from the campus and also from entertainers in the outside professional

On the program will be the Melo-Dears from the High School department; the Keynotes, a professional campus quartet; Glen Locklear, of Nashville: a team composed of Buddy and Bernie Arnold, Nancy Wyckoff, and Charles Hailey; the Lipscomb Jazz Band; The Three Jays, also of variety show sponsored by well-known semi-classic singer sing on Chicago's largest television who is an instructor at Peabody Pat Boone, a nation - wide

singing star,

will be featured on the show. At the present time, Boone is on a three week tour of the major cities in the East in-Pat Boone cluding St. Louis, Cincinnati, Detroit, Cleveland and Pittsburgh.

In addition to being a recording artist for Dot Records. Boone has two television

Photo by Gerald Holley, Nashville, Tennessean THE NEW CAMPUS BEAUTIES pose after their selection last week in the living room of Johnson Hall. From center to left they are Levada Gossett, Billie Joyce Howell, Jackie Burton, Mary Ann Thomas, and Betty Prosser. (See story on page 3).

Murphy.

Oh, the Daring Young Man . . .

Hanvey 'Tumbled' for Idea; Now Has Own Act, Troupe forms and equipment. Mem-

tion department recently announced the organization of a tumbling and gymnast squad.

Hanvey, who has had much experience in tumbling exhibitions, had received numerous requests from schools and organizations ley of Hillsboro High also take a for college tumbling and gymnast programs. After having a successful season, performing at the half-time tryouts. of basketball games, he decided to Trophy to Be Given arrange some other programs. The first of these was held recently at Ryan High School, where the group was received with much enthusiasm. Willard

Collins, Vice President, is arrang- incorporated in the intramural ing future programs for the team. program. On March 1, they will appear in the Peabody College Circus. and later that month, they journey to Columbia, Tenn., to perform at the Whitthorne Junior High

For chapel programs at various high schools, they have planned a thirty-minute act.

The Administration has made an approprition for uni-

bers of the team are Paul

Roark, Joe Johnson, Jim

Dark, Dicky Matheny, Eddie

Holley, Phillip Slate, Ed Clifton. Jimmie Mize and Kenneth

Lynn Baker, of the Lipscomb

Elementary School, and Sam Beaz-

major part in the act. Anyone should contact Hanvey to arrange interested in collegiate tumbling

Later in the year, a trophy will be presented to the best-all-round tumbler and gymnast. Metals will be given to the best three performers in each event. This will be in-

Home Ec. Club

To Sell Spaghetti

planning a gala Italian spaghetti supper for Thursday night, March p.m. in the home economics department. The cost of the complete meal will be 75c.

The event will be from 5 to 7:30

ganize the Foundation. Its purpose is to help young men and women who need assistance in getting a Christian Education. The Foundation was organized primarily to continue the giving of several scholarships by Mrs. Helena Johnson.

program, "The Harry Miller

est record, has made a hit in Los Angeles, Chicago, and Nashville.

winner on the Ted Mack

Amateur Hour and was eligible for the finals, but his appearance on the Arthur Godfrey Talent Scouts show automatically made him a professional, and therefore,

Boone, who is now a student at the North Texas State Teachers'

College, is a former member of the present junior class here. He attended Lipscomb High School and studied here his freshman

The show is being given to raise funds for the Junior-Senior Banquet, the social highlight of the

Roy Davis has been in charge

which are major parts of the

Through the efforts of Earl

Edwards and Jim Hart, the show's technical production.

Davis Controls Lighting

12 Scholarship

Students Named

1954-'55 Johnson Scholarship

Foundation are Mary Anne

Thomas, Tom Hay, Tommy Bo-

lick, Maurice O'Neal, Paul Rogers,

Richard Dickerson, Robert Mullins, Carolyn Johnson, Doris Par-

due, Benny Nelms, Donna Zavitz,

dation was organized in the sum-

The Johnson Scholarship Foun-

Mrs. Helena Johnson selected four men who were interested in Christian Education, to help or-Marilyn Buchanan.

disqualified him.

"Two Hearts," currently his lat-

Boone was a three-time

The directors and officers are: ' Mrs. Helena Johnson, founder; Avis C. Wiggins, president; Wendell V. Clipp, vice-president; George L. Butler, treasurer; Paul Brown, secretary.

Every year, scholarships, $100 each, are given to five boys and five girls. The students may retain them as long as they maintain

FHC Alumni Meet

The Freed-Hardeman Alumni Banquet will be held Monday, Feb. 28, in the Student Center here. H. A. Dixon, President of Freed-Hardeman, will be the featured speaker.

Reservations are being received daily from the surrounding area. Attendance is expected to reach between 150 and 200. Tickets are $1.25 each and reservations should be made as soon as possible.

Along with the former students, prospective students are also invited to attend.

The first of these banquets was held last year and the same success is anticipated again this year.

Students Thursday

In a special run-off election yesterday, Ruth Behel and Dick Batey were selected Miss liness, the highest honor that

Joanne Edmondson and Bob Sively were their opponents in yesterday's ballot, in which some 650 votes were cast.

From Old Hickory, Tenn., Miss Behel is currently secretary of the Student Body. She is president of the FTA and is majoring in general business. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Behel, she was graduated from Du Pont High School in 1951.

Her election marks the third consecutive year in which the Student Body Secretary has been chosen for this honor. Virginia Austin and Jo Ann Holley were elected in '53 and '54, respectively

Batey's election sets a new precedent in that he is the first Student Body President to be chosen. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Batey of Nashville, and has attended Lipscomb for the past 16

Batey, who is regular minister of the James Avenue Church, is married to the former Carolyn Turrentine, who graduated from Lipscomb last year. They have one daughter.

of lighting and special effects Miss Edmondson is a graduate of Lipscomb High School and served as secretary of the junior class last year. She is business manager of the Backlog.

"Junior Spotlight" has been advertised on all Nashville Former BABBLER editor, Sivley is president of the television and radio stations. senior class and school cor-Tickets are on sale today in the Student Center and will also be respondent for the city newssold tonight at the door. Richard papers. He is the son of Mr. Craig is directing ticket sales. and Mrs. E. C. Chandler of Chattanooga.

Other candidates for Miss Lipscomb were Bettye Beazley, Ada Elliott, Ann Derseweh, Mary Margaret Grounds, Virginia Cooper, The students selected by the Betty Burns, and Grace Walker.

For Bachelor of Ugliness, Al Smith, Charles Hailey, James Clipp, Waylond Lawrence, and Keith Ericson were petitioned.

Members of the Big Chorus are scheduled to sing at the Freed-Hardeman College chapel program Tuesday. On the return trip from Henderson, programs will also be presented at Lexington and Paris, Tenn.

EXAM CHANGES MADE The Following Procedure Concerning the Taking of Examinations Is to Become Effective Immediately . The student should make examination at the scheduled . No examinations are to be given prior to the scheduled

. If one misses a regular examination it may be taken later, provided the teacher and the Registrar feel the reason for missing the scheduled time is adequate. . The student must pay to the business office a fee of one dollar ($1.00) for each examination that is taken late. The student must secure the Registrar's O.K. on the receint and present it to the instructor. The instructor is not to give the examination until the student present the receipt with the Registrar's O.K. on it. . In case of illness or absence on school trips, the student will not be required to pay the fee but must have the Registrar's O.K. The student must present adequate evidence of illness. . These regulations apply to both mid-term and final examinations.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Nelson Burton, Jackie was born

January 16, 1936. Her home is in Winchester, Tennessee. She was the runner-up in a beauty contest held in conjunction with the

Crimson Clover Festival in her

Gossett's First Contest

Jackie says her favorite food is

Levada is a native Nashvillian,

born March 24, 1936, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Gossett

She graduated from Cohn high

Personality Plus

1955 Backlog.

To Those Who Work . . .

It is good for a person to be able to continue his education after the usual twelve years are completed, though not all in college have things easy. Some do not have as adequate financial backing as

One of the most admirable traits for a person to have is the willingness and initiative to work so he might gain a higher level of knowledge

Not only do the working students carry an average load of college hours, but some of them work from 10 to 20 hours (or more) a week on a part-time job or a work contract with the college.

Consequently, there are certain burdens placed on them that many do not have. They are subject to a definite academic strain because they have not as much time to do their work, so they must stay up later to study, which in turn, produces a physical strain.

Working denies them of a great deal of spare time that others enjoy. Therefore, we commend the working students for the sacrifices they make.

Why Did You Join?

Why do we join clubs or other organizations? There could be several reasons: prestige, to be with certain friends, recognition, and for some, a pastime.

Whatever our reason, or reasons for joining, everybody is expected to do a certain amount of the work. It may be small, such as serving on a "committee of one"- but, the part, however insignificant, is important in making the club run smoothly as possible.

After we have joined an organization, we should continue to lend our help, assistance, and support always. It is our duty to attend the meetings, and to let the club officials know that we want to participate in the affairs of the club.

All know that it is best to be hot or cold—not to be lukewarm. A lukewarm member can never be depended upon for

If we joined with any organization at obligation to continue faithfully, or to and petitioning. quit altogether.

May we urge all club members to continue the support that is necessary for the well-being of all campus clubs and organizations. We think this suggestion is important to making "a better Lipscomb."

Low Blow

Striking a disheartening blow against education was President Eisenhower, who recently fixed most of the veterans' benefits. Some message were loan guaranty, mustering-out payments and education and training. This action did not, however, end the so-called state of national emergency nor did it end the compulsory draft for young

The reason given for this move is a desire on the part of the administration to economize. It seems unfortunate that the economy of the United States is in such straits as to necessitate the termination of this very worthwhile program. The amount spent on veterans' benefits-education in particular-is very small when compared to the total national budget.

The popular notion that education is vitally important in keeping our nation strong has apparently been overlooked. Ending the assistance courses you still have to take . . . granted to ex-servicemen who wish Either wear glasses or avoid blind to further their education will un- dates . . . Quit loaning out term doubtedly cause many of them to papers to fellow students who end cancel their educational ambitions. up with better grades than you . . .

Realizing that there are many implications to this problem, we nevertheless hope that the President will reconsider his decision.

Fathers Thrive

According to a recent survey, 95% of all American college students work either part or full time during the summer vacations, or while in school. This means that practically all students at David Lipscomb College will be benefited at least indirectly by a new law which is in effect this fiscal year.

A student's father may claim his daughter or son, regardless of his or her income for 1954if he or she is a student. We are glad to note this change in national policy. Some thoughtful planning was exercised in the enactment of this new law.

It makes us think more seriously about voting and petitioning when we see the results of what the majority can accomplish. Someone acted wisely when he voted to adopt this new rule. Others thought wisely when they formed the bill, and still others voted wisely when the bill was passed. The result was the bettering of our laws.

When we vote and petition for different things that might come up in our college life, we should think just what our vote means -and what it will accomplish. Planned and contemplated backing of a worthy project is ex-

But, often some do not take their influence in voting and petitioning as seriously as they should. Hasty judgment should not be used in such

The above is an example of the right kind of voting. We should apply common sense to our local school voting, and this being done, we will the start of the school year, it is our enjoy the best outcome of all voting

Resolve or Dissolve

Most New Year's resolutions have been made by now and probably almost as many have been broken or forgotten. But it's not too late for a few additional ones which might have been overlooked by skeptical

Here are a few timely suggestions January 31 as the terminal date for to incorporate in your list, if you have one, which may come in handy of the benefits to be affected by this for brightening up dull conversa-

> Resolve to . . . refrain from scheduling any classes with professors who are consistently tardy or absent or both . . . Spend one hour a day in the library, not necessarily studying, but rather getting acquainted with the setup in case you ever wish to take out a book for kicks . . .

Laugh at your instructor's jokes at least once a week to humor him, but not too often, for you may encourage him to go overboard . . . Don't fall into heavy slumbers while the prof is lecturing because it gives him the idea that you are bored . . .

See your adviser before you graduate, preferably the day before, so he can tell you what required

DESPITE THE PRESENCE in almost every newspaper and news service office of an unabridged dictionary, newspapers never seem to reach universal agreement on the best way to spell many words

Decision on whether to spell or percent would save much time in type composition and in resetting if the proofreader finds differences in spelling in the proofs of the same story.

SOME TIME AGO an editor of an Atlanta paper got tired of his "local." They referred to Mrs. Whozitt as a local society leader, Senator Windjammer as a local boy who made good in politics, and so on, until the word "local" appeared in almost every story turned into the desk.

This continued until one day the editor decided to take drastic means to stop it. He posted a notice on the bulletin board saying that henceforth, when a reporter was tempted to use the word "local" in a newsstory, he should substitute the word "Atanta" instead.

Promptly a story was turned in bout an Atlanta resident who had undergone surgery and had been given a local anesthetic. Checking his copy the reporter scratched out the word "local," and changed it to read that the patient had been given an Atlanta nesthetic. His defense was that he had just been carrying out orders. ANOTHER ILLUSTRATION is this note that appeared on the editorial room bulletin board of the Chicago Daily News: TO THE STAFF: Let's set our sights high this year-achieve a real worth-while objective. "Let's learn how to spell 'judgment' correctly.

"Let's repeat to ourselves each day-Today I will spell 'judgment' without an 'e.' "Who shall be the first to announce this accomplishment?

Praise be unto him. 'And let's not forget at the same time that 'management' and 'acknowledgement' and 'derangement' (which afflicts editors who repeatedly have to strike the 'e' from 'judgment') are spelled with

"Deranged" Clipped to the notice was this answer from some reporter: "Dear Deranged: I tried to spell judgment without an 'e' and it came out 'judgmnt'.

"Now I'm in a predicamnt.

"Confused." Here and There . . . "A Kansas mental institution maintains a golf course." (Newspaper filler). It is assumed this course is used as a testing ground, as it were—that enough to quit playing the game, he is discharged . .

Heard in Passing: A merchant was called upon to defend a suit brought against him by a dissatisfied customer. Just before proceedings concluded, the merchant was called away on business, and left instructions for his attorney to wire him as soon as a decision was reached. The merchant received a telegram shortly thereafter, reading, "Right has triumphed." Whereupon, he hurriedly wired his lawyer, "Appeal at once."

THE BABBLER Entered as second-class matter, December 26, 1923, at the post office, Nashville, Tenn., under the act of March 3, 1897.

Accepted for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1916; authorized, Nashville, Tenn.

Published weekly during the regular school year except during holidays or examination periods by students of DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE, Nashville, Tenn.

Office located on second floor Crisman Memorial Library.

Associated Collegiate Press Peggie Herron ... Editor-in-Chief Paul Rogers ... Business Manager Willard Collins ... Faculty Advisor

DAY by DAY

The monsoon season is upon us again. Bring out the equipment—umbrellas, raincoats, boots, canoes, etc. There is a sale on rubber life-rafts in the Bookstore, but you'll have to hurry because there's only a limited supply left. Only twelve to a customer. . . . Now if the Tennessee weather words such as per cent that way holds true to its contrary form, we'll have a long spell of the clearest, prettiest weather ever known in the history of the state.

Leap Week is nearly finished and as yet there have been no casualties in the mad rush to Elam Hall. And now a word to the fairer sex. Girls, writers over-using the word are you searching desperately for someway to entertain that male you are taking out tonight? If he's not the type to enjoy a quiet game of Scrabble in the dorm living room, why not take him to see what promises to be one of the most entertaining shows ever, produced here—the Junior Spotlight. The Junior Class would certainly like to see you there; in fact, chapel seats will be checked. The penalty for absence is the loss of

Speaking of entertainment, there's another program coming up soon that should be marked on every calendar-"All My Sons," produced by the Footlighters. Besides seeing excellent acting, you'll have the opportunity of seeing a real homemade tree. Its trunk is maple, its branches are elm, and its carefully wired-on leaves are oak. We hate to dispute Joyce Kilmer's word, but Dale Brown can make a tree, too.

The situation with Red China is tense, to say the least, but as yet there is really no need for you boys to begin taking courses in Oriental tongues. You see, George Massey has come up with the solution to the whole affair. "Now, over there we have Formosa," this budding diplomat began. "Instead of being selfish, we could divide Formosa with Red China. Two-mosa for them and Two-mosa for us." Isn't that what's known as the lowest form of humor?

It all happened this way . . . Lee Medford was waiting for her date (who was late) and there sat the iron that her roommate had left plugged Since there was nothing else to do, she did the logical thing-began to iron. That's why Norma Covington and Betty Teasley walked in and found her standing at the ironing board with all her dollar bills spread out before her-gaily ironing away. Miss Medford has the neatest money on campus—not a wrinkle on any of her bills.

Do you have days when everything seems to go wrong? Dan Kimball had one recently. Running late for a date, Dan dashed to the showers to begin to start to get ready. That's when someone (who shall be nameless) stole his towel, robe, slippers, and everything else he had with him. His roommate, Max Wilcox, came back from supper to find Dan standing in front of the locked door-shivering with cold. You see, he was wrapped only in tissue paper. As if that weren't enough, all his clocks had been set forward half an hour, so that his preparations became even more frantic. Our sympathy, Dan.

The Footlighters can't resist a bargain. Just the other day they purchased twenty-five tuxedos, a large number as soon as a patient becomes sane of white suits, Prince Albert coats, and a black homberg -all for only sixty-seven dollars. Now that is a real bargain. Think what can be done with all those suits and one hat. Perhaps they can follow the advice of the salesperson and rent the tuxedos for the dances. A note to Sewell Hall girls: that chute is to be used for > it again. After all, she might stop the thing up. It was time for lights-out and she still had many lessons to be done, so Bobbie Ann Turner resorted to the age-old scheme of Sewell Hall residents. She retired to the shower room. But Bobbie decided that there would be less likelihood of her being discovered if she were out of sight. So she climbed into the bathtub, where she promptly went to sleep and remained in the Land of Nod until 2 a.m. the next morning. What it does take to get an education!

trash only. Please do not put George Ann Wolfe down

They say it's never too late to learn . . . Mr. and Mrs. Paul Breakfield are diligently pursuing a course of study entitled "Building a Successful Marriage." 'The only thing is they have just celebrated their fifteenth wedding anniversary.

We have a title-holder on the faculty. Eunice Bradley once made a hundred on a Spanish exam at Vandy, which is the only time that has been done in that course before or since. "I graded that paper for hours, looking for a mistake, and couldn't find one," her former professor said recently. With a spirit of co-operation like that, what could you expect?

The elementary French class is noted for the fabulous movies that it is privileged to see. That is why Kiu Yokomori was found fast asleep at the conclusion of one of the more recent films. After debating whether or not to let her "sleep, perchance to dream through the next period," Mrs. Whitten awoke her. Wouldn't it be nice to have movies all the time, Kiu?

It was in education class that Orean Poe was reporting on problems of social life. "And, of course, petting should be reserved ... What was that, Orean? "Petting should be reserved."

BABBLER 30 Years Ago . . .

February 25, 1955

Words of Wisdom Conclude That 'Girls, Boys Am All Right'

Leap Week, we thought you might tell her she look good. She say like to see a boy's essay on giris you are a story-teller if you tell and vice-versa, first written for her you like her. She don't like the March 6, 1925, issue of the BABBLER. These were printed when the BABBLER was in its fourth year of publication.) Boy's Essay on Girls

What a funny animal the girl are. You kain't never know for certain nothing about her. When a feller has spent his cash for candy and give her flowers and thinks she is reconciled to him, then, and just then, she ain't.

When she goes back on you, you might as well let her go, for she ain't going to like you. She ain't got no ears and some say no sense tier one and then he leave her.

When the girl balks there ain't but one way to get her to do what you want her to, and that's to tell her not to. When she say, she mean yes; and she never say yes, but always expound "this are so

She are indeed very queer. She are harder to understand than the ragged coat sleeve or the broken shoe-string. She ain't keering if you don't like her or not.

'All My Sons . . .'

(Continued from page 1) Wilmoth Killebrew as Kate Keller Wilmoth Kil-

Savage," and 'When Shakespeare's Ladies Meet." She also appeared in the Freshman class

lebrew, a fresh-ton, Ky., has appeared in

"The Curious

Miss Killebrew portrays Kate, the wife of Joe Keller. She is in her early fifties, a woman of uncontrolled inspirations, and an overwhelming capacity for love." Robert Hamlin as Chris Keller active in the Dramatics Club and has also appeared at the Community Playhouse. He won the Founders' Day contest this year.

Robert Hamlin attended

Lipscombin

1948-50. He was

Hamlin plays Chris Keller, the son of Joe Keller, aged thirty-

Levada Gossett as Ann Deever Levada Gos-lighters production. She won first place in oral intrepretation in the Forensic tournament, and appeared in the

sett, a freshman from Nashville.

will appear in her first Foot-

freshman class play. She portrays Ann Deever, a fashionable young woman of twenty-six. She is gentle but despite herself capable of holding fast to what she knows.

George Brazil as Joe Keller George Brazil has appeared in several Circle Theater productions including "The Cocktail Party" and "Misalliance." He has appeared in "The Glass "Menagerie," "Ile." and Brazil "Harriet" which were produced on the Lipscomb

He plays the part of Joe Keller, a man nearing sixty. He is a business man of many years, but with the imprint of the machineshop worker and boss still upon

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Since this is She say you are silly if you for you to love her, and she don't like for you not to. She are indeed a curious creature, but after all, she are all right. She didn't mean to hurt your feelings. She are an angel if she do get mad at you. I like her, but she are

Girl's Essay on Boys A boy am a dopey piece of architecture nohow. He am of an appetite liken unto an whale. He acts like he am what he am not He love a girl until he see a pret-

He tell every girl she am the only girl he have ever loved. He am a critter of words rather than actions. He am proud as an peacock and struts amazedly.

If you brag on him, his head swell fit to bust, and if you don't he am sulky as an possum. If you don't talk to him when he want you to or go where he want you to go, he am mad at you.

A boy am like unto a little puppy, when you humor him he park kindly and when you don't not he bite like a lion. And yet he am capable of acting lovely. He am a friend and protector in sent three programs in McMinn-elementary schools and in the high time of need and when he want to be. He am fine anyway almost. A speech major, she wants to We love him. teach speech or be a drama coach after she finishes school. MUSICAL ACTIVITIES Her hobby is collecting minia-The Men's Club under the di-competed.

ture glass slippers and she loves Swiss steak. Levada's favorite rection of Henry Arnold will presong is "Because of You." ville, Tenn., Wed., Mar. 2, in two Billie Joyce's home is in Sparta, Tennessee, and her parents are

Prosser and Mary Ann Thomas When a sophomore at Lipscomb have been selected to appear in the Campus Beauty section of the

she was chosen Campus Beauty and also homecoming attendant. Her hobby is swimming and she likes "Liebestraum," "no matter who's playing it." Her favorite food is lamb chops.

Beauty Isn't All They Have

A senior, she is majoring in psychology. After graduation, Billie Joyce wants to do psychiatric social work, which means three more years of school. She hasn't decided yet where she will go.

'charcoal-broiled steaks on the river bank," and she especially A '54 graduate of Lipscomb high likes the song "That's All I Want school, Betty Flo's home is in from You." A home economics Fayetteville, Tenn. Born Jan. 17 major, she says that after she 1937, her parents are Mr. and Mrs. graduates from Lipscomb she wants to continue work in the field Has Ability for Drama of home "making." Her hobby is water-skiing. She is a fresh-

In Fayetteville she was elected Miss VFW for that district and Miss Armed Forces Day for Lincoln County. Dramatics is her hobby and she has been an active member of the Footlighters for two years.

school and is also a freshman this She has appeared in the followyear. This was the first beauty ing productions: "Harvey," "Our contest in which she had ever Town," "Unto Us the Living," 'Special Guest," "When Shake-As a member of the Footlighters speare's Ladies Meet," and was Levada will be seen next week student director of the "The in the production of "All My Curious Savage." She will also Sons." She appeared in the freshbe seen in "All My Sons," next man forensic play "In Her De-

Betty, a sophomore, is majoring in elementary education and hopes to teach the third grade after graduation. Her favorite song is "I've Gotta Go Get My Baby," by Teresa Brewer, and her favorite foods are fried shrimp From Lewisburg, Tenn., is the junior beauty, Mary Ann Thomas.

Since coming to Lipscomb, she has been a cheerleader three years and was a homecoming attendant last year. She is secretary of both the "L" Club and the Backlog

Has Designing Ambition

Mary Ann is another home economics major and wants to work in some phase of this field after graduation-possibly dress design. Her favorite song is "Traumerei," and her favorite food is banana pudding. She likes to swim and is one of the lifeguards here at Lipscomb

FTA Establishes High School Club

The Lipscomb chapter of the Future Teachers of America is carrying out as a project for 1955 the organization of an F.T.A. Club in Lipscomb High School.

Dr. Thomas C. Whitfield, head of the department of education and sponsor of the college F.T.A., and Bill O'Neal, vice-president of the College chapter, spoke to the High School student body Feb. 15. They explained the purposes and nature of the F.T.A. and the plans for organizing the High School

Forty-five high school students attended the first meeting after chapel on Feb. 15. The following officers were elected: President, Mary Dobson: vice-president. Robin Elder: secretary, Betty Weaver; treasurer, Gwen Thurman. J. Garvin Smith will serve as

Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Howell. She Her parents are Mr. and Mrs.

If winter should say, "Spring is in my heart," who would believe

Buy Fountain Pens at Hutcherson's

FITTS CRAWFORD

FLOWERS

2816 West End Ave. 7-5946

Joy's Flowers 601 Church 6-4144

Patronize THE LIPSCOMB LAUNDRY

6-1148

Purity Dairies

Nashville's Finest Milk 360 Murfreesboro Road

RAGLAND, POTTER & CO.

Distributors of

LIBBY FOOD PRODUCTS—FIRESIDE COFFEE

The National Life and Accident Insurance Co.

NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

PLAN YOUR LIFE SECURITY WITH

VSAC Tourney All-Round Success

to the Volunteer State Conference Tournament, and the tournament, without a doubt, was successful both from financial and recreational standpoints - there were good crowds and good ball games.

The teams participating in the meet played some of the best games ever witnessed in Mc-Quiddy Gymnasium.

Milligan and Austin Peay, the eighth and ninth place teams respectively, opened things up Wednesday night to see who would play Belmont in the first round.

Al Covell and Denny Greenwell led Milligan in a last half spurt that netted a 75-68 victory for Coach Duard Walker's Buffaloes. The Buffs led 27-26 at the half, but the Milligan guards stopped Austin Peay's slow-down tactics and moved ahead.

Covell scored 23 and Greenwell 18 to lead Milligan, while Dickie Elliot scored 20 and Johnny Rendek 18 to pace the Governors.

Fireworks Popped on Thursday

Thursday afternoon, the fireworks really started popping. In the first game, Bethel (4-4) took on Union (6-4). Union had won both regular season contests, but the Wildcats gained sweet revenge by eking out a 92-89 win.

At one time in the contest, Bethel led by 14 points, but Union fought back and Johnny Rose's fielder with 0:35 left, tied it 89-89. Then Wayne Chester sank two free throws and Don Johnson Dropped in one, giving Bethel a 92-89 win. Bethel's well balanced attack is shown by the scoring. Center Ray Williams led with 20, followed by Ed Steins' 16, Don Johnson's 16, Hal Scott's 14, and Jerry Edwards' 12. Elbert Pruett and Bill Smith led Union with 18 apiece.

LMU Favored—But . . .

In the second game, Lincoln Memorial (5-2) was a strong favorite to down M.T.S.C. (3-4). LMU got off to a fast start, but Middle Tennessee pulled up to trail but 43-42 at halftime. In a torrid last half, the lead changed hands numerous times, winding up tied 82-82. The overtime was just as fast, and Tomray Hogshead hit a hook shot with 45 seconds left to give State a 92-91

Doug Shrader led the upset with 34 points. Render Carden hit 20 and Hogshead 19. Don Burton and Ben Essary had 21 and 20 to lead the Railsplitters.

ligan (2-7) in the Thursday nigat opener. The Johnny Rebs led most of the way, but were ahead only 61-60 with 30 seconds to go. James Ray Pugh and Bill Rutherford then hit long set shots to

Comets Defeat Knights 30-39 In AA League Play

The Comets defeated the Knights soundly in the only AA League game last week. Herbert Murphy was high for the Comets with 18 points while Wayne Wright and Terrel Seivers each had 15 points for the Knights.

Alton Yates led the Cavalier attack which downed the Gladiators 39 to 30. Yates had 12 points and Gene Ward 11 points for the winners. Paul Dillingham had nine points for the Glads.

The Cavalier team in the B League also took a close one last week. They downed the Rams 37 24-21. to 34. Timothy Black had 14 points for the Cavaliers and Dickie they scored 14 points, while the Adams had 11 for the Rams.

Wright Caps Bowling Title The first annual singles bowling meet was captured by Wayne Wright. He had a total score of 463 for three lines.

Roy Nash and Billy Fullerton placed second and third respectively.

Wayne Wright and Charles Hailey won the doubles bowling championship with a combined ice the decision for Belmont and Last week Lipscomb played host give the Rebels a 65-60 lead, and that is the way it ended.

Robert Barnes, Conference Most Valuable for the season led Belmont with 20. Al Covell, Jimmy Crouch, and Joe Gouge hit 14 apiece for the Buffaloes.

East Tennessee State was the only team that had easy-going. After trailing 7-3 after 51/2 minutes, E.T.S.C. pulled ahead of the Bisons and breezed to an easy

Friend Brightens Gloom

About the only bright spot the Bisons could salvage from the wreck was the all-around playing of John Friend, 6' 3" sophomore. John rode the bench the greater part of the last 20 minutes with 4 fouls, but poured in 22 points to lead the Bison attack.

Slim Donaldson hit 13 and Jerry Brannon 10. Dick Greech led East State with 28 and Ferrell Bowman had 15.

In Friday night's semi-finals, a near capacity crowd saw little Bethel pull the Tournament's greatest upset. The Wildcats just couldn't miss, rolling out to a 17-3 lead and they were never headed.

The 'Cats' two crackerjack guards, Jerry Edwards and Eddie Stines, led Bethel with 61 points between them. Edwards hit 35 and Stines 26. Dick Creech with 18. Herbie Edmonds with 16, and Jim Fleenor with 15 led the Bucs.

M.T.S.C. gained the finals berth opposite Bethel by stopping Belmont for the second time in the same week. In a regular season game Monday night, the Blue Raiders downed the Rebs 109-99; and in the semis handed them another defeat 77-69.

Belmont got off to an early 10-0 lead, but it melted like an ice cube on the Sahara Desert when the Raiders' attack got rolling. Doug Shrader tied it 34-34 at halftime with a crip shot.

The lead switched hands 4 time at the beginning of the last ha until Shrader put the Raide ahead to stay at 43-42.

Again it was Shrader who l the State scoring. He poured 23 points, while Tom Griffith ha 16 and Render Carden 14. Tem Sparkman, the Rebs' sharp-shoot ing guard, paced Belmont with 21. Robert Barnes, playing on a badly

In the consolation game Saturday night, East Tennessee won the third place trophy by downing Belmont 83-75. Although never sporting a large lead, the Bucs led most of the way.

Belmont pulled up to 70-72 with 41/2 minutes to go, but East State's fast break pulled them out of Middle Tennessee State blasted Bethel 106-87, to win the championship and set a new Tournament scoring record. The Blue Raiders got off to their usual slow start. but then came back to take a 35-19 lead midway of the half, only to see Bethel fight back and trail only 44-43 at

But when the Blue Raiders opened the final half, they were

Render Carden hit for 30 points to head the Blue Raiders' attack. Ken Trickey, who led the first scoring spree, hit 27 and half and Douglas Shrader pumped in 22 more. Jerry Edwards' 20 and Eddie Stines' 19 led Bethel.

Shrader Is MV

upsets of LMU and Belmont.

attempts for 50%.

	1. Doug Shrader,MTS
es	2. Tom Hogshead,MTS
lf,	3. Render Carden, MTS
ers	4. Al Covell,
	5. Robert Barnes, Belmor
ed	6. Temp Sparkman,Belmor
in	7. Jerry Edwards,Beth ad	8. Ray Williams, Beth
np	9. Ben Essary, LM
ot-	10. Dick Creech, . East Tennesse

E Tenn. State Downs Herd in Opener

Belmont (8-2) tangled with Mil- After Quick Start By John Phifer

ment opponent.

with a bang! They led 7-3 after five and one-half minutes had been played and it looked as if they might pull an upset. But then the in-

The Bisons cooled and State got game were the Herd's downfall. In the first 10 minutes, the Bucs had 16 to the Bisons' 13. In the third ten minute period, the East State crew outscored the Herd 20-19 and in the fourth period.

But, in the second ten minutes

About all the Bison followers could salvage from the wreckage was the brilliant performance of John Friend. The 6' 3" Sophomore poured in 22 points, all in the first 30 minutes. He rode the bench the greater part of the last half, with 4 fouls. Ken Donaldson, definitely off his stride, hit 13 and Jerry Bran-

Raiders Set Record

not to be denied the championship. Their lead was not seriously threatened as they marched on to a 106-87 conquest of the Bethel Wildcats.

forward from Flintville. Tennes-

Shrader a junior, scored 79

Tro	ophy.
TH	IE ALL-TOURNAMENTTEAM:
1.	Doug Shrader,MTSC
3.	Tom Hogshead,MTSC Render Carden,MTSC
4.	Al Covell,Milligan
5.	Robert Barnes, Belmont
6.	Temp Sparkman,Belmont
	Jerry Edwards, Bethel
	Ray Williams, Bethel
	Ben Essary, LMU
	Dick Creech, East Tennessee

ETSC (82)

Waycaster.

TOTALS

quired is talkative.

Tournament, had the misfortune of drawing the East Tennessee State Buccaneers as their tourna-much hope for the Bison fans. The Herd opened things up

evitable happened.

their fast-break rolling. They were ahead 16-13 at the midway point in the first half, and breezed on to The second ten minutes of the Bisons only mustered 7.

injured ankle, hit 17. East Tennessee Places Third of the most interesting in years.

Middle Tennessee State's Douglas Shrader, a 6-foot jumping jack see, was named the Tournament's Most Valuable Player. Shrader led the fired-up Raiders to their points in three games, to lead all scorers. He hit 30 of 60 field goal

Belmont won the Sportsmanship riopuj.

THE ALL-TOURNAMENT TEAM	1:
1. Doug Shrader,MTS	C
2. Tom Hogshead, MTS
3. Render Carden, MTS
4. Al Covell,	n
5. Robert Barnes, Belmon
6. Temp Sparkman,Belmon	at
7. Jerry Edwards, Beth	el
8. Ray Williams, Beth	el
9. Ben Essary, LM	U
10. Dick Creech, . East Tennesse	e

Halftime Score: ETSC 30; Lipscomb

The real in us is silent; the ac-

TURRENTINE REALTY

COMPANY

2915 Nolensville Road

Sales—Insurance—Loans

Phone 42-2651

McKay-Cameron

Co.

Headquarters

CHINA, GLASS, SILVER

Bisons Cool Down Sherrill, g ... Brannon, g ... Glass. f ... Crenshaw, g The Bisons, host for the VSAC

The Bucs had beaten the Herd twice this season, so there wasn't

6-0427 212 3rd Ave., N.

Herd... Sportlight

The VSAC tourney at Lipscomb last week proved to be one

Comparative unknowns blazed into stardom through their spirited tournament play. A prime example was MTSC's Doug Shrader, who had played all year in the shadow of teammates Render Carden and Ken Trickey. Shrader scored 79 points in his three tournament games and hit on 50% of his field-goal attempts to win the MVP award.

Edward Shows Scrappy Shooting Eye

Another was little Gerald Edwards of Bethel, who showed a lot of scrap and a good shooting eye to lead his team to the finals. His teammate, Ray Williams, was probably the toughest rebounder in the tourney. He simply could not be moved from under the boards.

Though he played in only two games, Milligan forward Al Covell impressed the crowd with his uncanny accuracy on one-handed jump shots. He scored seven field goals with his specialty as his team almost upset highly favored

The winning of the championship by Middle Tennessee was certainly no fluke. The Blue Raiders fought and hustled all

They went into overtime to win their first game against Lincoln Memorial and came fro ma 10-0 deficit to top Belmont. The finals saw the Raiders stretch a one point half-time lead over Bethel to a final victory margin of 19 points.

Bucs Chase Herd With Speed

In the Bison-ETSC game, the Buccaneers all but chased the Herd off the floor with their fast-breaking tactics. The Bisons held an early lead but were forced out of their zone defense by the phenomnal out-court shooting of forward Dick

In the second half the Bucs switched to the speed game with the trio of Cooper, Fleenor, and Kimbro leading the way.

The only noticeable bright spot for the Bisons was the all-round good play of forward John Friend. John scored 21 on jumps and hooks and held his own at rebounding

The Bisons hustled to the bitter end, but after the first few minutes, they were never able to slow the Buccaneers down nor keep up with them.

Bisons to Retire for a Season

Once again a season ends and the Lipscomb Bisons hang up their trunks and jerseys until they are summoned back to the gym next fall. Looking back, we see a season record (8-15) that admittedly gives a dismal impression.

The Bisons were centainly hampered all year by inexperience and lack of over-all team speed; but they rarely, if ever, lacked in hustle or team spirit.

The high-lights of the year were the selections of two Lipscomb boys to first-team all-star squads-John Friend, All Mid-State and Ken Donaldson, all VSAC.

In the last half of the season we saw the development of a lad who could be a future Bison star-freshman Jerry Brannon.

Looking ahead, we see that the Herd is unique in that every man on the squad is eligible to return next year. The Bison team of next season should be a more experienced, smoother-working outfit. The addition of next . year's freshmen will give the squad more depth. Improvement of the team seems certain; how much improvement? -only a year's time will tell.

On the Diamond

Bison baseball will be the next "athletic interest" to dominate the Lipscomb sporting scene. Coach Sherrill has stated that, weather permitting, practice will probably begin Monday afternoon. The Herd will have a good number of men returning from last year's fine crew.

Returning lettermen include Ronnie Morrell, Wayne Wright, Carl Walker, Gene Kidwell, Tom McMahon, and Ken Dugan. The pitching staff should be stronger this year, with the return to the mound of Gary Colson, Archie Crenshaw. and Walter Glass. Here's hoping for a good campaign!

One of America's really fine

coffees . .

To Press

Lipscomb literary magazine, went to press Wednesday, according to Bettye Beazley and Peggie Herron, editors.

The Tower, has been completely reorganized, with changes including enlargement to standard size of Time, Redbook and similar magazines. It will also be printed on slick paper.

In the new, enlarged edition. there will be fiction, features and poetry written exclusively by Lipscomb students.

Featured short stories include "The Applause is Silence," by Peggy Scott, "Tomorrow's Legacy," by Bettye Beazley, "Sounds," by Jackie Golden, plus a large number of others.

Features will include "So We All Went to College," by Katie Breakfield, depicting the harrowing experience that result when the whole family enters school, "from Pop to Junior"; "Love Is Infernal," a satire by Irving S. Ominous; and many others.

16 Poems Included

Among the 16 poems in the magazine will be "Tragedy," by Peggie Herron, and "What Is Life?", by Frances Brummitt, both to be published in the Anthology of College Poetry this Spring; "Sackies," by Beverly Brawner, dealing with the initiation of the freshmen: "Short September." by Peggie Herron, and many others.

To Be on Sale Next Week

The magazine will go on sale next week for .50¢ per copy. A Scott has achieved nationwide limited number is being printed, fame and has been praised by so students are urged to buy their subscriptions at the earliest posnational magazines, press, and

Pre-registration Is Set March 15

Students may pre-register for the spring quarter on Tuesday, Mar. 15. The schedule of classes will be

The Choristers will leave Nashavaliable in the registrar's office beginning Thursday morning, Mar. ville April 1, for an eight-day trip to Washington, D. C. and the surrounding territory. Students should be sure that their names are placed on the will arrive in Washington and will class rolls when they obtain teach-sing at an alumni meeting in the ers' signatures in order to be asafternoon. On Sunday afternoon sured of a place in the classes. they plan to give a propram in Teachers will be asked to be Arlington, Va., in the church available on the campus from 8:00 a.m. to 12:00, Tuesdays, Mar. 15, in order that students may obtain ranged for a program in Rich-

Students who fail to complete registration on Tuesday, must wait until regular registration, Mon. 28, in order to register. All winter quarter accounts must be properly taken care of signatures on the course cards.

before completing registration for the spring quarter. Regular registration will be held from 9:30 a.m. until 3:00 p.m.

Monday, Mar. 28.

Monday, March 14

Thursday, March 17

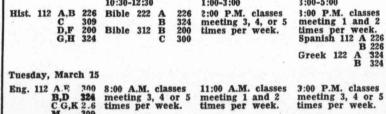

10

There is currently a possibility of All-Campus Party Sponsored by IRC

mond. Va. wich is hi shometown.

The IRC is sponsoring an allcampus skating party Thurs., Mar. 10, to which all students are in-The party will meet at the cinnati 32, Ohio.

Lavergne Roller Rink, Lavergne, E.S.B.A.S. Tenn. at 7:30. Admission at the

FINAL EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

Winter, 1955

Wednesday, March 16 11:00 A.M. classes meeting 3, 4 or 5 times per week.

Chem. 112 A,B 200 classes meeting 3, meeting 3, 4, or 5 times per times per week. 1:00 P.M. classes meeting 3, 4 or 5 meeting 1 and 2 classes meeting 1 meeting 1 and 2 times per week. 1:00 P.M. classes meeting 1 meeting 1 and 2 times per times per week.

A list of regulations pertaining to taking examinations was printed in the last BABBLER.

'Tower' Goes Most Nearly Ideal . . .

Dick Batey

15, by the junior class.

in Who's Who In America.

Choristers to Tour

Washington, D. C.

The day following, the group

Henry Arnold, director, has ar-

In the past three years,

In Life, he was called "The Will

Juniors Present Henry Scott,

Rogers of the Piano," and is listed 'First Concert Humorist'

Henry L. Scott, distinguished pianist and originator of Concert Humor, will be presented on the Lipscomb stage April

'Humor Pianist,' April 15

Ruth Behel

A brilliant interpreter of Liszt

and Chopin, the humorous virtuo-

so is also an authority on popular

Besides being a concert pianist,

He has appeared in concert halls and colleges from coast to coast,

made short pictures for Paramount, had radio engagements, and finally made his debut at New York Town Hall as "America's

Scott has appeared at Car-

Capable of playing over 44

notes per second, his income

from one season is fifty thou-

Scott's first Nashville concert will be the junior's second presen-

'How to Get Job'

Booklet Available

The booklet on "How to Apply for a Summer Job" may be obtained free of charge until April 15, 1955. Students who wish to secure the booklet should write to: National Directory Service,

Box 65, Winton Place Station, Cin-

The booklet contains informasummer months, and a list of more than 175 types of jobs that may be found in such organiza-

where and how a list of Summer

Employers may be obtained for the 1955 Summer Season.

Education Meets

Attended By Two

Miss Margaret Leonard, princi-

the Association for Student Teach-

'Laboratory school in teacher edu-

Thomas C. Whitfield, Professor

ciation for Higher Education.

ing teacher education.

ing last Friday and Saturday.

cation.

negie Hall, Toronto Symphony, Northwestern State College, and Georgia Tech.

First Concert Humorist."

sand dollars.

tation this year.

he does pantomimes and impres-

styles—swing and jazz.

Campus Beauties, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Howell of Sparta, Tenn. She is a senior psychology major and a resi-Alumni Auditorium. She will be attended by four maids and guards Rnnner-up in the election of honor, who will be elected from the senior class Tuesday. for Queen was Joanne Ed-Miss Lipscomb and the Bachelor mondson, a senior from Nash-of Ugliness, Ruth Behel and Dick Batey will also be members of the

The other candidates for the honor were Ann Derseweh, Frances Gaither, Hulene Jarrett, Frances Swan, Ina Mae Swan, Katherine Sneed, Ernestine McAdams, Glenda Dabbs, and Willella Littrell. All those petitioned

The Babbler This election was the only major one of the year which did not demand a run-off ballot. A candidate must have a plurality of at least 75 votes to win on the first

Smith in Charge

Mrs. Ollis Smith, supervisor of Sewell Hall, is in charge of the afternoon activities of the day. The High School and Elementary Departments are expected to have representatives in the court, ac-participate in the program as a member of the group which will serve as background for the court. a.m. to 4 p.m. The main feature should contact Mrs. Smith as soon of the day will be helping high as possible.

Alumni, and preachers are cooperating to bring students here Recital March 8 for the day. Bob Kendrick and Harvey Carter are working with the administration in carrying out

The program will include an hour of entertainment in Alumni Auditorium, high school students' meeting the faculty and discussing career plans with them, and athletic events in the afternoon. Lunch will be served at 1 p.m. in front of Alumni Auditorium. Additional plans are now under consideration and a complete pro-

issue of the BABBLER.

Glee Club Gives Program at Central

gram will be announced in a later on March 10. Willard Collins, Vice-president, will appear on the Winter Lecture

Montgomery Bell Inn will be tion on the types of organizations the scene of the sophomore ban-

News Briefs . . .

The Men's Glee Club, directed by Henry Arnold, is to sing at Central High School in Nashville

she has had one of the leading program of Central Christian Col- rolls in the opera, "False Fernanlege, Bartlesville, Okla., on March do," and appeared in "Bastien and old's also sang in the chorus of that seek extra help during the guet on April 22. Frang Kimura, a Japanese anthropologist now studying at Fisk University, will speak at the regutions throughout the United States. lar IRC meeting next Tuesday It also supplies information on night in Room 309. Members and

E.S.B.A.S. What Is It?

Four days of backward and uncanny behavior characterized last week's upside-down procedure during Leap Week.

A breakfast date at 7:00 a.m. on Wednesday morning inaugurated pal of the Elementary School, attended the National Conference of

The theme of the conference was The climax of the festivities was supposed to take place on Saturday night when the king and queen of said week were to be crowned. But due to unforseen difficulties, the coronation had to be of Education in the College department, was away the first of favorite young men escort them. One daring little lady even demanded that her male choice come back to Nashville—after going home for this week, attending the Chicago National Conference of the Assothe weekend-just so she could have a date for the program Saturday

> The only unfavorable comment during the week came from Charles Trevathan, who said that Elam Hall just wasn't large enough ville, Gloria Brannan from Clarksville placed third. This year the May-Day festivities are scheduled for May 13. That afternoon Miss Howell will

By a landslide majority of more than 100 votes, Billie Joyce

Miss Howell, who was recently selected as one of five

Howell was elected May Queen Wednesday after Chapel.

Joanne Edmondson Runner-up

be crowned Queen by A. C. Pul-lias, President, on the steps of school students select careers.

To Be May 7

The activities will be from 10

Present Lipscomb students.

reer Day."

the plans.

were seniors with a qualitypoint average of 1.5 or above.

'Career Dav' Saturday, May 7, has been decording to Mrs. Smith. Any College girl who wishes to clared "Prospective Student Ca-

Jean Reynolds Has

Jean Bixler Reynolds, sophomore, will present a recital at 7:30 Tuesday evening, March 8.

in Alumni Auditorium. The program will be divided into two parts. The first part consists of six French Art songs. They are entitled "Butterflies," "The Charm," by Ernest Chausson: "Good Morning, Sue" by Leo Delibes, "Were I Sunshine, I Should Come" by Paul Vidal; "L'Esclave," by Edouard Lalo; and Gabriel Favre's "After a Dream." The last part of the recital will feature three songs from the well-known opera, Madame Butterfly by Giacomo Puccini. The first two will be solos. Mrs. Reynolds will be joined in the third one by Jewell Snell, who will sing the part of "Suzuki." The songs in order are as follows: "One Fine Day," "Che Tau Madre Dovra," and "Every Flower."

Since her arrival at Lipscomb,

ienne" by Mozart, Mrs. Rey entitled, "Yeoman of the Guard. by Gilbert and Sullivan.

the opera presented last spring

If you learned to leap . . .

Agression, She-voices Prevail During Sadie Hawkins Hassel

the prolonged weekend during which time the females turned agressive! By Friday it was reported that some lass had already acquired

It seems that the freshmen girls were the most insistent that their

Ed Smith, junior president, says if Leap Week were the cause of the gigantic turnout at the Spotlight, he's strictly in favor of having another 'week' when the juniors bring Harvey Scott to the campus There he participated in two discussion groups concerning the responsibilities of higher education for teacher education, and conflicting points of view concernfor him to take sale refuge.

Editorial

How Many Do You Know?

How many people do you know in your first period class? How many ing the news about Lipscomb. Talk to of your colleagues do you meet and speak to regularly, but do not know their names?

It was interesting to note that Why No Pix? when a student was asked by a teacher to name all the people in class, there were only about ten he could call by name. There were twenty students in the class—he only knew half of his classmates by name. Typical? . . . Yes.

Can you call by name all the students in all your classes? It is doubtful. And yet, the winter quarter is almost past. At least two days a week for six months have been spent in associating with people we do not know? Is this your case. It is with many.

What can be done to remedy the situation? Notice this little plan that was suggested recently by a writer in the Auburn University paper: "Make it a point each day Democrats on the proposed tax cut. to learn the name of, and something good concerning one person each day." Do that until the school year is over, and you will be surprised Is it worth trying?

Stay Next Time

The new chapel schedule allows one to leave after the first half of chapel is over. For those who have classes elsewhere, and for those who need those "last few minutes to study for that test," the new arrangement is a definite advantage. In fact, it is an asset to all the students. It gives a few moments to relax from classes, "have a coke," and to just take a breather in general.

There have been some good programs presented recently during the second half of the chapel periods. That is what students want; and yet some do not stay to see or hear the programs that are presented.

When a group of fellow-classnates have worked diligently to prepare a program for our benefit, the least that could be given them in turn is our presence at their performances. "I need to study" . . . "I don't have time"-The programs site direction from that taken by the have been, and will be, announced before their scheduled performance, so plans can be made to attend. Before the change in the chapel pro- is our economy best served? By relievgram, everyone stayed; so why not ing the businessmen, thus giving them stay and enjoy the second portions of chapel?

Why Don't You . . .

"If winter comes, can spring be far behind?"-and, if Leap Week come, can spring holidays be far behind? We doubt it.

Now we are not going to tell you how to spend your holidays; but, we do have a suggestion that might possibly help Lipscomb as well as your high school friends.

We believe that a short visit to our high school alma maters would be profitable in several ways; we could renew old acquaintances, make new acquaintances, and interest our friends in Lipscomb.

We can spread the news of our college's assets to all the collegeinformation that only we can give may be the deciding factor that will influence someone to come that would not come otherwise.

We urge you to do your part in spreadyour high school friends during the spring nolidays. It is, at least, worth trying.

Several of you have asked why we are unable to get pictures of major news events, such as elections, into the BABBLER the week they hap-

The reason for this is that those elections are always held too late for us to meet the deadline for pictures the same week. Consequently, the picture must be presented later.

The first big fight of the present senate session has been in full swing this week as the Democrats locked horns with the GOP and a few conservative southern

The Democrats have proposed that there be a straight $20 cut for all people. The GOP, backed by Eisenhower, has Helping the President's cause are Demto find your list of friends growing. ocratic Senators Walter George of Georgia and Harry Byrd of Virginia-both members of the powerful senate finance committee, which rejected the cut in a vote last Tuesday.

> However, Earle C. Clements of Kentucky, acting majority leader, said the bill "will be carried to the senate floor and pushed as vigorously as possible.

In view of the present senate fight and the stand which the administration is taking on the matter, a few points are

(1) The present situation is somewhat in reverse to previous campaign claims. Eisenhower has promised tax cuts for the American people. So far, the only cuts have been those made by the GOP last year on income from stocks and bonds.

(2) The issue brings out a fundamental difference in the viewpoint of the administration and his Democratic opposi-Eisenhower has dubbed the cut "fiscal irresponsibility," since the government is presently trying desperately to balance the budget.

Leon Keyserling, former chief of President Truman's council of economic advisers, says, on the other hand, that lower taxes would increase consumer buying power, thus giving business the shot in the arm

This is going at it in exactly the oppoadministration last year when it cut taxes on dividends to give business the

The question, then, seems to be: how more confidence to speculate and invest, or to relieve the consumer, thus giving him more buying power to keep our economy active?

Congress Votes Pay Raise

The Congress of the United States last week exercised a privilege that few men in the world have: they voted themselves a pay raise.

The boost was from $15,000 to $22,500 a year. The bill was supported by President Eisenhower and is certain to receive

Since 1946, only 8 years ago, Congressional salaries have climbed $12,500, more than 100% increase.

Though I hesitate to suggest it, it just Member might be that the congressmen might vote a little differently on tax bills, were they not able to offset their own taxes by increased salaries.

'Burr Conspiracy' Recalls History

The Burr Conspiracy by Thomas Perkins Abernethy: $6.00-Crisman Memorial Libraray. Reviewed by George Patterson. The Burr conspiracy recounted

in this book is one of the most extraordinary schemes in history. The scheme planned by Burr involved the separation of the Western part of the United States from the East in order to unite it with Spanish territory. This would have created a new empire with

A defect appeared in the plan when one of Burr's coconspirators. James Wilkinson, Commanding General of the United States Army, turned as state's witness.

The fact of his treason in collaboration with men in high places has been a much disputed subject among historians. The author proves beyound a doubt that Burr had treasonable intentions.

Treason Accomplished

The unsettled status quo of the world in general at that time made it possible for the treason to have been easily accomplished; the plot was well matured before the President took alarm.

The character of Aaron Burr is a fascinating one, and Mr. Abernethy has portrayed that character

Abernethy is one of the most respected historians of the Revolutionary and Federal periods of American History. He has written several books. "From Frontier to Plantation in Tennessee" (published in 1932) was selected by The New York Times Book Review as "the most original work of the year in history."

Alumni Notes

by Laura Tarence Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ragland (Janet Whitehurst) '52 now live at 275 Lindsay St., Aloca, Tenn. Charles will receive the M.A. degree from the Univ. of Tenn. on March 19, and afterward will take a position with General Electric, Knoll's Atomic Laboratory in Schenectady, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wade Daniel '36, formerly of Shelbyville, Tenn. are now living at 4335 Morriswood Drive, Nashville. Mr. Daniel is a teacher at Andrew Jackson Elementary School.

Larry Williams '39, of Williams Printing Co., Nashville, has been named on the board of directors of Printing Industry of Nashville for 1955.

Murray Rader '54, was married Nashville on Jan. 21 to Miss Virginia Nolen. Murray is connected with the post office in Franklin. Ruth Hayes x '52, and Thomas is stationed at Fort Bliss, Texas with the United States army. Jesse J. Rader x '53, and Mrs. Rader of 302 South 15th St., Nashville, are the parents of a little girl. Glena Sue, born on Feb. 4. Mr. and Mrs. William B. Batson. Jr. '52 of 512 South 12th Street. Nashville, are the parents of a girl, Matilda Ann, born on Feb. 7.

E.S.B.A.S.

THE BABBLER Entered as second-class matter, December 26, 1923, at the post office, Nashville, Tenn., under the act of March 3, 1897.

Accepted for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, on his life.) 1916; authorized, Nashville, Tenn.

Published weekly during the regular school year except during nolidays or examination periods by students of DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE, Nashville, Tenn.

Office located on second floor Crisman Memorial Library.

Associated Collegiate Press Peggie Herron ... Editor-in-Chief Paul Rogers .. Business Manager Willard Collins ... Faculty Advisor

DAY by DAY

For those who haven't noticed—this quarter is rapidly drawing to a close. Just two more weeks and you'll be able to catch up on your sleep, lie in the Florida sun, or do anything else your little heart desires. Then, of course there are those who are going to do all their research papers for next quarter—hardy souls.

Coach Sherrill was noticing the increased length of Gary Colson's hair. "Boy, you need a haircut," he exclaimed. "Can't get one now," was the answer. "I'm flat broke." "Well, you've got a girl friend haven't you?" asked the Coach. "Yes, but she can't cut hair." responded

Bill Jarrett was moaning over his sorely-wounded finger that he had nicked while shaving. Now you must admit that boys like Bill are few and far between. How many others do you know that have to shave their

No reflection intended on Jennings Davis but it was during his psychology class that David Thomas went sound asleep. He went so sound asleep that the bell rang signalling the end of the period, the whole class marched out, and the next class came in-and David slept on. In fact, we don't know if he's awake yet or not.

The Footlighters have been trying to keep this a secret, but we feel that the time has come to let it out. Tonight there is going to be a play and the name of it is "All My Sons" and they say it's going to be extra good. Seriously, this production promises to be one of the greatest ever on the boards at Lipscomb. Why don't you come out tonight or tomorrow night, if for no other reason than to see the home-made tree.

Speaking of productions, the Junior Class had one last weekend. Bet you didn't know that either. That show is the reason that Ed Smith has so many grey hairs now. First Boone was coming, then he wasn't coming, then he was coming late and then it all started over again. At any rate at ten after nine, Boone's car and its police escort screeched to a halt outside Alumni Auditorium. Ed dashed frantically to meet him. Whereupon, Pat jumped out of the car, ran to Ed and said, "Say, want to see a picture of my baby." To put it mildly, Ed said no.

It was the night of this Junior Spotlight that a man came up to Jim Blevins and JoAnn Bingham, who were selling tickets, bought two, strolled inside, then immediately reappeared. "Would you please give me my money back," he pled. "I thought I was in the gym and going to see the ball game."

Johnny Burns has had his share of ball games this season. That bandage over his eye has something to do with it. You see, it was at the ball game that he saw a little boy trying to slip in. Since it was his duty to prevent such, he went over to say a word to the boy. Whereupon the little angel whopped him in the head with a board. That's gratitude for you.

There has been one casualty reported from Leap Week. Jo-Jo Brazil was fed poisoned hamburger meat by Mary Cornelia Sparkman. We have no idea what the motive could be, but we ask you, was that quite sporting,

Spring may not be here officially, but as far as Sue Young is concerned, it is. She is now the proud possessor of the somewhat dubious title of "First Girl to be Sunburned This Quarter."

Wilma Armstrong was on duty in the dormitory when Ann Allbritton received a phone call. Since Ann was not in her room and it was time for supper, Wilma assumed that Ann was in the cafeteria and advised the caller to try to reach her there. No sooner had the caller hung up, than Ann came running in, "I was told I had a phone call." Wilma told her that the call was being made to the cafeteria, so Ann dashed back over. Just as she disappeared out the door, the phone rang again. It was the same person saying that he had been told that Ann had come back to the dorm. Wilma told him that she had just gone back to the cafeteria, so he decided to call there again. And here came Ann back, and here went the whole thing over again. Guess we'll always wonder if she ever got that call.

It was on the Men's Glee Club trip to McMinnville that Jerry Henderson got involved in an auction. At one of the schools where they performed, there was an auction of cakes, cookies and pies under way. Our friend stepped up to ask what the highest bid was. "A dollar-fifty?" queried Jerry. "Yeah" was the reply. "Oh, a dollarsixty?" he continued. Same answer. This went on until Jerry had the price to two dollars, bidding against no one but himself. Hope he was able to get at least one piece after the mob he was traveling with finished. .

Living Religion

(Jimmy Lee attended Lipscomb from '48-'50. He lives in Sparta, Tenn., where he is employed by his father. He is active in church activities and often preaches in

This poem indicated the quality of Jimmy's devotion and hope and reflects the influence Lipscomb has had

What wonderful words from my tongue could fall, To tell of that country fairer than all Of those buildings eternal in Heaven above, That's blessed for the faithful by God's dear love.

Those beautiful mansions that Jesus has told. 'Tis the sweetest, the dearest words to unfold He went to prepare us a place in that land, In the city foursquare on a far away strand.

That street in that city is paved with pure gold, Transparent as glass it's so great to behold. And the Heaven of God hath no need of the sun, For the glory of God sheds His light on each one.

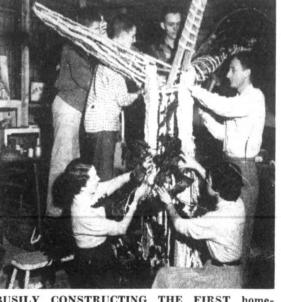

'All My Sons' Crowns Footlighters' Efforts Tonight, Tomorrow

AR PHASE OF PRODUCTION gets oriented by Mike McCrickard, Beverly Youree, Nancy Douglas, Mary Sparkman, and Dale Brown. Advertising for this production is the most extensive ever carried on by the Footlighters.

In addition to radio and television advertising, the Footlighters made and erected innumerable signs in conspicuous places throughout the campus and community. For the first time in recorded history, the club also bought an eight inch ad in the BABBLER. As one club member commented, "This play had better be a success, Dale is spending money like

BUSILY CONSTRUCTING THE FIRST homemade tree ever to appear on the Lipscomb stage are from left: Gilbert Hunter, Nila Jo Garmon, Roger Flannery, Robert Tucker, Miarian Johnson and Linville Hanback. Tonight's play also features several other firsts, including an ad in this

Production one of Biggest Ever Presented At Lipscomb

By Cornelia Turman

When "All My Sons" is presented tonight and tomorrow night, the climax of hard work that began over a month ago will be

To those of the audience, the behind-the-scenes account of the production of a play is usually never known. The audience sees the actual presentation, which is what the actors, stage crews and publicity directors have been working toward for so long.

Today the BABBLER is taking you from the actual beginning of the play to the end of it-when you will see "All My Sons" become a reality.

'Most Difficult'

The Footlighters, under the direction of President Jim Blevins, have undertaken the production

Review in Reverse:

Tucker. His assistant was Linville Hanback. The setting of the play is the backyard of the Keller home on the outskirts of an American town. This is the first outdoor set of this type that has

of this play with the knowledge that it would be the most difficult set and also the most difficult play

cial expenditure of the year.

Many Hours Go into Production

that thousands of hours of work

this play. The Footlighters with many hours working at one job or

The technical director of the set construction was Ronald

Juniors Present 'Hep Show' Featuring 'The Most' and Pat

By Sonia Riley

Saturday night and a crowd of approximately one thousand listened while two rather nervous emcees advanced their calculated "sneak attacks."

With a flourish of swishing curtains and applause, three plaidclad youngsters entered to capture the hearts of the audience.

Perhaps the most appealing feature of their songs was the antics "hep" for such a small boy. The "Sisters" act brought its own brand of appeal-extracted support "our Bernie and our Nancy," and from those who will commend it because it's our talent. Looking like gauzy, little blue moths and fluttering exotic fans, Mrs. Arnold and Nancy Wyckoff gave their adaption of the song and left, to reappear later in the show.

The emcees had no monopoly on surprises (chief of these a zany audience participation hanky-wav-The stagelights dimmed at 8:20 ing act) for when the "Sisters" reappeared by popular acclaim, the curtain revealed not the blue moths, but two rather unfeminine looking caterpillars (Buddy Arnold and Charles Hailey to you) whose only resemblance to the preceding apparitions were the voices from above and the exotic

Funny Stuff

Then the curious audience was satisfied and delighted at once when The Cherokee sat down to an enraged plano and literally beat out a noisy "Hey Ho Lena," complete with an audience responsive chorus. As the emcees phrased it. mainly from those who always for those who are blues and rhythm mad, "he's the most."

At length the local hero walked in, with his flashing "I love-all-you-wonderfulpeople" smile, a humbly-bent head and a hesitant, modest speech, which brought tears to the eyes of those who "remembered when" and worried about the future of "our boy."

to present that they have tried. This has been their largest finan-It is not an exaggeration to say have gone into the production of some 40 members have all spent of the entire production.

rection of Beverly Youree.

was made by George Brazil glance the ticket salesmen could tell which seats had been sold.

row afternoon at 4 o'clock.

been used on a Lipscomb It consists of two houses and two trees that had to be constructed. Roy Rutan, technical director for Community Playhouse here Nashville, has helped with the Roy Davis is in charge of the lighting, music and sound for the play. Denny Loyd and Nila Jo Garmon are in charge of properties and Al Smith is the stage manager. The house manager is Rebecca Williams. Nancy Wyckoff and Bobbye Lou Menefee are the make-up artists. Marian Johnson is costume chairman. Mary Cornelia Sparkman has served as student director with Nancy Douglas as her assistant. Dale Brown was the director

Don Garner, who is now stationed in Honolulu, Hawaii, has helped with the play by sending 10 pages of production notes. Dr. Stanley Moody, of the George Peabody College English department, gave a critique of the play on Tuesday night of this

Advertizing Campaign Grows

The largest advertising campaign in the history of the Footlighters has been under the di-

With the help of many, 1200 printed announcements of the play were mailed to all alumni, faculty members and people listed in the church directories in this area. New silk screen posters and a new billboard for the student center were made by Mike McCrickard. New lobby displays were also

A ticket board with a slot for each seat in the lower section of Alumni Auditorium and Dick Batey. The reserve tickets were put in these slots and thus at a

The play was advertized on Noel Ball's "Eight Ball Show," on television and will also be on the TV show "Play the Game" tomor-

been sent to the Banner, Tennes-

Letters have been written to all high school dramatics teachers in

Davidson County. Complimentary

sean, and the Good News Weekly. An ad appeared in today's BAB-BLER. This is the first time that an ad of this type has been used.

tickets have been given to the drama critics here in Nashville.

The Story of the Play "Blazing emotionalism" are the words which John Mason Brown, staff writer of The Saturday Review of Literature, used to describe Arthur Miller's "All My

When the play first opens, the characters seem to be fairly relaxed. It is a Sunday morning in 1947 in the backyard of Joe and Kate Keller's home in a Midwestern town. At the beginning, the Kellers appear to be a happy family, though living on a hope that their son Larry, who has been missing in action for three years,

Gives 'True' Picture

Little by little, however, the play unfolds to the true picture of the Kellers. Chris, the son who returned from the war, knows what it means to see men die.

The fact that his father and their next-door neighbor, Herbert Deever, were partners in a business that sold a shipment of cracked cylinder heads for airplanes to the army, and that 21 planes crashed as a result of this, has always pressed on Chris' mind. Deever was sent to prison for the deed, but Keller was not convicted because he claimed no knowledge of the faulty engine

News releases and pictures have Children Desert Prisoner Father Ann and George Deever, the children of the convicted Herbert, have had nothing to do with their father since he was sent to prison. They both live in New York.

ALL MY SONS" WILL FEATURE these six in supporting roces tonight and tomorrow. Back row, left to right, they are Tommy Warren, Jerry Henderson, Jimmy Blevins; Middle row: Betty Prosser, Babs King. Saunders Hunt is in the center.

George has made a successful lawyer and finally decided to visit his father after three years. After seeing him, he learns some startling news and goes to the Keller home to tell his sister Ann, who had gone there to visit the Kellers. After George arrives the action of the play begins to pick up and Chris begins to believe his sus-

The play is emotion-packed from start to finish and the audience will be able to feel the impact before it ends. The Footlighter cast does an outstanding job of portraying the various characters of the play. Kate, played by Wilmoth Killebrew, is a nervous woman in her early fifties. At times she seems to be bordering on hysteria because of her belief that Larry is alive. Joe, portrayed by George Brazil, is in his late fifties. He likes to show his authority and tries to make Chris into a man that he doesn't want to be.

Chris, played by Bob Hamlin, is 32, and a man of immense affection and loyalty. His emotions are reflected in the reaction of his His girl friend, Ann Deever, is played by Levada Gossett. She is a beautiful girl of 26. She was Larry's flancee before he was Dr. and Mrs. Jim Bayliss live on one side of the Kellers and Frank Lubey live on the other. They are played by Tom Warren

Betty Prosser, Babs King and Jerry Henderson, respectively. Jim Blevin plays the part of By Morrison George Deever, who tries to clear his father after deserting him for > three years. The little neighbor boy Bert, who wants to be a policeman when he grows up, is played by Sanders Hunt, son of Mr. and Mrs.

About the Author

Arthur Miller wrote "All My Sons" when he was 31. Since that time he has given to the stage "Death of a salesman," and "The Crucible." He has also written a powerful novel about anti-Semitism called "Focus." After "All My Sons," which was his first good play, he was called "one of the few post-war playwrights whose next work will be waited for with eager antici-

NOW THAT I HAVE

senior

senior junior junior

junior

iunior

junior sophomore sophomore

freshman

freshman

freshman

freshman

freshman

freshman

We've heard that you can tell when Spring comes by the number of baseballs flying through the air. If this is true, then pring has surely come to the Lipscomb campus. From Onion ell to the lawn in front of Alumni Auditorium baseball has taken over.

While the Varsity drills in the Dell, other college boys can be seen tossing the horsehide over by Elam Hall.

Coach Elvis Sherrill cannot help but glow a little over the prospects for the coming season. Sherrill has five regulars plus the four top pitchers returning from last year's squad which won eight and lost four.

The Bisons appear strongest in the outfield as the hard-hitting trio of Ken Dugan (.351), Eugene Kidwell (.321), and Carl Walker (.292) return to roam the onion-scented pastures.

Pitching could be another Bison strongpoint. Gary Colson (2-0), Walter Glass (1-0), Archie Crenshaw (4-2), and Tom McMahon (1-2) are busily limbering up their throwing arms in anticipation of a winning season.

Crenshaw was the workhorse of last year's team, pitching in eight games and leading in strike-outs with 36. He was a good hitting pitcher also, with a .389 aver-

All four of these hurlers were bothered last season by lack of experience; Crenshaw, Glass, and McMahon being freshmen and Colson a sophomore. With a year of college baseball behind them, these four should give the Herd a more consistent and dependable pitching corps this spring.

In the infield Coach Sherrill must find replacements for shortstop James Smith and first baseman Jack Fugua, both lost by graduation.

McMahon will probably take over first when he is not pitching, but shortstop appears a wide-open position.

A good bet may be that Ronnie Morrell, regular third baseman, or Wayne Wright, regular second-sacker will be shifted to the key spot with a new-comer taking over second or third. Or maybe a young freshman will shine so brilliantly in practice he and not a letterman will step into Capt. Smith's shoes.

Catcher Is Question

The biggest question mark of the sqaud is found at catcher without the services of both regular Roy Sims and rserve Bill Long. Several "greenies" are bidding for the chance to fill the gap; but again the shift of a letterman may solve the problem.

This week the Bisons have spent most of their time at running, exercising, and pepper games with the pitchers throwing a few at one-half and three-fourths speed.

Next week, Coach Sherrill promises that the squad will concentrate on batting and fundamentals.

A couple of practice games are planned for Exam week to test the team strength before some members depart for the spring holidays.

Over in McQuiddy they may have "saved the best for the last" as the intramural teams hold the final basketball tourney of the year.

SPORT SPOTS McCrickard

32 Prospects Take to Diamond

Lipscomb's baseballing Bicall to the diamond.

iors, five juniors, eight sophs, 17 freshmen. Nine are returning lettermen.

the season schedule follow:

E.S.B.A.S.

WOMEN WANTED - Temporary, six Jimmy Jenkins months. Mail postcards. Good handwriting or typewriter. Box 47. Water-

Patronize

THE LIPSCOMB

LAUNDRY

Alloway

BROS. COMPANY

TURRENTINE REALTY

COMPANY

2915 Nelensville Road

Sales—Insurance—Loans

Phone 42-2651

FITTS

&

CRAWFORD

FLOWERS

2816 West End Ave.

7-5946

McKay-Cameron

Headquarters

CHINA, GLASS, SILVER

Distinctive Clothes for Men

of Discriminating Taste

Sixth at Union

6-0427

212 3rd Ave., N.

Eggs Poultry

LANDON'S Your Neighborhood HARDWARE .

Meats

April 25 Monday April 29 Friday April 30 Saturday May 7 Saturday May 10 Tuesday May 12 Thursday May 14 Saturday May 16 Monday

Middle Tennessee State Belmont College Western Kentucky Austin Peay State Peabody College Belmont College Union University Austin Peay State

Murray Nashville Murfreesboro Bowling Green Nashville Cookeville Nashville (A) Nashville Nashville Nashville Nashville (H) Nashville Clarksville

Jackson

Nashville (H)

Home Saturday games start at 2:00 p.m. All other games begin Night game. Time 7:30 p.m.

March 4-5

'ALL MY SONS'

8:15 P.M. ALUMNI AUDITORIUM

Gossett

PLAN YOUR LIFE SECURITY WITH

Bring a Student'

The Babbler

Vol. XXXIV

In the final election of the quarter June Bolt. Gloria

and Mary Margaret Grounds

were chosen as Maids of Honor for the May Queen this

The Guards of Honor, who were elected by the student body along with the Maids, are Keith Ericson, Charles

Otis Gatewood

Meeting April 3-10

Otis Gatewood will begin the annual spring meeting with the College Church of Christ on April

There will be four services each

the High School auditorium,

a.m. in Alumni Auditorium,

day: 7 a.m. in the auditorium of the local church building, 9 a.m.

and 7:30 p.m. in the church auditorium. The meeting will con-

Gatewood received the B.A. de-

He has been influential in establishing for the first time congregations in Eunice and Las Vegas.

New Mexico; Salt Lake City, Utah;

Holland: and Frankfurt, Ger-

any church to enter Germany after

World War II, he worked there

Now in the United States in the interest of the work in Germany, he plans to return to Germany in the summer of Gatewood has flown the equivalent of four times around the world speaking in behalf of mis-

He has visited 18 foreign nations and the United States in the interest of spreading the gospel, and has written articles on most of these nations showing the possibilities of starting the church in

One of the first missionaries of

gree from Abilene Christian Col-

George Pepperdine College.

tinue through April 10.

from 1947 to 1952.

Bob Sivley.

Honor Guards, Maids Elected '56 Artist Series Features Four Prominent Entertainers For May Queen Attendants Vice-President Willard Collins, He is well-known for his portrayal

as director of the Lipscomb Artist of Abraham Lincoln Series, recently announced the program schedule for the 1955-56

18, 1955, with the appearance of Henry Hull, famous star of stage and screen.

presented in a concert.

April, with a lecture by Edward Weeks, renowned editor of the Atlantic Monthly. These programs were planned upon the recommendation of the faculty committee on Artist Series attractions. Howard White is chairman of the committee.

"Man Who Came and many others.

Pre-Registration Set for Tuesday

According to Ralph R. Bryant, Registrar, students may now secure pre-registration material from his office and make plans to register on Tuesday.

By Tuesday each student who plans to pre-register should have his name on each teacher's class roll. Faculty brary reading room from 8:00

Hines is Metropolitan Opera Star The series will begin October

On November 29, Jerome Hines, singing star of the Firestone Hour of radio and TV, will make his

In early February, Nelson and

Neal, unique duo-pianists will be The series will be concluded in

"Great Expectations," "Fountainhead," and "Werewolf of London."

Final registration will take place Mar. 28, the Monday immediately following Spring Holidays. The time is set from 9:30 to

Jerome Hines is a noted singer of opera. He began his career in Brannam. Joanne Edmondson, 1940 with the Civic Light Opera Company of Los Angeles. Since then he has performed with several different companies and twice has appeared in the Hollywood Bowl as a soloist. In 1946 he becane associated with the Metropoli an Opera Company,

The team of Nelson and Neal (Mr. and Mrs. Harry Neal of Paris, Tennessee) will bring a recital of two-piano music. They presented a weekly television show from Philadelphia for over

To Hold Spring During 1950, their first year of touring after leaving TV, they made over 150 appearances. These included duo and solo recitals in America and Australia. They record for Artist Records.

Weeks' Lecture 'Creed for Americans'

The title of Mr. Week's lecture is "A Creed for Americans" (or 'A Country to Build With").

In this lecture he combines his first hand knowledge of American life with his years of literary experience as critic and author. The result is an outstanding evaluation of this nation's strength and weakness. He stresses the humor, kindliness, and courage of the American people

Weeks edits Atlantic Monthly.

Weeks has been associated with the Atlantic Monthly for more than a quarter of a century and has been editorin-chief since 1938. He began as a manuscript reader and book salesman for Horace Liverwright, Inc., in 1923. Since then he has become a noted writer and lecturer.

He has appeared in New York's Town Hall more than twenty times and twelve times in Columbia University's McMillan Theatre. He is a frequent contributor to leading periodicals.

This schedule will mark the tenth year of the Lipscomb Artist series. The programs have been planned to offer variety and cultural emphasis for the students.

Junior Class Presents 'Arsenic'

High School Notes

The high school juniors will present "Arsenic and Old Lace" Friday, April 1, in Alumni Audi-

The popular three act comedy by Joseph Kesselring is being directed by Mrs. Joy Binkley.

Two of the leading roles, Abbey Brewster and Martha Brewster, will be played by Linda Gail Russell and Betty Doak, respectively. To Host Student Councils

David Lipscomb High School will be host to the Tennessee Association of Student Councils April 15-16, when the annual conven-

Ridge, is president of the Association, and Dot Horn, from Lipscomb is secretary. Dr. W. K. McCharen from Peabody is state coordinator.

Each school that is a member of the Association will send two representatives and a sponsor to the Convention. Activities will begin Friday night with a banquet and a program. Saturday's session will include meeting of various discus-When they first began, it was sion groups. The theme for this entirely for pleasure and pastime year is "America's Freedom Ours

C., and is majoring in general Hailey of Nashville. A history business. She is active in the major, he was captain of the tenvarious intranural events on the nis team last year and played the rrom Clarksville, Miss Brannam was also elected homecoming attendant earlier in the quarter She is studying elementary education and is a former secretary of the FTA. For four consecutive years she has been in the Choris-

Hailey, Phillip Morrison and Runner up for Miss Lipscomb Miss Edmondson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Edmondson of Nashville. Last quarter she was selected to appear in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Miss Grounds, who also will be listed in Who's Who, is from Wheeling, W. Va. She is taking a liberal arts cur-

Former president of the junior class, Ericson is currently the representative to the Student Board from Elam Hall. He is from Wierton, W. Va. Ericson is to appear in Who's Who

Hailey Runs L Club Hailey, president of the L Club,

Student Body last year. He preaches regularly for the Corinth Church of Christ at Mt. Juliet, Tenn. He too, was selected for Senior class president, Siv-ley is a psychology major from Chattanooga. Last year he was Most Representative Junior and editor of the BAB-BLER. He was runner up in in the recent election for Bachelor of Ugliness. Sivley will be listed in Who's Who this year.

From Old Hickory, Morrison was runner up for president of the

This election was held last Wednesday after Chapel. The four girls and the four boys with the highest number of votes were chosen, and no run-off ballot was necessary. All of the students are Also petitioned for Maids of Honor were Frances Swan, Frances Gaither, Ann Derseweh, Ada Elliott, Katherine Sneed.

A BABBLER Editorial . . .

lege and the M.A. degree from 'Alma Mater or Bust!'

We started out last fall without an Alma Mater and we are still without one. Even after all the hullabaloo at the basketball games. nothing definite has been done toward adopting an Alma Mater.

Not that we're in favor of the one pushed upon us at last winter's ball games. It seems to us that we should have an "either or" opportunity, rather than a "this is it" proposition.

Why not have several Alma Mater compositions presented and let the students choose the one they want, rather than have one only adopted signally and played as if it had already been selected.

"Well, so what?" You say, "I like that one-" Probably you dowe like it too, but we'd think twice before we'd vote it in as the permanent Alma Mater. Does it really say what you want it to say, or has the playing of it over and over merely lulled you into thinking you like it because it is familiar? This isn't to discredit the words or music of the "proposed Alma Mater," but since it is fairly serious business, we didn't want anybody (least of all, you) to walk into it without stopping to think.

Yes, let's vote, but let's make sure we're voting the way we really want to vote.

Alumni Notes

by Laura Tarence Mr. and Mrs. Lee Marsh, Jr.

parents of a son, Stephen Lee, born in Lebanon, Tenn. on Feb. 28. The Marshes live at 4925 Stillwood Dr., Nashville. Mrs. Shirley Russell (Juanita Baker) '41 and Mr. Russell are the parents of a son, Gary Martin, born in Nashville on Feb. 25. They live at 2133 Blakemore Ave. Curtis Meri-

He is from Curtis Meridith Hazlehurst,

The U. S. Naval School, Officer Candidate graduated its 19th class of Reserve Officers Friday at ceremonies held at the U. S. Naval Station The-

The Honorable Albert Pratt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy for Personnel and Reserve Forces was sented the Honor Students with their commissions.

ner) '43 is now living at Florida non, Tenn. on Jan. 27.

News Briefs . . .

Whitfield Speaks

votional Moments," the last week in February will also speak on this program the last week in Dr. Carroll Ellis will speak at

The Choristers are to present a

Dr. Ira North will hold the meeting Mar. 20-27 at the church in Washington, D. C., where A. R. Holton is minis-

Dean J. P. Sanders and Vicepresident Willard Collins visited Freed-Hardeman College Wednesday. Dean Sanders spoke at the Christian College, Temple Terrace, Tampa, Florida. Mrs. Meier is a designer of greeting cards for Gibson Art Co.

'53 are the parents of a little girl. Teresa Lin, born on Nov. 20. The the principal speaker, and pre- Highs are now living in Nashville. Mr. and Mrs. James E. Hicks (Tish Ann Eskew) '47 have a baby Mrs. Jack Meier (Geneva Bon- girl, Lucinda Kay, born in Leba-

16 Games on Slate

The Bisons have a full month of practice between now and their first regular season game April 4. Then the Herd starts an ambitious 16-game slate, including eight contests against VSAC com-

Bob Phillips

Charles Newsom Carl Walker* Ronnie Morrell* Gary Colson* Ronald Joyce Snookie Lusk Archie Crenshaw⁴ Eugene Kidwell Walter Glass* limmy Nash Lowell Hayman Herman Montgomery William Gibson Tom Pate

Wayne Wright*

2nd base pitcher outfield, 1st base 3rd base pitcher outfield pitcher pitcher outfield outfield 1st base, pitcher pitcher, outfield outfield 3rd base catcher catcher catcher catcher pitcher pitcher outfield, catche

Position

sophomore sophomore outfield, pitcher freshman sophomore sophomore sophomore sophomore freshman freshman freshman freshman freshman freshman freshman freshman freshman freshman

Duo-pianists to be presented

Mr. Hull's program, "An Evening with Mark Twain," promises to afford a wealth of dramatic entertainment. He has been an actor since 1911, and has appeared in such outstanding dramas as "Tobacco Back," "Cat and Canary,"

His motion pictures include members will be in the Lito 12:00 on Tuesday for this

Just four Guys . . .

Keynotes 'Stick Close'

In Fast Climb to Top

JUST FOUR GUYS with plenty of smooth harmony are the Keynotes from left to right: Lucien Anderson, Ray Flannery, John Fisk, and Doug

by Joyce Wright "We're just four guys who like to sing anywhere people will listen," say the Keynotes, the popular quartet whom we all know in

nery, Doug Taylor, and Lucien singing career together during their freshman year and this quarter Lucien has joined the up-andcoming group. real life as John Fisk, Ray Flan-

(Continued on page 3)

tion is held. John Reader, from Oak

John, Ray, and Doug began their

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Marsh, Jr.
(Ann Moss) x'51 and x'50 are On TV in April Dr. Thomas Whitfield who spoke on the WSM-TV program "De-

> April and the last week in June. the Alabama Christian College Lectureship in Montgomery on program at Gainsboro, Tenn., Lipscomb last Tues., Mar. 29. June with a B.A. in chemistry, is included among the 373

The Dick Highs (Pat Franklin)

sons held their first practice Name Monday with 32 candidates answering Coach Sherrill's The roster includes two sen-

The present Bison roster and

Bobby Daniel Larry Chunn Roger Villines James Prvor Arthur Gardne David Woody Jerry Brannon Bill Camp

outfield outfield outfield shortstor shortston shortston 2nd base 2nd base 2nd base 1st base

April 4 Monday Union University April 8 Friday Peabody College April 9 Saturday Murray State April 12 Tuesday Tennessee Tech April 14 Thursday April 19 Tuesday Western Kentucky April 21 Thursday Murray State April 22 Friday Tennessee Tech

Middle Tennessee State Nashville

Blevins was outstanding. He

Deever, completely and although on stage only a few minutes, made

Tommy Warren was the likeable young doctor Jim next door, who was very kind and sweet to the Kellers. Betty Prosser, playing the role of his wife Sue, was a bossy woman who seemed at time to get too much of a glamour girl voice into her role of ordinary housewife. However, she was very much the wife who kept her hus-

Babs King was a "natural" for the role as the always smiling,

happy-go-lucky, girl next door.

She was a sweet girl and liked being married to plain old Frank,

the dumb-acting man who believed in the stars. This part was

The little boy Bert, played by

Sanders Hunt, added the important role to the play that proved that "all the boys and girls liked

Special mention should be made of the set and the lighting and played by Jerry Henderson.

band under control

King was 'Natural'

ESBAS is you ...

It takes a lot of unity to get a job done well. It takes a lot of work, a lot of effort, a lot of planning and a heap of ingenuity. It takes a mass of people who know how to strive toward one common goal and who are convinced that their endeavors are worthwhile.

The E.S.B.A.S. signs that you have seen scattered in every nook and crevice of the campus are indicative of the kind of work we are talking about.

In a sense the signs are out to present an active challenge. They are there to say to the Student Body, "A big campaign has been launched around here, and that means everybody has to cooperate.

EVERY STUDENT BRING A STU-DENT! Impossible, you say? Other schools sponsor similar drives that are tremendous successes. Other schools raise their enrollment figures every year. Other schools make no claim of such an impossibility. And so why not Lipcomb?

If everybody here took the words of this slogan literally and followed the advice given, a lot of new buildings would show signs of construction within a few months: there would be more than 1600 people in school next year, and there would be a more unified spirit among the students because everybody co-

EVERY STUDENT BRING A STU-DENT! This means you. You can even bring two if you want to!

Let's Take a Look

Because of a lack of time, being disinterested, or some other factor, many do not notice the advertisements in the BABBLER. Some, at this moment, could not tell without looking at a BABBLER over two ads that appear in our paper.

We would like to encourage you to notice the ads, the advertisers, and patronize them when at all possible. If it were not for advertisements, it would not be possible for us to have a paper.

Our advertisers are generous enough to help us through this means, so why should we not give them our business.

The stores close by are probably patronized, but are all the other stores and services noticed as well? When flowers for banquets are needed, notice the Florists listed in the paper.

Whenever the opportunity presents itself, always buy from our advertisers. In so doing, you will help them by giving them your business; you will help the paper by encouraging them to continue to advertise through the BABBLER.

Why We Assemble

If an act of duty is performed a long while, it sometimes becomes a habit with us; e.g., we attend chapel every day, and our attending has a tendency to become routine.

However, chapel service is as much a worship period as is our Sunday morning service. "For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there I am in the midst of them."

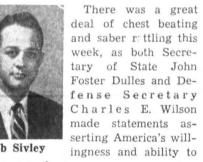

On different occasions, some students have been seen studying in chapel; if they realized the importance of chapel service they would not continue to take that time, which is set aside for worship, to do the studying they should have done the night before or could do later.

Have you Written?

Have you any complaints to report or compliments to pass along? Then why not write a letter to the editor? Do not forget that the BABBLER is your paper; in it, your ideas, speculations, and feelings may be discussed. Please sign your letters. Mark them "Editor of the BAB-BLER" and turn them in to the campusmail slot.

By Bob Sivley

fight a general war.

In a report to the nation following his tour of Asia and the Far Pacific. Dulles warned Red China that the U.S. has weapons of precision which can destroy their military centers, if they persist in their apparent purpose of invading Formosa.

From Wilson came the statement that America is far ahead of Russia in the development of nuclear weapons. He said that Russia had not exploded a hydrogen bomb anywhere near the size of those of the U.S., and that the newly disclosed U-bomb, possessed by this country, is more terrible than the H-

This means that V. M. Molotov, the Soviet's Foreign Minister, and Wilson, have now contradicted each other directly, since Molotov recently asserted the U.S.S.R.'s superiority in atomic

Contrast with Eden

The provocative statements above—designed either to scare the Communists or build up the U.S.'s courage-may be compared with statements from Anthony Eden during the same week. He said he was still trying to get a conference or other discussion with Red China on the Formosa situation

Here the efforts of the British Foreign Secretary may be contrasted with those of the U.S.'s leaders, and these opposing efforts have been characteristic of the policies of the two countries. While statement after statement has come from Washington about "agonizing reappraisal," and "massive retaliation," the British have sought more conferences and discussions to try to settle differences peacefully

Churchill summed up the matter several months ago when he visited this country and was asked by an American newsman whether or not talking with the Communists were merely "jaw-jawing." Churchill's answer: "I'd rather jaw-jaw as to war-war."

As long as both sides propagandize the world with the story of their great military power, rather than seeking understanding through open discussion, little chance for a peaceful future exists.

THE BABBLER

Entered as second-class matter, December 26, 1923, at the post office, Nashville, Tenn., under the Act of March 3, 1897. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103. Act of October 3, 1916; authorized, Nashville, Tenn.

Published weekly during the regular school year except during holidays or examination periods by the students of DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE, Nash-

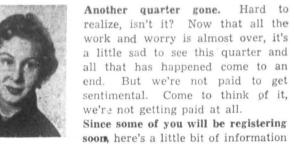

Office located on second floor Crisman Memorial Library.

> Member Associated Collegiate Press

EDITORIAL STAFF
Peggie Herron Editor-ip
Mary Lou Carter Associate
George Patterson Editorial
Cornelia Turman Feature L.

Matthew Morrison
BUSINESS STAFF
Paul Rogers Business Manager
Benny NelmsCirculation Manager
ADVISORY STAFF
TENTAL CANAL TO A TAKE A TAKE

DAY by DAY

for you. There is a new catalogue coming out within the next week and it might be a good idea for you to look into it before ers at the airport last quarter in deciding what courses you will take. Now just because it is listed as a humor article in the "Tower" shouldn't disturb you. Listed are such fascinating courses as Latin Fundamentals and Comparative Anatomy with a short description of the subject matter. Grab the first

Someone is being witty again. Have you noticed the signs on the newly planted grass by Johnson. You haven't? Well, here's a sample: "Go away. I'd rather be a-lawn." Clever, no? Run by and look at the others yourself. And in case you don't get the message, it's STAY OFF THE GRASS.

The food must have been extra horrible that day. Uncomplaining Hope Camp struggled through the meal then mumbled, "This is so bad even the disposal unit will have ulcers." That may be exaggerating the situation just a little, don't you think, Hope?

It isn't a woman's world and Betsy Gately will testify to that. One night she came in exclaiming over the nice new young man she had met. But her gaiety was shortlived, for someone broke the sad news to her that this nice young man was married. "Oh no! All my being nice has gone to waste. That's the most frustrating thing!" she moaned. Let's look into these things a little more carefully. Betsy.

Sound familiar? Of course, the "secret" is out now, but there was a time when everyone didn't know. Caldonia went to Miss Gooch and asked, "Will you please tell me what that Spanish word that's all over the campus means?" That's what is known as intellectual

Have you heard about George Brazil's operation? If you haven't, you are most unusual. He's charging a hearsal on Monday. In those days a quarter a look at the scar.

We don't know who the popular boy was, but we do know that one phone booth in Johnson Hall was pretty full one night. Lee Medford, Gay Barnes, Sidney Maddux, and Carol Burt were all crowded into the tight confines of one of Bell Telephone Company's non-portable walkie-talkies. Must be a shortage on telephonesor something.

A Little Wider Please

Charles Hailey and Keith Ericson had squired Billie Joyce Howell, Ann Sitter, Gloria Brannam, Ada Elliot, and Ruth Behel out to have some pizza pie. They were on the way back and Keith was explaining the mechanical marvels of Hailey's car. "And here is the button to widen the back seat," teased Keith. Ada carried on the joke with "Oh, we've already widened one side. Let's do the other side now." Innocently and in all seriousness. Ruth said, "Do we really want to?" That's all right, Ruth. We understand.

Looks as if this is all, folks-for this quarter at any rate Go home and "make yourself comfortable" and, if we may be serious for just a moment, please drive carefully. After all—we simply cannot afford to lose any readers because, as someone once said (an ancient Chinese proverb, we think) you can't hardly get them no more these days. Have a wonderful vacation. Bye

Fave Kinzer and Pat Pinckley were busy working on the set for "All My Sons" when Dale Brown asked them to go pick up some props that were needed right away. Taking his car keys, the two rushed away. It was not until they had reached the circle that they realized neither of them knew what Brown's car looked like. So what did they do? The logical thing-tried the key in every car on the circle until they came to the one it fit. That's why they would have driven away in Keith Ericson's car had not Dale caught they in time.

Wayne Tincher is doing his bit to keep up morale in Elam Hall. Seems he brought back a box of rathershall we say-spirited candy. Better keep an eye out for them revenoors, Wayne-and how do you spike candy anyhow?

Boys, have you ever wondered what the subject of conversation is when a group of girls gets together behind closed doors? Here's a typical case. About twenty of the fairer sex were gathered in the Pat Seaver's room listening to Timber expound on the nerve of him and his affairs of the heart. The male in this case being an alley cat to be used in a biology test the next day. Did we say this was typical?

Ralph Henley was giving his political science students a few instructions to aid them in writing their term papers. This went on and on-and on. Henley spared no details as to the size margins that were to be used, the method of footnoting, the information to be placed on the title page, etc. Finally someone asked. "Does it matter what kind of typewriter we use?" The questioner Willard Collins Faculty Advisor vowed that she asked this in all seriousness, and who are Eunice Bradley Press Club Sponsor we to say that's not true?

Dear Editor . . How 'Bout the Vote -Says Wilcox

I would like to know what happened to the alma mater that we talked about. There was an editorial written about it, as well as a letter to the editor concerning the school song.

We sang the proposed alma mater at some basketball games. pep rallies, and when we met President Pullias and Dean Sandcelebration of our being admitted to the Southern Asosciation

I had heard that we were to vote on the proposed song. When are we going to vote?

Max Wilcox

"DIXIE," a Lipscomb favorite, and "national anthem' of the south, was written by a Yankee. Homage to the song's composer comes not in the South Peggie Herron but in the little town of Mount Vernon, Ohio. Markers on the highway entrances read, "Mount Vernon corporation limit—Danie Decatur Emmett, author of 'Dixie. born and buried here.'

Emmett, a blacksmith's son of roving disposition, was a member of a minstrel band when he was ordered on a Saturday to write a "hurrah walk-around" for rewalk-around" was an act performed as a finale.

On that cold dreary Saturday in New York, Emmett picked up his violin and began work on the tune. As he looked out into the street, he involuntarily repeated the expression familiar to showmen in the wintertime: "I wish I was in Dixie Land." He had previously traveled in the South. After hours of work. he supposedly turned to his wife and asked her to name the song-she quickly spoke up, "Dixie Land."

Presented the first time on April 4, 1859, it was an immediate suc-

So says a recent newspaper article, from which we condensed the

Another reason why "honesty is the best policy"-In Hagerstown, Md., a thief who stole a suitcase out of a parked car was in for

The owner of the suitcase, a professional entertainer, said the bag contained a 10-foot, 60-pound

ORDERS IS ORDERS: A railroad agent in South Africa was reprimanded for doing things without orders from headquarters. One day his superior received this telegram: "Tiger on platform eating conductor. Wire instructions."

To think about: "There was one who thought himself above me, and he was above me until he had that thought." . . . A good speech has a good beginning and a good end, both of which are kept close together.

STUDENT BOARD NOTES

The milk vendors were mentioned again at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Student Board. They are on their way and will be installed shortly. Lights for the tennis courts were mentioned. They had previously been talked about. Ways were discussed to finance the project, though nothing is The cafeteria food was talked about and means to improve the food were It seems that music for the Student Center will not be available because the administration will not accept the Meeting time for the Board was voted to be Tuesdays after chapel. This new time will go into effect at the beginning of Spring quarter.

From BABBLERS to Bulletins . . .

March 11, 1955

Reba Says 'Maize of Mail' Gets Confusing But It's Fun is done by machine. In fact, Mrs.

Burklowe contends that she should be paid a mechanic's wages for

None of the Lipscomb officials has to bother about licking stamps.

This is done by one of the mailing room machines. The postage meter stamps and seals each let-

The postage bill is $300 each month,-and this doesn't include bulletins, publications and other writers and a graphotype, which types the special cards for the

The writing is done on five type-

all the machines she repairs.

No Stamps to Lick

second-class matter.

tabs on each of the cards.

all affairs on the campus

Mrs. Gattis Is Assistant

the Nashville Post Office.

times slow and tedious.

letters delivered to the Lipscomb campus each day. Our post office is a contract station operated by the school in cooperation with

The headache of the mailing room is the mimeograph center. This is used by the faculty and staff of Lipscomb

daily, and the process is some-

Mrs. Burklowe is hoping that

By Benny Nelms

Everyone is aware of the mad rush to the student center mailboxes each morning just after chapel, but how many realize what goes on behind the scenes, in the college post office and mailing room? Sixteen people work in this section of the Administration Building basement, and their work ranges from mailing BABBLERS to licking stamps. Mrs. Reba Burklowe, supervisor of the mailing room, explains that the workers look forward to each Friday afternoon when the time comes to fold and address the BAB-BLERS Then they gather around a the latest campus "problems" (of course, it is on a much higher level than gossip). But after all BABBLERS have been disposed of, they return to their regular work, and it is a mountain of papers and discuss work that is essential to the college activities. They are in charge of mailing the monthly bulletin, the quarterly Lipscomb Review, and the college catalogues. Their mailing files include 35,000 names which represent all 48 states and several foreign countries. Alumni. preachers, prospective students and patrons are all included on the Lipscomb mailing lists.

Mrs. Burklowe and her staff are in charge of mailing out chapel singing each week to twenty-six radio stations.

Correspond with Prospective Students

The mailing room is the center of public relations work. They maintain regular correspondence with prospective students, their parents, and school officials. Two or three girls spend their entire an electric mimeograph can be working time typing these letters. added to their equipment some-Much of the mailing room work time in the near future.

Activities of Student Board

The method of electing the king and queen of Leap Week was dis-

Mar. 1. Library fines are thought to be too high. The administration will have to discuss the idea

Music for the Student Center

first.

was discussed.

Show Accomplishments, Plans Jan. 4. Ira North, Marshall Gun- Feb. 22. The meeting was held at selman, and Charles Doris pre- Highland Crest Restaurant. sented several reasons why Lips-Ed Smith spoke on behalf of the comb should have a radio station. faculty, that the Bison Lounge be Jan. 11. A committee was appointpartitioned off for the faculty ed to investigate holding election results for the BABBLER. The Student Board presented on behalf of the student body, a cussed. fountain pen to Jamie Ussery when she resigned.

Jan. 18. The committee reported that election results will be announced officially in chapel and details will be announced in the

The Student Center will be open during high school ball games and also on Saturday nights.

A letter was written to B. C. Goodpasture thanking him for the songbooks given to Lipscomb by the Gospel Advocate Co. Jan. 25. This meeting was held at Dick Batey's home. Keith Ericson was appointed to be in charge of getting a float for the polio drive parade to be held in downtown Nashville. Dean Sanders approved the plan to open the library all day on Saturday. Plans for Leap Week were made. Feb. 1. Sewell Hall girls cannot have all night lights on Friday nights. This was decided by a unanimous decision of the welfare committee.

Feb. 8. The chapel committee decided that the second period of chapel will be optional to all stu-A committee was appointed to select judges for campus beauty finals to be held in Johnson Hall. A tea was held in connection with the finals.

A bracelet was to be given to Nancy Wyckoff when she reigned as Homecomnig Queen. Elam Hall will get one milk

Feb. 15. It was suggested that easily seen signs be put up in front of all buildings.

Keynotes . . .

(Continued from page 1) with no idea they would ever make anything out of it. Now they have their own fan club and in the past have been mistaken for the Hilltoppers. Start at Shoe Store

We might say their first public appearance was on Church Street in downtown Nashville specifically in front of Flagg Brothers Shoe Store. Anyway they were standing there singing when some guy came along and asked if they sang together all the time. They answered, "no"! Then he in turn gave them some advice—"Stick

Following this advice, Pat Boone started the ball rolling by getting them their first job singing at Falls Business College here in The Keynotes have one rec-mailing files. These cards, when inserted in the addressograph ord out entitled, "They Say" automatically address each piece released in August of last of mail and may be set to adyear. They have hopes of dress only to alumni or some other doing another one as soon as group. This is done by the use of the right song is found. Characteristic songs of the Key-

Mrs. Burklowe, who prenotes are "strictly bop." Howfers to be called just "Reba" ever they prefer snappy, rythymby her workers, claims that and-blues, and novelty tunes. First she has the best and most eftenor is sung by Lucien Anderficient working crew on the son; second tenor, Ray Flannery; baritone, Doug Taylor; and bass, She began work in this position John Fisk in June, 1949. She has a daugh-

During the past they have ter who attends Lipscomb High been winner of the East Nash-School, and she is interested in ville Talent Show and have made public appearances at various social functions such as banquets, variety shows Her assistant in the post office and some T.V. Last summer is Mrs. June Gattis. She declines they appeared in two park to even estimate the number of

> Two shows are scheduled next week at the Donelson High School and Hume-Fogg High.

Plans include . . .

Other future plans include trying for Horace Heidt Show. Another step toward success will begin with a one-half hour weekly T.V. show in the afternoon over WSIX with the early part of next quarter as the tentative date. It is to be an informal teen-age program with a soda shoppe background being one of the typical settings. The Keynotes proved their ability Tuesday evening by winning the Horace Heidt amateur

Compete Tonight

They will compete again tonight with other talent winners at

Ryman Auditorium downtown. The winner tonight will be given the opportunity to appear regularly on a national TV hook-up with Horace Heidt. "Since the winner tonight will be elected by applauseometer, we sure hope all our Lipscomb friends will be there rootin' for us," Ray Flannery remarked with a grin, as the interview ended.

Joy's Flowers 601 Church 6-4144

The National Life and

Accident Insurance Co.

NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

LOVEMAN'S

Girls, Could You Use Some Extra Pin Money?

We Could Use Some Part-time Help in Our Fashion Department

Hours: Monday 4:00-9:00 P.M .- Saturday 9:00-5:30 P.M.

Salary $10.00

Excellent Working Conditions

You May Take Advantage of the Store Discount on Your Purchases

Apply Mr. Bowman

Drama Review . . .

Hamlin Acting Outstanding In Footlighters' Production

The Footlighters presented as Among the supporting cast, Jim their winter production last weekend, "All My Sons," by Arthur dramatized his character, George Miller, under the direction of Dale Outstanding in the presentation a lasting impression. was Bob Hamlin as Chris Keller. was in character throughout the entire play and did not seem to be strained at any time. His acting in the climactic scene was so effective that the audience was stunned into silence. George Brazil as Joe Keller portrayed the business man completely, but seemed to overplay his natural role in the more dramatic Wilmoth Killebrew, as Joe's wife Kate, also had a tendency for overplaying her role, although she did a good job of changing from the nervous, hysterical mother type, to the sweet hostess. Gossett Showed Promise

Levade Gossett, playing the part of Ann Deever, made an impression as a sweet and pretty girl with talent that could be developed in a more difficult role.

WOMEN WANTED—Temporary, six months. Mail postcards. Good hand-writing or typewriter. Box 47, Water-town, Mass.

Alloway BROS. COMPANY Eggs Poultry Meats

sound effects which were constructed and supervised under the direction of Ronald Tucker and Roy Davis respectively. The last two acts were especially good when at twilight the shadows fell at exactly the right places and the sound effects at the end of the acts were just right for dramatic

6-1148

Purity Dairies

Nashville's Finest Milk

360 Murfreesboro Road

'DEER CREEK'

Wear The Best

REALE JEWELRY CO.

SPORTS WEAR

Specializing In DIAMONDS - WATCHES - FINE JEWELRY

ENGRAVING, WATCH AND JEWELRY REPAIRING Any Lipscomb Student Can Open A Charge Account! Fair Trade Items Excluded

BOB DRAPER, Class of '35 706 Church Street At Entrance to Doctors' Building

HIGH QUALITY PRINTING Books, magazines, catalogs, folders . . . anything Contact one of these Lipscomb alumni in our office:

PAUL W. MOORE, CLASS OF '38 LARRY WILLIAMS, CLASS OF '39 V. M. WHITESELL, CLASS OF '41 JAMES W. BOYD, CLASS OF '51

Williams PRINTING CO.

417 COMMERCE • NASHVILLE • TELEPHONE 6-7126 J. R. OVERALL, PRES. E. A. BERGSTROM, VICI-PRES.

CAIN-SLOAN CO.

Nashville's Own Department Store

Fifth Avenue at Church

Phone 5-4661

Rams Cop AA Crown as Intramurals

Herd... Sportlight

Though it is too early in the practice season to make a definite prediction, the Bison baseball squad is shaping up into what may be one of the best teams ever to wear the purple and gold.

Already optimistic over the return of nine lettermen, Coach Sherrill has been well pleased by the ability and hustle shown by first-year candidates.

The Bat Will Be Judge

Four of these new men, Herman Montgomery, Bill Banowski, Herbert Murphy, and Dick Adams, are waging a torrid battle for the starting catcher's berth. Each has shown similar ability and experience behind the plate, and the decision will probably be made in favor of the one who wields the heaviest Second base has become another hot spot with three freshmen, Jerry Brannon, David Woody, and Jimmy Jenkins fighting it out for the starting nod.

To answer some of the questions raised by the play of the freshmen and transfers, Sherrill planned an intra-squad scrimmage for yesterday and has another on the slate for this afternoon. These squad games should help him determine who will still be practicing next Monday, after the first "cut" of team material.

Coach's indefinite plans are to keep about four outfielders, four infielders, two catchers, and six to eight pitchers after the final "cut" which will be made later in the practice season.

Vandy May Be on Tab

One or two practice games remain on the schedule for next week, with the strong possibility that one of the Bison opponents will be Vanderbilt, the SEC powerhouse (?) from across town.

With the tournament games Tuesday and Wednesday, intramural basketball closes another successful, if at times "mixed-up," season. The division of the "A" loop into "A" and "AA" leagues has provided two groups of more evenly-matched teams and has produced more spirited competition.

The intramurals will turn next to softball, with organization of teams set for the start of the Spring quarter.

We Need a Pitcher Like This . . .

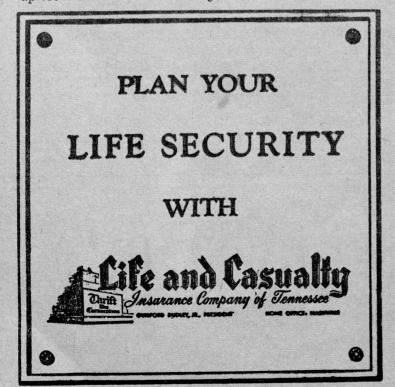

An East Tennessean once took a big-leaguer with him to look over some mountaineer prospects. They came upon a young man out in the woods, who with casual heaves would knock one squirrel after another out of the trees, each rock landing right between the eyes.

The scout enthusiastically whipped out a contract and urged the lad to sign at once. "Imagine." said the scout, "a southpaw with control. Why, son, you'll be a sensation in the majors."

"But I ain't a southpaw," the boy drawled, "I'm naturally a right-hander."

"Well, why don't you throw at 'em righthanded then," the scout wanted to know.

"Aw shucks," the lad replied, "I can't do that. Pa always gives me a beatin' when I do, 'cause I tear 'em up too much when I throw right-handed.

The Rams, paced by classy pivotman Tom Warren, took the crown in the AA division of Basketball Intramurals, as regular season play ended Tuesday night.

The Rams won six games and didn't lose a single contest in waltzing to the "Big" League title.

In the A League, Bill Camp, Don Montgomery, and Ronnie Morrell sparked the Pirates to a

Girls Play Ends

The girls' basketball intramurals ended with the last two games being played Thurs., Mar. 3, in Burton Gym.

The first game featured the KOOL KATS vs. ROCKETS. The end of the first quarter brought prospects of a tight game the score being 5-2 with the KOOL KATS leading. At half-time the margin was still running thin as the score read 7-5.

However, the KOOL KATS came back with renewed vigor and pulled further ahead with the tally reading 15-9 at the end of the third period. The final period brought a victory for the KOOL KATS, winning with a score of 26-17.

The last game was played the MOHAWKS and RAMBLERS. At the end of the first quarter, the MO-HAWKS were leading by a thin margin, 4-2. At halftime the MOHAWKS had gained twelve more points to the RAMBLERS two. making the score 16-4.

Similar gains were made in the third quarter making the score The final period ended with a decided victory for the MOHAWKS with a tally of 46-

High point honors go to Elaine Burns of the KOOL KATS with a total of 20 points, Betty Teasley and Jo Goodwin of the ROCKETS with 8 and 6 points respectively, Lafond Heflin of the MOHAWKS also 20 points, and June Bolt and Beverly Youree of the RAM-BLERS with 6 and 5 points respectively.

5-1 record that netted them the crown.

In League I of the B Circuit, the Cavaliers came through with a 5-1 record, barely edging out the Rams (4-2). Tim Black and Jon Adams gave the champions a good 1-2 punch; while Dick Adams, Bill Banowsky and Ray Crouch were the Rams' big guns.

Bucs Also Take Title

In League II of the Junior League, the Buccaneers, paced by Al Cullum, took the number one spot. They had a 5-1 record.

Freshman Herbert Murphy, of the Comets, was the top scorer in the AA League.

Herb scored 87 points in 6 games for a 14.5 average. Dick Batey, also of the Comets, pumped in 80 for a 13.3 average. Boodie Fox, Knight star, scored 76; Tom Warren, Rams, 74; J. L. McDonough, Knights, 65; and Wayne Wright, Knights, 61.

In the B League, Paul Dillingham, of the cellar-dwelling Gladiators, scored 86 in six games for a 14.3 average to top the League. Bill Camp, Pirates, scored 79; Gene Ward, Cavaliers, 63; Mick Smith, Eagles, 61; Ronnie Morrell, and Don Montgomery, Pirates, had 59 and 51 respectively.

Kimbell Tops B League

Dan Kimbell topped the League and all Leagues by pour ing in 93 points in 6 games for 15.5 average. Jackie Ray hit for 74 in 5 games and a 14.8 average. Jim Jenkins, and a 14.6 average. The delikins, Knights, hit 65, barely edging Tim Black of the Champion Cavaliers with 64. Dick Adams, Rams, and Al Cullum, Buccaneers, each had

FINAL STANDINGS (AA League)

1. Rams
2. Buccaneers
3. Comets
4. Knights

(A League) Pirates Cavaliers Eagles Gladiators

(B League)

Cavaliers Rams Eagles Comets

Bucs Knights Pirates Gladiators

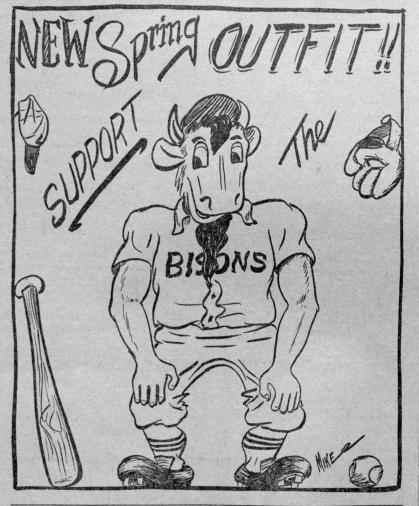

These Will Return . . .

Photo by James Clipt

BISON DIAMOND BOYS for the season include the following lettermen, from left to right, front row: Ronnie Morrell, Carl Walker. Ken Dugan, Tom McMahon; top row: Walter Glass, Gary Colson, Wayne Wright, Gene Kidwell and Archie Crenshaw.

SPORT SPOTS . . . McCrickard

One of America's really fine

coffees .

AT YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD GROCES

McKay-Cameron Co.

TURRENTINE REALTY

COMPANY 2915 Nolensville Road

Sales-Insurance-Loans

Phone 42-2651

Headquarters

6-0427

CHINA, GLASS, SILVER

212 3rd Ave., N.

FITTS & CRAWFORD

FLOWERS

2816 West End Ave. 7-5946

'MACBETH' IS SCHEDULED HERE APRIL 29, 30

Senior Play Is April 23

"Time Out for Ginger," a comedy about the complications that follow a teen-age girl's decision to go out for her high school's football team, is to be presented by the Senior class Sat., April 23 at 8:15, in Alumni Audito-

A Broadway hit that ran 44 weeks when first presented in New York, "Time Out for Ginger" revolves around a bank executive in a medium-sized town, whose home life would under any circumstances be somewhat feverish, since he has a beautiful wife and three effervescent teen-age daugh-

He begs for trouble, however, by making an incautious speech before the high school assembly about the manners of the younger generation, including a statement that none of that generation should be forced to do anything he doesn't want to do, such as girls having to take gym.

Remarks Bring Petition

Before the ink is dry on the report of his speech in the evening newspaper, his daughters are circulating a petition based on his rash remarks, and the logic of his speech forces him to acquiesce to the wild desire of his youngest daughter, Ginger, to play on the school's football team.

As a result, a photo of Ginger attired in shoulder-pads, helmet and other football equipment appears on the cover of Life magazine and also a photo of her side-(Continued on page 3)

Choristers Leave For Trip Today

The Choristers, directed by Henry Arnold, left Nashville this morning by chartered bus for a tour of Washington, D. C., and the surrounding territory.

Scheduled to arrive in Washington tomorrow afternoon, the group will sing at an alumni dinner in Arlington, Va., tomorrow night and on Sunday afternoon at the Arlington Church building. Later that day they will present programs at the 16th and Decatur and the Southeast congregations.

Monday is reserved for sightseeing in the District, and on Tuesday they will sing in Arnold's hometown, Richmond, Va.; an afternoon and evening program will be presented.

Before returning to Nashville next Friday, the Choristers may arrange for a program to be given

News Briets

The high school trio, The Melodears, will sing at an alumniprospective student meeting in Montgomery, Alabama, April 18.
Matthew Morrison and Janavee McDoniel will also speak at this

The Men's Glee Club is scheduled to sing at an alumni-prospective student meeting at Mars Hill Bible School, Florence, Alabama,

THE BUILT Cast Headed By Ashley Shakespeare's "Macbeth" will be presented here by the junior class April 29 and 30.

David Lipscomb College, Nashville 4, Tenn., April 1, 1955

Ray Walker Places In Talent Contest

For the second consecutive year Ray Walker, Lipscomb's star bass soloist, won third place in the annual East High Men's Club Talent

The show was staged in the East High Gymnasium last Friday night. Walker placed third with his rendition of "Mobile," appearing ninth on the 22-act program.

This was the same contest in which the Keynotes walked away with first place last year and Pat Boone the year before. Boone came in from Denton, Texas, to emcee the show this year.

Walker, who is now on tour with the Choristers, was awarded $10.

College 4-H Club Is Organized Here

Preliminary plans are being made this week to organize a club of former 4-H members. Two organizational meetings have been held and complete plans will be submitted to the administration for approval within the next few

Miss Aubry Scott and Mr. E. B. Jenkins, directors of the state 4-H Staff in Tennessee, who attended the State 4-H Congress in Nashville earlier this week, are cooperating with Lipscomb students in establishing the activity. It will be the first organization of its type in this state.

RURAL LIFE INTEREST

The primary purpose of the club will be to bring together those on the campus who have a common interest in rural life and youth activities.

About 40 students were present for the first meeting. They represented eight state 4-H organizations. All other 4-H'ers on the campus are invited to participate in the club's activities.

Willard Collins, Vice President, and a faculty adviser are assisting the group with its plans.

Richard Rivers Sang Yesterday

Richard Rivers, head of the music department at Huntingdon College, Montgomery, Alabama, sang here yesterday.

A Lipscomb alumnus, Rivers is a native Nashvillian and has the M.A. degree from Peabody College, where he majored in music. He formerly sang with the Robert Shaw Chorale of New York, and while at Peabody taught sight reading and chorus groups at Watkins Institute.

Rivers will give a concert at Bethel College, McKenzie, today. His program at Lipscomb followed the regular morning chapel service, and he was accompanied at the piano by Clarence Haflinger,

Sivley, Throneberry Receive Carnegie Fellowship Awards

Bob Sivley and Jimmy Throneberry, Lipscomb seniors recently received notice that they had been awarded two of the annual carnegie Foundation fellowships for graduate the second structure of the second s graduate study in education.

The fellowships will be used in with George Peabody College, with Some courses at Vanderbilt and Scarritt. They carry a value of $1000, and the work will cover a four-nuarter sequence leading to a M.A. egree. The students will begin 1955. The students will 1955. The students will 1955. The students will represent the studen guidance training and Throneberry will work in a field of education. To Train Teachers

The purpose of the fellowships is to train teachers for high schools. All Carnegie fellows enroll in courses that will lead to a high school teaching certificate in their state.

Sivley is serving as president of the senior class and is a former editor of the BABBLER. Throneberry was a nominee for Guard of Honor in the May Day Festival and is a biology laboratory instructor.

Blood Drive Goal Is 250; April 12 Is Scheduled Date

With a goal set at 250 pints, the Red Cross Blood Drive will be climaxed Tuesday, April 12, in McQuiddy Gym.

This announcement comes from Jennings Davis, Jr., who is jointly sponsoring the drive with the Student Board.

Spring Meet Starts Here

Otis Gratewood

Otis Gate-wood, who is currently conducting a meeting at the West End Church of Christ, will begin the spring meeting Sunday for the Lipscomb congregation.

From Frankfurt, Germany, and in the states in behalf of the work there, Gatewood has appeared on the Lipscomb Lectureship numerous times in the past.

He has been in Germany for nearly 10 years, during which time he has been instrumental in beginning many churches. If permission is granted Gatewood is planning to go behind the Iron Curtain soon in the interest of establishing congregations there.

NFL Tournament Scheduled Here April 14, 15, 16

The 1955 tournament for the Tennessee District of the National Forensic League will be held here April 14, 15, and 16. Twenty-seven member high schools will participate.

Approximately 275 high school students will take part in the tournament. The events will be debate, original oratory, extemporaneous speaking for boys, extemporaneous speaking for girls, dramatic interpretation for girls, humorous interpretation, and oratorical interpretation.

Most of the events will be five or six rounds. The speaking will be from 3 p.m. to 10 p.m. on both Thursday and Friday. Tentative plans are that the contests will continue until about 12 p.m., Saturday, April 16, and the winners will be awarded at 1 p.m. the same day.

The tournament will be under the direction of Maj. Arthur H. Mann of Castle Heights Military Academy. Maj. Mann is chairman of this district.

This tournament is an elimination contest on the state level. The first place winners in debate, original oratory, extemporaneous speaking, and dramatic interpretation for girls will represent this district in the National Forensic League tournament to be held in San Jose, Calif., in June, 1955.

McAdams Elected Home Ec. Queen

Ernestine McAdams was recently elected Home Economics Queen at Lipscomb for 1955. She is a senior from Petersburg, Tenn.

Miss McAdams is president of the Home Economics Club and is a member of the F. T. A. Club.

The election was held in observation of State Home Economics Week March 21-27.

Dr. Davis states also that a loving cup will be awarded to the class with the highest percentage of donors. The "blueblooded faculty" is also eligible for competition, according to Davis. From 10:30 to 4:30 on Tuesday the bloodmobile will be at the Gym, and all students 18 and over should make arrangements to give. Must Have Permission

Students under 21 must get permission blanks now from the class presidents and have them signed by parents or guardians. No blood can be accepted without this con-

Only 150 pints were given last

Two Will Debate At West Point Meet

Phillip Morrison and Donald McWhorter will represent Lipscomb as one of four District VI debate teams to compete in West Point Military Academy's National Invitational Debate Tournament, April 20-23

These teams were selected to represent District VI at West Point in an elimination tournament held Emory University, Atlanta. Representatives of six other colleges and universities competed for the honor, including the University of South Carolina, University of Kentucky, Howard College (Birmingham), Tennessee Polytechnic Institute, Memphis State College, and Appalachian State Teachers College (N. C.).

To qualify for the elimination contest, Morrison and McWhorter had to participate in a minimum of 20 decision intercollegiate debates prior to Mar. 1, 1955, and had to win a minimum of 50 per cent of all the decision intercollegiate debates entered prior to Mar. 1, 1955.

High School Notes:

Burns, Sills Are First in Debate

Chester Burns and Joe Sills, Jr., won first place recently in the debate phase of the district Interscholastic Literary League competition at Austin Peay State Col-

The Lipscomb team debated the affirmative team of Central High in Nashville. Both teams will represent the district in the state finals at Knoxville.

junior class April 29 and 30.

Interpretive direction will be given by Jack Ashley; Jim Blevins and Robert Hamlin are technical directors.

The cast began rehearsals last quarter and the characters are being announced today.

In the starring role of Macbeth, is Jack Ashley who won the intramural forensics award for Best Actor last year.

Secrest is Lady

Lady Macbeth will be played by Julia Secrest. Hope Camp performs in the role of Banquo; Pete Hosse plays Duncan; Bill Smith acts as Malcolm; and George Massey will play the part of Donalbain.

Other roles will be portrayed as follows: First Witch, Joyce Renner; Second Witch, Wilma Campbell; Third Witch, Betsy Gaitly.

Ross, Earl Edwards; Lennos, Charles Shelton; Angus, Paul Rogers; Doctor, Wayne Tincher; Nurse, Janavee McDoniel; Messenger, Deems Brooks; First Murderer, Ed Smith, Second Murderer, Richard Craig; and the servant, Matthew Morrison.

George Massey is stage manager and Roy Davis is in charge of lighting effects.

Career Day Plans Are Announced

Plans are near completion now for the annual Career Day at Lipscomb, inagurated last spring, which is scheduled for May 7.

Beginning at 9:00 a.m. and lasting until 5:00 that afternoon activities have been planned for all prospective students who can come to the campus. All friends of Lipscomb are encouraged to bring high school students to the campus on this day.

The program of events for the day is as follows:

9-10—Visitors go by registration desk in College hall to register and receive necessary information.

10:00—Band Concert in Alumni Auditorium.

10:30—Message from President Athens Clay Pullias.

11:00-Personal conferences with DLC faculty members concerning career plans.

1:00—Barbecue and fried chicken served to all guests in front of Alumni Auditorium.

1:30-Program by DLC Choris-

2:00—Gymnastics program on the campus in front of Alumni Auditorium.

2:30-Tours to library, dormitories and gymnasium.

-Baseball game: Lipscomb vs. Peabody.

Choristers, Opera Workshop Give Music Presentations

The Lowland Sea, an opera to be given by the Choristers, and the operetta Annie Laurie, by the Opera Workshop, will be presented in Alumni Auditorium April 12.

The Lowland Sea features in leading roles Nancy Wyckoff, Corky Brown, and Al Smith with Ray Walker, Bob Bowersock, Nick Boone, and Bill Smith in supporting roles. Mary Katherine Armistead will be their accompanist. The music for this opera was written by Alec Wilder and the Libretto by Arnold Sundgaard.

The Lowland Sea was written out of a remembering of the sea and sea songs-of dunes, of harbors, of voyaging, of loneliness, of waiting. Some of it was suggested by drawings and prints of ships like the Witch of the Waves out of Salem, or the Friar Tuck which went aground off the coast of Cornwall.

Part of it comes from a nursery song, Bobbie Shaftoe, which has been given a new musical setting for this occasion. And the round, Here we come a-roving, follows a form frequently found in playparty songs, in which the actions described by the words are acted by the singers. The opera has been designed primarily for college, school, and community groups.

Anderson, Thrasher Lead

The operetta Annie Laurie features in leading roles Lucien Anderson and Pat Thrasher supported by Jean Bixler Reynolds, Richard Craig, Bernard Young, Jerry Metheny.

Handle with Care

The House of Seagram, which spends a small proportion of its holiday advertising budget on an annual "one for the road" ad in papers across the country, ought to look at the facts.

In a "dramatic, public-spirited New Year's Eve message" the company suggested to drinkers that "Tonight when it's 'one for the Road'-be sure it's coffee!"

It's a worthy sentiment, but coffee won't help a bit.

Writing in the magazine Public Safety, Robert Schmal, secretary of the National Safety Council Committee on Tests for Intoxication

"Let's have some coffee, and then I'll be in shape to drive home." These, or words to that effect, are often spoken by people who sincerely believe that a cup or two of black coffee will do the trick. Unfortunately, this is not the case. Many beliefs concerning intoxication and the sobering-up process are unfounded or greatly exaggerated.

Once alcohol has been absorbed into the blood stream, little can be done to speed up the elimination process. Time is the all-important factor. The higher the blood alcohol concentration, the longer the sobering-up process.

We've all heard the slogan, "Make the one for the road coffee." Coffee does not have any sobering powers ... Once alcohol has been built up in the blood stream only time will reduce the concentration.

A Mule Can't Pull While Kicking

Sometimes we are prone to complain and gripe about different things-studies, classes, food-those are the most common topics. It is true that the studies sometimes are hard, that classes are sometimes dull, and the food is not always the

If everyone were as quick to compliment as they were to complain, everyone would be much happier. When there is a good meal, express your appreciation to Mr. Traughber. If class is interesting, tell your teacher. Tell the members of the Footlighters how much you enjoyed

Compliments will show others that you are interested in what is being done, as well as show your opinion about such things as the menu and class routine. A compliment will go much farther in helping matters than will a gripe; so, do not forget to express your appreciation for what you enjoy.

Thanks

The much talked of milk vending machine was installed in Elam Hall during the spring holidays. Many expressed a desire for the machine sometime ago, and when it looked as if we might not obtain it, there were many complaints

Since it has been installed, many favorable comments have been made. It saves one from having to go off campus to get that bed-time snack. It has added much to the refreshment room. There, sandwiches, candy, cookies, gum, Cokes, and milk can now be purchased.

We feel that this step, and other such steps make our dormitories better places in which to live. Thanks to all who had a part in securing the machine. We appreciate it, and hope that the other dormitories may be equipped as well in the near future.

Welcome Back . . .

Welcome back readers. We are glad to be back and to get started in our spring quarter of work. We are glad to sacrifice beautiful spring evenings for our studies?

You may laugh and say, "April Fool" at the above statements. Seriously, it is good to be back at Lipscomb. It is our wish that you will continue to read the BABBLER, write letters to the editor, and give us your "kicks", praises, and criticisms.

We are always glad to hear what you as a reader have to say about the paper -not only student readers, but alumni, parents, or anyone else who comes into contact with the BABBLER. It is your paper, so get the most out of it by passing along suggestions.

Support Needed

Just a few words here as a reminder to continue our school spirit by supporting the Bison ball team. The support was good at the basketball games, and it can be continued at the approaching baseball games.

It will be encouragement to the squad to see their fellow students at the games.

By Bob Sivley

War talk dominated the news this past week, as statements from three important men in the U.S. government left the situation as confused and doubtful as ever.

From Admiral Robert Carney came the prediction that Red China would move against the off-shore Chinese islands of Matsu and Quemoyx sometime between April 15

If the Chief of Naval Operations is correct, the U.S. has three major alternatives: (1) The President can refuse to defend these islands, leaving Chiang's forces to fight a losing battle and finally retreat to U.S. supported Formosa and the Pescadores. (2) He can limit the U. S. to a local, tactical action aimed at stopping the Red invasion of these two islands. (3) He could launch a fullscale defense of Formosa, including bombing of Red Chinese installations on the main-

In the third alternative lies the greatest possibility of war on a full

Carney's prediction had repercussions, both on Capitol Hill and in the White House.

Tennessee's Sen. Estes Kefauver blasted unnamed persons in the administration for "plotting and planning" to throw America into war with Red China over the Matsu and Quemoy situation.

Kefauver did not accuse the President himself of being in favor of war, but he did charge that the administration leaders who were pushing for a fight with Red China were becoming almost impossible to resist.

He further said that a war with Red China over Matsu and Quemoy "ought to be unthinkable."

The President himself had a comment on Carney's prediction when questioned at his news conference Wednesday. Anyone predicting a Red invasion of the islands that soon, Eisenhower said, has information that he does not have.

Dear Editor:

Student Says Thanks for Vendor

I would like to take this means of expressing my gratitude for the new milk vending machine which has been placed in Elam Hall.

I think I not only speak for myself, but also for all those who live in Elam Hall. We appreciate it.

Since we do live here nine months out of the year, all such improvements make it a better place to live. I understand that the machine is here on a trial basis. I sincerely hope that we can keep it.

Thanks again. AN ELAMITE

Book Review:

Vigilantes Gave Order to Old West

(THE VIGILANTES OF MON-TANA, by Thomas J. Dimsdale, 268 pp. University of Oklahoma Press: 1953—Crisman Memorial Library.)

Reviewed by George Patterson

The Vigilantes of Montana is one of the most interesting historical accounts of any such incident that I have ever read.

It is a correct and impartial narrative of the chase, trial, capture, and execution of Henry Plummer's notorious road agent band. The description is good, the writing is excellent.

One can learn all about the process of hanging a man, getting shot, how to deal with road agents, and the correct way to organize a vigilance committee-all by reading this book.

The book acquaints one with the mountain life of that period, and gives one an insight to the corruptness of the law (what little they had) at that time. Notorious names such as George Ives, Bill Graves, Dutch John, Henry Plummer, Boone Helm, and others will recall to the reader's mind many tales that he has heard in regard to the early west.

The manner and method of the Vigilance committee is most interesting, and one wonders at the nerve and daring that each member displayed in their fight for justice and peace against the bad men. The account of the many murders, robberies, and other wrongs makes one appreciate the law and order we have today.

Prof. Dimsdale seems to be a wit with the pen. Many short, but descriptive sentences are found throughout the work: some are quite amusing: ". . . but he determined to put as much daylight through them as the size of his lead would allow." When describing one of the condemned agents who was praying before he went to the gallows, the author writes, . . but I guess his kneeling was as much from alcohol as it was to

"I am innocent," was the password of the gang. All of them repeated it at one time or other during their trial or conviction.

The author has found many phorisms and quotes to fit in with his account. They are to be found at the beginning and throughout the chapters. The last one of these is at the head of chapter thirty and comes from the Word of God: "Whoso sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed."

THE BABBLER

Entered as second-class matter, December 26, 1923, at the post office, Nashville, Tenn., under the act of March 3, 1897.

Accepted for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1916; authorized, Nashville, Tenn.

Published weekly during the regular school year except during holidays or examination periods by students of DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE, Nashville, Tenn.

Office located on second floor Crisman Memorial Library.

Member

Associated Collegiate Press Peggie Herron ... Editor-in-Chief Paul Rogers ... Business Manager

Willard Collins ... Faculty Advisor

DAY by DAY

This is your Kangaroo News Caravan brought to you by Kangaroos—the world's largest manufacturer of vest pockets. Today we are coming to you direct from the top of Brewer Tower. Rope-skipping the world for head Millsap, Miss.

A Young Nashvillian, Bill Phillips, disappeared after a debate banquet which he attended in connection with the Southern Debate tournament here. Dr. Ellis, his speech coach, frantically called police after the young man failed to appear at 4 a.m. A widespread search followed and he was found in the Coca Cola room of the Poinsett Hotel. His lawyer, Wayne Tincher, says the defendent will plead insanity before the Welfare Board and Rachel.

Somewhere in Va.

Bob Hamlin spent spring vacation in Virginia for his health. Pretty good choice. Virginia has cured a lot of hams, you know.

Nashville, Tenn.

Timber, a comparatively new lab instructor, anxious to impress Dr. Artist remarked, "I wonder what this old oak would say if it could talk?" "It would probably say," remarked Dr. Artist, "I'm an elm."

Miami, Fla.

A doctor had an urgent call from a tourist, Al Smith saying that his friend, Morris Zeigler, had swallowed his fountain pen. "I'll come at once," said the doctor. "What are you doing in the meantime?" Al's reply "Using a pencil."

Arlington, Va.

A letter from Mrs. Enzor to her son in Nashville-"And please, dear, I do wish you wouldn't shoot those little craps. They love life as much as you do."

Benton, Ky.

Katy Morgan was bidding her fiance' fond farewell. for he was going on a long Chorister trip. Tearfully she said, "My dear Jack, promise me that you'll send a card from every town you visit." He replied, "Oh, Katy, is it really love that prompts you to say this? Do you love me—or are you merely collecting postcards?" Cherry Tree, Penn.

Conversation overheard between Mrs. Michaels and Paula. "Dear, you were awfully late last night. I'm dreadfully old-fashioned I'm afraid, but I'd like to know where you go." "Certainly, mother. I dined with-oh, well, I don't suppose you know him-and we went to several places I'm sure you haven't been to, and we went to a movie somewhere in-I forget the name of the place. It's all right, isn't it?" "Of course, dear. It's only that I just like to know."

Milan, Tenn.

After having received rather low grade reports for both Pat and Terell, Mrs. Seavers confronted the two and asked-what the trouble was. "There's no trouble mom," was Pat's quick reply. "You know yourself things are always marked down after the holidays."

Decatur, Ga.

Carol Burt was telling her philosophy of marriage to Sidney Maddux, "Sid, don't you think it would be rather foolish of me to marry a boy who was intellectually my inferior? "Worse than foolish," replied Sidney. "Impossible."

Nashville, Tenn.

After having heard John Eason say that he had not spoken to Pat Jones in a week, Ruth Behel asked why. John replied, "I didn't want to interrupt her."

Brewer Tower

Tune in next week when our program will originate from the top of Johnson Hall-provided the sun is shining; and the author hasn't been forced to expire after these premeditated fabrications. Study hard this week for "A good education enables you to get into more expensive trouble."

(Editor's note: we are glad to have Peggy Scott as special guest columnist this week and next in the absence of Pat Fyfe, regular columnist.)

Living Religion By Paul Rogers

The legend is told of an Eastern Pilgrim who met a plague one day. "Where are you going?" asked the pilgrim. "I am going to Bagdad to kill five thousand people," came the reply.

A few days later, the two met again. "You told me you were going to Bagdad to kill five thousand people, said the pilgrim, "But instead, you killed fifty thousand "No," answered the plague, "I killed only five thousand, as I told you I would; the others died of fright." Though untrue, this fable displays one of man's basic emotions—fear. In varying degrees, this feeling is experienced by all. Some cower at the sight of a mouse Others march into the jaws of danger. Yet, in the life of each, there is a time when the word "fear" is full of meaning. Perhaps one of our tamer fears is that of failing to be acceptable to our fellow men. As God's children, we mus have the courage to stand up for Jesus, though the crowd may remain seated.

It requires little strength to speak out for fight when the majority is with you. But it is different when you are cast into the arena with a host of enemies.

The apostle Paul was often confronted with this problem. His answer to it—Faith in God. He exclaimed against us?" He recognized that God and one man form a majority.

V. hat's good in the fifth at Ja-

Never mind, what are the odds?

Religious Affiliations

Dost thou believe in Santa Claus?

Dost thou go to church? _

Name of hometown minister_ minister copies his sermons

Do you want a roommate?

Name of book from which town

Room Service-Non-Veterans

Do you plan to study in your _ Really?

Sex .

Easter Bunny?_

Really??

Do you keep a strong box? _

maica?

How do you know?

Combination?

Thy given name _

Thy pagan name _

Which one? _

How often? _

Name in full _

Which kind?

room? _

How?

How many legs?

Do you want a bed?_

Do you like roaches? _

Thy Christian name _

Thy name

star Gazing . . . Johnson Residents Watch

Glitter and Glory of Oscars

Hollywood and New York had nothing on Nashville and Johnson Hall Wednesday night when the academy awards were presented. The only thing lacking was the television camera to be flashed on the 20 girls gathered around the TV set. Arrayed in curlers, jeans, and a few housecoats, these viewers watched as Bob Hope emceed the annual presentations.

Kelly, Brando Win

Marlon Brando and Grace Kelly received the top Oscars for their performances in "On the Waterperformances in On the Water-front" and "The Country Girl." on the Waterfront" was also

'Macbeth . . .'

(Continued from page 1)

swiping her father with a missed tackle while he was cheering her on at the practice field.

Ginger is Convinced

This raises the blood-pressure of the high-school principal, as well as that of the president, depositors and board of trustees of the father's bank, and in the end it makes Ginger understand that being girlish in a party dress will get her more happiness than trying to turn herself into the son she knows her father wished she

When "Time Out for Ginger" was first produced in New York, the critic for the New York Times called it " a fresh, warm-hearted and funny comedy that is highly enjoyable all the way," and the critic for the New York World Telegram and Sun called it "an hilarious, laugh-packed winner." Time magazine termed it "thoroughly amiable."

Collier, Wyckoff Star

In the production to be seen here, Bob Collier will be seen as the father trapped by his imprudent speech into supporting his demands of his three effervescent daughters for the right of selfexpression, Nancy Wyckoff will be his football-playing daughter, Mary Margaret Grounds will be one of the other daughters, Gloria Brannam his understanding wife. Bob Sivley, George Brazil, Ann Derseweh and Phil Dunn will be seen in other important roles.

The production is under the direction of Dale Brown, assisted by George Brazil.

Students Make Own Examinations

Students may be asking the professors the questions if an experiment under way at Texas Christian University catches on.

Dr. Newton Gaines has discovered that physics students do just as much thinking, and disclose lust about same extent of their knowledge, in devising a firstclass examination as in taking one. "Most of my tests are coded multiple choice," says Dr. Gaines. When a student doesn't know the answer to one of the questions, I give him the privilege of omitting it if he can write a better-or at least as good-question in its stead.

"This method may be unusual, but it really requires a comprehensive knowledge of the subject, plus ingenuity, application and finesse on the part of the student."

Dr. Gaines grades the alternate question which the student writes on its merits, just as he evaluates answers to the regular test ques-

"The good students like the idea," he reports. "The poor students like dents? Well, poor students like nothing about examinations, no matter what the system!"

TURRENTINE REALTY COMPANY 2915 Nolensville Road

Sales—Insurance—Loans Phone 42-2651

named the best motion picture of the year.

Eva Marie Saint and Edmund O'Brien were named best supporting actress and actor for "On the Waterfront" and "The Barefoot Contessa."

Elia Kazan was chosen best director, also for "On the Water-front." George Seaton wrote the best screen story "The Country

"Three Coins in a Fountain" was named as the best song of the 1954 season while the musical scoring in "The High and the Mighty" was best for a dramatic movie and "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers" won for musical comedy.

Registration Crazes Students

students have the pleasure of the most wonderful thing about Lipscomb—Registration Day. The nice thing about this day is that the lines are so short and there are practically no cards to fill out. Of course we're only kidding!

The following is taken from the Hulabaloo of Tulane and the University of Mississippi's Mississippian, and gives an idea of a few of the questions that are asked on all registration forms, from the student angle.

Name in full (Last name first)

Name in full (Please type)_

Name spelled backward .

Name spelled sideways

BABBLER Bureau of Investigation . . .

Here's Lowdown on Doings Of Loafing Faculty Members

It has been learned by plainclothes detectives of the B. B. I. (BABBLER Bureau of Investigation) that several members of the Lipscomb faculty had some very exciting vacations during spring holidays.

In order to keep the student body well-informed as to what their instructors do during their vacations, we are now revealing the well-guarded secrets.

Dr. Clipp practiced blowing bubbles for the "Bubble Show," sponsored annually by the senior

Ed Neeley Cullum watched George Goebel every night on TV, trying to learn some new jokes for his classes in "Subtle Humor," more commonly known as psychology and soci-

Miss Gooch learned to fight a bull and "bust" a bronco while she was in Texas.

Dr. Landiss rehearsed his role as Captain Queeg in "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial," in which he will star when it runs on Broadway the second time.

Miss Brown took the leading role in a new Hollywood Twentieth Century Fox movie called "The Lame Foot." She played the part of the foot.

Mr. Traughber took a course in "How to Plan Meals and Still

Alumni Notes

By Laura Tarence

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harding, '50, are the parents of a son, Barry Allen, born in Kittery, Maine on March 5.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wiseman, x'53, of 2400 Oakland, Nashville, are the parents of a son, Gary Stephen, born during March.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Compa (Shirley Burnett), x'52, are the parents of a son, Mark Arthur, adopted on March 16.

Ralph Lemon, '48, was married uring March in Nashville to Miss Vera McKnight. The couple will live in St. Augustine, Fla., where Ralph is teaching school.

Lewis Loftis, '54, who has been doing graduate work at the University of Alabama, has been listed by the Dean as being among the superior students in the graduate school of commerce and business administration of the first semester of the present session. East Tennessee alumni held an organizational meeting on March Approximately 25 persons gathered for a dinner at Brown Cafeteria in Knoxville. Dean Sanders, Miles Ezell, Jr. and your Secretary were present also. Officers elected were Charles Stovall, 45, president, Mrs. Eugene Lamb (Ruth Wiseman), '53, secretary, and Jimmy Eaton, '49, vice-presi-

360 Murfreesboro Road

Live," (at Lipscomb) that was taught by Dr. Aches Paines, famous ulcer specialist.

Mrs. Whitten wrote an article in French for "Pardon, Your Slip Is Showing," regular feature that appears in the Reader's Digest.

Miss Frizzell polished her rock collection three times a day except on Sunday.

Stroop Wrote Book

Dr. Stroop wrote a book on "How to Be on Time to Class in 10 Easy Lessons." This book will be required for all courses he teaches and will be on sale in the bookstore for only $9.89. Regularly, it sells for $10.

G. Willard Collins must have started his vacation early, or else he "forgot" to come to chapel the week of final exams. We are sure no Lipscomb student would be guilty of missing chapel.

Barber College

Dr. Broadus attended Barber College and learned to give G. I. haircuts. He has opened a cutrate barber shop in his office in Crisman Memorial Library and all haircuts will cost only $5.

Elam hall residents are urged to take advantage of this special offer. After next week, rates will go up to $10 because the library needs new books so badly. So many research papers were written last quarter that for one whole week the only thing left to read in the library were the bound volumes of the Gospel Advocate.

Dr. Ellis drilled his West Point-bound debaters in the art of carrying a gun correctly. He was especially wellqualified for this job since he has practiced so much with his sword.

Henry Arnold bought some equipment to take on the Chorrister trip-smelling salts, binoculars, handcuffs, pistol, bloodhounds and a magnifying glass. It is also rumored that he has enlisted the aid of Mr. Troxler, to ride in the rear of the bus.

We sincerely hope that all the student body spent a more profitable vacation than did the faculty. Faculty members, aren't you a little ashamed of the way you wasted your valuable time? And when you could have been working for L. E. P. Say, bet you didn't know today is April Fool's Day, did you?

WOMEN WANTED—Temporary, six months. Mail postcards. Good hand-writing or typewriter. Box 47, Watertown, Mass.

LANDON'S Your Neighborhood HARDWARE

Purity Dairies

Nashville's Finest Milk

6-1148

Name spelled as looking in a mir-Stand on head and write name_

How do you spell your name?_

Name in Sandskrit

Greek translation _

For the Dean's Office Name in full .

Name of nearest relative willing to post bond Dip right thumb in ink and place

here Reason for being in jail last time

When did you get out of jail?_

Do you wish you were back?. Do you plan to repeat the offense?

Can I come along? Do you plan to graduate?_ Alternate plans

Treasurer's Office

Name in full Mother's name in full _

Estimate of father's estate_

Name of father's bookmaker_

Telephone number _

ESBAS Pays Off . . .

4,000,000 ESBAS Responses; Six New Dorms to Be Built

It was announced today by the Dean's office that as a result of the recent E S B A S campaign almost 4,000,000 applications for admission have been received.

The administration commended the loyal student body for its efforts in recruiting this number of new students, during the recent spring holidays. However, as a result of this flood of students, all upper-classmen are requested to live off-campus next year.

Since all of these 4,000,000 applicants sent in their $10 room reservation deposits, construction will begin tomorrow on six new dormitories. These buildings will be the utmost in ultra-modern "homes-away-from-home."

Each suite will include private parlors, equipped with indispensable supervisors and 350 Watt bulbs, private baths, and adjoining kitchenettes, complete with maid, butler, cook, and can-opener.

Upon registration, each new student will be presented a 1955 Cadillac which he may keep as long as he drives no slower than 60 miles an hour on campus and observes all parking signs.

A new million dollar air-conditioned cafeteria is also being constructed. This structure is the latest word in cafeterias: plush red carpets 12 inches thick; an atmosphere of soft lights and sweet music; waiters at your service with first-class manners, and menus written in French.

Stadium to be Built

The new football stadium will be built a block from the campus. Due to the fame of the fabulous new football coach, Tommy Warren, several All-American players from Tennessee, Maryland, Nebraska, Arkansas, Freed-Hardeman, and Oklahoma, have transferred to Lipscomb.

It is rumored that the season will open against Notre Dame. The Irish could be in for a surprise, the sports writers say, and they are also picking the Bisons to be the number one team in the nation. If they come through, Lipscomb will be the only school in history to attain this goal in its first year of competition.

The addition of football is expected to attract more new students by fall.

A new Bison lounge is also being built. It will be furnished in western style, complete with stalls for booths, hitching-post soda fountain, wagon-wheel chandeliers and cowgirl waitresses. (P.S. April Fool!)

TENNESSEE REAL ESTATE CO.

Nashville's Largest Business Brokers Rentals • AUCTIONS • Sales REALTORS 121 Third Avenue, North Campbell Jenkins

Established 1858

PHILLIPS & BUTTORFF MFG. CO.

Manufacturers of

ENTERPRISE STOVES, FURNACES AND STOKERS FOR COAL-GAS-ELECTRICITY

Furnishers of

Commercial and Residential Air Conditioners Cafeteria Equipment for Schools and Hotels Kitchen Wares-Table Wares-Home Wares

Serving A Value Conscious America for Nearly 100 Years

217 Third Avenue, North

Nashville, Tennessee

Herd... Sportlight

- By Dick Matheny

The Lipscomb tumbling and gymnastic squad recently elected Joe Johnson, senior from Gadsden, Alabama, as their captain.

Faithfully week by week this group has met and worked until finally they have perfected a show that is filled with all the spirit of a circus.

The activity is under the capable leadership of Mr. Tom Hanvey.

Their first few shows were small affairs where they shared the "bill" with many other acts. One such engagement was at the annual Peabody Circus held on the campus of Peabody College. Here they were well received by all and the fame of the team began to spread.

The administration realized that here was another fine group that would represent Lipscomb well wherever they went. Vice-President Collins arranged a schedule for the group and they are now presenting shows all over the state.

Only recently the squad performed at Withorne Junior High School in Columbia, Tennessee, where they presented a very excellent show. Soon they will journey to Lewisburg and McMinnville, Tennessee.

The fondest dream of Mr. Hanvey and the men on the squad is their receiving uniforms that will make them one of the fanciest of college gymnastic teams.

The realization of that dream may not be far away, since Mr. Hanvey is already inquiring into the matter.

The show which the group presents is composed of every aspect of the tumbling world. They do hand-to-hand balancing, floor tumbling, doubles routines with one man "throwing" another for a series of forward and back flips, trampoline acts, and even a juggling routine.

This, the newest organization on the campus, deserves your attention and support. Watch this group closely for they are going to represent Lipscomb all over this and neighboring states. Keep your eye on the David Lipscomb Tumbling and Gymnastic Squad.

Again this spring . . . WNAH will broadcast the home games of the Lipscomb Bisons baseball schedule. Broadcasts begin with first home game Friday, April 8, when the Bisons meet Peabody. Broadcast time is 2:55 p.m.

We encourage you to support the Bisons with your attendance at every game. Every college team deserves the encouragement of a good student body in attendance. But if you can't attend in person . . . be with them over WNAH.

By Morrison Funny Stuff

Frances Rootes Is Ping Pong Champ

Frances Rootes has been dedeclared winner of the girls' table tennis tournament. The tournament was sponsored and directed by Frances Moore, director of the Lipscomb intramural program for Miss Rootes defeated Wanda Montgomery in the finals for the championship. Others who reached the semi-finals were Sondra Wilcox and Ernestine McAdams.

Twelve girls participated. Winners were determined by the best two out of three games.

Construction Begins On Golf Course

A new miniature golf course will be constructed on the Lipscomb campus, according to an announcement by Willard Collins, Vice-President.

Construction is scheduled to begin in July.

The course will be built on top of College Hall due to the flatsurface top of that building. Admittance to the course will be gained by climbing the ladder behind the stage in Alumni Auditorium.

The project is being financed by surplus funds from the L E P.

Further announcement made by Dean J. P. Sanders stated that only students with a grade point average of 3.2 would be allowed the privilege of using the new course, and that no student without perfect attendance records in all classes would be considered.

(April fool)

Joy's Flowers

601 Church

Patronize

THE LIPSCOMB LAUNDRY

Alloway BROS. COMPANY

Poultry Meats

McKay-Cameron Co.

Headquarters

CHINA, GLASS, SILVER

212 3rd Ave., N.

6-0427

FITTS & CRAWFORD

FLOWERS

2816 West End Ave. 7-5946

Distinctive Clothes for Men of Discriminating Taste Sixth at Union

10 All-Stars Named

All Stars in the AA and A Basketball League were announced Thursday by Eugene Boyce, intramural director.

The All Stars were chosen on their all-round playing ability, rather than on number of points scored. The captains of the eight teams in the two leagues, assisted by Boyce, selected the All Star players.

FIRST TEAM Carl Walker Don McAlister ... Tom Warren ...

Bob Harris ... Herb Murphy SECOND TEAM

Dick Batey Boodie Fox Gene Ward Wayne Wright Alton Yates

Tournament Play in Session: Intramural Teams Compete day night in McQuiddy Gym

Several intramural tournaments are underway this week.

The semi-finals in the League basketball championship were last night in McQuiddy Gym.

Two teams were in the play-off the Bucaneers vs. the Rams, and the Cavaliers vs. the Eagles.

Winners of these two games will play for the championship Tuespicnic. All intramural clubs are prepar. ing for the softball tourney which begins April 11.

Members of the winning team will be awarded medals later this spring at the annual athletic

The badminton tourney will enter the second round of play next week. Dick Batey, defending champion, is also favored to win

BLOODMOBILE COMING

All-occasion fashions

from dawn to dating

WAVERLY BELMONT

SELF SERVICE LAUNDRY

Granny White At Halcyon

8-3555

Right on Bus Line

Closest to David Lipscomb College

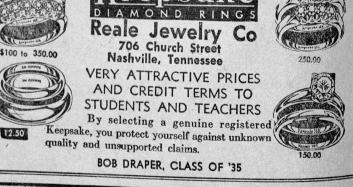

Wear The Best

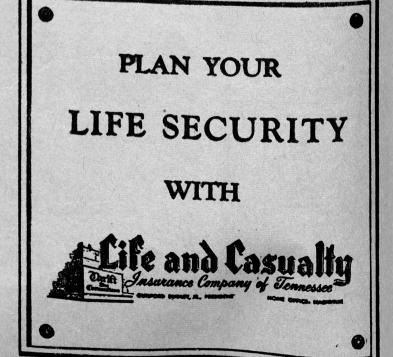

DEER CREEK'

SPORTS WEAR

Reale Jewelry

Only You ...

Can Give Your Blood

Only you can give your blood. It is up to you to decide whether or not you will give someone a chance to live.

No, you may never know the person—chances are, he will be a complete stranger—someone you've never seen, someone you may never see. Yet, between you and that person there will be a bond, the common bond of humanity.

It could be your roommate, your best friend back home, or your brother in the armed forces. It could be a frail Chinese child somewhere on the other side of the world.

For the need for blood knows no discrimination. Blood is life, and there is neither without the other. Someone, somewhere, will turn to you for help and the thing you can give to that person will be life-blood.

We are young and strong and it is our obligation to give the product of that youth and strength to those who need it desperately in their struggle to live.

Will you give? Remember, only you can give the blood that saves a life-your blood-and maybe your life.

Henry Scott, Noted Pianist, Humorist Is Here April 15

Henry L. Scott, distinguished pianist and originator of Concert Humor, will appear on the Lips-

HENRY L. SCOTT

comb campus Friday, April 15, at

The junior class is sponsoring Scott who has developed into a national attraction during the last three years. Admission to the performance will be $1.00.

This will be Scott's first show

10 Enroll Here For First Time

Announcement comes from Ralph R. Bryant, Registrar, that 10 new students have enrolled at Lipscomb this quarter.

Bryan's list includes Kenneth Paul Beller, Charlie Brooks III, Rupert Burl Grow, James T. Hommond, Charles Potter, Ernest Quinn, Edith Samples, Walter James Sexton, Myles Tune, and Willis Hoyt White.

Old students returning who were not here last quarter are: William (Pop) Brown, Robert K. Clark, Robert Davidson, Winston Fish, Carl Owen, Joel Plunket, James Ralph Smith, and Loyal picture was made.

in Nashville. He will appear on WSIX television in the afternoon before his performance here.

Scott is a lively interpreter of Liszt and Chopin and is also an authority on popular styles—swing and jazz.

He was called in Life "The Will Rogers of the Piano," and is listed in Who's Who in America. In New York's Town Hall he made his debut as "America's First Concert Humorist."

At the present time, Scott is on a tour of southern colleges and universities. Immediately before his arrival in Nashville, he will present his one-man gala at Mississippi State.

Although Henry L. Scott has traveled constantly over the U. S. and Canada the past 10 years, giving his one-man show for millions of people, he has never missed a show.

The nearest Scott has come to missing a performance was once a few years ago when he was detained by a blizzard in Buffalo, N. Y., as he was en route to play a concert in Binghamton.

The first vehicle that went through the snow-bound roads was a snowplow, and it carried Mr. Scott, his orange, his grapefruit, and his most important prop . . . his mittens!

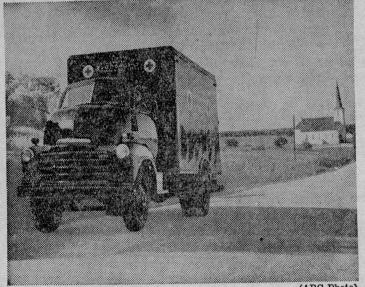

Five Graduated Winter Quarter

Dean J. P. Sanders announced this week that five students completed graduation requirements at the close of last quarter.

They are Gerald Bowers, biology major; Patricia Jones, elementary education major; Jerry Owen, business administration major; Clifford Owens, Bible major; Robert Owens, psychology major.

These students will not receive their diplomas until the regular commencement exercise in June.

Angel of Mercy - Modern Version

(ARC Photo)

BLOODMOBILE'S COMING—Red Cross Bloodmobiles like this one travel thousands of miles yearly to obtain the blood so vital in keeping Americans alive and healthy. The Red Cross needs your blood now, and the Bloodmobile will be here soon. Call today—make an appointment to give a pint of blood.

Blood Drive Is Tuesday

"Concerning the question: Will the students and faculty support the forthcoming blood drive at Lipscomb?, I am confident that the entire staff and student body will lend their whole-hearted cooperation and enthusiasm."

This statement came from Jennings Davis, Jr., who is acting director of the campaign. He and the Student Board are jointly sponsoring the all-day project Tuesday.

Time for donation is from 10:30 to 4:30 in McQuiddy Gym April

A goal of 250 pints has been set; 150 pints were donated last year.

The contest between the four classes and the faculty is in full swing, and the group which donates the most pints on a percentage basis will receive a gold loving cup.

Earling Doak is the Board representative who has worked with Dr. Davis to make the campaign.

e Babbler

Vol. XXXIV

David Lipscomb College, Nashville 4, Tenn., April 8, 1955

Roy Davis and Charles Adams.

All supernatural effects are to be

The advertising and house are under the direction of

Matthew Morrison, Peggie

Herron, and Betsy Gately.

The photography is done by

Plans for advertising include executed by means of lighting.

No. 21

30 Costumes, Three Sets, Matinee Songleaders Are on Agenda for 'Macbeth' Lighting and sound is done by William Shakespeare's brilliant tragedy "Macbeth" will be presented three times on the Lipscomb stage April 29 and 30.

The play is a two hour adaptation with a 15 minute intermis-

Changes have been made concerning use of the concert curtains concealing the major stage. A few characters have been cut, but only the most insignificant ones-Seyton, Siward, Menteith, and Caithness.

"Macbeth" takes place in Scotland in the eleventh century. There are three major sets: the interior of Inverness castle, the interior of Dunsinane castle, and the heath.

An effort is being made to achieve the effect of naturalness by color. Scenes on the heath, before the castle, and in England are to be played before the concert curtains.

George Massey is in charge of the stage with the assistance of Smith, Deems Brooks, and Morris Zeigler.

Under the direction of Pat Fyfe the costumes for the production's 30 characters have been produced.

The make up is traditional with the exception of character roles, the witches, and the murderers. Beards and false hair stand out as the most difficult part. Mary Ann Thomas is in charge of the make-up.

Operetta Scheduled

Annie Laurie, an operetta based on the essential facts of Robert

Burns' life, is to be presented

Tuesday, April 12, at 8 p.m. in Alumni Auditorium. Admission is

This operetta will follow the presentation of The Lowland Sea

Annie Laurie, a work of lighter opera, promises not only fun but a painless bit of literary education as well. It was originally presented on the Railroad Hour under the production of Lawrence and Lee and starring Gordon Mc-

Annie Laurie is to be presented here by the Opera Workshop under the direction of Miss Irma Lee

Lucien Anderson as the Poet Robin and Patty Thrasher as his lover, Jean Armour. Supporting players are Jean Bixler Reynolds,

Richard Craig, Bernard Young,

It will feature in leading roles

Rae as Robin Burns.

and Jerry Metheny.

Batey.

to be given by the Choristers.

Tuesday Evening

skits on television, skits in chapel, posters, letters to all high schools in surrounding counties, and newspaper articles.

Roy Davis.

Three Performances Scheduled

Three performances are planned: a matinee in the afternoon; 8:15 p.m. Friday night; 8:15 Friday night. The price of admission is 50ϕ for the matinee, 60¢ and 80¢ for night performances, students and outsiders respectively.

The entire production is under the direction of Jimmie Blevins who is also playing the role of Macduff in the absence of John

Dean's List Names 16 for Last Term

Sixteen students were listed on the Dean's List for winter quarters, according to an announcement from the Registrar.

The dean's list is made up of students who have "B" on no more than three hours an "A" on all others.

*Jack Ashley, *Robert Collier, *Ann Derseweh, *Mary Margaret Grounds.

Jess Hall, Danny Harless, Wyna Harper, Mildred Haws, *Edward Holley, Mary Ann Jackson, Pames

*Joyce Moseley, Benny Nelms, Joyce Renner, Jane Shannon, *Katherine Sneed.

*Asterisks indicates "straight

"A" students.

Honor Roll

The honor roll is composed of the upper ten per cent of the regular student body including the Jeannette Arnold, Frances Barnes, John Barton, Richard Batey, Ruth Behel, Jacqulyn Burton, Janice Burton, Thomas Burton.

Mary Lou Carter, James Castleberry, James Clipp, Rodney Cloud, Marlin Connelly, Virginia Cooper, Archie Crenshaw.

Martha DeVaney, Robert Dilgard, Gail Dodson, Earl Edwards, Ada Elliott, Roger Flannery, Doris Franklin, Patricia Fyfe, Frances Gaither, Marianne Gates.

Frankie Gregory, Charles Hai-(Con't. Page 3)

To Compete

The eighth annual Songleaders' Contest for college men will be climaxed Friday.

This announcement was made recently by Miss Irma Lee Batey, head of the music department, who will direct the event.

A change has been made in the rules since last year's contest. Instead of holding the preliminaries in the high school chapel, they will be conducted during the second period of the college chapel on Monday and Wednesday of next week.

The deadline for entering the entest is today at 2 p.m. The contest is today at 2 p.m. preliminary tests on the rudiments of music and conducting will be given at 3 p.m.

The ten finalists will be chosen during the preliminary at the first of the week. The contestants will lead two hymns and will be judged by their voice quality, hand signs, posture, key and interpretation.

The event will be judged by a group of qualified persons who are in no way connected with Lipscomb. The first place winner will be awarded a gold medal by Mr. Ridley Derryberry.

The event is staged annually near the birthday of James A. Harding, co-founder of the Nashville Bible School. Winners for the two previous years have been Ray Walker and Jerry Henderson.

'Where Will It Be?' Is Big Question

"Where will it be?" is probably a less pertinent question in the minds of most students, than "WHEN will it be?" referring to Beautiful Day this spring.

Dick Batey, student body president, announced winter quarter that there will be a Beautiful Day this spring identical to those held as a traditional part of each fall quarter.

Ever since the beginning of of spring quarter March 28, students have been lagging behind in classwork snatching at the straw of hope that "Today MAY be Beautiful Day."

In an exclusive interview for the BABBLER, Batey intimated that the anticipated occasion "may be any time now."

SENIOR PLAY CANCELLED

The Senior play which was planned for April 23 has been cancelled.

The production will not be put on because not enough rehearsals could be held before the 23.

Where's the May Pole? ...

Photo by James Clipp

ENJOYING THE MAY-DAY WEATHER IN APRIL are the May Queen and her court, who took time out to pose the other day. Queen Billio Billie Joyce Howell is seated on the bench and around her from left to risk. to right are Mary Margaret Grounds, June Bolt, and Joanne Edmondson, Gloria Brannam was away on the Choristers' trip when the

There are also private commercial centers but in getting the blood for Middle Tennessee's quota, the Blood is free to any person who receives it from this source, no matter what condition or which hospital the patient is in. The cost that involved with receiving blood is the hospital, doctor, nurses

or other similar medical fees.

charity organization and the money that is used by the organization comes from the annual drive

There are at least four reasons and not from selling blood.

Poet Scorner—

He's No Laureate

To you, dear reader, we instigate

Something new on the BABBLER'S

Of noble works of mice and men,

This is the worst there's ever

And sometimes us you may de-

So if this makes you feel forlorn-

Know it to be the Poet Scorner.

LOST: ONE PARADISE

By Johnny Miltoni

Before Johnny Miltoni, so bonnie

An' all of dose losers are full of

Ta lose a paradise an' stilla pay

Sure tearsa da heart out of Johnny

THIS TIME

WITH THAT SILLY
CLE CROSSBOW

HE MIGHT MAKE A NAME FOR

olda Elam Halla

Was sent home lasta falla.

an' bony,

baloney.

da price

FOW'T HELP IT! IF YOUR

ME HELP HIM, WITH

HIS SPRING TRAINING! STOP WESTING

We may praise or satirize,

Four Reasons to Give

The Red Cross is a non-profit

for the Blood Drive

Red Cross is the agent.

Editorials . . .

This Is Progress

is true indeed. Men of all ages have realized the necessity for education and the learning of at least some principles ful banquet. which they thought were important.

Great strides have been made in all phases of the arts and sciences that we have today. One of the sciences which we have heard so much about during the past few years is that of medicine. Research work has been done in that field which has saved many lives. New methods and techniques have been developed which have done wonders for that pro-

We have new medicines of various types: the wonder drugs, as they are so called, gamma globulin, various serums, and penicillins which bring much relief to many.

Research work has led doctors to use a dog's lung to supply oxygen for a human's blood. (Time, May 10; Time, April 4.) Eyes of deceased humans have been given to people who could not see, but were made to see again.

Yes, strides have been made in all fields. This is just an example of some of the many advancements. Notice the underlying factor behind these advancements: a famous Chicago doctor says that he believes "the many institutions of learning have directly attributed to the advancements that we have made in medicine.

Another physician of a high calibre states: "Our modern universities and colleges are giving us young people with alert minds that will enable us to continue the never-ending work in medicine."

A good education is needed in all fields. It is up to us to take the advantage of the opportunity we have in being able to come to college. We can attain knowledge, and that knowledge will be a power for us as we find our places in this life.

An Asset to All

The Patrons Association is a group of parents of Lipscomb students and friends of the college who try to promote friendship between the school and the public. Through their benevolent aid many extra and needed articles are furnished to the school.

Each year the Association contributes $100 to the Living Endowment Fund, a fund which takes care of immediate needs of the school. A scholarship is given to a senior each year. The dorms receive $25 each, yearly, for beautification of their reception rooms.

The group has six meetings a year The Association is always willing and eager for new members to join their group. Their motto is: "Carce your name on hearts, and not on marble." We are proud of our Patrons Association, and count them as an asset to our school.

Your Banquet

It is our guess that a million results, resolutions, marriages, and other events have been associated with spring. There is never a spring but that there is seen those lines concerning a "young man's fancy" in the paper, or captioned over a cartoon, etc.

Spring quarter means a lot to Lipscombites: Sunday evenings spent in conversing with a close friend ... more dates ... eating out on the campus . . . another Beautiful Day . . . evening devotionals on Alumni steps . . . class banquets.

All those who have attended the past class banquets have enjoyed them. Sometimes, a little wondering is provoked when many from their respective classes do not sup- distance of offshore islands. port their own class banquet. Those Less Serious Than Supposed same people are not present at class meetings, and other such functions. Their lacking support is noticed by different classes; they are going to be during the Spring quarter. Plan now to support your own class banquet by your attendance. You will have a pleasant time, and with your help, your class will have a success-

Banquets are being planned by the an immediate attack on Matsu.

'Lucky' Break-

This year, parents will be allowed to file as an exemption any or all of their children who are students, regardless of what the student

Previously, they could not be counted as an exemption—unless they made less than $600.

Now, a student may earn up to $675 and not be required to pay any income tax on his earnings.

The definition of a student, by law, is an individual who, during each of five calendar months during the calendar year in which the taxable year of the taxpayer begins, is a full time student at an educational institution or is pursuing a full-time course of institutional on-farm training under the supervision of an accredited agent of an educational institution or of a State or political subdivision of a

The term educational institution means only an educational institution which normally maintains a regular faculty and curriculum and normally has a regularly organized body of students in attendance at the place where its educational activities are carried on.

By Bob Sivley

There will be no more major cuts in the manpower of the U. S. armed forces, About your Blood according to testimony last week by Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson and Admiral Arthur Radford, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

However, the previously announced reduction, scheduled to take place over the next 15 months, will be continued.

The civilian and military heads of the armed forces emphasized, in their testimony before a senate subcommittee on the $34 billion budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1, that present U. S. planning was long range and designed to meet the Communist threat for an indefinite time.

Greater attention is being given to nu clear weapons and less to sheer manpower. The present strength of the armed forces, $3,114,000, will be reduced to 2,859,000 by June 30, 1956.

Said Radford, "Although our program is not rigid, I can assure you that no responsible official . . . contemplates further major reductions. . . ."

Air Force Not Cut

Of the three branches of service, only the air force will not be cut. Instead, a small increase is planned. The bulk of the cut will come from the army, while smaller slashes will reduce the navy and

Reds Threaten Again

But there was evidence that the Communist threat might turn into real action last week, when the Nationalists reported tha "hundreds" of Red Chinese gunboats and armed junks had pushed out from the mainland and headed toward Matsu.

They further predicted attacks on China "any day now," citing a swift build-up of Communist air bases within striking

Later news reports indicated the situation was not as serious as previously supposed. Nationalists engaged in combat with the Red ships, hitting four of the gungoats. There was no evidence of

If the spirit should ever move always a delight to hear from you —take pen and paper and address us c/o Babbler, campus mail. Or if you don't have any paper, use the back of old request slips. These are fairly easy to procure

in the Vice President's special wall safe, once you find the combination. For chain letters and petitions, glue several together. This week's column is devoted to several of the most recent let-

Maybe you can help me. I came to college eight years ago. On my very first day I got in a line in the cafeteria. I am still in the same line. I have never gone to a class, cracked a book, or paid any tuition.

I am not complaining about this because when I came I expected to do my share of waiting, but last Wednesday I stopped to pick up my meal ticket off the floor and ten students walked over me before I could get up.

I didn't want to be embarrassed so I just assumed a nonchalant attitude and pretended I was just resting there. This wasn't as uncomfortable as it might sound until yesterday when the janitor waxed over me while cleaning the

I don't want to seem forward, but would like to get my place back in line. Could you advise me how to do this tactfully? LOLO STOOP

It would perhaps be wise for you to check to see if the one in the front of you in line might possibly be a post. Some posts have remarkable resemblances to

As concerning the waxing you got, the explanation probably rests on the fact that somebody tripped up. It might be wise for you to check with your campus policeman.

Dear Editor: Do you think a girl should kiss

a fellow on their first date? HEIDI LOWE Dear Heidi: Not unless he is her escort.

What's Your Question? Here's the Answer

The Nashville Regional Blood Center has compiled a list of questions that are most commonly asked by college students about the giving of blood. Here are a few of those questions and their

Q. Does it hurt to give blood? (This was the most popular

A. Giving blood with modern fair.

Q. How is blood obtained for treatment of the sick?

A. Only upon request of doctor or hospital. Blood Center serves as a clearing house, supplying blood when needed, when requested, when available, and is not restricted to indigent patients.

Q. Who can be donors? A. Every adult of all races past his 18th birthday, and who has not reached his 60th. Between the ages of 18 and 21) parental consent is required before donating. Minimum weight 110 pounds. A qualifying check-up is given all prospective donors to insure a donor's to insure a donor's safety. No one is accepted unless he is physically able to give blood without ill effect.

Does each donor receive a notification of his blood type? A. Yes, each donor is sent a permanent identification blood certificate, listing his blood group and RH factor, information important in the event of an accident. This should be kept on his person at all times. Consider these questions and their answers. You may save a

DAY by DAY

The following does not necessarily represent the opinion of this paper, its editor, or the writer of this you to write us a letter-and it's column. It really doesn't represent anything correctly. Part of it is true and part of it isn't. We've just colored

Overheard: Bud Dancey complaining about not understanding girls. Perhaps this will help. A girl is a person who can hurry through a drugstore aisle 18" wide without brushing against piled up merchandise and then drive home and knock the doors off a 16' garage. Yet, she is always ready to take what's becoming to her. She was made before mirrors and has been before them ever since. When a girl can read you like a book, beware. You can be sure she sees your finish. Remember, being a girl is a very difficult task since it consists principally in deal-

Roy Nash-type quote, "Most of these love triangles are

Recently at a Community Concert, Charles Travathan pricked up his ears when they began to play Mendelssohn's "Wedding March." "That sounds familiar," he exclaimed. "What is it?" "That," said Willie Campbell, "is the 'Maiden's Prayer.'"

It had been a hard game. The bases were full. Two men had been retired, and there were two strikes and three balls on Wayne Wright. At this critical moment, while the shades of night were falling fast, the pitcher and the catcher of the opposing team held a conference. "We've got one chance," said the catcher. "You wind up and pretend to pitch then I'll smack my glove and make believe I caught it. Maybe in the darkness we can get away with it." The pitcher agreed and went through motions of pitching. "Str-r-ike thr-r-ree!" yelled the umpire. "Why you-you robber!" yelled Wayne. "That one missed the plate by a foot!"

To Ralph Henley's excellent speeches we add this thought. Another argument in favor of everlasting peace is that it would give us time to pay for the last

American History has undergone some drastic changes in the last few years according to Zane Aldrich. Here is her account of the "Discovery of America."

The King of Spain sent for Columbus and said, "Can you discover America?"

"Yes," replied Columbus, "if you will get me a boat." When the boat neared shore Columbus saw a group of natives. "Is this America?" he asked. "Yes," they

"I suppose you are Indians," Columbus continued. "Yes," said the chief, "and you are Christopher Columbus I take it?" "I am."

"The Indian Chief turned and said: "The jig is up. We are discovered at last."

Nelda Brasfield's fiance came all the way from Texas. bringing her an electric toaster and several other gifts. Then, fifteen minutes after having returned to Texas, he called her on the phone to the tune of $9.95 worth. Sounds like the makings of a model marriage—the wife a treasure, and the husband a treasury. A man walked into Elam the other day and casually remarked: "I'll give a dollar to the laziest man here." Hammer Gaw, without moving anything but his lips,

"Roll me over, buddy, and stick it in my back pocket." From that illustratious teacher of psychology, Ed Neely Cullum, comes this statement, "As one leaves the center of Chicago, near the loop, crime becomes less and less a problem. From this we might conclude that we should have no problem at all with crime this far from the loop.

Lafond Heflin, no kin to Van Heflin, was attempting to explain a famous fable to the class in teaching of children's literature. Somewhat excited she got her words all mixed up and came out with a story entitled "The Spy and the Flider from Asphalt's Fables."

Eddie Holly paid an infrequent visit to the Library and asked for Omar Khayyam. "Sorry, Eddie," said the as yet unidentified or rather unidentifiable librarian. "We have his Hilliad and his Hoddyssey but not his Khayyam."

Just one word before we close up shop for the week. If you wish to escape criticism, live openly. Who ever heard any scandal about a gold fish.

Entered as second-class matter, December 26, 1923, at the post office, Nashville, Tenn., under the Act of March 3, 1897. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1916; authorized, Nashville,

Published weekly during the regular school year except during holidays or examination periods by the students of DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE, Nashville, Tenn. Office located on second floor Crisman Memorial Library Member Associated Collegiate Press

Peggie Herron Editor-in-Ch	ilef
Mary Lou Carter Associate Edi	tor
George Patterson Editorial P.	age
Cornelia TurmanFeature Edi	tor
Matthew Morrison Staff Ar	tist
BUSINESS STAFF
Paul Rogers Business Mana	ger
Benny Nelms	ger
ADVISORY STAFF
Willard Collins Faculty Advi	SOT
Eunice BradleyPress Club Spon	SOL

EDITORIAL STAFF

Patrons Award Scholarships Thursday to Renner, Gaither

ner were awarded the annual Patrons' Association scholarship Thursday after chapel.

April 8, 1955

Mrs. Walter Wyckoff, acting in the absence of Mrs. Otis P. Grant, who is president of the Association and is believed to be "somewhere in Indo China," made the "surprise" presentations.

Miss Gaither was to have received her scholarship last year; however, the Patrons had to wait until now because their funds were limited at that time. The award will be applied to the tuition for the current quarter. A junior, Miss Renner will not be able to use her scholarship un-

Dean's List . . . (Continued from page 1)

ley, LaFond Meflin, Peggie Herron, Don Holloday, Gilbert Hunter, Wilmoth Killebrew, Shirley Lee. Glen Mayfield, Morgan Montgomery, Myrna Perry, James Pickett. Samuel Richardson, Norma Riggs, Sonia Riley, Andrea Rog-

Julia Secrest, R. Donald Shackleford, Robert Sivley, Edgar Smith, Mary Alice Smith, Virginia Smith, William Smith, Zibby Smith.

Jewel Snell, Forrest Suddeath, Frances Swan, Carolyn Taylor, Betty Teasley, Pat Thrasher, Glenn Tucker, Jerry Watson.

Patsy White, Jerry Wilkerson, Ray Wilson, Janic Woodard, Joyce Wright, Alton Yates, Jackie York.

Harvard Debaters Speak Here Today

The Harvard Debate Council is sending one of its top teams to Lipscomb today to meet Don Mc-Whorter and Phillip Morrison in exhibition debate.

McWhorter and Morrison will speak for the affirmative side of the Red-China question. The meet is set for 3:30 in Room 300 of College Hall.

The Debate Club has sent invitations to all high schools in Nashville and Davidson County and to the speech department of local colleges inviting them to hear the match.

MADE EXCUSES ! (MISIC PAGE OUT.) EVEN
the carliest Sayages and Cavemen....

(* THE METHS, OF COURSE, THAT YOU'RE
NO LONGER IN THE RUMING AND LANE FOR MAY QUEEN!) (* SORRI, I'M LATE FOR CLASS ... I HAD A LITTLE TROUBLE CATCHIN', MY

Funny Stuff

W

Frances Gaither and Joyce Ren- Gaither Was Queen Candidate

From Gallatin, Tenn., Miss Gaither is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gaither. She is a senior home ecenomics major. Recently Miss Gaither was a candiand supplying blood to hospitals. date for May Queen.

Miss Renner is an elementary education major. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Renner of Ferguson, Iowa, A junior transfer from Central Christian College, this is her first year at Lipscomb.

on the basis of scholarship and Christian merit.

Dear Editor:

Students Commend Henley's Talks

We would like to take this opportunity to thank Brother Henley for his excellent chapel messages. We believe that they have caused many of us to think more seriously about our own conduct in relation to the work of the church and world matters.

We appreciate his sincere desire to help us as young Christians to make wis decisions, and we hope that as a result of these ideas presented to us that the entire student body will continually seek to know the truth and to imply it in

> Sincerely. Interested Students

At Highland Crest

annual banquet at 7:00 p.m., Saturday, April 16, at the Highland Crest Restaurant. Matthew Morrison, entertain-and Gale Gupton, local magician, nounced that the decorations and attend the formal affair.

comb News Bureau.

These presentations were made everyday life.

Press Banquet Set

The Press Club will have its

ment chairman, said that the Ona day I was mindin' my owna Mellodears, Lipscomb High trio, leetle game, W'en suddenly dere een da door will provide entertainment for the of da frame-Er-da frame of da doora, I donna Paul Rogers, club president, ancare no mora, Stood a Hunt of a name other arrangements were being taken care of by other members of the organization. Approximately 40 persons are expected to The Press Club sponsor is Miss Eunice Bradley, head of the Lips-

Blood is needed—the only source for blood is from human beings, mobile will come to Lipscomb to and it must be given. (2) The receive the annual contribution

By Cornelia Turman Tuesday the Red Cross Blood-

Red Cross has quotas for defense and military needs which must be The Red Cross has been selected filled every month. as the "middle man" in collecting

(3) Emergency needs such as floods, tornadoes, and automobile accidents are aided by the Red Cross. The defense and military need plus the emergency needs in Middle Tennessee alone is 4,000 pints a month. (4) By giving blood, charity and service to our fellow man is expressed. It gives an opportunity for one to be a good Samaritan.

It's Simple, Safe, Painless...

The process for giving blood is everything that the Red Cross slogan says it is-". safe, and painless." In less than an hour the procedure is finished and in a few more hours nature restores the pint contributed and the donor is back where he started from.

The three steps in giving are: (1) A doctor gets a medical history, blood type and blood pressure of the prospective donor. (2) The pint of blood is taken if the donor is physically fit. (3) Refreshments are served by the Red

Quota Is 250

The Bloodmobile will be at Mc-Quiddy Gymnasium from 10:30-4:30 on Tuesday. There will be 12 beds, 12 nurses and workers from the blood center in Nashville, and a doctor. If all 12 beds are kept busy all day, about 250 pints of blood can be drawn. The Lipscomb quota is 250 pints.

A contest, sponsored by the Student Board, is being held among the blue-blooded faculty Ima Johnny Miltoni, da cubest of members, staff and workers, the raw-blooded seniors, the hot- used in chapel last week. Justa ask who was squarest een

why the blood must be given. (1) blooded juniors, the blood-shot sophomores and the half-pint

Mrs. Sara Whitten is chairman of the college faculty recruitment committee, Mack Craig of the high school faculty and Miss Margaret Leonard of the elementary school faculty. Miss Eunice Bradley is in charge of the workers on Class presidents, Bob Sivley, Ed Smith, Ed Enzor and Bill Banowsky are in charge of their respective classes. They have appointed recruitment committees to get pledge cards to each class mem-

These cards should be filled out and turned in by Monday to either the president of the class, recruitment committee. Student Board. or the Blood Drive Headquarters in the Student Center.

Anyone between the ages of 18 and 60 can give blood, but the ones between 18 and 21 must have the pledge card signed by his parents. This is merely a legal form since in Tennessee one comes of

A loving cup will be awarded to the class with the highest percentage of donors.

Jennings David, Jr., has been in charge of the details of the drive here. His health class has been responsible for making and putting up posters and creating displays for the Student Center and under the clock in College Hall. The mannequins used in the latter display were loaned by Loveman's department store.

Bob Bowersock wrote the words to the singing commercial that was

Teacher Scouting Pays Off

tional field.

Philippines than there are jobs.

Last week's edition of The Asian Student, weekly publication of the Asian students in the United States, stated that the Philippines Deara Fair-Wella Boarda, I'ma no "has no less than 30,000 unemployed 'professionally-trained' applicants.

there was an urgent need for

.. GREAT STRIDES OF PROGRESS

started

IN PERSON

HAVE BEEN MADE

TATE YOU

While the United States is fill this need, normal schools and clamoring for more school teach- colleges of education sprang up ers, there are more teachers in the everywhere. It is now clear that the abundant opening of teachertraining institutions was a serious error and is the cause of "intellectual unemployment" in the educa-

The reason for this is that immediately following liberation, professionally trained teachers. To

In direct contrast to the problem in the Philippines, the shortage in the United States has reached the point that some states are even hiring scouts to go out and hire new teachers. Every spring, according to a Morrison California writer, more than 100 scouts from that state, with all the enthusiasm of a football coach looking for a swivel-hipped halfback, fan out in search of classroom reinforcements.

> "Usually their briefcases bulge with dignified ballyhoo keyed to the advantages of living in this sprawling state along the Pacific

Evidently, these scouting assignments and advertizing schemes of the Golden State scouts have paid off. Between 25,000 and 30,000 of the 60,000 new teachers hired by California in the last five years came from out of state.

Not only in California but in every other state in the Union there is a teacher shortage. This shortage is growing larger every year, as the school enrollment

Alumni Notes By Laura Tarence

Bob Mason, x'51, of Nashville, and Miss Mamie Grindley, '56, of Mendham, New Jersey, are engaged to be married on September 2. The wedding will take place in Nashville

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hunter (Marcia Cayce), '37, of 208 Ann Street, St. Louis, Mo., are the parents of a little girl, Martha Grace, born in Nashville on March 24. The Hunters also have a son, John Cleveland, 2 years old.

CORRECTION: In last week's BABBLER it was stated that Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harding have a new son. The announcement should have read Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hardy.

The National Life and Accident Insurance Co.

TENNESSEE REAL ESTATE CO.

Nashville's Largest Business Brokers

Rentals • AUCTIONS • Sales

REALTORS 121 Third Avenue, North

Campbell Jenkins

NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

FITTS & CRAWFORD

Patronize

THE LIPSCOMB

LAUNDRY

2816 West End Ave. 7-5946

FLOWERS

HENRY L. OF THE PIANO

HILARIOUS VIRTUOSO

Herd... Sportlight

Since returning from the spring holidays two weeks ago, Lipscomb's baseball team has been daily toiling in Onion Dell in preparation for what most people believe will be the most successful season in years.

During this two weeks the fourteen man squad has worked Union University consistently on fundamentals as well as polishing offensive and

The team fell victim to some rough luck in Jackson, Tennessee, Monday and lost a heartbreaker to Union University 4-3. It was the season's opener for the Bisons and a regulation

It was apparent, however, to everyone present (with the exception of the Union ball team) that the best team had lost.

"With a few timely base hits we could have easily scored nine or ten runs," stated Coach Elvis Sherrill. We're not making any excuses, however," continued the coach. "Some valuable experience was gained and we expect to beat some better teams than Union this year."

The pitching department, which may be the Bisons' question mark, looked especially good against Union as Archie Crenshaw and Walter Glass showed good form. This pair should get plenty of help from Gary Colson and Hugh Ellington and lefty Tom Macmahon.

Murphy, Banowsky Battle

Herbert Murphy and Bill Banowsky are engaged in a nip and tuck battle for the catching slot to decide who will work with these moundsmen.

Macmahon has been doubling at first base, Wayne Wright and Art Gardner are the Bisons' Keystone Kids, and Ronnie Morell is working at third base. Jim Jenkins is the versatile utility infielder.

The big stickmen in the outter gardens are Gene Kidwell, Ken Dugan, and Carl Walker. Ronald Joyce is presently the utility outfielder, Joyce is a good pinch hitter, and this foursome is expected to give the Bisons plenty of plate punch.

GAME TODAY

The Bisons play a non-conference game against Sewart Air Force Base this afternoon.

It's a home game and the team needs the support of the student body. Game time is 3 p.m.

Saturday the team travels to Kentucky to meet strong Murray State.

Tennis Talk

The Lipscomb tennis team made an impressive showing gainst Union Monday. Led by captain Charles Hailey they won four out of six single matches and swept the two double Along with Hailey, Tom Downey, Bill Sweeney, James Lee McDonough, and Joe Hardin combine to give Lipscomb a classy set of netsters.

WOMEN WANTED — Temporary, six mon.hs. Mail postcards. Good handwriting or typewriter. Box 47, Watertown, Mass.

You may judge others only according to your knowledge of

Gibran

WAVERLY BELMONT

SELF SERVICE LAUNDRY Granny White At Halcyon

Closest to David Lipscomb College

LOVEMAN'S

Girls, Could You Use Some Extra Pin Money? We Could Use Some Part-time Help in

Hours: Monday 4:00-9:00 P.M.—Saturday 9:00-5:30 P.M.

Salary $10.00 Excellent Working Conditions You May Take Advantage of the Store Discount on Your Purchases Apply Mr. Bowman

HIGH QUALITY PRINTING

Books, magazines, catalogs, folders . . . anything Contact one of these Lipscomb alumni in our office:

PAUL W. MOORE, CLASS OF '38 LARRY WILLIAMS, CLASS OF '39 V. M. WHITESELL, CLASS OF '41 JAMES W. BOYD, CLASS OF '51

Williams PRINTING CO.

417 COMMERCE • NASHVILLE • TELEPHONE 6-7126 E. A. BERGSTROM, VIC :- PRES. R. OVERALL, PRES.

Bisons Lose Opener to Union 4-3 bases loaded.

victory, 4-3.

of the game.

By Kenneth Harwell

A ninth inning single by Union's third base Noblette scored two runs and defeated the David Lipscomb Bisons by a 4-3 count at Jackson. The defeat was especially bitter since it was the Bisons first loss of the season.

Righthander Archie Crenshaw

Tennis Team Meets

Lipscomb's Tennis Team journeyed to Jackson, Tennessee, Monday where it met Union University in a conference match. Results of the meet in the singles division were: Charles Hailey defeated Don

Coleman 6-1; 6-2 (L). Tom Downey vs. Keith Hill 6-Spenser Gilbert vs. Dick Mc-

Cutchin 7-5; 6-4 (L). Jim Sweeny vs. Eddie Truett 6-4; 2-6; 6-3 (U). J. L. McDonough vs. Sonney

Johnsey 6-4; 9-7 (U). Joe Hardin vs. Jim Williams

Hitting should be the Bison's Results in the doubles division: strong point with such sluggers as Hailey-Downey vs. Coleman-Mc-Gene Kidwell, Ken Dugan, Carl Cutchin 6-0: 5-7: 7-5 (L): Swee-Walker, Tom MacMahon on the ny-McDonough vs. Briggs-Hill 6-

Monday the tennis team will play West Michigan College on the

THE BLOODMOBILE

ate Tech

Nashville's Finest Milk

6-1148

Joy's Flowers

MAKE A DATE TO GIVE

Alloway BROS. COMPANY

Poultry

TURRENTINE REALTY 2915 Nolensville Road

Sales—Insurance—Loans

McKay-Cameron

Co.

Headquarters

CHINA, GLASS, SILVER

Distinctive Clothes for Men

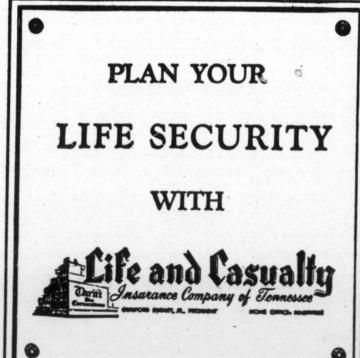

of Discriminating Taste

Sixth at Union

6-0427

212 3rd Ave., N.

Phone 42-2651

was coasting on a 3-1 lead when Everyone is expecting the most en error led to his downfall. Aft- as the Bisons meet Murray State er the error, Crenshaw issued a at Murray, Kentucky, Saturday. base-on-balls and a single and Coach Elvis Sherrill's probable

Union's second run had scored

Then came Noblette's single over third base scoring the tying and winning runs giving Union the Crenshaw, who was last year's most worked pitcher, looked good in defeat, however, as he surrendered only six hits in the eight innings he worked-including the

The Bisons suffered in the hitting department as they collected

only six base blows, none of them for extra bases. This is probably the most disappointing revelation

three men he faced in the ninth.

Crenshaw Looked Good

gave way to Walter Glass. Glass starter will be Walter Glass. came in from the bullpen with the If the hitting comes around and shows as well as the pitching did The first man the big sophomore in the loss to Union, the outcome righthander faced forced a runner could well be in favor of the Biat the plate, but the next batter nit to the shortstop Gardner who threw too late to home plate in an attempt to force a runner and

The loss to Union leaves Lips-

comb with a 0-1	V.S.A.C	. reco	ra.
Union	AB	R	H
Hawkins, cf	3	2	1
Jardon, c	5 4 3 5	0 1 1 0	3 0 0 0 1 0 0
Coffman, 2b	4	1	0
Rose, ss	3 '	1	0
Criswell, lf	5	0	. 0
Noblette, 3b	5	Ŏ.	1
Benson, rf	4	0	0
Carroll, 1b	4	0	0
Morris, p	4	0 -	1
	27	4	_
	37	4	6
Lipscomb	AB	R	H
Morrell, 3b	3	1
Gardner, ss	3 3 5 3 4 3 4 3	0	1 0 0 0 2 0 0 2 0
Dugan, cf	5	0 0 0 1 0	0
Kidwell, If	3	0	0
MacMahon, 1b	4	0	0
Walker, rf	3	1	2
Wright, 2b	4	0	0
Banowsky, c	3 1	1	0
Crenshaw, p	3	0	2
Glass, p	0	0	0
	-	_	_
* /	31	3	6
Lipscomb		000 20
Union	100	000 00	3-4

E—Morrell 2, Gardner, Banowsky, Jardon, Rose, Noblette, Carroll, Morris, 2b—Hawkins. BB—Crenshaw 5, Morris 6. SO—Crenshaw 7, Morris 11. HC—6 (4 runs) in 8 innings. W—Morris (1-0). L—Glass (0-1).

Jackson Nashville (H)

Nashville (A) Nashville

COLLEGE VARSITY BASEBALL SCHEDULE

COLLEGE	AWARDIT DW
Monday	Union Un
Friday	Peabody (
Saturday	Murray St
Tuesday	Tennessee
Thursday	Middle Ter
Tuesday	Western B
Thursday	Murray St
Friday	Tennessee
Monday	Belmont (
Friday	Western B
Saturday	Austin Pe
Saturday	Peabody (
Tuesday	Belmont C
Thursday	Union Uni
Saturday	Austin Pe
Monday	Middle Ter

Nashville Nashville Nashville (H) Nashville Clarksville* Home Saturday games start at 2:00 p.m. All other games begin at 3:00 p.m. *Night game. Time: 8:00 p.m.

Purity Dairies

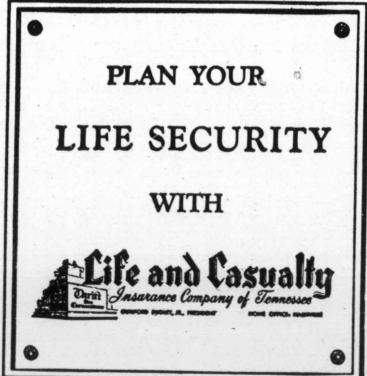

360 Murfreesboro Road

Fifth Avenue at Church

Phone 5-4661

Sponsored by the Lipscomb junior class, Scott's performance in Alumni Auditorium will be his first in Nashville, but he is well known throughout this country and Canada for his brilliant piano concerts and hilarious comedy routine at the piano keyboard. Something of a pioneer in concert humor, Scott has become favorite performer at New York's Carnegie Hall and Town Hall, and has appeared as soloist with the Buffalo Philharmonic, Toronto Symphony, Rochester Symphony, and Cincinnati Orchestras.

"WHERE'S MY CUE? Where's my cue?" Jack Ashley and Julia Secrest study script intently at rehearsal for Macbeth, production of the junior class scheduled April 29, 30. Ashley and Miss Secrest have the title roles in the play which will be presented three times on the stage in Alumni Auditorium.

He has been featured in two short films, "The Keys to Concentration," and "Mittens on the Keys," and has recorded "The Little Upright Piano," "Clavichord Joe," and "Jingle Bells."

On the serious side, he presents

The Babbler

all supernatural effects are to be

The advertising and house are under the direction of Matthew

Morrison, Peggie Herron, and Betsy Gately. The extensive plans for advertising include television

skits, chapel skits, posters, letters to all high schools in surrounding

The Red Cross Blood Center in

Nashville reports that 153 pints of blood were donated last Tuesday when the Bloodmobile was on

In the contest for the highest percentage of donors the sophomores were victorious.

They gave a total of 50 pints,

or .324% of the entire student

Dr. Jennings Davis, director of

Only 10 persons were not ac-

Daily devotionals are now being held each evening on the steps of Alumni Auditorium. The boarding students from all three dormitories participate in these services.

from Central Christian College, has been appointed to plan the

The services will consist of

All boys who are interested in assisting by taking part in the services are asked to contact Beck-

loff or leave a notice in the Elam

About 300 gathered Monday night for the first outside service

this year. This practice has become a Lipscomb tradition

It begins at 6:40 each night and is concluded by 7:00 so that all who are present may attend the various club meetings and campus

hymns, prayers and short, inspiraworship programs.

Hall telephone office.

through the years.

tional talks.

James Beckloff, junior transfer the Drive, presented a silver lov-

body and faculty combined.

counties, and newspaper articles.

Students, Faculty

Give 153 Pints

the campus.

'Macbeth' Rehearsals, Plans Near Climax of Production

Two weeks hence, on April 29 and 30, the juniors will present three performances of William Shakespeare's tragedy, "Macbeth."

Under the direction of Jimmie Blevins, president of the Footlighter's Club, the cast will give a matinee performance on Friday afternoon in addition to the Friday and Saturday evening performances which begin at 8:15 p.m.

Jack Ashley and Julia Secrest, starring in the roles of Macbeth and Lady Macbeth, respectively, will be supported by a cast of 28 members. Detailed and tedious planning has been involved in the production of the play in every aspect. George Massey is in charge of the stage, and he will be assisted by Ed Smith, Deems Brooks, and Morris Zeigler. Costumes and make-up are under the direction of Pat Fyfe and Mary Ann Thomas, respectively. Roy Davis and Charles Adams are in charge of lighting by which

32 FTA Members Attend Meet Today

those who had participated in the The state conference of the Future Teachers Association is being held today at Austin Peay State cepted for donations because of College in Clarksville, Tenn. health reasons. The college, host for the conference, is doing the job that Lips-

Spring Devotional comb performed last year. A chartered bus took the Lips-Started Again comb group to Clarksville this morning. Ruth Behel, president of the F.T.A., said that 32 members were to attend the meet. James Hobbs and Thomas Whitfield, sponsors of the club, are also attending the convention. Whitfield has charge of the invocation:

Home Ec. Girls Attend State Meet Miss Margaret Carter, head of the Lipscomb Home Economics Department, and a group of Home Ec majors will have charge of registration for the Tennessee Home Economics Convention at the Noel Hotel today, tomorrow, and Sunday. Ernestine McAdams, president of the Home Ec Club here, will serve as co-hostess with the Peabody president at a meeting of Home Ec Clubs from all over the state. This meeting will take place tomorrow morning at Pea-

Senior Varieties Scheduled May 7 The "Senior Variety Nite" has been set for May 7 at 8 p.m. in Alumni Auditorium, Bob Sivley, the senior class president, announced Wednesday. The evening's entertainment will include songs, instrumental numbers, and comedy skits, mostemploying local talent. Both students and teachers will partici-A spokesman for the class said, "We are hoping to present a program especially designed to please the students. We feel that there are enough singers, musicians, and other entertainers on the campus. with what we will bring in from other sources, to give a show that will be thoroughly enjoyed by all."

Any students who would like to have a part in the program have been asked to see Bob Sivley about try-outs.

This will be the second annual presentation of such a program by this class. Last year they presented the "Junior Variety Nite," which was hailed as one of the most successful programs presented on the campus last year.

News Briets

ing cup to Eddie Enzor, sophomore The opera The Lowland Sea president, after chaped Wednesand the operetta Annie Laurie that were scheduled for April 12 have been postponed until Saturday night, April 23. Vice President Willard Collins is holding a meeting in Shelbyville, Tenn., this week. Within the next two weeks the annual Lipscomb Catalog will be released Old Hickory Country Club has been reserved for the freshman banquet which is scheduled for Friday, May 6.

DLC Team Defeats Harvard Debaters

Lipscomb's debaters Don Mc-Whorter and Phillip Morrison won victory over the number-one debate team of Harvard Univer- Began Yesterday

Discussing the affirmative side of the Red China recognition question. Lipscomb took a two to one decision, according to judges who were Vanderbilt law students: Tom Higgins, Don Lindberg, and Bob Garber.

Joseph Frank and Vincent Larson, the Harvard team, are currently touring the South

The debate was an exhibition affair and not a part of tourna- dramatic interpretation for girls, tions of American popular music.

Audience Wouldn't Suspect

After a concert in Asheville, N. a reviewer for the Asheville Citizen made the assertion, "He could give a concert that would pack the house even if he never touched a piano, and he could give a concert the next night filled with the haunting beauty of classical piano music and the audience as concert pianist with classical selections, to let himself go in popular numbers, and to charm and amuse the audience with his pantomimes and clowning at the

Tickets at $1.00 for single admission will be on sale at the door Friday evening, and Ed E. Smith, president of the junior class, has be used to finance the annual jun-

In making this announcement

Tuesday, Ed Smith, junior class

president, also stated that the meal will cost $3.00 per plate, in-

Committees have been appointed. They are: entertainment, Joanne Bigham, Wanda Montgom-

cluding tax and tip.

Belle Meade Country Club Is Site for Class Banquet

The swank Belle Meade Country Club, Nashville's most exclusive social club, will be the scene of the junior-senior banquet May 10, beginning at 7 p.m.

Sophomores Plan Banquet April 22

The sophomore class will hold its annual spring banquet at lontgomery Bell Inn, April 22, at All members of the class are being urged by Ed Enzor, president, to make their plans to attend the banquet. The theme of the banquet has not been definitely decided upon, but will pertain to some phase of life in the Old South. All other composing the class prophecy. plans for the entertainment are in consideration and will be announced in a later edition of the Press Banquet Set For Tomorrow

Highland Crest is the scene for the Press Club banquet tomorrow

All arrangements have been completed, and according to Paul Rogers. President of the club, 40 will attend the affair. Entertainment for the dinner is being furnished by school talent

Nashville Amateur Magician's Association. Miss Eunice Bradley will be the

and Gale Gupton, member of the Oratory Students Win 17 Awards In National Meet

faculty member present.

By Linda Foster A group of oratory students, accompanied by Dale Brown, attended the Grand National Forensic Tournament at Mary Washington College, Fredericksburg, Va., last week.

Of the 30 colleges participating, Lipscomb won more awards than any other. Of the 17 awards won by the Lipscomb squad, Robert Hamlin won more individual honors than any other participant. Robert Hamlin won two awards in repose, debate, oratory, two in dramatics, and poetry reading. Wayne Tincher brought home honors in the debate and encomi-

Bill Phillips won in the debate, encomium, and oratory contests. Marlin Connelly was victor in the situation repose, informative, and ex tempore contests. Philip Slate won awards in after-dinner speaking and poetry

State NFL Tourney

Lipscomb High School is host for the 1955 tournament for the Tennessee District of the National Forensic League which began yesterday. This tournament is an elimination contest on the state level. The events in the tournament are debate, original oratory, extemporaneous speaking for boys, extemporaneous speaking for girls. humorous interpretation, and oratorical interpretation.

Alumni Notes

Lt. Jack Taylor Wright, USNR. were married in Lebanon, Tenn. last Friday night. They will make their home in Jacksonville, Florida.

Burns x'52 plan to be married during June. Evelyn is Ass't Home Agent for Lauderdale County, Ala. and Emmett is a teacher in Sciotoville. Ohio.

ery, Tom Burton; decorations, Kaye Morris, Mary Alice Bell, Jack Ashley, Charlie Adams; place cards, Betsy Gatley and Matt The traditional candle-lighting ceremony in which each senior being planned by Wayne Tincher and Wilma Campbell. The class will is being written by Pat Fyfe and Jimmy Blevins. Babs King and Bob Hamlin are lights a candle for a junior, symbolizing the spirit of Lipscomb, is

The menu selected includes a fruit cup appetizer, sliced breast of turkey or ham, baked potato stiffed with cheese, tossed green salad with roquefort cheese dressing, cream peas, fresh strawberries and cake, iced tea and hot rolls.

The entertainment has not been decided upon as yet.

The banquet is a regular feature of the spring quarter when the junior class hosts the seniors.

Ministers Begin New Organization

Earl Edwards, junior, reports the organization of a new club on the campus, composed of student ministers and their wives.

This group will meet each Thursday at 7 p.m. to discuss "spreading the kingdom." Meeting this week was in Room 226, where J. E. Acuff spoke on "What Elders Expect of Evangelists."

Don Shackelford is chairman of the program committee, which also includes Carl Thompson. Jimmy Dorris, Jimmy Johnson, Carmack Skelton, and Edwards, who is publicity director.

West Point Trip Is Season's Final

By Carol Yeager

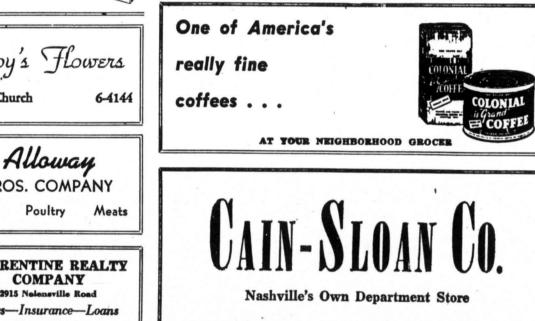

The Lipscomb debate squad will leave by plane April 29 for West Thirty-two schools will be represented in the debates. Phillip Morrison and Don Mc-Quarter will start debating Thursday and Friday. They will be debating both sides of the national intercollegiate question, "Should the United States Extend Diplomatic Recognition to the Communistic Government of China?" The debates will close Saturday afternoon and the debaters plan to return to the campus Saturday night. This will be the final debate of the year for Lipscomb.

Mary Kathryn Thorne '49 and

Emmett Coriel '51 and Evelyn

More Letters

We appeal to all suitors to think of what will happen 50 years from now when their girl friends look for some memento of the long past courting days.

What will they have to recall those honeyed phrases, those amorous adjectives, those professions of undying endearment? Sad to say, many of them will not be able to recall those moments because most of the courting arrangements were made over the phone.

How many modern Lotharios take the time to pen their beloved a note for posterity (and possible evidence in a breach of promise suit)? Very few as is proven by the terrible burden on the telephone

It's too easy these days to pick up the phone, dial a few numbers and say in honeyed tones, "Hey, Mabel, whatcha doin' tonight? How's about you and me takin' in a movie, huh?" Write something like that on paper and Mabel will probably start looking for another Ro-

The trend toward less and less letter writing is not restricted to love messages alone. It is evident in other aspects of our everyday life. Very rarely do we find people maintaining protracted friendships by mail.

"I just hate to write letters" is becoming the password of the modern age. As a result, we wonder what biographers are going to have to work with in coming years. When they choose to write of one of our generation, they will have to resort to some other medium for the only letters that they will find probably will be in reply to magazine subscriptions, insurance premiums and unpaid bills.

In our instance we know of several examples where poor letter writing ability has caused some of our friends to lose jobs, friends and in an extreme case, a

When we entered the service, it was the first time that we were actually forced to write letters of any length or for any great duration of time.

As a result of our lack of practice, we lost two girl friends, alienated the majority of our relatives, and finally wound up with only our mother writing to us. -Ohio State Lantern

Happy Weekend?

Practically all of us look forward to Friday because to most of us it means that another week end has arrived.

The week end is a time for pleasure and relaxation. There's that tennis game we had planned, a picnic with the family, and perhaps a golf game with our next door neighbor.

It's the time for going to church, fixing things around the house, cleaning out the attic, and watching television.

The week ends are all of those thingsexcept on the highways. In 1954, 13,980 persons were killed and 678,000 were injured in week-end accidents, according to figures compiled and released by The Travelers Insurance Companies. Thirtynine per cent of the deaths and 35 per cent of the injuries were recorded on Saturdays and Sundays in 1954.

The most dangerous day of the week for driving is Saturday. One good reason is that more cars are traveling the highways on Saturdays than on any day. There is another important feature which sets this day apart from the others. For too many people, Saturday is a time when drinking and driving are com-

No one knows how many traffic accidents are caused by drinking drivers, but everyone knows it is a major prob-

For example, walk into your traffic courts any day and you will find them crowded with persons who were involved in serious accidents as a result of drinking. Everyone needs to know that even one drink before driving is too many. We saw an advertisement the other day which read: "If You Drive-Don't Drink If You Drink-Don't Drive." This sounds like very simple advice, but it makes a great deal of sense.

Week ends should indeed be happy ones for everyone. Let's try and make it that way. Will you?

Four-year Isolates?

Much controversy has been centered upon the Yalta Papers which were released a few weeks ago. Ten years had elapsed between the date of their origin until the time of their releasement.

In a recent poll taken in three American colleges, 100 students were asked: Do you understand the significance of the Yalta story?" Five per cent said that they thought they did; 10 per cent had read the news about it, but did not understand the situation; 10 per cent only knew vaguely to what the question referred; 50 per cent had no idea as to what the question referred.

It is almost a universal trait among college students to become secluded in their own small circles.

Few students know vaguely what the international situation is; others could not discuss the world situation for two seconds. It seems a mistake to become promiscuously collegiate, for the "big world" must be faced eventually.

Why then should we become four-year

Congratulations . . .

The Debaters have done well this year. They have won many honors and achievements. Last week, as they have done so many times before, they came home with more "superior" ratings than any other school involved in the forensic affairs in which they participated. Therefore, we are glad to be able to congratulate them in their successful work.

Note: We turn our attention from the international political scene this week to take a look at the week's outstanding development, which occurred in Ann Arbor, Mich., and the man who made it

The news room of the plush Rackham building on the University of Michigan campus was jammed with 200 people last Tuesday morning, when the results of the study of the Dr. Jonas E. Salk vaccine for polio were revealed.

The study, made by Dr. Francis Thomas, Jr., reported that the Salk vaccine is 80 to 90 per cent effective against para-

Thus the war on polio reached a climax this week after 166 years of the battle had passed. The dreaded disease was first discovered in 1789 by a British physician, Michael Underwood.

The announcement was made on the tenth anniversary of the death of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, a polio victim himself, who established the first institution devoted exclusively to polio whose name the millions of dollars for the study was raised through the "March of Dimes."

Government licenses were granted to six drug companies to begin immediate manufacture of the vaccine to be sold to doctors. Innoculation of some 30,000,-000 American children is planned.

As of this week, the name of Jonas Salk will go down in medical history along side those of Pasteur, Erlich, and

While the world concentrates on military skills, and development and manufacture of weapons of destruction, a man whose work is for the purpose of preserving human life takes the spotlight.

Almost Became a Lawyer

The son of a Jewish garment worker, Salk almost became a lawyer, but took up medicine instead.

For years, the 40-year-old Salk has worked 18-20 hours per day in his University of Pittsburgh laboratory to perfect the preventive medicine that will forever bear his name.

His work has involved sacrifice of social activities and even family life.

No "Surprise" Discovery A quiet and reserved man, he was quick to explain that the vaccine was no example of medical wizardry nor even a "surprise" discovery.

Living Religion

THE BABBLER

Many beliefs and philosophies have been presented throughout the past years. Some of these philosophies have lived till this day. Some of these philosophies are studied in our colleges today. Many of them are practiced in

Probably the most important philosophy to us is one that is Christian in nature. A three point philosophy that meets this requirement and which would be well for us to remember in our daily living

(1) Matthew 6: 33, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you." . . . I.e. we will put Christ first in our lives, and obey him, the things of ife will come to us in turn.

(2) Romans 8: 28, "And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God to them that are the called according to his purpose." If we love God, things will work out for

Now it has been accepted by many people that "all things work together for good"; but, so often, the last part of that verse is forgotten. How much more should hat verse mean to us who love God than to those who forget to love him, but believe the first part

(3) Romans 8: 31, "What shall we say to these things? If God be for us, who can be against us?"

. . When he says you cannot succeed, and she says, you are the one she does not need; . . .' Or Satan tempts you, and you fear that you will pay think of this scripture and meditate upon it. There are the three points. They combine to make a true Christian philosophy. That sort of a philosophy makes life easier, overcomes all obstacles, and bet-ters our daily living.

Davis Says 'Thanks' For Blood Drive

May I thank you for the excellent way in which the BABBLER supported the Blood Drive. The space you gave to it manifested a genuine interest in this project and contributed extensively to its

Those who read the articles were not only stimulated to give but were informed of many facts that are important for all of us to

Will you please extend my congratulations to the student body and faculty and staff for their successful participation. The Student Board also deserves recognition for its diligent effort and co-

Many others had much to do with the success of the campaign, but the highest tribute must go to those who took the time and effort to give their blood.

To all, I extend my personal gratitude and that of the Red Cross Blood Center here in Nash-

Very sincerely. JENNINGS DAVIS, JR.

Three out of four traffic accidents involve passenger cars.

THE BABBLER

Entered as second-class matter, December 26, 1923, at the post office, Nashville, Tenn., under the act of March 3, 1897.

Accepted for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1916; authorized, Nashville, Tenn. Published weekly during the regular school year except during holidays or examination periods by students of DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE, Nashville, Tenn.

Office located on second floor Crisman Memorial Library.

Associated Collegiate Press Peggie Herron ... Editor-in-Chief Paul Rogers ... Business Manager

Willard Collins Faculty Advisor

DAY by DAY

It's good to be back again. It got rather lonesome without seeing you these past two weeks.

Don't ever mention the word "manikin" around Gary Colson or Terrell Seavers. Your life could be forfeit. It came about this way. . . . When Jennings Davis called for volunteers to pick up two manikins at Loveman's for the Blood Drive display, these two brave boys immediately raised their hands-because they didn't know what a manikin was. And so it was that the next day during the lunch hour rush. Gary and Terrell could be seen walking down Church Street each with an undraped plaster female under his arm. Embarrassed, the two boys removed their shirts to cover the forms rather inadequately. As if that weren't enough, the wig of one of the manikins fell off. Some sympathetic gentleman retrieved the hairpiece and with a gleam in his eye, placed it on Terrell's head. Needless to say, they were relieved when they finally had the things seated in the

The word has come that the Sophomore tests were somewhat trying. However, that has yet to be confirmed. We do know that the tests in one group were rather suddenly interrupted when a gust of wind lifted Marlin Connelley's answer sheet and whipped it right out the window. Everything was called to a halt while Marlin went to capture the elusive sheet. One of the cleverest schemes we've heard yet, Marlin.

Dr. White was being witty again and mentioned the fact that those who used hearing aids certainly had an advantage, for they could merely turn off the switch and sit in blissful silence during dull lectures. "Isn't that right, Mr. Moore?" he asked. Only after White repeated the question several times did Moore come up with. "Did you say something, Dr. White?"

After the party that the Johnson Hall girls had for the wee ones from Sewell in the living room of the Old Maids' Domicile, it was decided that admission to the dorm would be denied to several of the girls-Miss Betty Snell in particular. The older, more "Mature" girls felt that those who come to parties and sit on the trays full of sandwiches just do not belong in the upper class dorm. Betty claimed the chair slipped out from under her.

It was on the recent Chorister trip to points north that somehow a pair of Nick Boone's unmentionables were misplaced and wound up in Madolyn Hudgens' suitcase. (The fact that this occurred on April Fool's Day had nothing to do with the case.) But he finally got them back after rehearsal this week. Ask him to let you see them. They are just lovely-all trimmed in lace and finished with the palest of blue ribbons. Quite stunning!

A note to Sewell Hall girls: you are lagging behind in the contest with Johnson Hall during Diamond Ring Drive. During one week Adelia Roberts, Katie Morgan, and Millie Sue Brown have done their share for their dorm. However, in Sewell, Johontas Goodwin is doing her bit—although there are two gaping holes in her ring. She claims that they were economical and are buying only one diamond at a time and now lack only these two small ones. Well, that may be practical, but . . .

Horseback riding is a wonderful sport. Bobbie Ann Turner indulged last week end along with George Spain. Glenda Winesett, and Deems Brooks. And that should suffice as an explanation for the red cushion she carried to church Sunday.

Some boys give their girl friends flowers for Easter. but why not something more practical than a bunch of posies that are dead the next day? Such seems to have been the line of thought for Jim Havron. And that's why Bobbie Eagan received a baby chick for Easter. She faithfully cared for it in her room until it peeped all night, then it had to go. We'll have fried chicken this Somebody else must have had the same idea as Jim, for Betty McClanahan received two big white bunny wabbits. That's really a gift that grows!

Have you ever gone on a trip and the whole time felt that you had forgotten something? That's just what happened to Gale Williamson when he went with George Ann Wolfe, Johnny Burns, Harry Rose, and Maxine Smith to Pat Crownover's home for Easter week end. The sad part is that he had forgotten something. When he began to dress Sunday morning, he could find only two pairs of levis and a tee shirt in his suitcase. Only because some of Pat's friends came to the rescue was Gale able to dress up-even if it was in borrowed finery.

Most girls go on the roof to get some sun, but not two of them. Babs King and Sue Young were found on the roof, each with a blanket tucked snugly under her chin. Maybe you can explain it.

Some days absolutely nothing goes right. That seemed to be the case of Dale Brown, Bob Hamlin, Phillip Slate, Wayne Tincher, Bill Phillips, and Marlin Connolley when they left for the recent speech contest in Virginia. First, they had a breakdown just eighty miles from Nashville and had to wait six hours for the car to be repaired. Next came five flat tires-not all at once you understand -and to top it all: when they finally arrived, they discovered that they had left all their notes on the subject to be debated in Nashville. Better luck next time, fellows-although the other colleges would really have no chance at all if you had good luck to go with your skill.

Work, Fun, Study Went with Choristers to Washington

And They're Off . . .

April 15, 1955

SLEEPY-EYED BUT EXCITED, the Choristers gather on April 1 to load the bus for that never-to-be-forgotten trip to Washington, D. C.

Freshman Girls are Feted At Gala Pajama Party

forth from the Johnson Hall living room as the upperclass girls played hostesses to the freshman girls at a "10 to 11" party.

Music for the fun-making was provided by Carole Ann Swindel, freshman from Oakman, Ala. Besides playing a lot of numbers old and new, she played and sang the song she wrote herself which she sang on "Junior Spotlight" earlier this year. Katie Morgan and Peggy Scott gave their rendition of "Sisters" and everybody joined in on "Two Hearts," Pat Boone's current hit. Janovee McDoniel gave her after-dinner speech which won first place in the State Forensic Tournament, entitled "The Effect of Television Upon Children." "And you know," she said, "you can't hardly get them in more!' Later in the evening, refreshments of cokes, pimiento cheese sandwiches and peanut butter and ritz crackers were served.

Then Pat Jones was aroused from her sleep to give her afterdinner speech on "Come to Lips-

Monday night a gala affair burst comb to Git Yore Man," which won first place in the annual Forensic Tournament here. During the course of the speech, she told what the names of some of her children were going to be. In honor of the jello salads served in the cafeteria, she would be called "Traughber Gelatine." Another was "Henrietta Arvella" for her husband "Haaanry" and her mother. After naming five or six more, she stopped with "Iry" because "we want a Cadillac in the family, and when we all get to Sunday School there'll be 2.000 there.' Just before 11 p.m., the honored guests went back to Sewell Hall and Johnson quieted down for the remainder of the night.

News Brief

The Footlighters will have hayride Saturday night at 7:00 p.m. on the Morrow farm. After the hayride they plan to have a wiener roast. The group will meet at Sewell Hall and leave together

Anybody We Know?

Wear The Best

SPORTS WEAR

By Pat Fyfe

It was shortly after dawn on April Fool's Day that a bus bearing two huge signs labeled "The Choristers" and loaded with 27 slightly sleepy-eved people pulled out from the campus and turned north. This was the start of a week's tour that would carry the Choristers as 'far as Washington,

With great foresight, several of the boys had placed a bar across the back of the bus and it was there that all the hanging clothes were hung. In this manner the back seat was partitioned off from the rest of the bus and was used constantly during the entire trip as combination dressing room, bedroom, and study hall.

"Study" Hour

Twice a day Buddy Arnold called to a halt the Rook games being played on upturned suitcases in the middle of the aisle with his version of Westminster chimes played on a pitch pipe. This was the signal for the study tively uneventfully, although Madolyn Hudgens still does not know why she was served beer by the waitress at dinner. Nick Boone also had a surprise in store.

They had all begun to settle

Six Debaters Get 12 Tourney Awards

Speech Association Tournament

Lipscomb freshman, won a superior rating as a team. Lipscomb's women's debate team from Greenville, S. C., and Rogers, also a junior, is from Birmingham, Vandiver and Camp were rated superior for their individual performances in extemporaneous speaking Camp received a superior award in after-dinner speak-

The Speech Association held a week-long convention at the Peabody Hotel, with Mississippi State University as host. Dr. Carroll B. Ellis, head of Lipscomb's speech department, and Dr. Batsell Barrett Baxter, professor of speech, are members of the executive committee and will be in Memphis through Saturday to take part in the program.

to take part in a demonstration debate on Monday, the opening day of the tournament.

April Fool's passed compara-

down for the night at Natural Bridge when Nick opened his suitcase and found a definitely femi-

David Lipscomb College's six participants in the Southern held in Memphis last week returned to the campus Thursday with 12 superior award certificates-highest honors given.

In debate, James Vernon Vandiver and Jess Hall, Jr., Fort Worth,

Clara Armstrong and Jane Shannon, sophomores, also received the superior award. Individual superior awards in debate went to Miss Shannon. Vandiver, Hall, Hope Camp, and

Paul Rogers. Camp is a junior ing, Hall in oral interpretation, and Miss Shannon in extemporaneous speaking. No trophies were awarded in the tournament. Teams and individual speakers were rated up the scale from fair to good to excellent to superior.

Camp and Rogers were selected

IN PERSON

Tourists At Ease

DONNING THEIR BEST COSMOPOLITAN AIRS are these Lipscombites taking a rest pause from a hectic visit in Washington, D. C., during spring holidays. The students are, left to right: Katie Morgan, Ed Enzor, Bill Smith, Gloria Brannom, Nick Boone, and Jackie Burton.

Soon all this was left far behind elled to Richmond. There on Tuesday came another day filled with singing. In the morning a recording was made to be played over the radio that afternoon

Other programs were to come, but the songsters took out time to enjoy the noon meal in the home of

But the last bite hard hardly been taken before the bus was moving to John Marshall High School, Arnold's alma mater

Here the Choristers put E.S.B.A.S.

into practice, for one of the more enthusiastic members of the audience later rushed up with the news that the whole student body

The evening program was given at the W.R.N.L. theater where many ex-Lipscombites showed up.

Among them were Jack Ussery,

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Britnell, and

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brown and new

Early Wednesday morning was the time of departure from Richmond with quaint Williamsburg

as the destination. All the points of interest in this restored colonial town drew the musicians-turned-

The only mishaps occurred

when Phil Dunn and Al Smith got lost in the holly maze on the grounds of the governor's palace and when Bill Smith

Gloria Brannam and Patty

Walston got locked in the wine cellar. Bernie Arnold wanted to buy some leeches at the anothecary shop but had no container in which to car-

After spending the night near

Bristol, Va., the Choristers set out for the last day of travel. They were almost minus one member

when they realized that Ed Enzor had been left at the motel. He was retrieved and the next stop

They gave their final program of the tour at the ultra-modern high school in that city. After lunch in the home of the minister.

the afternoon was spent in sleeping operetta rehearsal, one four-hour Rook game, games of Clue

and other such intellectual pur-

And so it was that at eight o'clock Thursday night the Choristers, tired but having enjoyed an unusual trip, ended their Spring

Final Program at Oak Ridge

ry them.

was Oak Ridge.

tourists, in spite of the rain.

baby daughter, Lauren Kay.

intended to come to Lipscomb.

their director's parents of his suitcase. A few doors away as Henry Arnold's charges trav-Madolyn made an equally shocking discovery-male attire!

The following morning the group took advantage of the opportunity to see the Natural Bridge. The many stairs presented a problem to Margaret Deason who was wearing six stitches on her knee because of a previous Chorister trip. A solution was found when Ray Walker and Mike McCrickard offered to carry her up and down the several hundred

The rest of the day was spent in travelling through the beautiful Shenandoah Valley until the red and yellow bus pulled up beside Arlington Church of Christ

Building in the afternoon. After supper there with the alumni, followed by a program, most of the members of the choral group went to see downtown Washington. On this jaunt Gloria Brannam wandered in the White House gate only to be immediately confronted by the guard. Sunday found the entire group attending worship at Arlington then presenting a program there at 3 p.m. Immediately following the program, they hurried aboard the bus and headed for the South West Church of Christ where there was supper followed by a pro-

Once again the Choristers rushed away in the direction of Sixteenth Street Church There they attended evening services and gave another program

Reward Was Party

The reward for all the singing was a party for the young people held at Ed Enzor's home after the last program of the day. Evidently they enjoyed singing for they entertained themselves there by

Sight-seeing in the nation's capital was the order of the day Monday. After seeing the changing of the guards at Arlington and taking many pictures at the Lincoln Memorial, the students went to the Capitol to await Senator Albert Gore, Dem., Tenn. They were to have their picture made with him there, but when they had waited on the capitol lawn for an hour and a half without his appearing, they went on a tour of the Capitol. Following lunch at the famous Hogate's Restaurant, the Choristers visited Mt.

> LANDON'S Your Neighborhood HARDWARE

Joy's Flowers 601 Church 6-4144

Herd Sportlight

After dropping their opening game to Union University, Lipscomb's Bisons displayed added incentive and spirit in sweeping two important games last week end.

They soundly thumped the baseballers from Sewart Air Force Base by a 7-4 count Friday, and edged potent Murray State, Saturday, 7-5.

The flyboys from Sewart appeared outclassed as they fell before the Bisons in Onion Dell Stadium. Gary "Turk" Colson fooled the servicemen for eight innings, cunningly mixing his deliveries. He tired in the late stages of the game however, and the Bisons coasted in on the strong arm of fireballer Wal-

Morrell Shines

Lipscomb's spunky third sacker, Ronnie Morrell, whose big gun at bat. He collected three hits for the day including a "grand slam" smash in the first inning.

In the Saturday fray at Murray, the team's "Sluggers row" finally began to operate.

Ken Dugan and Gene Kidwell, the big outfielders who partly caused so much of the Bison's pre-season optimism, connected for their first base blows of the year. Kidwell rifled in two important runs in the first inning with a long triple.

McMahon Gets Win

The hitting must have been contagious as the Bisons collected a total of 11 safeties for their best day of the year at

With this good support Big Tom McMahon worked well on the mound and received credit for the victory. Archie Cren- Defeated Monday shaw relieved Tom in the eighth inning.

Wayne Wright, Art Gardner, Carl Walker, and Hubert Murphy have also performed well in the early games.

T.P.I. Rained Out

The April showers threw a monkey wrench into the Herd's plans early this week. The team was unable to practice because of wet grounds and a flash flood Tuesday afternoon caused postponement of a scheduled game with Tennessee Polytechnic Institute.

The game with T.P.I., probably the toughest foe on the Bison's schedule, will be played later in the season.

Game Today

This afternoon the team travels to Murfreesboro to meet

The Raiders have a well-balanced unit and should offer plenty of competition. The Bisons must win this game since it is a regulation V.S.A.C. tilt.

The opening loss to Union was about the only conference game the team can afford to drop and still gain a post-season tournament birth. Encourage the Bisons with your presence at the game today.

Intramural Action

The varsity boys see that now they have no monopoly on America's favorite pasttime, however, as the intramural horsehiders start warming up for league play. Softball, the last phase of Fessor Boyce's well rounded intramural program, got under way this week.

Balls were flying in every direction this week as the first of the practice games got under way. The various teams are strong and well matched, and the intramural boys predict a

Tennis Talks

The tennis team had a rough time this week as they dropped nine matches to powerful Western Michigan Monday afternoon, and had their games with T.P.I. rained out Tues-

The netters did not feel too badly about their bad showing against Western Michigan because this college is ranked nationally.

Bums and Indians

This writer sees it as Brooklyn in the National League, getting a close from the world champion New York Giants, and the Cleveland Indians in the American League pushed by Casey Stengel's immortal Yankees.

Purity Dairies

Nashville's Finest Milk

360 Murfreesboro Road

6-1148

consistent play has sparked the early season's games, was the Currently engaged in a hot battle to determine who will be the backstop for the Bisons are Hubert Murphy and Bill Banowsky. Both boys are freshmen; Murphy is a Nashville product, and Banowsky hails

10 All-Stars Selected

B League All Star players were judged on all-around playinb abilannounced Tuesday by Eugene Boyce, intramural director.

The players were chosen by Boyce and the captain of the various intramural teams, and were

Jim Farrel vs. Chas. Hailey, 6-

Jack Vredevelt vs. Tom Dow-

Ed Foster vs. Spenser Gilbert,

Charles Donnely vs. Jim

Denny Telder vs. Jim Oliver,

Cliff Strong vs. Joe Hardin, 6-0,

In the doubles the scores were:

Vredevelt-Foster defeated Had-

Gilbert-McDonough were de-

Carpenter-Telder vs. Wilcox-

TURRENTINE REALTY

COMPANY

Sales—Insurance—Loans

Phone 42-2651

Alloway

BROS. COMPANY

Patronize

THE LIPSCOMB

LAUNDRY

FITTS

CRAWFORD

FLOWERS

2816 West End Ave.

7-5946

Meats

Eggs Poultry

feated by Farrel-Donnelly, 6-ley-Downey, 6-0, 6-0.

Hibbett, 6-0, 6-0.

court Monday.

4. 6-1.

6-0, 6-1.

1, 6-0.

ney, 6-1, 6-2.

Sweeny, 6-0, 6-0.

Tennis Team Gets By Frances Rootes

Lipscomb's tennis team met

Western Michigan College from Kalamazoo, Mich., on the home Roy Crouch The scores in the singles divi-

Headquarters

212 3rd Ave., N. 6-0427

The following players were named to the honor and will be awarded medals at the regular athletic picnic later this spring.

SECOND TEAM

Club

Eagles

Pirates

Cavaliers

Rams

Player Jackie Ray Don Kimbel Joe Hardin Tim Block Dickie Adams

FIRST TEAM Herman Montgomery Knights Charles Newsom Buccaneers Rams Jimmy Jenkins Knights

McKay-Cameron

CHINA, GLASS, SILVER

Gene Kidwell, hard-hitting Bison leftfielder, swatted a two-run riple in the first inning giving Lipscomb a 2-0 lead that they never lost in a game played Saturday at Murray.

The Bisons went on to capture the decision from Murray State

Tom MacMahon, the squad's only left-handed pitcher who regularly plays first base, drew his first assignment of the season and was very impressive, especially in the early innings as he pitched the 3 sons to their first victory of the scason. MacMahon was relieved in the late innings by Archie Crenshaw who capably finished out the game.

The Bison's weak point in the opening game was hitting, but this was not the case in the Murray game as Kidwell, Ken Dugan, Wayne Wright and Arthur Gardner look good at the plate as they proke open the game with some imely hits

This game was not a V.S.A.C. game, so Lipscomb's record in conference competition remains at 0-1; their over-all record is now

TPI Defeats DLC Golfers

By Bud Dancy

Bill Burton, of TPI fired a blazing 63, just one stroke over the McCabe golf course record, to lead the T.P.I. golfers to victory over the Bison linksters.

Burton defeated Bison first alternate, Bud Dancy, playing in place of Tom Hines, number four man on the Lipscomb team. Burton's phenomenal score was made up of rounds of 34 and 29.

For the Libscombites, James Pryor's par 69 was low. Don Bowden, Bill Stinson, and Dancy had 76, 78, and 91, respectively. The last two holes were played in a driving rain, making the going rough for both teams.

The T.P.I. golfers were hotter than a two-dollar pistol. The team fired an average of 70, one stroke above par

For T.P.I., Burton, Hubert Smith, Ted Swanger, and Bill Brock had 18 hole scores of 63, 68, 73, and 76. Burton, usually the number one man on T.P.I.'s team, was dropped to number four for firing an 80 at Murfreesboro last week.

The Lipscomb golfers play again

REALE JEWELRY CO.

DIAMONDS - WATCHES - FINE JEWELRY

ENGRAVING, WATCH AND JEWELRY REPAIRING Any Lipscomb Student Can Open A Charge Account! Special Discount to Students Fair Trade Items Excluded

706 Church Street

BOB DRAPER, Class of '35 At Entrance to Doctors' Building

The Babbler

Vol. XXXIV

Brown Wins Songleading

Friday during the second period of chapel with Jerry Henderson, last year's winner, presiding. The leaders, as they each led two songs, were judged on the basis of: hand signs, voice quality, tempo, posture, and pitch.

The contest came to a close the Songleader's Medal by Mr. Ridley Derryberry.

A student at Lipscomb for the past six years, Brown listed in the 1955 edition of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. He is married to the former Peggy Ellis, x-57.

Music Programs Are Tomorrow

of the Opera Workshop will present the operettas The Lowland Sea and Annie Laurie tomorrow night at 7:30 in Alumni Audi-

of Robert Burns, Scotland's beloved poet, and The Lowland Sea relates the story of lovers who must part.

Both presentations were originally scheduled to be presented at an earlier date.

Miss Irma Lee Batey and Henry Arnold will direct the productions with leading roles being taken by Nancy Wycoff, Corky Brown, Al Smith, Lucien Anderson, and Patty Thrasher.

Walker, Bob Bowersock, Nick Boone, Bill Smith, Jean Bixler Reynolds, and Richard Craig. Numerous others will appear in

Special BABBLER Published May 7

A special edition of the BAB-BLER will be published May 7 in cooperation with Career Day.

ENJOYING A SPIN AROUND THE CAMPUS just before class time are the Most Representative Students of the three lower classes. From left to right, they are Benny Nelms, Jane Shannon, and Hope Camp.

Camp, Shannon, Nelms Named 'Ideals' by Lower Classes

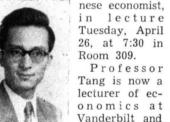

classes last week elected Hope ally to become a lawyer. Camp, junior; Jane Channon, sophomore: and Benny Nelms. freshman; as Most Representative Students for 1955.

Camp is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Camp, Sr., of Greenville, S. C. When a freshman at Lipscomb, he was class president, and this year he is president of the International Relations Club. Camp is majoring in business

IRC to Present Chinese Lecturer The International Relations Club

will present A. E. Tang, a Chiin lecture is a candidate for the Ph.D. degree there He is a former captain in the Chinese Nationalist Army.

His discussion will include topics of economic interest as related to small countries of Asia, as well as a discussion of Chinese eco-

High School Note

Mack Craig, principal of the high school, announces that Nora The issue will be the only BAB- Jean Vaughan has achieved the BLER published that week be- rank of valedictorian of the high cause it is during mid-term ex- school with an average of 98.1 for her four years.

Students of the three lower administration and plans eventu-

Isaac Litton High School in Nashville. Mr. and Mrs. Richard F Shannon are her parents. She is pursuing an education curriculum and is treasurer of her class.

Active in debate and speech work, Miss Shannon was a member of the State champion debate team last year.

lation manager of the BABBLER. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Nelms, from Cornersville,

Other students in the voting in the other classes were: freshman, Eddie Holly; sophomore, Earline meet for try-outs next week.

of the senior class officers.

Garner Lectures

C. J. Garner of Madison, Tenn., delivered a lecture on "Printing The Church Bulletin" to the preachers class Monday evening. Mr. Garner was one of the first

On August 14, the class had a

Student Elections May 11; Board Announces Rules

Rules for the student body elections were decided upon at the meeting of the Student Board Tuesday.

A special election committee was appointed to decide upon any issues that may arise during the course of the campaigning and election. Student Board members appointed were Peggie Herron, junior, Johnny Burns, and Joe Camp, freshmen.

The following rules were

1. Petitioning will begin Monday, May 2, and continue through noon, May 5. The names of all candidates for both president and secretary will be officially announced in chapel May 6.

2. Campaigning will begin of ficially after chapel. May 6 and continue until after chapel, May

3. Campaign speeches will be made by presidential candidates during the second part of chapel May 10. Campaign speeches will he limited to seven minutes maximum time, with speakers drawing for order of speaking turns.

Variety Nite Plans Progress

Music and comedy are the main features of the forthcoming production by the senior class, "Senior Variety Nite," May 7.

Several instrumental groups including both campus and outside participants, will perform. Comedy skits, on the same order as those presented on "Junior Variety Nite" last year, are being prepared. Several spots on the program are still open and may be filled by groups on the campus, who will

Any group interested in participating should turn in their names and the nature of their act to one

To Ministers' Club

to print a bulletin in this area lecture from J. E. Acuff, of the Charlotte Avenue Church of Christ concerning the relationship between the evangelist and the

4. No chapel demonstration other than applause will be toler-

5. Campaigning may be done during the second part of chapel, providing it is limited to three minutes. 6. Signs must not be posted on painted surfaces.

7. Voting will be Wednesday May 11, beginning after chapel. If there is a run-off, it will be

8. The Bison Lounge will be the voting booth and no campaigning may be done there on voting day Voting will be by secret ballot and there is a possibility of getting voting machines. The election returns will be posted every hour in the Student Center.

Qualifications of candidates for both president and secretary are 1. A grade point average of 1.5

2. A petition bearing 25 names 3. Candidate must be a firstquarter senior at the beginning of school in September.

4. Candidate must have had no disciplinary action by the Welfare

'Mikado' Planned As May Day Event

The Music Department has begun rehearsing for the presentation of its opera Mikado as a part of the May Day Celebration.

Mikado is the most famous opera of Gilbert and Sullivan. It is a satire on the Japanese people, a love story, and comedy, in two

Costumes and sets have been ordered from Tracy, Inc., in

Leading roles are: The Mikado of Japan, Duard Grace; Nanki-Poo, Corky Brown; Ko-Ko, Bill Smith; Pooh-Bah, Nick Boone; Pish-Tush, Mike McCrickard; Yum-Yum, Jean Reynolds and Madolyn Hudgens; Pitti-Sing, Nancy Wycoff; Peep-Bo, Margaret Rasbury; and Katisha, Patty Wal-

They will be supported by a chorus of school girls, nobles,

Board Approves New Faculty Members for Summer, Fall Terms

The appointment of six new faculty and staff members was made effective last Saturday when the Board of Directors held

Slaughter

of James Lee McDonough was accidentally omitted from the list. Also Don McWhorter's name was misspelled in last week's BABBLER. He and Phillip Morrison are scheduled to return via plane tomorrow night from their Kansas State Technological Underwood, who attended Lips-The senior class will go to College and the M.A. and comb in 1948. West Point debate trip. Montgomery Bell Park for two Ph.D. from Iowa State Uni-

Ruth Behel was listed on the A Magna cum laude graduate of and do graduate work toward the honor roll, but should have been named on the Dean's List instead. Lipscomb in 1953, Robert H. Sim-

Slaughter has lish in the High School Depart-He is currently the associate ciate profes- in Lewisburg. Simmons, of Bessesor of health mer, Ala., formerly taught in and physical Obion High School, Obion, Tenn. Edsel F. Holman, a Lipscomb graduate, is the newly appointed supervisor of the business office.

Slaughter is now on the man, who has previously worked in the Lipscomb business office, holds the M.S. degree from Alabama Polytechnic Institute. He is married to the former Jo

Paul D. Phillips will teach part time in the history department

(See Teachers, page 3)

Robert (Corky) Brown, senior. from Nashville, was chosen winner of the annual Songleaders' Contest last Friday. He led the songs "I Will Sing of My Redeemer" and "Abide With Me," songs which he led in the contest last

After two preliminary tryouts 10 finalists were chosen They were: Bob Bowersock, Brown, Eugene Davis, Ed Enzor, Roger Flannery, Jess Hall, Jimmy Mankin, Robert Mullins, Stanley Reinhardt, and Walter Sexton.

The contest was presented last when Brown was presented with

The Choristers and the students

Annie Laurie is based on the life

Supporting players will be Ray

Photo by Roy Davis STIRRING UP TROUBLE FOR MACBETH are the three witches. Joyce Renner, Betsy Gately, and Wilma Campbell. They have feature parts in the junior class production.

Shannon Is Treasurer Miss Shannon is a graduate of Nelms, a speech major, is circu-

the whole student body.

special six-page edition of the

The staff is looking forward to seeing every student at the

News Briefs

Cities Alumni meeting will be held in Florence, Ala. High school seniors in the area are to be

The Board of Directors voted at the recent meeting to change Lipscomb's Winter

Lectureship to a Spring Lectureship to be held in April,

The BABBLER wishes to correct

an error in listing of the Dean's List two weeks ago. The name

On April 25 the Lipscomb Tri-

Doah; junior, George Massey, Nelda Brasfield, Joyce Renner and Peggie Herron

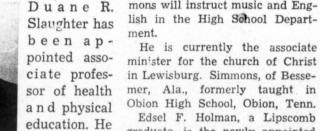

Come to Party For Us Friday The BABBLER will celebrate its 34th birthday Friday, April 29, with a gala celebration for The affair will be held in the Student Center after chapel. Refreshments will be served to the whole student body by courtesy of the Press Club. about 30 years ago. which will furnish decorations. There will also be entertain-Peggie Herron, Editor-in-Chief, announced that the occasion will be marked with a guards, and coolies.

its quarterly meeting. These include the following: Duane R. mons will instruct music and Eng-

will assume his duties in September.

staff of Central Christian College, Bartlesville, Okla. He has the B.A. degree from

He is to begin work in July. Hol-

Also an alumnus of Lipscomb,

Any Solution?

At a place such as our school, there are some age-old problems with which we try to cope from year to year. One of these problems is that of week-end on-campus dating opportunities. Entertainment needs to be provided for those who wish to spend a week-end date on Several attempts have been made during the past two or three years to provide on-campus entertainment for those students who had no way to date otherwise. Such an attempt was the Saturday night party idea of the past two years. Various clubs, dormitories, and classes sponsored these parties during the fall quarters. These parties gave way to athletic events which filled the week ends

A New Idea

It has been suggested that a recreation room could be provided containing game tables, records and phonograph, books and magazines, and comfortable chairs and sofas. Such a room could be taken care of by the students. No special events would have to be planned, but the place known as a general living room for students to spend casual evenings together.

Who Will Support?

Of course a recreation room of this sort would cost some money. Someone has suggested that one of our clubs or other organization, or the combined efforts of any or all organizations could back the project. That would be one way to handle the situation.

What Can You Do?

The above are only two ideas that have been presented. After reading this editorial, think about it, and if you have any suggestions, we invite your thoughts on the subject, or any ideas that you might have. You may present your ideas by writing a letter to the editor, talking to a BABBLER staff member, or talking to Dick Batey, student body president.

Poll To Be Taken

Sometime during the first of the week a poll will be taken of a cross section of students for the purpose of finding out the feelings of the student body regarding the subject. Think about the subject and discuss your thoughts to any one of the above recipients.

A Big Job . . .

The Federal Government is the Nation's biggest employer, and one of its best.

In providing the many services, both national and international, required by the public, the Government employs 2.300.000 civilian workers. They staff more than 60 departments and agencies and are stationed throughout the United States, in its Territories and possessions, and in many foreign countries.

They are engaged in about 15,000 different occupations representing nearly every kind of work that is found in private employment, as well as some that is peculiar to Government.

You can get an idea of the Government's manpower needs when you consider that more than 20,000 employees are at work in the physical sciences, nearly 50,000 in engineering, 10,000 in the social sciences, 17,000 in personnel administration and industrial relations, 66,000 in medicine and allied fields, 8,000 in education, 77,000 in accounting and fiscal work, and 57,000 in inspection and investigative activities.

This is Encouraging ...

The following quoted matter was written by Thomas E. Murray, Atomic Energy Commissioner, in Better Homes & Gardens. It ties in with the recent chape. talks given by Ralph Henley. The problem is serious and worth our contempla-

"Man can now make weapons capable of reducing the world to the primitive conditions of the time of Cain and Abel: He even has, within the range of his grasp, means to completely exterminate the human race. Today, scientists can make a good educated guess as to the number of (bombs) needed for total world catastrophe-to scatter to the four winds, in a matter of seconds, the civilization it has taken man so many centuries to put together.

"No wonder some ask, 'Are we not playing with things that belong to God?' I believe that God meant us to find the atom. Admittedly, we are wrestling with the greatest alteration in man's relation with Nature since the upheaval at the time of the Garden of Eden. But his fundamental relation with God has not changed one whit."

"I greatly fear one thing. If men will not clothe the bare framework of science with the warm garments of true humanism, they will end up by making machines their god and mathematics their

It is encouraging to see one of rank take such a broad approach to the problem that is possibly the greatest one facing the world today.

Leadership Penalty?

For some reason, the world has placed a high penalty on leadership. People placed in such positions are subject to criticism, ridicule, and jealous jabs.

People, it seems sometimes, like to throw rocks of discord, jealousy, and other abuses at leaders or prominent people; they are much like little boys, who, it seems are bred with the instinct to throw rocks at outstanding objects.

Anyone who is to lead in any way must realize and remember, if he is to accomplish anything worthwhile and do his job to the best of his ability, that he is going to have to exercise some intestinal fortitude to stand for his principles. In the coming election for student body officers, we owe to ourselves and to our choice of officers, the selecting of those who can stand against the penalties of leadership, and in turn serve us best

The West received warnings of the dangers of war, if present policies are pursued from two top Communists last week. One spoke with reference to the Formosa situation, the other referred to the German rearmament.

At the meeting of Asian-African leaders in Bandung, Indonesia, China's Chou-En-Lai stated that Red China is being "subverted by the United States of

This, he said, meant an ever-increasing danger of war in the Far East.

Chou stated that it is possible for people of different social systems to live together in peaceful cooperation.

Zhukov Speaks

From another Red leader—Soviet Defense Minister Marshal Georgi Zhukov, Eisenhower's wartime friend-came the assertion that the world faces a grave

"Some politicians are advocating war, he stated, and the decision to rearm West Germany has aggravated international

Thus from leaders in the two top Communist countries in the world came new threats and saber rattling. Only one received an answer.

Romulo Answers Chou

The Philippines' Brigadier General Carlos P. Romulo, also speaking at the Asian-African conference, spoke for the freedom of Asian countries, but said the countries represented had fought to end western colonialism only to surrender to other foreign rulers

He referred to the advance of Communism in Asia, calling just a new and more deadly type of colonialism.

Romulo's speech received the test applause thus far at the vention, but there were two delegates who sat silently: Chou-En-Lai and India's prime minister, Jawaharlal Nehru.

Nehru has argued for peaceful coexistence and has blamed both Russia and the U. S. for interfering in Asian prob-

Book Review . . .

Baxter's Book Is Speech Help

Speaking for the Master, Batsell Barrett Baxter, Macmillan Co., New York, Crisman Memorial

Reviewed by George Patterson Speaking For The Master is a study of public speaking for Christian men. Dr. Baxter, in recognizing the need for a book that would help young men in church work, has given us a book that is especially designed with that purpose in mind.

"It is important, . . . in the most important work on earth-the Lord's work-that men and women be able to speak effectively." And, if anyone needs to be able to speak correctly and fluently, Christians need to be.

Dr. Baxter deals with such common problems as stage fright and the speaking voice. He explains the causes of stage fright. and gives some good hints as to how to cope with it. A chapter devoted to being effective in "Making Announcements." has prepared for the reader several vocal exercises.

One chapter is devoted to the Beginning Talk." Several helpful suggestions are offered here to help in the preparation of beginning talks. The author discusses different type talks and now to go about planning them.

The reader at times is amused the tongue-twisters which Baxtex suggests for improving one's speech. Many interesting, vital suggestions are found in the book for improving one's speaking. It will help not only those who plan to preach and teach, but any one who does any speaking whatsoever-which means that it

Alumni Notes

Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Whitesell (Lois Church) '41, '45 and family have recently moved into their new home at 1212 Harding Place,

The Montgomery Alumni Chapter held their last meeting on April 8 at the Beverly Drive-In Restaurant in Montgomery, Ala. Forty-eight persons were present, two of whom were students interested in attending Lipscomb. Clyde Fulmer '31 presided, and greetings were brought from the College by Laura Tarence and Howard White, assistant professor of history at Lipscomb. Janavee McDoniel and Matthew Morrison, juniors, gave after-dinner speeches. New Officers elected at the meeting were Guy Renfro '37, President: Durden Stough '34. Vice-President; Emma Thomas 54,, Secretary; and Floyd O. Par-

STUDENT BOARD NOTES

The Student Board met Tuesday evening and discussed several things of importance. The Election date and the date for the beginning of cam-paigning for student body officers were

The spring outing that the Student Board usually has each year was dis-ussed. Nothing is definite concerning cussed. Nothing is definite concerning it as of yet.

David Lipscomb has been invited to send delegates to Belmont College May 6, 7, for the Tennessee Association of College Student Government.

An item of interest to Elamites is the discussion of a ladder to be placed from the third floor opening leading up to the roof. A representative is to talk to William Hunt, dormitary supervisor, about procuring one. pervisor, about procuring one.

Library fees were talked about. The Student Board feels that they are too high, and hope to be able to reduce them. Further information will be printed later concerning this step.

THE BABBLER

Entered as second-class matter, December 26, 1923, at the post office, Nashville, Tenn., under the act of March 3, 1897.

Accepted for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1916; authorized, Nashville, Tenn.

Published weekly during the regular school year except during holidays or examination periods by students of DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE, Nashville, Tenn. Office located on second floor

Crisman Memorial Library. Associated Collegiate Press Peggie Herron ... Editor-in-Chief Paul Rogers ... Business Manager Willard Collins ... Faculty Advisor

DAY by DAY

Have you noticed how hard it is to work in classes and studying with all the activities on this campus? The best suggestion in a long time was the one that we dispense with academic interests for spring quarter and devote the whole time to extra-Quote of the week: "Ouch! That's my sore arm!" For those of you who haven't caught on yet many people are having many shots this week, so everyone can be healthy.

The Big Chorus was slaving away at "The Creation' with very little to show for its efforts. Miss Batey had been very patient and long-suffering, but it was beginning to wear thin. Finally she sighed, "I just hope God didn't have as much trouble with this as I am!"

Spring has come! Perhaps you could tell too by . . all the sunburned faces, the black cocker spaniel that wanders in and out of chapel, the full-full skirts the girls are wearing, the mockingbird that begins his serenade at midnight outside Johnson Hall, the appearance of screen doors on the dormitories, the after-dinnerline-up on the wall outside the cafeteria, and the quartet that was singing "Goin' swimmin'.

You may have thought he was Morris Zeigler, but in reality he is none other than Chief Crazy Horse. At least something of the sort. You see, he was displaying his talents as an equestrian—riding bareback, no less. This display came to a sudden halt when the horse did and Morris didn't. He floated through the air with the greatest of ease, but his landing was another matter.

Dr. Ellis announced to his class in Judaism that he is to be investigated. Seems that someone has accused him of being a "Judaizing teacher." It is pretty corny, isn't

Heads began to show in all the windows of the girls' dorms as an unusual procession wended its way across the campus towards the abodes of the fairer sex. This procession was nothing more than a jazz band and many, many boys following it. The band was made up of Paul Dunkleburger, Tommy Sparks, Hugh Ellington. and Larry Puckett, who gave out with a few numbers such as "Lady of Spain," "When the Saints Go Marchin' In." In spite of all the enthusiasm, there were no injuries, although a few girls nearly fell off the roof in their eargerness to hear.

Speaking of music fanciers, few can equal the record of Wilmuth Killebrew. She leaves her record player on all (literally) week end. Even when she's not here. One week end her roommate, Phyllis Browning, returned to find Wilmuth gone and the phonograph spinning merrily around. Let's hope for her sake that her neighbors enjoyed the record.

No one has given us an explanation for the following. Sidney Maddox turned to Carol Burt as they left Bible class and said, "Let's go by the Dean's office and pick up my suitcase." Shortly after that Sidney came from the Dean's office carrying her suitcase. Perhaps he has opened a luggage-check service on the side.

E. N. Cullum asked Marlin Connolley if he was being disturbed by the commotion in the halls during a psychology class. "Oh no, sir," came Marlin's reply. "It wasn't disturbing me at all. I've been asleep." Well, honesty may be the best policy, but in this case . . .

Boy: "Touch me." Girl: "I can't!" Sounds like the ideal Lipscomb girl, doesn't it? Well, it's not. 'Tis merely a portion of the script of "Lowland Sea," which is in all seriousness quite tragic. "Lowland Sea" and "Annie Laurie," two operettas, will be presented tomorrow night. You will miss an evening of wonderful entertainment if you pass this up.

Mrs. Whitten had assigned one of her longer assignments in elementary French-only 52 sentences to be written in French. When the class began to moan and groan at the prospects of a whole night spent on translating sentences, she hastened to reassure them that the lesson wasn't very long. "In fact," she elaborated, "you can get them all on one sheet of paper." And sure enough, they did. The next day Mrs. Whitten received beaucoup de scrolls of paper that reached clear across the room. One scroll was light blue with one sentence on each sheet.

People are funny. Indeed they are. Just listen sometime to the complaining the kids do as they come down from the roof and their sunbath. "Oh, it's so hot I can't stand it. It's just horrible up there." And then they turn right around and go straight back up. Hard work, this suntanning.

Some folks can do nothing wrong and then there are those . . . well, you know how it is. Lou Ann Simmons struggled out of bed and began a frantic rush to dress in time to get to the cafeteria before it closed. To her dismay, she discovered that one button was missing. Hastily she whipped out a needle and thread and sewed the button securely on . . . the wrong side of the blouse. As we've said-some folks can do nothing wrong . . .

Beautiful Day has been a current topic of conversation with most people on this campus. Not with Jimmy Ann Meadow. "I'm more concerned about those Beautiful Nights while I'm at home," she said dreamily. Those wishing to go home with Jimmy Ann may sign below or anywhere they can find a place.

A Get-Rich-Quick Scheme Or Ice Cream A La Mode

If you like ice cream, and gal- $1.50. It is served in a flower lons of it at once, or if you are a frequenter of dairy bars in the summer time, here's where you need to go.

April 22, 1955

In Essex, Md., about four years ago, a young Baltimore ice cream chef opened a dairy bar. From that first year, when he made $3,000, he has jumped from a staff of three to 33 and $102,000 in Robert Duckett's masterpiece of ice cream concoctions is "The Thing." Only 237 or one in 100 have ever been able to finish eating one of these. The names of the victors are inscribed on an honor roll in his dairy bar.

"The Thing"

According to Bob McHugh, AP writer, "The Thing" is served in a half gallon cardboard tub and sells for $1.25. It ". . . consists of a cake buried under 13 scoops of ice cream, whole cherries, crushed pineapple, strawberries and a sickening mess of whipped

"Somewhat smaller than the old man, but just as gruesome," says Duckett, "is 'The Son of the Thing." It sells for only 75¢ and only requires part of a night to consume.

"Tall in the Saddle" He also serves a "Tall in the Saddle," invention which stands a foot and a half high and sells for

High School Gets State Speech Honors

Lipscomb High School placed second in the state in the recently held National Forensic League speech contest.

The individual state winners are: Betty Weaver, first in the girls' extemporaneous division; Amanda Talley, second in humorous reading; Wilma Curtis, second in original oratory; and Prentice Meador, third in oratorical declamation.

Miss Weaver, first place winner, will represent Tennessee in the national contest held in San Jose, California. This contest will take place June 21-24.

Alloway BROS. COMPANY Poultry Meats

McKay-Cameron

Co.

Headquarters

CHINA, GLASS, SILVER

FITTS

&

212 3rd Ave., N.

The National Life and Accident Insurance Co.

RAGLAND, POTTER & CO.

Distributors of

LIBBY FOOD PRODUCTS—FIRESIDE COFFEE

NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

CRAWFORD

6-0427

2816 West End Ave. 7-5946

FLOWERS

Nashville's Own Department Store

Fifth Avenue at Church

Phone 5-4661

HIGH QUALITY PRINTING Books, magazines, catalogs, folders . . . anything

Contact one of these Lipscomb alumni in our office: PAUL W. MOORE, CLASS OF '38 LARRY WILLIAMS, CLASS OF '39 V. M. WHITESELL, CLASS OF '41

JAMES W. BOYD, CLASS OF '51 Williams PRINTING CO.

417 COMMERCE • NASHVILLE • TELEPHONE 6-7126 J. R. OVERALL, PRES. E. A. BERGSTROM, VIC. PRES.

Comments Show

As rehearsals for "Macbeth" progress, favorable comments are eadily arising. This production is to be presented three times by the junior class April 29, 30. haven't decided on your career

As samples of some faculty pinions, Professor Robert E. Kendrick says that he is glad to see the junior class present "Macbeth" because he thinks we need more productions of Shakespearean plays. Dale Brown comments that it is a terrific under-

Blevins Comments

Teachers . . . (Cont'd from page 1) Ph.D. degree at Vanderbilt University. In 1949 he received the

M.A. from Peabody College. Harvey L. Floyd, who was Lipscomb's Bachelor of Ugliness in 1953 and listed in Who's Who in American Colleges, has been named instructor in Bible.

While a student here, Floyd made the Dean's List or the Honor Roll every quartér. He was vicepresident of the junior class.

To any of you seniors who yet, maybe you ought to start a dairy bar. Or maybe some of you just like ice cream and would like to try one of Duckett's inventions.

sounds like fun, doesn't it? And you might make some money (or even get a stomach ache). After all, Robert Duckett invested only

$214 and a lot of credit and how has a $100,000 a year operation.

But whatever the reason, it

Floyd is married to the former Virginia Austin, Miss Lipscomb

He too, expects to work toward the Ph.D. at Vanderbilt. Minta Sue Berry will teach in the department of English. She received the B.S. from Austin Peay State College in 1953 and was editor of the annual there. Miss Berry is listed in Who's Who in American Colleges. In August she will complete requirements for the M.A. degree at Vanderbilt.

Cosmetics at Hutcherson's

Progress of Play

working at Lipscomb since 1948.

As director of Macbeth, Jim Blevins has made several comments about the talent in the cast He says that Joyce Renner, Willie Campbell, and Betsy Gately are especially good in the witch

Blevins further comments that Jack Ashley who has a good background of previous experience in productions of "Macbeth" is at his years later they come back and hest in the murder scene, and that Julia Secrest who is making her first appearance on the stage is at do not bother me," she said when her best in the sleep-walking asked about her pet peeve, "be-

Blevins affirms that Matthew Morrison is tops in providing comedy as the drunken porter, and that although Ed Smith and Richard Craig have small parts, they are making them outstanding. He also said that Bill Smith as Malcolm and Hope Camp as Collins Named Banquo promise to be very good.

In 1954, nearly two million casualties were recorded for motor vehicle accidents.

Joy's Flowers

601 Church 6-4144

has been elected a member of the Gospel Advocate staff. Ira North was also recently elected to this staff which is composed of 22 members.

To Paper Staff

As a staff member, Collins will write one article each month. His first series will be on outstanding Christian families. Another recently appointed committee is the Centennial Drive Committee composed of Collins North, and Alan Bryan. This committee is helping B. C.

Goodpasture, editor of the Gospel Advocate, achieve the goal of 100,-000 subscribers during the Gospel Advocate's one hundredth year.

360 Murfreesboro Road

Clothes Racks and Cleaning Pose No Problem for Maids

the way to the cafeteria.

Bessie's home is in Centerville

Two of the most popular people

ducah of Grand Ole Opry fame.

mended Bessie for work here.

her work is meeting the girls as reshmen "and then two or three

"The clothes racks in the halls

show me their babies," she said.

cause the girls have to have somewhere to put them." She has no

The most excitement she's had pet peeve in particular except a

in her eight years of work was

lyast year when the water pipes

Willard Collins, Vice-President,

messy restroom.

seen everyday in Sewell and Tenn., but she came to Nashville hnson Halls are the maids, Mrs. in 1945 with the intention of go-Bessie Phillips and Mrs. Linnie ing to college at A. and I. Barnes. Besides working long and hard every day, they take "Just Green and Scared" time to laugh and talk to the girls "My uncle put me on the city who live in these dormitories. bus that day but the route had Bessie, as she is fondly called changed and I couldn't find the by "her girls" in Sewell, has been college. I guess I was just green

Immediately before coming here she never went back and just deshe worked for the Duke of Pacided to go to work. Her only brother finished high While living nextdoor to the school a few years later and Bes-Nashville Christian Institute, one sie helped send him to A. and I. of the men that supervised the for three and a half years. She boys' dormitory there recom-

and scared," she added. Anyway also has two sisters. Last summer Bessie got married so now she has her household duties to attend to when she gets The thing she likes best about home at night. Linnie, Johnson's friendly keeper, returned to Lipscomb in October, 1954, when the regular maid had to leave because of illness. Prior to that time she had worked here from 1940-43. Her mother also worked here from 1935-43.

Linnie likes the surroundings at Lipscomb, the girls, "and everything else because everybody is so pleasant. But best of all I like my boss," she added. Sweeping trash in the middle of the door and tracking it down the hall is her only pet peeve but she says that girls will be girls and they have to grow up just like she When Linnie worked here the first time there were only the two dorms, Sewell and Elam. She worked in Sewell and also in the While working in the cafeteria, in which food was then cooked on a wood stove in the kitchen, and served home-style, she cut her little finger off. "I'll never forget that!" she said. Nashville is Linnie's home and she attended Pearl High School. Before returning to Lipscomb last year, she kept house and took care of the pride and joy of the family, James Carlmore, who is four years old. "During the Spring Holidays I brought him out to the school to see where I worked. It was the coldest day of the whole week. but he had looked forward to coming out here for months," Linnie

She also has two brothers, one who lives in Dayton, Ohio, and the other here in Nashville.

6-1148

Purity Dairies

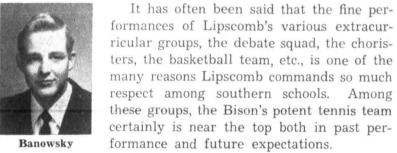

Nashville's Finest Milk

TENNESSEE REAL ESTATE CO. Nashville's Largest Business Brokers Rentals • AUCTIONS • Sales REALTORS 121 Third Avenue, North Campbell Jenkins

Herd Sportlight

It has often been said that the fine per-these groups, the Bison's potent tennis team certainly is near the top both in past performance and future expectations.

Tennis Team Impressive

The tennis team coached by athletic director Jennings Davis has compiled a two and two record thus far this year. The pleasant thing about this record is that the team's two victories have been regulation V.S.A.C. matches. This means that the netters must win only one more meet to capture the western division trophy and qualify for the post season tournament. Their two losses have been non-conference matches against superior opposition.

Hailey Shines

Charles Hailey, a senior from Nashville, has been the spark of the early season play. Charlie captained last year's squad and plays the number one position on this year's team.

Tom Downey, Hailey's doubles partner, has also been impressive in the early games. Downey is a transfer from Freed-Hardeman College where for two years he was captain and number one man on the squad.

Spencer Gilbert, a senior from Athens, Alabama, is the team's third man. This is only Spencer's second year with the team but last year he managed a 14-2 won and lost record the best on the squad. The only freshman on the team is pint-sized Jim Oliver. Jim, a former Clarksville High School star, is Gilbert's doubles partner.

Jim Sweeney, a graduate of Lipscomb High School, is the team's fourth man. Jim is a junior but this is his first season

Sweeney's doubles partner is a Lipscomb high schoolmate, James Lee McDonough. James is also enjoying his first year

Boys, we're proud of your record and expect even greater things. Keep up the good work!

Bison Baseball

After dropping their second loss of the year a determined herd of Bisons traveled to Bowling Green, Kentucky, Tuesday to try and better their 2-2 season record. The determination must have payed off as they played their best defensive game of the year and bumped well-regarded Western Kentucky,

Hitting Weak

The Herd's offensive attack still has not been up to par. Without the brilliant defensive work and pitching the team has been getting, it is frightful to think what the Bisons' record might be today! Most of the stick work has been shouldered by Carl Walker and Ronnie Morrell. The Big Three-Gene Kidwell, Ken Dugan, and Tom MacMahon-have not been hitting their hat sizes.

Coach Elvis Sherrill is confident that the team will start hitting soon, however.

"The boys have been getting good wood on the ball but have been hitting them right at somebody," Sherrill remarked. "With the potential we have the hits are bound to come sooner or later. When this troupe starts hitting somebody had better watch out!"

A good example of the Bisons' puny platework was displayed Tuesday when they had to pull the Western game out of the fire, in the ninth inning with two squeeze plays.

To make up for the anemic hitting MacMahon, Gary Colson, Archie Crenshaw, and Walter Glass have been throwing like big leaguers. Art Gardner, Wayne Wright, and Herb Murphy have shown well on defense.

Game Today

The Herd travels to Cookeville today for their toughest test of the season. They meet strong T.P.I. this afternoon at 3 P.M. The Eagles, probably the toughest foe on the Bison schedule, should make a game of it.

Sherrill Steps Out

Elvis Sherrill made formal announcement of his plans to resign to the baseball team in the pregame talk before the Western Kentucky encounter. The news came as a sad shock to the team. In this writer's opinion it will be extremely difficult to find a better man than Coach Sherrill, taking into the consideration the circumstances involved. The best of luck to a hard worker and a fine Christian gentleman.

Coach Elvis Sherrill shuffled his lineup and batting order somewhat by inserting cather Bill Banowsky in right field, a position he played in high school. moving Carl Walker in to play first base and calling on the regular first baseman Tom Mac-

formances of Lipscomb's various extracur-This proved a wise move as the ricular groups, the debate squad, the choris-Bisons pushed across two runs in ters, the basketball team, etc., is one of the the top half of the ninth inning to take the victory 4-2. many reasons Lipscomb commands so much

MacMahon pitched splendidly until the seventh inning when the Hilltoppers scored both of their The first batter up in the inning was safe on shortstop Arthur Gardner's error, and then substitute Richards poled the big blow of the game when he belted a long home run scoring the runahead of him and tying up game at two runs apiece.

and walked a batter before retir- Crenshaw ing in favor of righthander Archie Crenshaw. Crenshaw was very impressive as he retired the Hilltoppers in the inning with two men on and didn't allow them to score. He finished out the game in fine style as he only gave up one hit, walked none and struck out four

Prior to the trouble he ran into in the seventh, MacMahon had pitched six innings of one hit,

Lipscomb - utilized the famous squeeze play to score their winning runs in the ninth. Gene Kidwell singled and moved to second on an error.

After being sacrificed by Wayne Wright, Kidwell scored on Arthur Gardner's bunt. Gardner later brought the fourth and final run

The Bisons can thank the Hilltoppers for committing five errors which played a great part in causing their downfall

Lipscomb had another bad day at the plate. They collected only five singles in the entire game two of them coming off the bat of freshman catcher Herb Murphy. The excellent mound work of

MacMahon and Crenshaw left little to be desired and proved to be one of the brighter spots in the proud of the fact that the Bison defense really looked good and committed only one error in the victory was especially sweet for the Bisons as it followed a lost last Friday to Middle Tennessee. Their over-all record now stands at 3-2.

WESTERN KENTUCKY

Sherrill Resigns Post

It was announced Tuesday that Elvis Sherrill had resigned as head basketball and baseball coach here. His resignation will be effective at the end of this

It is believed that Sherrill had offered his resignation several weeks ago but public announcement was withheld until this

The news, although not entirely

Netters Gain Win Over MTSC Mon.

The Bison Tennis team copped their second Volunteer State Conference win Monday by defeating the Middle Tennessee State net-

Captain Charlie Hailey got the Bisons off and running by thoroughly trouncing MTSC's Charles Williams 6-1 in the feature match. and from then on the Bisons held full command.

They won four of the six singles matches and two of the three doubles matches. Hailey teamed with Tom Downey in the No. one Doubles match and they downed the C. D. Pinkerton-Hal Christiansen team 6-0, 6-1.

The win gave Coach Jennings Davis' charges a 2-0 conference record and a 2-1 over-all record. Their only loss has been to Western Michigan, who, by the way, also handed Vandy a decisive defeat.

Monday's results: Hailey (L) beat Williams (M) 6-1-6-1. Downey (L) beat Christiansen (M) 6-2, 6 1. Gilbert (L) beat Pinkerton (M) 6-4, Buchanan (M) beat Sweeney (L) 6-1, 4-6, 6-2. can (M) beat McDonough (L) 7-5, 6-4.
Diver (L) beat Blackwood (M) 6-2, 6-3. Hailey-Downey (L) beat Pinkerton-Christiansen (M) 6-0, 6-1. Williams-Buchanan (M) beat Mc-Donough-Sweeney (L) 9-7, 5-7, 6-0. Oliver-Gilbert (L) beat Duncan-

Black	(Wood (M) 6-2, 6-3.	uncan
	TENNIS SCHEDULE
April 22	Sewanee	There
April 26	Chattanooga	Here
April 29	Western	Here
May 5-7	T.I.A.C. Tournament
May 9	T.P.I.	There
May 10	Sewanee	Here
May 12	Union	Here
May 16	M.T.S.C.	Here
May 20	Birmingham Southern
	GOLF SCHEDULE
April 30	T.I.A.C. Tour- nament
May 3	Austin Peay Clarkey	illo

May 3 Austin Peay Clarksville
May 9 T.P.I. Cookeville
May 12 Southwestern Hemphis
May 16 Middle Tenn. Here
All home matches will be played at McCabe Golf Course. The coach for the golf team is Fred Friend. Patronize

> THE LIPSCOMB LAUNDRY

Trade at Hutcherson's

TURRENTINE REALTY COMPANY 2915 Nelensville Road

Sales-Insurance-Loans

Phone 42-2651

his playing days.

sudden shock to most of those closely associated with Sherrill. At 23 Sherrill ranked as one of the youngest head coaches in the country when he stepped out of a Bison uniform and into the post in 1952. He was regarded as one of the keenest competitors ever to don a Lipscomb uniform, and was a favorite of the fans during

Although Sherrill has not made public his future plans, it is believed that he will remain in the coaching profession. It is reported that several schools are bidding for his services. Since no successor is known at the time, Sherrill will continue to work on a schedule for next year's teams.

But as the coach so aptly put "We must remember that this doesn't affect this year's baseball We are still out to win ball games and will be going all out the rest of the year.

Bison followers can also be

Blackwell If

-
								33	2	5
I	A	VII	1	IP	S	C	ON	ИB
								AB	R	H
Morrell 3b								. 5	1	0
Dugan cf									0	1
Walker 1b									1	1
Kidwell lf								4	î	î
Wright 2b								3	0	0
Gardner se								3	1	0
	rf								õ	o
Murphy c									0	2
MacMahon								-	0	õ
Crenshaw	p								ő	0
									-	_

rrors-Gardner, Hoffman 2, Moriarity , Smith. Sacrifices—Wright, Gardner, IacMahon. Home Runs—Richardson. Walks—MacMahon 2, Daniels, Smith. Strikeouts—Daniels 10, Smith, Mac-Mahon 2, Crenshaw 4. Hits off-Mac-Mahon 4 in 6, Crenshaw 1 in 3, Daniels 3 in 6, Smith 2 in 3. Wild Pitch-Mac

SPORT SPOTS McCrickard

WAVERLY BELMONT

SELF SERVICE LAUNDRY

Granny White At Halcyon

One of America's

8-3555

Closest to David Lipscomb College

Walker, Doran to Speak At Graduation Exercises

and Raymond C. Walker, of Gallatin, will speak at Lipscomb's 64th annual Commencement and tin. Tenn., to work with the Wal-Baccalaureate exercises on June ker Street Church of Christ. He Doran, a graduate of Murray State College and the University of Kentucky, formerly served as a member in the Kentucky House of Representatives and was speaker of the House in 1950-51.

In 1947 he received the "Award of Merit" by the Kentucky Association of Colleges; the same year he also was president of the Kentucky Education Association. Walker Is Baccalaureate Speaker

Walker will deliver the Baccalaureate sermon the morning of graduation in Alumni Auditorium. He is a Lipscomb alumnus and also attended Radford State

Career Day Is Saturday

The second annual Career Day for prospective students of Lipscomb will be climaxed Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., on the

A full day of activity awaits high school seniors from all over the South, who will be guests of Lipscomb on May 7. Parents and friends of these students are also invited.

Alumni Secretary, Laura Tarence and Bob Mason, High School Coach are in charge of registration in College Hall, which is to begin at 9:00 that morning.

Band Concert

Preceding an address by President A. C. Pullias at 10:30, the Lipscomb Band under the direction of Jeff Green, will give a concert in Alumni Auditorium.

Bob Kendrick, assistant professor of business administration, has charge of faculty conferences which the visiting students may hold with Lipscomb professors. These conferences will be from 11 to 1.

Immediately after the Barbeque at one o'clock, the Choristers will present a program, followed by a gymnastics performance in front of the Auditorium.

Tours of the campus buildings, are being arranged by Harvey Carter, associate professor of mathematics. Tours are scheduled to begin at 2:30.

The ball game originally scheduled with Peabody has been canceled; however, Coach Elvis Sherrill says he is trying to arrange a game with another college.

vited to Career Day and should be available to help with the activities.

MID-TERM EXAMINATION SCHEDULE May 2-6

Monday and Tuesday, May 2, 3 9:00 and 2:00 o'clock classes meeting on Monday will have exams on Monday. All others on Tuesday.

11:00 and 3:00 o'clock classes meeting on Tuesday will have exams on Tuesday. All others on Monday.

meeting on Wednesday will

Wednesday and Thursday, May 4, 1:00 and 4:00 o'clock classes have exams on Wednesday. All others on Thursday. 8:00 and 12:00 o'clock classes meeting on Thursday will have exams on Thursday. All others on Wednesday. Friday, May 6 Bible 113 Bible 223 Bible 313 Bible 413 and any class not provided for in the schedule above.

Walker has recently moved from Tuscaloosa, Ala., to Galla-

Dean J. P. Sanders will host the seniors and their wives at breakfast the same morning at 8 a.m. Late in the afternoon the seniors and their parents are to have a picnic on the cam-

is the father of Ray Walker, a

The complete schedule of events for graduation day is:

8 a.m.—Dean's Breakfast

10 a.m.—Baccalaureate sermon— Alumni Auditorium Rehearsal immediately following

1:30 p.m.—Quarterly meeting of Board of Directors 6 p.m.-Picnic for seniors and their parents

8 p.m.—Graduation exercises

Typist Jobs Open For Senior Women

Senior girls interested in applying for government clerk-typist positions are asked to write Mr. W. G. Hughes, Church of Christ. 4801 16th St., N.W., Washington, D. C., for necessary application

According to Lambert Campbell, who annually conducts tours of Washington, salaries begin at about $3,000. The Church will be able to take girls who go for these jobs and keep them as paying guests until they are established.

Campbell further states that Washington rents are high, but other expenses are about the same

Mr. Hughes is with the Department of the Interior and is particularly interested in applications from students who would like to work in this department, however, positions are also available in other government departments.

Acts Procured For Senior Show

Plans for "Senior Variety Nite" are progressing nicely, Bob Sivley, president of the senior class announced Tuesday.

A number of vocal and instrumental groups have already been lined up and others will be added to the program this week. A men's quartet, consisting of

Doug Taylor, Al Smith, Duard

Grace, and Bob Bowersock, a hit at the recent sophomore banquet have agreed to sing. Well known from past programs for their ability are Corky Brown, and Bob Howard, both singers and One of the highlights of the show is expected to be a "blackface" comedy skit. A surprise number is being planned by an all senior group including Tom Warren, Wayne Wright, Don MacAlister, and Keith

The committee in charge of arranging the program consists of Nancy Wyckoff, Phil Dunn, Keith Ericson, and Joanne Edmondson. The show is set for 8 p.m., Saturday, May 7, in Alumni Audi-Ericson.

Freshmen Choose Banquet Scene Montgomery Bell Inn will be the scene of the freshman banquet The theme, which will not be disclosed at the present time, is especially appropriate to the setting, according to Bill Banowsky, class president.

Tickets for the affair may be purchased for $1.90 from any class

The Babbler

Plans for May Day Completed

The annual May Day festivities will be celebrated on May 12 and 13 with a series of events that have been planned preceding and following the coronation ceremonies.

May Day celebration will begin at 8:15 on Thursday night with first performance. On Friday the first performance of The Mi-, night, Madolyn Hudgins will be kado, a Gilbert and Sullivan op- starred in this role.

eretta under the direction of Miss Irma Lee Batey

Duard Grace will perform in the title role of The Mikado of Japan. Yum-Yum, the female lead, will Mike McCrickard; Pitti-Sing by be sung by Jean Reynolds in this Election Plans News Briefs Prentice Meador and Norma Reach Completion Watson were elected president and One week from Wednesday secretary of the High School Stu-Student-Body-election campaigning will be climaxed when stu-

Photo by James Clipp

of the election, and, according to the election committee, Peggie

Herron, Johnny Burns, and Joe

Camp, petitioning is to begin Monday and will continue until noon

Campaigning will officially be-chapel and will close on election will be given seven minutes dur-

May 10 in which to present his

Voting by secret ballot will take place in the Bison Lounge, and returns are to be posted every hour. No campaigning may be done in the Lounge on voting day.

Qualifications of presidential

1. A grade-point average of 1.5.

2. A petition bearing 25 names.

disciplinary action by the Welfare

Each student, in order to vote, must present his activity card at the polls. This is to be used as a checking device against multiple voting by the same student.

school in September.

next years' officers.

Thursday, May 5.

platform.

dent Body recently. Margaret Carter was chosen dents go to the polls to vote for chairman of the collegiate division of the Tennessee Home Economics The Student Board is in charge Association at the latest conven-

White Attends History Meet Howard White will attend the annual convention of the Mississippi Valley Historical Association in St. Louis, Mo., Apr. 27-30.

Irma Lee Batey and Buddy gin May 6 immediately after Arnold were this week elected president and secretary, respecday. Each presidential candidate tively, of the Nashville Chapter of the National Association of ing the second part of chapel, Teachers of Singing.

Willard Collins, Vice-President, is holding a meeting in Jasper, Ala., this week.

The cast of "Macbeth" has reserved Howard Johnson's Restaurant for a party following the Saturday-night performance.

As you have already discovered, today is our birthday-3. Candidate must be a firstquarter senior at the beginning of that's the reason for all the decorations and ice cream and 4. Candidate must have had no

We wanted you, the student body, to know how happy we are to be publishing a paper each week and just how much you, our readers, really mean to us. That's why we're giving our birthday party for you-which, admittedly, is rather an

So have fun! We're glad you came.

tic lead. Other roles are Ko-Ko. played by Bill Smith; Pooh-Bah by Nicky Boone; Pish-Tush by Nancy Wyckoff. Peep-Bo will be portrayed by Margaret Rasbury and Katisha by

One-Act Play

and guards.

"The Prodigal Son," a one-act play in three phases, will be presented at 3:15 under the direction of Dale Brown.

Patty Walston. There will also be a chrous of school girls, nobles,

The play is a symbolical presentation of the Biblical parable done in dramatic form in a modern setting. It is being given by special arrangement with the Religious Drama Society of Great Britain and the author, R. H. Ward.

Various groups of campus musicians will entertain at 4:15. Traditionally, the college band has performed in the May Day program, and the high school chorus has been invited to appear again this year. The chorus is directed by Mack Craig.

The actual May Day coronation ceremony will begin at 5:15. Freshmen, sophomore, and junior girls will enter first in the order named. They will wear formal

Senior girls, escorted by senior boys, will form the court background in light turquoise dresses of polished cotton. Their escorts will be attired in navy suits.

Court Wears Pink

The May Day court will wear pink dresses of polished cotton. and the Guards of Honor will wear white dinner jackets. JoAnn Edmondson, June Bolt, Mary Margaret Grounds, and Gloria Brannam have been elected to the court, and the Guards of Honor. are Phillip Morrison, Bob Sivley,

Keith Ericson, and Charles Hailey. Joyce Burkhalter, George Peterson. Kathy Adams, and Robert Brooks will represent the high school. The girls will wear pima organdy dresses. From the junior high, will be Mary Farrar Cayce, Bert Woodroof, Milbrey Thurman, and Stanley Myatt. Donna Taylor, Steve Adams, Sue Ann Deese, and Douglas Sory have been named from the elementary and kindergarten departments. (See 'May Day,' page 3)

Club Picnic - Contest Set for Tomorrow

The Photography Club will have a combination wiener roast-snapshot contest at Montgomery Bell State Park tomorrow from 2 to

Max Wilcox, Club president, states that all members must pay past dues by tomorrow and must also pay 50¢ for outside dates.

and secretarial candidates are as Editorial:

Happy Birthday ... to Us

unique, turned-around situation.

April 29, 1955

Editorials . . .

Don't Read This!

The thoughts and impressions from the mind of the immortal William Shakespeare will live anew on the stage of Alumni Auditorium today and tomorrow.

The presentation of "Macbeth" is the first Shakespearean play to be presented at Lipscomb since "A Mid-Summer Night's Dream" in 1952. "Macbeth" is the culmination of weeks and even months of diligent study and efforts on the part of the entire junior class. It needs no "billof-sale" from the public; its own merit is sufficient.

If you have not already planned to attend one of the three productions, this editorial will not change your plans. If, during your tenure at Lipscomb, you have not received the literary appreciation for fine art, these few words cannot give you such an appreciation. Yet even the street peasants in old London fought for admission to the renowned Globe Theater whenever the name "William Shakespeare" was echoed through the country-

There's a Reason

Student exchange is no "psychological wonder drug" for world problems, no sure-fire weapon against the spread of Communism

But exchange of persons programs do advance knowledge. They are a positive long-range factor in better relations between the United States and other countries.

According to the Committee on Educational Exchange Policy, "Future support for interchange of scholars will depend upon honest evaluation of the results of such programs. The exchange movement will ultimately be endangered by setting can leadership. for it unrealistic or impossible goals."

The primary purposes of any international educational exchange should be education. After analyzing the goals of students and sponsors the Committee has written, "It is apparent that the sponsoring groups emphasize first broad social goals: international understanding. friendship for the United States, economic and social development of other nations. The applicants themselves, on the other hand, are primarily personally oriented toward definite academic achievement and professional development."

Whatever the emphasis of program sponsors, the fundamental goal must be education. A satisfactory educational experience for each exchange is essential to the achievement of any subsidiary goal of either the exchange or the sponsor. Thus, understanding and liking for the United States become a secondary objective of exchange programs, best achieved through indirect means.

"Belief that exchange of persons programs are one of the most effective ways of sending knowledge where it is most needed, and of creating new knowledge which can benefit all, is a firm and valid foundation upon which to plan and support them." The report continues, "The broad social and political goals of exchange programs—creating international understanding, developing favorable attitudes of nations toward the United States -can be atained but they must be recognized as long-range and indirect."

Stitch in Time

The fact that time flies is not an invention, it is not even a discovery. It is just a fact that is true today, was true yesterday, and will be true tomorrow. Sometimes we are prone to put things off and not do them when we can.

Last year, an alma mater was proposed for the school. It was sung in the activity period of chapel on two or three different occasions, at ball games, and at the pep rallies in the Student Center. We were not asked to accept the proposed song, but it was merely offered to get student reaction to having an alma mater. Everyone seemed to be in favor of adopting a school song, and some seemed to have been favorably impressed by the one offered.

fore the student body in the above men- Benny Nelms. tioned ways-and again, everyone seemed to be in favor of having an alma mater.

There was quite a bit of talk concerning the absence of an alma mater, and about the offered song. Two or three editorials were written urging the adoption of an alma mater. The idea got as far as the planning for its vote in a Student Board meeting-and then, nothing more was heard.

by without deciding something about an alma mater? Are we going to let the time go by until it is too late for us to do anything about it this year? Are we going to let our school go any longer without having an alma mater?

Now is the time to decide about the matter, because the school year, is fast drawing to a close. Student Board, is it your fault that we do not have an al-

By Bob Sivley

The leadership of the Grand Old Party was in greater danger of splitting than ever last week, when the President and the Senate minority leader were once again divided on the all-important issue of foreign policy.

From Eisenhower came the possibility of a relaxing of the U. S.'s heretofore number one rule on discussions of Formosa: that Nationalist China be allowed to sit in. His statement was to the effect that the U.S. might talk with Red representatives without any of Chiang's men present.

Strongly opposed to this is California's Sen. William Knowland. And as usual, he was quick to voice his opposition, thus emphasizing the current split in Republi-

Knowland Might Resign

There were even hints that the leading Republican senator might resign his position as Senate minority leader sometime

Tuesday, Secretary of State Dulles conceded to reporters that there was a difference of opinion among U. S. and Nationalist Chinese policy makers.

This country strongly advocates a cease-fire in the Formosa area, while Chiang's forces are anxious to keep the war alive in hope that they might some day return to the China mainland. The Communists also oppose a cease-fire, since they have said that they will take For-

Thus the people of this country might well view the Formosa situation with a new appraisal. The two principle forces involved, Red China and Nationalist China, feel that war is to their best interest. Indeed the Nationalists have everything to gain and nothing to lose—except American money and men.

U. S. Wants Peace

As an outsider, the U.S. wants peace, but peace is hard to bring about when neither of the belligerents want it.

Last week, there came a sign from might be willing to negotiate a cease- Alumni Notes Communist Chou En-lai that his side fire. If the policy of Knowland is carried out, there can be no peace talks. Pre-Flight School here was Naval

THE BABBLER

Entered as second-class matter, December 26, 1923, at the post office, Nashville, Tenn., under the Act of March 3, 1897. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1916; authorized, Nashville, Tenn.

Published weekly during the regular school year except during holidays or examination periods by the students of DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE, Nashville. Tenn.

Office located on second floor Crisman Memorial Library.

Associated Collegiate Press

EDITORIAL STAFF

Peggie Herron Editor-in-Chie
Mary Lou Carter Associate Editor
George Patterson Editorial Page
Cornelia Turman Feature Editor
Matthew Morrison Staff Artis
DESCRIPTION OF A FEE

BUSINESS STAFF Again this year, the song was put be- Paul Rogers Business Manager Circulation Manager

> ADVISORY STAFF Willard Collins Faculty Advisor ham, Ala., is professor of Dentist-

some privately-owned in the dorm rooms) is five minutes slow, according to the time that the rest of the world observes.

We doubt that DLC will ever be able to make civilization in general conform to its time standard, so we have a unique suggesthat of civilization?

There must be a reason for all our clocks being set five minutes slow, but we Loubt if anybody could think of it off-hand.

The present arrangement is most inconvenient to those students who have to take classes in some part of the outside world, such as Vanderbilt or Peabody. if they leave their DLC class in time to get to the off-campus class at the appointed time-they risk the ire of their professors here. Of course, if they leave at a quarter of the hour, it is really ten 'til everywhere else. This is true of students who have to catch

-And that's how we feel on that

This sounds like a good idea to us: Fraternity men at the University of Pennsylvania paid their fines in blood recently.

When the members violated any campus law, the fines were paid off at the rate of one pint of blood per $5.00 fine. Effective, to say the least.

The food and drug administration recently cracked down on a cosmetics firm advertising a product as shampoo "plus

It was found to contain 1/500 of an egg per shampoo.

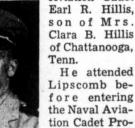

Broadway is a place where people spend money they don't have for things they don't need to impress people they don't like. A specialist is a man who knows a great deal about a very little, and keeps on learning less and less about more and more until he knows everything about nothing.

Horse sense is what keeps horses from betting on what peo-

Counting time is not half as important as making time count.

Graduated from the U.S. Naval Aviation Cadet

He attended Lipscomb before entering the Naval Aviation Cadet Program through the Naval Air Station at Birmingham, Ala. He is now assigned to the Whiting Field U. S. Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Milton, Fla., for primary flight training.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hilbert '50 of 304 W. Walnut St., Troy, Ala. are the parents of a little girl, Sharon, born during March. The Hilberts have two other children, George Earl, 2 years, and Mark, 13 months.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tucker '42 are the parents of a new daughter, Denise May, born April 1.

Boyd Tarpley '30 of 2118 Fourteenth Avenue, South, Birming-Press Club Sponsor ry at the University of Alabama. rope.

DAY by DAY

Well, we've reached the half-way mark, scholars We've been wondering for quite Won't be long now until the seniors are handed their some time now why all DLC must sheepskins and the rest of us take the long pause that Are we going to let another year slip run five minutes behind the rest refreshes. Think you can last that long?

> Back during the long, cold winter months, there were The reference, of course, is to many brave boys who announced that they intended to the fact that every clock on the become fashion pace-setters and appear in Bermuda short campus (with the exception of come warm weather. The warm weather is here but

> One of our debate teams has just returned from a successful trip to West Point where they were surrounded by reminders that the South had definitely lost the War Between the States. On every hand were paintings, monuments, and trophies depicting the glory of the Federal forces. But the South had the last word when Phillip Morrison told a West Pointer that the huge tion-why can't we conform to monument before them was not to the Union dead as most supposed, but was a tribute to Southern marksmanship. What is it the song says about saving a certain type of

> > In advertising the forthcoming production of the Junior Class, Hope Camp ran across someone who was so interested in the whole thing that he asked, "Who wrote this Macbeth?" Knowing how chock full of knowledge all of you are, we don't need to tell you that William Shakespeare wrote Macbeth, that the Juniors will do a very good job on it, and that you should come. See you there tonight or tomorrow night at 8:15.

> > It's seldom that one finds a little bundle with a note attached left on his doorstep-especially when that bundle is over six feet long. But that's what happened to Mrs. Watson. Answering the knock on her door, she opened the door and found John McRae staring up at her innocently from the blankets in which he was entwined. He was there through the courtesy of Bill Smith and George Howard who had tenderly wrapped him in a nice blanket (in spite of his struggles) and had gently deposited him before her door. How nice to have friends.

Dr. Ellis had never flown before and had gotten his courage screwed to "the sticking place" by the hardest. His tension eased a little as he fastened his safety belt for the take-off on his flight back to Nashville from Memphis. Determined not to become frightened, he settled back in his seat and resolved not to look out the window. So he opened a magazine to soothe his nerves—only to be greeted by the headline FOUR PLANES CRASH, MANY

P.S.—Ellis arrived safely except for injuries received while chewing his fingernails off to his elbows.

Some just grin and bear it, others use a fly swat, others use a bug bomb, and others use insect repellent. But Lou Ann Simmons has a unique method. At Macbeth rehearsal she was being annoyed by one of the monster mosquitoes that frequents the Lipscomb campus. So she snatched up a fencing foil used in the play and shouted "En Garde" to the little demon. When last seen, she had him against the wall.

Note to all communists and fellow-travelers on Lipscomb campus: Now is an excellent opportunity for you to get in a good word for the party. The annual model U. N. is being held at Vanderbilt University. You may come and speak your piece for the public is invited.

Applying some of the Applied Psychology that he had studied, David Thomas hypnotized Tommy Sparks and told him that he wouldn't be able to see girls. And Tommy couldn't! He wandered through the Student Center bumping into girls and finally sat down on what he thought was a chair. When he got up, he commented that the "chair" was "Kinda lumpy."

nfusion was the order of the day (or should we say night) when all the boys called for their dates for the Sophomore banquet-which, by the way, a little bird told us was very, very enjoyable. Ada Elliot was wearing a rut from the reception desk to the telephone, when she suddenly halted, stared at the lobby full of escorts, and sighed, "I can't remember which ones have theirs and which ones don't." Which may explain why some of the boys had two dates and others had none.

After the presentation of Lowland Sea, the Choristers were given a cast party by Buddy and Bernie Arnold. And—of all things—the most popular refreshment served was Buddy's little brown jug. There wasn't a person present who didn't pick it up, remove the stopperand listen. The little brown jug in this case was nothing more than a cleverly disguised music box.

Beautiful Day finally came-and in the nick of time for many. Congratulations are in order for William Hunt who came out first in the faculty sack race and here is a booby prize for Ralph Bryant who came out last.

Thomas Whitfield was telling his Religious Education class that the easiest way to hold the attention of a class is to teach them things that they are interested in. "Don't spend so much time on the 12 tribes of Israel or the points on Paul's missionary journeys. Talk to them more about dating and dancing. Try it sometime." He would be surprised at the number who did.

Wanted: one bulldozer in good condition to be used in digging things up for this column. Picks and shovels have failed to uncover anyone who has been campused for six months or more, stood on his head on top of Brewer Tower, or swung into chapel on a venetian blind

This Is Our Story...

ALL WORK AND NO PLAY? Hard-working staffers have fun on the job. Work goes on from Friday to Friday with no time for let-up. Staffers work between classes, often stay up to wee hours of morning to catch a deadline. Monday and Tuesday are the hard nights, with work, play, congregating in BABBLER office. Staffers are from left to right: Cornelia Turman, features; Peggie Herron, editor; Matt Morrison, cartoonist; Paul Rogers, business manager; Pat Fyfe, columnist; and George Patterson, editorial page editor. Not present are VIPs Mary Lou Carter, associate editor; Benny Nelms, circulation manager, and Bob

From Friday to Friday, It's a Big Job Monday night at seven is the the cartoon is sent to the engravers and other secretaries of the

By Cornelia Turman

you through the process that is repeated 28 times during a school year at Lipscomb. Then perhaps you will be able to understand why a few mistakes are made, why the BABBLER office is so busy on Monday and Tuesday nights, and the reason for the joy of the staff when they see the finished product in the hands of its readers.

The first job is the selection of an editor which is done by a committee of faculty members and

TYPING COPY IS A BIG-SIZED JOB. So says Mary Lou Carter, associate editor, as she takes time out for a smile on the job.

Today the BABBLER is taking selection is made during spring quarter of the year and the editor serves the following year. During the summer the editor selects his staff members and makes plans for the BABBLER.

This year's editor is Peggie Herron. She is assisted by Mary Lou Carter, associate editor, Paul Rogers, business manager, and Benny Nelms, circulation manager. The editorial page is the responsibility of George Patterson.

Feature editor is Cornelia Turman, and Matthew Morrison is the staff artist. Willard Collins serves as faculty advisor while Miss Eunice Bradley is the Press Club sponsor.

Members of the Press Club, of which Rogers is president, serve as reporters. "Day by Day" and "Let's Take a Look" are weekly columns written by Pat Fyfe and Bob Sivley, respectively.

The actual work for the first paper each year begins about a week before students return to school in September. This means that the staff comes a few days early to get the work underway.

The process for getting the news is something like this—each week Peggie has a press conference with Vice-president Collins and Miss Bradley, of the Lipscomb News Bureau. Peggie records ideas for stories in a "futures book," and then assigns most of the news stories to reporters at the regular Press Club meetings deadline for regular articles such and a cut is made in the same way administration. An addressograph as "Day by Day," editorials feature stories and "Herd Sportlight." Assignments made on Monday are due at seven on Tuesday nights. The copy must be turned in typewritten and double-spaced. After it is brought to the office Peggie and Mary Lou proof-read the stories, write headlines, insert subheads (these are headlines in bold type within the body of a story) and a lay-out or "dummy" for each page is made by Peggie. The pictures, made by school photographer James Clipp, are taken and sent to the engravers at McQuiddy Printing Company. by Tuesday. They are run through several chemical processes and finally a cut is made for use on the press. After the copy is sent to the printers, they set the type on linotype machines and pull a galley proof of each column of type. Most of the headlines are set at the same time as the regular type, but a few are set by hand. Each galley proof is proof and sent back to the linotype operators for the mistakes to be corrected. On Thursday afternoons, Peggie goes to McQuiddy's and checks the galley proofs, which are numbered, with boxes of type which are also numbered to correspond with the proofs.

She tells the printer where each story is to be placed on the page and then a proof of the whole page is pulled and proofread. She spends about five or six hours each Thursday doing this particular part of the job.

Matthew Morrison is the creator of the cartoon and comic strips that are found in the BABBLER. Mike McCrickard draws those for the sport's page.

Matt describes the process for creating this "Funny Stuff," in this manner: "It starts with an inspiration which may occur when the artist is taking a shower or shaving. The next step is to draw a layout on which cardboard with a pencil and then with India ink." He also said that all his cartoons have a moral, which he thinks up after he has finished drawing it.

After being submitted to the editor and receiving her approval,

It may seem that not much is involved in printing a school paper each week, but seven hard-working staff members speak differently.

And so that you may get an idea of what goes on behind the BABBLER scenes, here is our story . . .

PHOTOS BY JAMES CLIPP

Wiseman, printer, carry through a regular Thursday ritual at McQuiddy Printing Co. It is here that the hardest part is done, often taking five or six hours. Mr. Wiseman has worked with making up the BABBLER for the past two years and is often responsible for improve-that one is made from a picture. is used for most of the work of addressing the paper.

And so you can see that many hours of hard work go into the preparation of each BABBLER. From preparing the copy to selling advertising to mailing them home to friends-an endless process that will go on as long as there is Lipscomb and the BABBLER.

printed regularly, about $3,000 more advertising would have to be At the beginning of the school year, a chart with a layout of the advertising is sent to the printers. This layout somewhat resembles the dummies that are made of each page every week for the

The advertizing department of the BABBLER, and part of the activity fee paid by students, take care of the financial department of the paper. The job of selling ads is begun two weeks before school begins. The first people contacted are those who have bought ads before. Then the firms with which Lipscomb does business are contacted.

BABBLER. In this way, the printer knows which ad goes in the paper which week and also what goes on the ad. On Friday morning at 10, a truck brings the BABBLERS to school. Benny Nelms is in charge

Benny is in charge of getting 500 papers mailed and this work is done on Friday afternoons. He says that Mrs. Reba Burklow lets him be "boss of the mailing room" for about three hours, while her staff helps address the papers. Sometimes they have help from Laura Tarence, alumni secretary, and friends of Lipscomb.

BENNY NELMS GETS FAMIL-IAR WITH THE MAIL BAG, as he goes about his regular Friday afternoon job of mailing BABBLERS to prospective students, alumni,

Where There's a Will . . .

Whole Class Will Get 'in on Act' At 'Macbeth' Performance Here

By Cornelia Turman Photos By Roy Davis

This weekend will see the climax of two months of diligent work and study done by the junior class when they bring "Macbeth" to the Lipscomb stage.

One of William Shakespeare's greatest tragedies, the play is the story of the efforts of Macbeth to gain the throne of Scotland which belongs to his lord Duncan.

The reason he wants the throne is that three witches prophsied that he would be called thane of Glamis, thane of Caudor and finally, King. He realizes that he is already thane of Glamis and shortly after the witches have vanished, Ross and Angus come to announce that he has been made thane of Caudor.

Bloody Deed

When Macbeth tells Lady Macbeth of the prophecy, she is determined that he will be king. She begins to plan a way for them to get rid of Duncan. Later Duncan comes to Macbeth's castle to spend the night. Lady Macbeth seizes this opportunity and persuades her husband to murder Duncan. After he commits the awful crime, he is so scared that he brings the daggers out of the room with him. Lady Macbeth takes them back to the scene of the crime because Macbeth is so upset. She spreads blood around and tries to cover up their part in the murder.

After the murder is discovered, Malcolm and Donalbain, Duncan's sons, flee to England and Ireland so they too, will not be killed. Macbeth sends his soldiers on Malcolm's family and kills them

Toward the end of the play, Malcolm and Donalbain return to Scotland, Lady Macbeth loses her mind over the evil deed she has plotted, she dies, and the last prophecy of the witches comes true when Macbeth is killed by one not born of woman.

Ashley and Secrest Star

The leading roles of the play are taken by Jack Ashley as Macbeth and Julia Secrest as Lady Macbeth. Both of these characters are very effective in certain of their solioquies, especially the murder and sleep walking scenes.

Matthew Morrison provides humor as the drunken porter who Mrs. Peter Fyfe and also Mrs. hears the knocking at the door Charles Adams, to make the cosjust before the murder is dis- tumes. They studied designs, pat-

Richard Craig and Ed Smith turned the Johnson Hall guest are minor characters but very room into a sewing room for a effective as the murderers hired whole week. by Macbeth.

Joyce Renner, Betsy Gately and make-up for the three productions. Wilma Campbell stir up the ac- All the costuming will be typical

"We have scotched the snake, not best at the opening of the play. The lighting and sound effects play the major role in setting the mood for the entire play. All supernatural scenes are created by this method. These effects have been worked out by Roy Davis and Charles Adams. The production pictures, which were very realistic, were also made by Davis.

George Massey was in charge of set construction and was assisted Deems Brooks and Ed Smith. The set consists of three columns and two platforms from where most of the acting is done. The set changes twice-once for the throne of Macbeth and the queen;

This setting is typical of those quo, played by Hope Camp.

costumes, recruited her mother.

terns, material, etc., and literally

Mary Ann Thomas will do the

"He lies dead with 20 trenched Gashes or his head. Ed Smith and Richard Craig, the two murderers, report to Jack Ashley in his role of Macbeth, after the murder of Bau-tion with their portrayals of the of the period and the beards, sideweird sisters. They are at their burns and bushy hair will also > had to be worked out was Matthew Morrison's teaching Jack Ashley how to fall down the stairs after he had been killed by Mac-

Extensive Advertising

Advertising has been done through television, newspaper articles, posters and chapel skits and announcements. A large crowd of high school students is expected to see the performance since most high school seniors . . full of sound and fury aptly describes Macbeth. Dr. the other for a banquet table in Morris P. Landiss, after watching the scene where Macbeth sees the a rehearsal this week, said, "Not only sound and fury, but gentleness, love, all the emotions may in which Shakespearean plays be found in Macbeth when prewere given over 300 years ago. sented by the junior class this Pat Fyfe, who was in charge of weekend."

William Shakspeare, who was born in Stratford on Avon, has often been said not to be the author of these plays that bear his name, but most scholars agree that he is the author and that he was

One of America's really fine coffees . .

AT YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD GROCER

Wear The Best

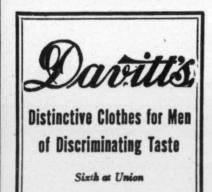

'DEER CREEK' SPORTS WEAR

LANDON'S

Your Neighborhood

HARDWARE

April 29, 1955

"WILL THESE HANDS NE'ER BE CLEAN?" Lady Macbeth (Julia Secrest) cries in insane agony after the murder of Duncan (Pete Hosse). This scene is a highlight of the whole play.

The Lipscomb performances

start this afternoon at 3:15 with the matinee and the Friday and Saturday night performances are for the matinee and 60 and 80c great equivi-

Matthew Mor-

at 8:15. Admission charge is 50c for the evening presentation.

Two outstanding Shakespearean actors of modern day are Maurice Evans and Judith Anderson. They have appeared in the leading roles of Macbeth. Movie actress Katherine Hepburn has also portrayed Shakespeare's characters.

PLAN YOUR LIFE SECURITY WITH

'Twas a Beautiful Day,' According to All Concerned

tenseness in the air for the last two weeks; and then, Tuesday, Dick Batey, student body president, gave the word that put us all at ease: "Today is Beautiful

April 29, 1955

Those words were met by enthusiastic cheers from all of the student body, and most of the faculty.

Busses left from the circle at 11:15 a.m., and cars left from all around at all times. But all were headed for Percy Warner Park, where a good time and good eats were in store for every-

Ball games of various sorts got underway almost immediately after the arrival of the busses.

A few minutes past 1:00 p.m., lunch was served by a staff of workers under the direction of Gilliam Traughber. There was fried chicken, deviled eggs, potato salad, potato chips, ice cream, and cokes "aplenty" for everybody.

After eating, "Fessor' Boyce brought out some gunny sacks, and there commenced some of the "hoppinest" sack races you've ever seen. William Hunt won in the faculty race; Dean Sanders plodded in second.

Dan Kimball came in first in the college men's sack

So many of the girls stumbled across the finish line that it was hard to tell if they were jumping across or rolling across.

Then, there was a football throwing contest in which Dr. Ira North entered; and so much for that-Jack Boustead won.

The busses returned to the campus around 3:00 p.m., and everyone agreed that Beautiful Day had been a wonderful day!

Keeble and 'His Boys' Will Present Program Sunday The Nashville Christian Insti-

By Maxine Smith

Marshall Keeble, president of the Nashville Christian Institute. and "his boys" will present a program of songs and speeches in the Alumni auditorium, May 1.

The program is under the direction of Mrs. Lambert Campbell, who heads the public speaking department at Nashville Christian

Bryan, Sanders Expand Training In Education Here

Beginning in September, Lipscomb will expand its religious education and teacher training program with the addition of Alan M. Bryan and Joe E. Sanders to the faculty.

Returns from Leave

For the past few years Sanders has been on an extended leave of absence from Lipscomb to complete his doctoral program at Boston University. He has studied in the field of religious education.

Bryan is currently Sunday school director at the Broadway church in Lubbock, Texas. He will receive the M.A. degree in religious education at Texas Techsession.

tute is the result of plans that go back more than 50 years to helping Negroes in developing Christian leadership within their own

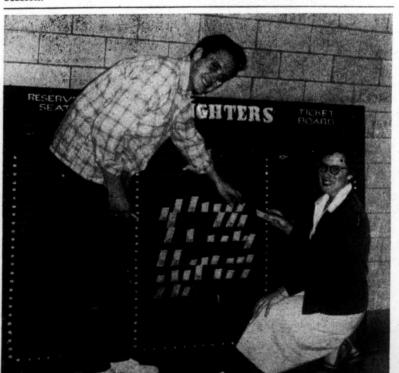

Presently, the school is in the midst of a remodeling program consisting of a new combination dormitory and auditorium. Space and facilities for recreation are not merely inadequate but totally lacking and the school has never had an auditorium suitable for chapel services or other May Day . . . gatherings. Nile Yearwood, a member of the board of directors and a successful building contractor, will supervise the buying and construction without compensation or fee. When it is completed, the school can offer its students a well-rounded educational program that will promote their fullest development physically, mentally, and spiritu-

Members of Board

The Board of Directors for Nashville Christian Institute includes: A. C. Pullias, C. D. Smith, Robert E. Campbell, J. R. Holmes, Albert Gray, A. M. Burton, I. C. Finley, Nile E. Yearwood and J. E. Acuff, the last four being also members of the Lipscomb Board.

MAKING PLANS FOR LARGE-SCALE TICKET SELLING are Jimmie Blevins, director of "Macbeth," and Betsy Gateley, who portrays one of the three witches. Miss Gateley is also a member of the advertising and house arrangements committees for the production. It Used to Be Bacon, But . . .

Debaters Bring Home Awards

By Benny Nelms

"Lipscomb's debaters are bringing home the bacon," was one of the many favorable comments frequently heard during the past forensic season.

These comments demonstrate the appreciation which the student body holds for the work which has been done by the debate squad.

Entered Nine Tournaments

The 1954-55 season, which was climaxed by a recent West Point excursion, consisted of nine tournaments. And it would certainly be next to impossible to determine the number of awards, the number of superior ratings, the number of medals, trophies, and certificates of honors which they have collected and presented to the growing Lipscomb award collection.

Victory Is Hard Won

But behind each trophy and each triumph lie hours, even weeks of hard work, study, research, and practice. Dr. Carroll Ellis, director of Lipscomb speech activities, has worked diligently with this group in a regular class two days each week during the fall and winter quarters.

The dabate questions this year concerned the recognition of the Communist government of China and Federal scholarship as an aid

Attend Alabama Conference

The regular season opened with the Ninth Annual Alabama Discussion Conference in November. This conference was held at the University of Alabama in Tuscaloosa. Eight debators attended, and Phillip Morrision and Lon McWhirter won superior ratings.

This initial endeavor was followed by a tournament at the

(Continued from page 1)

Ruth Behel and Dick Batey will be honored members of the court as Miss Lipscomb and Bachelor of Ugliness, respectively.

Howell Will Be Crowned

At the conclusion of the ceremony, Miss Billye Joyce Howell will be crowned 1955 May Queen by Athens Clay Pullias.

Mrs. Ollis Smith directs the May Day ceremony each year.

Processional and recessional music will be furnished by Clarence

Palms and Wild Huckleberry will be used in decorating the steps of Alumni Auditorium, and senior girls and court attendants will carry arm boquets of spring flowers.

The annual mother-daughter banquet, given by the school in honor of senior girls and their mothers, will begin at 6:15 in the college Student Center. The last event of the May Day festival will be the second presentation of The Mikado that evening at 8:15.

THE DLC DEBATE TEAM at a rare occasion together. From left, they are (first row) Dr. Carroll Ellis, coach; Maxine Smith, Norma Riggs, Jane Shannon, Clara Armstrong, Hope Camp; (second row) Jess Hall, Jr., Don McWhirter, Wayne Tincher, James Vandiver, Charles Trevathan: (third row) Phillip Morrisson, Marlin Connelly, Paul Rogers, and Philip Slate.

University of Florida, in Decem- bate and Morrison and McWhiter ber, and a later one at Millsaps were runners-up. College, in January,

The first outstanding victory came on Feb. 4 in Carrollton Ga. Two teams from Lipscomb won six superior ratings and were presented the Sweepstakes Award. Phillip Morrison, Bill Phillips, and Don McWhirter were awarded certificates for individual achieve-

Win State Forensic Meet

Feb. 11-12, Lipscomb played host to the Tennessee State Forensic Tournament. And for the second consecutive year, Lipscomb representatives received the sweepstakes award and brought the trophy back to this campus. Eight schools from over the state were represented in this contest.

Robert Hamlin kept up a Lipscomb tradition by winning the Men's Oratory division. As winner of the Founder's Day Oratorical Contest he followed four previous state winners. Hamlin spoke on "Followers of Dreams."

Other winners of individual events were Jane Shannon and Phillip Morrison in extempore. Hope Camp and Janavee McDoniel in after dinner speaking and James Vandiver in impromptu. Phillip Morrison and Marlin Connelly received individual awards in debate and Bill Phillips placed second in the peace oratory. Bill Phillips and Wayne Tincher were declared state champs in de-

Trade at Hutcherson's

Patroniza THE LIPSCOMB LAUNDRY

Purity Dairies Nashville's Finest Milk

360 Murfreesboro Road

6-1148

REALE JEWELRY CO.

DIAMONDS - WATCHES - FINE JEWELRY

ENGRAVING, WATCH AND JEWELRY REPAIRING Any Lipscomb Student Can Open A Charge Account! Special Discount to Students Fair Trade Items Excluded

BOB DRAPER, Class of '35

706 Church Street

At Entrance to Doctors' Building

The week of April 4-9 was a memorable one for Lipscomb debate fans. Dr. Ellis sponsored a group to Memphis to the Southern Speech Association Tournament and Congress, while Dale Brown accompanied another group to the Grand National Forensic Tournament in Frederickburg, Va. Lipscomb won 29 forensic awards in these two events. To highlight the week, the team of Morrison and McWhiter defeated the number-one team of Harvard Univer-

At the Memphis event, Lipscomb teams were declared winners in women's debate and junior college debate. Jane Shannon, Hope Camp, Paul Rogers, James Vandiver, and Jess Hall received superior ratings in individual events. In Fredericksburg, Tincher and Phillips were adjudged Grand Eastern Champions in Debate. Robert Hamlin, Marlin Connelly. Phillip Slate, Bill Phillips and Wayne Tincher made outstanding accomplishments in individual events.

Early in March a preliminary tournament was held at Emory University in Atlanta, Ga. to select participants for the West Point National Tournament. Phillip Morrison and Don McWhiter triumphed in this tournament and recently returned from their West Point trip where they made an outstanding showing for Lipscomb.

Morrison Is President

These stellar achievements could probably have never been reached without constant instruction and leadership. Phillip Morrison has served as president of the club and Jane Shannon as secretary.

Twenty-seven forensic students have cooperated and worked to make each endeavor a success. Other than those already mentioned are Bill Banowsky, Charles Trevathan, Dan Gilbert, David Westmorland, Jimmy Duer, Cornelius Abbot, Clara Armstrong, Joe Johnson, Donald Ramey, Maxine Smith, Norma Riggs, Julia Secrest, Wilma Armstrong, Janavee McDoniel and Hilton Royster.

Banquet To Climax Season On May 27, the season will be climaxed with the Annual Debate Club Banquet. This year the banquet will be held at Mrs. Brown's Tearoom. At this time, special awards will be made to all those who have participated in at least 10 intercollegiate debates and won 50 per cent or better.

Herd Sportlight

At about the half-way mark in David Lipscomb baseball schedule, it is beginning to look as if the team might actually lege of Nashville. live up to pre-season expectations.

It was prophesied during spring drills that the 1955 Bisons would be the most outstanding aggregation of baseball beef in Lipscomb fans. Lipscomb history. After the first few games this writer felt that the best thing to do was to give up sports writing, stop prophesying, and flee to Macedonia.

But the improved play and determination displayed in their last few outings may not only save the writing career but also bolster the Bison's faltering reputation.

Hitting Vastly Improved

The Herd's hitting strength which was acclaimed from here to Tanganyika to be the team's ace-in-the-hole was until last week about as powerful as the hitting in a girl's physical education class. But recently the big bats have really begun to Things first began to look up last Friday at Cookeville in the T. P. I. encounter. Coach Elvis Sherrill juggled the batting order and shook some life into the dead bats of Tom McMahon and Ken Dugan. McMahon picked up two timely what different as the Bisons teed hits and Dugan smashed a home run.

Herd Captured Double Header

On Monday, Gene Kidwell, the big left fielder finally woke up and cracked two home runs and a single in an Eskimo double header. The weather was near freezing but it was by far the most enjoyable day of the season for the Bisons as they captured both ends of the nineteen-inning doubleheader.

In the first game Herbert Murphy rifled a single in the bottom of the tenth to send Murray State home unhappy. Walter Glass who relieved starter Gary Colson in the fifth inning was credited with the victory.

In the second game the Bison's continued their hitting ing a good game, Crenshaw ways and breezed past Belmont 11-7. Archie Crenshaw worked well on the mound and became the first Bison pitcher to go the full nine innings.

The Herd picked up 12 hits in the Murray game and 15 in the Belmont contest. That's a total of 27; a pretty good day's work in any league! If the team can keep up this potent stick work they should have no trouble with the seven remaining

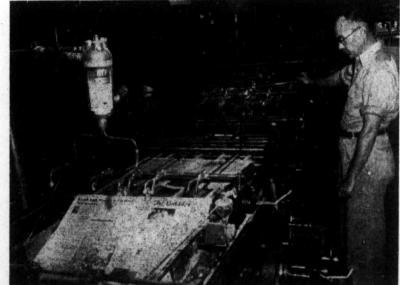

The Bisons now have a 5-3 season record. Two of the losses have been to V. S. A. C. foes, and the team will have to win all their remaining conference games in order to qualify for the post-season tournament.

Western Kentucky Today

The Herd has two important games this week-end. This afternoon the team plays host to Western Kentucky. The Bisons have beaten Western once this year. In fact, it has been several years since they have lost to Western Kentucky and the guests have blood in their eyes.

Game time is 3:00 P.M.

Tomorrow Austin Peay travels to Onion Dell. It will be the first encounter of the year for the teams.

WATCHING THE BABBLER ROLL OFF THE PRESS at McQuiddys is Mr. Curtis Atkins. This is next to final step of production

> TENNESSEE REAL ESTATE CO. Nashville's Largest Business Brokers Rentals • AUCTIONS • Sales REALTORS 121 Third Avenue, North Campbell Jenkins

DLC Grabs Twin Wins 9-8 11-7

The Bisons grabbed both ends of a double-header played Monday in Onion Dell from Murray State College and Belmont Col-

weather on a slightly wet diamond first batter, gave up two hits and before an enthusiastic group of a walk and allowed Murray to anderway at twelve noon, the Bisons spotted Murray a two run from behind and win the game

To start off the game, Gary Colson, junior righthander who was bothered with his control through-Both games were played in cool out the first five innings hit the score two runs before Lipscomb ever batted

The Bisons, however, fought like champions and tied up the contest in the seventh when

BisonsBlastBelmont11-7

In the second game which took Herb Murphy also collected two place Monday, Lipscomb played very potent V. S. A. C. opponent -the Belmont Rebels, their cross-

The Lipscomb team again allowed the opposition to taste first blood as Belmont pushed three runs across in the first inning off work-horse Archie Crenshaw.

This time the picture was someoff in their half of the first with four runs off Belmont hurler Oz-

From there on the Bisons never trailed in the ball game as they pilfered three Rebel pitchers for a total of 15 hits, six bases on balls, and 11 runs. 'What little they left to be desired in the opener with Murray State, they did in the second game.

Their fielding was sharper and the superb pitching of Archie Crenshaw was one of the high points of the games. Besides pitchrapped out two hits driving in two

Other hitting stars in the game were Ronnie Morrell who had three singles in five trips, Gene Kidwell, who had two hits including his second home run of the day, and Tom MacMahon who blasted three hits in five times at the plate. Wayne Wright and hits in this game.

The Bison's overall record now stands at 5-3. It is interesting to note that they have been the victims of some bad luck as they have suffered one-run defeats in all their losses. Their win over Belmont was their first V. S. A. C. win of the season and makes their record in conference play 1-2.

Up to end of Monday's games the squad's leading hitters were Ronnie Morrell and Carl Walker who both hit .333,

The team's next game will be played today against Western Kentucky here in Onion Dell.

Murphy c4	1	2
Walker cf	2	0
Kidwell 1f4	3	2
Wright 2b	1	2
McMahon 1b	1	2 2 3 0
Gardner ss	1	0
Crenshaw p4	1	2
_	-	_
35	11	15
Belmont
Pugh ss5	2	1
Seals 1f	1	1
Ray 1b	2	0
Barnes cf4	1	2
Scott c	0	3
Bull'gt'n 2b4	0
Knox rf	0	0
Innon rf0	0	0
Gross p-rf	0	0
Reynolds p2	0	1
Merritt p	0	0
Brantley 3b4	1	. 0
37	7	-8

Errors—Pugh, Seals, Brantley, Morrell, Murphy, McMahon, Gardner. Home run—Kidwell. Walks—Crenshaw 6, Reynold 2, Gross. Hits off—Gross 4, Reynolds 11. Strikeouts—Crenshaw 11, Reynolds, Gross 3. HBP—Murphy by Reynolds, Seals by Crenshaw. LOB—Lipscomb 9, Belmont 8. Winner—Crenshaw. Loser—Reynolds.

Herb Murphy, Lipscomb catcher, keeps tab on Murray State batter at Monday's game, which the Bisons won with little effort.

TURRENTINE REALTY COMPANY Sales--Insurance-Loans

Phone 42-2651

Alloway BROS. COMPANY Eggs Poultry Meats

HIGH QUALITY PRINTING

Books, magazines, catalogs, folders . . . anything Contact one of these Lipscomb alumni in our office: PAUL W. MOORE, CLASS OF '38 LARRY WILLIAMS, CLASS OF '39 V. M. WHITESELL, CLASS OF '41

JAMES W. BOYD, CLASS OF '51 Williams PRINTING CO.

417 COMMERCE • NASHVILLE • TELEPHONE 6-7126 J. R. OVERALL, PRES. E. A BERGSTROM, VIC :- PRES. his five innings of relief. He came in and held Murray scoreless over that period on three hits and three walks: he received credit for the The game was marred by 10 errors in the field with Murray being guilty of six and Lipscomb by the Murray pitcher, Haviland.

in the tenth Walter Glass brought home the winning run

when he scored on freshman catcher Herb Murphy's clutch

Walter Glass looked brilliant in

April 29, 1955

The hitting was fine, however, especially for the Bisons who rapped out 12 blows including two triples by Ken Dugan and a home run by Gene Kidwell.

Herb Murphy and Arthur Gardner also collected two bingles

Murphy c 5 1	2
Walker rf 4 1	ĩ
Kidwell 1f 4 2
Wright 2b 3 0	2
McMahon 1b 5 0	1
	2 0
Glass p 1 1	0
40 -	_
Murray 42 9	12
Mathis 3b 4 1	0
Walls rf 4 2	2
Walls rf 4 2 Talbot cf 3 2	0
Clutter 1b 3 2	2
	1 1
Wells 16	2
Wells If 2 0 Hawkins If 2 0	0
Kenley 2h	0
Kepley 2b 3 0	1
Haviland p 2 0	0
	_
Murray 36 8	9
Murray 202 022 000 0	-8
Lipscomb	-9
Errors-Walker, Wright, Colson 2, Ge	r-
Strikeouts—Colson 4, Glass 4, Carter Haviland 4. Balk—Haviland. HBP. Geralds, Walls by Colson. Winner Glass Losse Haviland.	2.
Haviland 4. Balk-Haviland HRP
Geralds, Walls by Colson Winner	_
Glass. Loser—Haviland.

Rams Declared Volleyball Champs

The Rams intramural volleyball team defeated the Pirates' team 15-1 and 15-2 Tuesday night, to win the championship game.

The Rams had advanced to the finals by defeating the Comets, and the Pirates defeated the Knights to reach the finals.

Dick Batey Wins Badminton Tourney

Dick Batey has been declared winner of the men's badminton tournament over James Clipp.

The tournament was sponsored and directed by Eugene Boyce, director of the Lipscomb intramural sports for men.

Batey advanced to the finals by defeating George Spain, and Clipp advanced to the finals by defeating Bob Landon.

In the finals Batey defeated Clipp 15-9; 15-4.

> FITTS CRAWFORD FLOWERS 2816 West End Ave.

> > 7-5946

McKay-Cameron Co.

Headquarters

CHINA, GLASS, SILVER

212 3rd Ave., N.

Special Edition For Career Day

Vol. XXXIV

Batey, Chorus

Give 'Mikado'

The College Chorus, under the direction of Miss Irma Lee Batey,

is presenting Gilbert and Sullivan's production. The Mikado,

This performance will be in con-

The admission charge will be

The cast includes the following

Duard Grace

Robert Brown

Nicky Boone

Mike McCrickard

Jean Reynolds

(Friday night)

Nancy Wyckoff

(Thursday night)

Madolyn Hudgens

Margaret Rasbury

60¢, and all seats are reserved.

Nanki-Poo, his soon: disguished

Ko-Ko, Lord High Executioner

Pooh-Bah, Lord High Every-

Katisha, an elderly lady, in love with Nanki-Poo Patty Walston school Girls, Nobles, Guards

The story, a Japanese comedy, is more or less a satire on the Former Student

With Government

Martha Lou Parker, a junior last year at Lipscomb, has been com-

she is doing as a Naval secretary

In a recent letter from Miss

Maud Custer, head of the clerical placement employment branch of

"A check with her (Martha's) supervisor indicates that she has made a very satisfactory adjustment to her work and that her performance as a stenographer evidences an excellent background."

per" and that Martha's contribuing her junior year at Lipscomb.

Many Opportunities

The school awards 60 scholarships to high school honor grad-ships carry the value of $120 per year or a total of $480 for four

Besides the above, awarded for the first time this year is the Willie Hooper McGuire

Memorial Scholarship, which is offered to a Lipscomb

woman student on the basis of outstanding character and each year.

scholarship.

Lipscomb Offers

For Financial Aid

tion is sincerely appreciated.

Finds Place

in Washington, D. C.

the Navy, she stated:

as a wandering minstrel, and junction with the May Day festivi-

May 13, 14

on May 13 and 14.

students:

Japan

The Mikado of

in love with

Yum-yum

of Titipu

thing Else

Chorus of

Pish-Tush, A Noble

The Babbler

SNAPPED DURING RECENT "MIKADO" rehearsal were Nancy

the story of the Mikado, emperor Poo. of Japan, and his haughty, husband-seeking bride-elect, Katisha. The plot reveals Katisha's escapades to get a husband, in con-

Students Reside mended recently for the good work In Three Dorms

All Lipscomb boarding sudents are made as comfortable and happy as possible in one of the three modern and convenient dormitories located on the cam- of attending summer school.

Elam Hall is the dormitory for men. It has 200 rooms, each of which is equipped with two single beds, built-in clothes closets, builtin cabinet with mirror, and hot and cold water. The freshmen girls live in

She also added that many important functions of the Navy De-Sewell Hall. It is a fireproof partment literally do "run on pabuilding with four stories and 100 rooms. Each room has not and cold water, built-in closet, and A general business major from built-in cabinet with mirror. They Del Rio, Tenn., Martha went to are furnished with two single

The upper division college girls generosity of Mrs. Helena Johnson,

Alumni Notes

uates each year. These scholar-First Lt. Ted E. Dorris '50 of 1615 Eastland Ave., Nashville, has years. Students may use the been awarded the Distinguished scholarships all four years pro- Flying Cross for his activities as vided they maintain a 2.0 quality an Air Force pilot during the war Typewriting for six hours credit. point average (B) or better for in Korea. Lt. Dorris is married to the former Dotty Dodds and has Ten scholarships, each worth one daughter, Dale, We extend sympathy to the $100 are awarded every year by Mrs. Helena Johnson. These are family of Rufus Underwood, Sr., given on the basis of scholarship, '27, of Decatur, Ala. Mr. Underwood died of a heart attack April character, and Christian service. 28 at the Flagler Street Church of Jr., a student in the University of tion) for three hours. Alabama.

ridiculous laws and ceremonies of trast with the sweet, but humorthe ancient Japanese Court. It is ous, love of Yum-yum and Nanki-

Teacher preparation is to be a preciation) for four hours; Music

Freshmen Get Early Start

Lipscomb's summer school oftheir freshman year.

summer quarter.

six hours credit.

16 hours by taking 8 hours each

During the summer school, courses are available in Elementary Typewriting for six hours credit, and in advanced

Typing is increasingly becoming an essential skill for the college student in the preparation of reports and term papers, work on student publications, correspondence,

Music 111 and 112 (Music Ap-

Seniors Slate 12 Big Acts For Program Tonight

mental music, and comedy.

Among the vocal groups, there parts will be the "Varsity 4," a men's quartet, consisting of Duard Grace, school talent. A committee com-Doug Taylor, Al Smith, and Bob Bowersock. From the high school, there will be the Mello-dears, Ericson have arranged the prowell-known girls' trio.

There will be a solo number by Corky Brown, and hillbilly music will be furnished by Bob Howard and his band. Approximately 40 performers will take part in the two hour Master of Ceremonies. One feature number is the "Blackboard Jungle" act, in which

IRC Participates In Model Assembly On Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, April 28, 29, 30, delegations from nine southern colleges and universities met on the Vanderbilt campus for the third Model United Nations in the Mid-South. Fifteen students from Lipscomb represented the United States, Turkey, and India.

Hope Camp served as Secretary General of the Model United

one or two hours; and Physical

(Golf, Archery, Elementary Swimming, and Tennis) for one hour

Peabody, Vanderbilt Cooperate with George Peabody College and

Summer School Dates Set

The first session of the 1955 summer quarter will begin June 13 and end July 16, and the second session will begin July 18 and end

special feature of the entire sum- 114 and 116 (Music for ministers

President Athens Clay Pullias and his secretary, Mary Sherrill, have pointed out many advantages Education 103, 104, 105, and 131

fers freshmen an opportunity to get an early start on their college program, and also to work off some of their required subjects in advance so that they will have more time for electives during

For example, it is possible to complete the requirement for three terms of a laboratory science by concentration on biology and takwork in Washington after finish- beds, chairs, desk, and dresser. ing all 12 hours of this course Shower and tub baths are located during the two sessions of the

It is also possible to work off live in Johnson Hall. This dormi- two terms of the freshman Engtory was constructed in 1948 and lish requirement during the sumwas made possible through the mer quarter, by taking English 111 and 112 (English Composition) for

Each student can take a total of

Other freshman courses offered Christ in Miami, Fla. He is sur- during the two six weeks sessions vived by his wife, the former Mary include: History 111 and 112 Pitts Taylor '30, and four chil- (Survey of Civilization) for six dren, Jan and Steve, twins, and hours credit; Home Economics 112 Taylor, all of Decatur, and Rufus, (Elementary Clothing Construc-

Twelve big acts will be pre- Tom Wa 1 and Tom Burton star sented tonight, beginning at 8 p.m. as Mille, and West. George Brazil on the "Senior Variety Nite." The plays "the Spik," and Keith Ericnumbers include vocal and instru- son is "Daddy-o." Nanna Wright and Don McAlister also have

The show includes most all posed of Nancy Wyckoff, Joanne Edmondson, Phil Dunn, and Keith

Working Students Meet Expenses

It would be impossible for many show, of which Bob Sivley will be young persons to go to college if part-time work opportunities were not available.

Lipscomb, like most other schools, provides these opportunities for students who apply for work contracts. A student with an average class load of 16 hours may earn as much as $60 per quarter. The work contracts range in size from $25 to all expenses paid. About five people here work out all of

Many Places Available There are about 150 working students on the campus. Their jobs include campus maintenance. library workers, secretaries. switchboard operators, hosts and hostesses, dormitory supervisors. cafeteria workers, kindergarten assistants, lifeguards, audio-visual assistants, lab instructors and steam plant workers.

The salary ranges from 30¢ per hour for hostesses to 50¢ for lab instructors and secretaries who grade papers. Every three quarand song leaders) for four hours: ters a raise of 5¢ is given. private piano and voice lessons for

Bob Kerce, assistant to the president, is head of the working students personnel. He has a regular secretary, Mary Hall, and two assistants, Elaine Burns and Bernice Ed-

Through special arrangements Richard Waggoner is head of general maintenance. The Work-Vanderbilt University, Lipscomb ing Students Club president is Bill students may take courses during O'Neal, and Betty Morrison is secthe summer in either of those retary. Every year the club has schools in fields where Lipscomb a picnic and a banquet during is not fully prepared to offer them. spring quarter.

FACULTY ASSISTANCE ON COLLEGE CAREER PLANS

At 11:00 go to the room listed below opposite the subject area in which you are primarily interested. One or more of the college faculty will be there to counsel with you.

2. At 12:00, after dismissal from your first meeting, go to the room listed below opposite the subject area in which you have an alternate or secondary interest.

All rooms listed by number are in this building, College Hall; e.g., 101 is located on the first floor, etc. If you need help in locating other buildings or rooms listed, our student guides will be glad to direct you. DEPARTMENT

Bible, Reli	igious Education, Ministe	rial,
Greek	igious Education, Ministe	200	Chumley W	aine
Biology		Biol. Bldg	Artist.	Ower
Business A	Administration, Accounti	ng 117	Ker	dric
Economics				Ango Aarti
I Education
Second	ntary	309	Leonard, J. Brown,	Hobb
Augio	Visual	Gvm	Gune	alma
English .			Brown, Friend, C.	hoate
Coorrenber	T Observe On A	Eleca Day E	L	andis
Health. Ph	ysical Education, Coachi	ng Gym	Davis Hanvey Sh	rizze
	olitical Science		Mason, Boyce, 1	Moor
History, Po	olitical Science		White, H	enle
Journalism	nomics	201	Carter,	Clar
Languages	(French, German,
Spanish	h) Library, 2nd	Floor, Rm. C	Whitten, (Good
Library W	ork Library, Main	F100r, Rm. D	Broadus, Tomi	nsor Masor
Mathematic	cs and Physics	303		Dor
Music (Ap)	plied music, music educate	don—	Batey, Haflinger, Ga	rdne
Philosophy	nental and vocal)	Fice Ad Bldg	Arnold, Cline, C	Gree
Psychology	Dean's Of Library Bas	ement, Rm. A	Stroop, 8	prot
Sociology	Library, 2nd	Floor, Rm. D	Cato, Cullum, Whi	take
Speech (G	eneral speech, oral inter of drama, radio and tele mming and speaking)	preta-	Pille P P D
program	mming and speaking)	300	North, Baker, D. B	rowi
Pre-engine	ering, Pre-agriculture		1	Kerc
Pre-law Pre-medici	ne, Pre-dentistry, Pre-		Ken	drick
pharma	icy, Pre-nursing		Clipp, H. Carter, B.	rvan
	Chemistry	Bldg., Rm. B	Clipp, H. Carter, B. Duncan, Barron, F.	larri
The second second second

A Note to You... The staff of the BABBLER welcomes you to our campus. We are always glad to have visitors, but we are even happier to entertain those who, in time, may become a part of us and our school.

Plans have been made to acquaint you with the campus, some of the faculty, and-just Lipscomb in general. Plans for the day include a band concert, a Barbeque, songs by the David Lipscomb College Choristers and discussions concerning your future careers.

It is our hope that you will enjoy your day at Lipscomb, that you will enjoy this BABBLER, and most of all, that you will join us next September.

Just for Preachers?

Perhaps many of you are here today with the idea that Lipscomb is only a school for preachers. Nothing could be Secondary Schools. farther from the truth.

It is true that Lipscomb requires a daily Bible class of all her students, yet it is also true that only a small percentage of these students ever preach.

The administration at Lipscomb feel, and rightly so, that a study of the Bible is an integral part of everyone's education. And it is as important for the lawyer, the doctor or dentist, the business man, the teacher, or even the ditch-digger after one or two years at Lipscomb. "Our to understand the application of Christian work is now accepted by other colleges principles as it is for the preacher to without question," states Dean J. P. Sandcomprehend such ideas.

In Case You Ask

Now that you've come to Lipscomb it is natural that you should ask, "What does it cost?"

In answer to that: a boarding student pays approximately $838.50 for the school year of nine months for room, board. tuition, and fees. Excluding room and board the day student's cost is about $396 for the year.

But you also will ask, "What is it worth? How much will it profit me?" Yet there are no answers to these questions. No scale of monetary values is applicable to a Christian College education, and only you will be able to know what it profits after you have shared such an experience as a student at Lipscomb.

Future College

These days of high school graduations lead us to reflect upon an economic bulletin just released by the National Association of Manufacturers which concerns the expected increase in college enrollment by 1960 and 1970. The bulletin shows there were 8,076,411 persons of college age in the United States in 1952, but by 1960 this figure would climb to 9,273,157.

By 1970, the total number of persons of college age is estimated at 13,609,831.

The eight Southeastern states of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, North Carolina and South Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia will have a 1970 college

THE BABBLER

Entered as second-class matter, December 26, 1923, at the post office, Nashville, Tenn., under the Act of March 3, 1897. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1916; authorized, Nashville. Tenn.

Published weekly during the regular school year except during holidays or examination periods by the students of DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE, Nashville, Tenn.

Office located on second floor Crisman Memorial Library.

Member

Associated Collegiate Press EDITORIAL STAFF

	Peggie Herron Editor-in-Chief
	Mary Lou Carter Associate Editor
	George Patterson Editorial Page
	Cornelia Turman Feature Editor
9	Matthew Morrison Staff Artist
	BUSINESS STAFF
١,	Davidson Mr.

Benny Nelms Circulation Manager ADVISORY STAFF Willard Collins Faculty Advisor Eunice Bradley

enrollment potential of 1,423,707, North Dear Students . . . Carolina will have the expected high of 407,344 followed by Georgia's 349,387. Kentucky's expected 1970 college potential will be 276,345.

Not all of these potential college students will actually enter college, of course. But the figures suggest that it is not too soon to be thinking about college and university facilities for the decade

The great number of postwar babies born in 1945-46-47 will be of college age beginning in 1962-63-64. If heeded now, the report suggests, these figures mean we can plan to prevent the crowded conditions in colleges that now exist in elementary and secondary schools.

Here's What It Means...

College was officially accepted by the Southern Association of Colleges and

Just what does being a member of the Southern Association mean? According to Athens Clay Pullias, President of the College, "Membership in the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools is the final step on the permanent change of David Lipscomb College from a junior to a senior college."

Being a member of the Southern Association is especially beneficial to students who plan to transfer to other colleges

Lipscomb now ranks academically along with any other school in the nation and continues annually to build a stronger

By Bob Siyley

Top news of the week again from the eastern part of the world, as free South Vietnam became the scene of fighting and

By Wednesday, the fighting was at a stand still and pro-U. S. Premier Ngo Dinh Diem seemed to be the victor. After calling a congress of 951 officials, Diem claimed "total victory" over the rebellious Bihh Xuyen sect which touched off the bloody revolt in an attempt to oust Diem from power.

There were 2.500 casualties, 500 of them dead in the four days of fighting.

Diem is supported now by the revolutionary junta, but the junta demands the immediate resignation of Bao Dai, em- out there have said that those peror of Vietnam. They demand that a trips were occasions they would republic be formed.

Diem is expected to ask Bao to surrender his powers and then call a general quarter evening devotions, which assembly to set up a new government. are held on the steps of Alumni He will at least head the provisional Auditorium, mean a lot to them. government until steps are taken to form a more stable ruling power.

Diem's victory means that western interests are safe in South Vietnam, at least for the time being.

RR Strike Is Center of Attention

A local situation was one of the top subjects of President Eisenhower's press conference this week. The settlement of the 52-day-old L&N-NC&St.L rail strike was expected yesterday. The stalemate had also occupied the attention of Secretary of Labor James P. fill clerical jobs, and some come Mitchell who had abandoned plans last back just to visit, or see old week to intervene in the controversy. since settlement seemed near.

Well-informed sources said that both sides are to arbitrate differences on the times it is hard to express just health and welfare insurance plan, the core of the long dispute, and that the railroad had agreed to recognize seniority which can serve in that capacityrights of all men who had been on the in fact, there is so much that strike. This matter had held settlement usually everyone feels a pang of up for several days. Mitchell issued the following statement to the press early Wednesday: "I hope sentiments are expressed in this that both parties are aware of their duty one student's summary of "what to effect quickly a fair and equitable Lipscomb means to him": "To me, settlement of this dispute and thus dis- Lipscomb means friends, home, charge their grave responsibilities to re- happy associations, pleasant store normal transportation service as memories, and one of the greatest quickly as possible in the interests of the influences that I have had upon .Press Club Sponsor public they are obligated to serve." my life."

THE BABBLER

Pullias Extends Welcome to Seniors

It gives me very great pleasure to welcome you to the Lipscomb campus. Today is your day at Lipscomb. The faculty, staff members, and students are waiting to meet you and serve you in any way that will add to your enjoyment of your visit.

You will find the Lipscomb students friendly and easy to know. were high school seniors, eager to learn what college held in store for them, and they know exactly how you feel

More than 60 Lipscomb teachers are also waiting to meet you. It will be their pleasure to answer your questions about Lipscomb's courses of study in their particular fields, and to study with you your own plans for continuing your education and for choosing your life occupation.

Lipscomb has some very special opportunities for young people. both in academic instruction and in spiritual environment. I sincerely hope that the program planned for you today will give you a clear insight into these opportunities and what they would

If we do succeed in doing this, I know you will want to come back to Lipscomb next September and become a part of all that you find here today.

> Athens Clay Pullias, President David Lipscomb College

What Lipscomb Means to Mè

"What does Lipscomb mean to you" has been asked of many students in the past fifty years. Andjust as many answers have been given. Wherever a person lives, either persons or things, or both, come to mean something to him.

Some students say that the acquaintances and contacts made while here mean more to them than anything else. Lipscomb is a fine place to meet good people. In fact it is a fine place to do good.

On Friday nights a group always visits the TB hospital. Those patients at the hospital are always glad to see the Lipscomb group. Several of those students who go never forget.

Many have said that the spring Some say the daily chapel meeting at 10:00 a.m. is meaningful to

It has been said by some, who came to Lipscomb for only one year, that they would not trade anything in the world for their short stay.

It compliments the school to have its graduates return to teach, work, and visit. After graduation each year, one sees many of the alumni around the campus; some friends

Why do they return? Lipscomb means something to them. Someexactly what something means to you. There is much at Lipscomb sorrow when it is time to leave.

But, we feel that all the above

DAY by DAY

Hello to all you prospective students! We're glad that you have come to look us over and sincerely

hope that you will find all that you are looking for. To help you get acquainted, we're going to let you in on a few of the things that happen

when you grow up and go to college.

There is always the gab fest in the dormitory on the weekends. A small It hasn't been long since they too mob was gathered in one of the Johnson Hall rooms and was just settling down to discuss such intellectual topics as who dated whom that night or who wore what to which occasion. Suddenly June Bolt rushed from the room—saying as she departed, "Y'all wait a minute till I get my glasses so I can hear." Logical, no?

Fyfe

> And when the mail comes, there is one of the grandest stampedes that you have ever seen. Nancy Burns was part of this stampede one morning as she carried a letter to be sent home. Finding a letter in her box, she took it to the Out-going Mail drop and dropped it in. Next she tore open the letter she had just written and commenced to investigate the contents. As was said, there is a great deal of excitement when the mail comes.

Accidents will happen in college, too. At lunch Betty Cox was wearing the latest thing in footwear-straw flats decorated with raffia berries, fruits and leaves. But as she carried her tray back, she left behind her all the decorations on her shoes. Through the cafeteria lay scattered the brightest fruit seen there in ages. The sad part is that someone mistook it for a salad and added real lettuce leaf as he helped her gather up her shoes.

Sometimes during your college career here, you will no doubt come in contact with Buddy Arnold and his pitch pipe. Don't be surprised to hear emit only a shrill peep when he blows the pitch. You see, his daughter Nan is teething and what could be nicer than daddy's pitch pipe when he isn't looking.

You will run into all sorts of pranks, too. (Probably take part in your share of them, also.) For instance, the big wagon used to haul heavy equipment around the campus—the organ has had as many trips as anything else-was found sitting on the front porch of Elam Hall. Jimmy Duer will have to take all the blame since the only tip he would give is that most of the ones who put the overgrown cart there were people who lived in Elam Hall. A big help you are, Jimmy.

And all sorts of interesting experiences and discoveries await you. Few boys realize what girls go through in wearing stockings. But those in the cast of Macbeth know now. Charlie Shelton, David Macy, Jim Blankenship, Earl Edwards, Paul Rogers and the rest used everything from safety pins to band-aids to keep their long black hose up. Not too successfully in some cases.

College life holds its embarrassing moments as well as its pleasant ones. Even faculty members can testify to this. Like the time that the whole chapel audience looked up in the balcony only to behold Howard White. J. E. Choate, and Carroll Ellis standing there while the rest of the faculty remained seated. In answer to Willard Collins' questioning, they stated that they were ready to leave. So they did-amid gales of laughter from the

Naturally you will be coming to college to learn in the stimulating classes held here. Stimulating like the class in which Tibby Donelson went to sleep and dropped her fountain pen with disastrous results. Not only did the point on the fountain pen get bent completely double, but in bending over to pick it up, Tibby knocked her books off her desk and spilt a bottle of ink. That is not the technique for hiding your slumber in class that we recommend

Free periods during the day present the problem of what to do with all the spare time. There has to be something to do besides study. So most of the dorm students solve that problem by heading for the roof to increase that suntan. But few of them do it the way Audrey Bondurant does it. She can be seen ascending the ladder with an umbrella in her hand along with the suntan lotion, quilt, sunglasses, etc. The bumbershoot is to keep the sun off, she explains. There must be a

In some of the classes there will be geniuses. In the political science class discussing the government and politics of the Far East, Ralph Henley was assigning some special reports and gave Donald Ramey the topic of "Cinese lobbies." To get his subject more specifically, Donald asked, "Which hotels?" Next question, please.

If you are exceptionally lucky, you'll be able to get a roommate like mine. (You can't hardly get them no more.) Although in one of her gayer moods she'll give you a liberal coating of lipstick fresh from the tube, she-without complaining-will try to sleep in spite of the glaring light and clacking typewriter while yours truly grinds out this bunch of nonsense until the wee (sometimes not so wee) hours of the morning.

Hope these tall tales haven't scared you off and we'll be seeing you around in the years to come.

A Tear and a Smile . . .

Now that I'll Be Leaving

You ask me, now that I'll be leaving, how I feel about this— felt the breeze as it whirled around this fall. From Springfield, Tenn., this that we call our Alma Mater. If I were to tell you, I'd say it's always, the softness. the very greenness of the earth that Lipscomb means to me. Stop or you're late for class. Stopof quietness, sounds of peace,

Here you know you are finding yourself, and now you can be glad. Before, there were moments of bitterness, a little cynicism, perhaps more pain than you had sup- philosophy. posed there would be, but they are only soft sounds now. You

Babbler, Press Club Work Together

The staff of the BABBLER, regular publication, has enjoyed putting out this special issue of the paper for those of you who are in the darkness kind faces peep prospective students.

Since this was mid-term examination week at Lipscomb, a special effort was made by the staff to prepare this edition. Ordinarily no paper is published during examina-

The BABBLER is a four-page paper which includes all phases of student activity in addition to current world affairs. Writers and staff members are selected from the Press Club.

If you are at all interested in journalism, the staff recommends that you join the Press Club next year and take regular journalism course which is offered for two

Opportunity to Advance

There are always openings in the Club for new writers and reporters, and the chances of working up to a staff position are good for the student who consistently evidences his aptitudes and sense of responsibility.

On the staff of the BABBLER this year are Peggie Herron, editor: Mary Lou Carter, associate editor: Cornelia Turman, feature editor; George Patterson, editorial page editor; Matt Morrison, cartoonist; Paul Rogers, business manager; and Benny Nelms, circulation manager.

Vice-President Willard Collins and Miss Eunice Bradley, director of the Lipscomb News Bureau, serve as advisors of the publica-

Cosmetics at Hutcherson's

Traughber Twins Will Take Advantage By Cornelia Turman Two outstanding future Lips-

the trees to them, and felt always, they are 17-year-old twin daugh-There's a warm buzz from the Traughber.

men and women 1 ho care.

ment, in scholarship; in finding a quet in Chicago.

You know that the philosophy is mates. to be braced up, patched up and worn out, but it's warm and comfortable, and it's yours. You know plans to major in home economics

Since extra-curricular activities are an essential part of any program of study, David Lpiscomb

College makes a special effort to

A program is definitely planned and carefully directed. Extracurricular activities are made a

The willingness of faculty members to assist in the programs adds to the "family air" for which Lipscomb is known. The activities are available with only the small-

The following clubs meet regu-

The Choristers, Creative Writers' Club, Debaters' Club, Home

Economics Club, Dramatic Club,

The Ensemble, Future Teachers'

Club, International Relations Club.

Mission Study Class, Musicians'

Club, Band, Preachers' Club, Press

Club, Backlog Club, and Photog-

David Lipscomb College offers

of athletics, including basketball,

baseball, and tennis. The college also sponsors an extensive intramural program in addition to raphy Club.

varsity athletics.

Men's and Women's Glee Clubs.

larly on the Lipscomb campus dur-

est incidental expenses.

ing the regular school year:

part of the daily and weekly supply this need.

schedule at Lipscomb.

have felt the grass yielding to their combites are Sue and Sara feet, felt the sun on their hair, Traughber who will be freshmen ters of Mr. and Mrs. Carl S.

I walk on here that speaks of all buildings, and through the win- Last year a feature story about dows you know there are teach- these girls appeared in the magaa while, when you're walking ers. (Professors and instructors zine section of the Nashville TENalone. Maybe you're in a hurry are such cold, impersonal words.) NESSEAN. Both leaders in 4-H to the drugstore, or to the library, And the teachers are teaching. It's Club work, Sara was elected very slow, and very soft, but we Speaker of the Senate at state 4-H don't you hear soft sounds? Sounds see, and the others have seen, that Congress as a sophomore. She has somewhere in the world there are also served as president of the Robertson County 4-H club and We learn a deeper meaning of won a National Citizenship award sacrifice, we learn the quiet ease, on 4-H records. She was selected the Limile pleasures, in refine- to preside at a National 4-H ban-

THE BABBLER

Men and women, dead now. Tennessee Girl's State and as a have given us these, and other delegate to Girl's Nation. This look up and there is God, and you men and women are carrying it on, year she is the editor of the school and we are grateful, oh yes, we annual and won the D. A. R. good How many others, you wonder, are grateful! There's a happy lit- citizenship award. She was setle flutter inside, and you smile lected "most likely to succeed" a little, because you understand. this year by her high school class-

A superior debater, she is valedictorian of her senior class. She that there are still darkening at Lipscomb and wants to be a class favorite and the following places before you, but it doesn't home economist in journalism, telmatter so much anymore, because evision, or radio after graduation. Sue is also an outstanding 4-H out at you, and always, always, clubber, having served as Robertson county 4-H club president and retary of her senior class and best Hall, where it has been since 1951

Whatever You Choose—It's Here

secretary, Tennessee State 4-H She is also a winner of the Vol

State award, highest award in Tennessee club work. Sue has won state and national awards on

She also served as assistant editor of the school paper. This year Sue was elected sec-

all-around girl in Springfield high Council secretary and secretary of school. She is planning to major 4-H District All-Star Honorary or- in either home economics or social science and wants to be a

As a sophomore she was elected year was alternate to Girl's State.

Health Center Is

Always on Guard By Vivian Wright One of Lipscomb's most essential features is the Student Health Center. The clinic's present home is the basement of Elam

Eight Rooms in Clinic

Eight rooms are included in the clinic, the first of which is the reception room. Here are kept the daily record book and file case. which includes a record of each college student.

Next is a room for treatment of minor illnesses. The supplies here are an automatic nose spray. a blood pressure instrument, a device for the examination of ears. and fever thermometers.

The third room is the supply room, and only the doctor and nurses are allowed to enter. There is a large treatment room containing an instrument and syringe table, a large treatment table, Mayo table, two sterilizers. spotlight, linen supply cupboard. one small autoclave, and a hot

Another room contains a bed for emergencies, a set of scales, and charts for examining the eyes. The remaining three rooms are the laboratory, the doctor's office, and the restroom.

Members of the staff include Dr. T. Emmerson Simpkins, who acts as head, and three registered nurses-Mrs. Willia Barron, Miss Earline Duncan and Miss Vernell Harris, as medical advisors

The staff members are responsible at all hours for all boarding students. The Health Center is open from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. Monday through Friday, and from 8 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturdays. Dr Simpkins and the nurses are on call if the clinic is not open.

Buy Fountain Pens at Hutcherson's

6-1148

Joy's Flowers 601 Church

6-4144

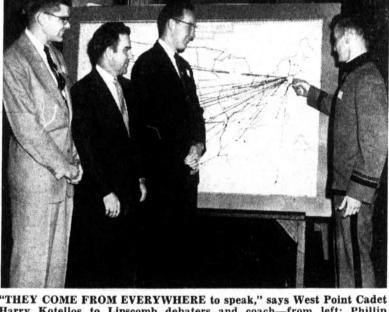

TURRENTINE REALTY COMPANY 2915 Nolensville Road Sales-Insurance-Loans

Phone 42-2651

Alloway BROS. COMPANY

Eggs Poultry Meats

PLAN YOUR LIFE SECURITY WITH

"THEY COME FROM EVERYWHERE to speak," says West Point Cadet Harry Kotellos to Lipscomb debaters and coach-from left: Phillip Morrison, Dr. Carroll Ellis and Don McWhorter. Lipscomb participated in debate against West Point Academy in New York State several

WAVERLY BELMONT

SELF SERVICE LAUNDRY Right on Bus Line

Granny White At Halcyon

Closest to David Lipscomb College

Purity Dairies Nashville's Finest Milk

360 Murfreesboro Road

TENNESSEE REAL ESTATE CO. Nashville's Largest Business Brokers Rentals • AUCTIONS • Sales REALTORS 121 Third Avenue, North

Campbell Jenkins

Nashville's Own Department Store

Phone 5-4661 Fifth Avenue at Church

Health, Physical Education Meet Needs in Many Fields

Head of Physical Education Department

The Department of Health and Physical Education meets many needs of the Lipscomb student body. The program consists of six general areas of activity.

These include (1) the required program of recreational activity courses; (2) the health education experiences; (3) the program for the preparation of physical education teachers; (4) the program of intramural sports; (5) the program of intercollegiate athletics, and (6) the voluntary recreation

Every Student Benefits

It can be seen that every student has ample opportunity for instruction, participation, and competition in the natural play activities of American culture

Every student is required to participate in six quarters of physical education activity courses during his freshman and sophomore years. More advanced skill may be developed in courses which the student may elect according to his

Classes in personal and community health are also available through this department, in addition to the counseling services of the health center on the campus.

Students of above average ability in physical education activities are encouraged to become teachers and leaders of physical education and recreation.

Students desiring to teach physical education and health must complete 36 quarter hours of professional courses to be certified by the state of Tennessee to teach in

Openings for Graduates

Major students become closely associated with the departmental staff and have ample opportunity to develop the necessary competencies to be excellent beginning teachers and leaders upon graduation.

Voluntary participation in those activities which a student finds interesting is provided in the intramural program (discussed fully in another article), the varsity

Every attempt is made to allow each student to compete on his ment of health and physical edulevel of ability. In addition, it is cation.

By Dr. Jennings Davis, Jr. believed that regular participation in the wholesome recreational activities makes for the development of a wholesome personality.

> Lipscomb is a member of the Volunteer State Athletic Conference and is represented by varsity teams in basketball, tennis, base-

The teams are perennially noted for excellent performance and a genuine spirit of sportsmanship. Scholarships are available to students of outstanding ability in athletics. Every student, however, is given abundant opportunity to make the varsity team.

department attempts to make available a variety of equipment and facilities that students and faculty can use in pursuing their recreational interests. The gymnasium is frequently open for badminton, volleyball, basketball, table tennis, tumbling, and swim-horseshoes, archery, tennis, croquet, softball, and volleyball are popular activities. Lipscomb students can be proud of the new and convenient facilities available to them. Two swimming pools provide opportunities for swimming and water sports.

The gymnasium houses a welllighted maximum size basketball floor with facilities also set up for tumbling and gymnastics, volleyball, and badminton

Four hard surface tennis courts make year-round tennis possible. Plenty of space on two athletic fields for foothall, haseball, soccer, track, golf and archery is always available

Departmental Aims

The emphasis in the entire program is upon the development of the complete personality. Through participation in physical activities the staff of Christian men and women in the department aim at guiding the student into a more vital role as a Christian person and a member of a democratic so-

It is felt that valuable growth in ships, and organic vitality is possible through participating in the various programs available

Bison Netters Down TPI, 7-2

played one of its best matches of the season Wednesday as they trounced Tennessee Tech 7-2.

The Bisons copped five of the six singles matches and two of the three doubles matches enroute to

In the top match of the day, Charles Hailey, team captain, made a brilliant comeback against Tech's top man—Tommy Stevens. Hailey took the first set 6-3. Then leading 5-2 in the second set, he suddenly faltered and Stevens took the set 7-5. The third and decid-

All Can Perform In Intramurals

By Gene Boyce Director of Intramurals

To those who love sports participation, Lipscomb offers an extensive program of intramural sports. All students have an opportunity to become a member of sports club, and participate in numerous tournaments throughout

During the past year 16 boys' teams and four girls' teams participated in a regular-league basketball schedule.

In addition to basketball, leagues are also conducted in football. softball, and volleyball. Lipscomb students also have opportunities to vie for honors in individual tournaments that include golf, bowling, badminton, tennis, track, swimming and diving, tumbling, gymnastics, trampoline, croquet, archery, table tennis, and

Many Awards Given

At the conclusion of the school year, medals and trophies are presented to the members of winning teams and to those who win the individual tournaments. Each year more than 100 medals and trophies are presented to those who excell in the intramural program.

In addition to the organized intramural program, Lipscomb students are encouraged to use the various recreational facilities during their leisure time. Equipment is nearly always available for those who wish to utilize it.

The extensive intramural and recreational program at Lipscomb not only offers fun and exercise. but also encourages good sportsthrough the efforts of the depart- manship, and many wholesome friendships are cultivated from the associations that take place.

ing set was "dog eat dog!"

With the score knotted at 6-6 after 12 games. Hailey pulled one of the most brilliant comebacks this writer has seen in a good while, taking the set 8-6.

He won the match 6-3, 7-5, 8-6. Stevens is Tech's top man, and had a 4-1 seasonal record prior to today's encounter with Hailey. He (Stevens) was the NIL Singles matches, Tommy Downey, Freed-Hardeman transfer, downed Ron Chancey 6-0, 6-0. TPI won its only singles match of the day when

Charles Robinson beat Jim Oliver, the No. 6 man, 6-1, With the victory already clinched with their performances in the Singles, the Bisons added

two of the three doubles. Hailey and Downey took Stevens-Hall 6-4, 6-2 and Gilbert-Oliver downed Austin-Robinson 6-3, 6-1. Ron Chancey and Marv Reed beat Sweeney-McDonough 8-6, 6-2 for TPI's only Doubles victory.

The victory was the Bisons' third of the season against five Tosses. But 2 of those wins are VSAC wins. They have not been In another of the day's top defeated in conference play and the team is a strong contender for the Eastern Division crown.

The Bisons left Wednesday after the TPI match to play in the Tennessee Intercollegiate Athletic Conference tourney at Sewanee Thursday and Friday.

The next home tennis match will be against Sewanee this coming Tuesday, and then the Bisons play host to Union Thursday.

THE CURRENT BISON BASEBELL TEAM is considered to be the best in the history of the school. Here Lipscomb catcher Herb Murphy is instrumental in recent win over Murray State.

The National Life and Accident Insurance Co.

NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Patronize

Trade at Hutcherson's

THE LIPSCOMB LAUNDRY

McKay-Cameron Co.

Headquarters

CHINA, GLASS, SILVER

212 3rd Ave., N. 6-0427

RAGLAND, POTTER & CO.

Distributors of

LIBBY FOOD PRODUCTS—FIRESIDE COFFEE

Wear The Best,

'DEER CREEK' SPORTS WEAR

FITTS CRAWFORD

FLOWERS

2816 West End Ave. 7-5946

EDWARDS, THOMAS WIN STUDENT BODY ELECTIONS

The Baller Resigns Post President A. C. Pullias this week announced the resignation

Howell Is Crowned May Queen Today

crowned May Queen by President A. C. Pullias at the annual May Day festival beginning at 5:15 this

Joanne Edmondson, June Bolt, Mary Margaret Grounds, and Gloria Brannam will be in the court, escorted by Honor Guards

400 Attend 'Career Day

Approximately 400 high school students visited the Lipscomb campus Sat., May 7, for Career

They came from Alabama, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, and Tennessee. Alabama and Kentucky had the largest delega-

Alumni and other friends of Lipscomb from the above states brought high school students to the campus.

The points of greatest interest to the visiting high school students on the tours were the dormitories and the practice house. The home economics department served tea and cookies to all who visited Pres. A. C. Pullias expressed appreciation to all Lipscomb students, faculty, secretarial staff, and administrative staff for their cooperation in making the day a

More than 100 students helped register, receive and guide the visitors about the campus; the BABBLER staff had the Career Day extra ready for distribution to all as they came by the registration desk; the members of the band, Choristers, tumbling squad and baseball squad made contributions on the program; and many helped with the food service and in other

Four Visitors Speak

The four visiting high school seniors who spoke in chapel Saturday morning were Neil Spencer Andrews, of Donelson High School; David H. Booth, of Cohn High School; Sue Traughber and Sara Traughber, both of Springfield High School.

Andrews is coming to Lipscomb next fall as a pre-law student, h to major in English and ion, and the Traughber twins to be home economics majors.

Babblerettes

The new catalogues have been mailing room for students.

The 1956 Spring Lectures (changed from Winter Lectures by action of the Board of Directors in April) will be held April 15-19. Theme of the series is "The Cross A. C. Pullias, president, is to give the commencement address at Fayette County High School, Fay-ette, Ala., on May 15. He will t Morehead State College, Morehead, Ky., May 30.

Willard Collins, vice-president,
will speak at an alumni meeting in Detroit, May 21.

students to participate and boating activities.

Later in the evening will return to the camp

Also to be honored in the court are Miss Lipscomb and Bachelor of Ugliness, Ruth Behel and Dick Miss Irma Lee Batey Batey, respectively. Sallye Mills, daughter of Mr.

and Mrs. Wilfred E. Mills of Scottsville, Ky., will serve as flower girl. Crown Bearer John Paul Matthews is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Matthews of Sparta. Girls from the three lower classes and representatives from the high school, junior high, elementary and kindergarten departments will be in the procession. A series of events has been

Phillip Morrison, and Bob Sivley.

FTA Has Picnic. Elects Officers

The Lipscomb chapter of the Future Teachers of America elected officers for 1955-56 at a picnic in Reservoir Park May 5. They are: president, Benny Nelms: vice-president, Matheny; secretary, Mary Pilkin-ton; and treasurer, Joyce Renner. Next year's Executive Council will be composed of Orean Poe, Earlene Doak, and James Costello. They will act as an advisory council to the other club officers.

15 Get Awards On May 3, fifteen members of the F.T.A. received certificates of award and pins in recognition of service rendered. Each person had a minimum of 50 merit points, representing 50 hours of service. Those who received these awards were: Ruth Behel, Gloria Brannam, Betty Burns, Bob Collier, Martha Copeland, Anne Derseweh. Joanne Edmondson, Bill Fullerton, Pat Jones, Bill O'Neal, Riley, Catherine Sneed, George Spivey, Mary Stapleton, and Pat Fender Thrasher

85 Seniors Will Attend Outing

Approximately 85 seniors will leave for a two-day outing on Fri., May 20.

At present the seniors plan to Canless; 1945, Lois Church; 1946, leave before noon so as to arrive at Montgomery Bell Park in time Dottie Glenn; 1948, Mabel Hardfor lunch. The seniors and their dates will eat dinner at the park, spend the night, eat breakfast there and return to the campus Saturday morning. Plans have been made to reserve two of the camping units for the students. Mr. and Mrs. Henry O. Arnold and Mr. and Mrs. Howard White will accompany the class.

Student Board Plans Lake Picnic

The Student Board will have its annual spring outing May 19. Leaving after chapel the group plans to go to the home of Joy Anderson, '54, in Sycamore Landing, Tenn., where the affair was held last year.

The Anderson's home is located on Kentucky Lake, enabling the students to participate in fishing Later in the evening the group will return to the campus.

BABBLER Is 'First Class' In National ACP Criticism

The BABBLER has been awarded an honor rating of "First markings in every field.

Especially commended were the commended were t ment received Monday from the Associated College Press. This is next to the highest rating, All-American, awarded to college papers. The BABBLER missed the All-American rating ceived favorable attention. by only 35 points. A minimum of 1,500 points was necessary for the "First Class" rating and the BAB-BLER received 1,615 total points. Only 12 other newspapers from colleges all over the U. S., com-

given this honor rating. The BABBLER received "supeparable in size to Lipscomb, were editorial page features, "Penpoints" written by editor Peggie Herron, and "Day by Day" by Pat Fyfe. The make-up and creativeness displayed also re-

The judge commented that the BABBLER in his opinion "has worked out a professional approach to news writing." Headquarters for the A.C.P. are at the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis. Members of the faculty at the University and professional newspapermen acted as operetta, The Mikado, directed by

One-Act Play Presented

"The Prodigal Son", a one-act ligious play will be given from 3 to 4:30 this afternoon. Under the direction of Dale Brown, instructor of drama. It is being presented by special arrangemen with the Religious Drama Society of Great Britain and the author, H. Ward

The high school chorus directed by Mack Craig, the college band, nd a group directed by Clarence immediately preceding the cere-

The mother-daughter banquet given in honor of senior girls and their mothers will begin at 6:15, and the second "Mikado" performance at 8:15 will conclude the 1955 May Day festival.

Mrs. Ollis Smith is in charge of planning May Day each year.

24 May Queens Elected Since '31

The first Lipscomb May Queen was selected in 1931. Since that time 24 queens have been elected -one for each succeeding year ex-

May Day has become a tradition and is an occasion in which every senior girl participates. The queen and her four attendants and their escorts are seniors elected by the student body. The rest of the girls usually dressed alike and escorted by senior boys, form the background for the court Former queens and the year in which they reigned are 1931, Nelle Grandstaff; 1932, Marie Roberta King; 1933, Evelyn Wright; 1934, Julia Ellen McKee; 1935, Jane Allen Young; 1936, Elizabeth Swallows; 1937, Louise Walker; 1938, 1939. Ellen Williams; 1940, Anna Russell Jackson; 1941, Betty Gregory; 1942, Sadie Gregory; 1943, Jean Burton; 1944, Tommie Mc-

1949, Ruth Parker; 1950, Mary Catherine Alexander Bullington; 1951, Mary Ann Jones; 1952, Jane Beasley; 1953, Emma Eller; 1954, Evelyn Cole Kell; and 1955, Billie

Alumni Notes

Officers elected to serve the Washington, D. C. Alumni Chapter for 1955 were Billy Hood '44, president; Bill Tucker '42, vice-president; and Aileen Bromley '22, secretary. Their meeting was held

Faye Moore '53 was married on March 22 to Gwinn Adams. The ceremony took place in Bradford,

Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Stroop (Margaret Smith) '39 and '50 are the parents of a son, Stephen Dalton, born in Murfreesboro, Tenn. during April.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Scott (Mary Nicholas) '51 are the parents of a little girl, Linda Joyce, born in Sumter, S. C. on April The Scotts also have a son. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bullington (Mary Catherine Alexander) '49 and '50 have named their new son, who was born May 5 in Nashville

Charles Edward, Jr. Their other child is Mary Daniel, 1½.

First Lt. Ted E. Dorris, '50, of 1615 Eastland Ave., Nashville, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for his activities as an Air Force pilot during the war in Korea. Lt. Dorris is mar-and has one daughter, Dale. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tucker, '42, are the parents of a new daughter, Danise May born April 1.

Boyd Tarpley, '30, of 2118 Fourteenth Avenue, South, Birmingham, Ala., is professor of dentistry at the University of Alabama. Ann Thomas.

"We regret to announce the resignation of Mrs. Ollis Smith as supervisor of Sewell Hall. She has been with Lipscomb for many years and has rendered splendid service. Her labors here will

Mrs. Smith is leaving to continue her work toward the master's degree at the University of Florida. After receiving the B.A. degree taught for a year in the elementary

rom Lipscomb in 1950, Mrs. Smith always be a part of Lipscomb.

Secretary-elect Mary Anne Thomas won the election by a large plurality of votes. lowing statement to the BAB-

From Lewisburg, Tenn., she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Stewart Thomas. For the past three years, she has been a Bison cheerleader and a member of the L Club.

day, Bill Smith and Earl Edwards

were named candidates in Thursday's run-off election for president

A homecoming attendant her sophomore year, she was chosen campus beauty during last quarter. Home economics is her major field of study.

Smith is a ministerial student from Stillwater, Oklahome. During his three years at Lipscomb, he has been active in campus musical productions. This year, he is a member of the Choristers and the Cavalier's quartet. Edwards, from Nashville, Tenn previously attended Central Chrisian College in Bartlesville, Oklahoma, where he edited the school paper, The Tower. At Lipscomb is publicity director of the Preacher's Club, and preaches regularly at Gassaway, Tenn.

He is a speech student. MacDonough a Third Candidate Fifteen years a Lipscombite James Lee MacDonough was the third presidential candidate. (Continued on page 3)

ner for student leaders will be

She has attended summer sessions at the University of Florida. and has also done graduate work at the University of Tennessee School of Social Work. Her home is in Mayfield, Ky., and she will spend the summer there, prior to enrolling in the University of Florida in the fall. Mrs. Smith is in charge of the May Day program, and will direct the processional leading to the coronation of the May Queen by President Pullias at 5:15 p.m

Collins Will Fete Student Leaders The annual Vice President's din-

Tuesday evening in the Student Vice President and Mrs. Willard Collins will host the dinner beginning at 6:30. Guests will include class officers publication editors, cheerleaders club presidents, members of the Student Board, most Representative students, May Queen, Homecoming Queen, the ball team, "Who's Who" listees, Campus Beauties, and student body offi-

Each club president will report on the activities of his club during the year. Another feature of the banquet will be the installation of new student body officers.

Signs, Speeches, Food—

for the last week. With six candidates all thinking up new and different approaches, the campus has been jumping. A covered wagon and a 1955 Oldsmobile convertible adorned the lawn in front of Johnson for a week. Free ice cream and cookies were distributed and an airplane dropped handbills after chapel

Friday. Announcements were made in place. chapel, as well as campaign speeches. A free movie of the the cafeteria on Monday night.

campus after chapel one morning And everywhere there were Big signs, little signs, black signs, red signs, white signs, blue signs, high signs, low signs, "wanted" signs, "baby" signs, boards, and every other possible From midnight May 5, until the Globetrotters was shown and and wondered what would hap-

EXHIBITING LARGE CAMPAIGN SMILE before Wednesday's preliminary voting are presidential and secretarial candidates James Mc-Donough, Bill Smith, Earl Edwards, Kay Morris, Pat Fyfe, and Mary

signs, and any other kind of sign anyone might care for—they were all on the walls, the trees, the buildings, the floors, the bulleting candlelight and soft organ music pen next. And almost everything the cafeteria on Monday night.

Gives Resignation

No Mud? In any sort of election, there is to be found some campaigning. It may be very mild-asking a friend to vote for a particular candidate, or it may be spectacular-skywriting the candidate's platform above a city. But nevertheless, there is always a certain amount of friction that comes between political parties. In many of our city-wide, statewide, and nation-wide elections, the campaigns become mud-slinging contests. Each party tries to see who can do the other the most harm. Insulting remarks are made and other measures taken to hurt the opposite party.

Many have remarked about this year's campaigns for student body officers. They have been upstanding as well as interesting. Party spirit and feelings have been high, but yet they have been shown with a great deal of good sportsmanship.

We feel that all candidates and their campaign managers should be congratulated for this clean, interesting campaigning carried on in our past student body

Shift in Trend

In recent years, some people have come to belittle the liberal arts education. Those people feel that the time spent on a liberal arts education is time wasted. The trend seems to be toward the vocational schools and schools which specialize in particular

Surely, modern day needs call for vocationally trained people. The complexities of our modern day living have created these needs. We must have vocationally specialized people to complete the needs of this age.

But, we need more than that. We are living in a world which has increased her fund of knowledge. We are living in a world where tremendous amounts of natural resources and many discoveries have been unlocked but not in comparison is the advancement and broadening of our minds.

What we need and what a liberal arts education can provide are men with high ethical standards and a broad general background. We need men who are able to cope with problems over a large general area, and who are not fettered to their own narrow field of specialization. That type of man is the kind that can provide the socially conscious leadership that our world today so vitally needs.

A Big Question

Many come to college with a definite future mapped out. They know what they want to do, and they come to school and study those things that will best equip them for their chosen professions. Many come to college with no definite future in mind: they have ideas as to what they want to do, but no definite plans.

us how we spend it and what we make of it. Since that is the case, we should seriously think about our future. Time enough should be allowed to decide what would be best to do; and then, time should be taken in preparing and planning for the choice. However, we should not wait too long about deciding our future.

Those who are in executive positions of large companies are always willing to talk to students concerning their profession and the possibilities it has to offer the college student. There are several booklets and pamphlets located in the Student Guidance Center which give valuable information concerning the relationships of various majors in regard to professions. Faculty members are willing to help one in deciding what to do as his profession.

Whatever we plan to do, we owe it to ourselves to investigate, inquire, and most of all, to decide, on that which will be the best way in which to spend our

The Big Pay-off

Two weeks ago, the BABBLER published an editorial which emphasized the need for a high level of education in professions today.

The profession mentioned, and from which we allowed representative quotes, was that of medicine. Those brief quotes showed the feelings of two leading doctors toward the need of education in the field of medicine.

We are now at the dawn of a new era. It is an era that will give men peace of mind against a once devastating and crippling disease commonly known as polio. Dr. Jonas E. Salk is the man behind the discovery of the new vaccine; his name will go down in history alongside that of Pasteur and other men who have done important research in their fields. Again, we see the importance of education and knowledge in our lives today. Without education Dr. Salk would probably never have accomplished his goal.

The world has paid, and will continue to pay, tribute to this great man. Salk has been elected to receive $10,000 tax free, a gold medal, and the highest honor that Guatemala bestows upon anyonethe Order of the Quetzal.

However, all this means nothing to us. But the fact that we can feel comparatively free from the dreaded disease, and the fact that our children can be free from the disease means much to all of us. It means another step that will make our generation a better one than the last in which to live.

Statistics show that college graduates now occupy over two thirds of the executive positions in the large manufacturing companies; three fours of the executive positions in our nation's banks are held by college graduates, and eighty-five per cent of those earning over $5,000 per year are college graduates.

Pollyanna? Us?

Two weeks ago a rather subtle (we thought) suggestion was made within these columns to set the school clocks up so we wouldn't be forced to run five minutes behind the rest of the world.

We were not surprised to find that this suggestion went the way of all good suggestions-it was ignored, and we're still trudging along the same as before.

Oh well, most students don't find it too inconvenient to miss their bus and wait another hour, or go into their off-campus classes consistently late. It might help in developing tolerance if nothing else. And we make wonderful Pollyannas.

About Our Success

The second annual prospective student barbeque and career day was a success. Many prospective students and their friends and relatives were here on campus last weekend, and seemed to have a good time. Many stayed for the evening's entertainment program. Interest' was displayed on the part of many by their reserving rooms for next fall.

We believe that this type of day and the opportunity to meet students, faculty, and campus life, makes prospective students acquainted with Lipscomb to the extent that they will want to come. Many helped to make the day a success: Guides typists, choristers, band members, and the students who took the time to speak to our visitors.

To all those who helped, we voice our thanks and that which we are sure comes from the administration

THE BABBLER

Entered as second-class matter, December 26, 1923, at the post office, Nashville, Tenn., under the Act of March 3, 1897. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1916; authorized, Nashville, Tenn.

Published weekly during the regular school year except during holidays or examination periods by the students of DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE, Nashville. Tenn.

Office located on second floor Crisman Memorial Library. Member

Associated Collegiate Press

EDITORIAL STA	AFF
eggie Herron E	ditor-in-Chief lary Lou Carter As
eorge Patterson	Editorial Page
ornelia Turman	eature Editor
Latthew Morrison	Staff Artist

Business Manager Circulation Manager Benny Nelms ADVISORY STAFF

.... Faculty Advisor Willard Collins Eunice Bradley Press Club Sponsor

The Voters Said . . .

Posters, Food, Fun Carried No Weight

Boy! It is good to see all of the campaign signs down. Now you can actually see the color of the

But, it was great fun campaigning for our favorite candidates. wasn't it? All the campaigns were good-interesting too.

We sort of wondered how all the campaigning affected the voting So, we asked a few people "if the campaigns influenced their choice of candidate." Now we hate to tell all of you campaign managers and political backers the results of this poll. But they are bare Wasted Effort?

It seems that all of those posters, signs, refreshments, and enterinment ideas were relatively un-Yep, that's about the size of it! And, we have the statistics to prove that statement Betty Ketner, Ed Enzor, and Dick Matheney all said definitely "no." They had previously decided for whom they were going to vote, and the campaigns did not sway

Bob Enkema felt that the general campaigns had helped him in deciding on his candidate; and "the speeches definitely" had something to do with his decision

Doris Pardue, Carol Yeager, Zane Aldrich, and Jenny Smith said that the campaigns in general had nothing to do with their decisions, but that the speeches made in chapel had a great deal of influence

Charles Lawson and John Barton said that "some" influence was cast on their selections by the campaigns; and, John said that the speeches had a lot of influence

George Anne Wolfe said that the only thing which influenced her vote was the individual.

So, there are the results. course we don't expect this poll to influence any of the candidates into not having that kind of campaign next year. We just wondered how much difference the general campaigning really made.

From all of the statements made by those approached, it seems as if the campaign speeches made in chapel had more to do with deciding for whom to vote than did anything else.

One person said that he wished he had not pledged his vote to a certain party; for, on hearing the speeches made in chapel, he was influenced enough to vote for another party. That is the story behind the campaigns.

$1,200 Fellowships Offered Graduates

Students interested in public affairs and public service careers who will receive their B.A. in June have been offered an opportunity to apply for fellowships to study at three different universities.

year plus college fees. Beginning this June fellows will serve with a public agency such as TVA or a department in a city or state government. In the

The fellowships grant $1,200 a

1955-56 school session they will take graduate courses at the Universities of Alabama, Tennessee, and Kentucky. Completion of the twelve months' training period entitles fellows to a certificate in public administration. They can be awarded a Master's Degree at either of the three Universities upon completing a thesis and passing examina-

For eligibility requirements and other information students should write the Educational Director, Southern Regional Training Program in Public Administration, University of Alabama.

Thirty-nine per cent of the deaths and 35 per cent of the injuries due to motor vehicle accidents last year occurred on Saturdays and Sundays.

How can I lose faith in the justice of life, when the dreams of those who sleep upon feathers are no more beautiful than the dreams of those who sleep upon the earth? Gibran

DAY by DAY

May 13, 1955

A hectic week has passed and time to study has come again. The end of this school year is in sight-to the complete joy of everyone, excepting perhaps a little twinge of sadness on the part of the seniors. With the final tests so close upon us, most of us have decided to start reading the assignments and taking notes in class.

Mid-terms are still fresh in the minds of most of us. Gay Barnes and Shirley Gibbs were discussing one of the teachers and the severity of her tests. "What kind of tests does she give?" Shirley asked. And Gay came out with, "Objectional,"

Bill Peacock isn't like most students-he has kept up with his outside reading. But a little too diligently. Handing in his note cards on the reading for the semester, he was asked why he had so many. "It takes this many for sixty pages a week," he said. And then the awful truth was told him—the class had only sixty pages for the whole quarter. Is there such a thing as an "A"

The Prospective Student Barbecue went off pretty well without mishap. That's not counting Katie Morgan's mishap. She was sitting Indian-fashion on the ground with her paper plate full of barbecue, etc. on her lap. From out of the nowhere into the here suddenly appeared a starving (at least he seemed so) spaniel pup who gobbled up half Katie's lunch before she could look down. Since he had already tasted everything on the plate beside devouring a goodly portion thereof, Katie resignedly handed him the whole plate. He proceeded to finish off her meal, then polished the plates of anyone else who wasn't looking.

If you think that women drivers are something to contend with on the highways, what would you think if you saw one piloting a ferry across the Mississippi River. Vivian Wright was allowed not only to steer the thing across the river but to dock it as well. They expect to be able to float the ferry off next flood season.

Things we'll remember about the Junior-Senior banquet . . . the freshly washed cars, the threat of rain, the excellent food and entertainment, the trouble President Pullias had with his candle (we have it from a reliable source that Ed Smith had cut the wick off).

If you didn't see the performance of "The Mikado" last night, be sure to come out tonight. There won't be any of the accidents that occurred during the rehearsals. (Famous last words) Take for instance the time that Buddy Arnold was reading for one of the characters and came to the line in which he says, "Not you, stupid!" and pushes Nancy Wyckoff away. This particular night things didn't go exactly the way they should. For as Buddy shoved Nancy away, he tripped her, too. With the greatest of ease, she bounced across the stage and slid to a halt, saying things that are definitely un-

Overheard in the Student Center after a particularly hard Educational Psychology test: "He spent one whole period telling us that one should not teach so that students have to learn by rote and then on our test we had to learn thirty-three lists. Confusing, no?"

Not only professors are absent-minded. We have a few students who are, too. As an example, take Bob Hamlin. He received his pay-check from the television station where he works and put the important little slip of paper in his pocket with a letter he was to mail on his way home. (You've probably guessed the outcome by now.) At the mailbox he hastily stuck what he thought was the letter in the slot. Only it wasn't the letter he mailed. It was-that's right--his check. And that's how it happened that passers-by chanced to see a man with his arm stuck down in a mailbox. No news yet as to whether or not he ever got it back—the check, that is.

We have future golf champs on our campus—at least they are working hard enough at it. Unless they were aiming for a spot on the golf team, why else would Zane Aldrich and Connell Taylor arise bright and early to take in a round or two of golf? At five-thirty in the morning they can be seen wading through the dew on one of Edith Samples is having a hard time catching on to things Tennesse style since she has just come from Alabama (nothing on her knee). She insists that one of our recent baseball opponents was Austin Petey.

You figure it out. Ralph Henley was seen in his political science class drawing women's legs on the blackboard. After one look at the limbs he drew, most of the class decided that Henley should stick to political science instead of going into art.

The campaigns are over and two excellent officers have been elected. Congratulations to them and a word to the student body: give them all the support that you can so that Lipscomb can have even better student government in the future than it has in the past.

> 'MIKADO' Tonight

Just Prospectin' . . .

From Sewell Walls Came . . .

'Oh. How I Hate to Get Up...'

It was the morning before Sat- Betty Kirkpatrick and Jan Woodurday at 5 a.m., and all over the ward. campus, not a creature was stirring—except in Sewell Hall. You see, 'twas the dawn of the sunrise

The band marching through the halls, composed of Louise Breeding (clarinet), Ann Ledford (French horn), Margaret Sherrill (drum), and Lonnie Shivelle (saxophone) was designated as the "wake-up committee.

Ingenuity Plus . . .

Over 100 girls marched behind the band to the ball field. Everyone was carrying knapsacks over his shoulders. These were made from brightly colored head scarfs tied to the sticks that had been gathered the day before by Anita Johnson, Bobbie Mott, Liz Cole, Student Elections...

(Continued from page 1) Pat Fyfe and Kay Morris of Birmingham and Tuscumbia, Ala., respectively, were also in the secretarial race. The election culminated six days of intensive and well-organized campaigning by the six official candidates who were announced in the race on Thursday, May 6.

Campaign projects were under way promptly at midnight. May 7 The three presidential candidates presented their platform speeches after chapel on May 10, and student body president, Dick Batey, introduced the three contenders for the secretarial post. Nearly 80 per cent of the student body participated in voting last Wednesday. During the voting, President Batey authorized the discontinuance of posting the elec-tion returns each hour (as it had previously been annced in chapel and in the BABBLER) because of some student opposition to the practice.

The run-off was held yesterday and Edwards was declared winner with 369 votes to his credit.

Cosmetics at Hutcherson's

A huge fire had been built in the center of the field by Joanne Golden, Pearl Cutts, Glenda Winesett, Patsy Powell, and Mary Ann While the cooking was in progress, entertainment was proyided by Shirley Lee and Sandra

Each one baked his own biscuits on the sticks that had been used for the knapsacks. The dough had been made up the previous night by Rudie Wallace, Betty Cox, Dorothy and Delores Olive, and Betty

The call to eat was sounded and everyone was generously served an early morning feed which consisted of eggs, bacon, biscuits, coffee or hot chocolate and dough-

The sun came up; the food was gone: the happy occasion had come to an end. Each packed his sack and sang while marching back to the dorm, "for she's a jolly good friend." The friend of course was Mrs. Ollis Smith, Sewell supervisor, who schemed planned the whole affair.

Publicity, Too!

Oh, yes,-the reason for the mass turnout at such an unearthly hour is partly the fault of Carolyn Rogers. She was the clever miss who spent all of the week drawing posters to advertise the little

Footlighters Set Banquet May 21 The Footlighters will have their annual banquet on Saturday, May

It will be a masquerade banquet set among scenes of the Mardi Gras in New Orleans. Further plans will be announced later. The Working Students Club is having a picnic at Edwin Warner Park tomorrow afternoon. After the picnic Bill O'Neil. president, says the group plans to end the day with a skating party at the Lavergne Roller Rink.

Wear The Best

'DEER CREEK' SPORTS WEAR

Mystic Ball Shows Future In Propheccy at Class Banquet

Although a pajor in Business Ad. is past record is pretty sad. stands on a corner, with an electric eye And counts the pedestrians as they pass by. and our own Richard Batev

Although a major in speech, he speaks not a word. And Carolyn thinks him to be

His field is motoramics—the new Chevrolet. incidentally, he drives a truck for

'Baby's Valet.' The circus came to town in 1980 Nothing I saw was quite so shady Than Ada Elliott as the fat lady Schools in the future are quite the progressors

With asteroid chalk and robot pro-But lecturing away, none other Than daddy-o Ericson whose first name is Keith. And solving the formulas for

Was Charles Eubank—head of the Betty Beazley, a major in Elementary Ed-Poor thing, can hardly keep her-

She now roams the country from door to door For his only customer was a pro-Enlisting volunteers for the 'Ground Observer Corps Seth Armstrong and John William Beckloff in the year '88-Now these strong-willed fellows are doing great.

prefabricated cars. But have now gone as missionaries to the planet Mars.

Ann Grace Becker and Ann Derseweh Are really making musical head-They have developed this new low fidelity tone.

One that they really insist you must own. Say, put Stardust" on the turntable, maybe, Turn up the volume-hear "Melancholy Baby."

Come, let's go now to see Martha Ruth Behel, Now this little lass has changed a great deal. edits the comic "Mangle" and "Gory" Now isn't that the saddest story?

Virginia Cooper in a rare mood Designed what is known as asteroid food. tiny capsule will last a life's

"Prepared in outer space for the inner man. wrestling robot from Jupiter

To win that "Shug" Davy some fortune and fame. But alas, poor Evelyn some discord she sowed. Now Jimmy resides on Murfreesboro Road.

> FITTS & CRAWFORD

FLOWERS

2816 West End Ave. 7-5946

Robert Collier, for over-parking was fined.

old Chevrolet

on inter-planetary lines.

Copeland and spouse,

in a snarl

number nine thing's fine.

Henry Eason, trumpet

to dump it.

Jackie Gleason?

head in a marsh,

Chemistry flend,

mitted scholar,

dashery chain—

has quite a racket,

modern teacher.

are "atomized"—

paralyzed.

most successful feature,

6-1148

complete brainwash

radioactive jellybean.

He hopes to return, as a case of is Carl.

far away,

She turned and was hit by a He determined that he would not pay the state, John Cliett Goodpasture in 1988 he hopped a fast rocket, just Led an expedition to Venus to inhe and his mate vestigate They wish now that this could all

The uranium mines which he found in great sizes And made millions for the Morris 'Cause they were the first Earth-P. Landiss Enterprises. Neurotics Anonymous was a group In 1985, Garret was not alive But the Gospel Guardian was still formed in 1985.

it was designed to keep lunatic Bill J. Fullerton was its new preachers alive. gained great fame, the reason Clothes in 1980 were something to

That Mary Margaret Grounds was

While walking downtown sh

heard a sharp whistle,

But dresses were still common at the consulting psychiatrist. Next we see the man from whom Then custom they forgot, tradition the Comet got its name Charles Leo Hailey-but isn't it a When Frances Gaither designed

Though he flies rocket ships to the Joseph Dan Gilbert tried to see an moon—it's just tomfoolery, He made his millions working for To the little green men on a planet the Wyckoff Brewery In the year 1984 Robert Louis

When they told him he was a Made isotope movies with Lipsco-He sold them instead books, by phonic sound, man named Stroop. Did you hear about Joanne Ed-Another Gilbert who gained fame mondson's granddaughter? Was Herbert Spencer by name. She did the one thing she shouldn't

He devised a chemical that would have oughta make hair grow She enrolled in Lipscomb in 1986. And sold 80 gallons to prove it And started to pull some of Grandma's tricks, Vet his formula was a failure and She slipped up one time and he gave up the fight, chapel she spurned.

fessor named White. not yet returned Phil Dunn derived from an opium 1982 Alan Cullum ended an extended strike. Like the boy who stuck his hand This colossal new type of shaving cream. He is now long distance operator Your whiskers no longer grow out,

He has as his motto, "It sure takes And you bite them off to save the Here's the latest about Martha In 1989, James Gerald Bowers Was widely known for his bloom-

And was banished to Pluto planet.

The one who refused to live in a ing flowers. The unusual fact, of this man of Martha sits all day with her face the hour. Was he grew them in the cracks of At that guy she married, his name

Old James Clayton, a speech major They are still residing on cloud here. Went to Venus and became an And Martha reports that everyauctioneer,

John Lyman Davis grew a cobalt Have you heard the latest of John turkey Which he nicknamed Traughber Who followed in the steps of one 'cause it was nervous and jerky. Glenda Ann Dabbs was forced to He invented a fabulous uranium fly a jet

'Cause she cracked a joke about But history records, that John had the Gospel Gazette. Clyde Hartman and Ed Headrick On Mars he now stands with his were men of repute, Who manufactured atomic garbage cans with a magical shute-

While on planet Jupiter Mark J. You remember James Clipp, that Hearn Drove a hydrogen ambulance for he finally perfected the the North funeral concern. Over on the planet Saturn in this

Dorris Davenport, that self-ad-We saw Billye Joyce Howell, and Has started to mint a new type of laughed in derision, For she was superintendent-in-But he really isn't on the up and charge of a women's prison. But the woman who succeeded in

Cause he sits downtown with a splitting atoms of the carrotwhite cane and tin-cup.
George Edward Brazil's haber-Was Lipscomb's Madame Curie-Hulene Jarrett. Joe Ronald Johnson, his college driving poor Jo-Jo absolutely days done

Succeeded Ira North as minister There's a rumor around that he at Madison But James Emmett Johnson owned With his peg-legged space suits a radio station

And broadcast chapel singing to Gloria Brannam is the most ultrathe Martian nation. They called Charles Davis the "old That discipline problem is her sarge." Because he always gave everyone On arrival at school, the students quite a charge. Now he laughs with glee and sings And sit until three completely a diddy. For he's electrocutioner for the In the year nineteen hundred and Farewell Committee. Betty Jean Burns-we hesitate to For she was thrown out of the space-world's convention.

Jesse Clayton succeeded Dr. Ellis

as speech department head. Now he's skinny and pale and looks like he's dead-While teaching young preachers the supersonic tone He lost all his muscles, corpuscles and bone. Winson Bracheen was a real cool Who ground up dirty socks in an

But Julius Blackman was a television tycoon Who first installed video on the

Martin T. Binkley and Philip Decided to build a railroad track,

It was to extend from earth to Jupiter, Could anything, my friends, be stupider?

Books, magazines, catalogs, folders . . . anything Contact one of these Lipscomb alumni in our office: PAUL W. MOORE, CLASS OF '38

360 Murfreesboro Road

V. M. WHITESELL, CLASS OF '41 JAMES W. BOYD, CLASS OF '51

Nashville's Finest Milk

HIGH QUALITY PRINTING

LARRY WILLIAMS, CLASS OF '39

Williams PRINTING CO. 417 COMMERCE • NASHVILLE • TELEPHONE 6-7126

E A BERGSTROM. VIC :- PRES. . R. OVERALL, PRES.

LIPSCOMB TAKES AUSTIN PEAY

Herd Sportlight

With only one more game left or the schedule, it looks like Lipscomb's battling Bisons are about out of the running as far as the VSAC playoffs are concerned.

The Herd lost to surprising Belmont Tuesday and killed any hopes of a late season pennant drive. The team was to have played two more games this week, Union on Thursday, and Austin Peay Friday but regardless of their outcome the trophy has flown the coop.

Belmont Ruins Chances

As fate would have it, it would be that Belmont, the Bison's cross-city rival and weak sister in the league would ruin the

In this writer's opinion, it is doubtful if a single Rebel could make the Bison's first nine, but that's the way the ball bounces. The disappointing loss was the first baseball game Lipscomb has dropped to Belmont in several seasons.

But taking all into consideration it has been a successful year for the Bisons. Several rookies gained valuable experience and it should pay off in the next few years. Elvis Sherrill, the departing coach, prophesies great things for the

"If the boys stick together they should have the greatest team in the school's history next year. With a little more experience we could have gone all the way this season."

Dugan Talks Contract

Centerfielder Ken Dugan was approached by a scout from the Philadelphia Phillies before Saturday's game with Nashville Bridge Company. Dugan performed well, with a home run, a couple of singles and several nice catches.

He must have impressed the scout because the word was that Dugan would be contacted later about possible contract

Joyce Suffers Injury

Ronald Joyce, the team's reserve outfielder, has been on the inactive list for about a month now. Joyce suffered a severe ankle sprain in practice before the first Western Kentucky encounter. Even though he may be ready for action in the last few games his injury had hindered the team.

With the Middle Tennessee game Monday, Wayne Wright, the team's valuable second sacker will be ending a successful athletic career at Lipscomb. Wayne is the only graduating senior on the squad.

Rams Head Intramural Action

One of the most colorful extra-curricular activities on the campus, the boys' intramural program, is rapidly drawing to a close with the end of the softball campaign in sight.

It looks as if the Rams, the powerhouse of the boys' league for several years, are shoo-ins for the team trophy.

The Rams won both A and B basketball league trophies and were a very close second to the Pirates in football. They have also captured several individual events and the volleyball trophy. At this point it seems they can't miss in the softball race, presently leading the field with an undefeated record.

So it looks like all they needed this year was a little

Established 1858

PHILLIPS & BUTTORFF MFG. CO.

Manufacturers of

ENTERPRISE STOVES, FURNACES AND STOKERS FOR COAL-GAS-ELECTRICITY

Furnishers of

Commercial and Residential Air Conditioners Cafeteria Equipment for Schools and Hotels Kitchen Wares-Table Wares-Home Wares

Serving A Value Conscious America for Nearly 100 Years

217 Third Avenue, North

Nashville, Tennessee

winning ways Saturday afternoon as they recovered from a shocking defeat at the hands of Western Peay Governors 10-2.

Archie Crenshaw was the winpitcher. The red-headed nore righthander went the entire nine innings for the second straight time this year. Crenshaw they pushed across eight markers.

hits and struck out 10 Governor

Martin, the Austin Peay catcher. Crenshaw also rapped out three hits in the 14-hit attack launched at two Governor hurlers.

The Bisons wrapped the ball game up in the fifth inning when that the Bisons' leading hitter is now Carl Walker who is belting 3-0 mark.

The Bisons' overall record is 6-4; their V.S.A.C. mark is now evened out at two wins and two

Western Defeats Bisons 9

Onion Dell Friday afternoon and games. They made seven errors pitcher, gained a victory they had sought in the field and gathered only Overs r several years.

the Hilltoppers as they suffered an early season loss at the hands of these same Bisons.

This defeat was a big general let down on the part of the home game was the home run by Over-

Netters Drop Tech 7-2

The Bisons stroked out a 7-2 win on the Tech tennis courts The match was an exact replica last week's match in that the Bisons took 5 of the 6 singles and of the 3 doubles matches. It was their second win in a row. In the feature match, Tech won its only singles match of the day as Tom Stevens took a 6-4, 6-3 decision over Capt. Charlie Hailey. Stevens, former Isaac Litton High School ace who plays with Hailey on week-ends, took a three-set trouncing when the two met here Tom Downey continued his brilliant play by downing Ronnie Chancey 6-0, 6-2. James Mc-Donough, Spencer Gilbert and Jim Sweeney took two-set victories over their opponents.

> LANDON'S Your Neighborhood HARDWARE

Joy's Flowers

601 Church

THE LIPSCOMB LAUNDRY

Patronize

TURRENTINE REALTY COMPANY 2915 Nolensville Road

Sales—Insurance—Loans Phone 42-2651

Alloway BROS. COMPANY

Eggs Poultry Meats

McKay-Cameron Co.

Headquarters

CHINA, GLASS, SILVER

212 3rd Ave., N. 6-0427

Distinctive Clothes for Men of Discriminating Taste

Sixih a Union

three hits at the plate.

The Herd stayed close to the Western club until the seventh inning when the visitors poured across five runs on four hits. The big blow of the inning and the back from a defeat suffered at the hands of Charles Robinson last week. He defeated Don Austin

With the match already won by their dazzling singles performances, the Bisons, as in last

Wednesday's match, added "insult to injury" by taking two of the three doubles matches. Ronnie

Chancey and Mary "Mr. Peepers"

Reed of Tech beat Sweeney-

McDonough 6-4, 6-2; while

Hailey-Downey and Oliver-Gilbert

Stevens (T) defeated Hailey (L) 6-4, 6-3.
Downey (L) defeated Chancey (T) 6-0, 6-2.
Gilbert (L) defeated Reed (T) 6-1, 8-6.
Sweeney (L) defeated Hall (T) 6-3, 7-5.
McDonough (L) defeated Robinson (T) 11-9, 6-4.

11-9, 6-4.
Oliver (L) defeated Austin (T) 6-0, 6-4.
Halley-Downey (L) defeated StevensHall (T) 6-4, 6-0.
Chancey-Reed (T) defeated SweeneyMcDonough (L) 6-4, 6-2.
Oliver-Gilbert (L) defeated RobinsonBowden (T) 6-0, 6-4.

Overstreet's run came with two men on and Lipscomb leading by a 4-3 count. The game ended

Gene Kidwell was the only Bison to get as many as two hits. Kidwell's home run was one of the two extra-base hits for Lipscomb

Dugan cf Morrell 3b Murphy of Walker 1b Gardner ss 3 0 0 M'Mahon p 0 0 0 36 9 9

Errors—Nassano, Bagby, Morrell, Mur-phy 2, Kidwell 3, Walker. Runs Batted In—Nassano, Hoffman, Richards, Henry, Overstreet 3, Kidwell 2 Banowsky Walks—Daniels 6, Smith, MacMahon 2 were winning 6-4, 6-0 and 6-0, 6-2

A. Peay	AB	R	H	Lipscomb AB R H
Hol's ss-p	4	0	0	Dugan cf 5 1 3
Corlew 2b		0	0	Morrell 3b 5 0 1
Cox 3b	2	2	0	Murphy c 5 1 1
Martin c	4	0	2	Murphy c 5 1 7 Walker rf 3 2 1 Kidwell lf 5 2 2 Wright 2b 3 1 2
Brown cf	2	0	0	Kidwell If 5 2 2
Colley cf	2	0	0	Walker rf 3 2 1 Kidwell lf 5 2 2 Wright 2b 3 1 2 Jenkins 2b 1 0 1
Bender lf	4	0	0	Jenkins 2b 1 0 1
Stoner rf	2	0	0	MacM'n 1b 4 0 0
Hill rf	1	0	0	Gardner ss 4 1 0
Elliot 1b	0	0	0	Crens'w p 4 2 3
West 1b	2	0	0
Craig p	2	0	0	39 10 14
Chance 2b	1	0	0
	29	2	2

Errors—Corlew, Martin, Stoner, Murphy. Runs Batted In—Martin 2, Dugan, Murphy 2, Kidwell 4, Wright. Home Run—Kidwell. Three Base Hit—Kidwell. Walks—Craig 2, Holmes 1, Crenshaw 4. Hits off—Crenshaw 2 in 9 innings, Craig 7 in 4 and two-thirds innings, Holmes 7 in 3 and one-third innings. Strikeouts—Holmes 3, Crenshaw 10 HPB Welste hit by Creater 10 and 10

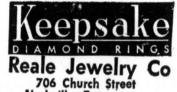

WAVERLY BELMONT

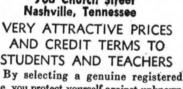

SELF SERVICE LAUNDRY

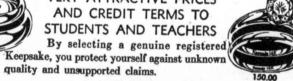

Granny White At Halcyon

Closest to David Lipscomb College

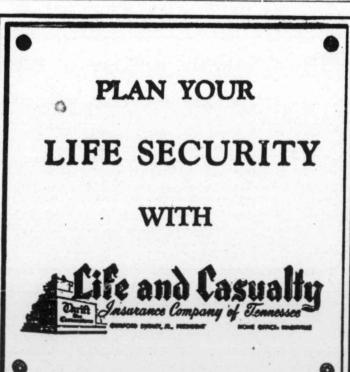

BOB DRAPER, CLASS OF '35

FOR THE FIRST TIME IN THREE YEARS, May Day festivities were held on the campus instead of in the gym. The entire procession is shown above on the steps of Alumni Auditorium.

Spring May Festival Saw Many Visitors

Perhaps the most unique feature of the traditional May Day at Lipscomb is the return to the campus of so many former students and graduates.

And this year of course was no exception, for early last Friday afternoon the campus began to show added signs of life as chairs were set up on the lawn in front of the auditorium to accommodate such visitors, who usually brought along their own prospective stulents for the year 1970.

May Day was a success this year-old acquaintances were renewed; the 25th queen reigned, and the kindergarten participants again won the hearts of the audience-all of this combined gave Lipscomb followers another Homecoming in the Spring.

Oh yes, there were no May

Freshman Banquet Is Tonight Education Advice Given for Summer At Montgomery Bell Park

The freshman class will have its annual banquet tonight at Montgomery Bell Park Inn beginning

Footlighters Have Costume Banquet

The Footlighters will have their annual banquet tomorrow night at 7:00 in the Student Center. It will be a costume banquet.

The theme will be centered around the traditions of the Mardi Gras in New Orleans. The meal will be served at individual, candle-lit tables. Flowers, magnolia trees, Spanish moss and a fountain will carry out the theme. Jim Blevins, president of the

The entertainment for the eve- Goodpasture Speak ning will be the College Men's Quartet and several skits by members of the Footlighters. There costumed couple. Also, there will be the presentation of awards to the members of the group. The remainder of the program will include a recognition of seniors, the installation of officers,

To carry out an Hawaiian theme, the class officers have acquired tropical fish and palm trees for the background. According to Bill Banowsky, class president, 175 tickets have been sold.

The Babbler

The Varsity Four, the fast rising college quartet composed of Duard Grace, Doug Taylor, Bob Bowersock, and Al Smith; and the Melodears, a High School girls' trio accompanied by Nancy Carter, will be featured entertainers for the

Dr. Ira North will make the after-dinner speech, and Bob Kendrick, class sponsor, is also scheduled to speak.

Footlighters will be the toast- Ministers Hear

B. C. Goodpasture, editor of the Gospel Advocate, spoke to the will be a prize given to the best Evangelistic Forum last evening on "The Minister's Library." Goodpasture gave suggestions concerning correct choices in books for the library and suggested ways of acquiring them.

A week ago A. C. Pullias spoke and speeches by Dale Brown and to the Forum concerning "The Minister and His Recreation.

feature of the 1955 summer quar-

Dr. Thomas C. Whitfield, head

Education 221, Orientation to Education, will be offered although it was not printed on the schedule. This course is required of all sophomore elementary or

All secondary education majors finishing under the old program for certification should take Eduvenient time.

Other courses to be offered this by engineering students may at- of Elam Hall.

Dr. A. N. Dragnich To Speak for I.R.C.

will present Professor Alex N. Dragnich, from Vanderbilt University, in lecture next Tuesday evening, May 24. Professor Dragnich has been a member of the Vanderbilt faculty since 1950, teaching in the political science department. He received the Ph.D. degree from the University of California in Berkeley.

Reserve University in Kentucky from 1945-47 Dr. Dragnich has had several service, including appointments both in the State and Justice Departments. He is the author of several articles dealing with the internal operation of Communist government and in 1954 brought out his study of Communist Yugoslavia: Tito's Promised Land.

p.m. in Room 309. All students

Teacher preparation is a special ter, whose first session begins June 13 and ends July 16. The second session is from July 18 to August of the department of education, has pointed out several things which would be of interest to those considering attending summer school.

secondary majors.

Education 313 Offered

cation 313 this summer, because it may not be offered at another con-

Education 401, Modern Methods of Teaching in Secondary Schools, is being offered for the first time. This course is a revision of Education 411 and 412, which will not be offered again. Last quarter juniors or first quarter seniors who take Education 401 will be able to do their student teaching during the 1955 fall quarter. Another course being offered for the first time is Education 405 which may be used as an elective under both the old and new pro-

summer which are required of all tend such schools three years and education majors under the new then attend the University of Tencertification program are Health nessee two years. (Continued on page 3)

The International Relations Club

He formerly taught at Western years of experience in government

The lecture will begin at 7:30 at the Lipscomb Church of Christ.

ment exercises, June 6. will speak at ary Schools in 1946.

Doran

Program Discussed

On Friday, May 13, Dean J. P.

Sanders attended a meeting concerning a program for engineering

students at the University of Ten-

The University of Tennessee is to participate in a program where-inviting schools such as Lipscomb

the University of Tennessee the of the second year at the University of Tennessee he will receive ticipate in this program and that all the necessary courses for the

Babblerettes

will entertain members of the wives and husbands, at the annual President's Dinner this coming

Alumni secretary Laura Tarence

Tuesday night in the Student will marry Dr. Zane Gaut June 25

Dr. Gaut is an intern in a Nashville hospital.

program will be available here.

the engineering degree.

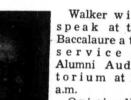

To Aid Engineers

and earned his cation degree from the University of Ken-For several years, Doran has rom Murray

State College,

Council on Regional Education. been outstanding in the field of Minister 27 Years education, having received an He has been a minister for 27 award of merit for distinguished service from the Kentucky Asso-is the son of the late Mrs. Agnes E. Walker who was connected with Lipscomb for several years as matron from McMinn-

engineering student will receive junior college and since that time, the Bachelor's degree from Lips- he has attended Radford State

For five years, Walker taught school and did mission work in Southern Miss. and Southwest Va. Dean Sanders announced that Since then, he has devoted his ef-Lipscomb will be willing to par- forts to working with churches in Ark., Ala., Ga., and Fla. He is now working with the South Water Ave. church of Christ in

> Walker has a special interest in training young people and has influenced many young men to

Of the Walker's four children, President Athens Clay Pullias Ray Jr. is now a Lipscomb student, and their daughter Alice senior graduating class, their (Mrs. Vernon Boyd) attended last year. They also have two younger

Are Graduation Speakers Raymond C. Walker of Gallatin, and Adron Doran of Morehead, Ky., will speak at the Baccalaureate and Commence-

> Doran, who ciation of Colleges and Second-Formerly, he served four terms nent exercises, in the Kentucky House of Reprenolds B.A. and sentatives and was speaker of the

> M.A. degrees House in 1950-51. At the present time, he is President of Morehead State College, and also heads the Eastern Kentucky Education Association. Doran holds membership on the Executive Committee of the Southern Regional Education Board and also on the Kentucky

ville, Tenn., he

He attended McMinnville public schools until his junior year in high school, at which time, he en-At the end of the first year at rolled in David Lipscomb College. In 1931, he graduated from the comb or the school he has at- Teachers College, Radford, Va. tended three years, and at the end Taught 5 Years

> Gallatin, Tenn. preach.

children, Eleanor and Timothy.

Written comprehensive examinations for seniors will be held Saturday, May 28, from 8:00 to 12:00. All seniors should make provisions to meet this schedule. No exceptions will be allowed.

GETTING ORIENTATION FROM OLD STUDENT BODY OFFICERS. Dick Batey and Ruth Behel, are new electees, Mary Anne Thomas and Earl Edwards, who took the pledges to the offices of secretary and president, respectively. at the Student Leaders' Banquet, Tuesday evening. (See story on page 3.)

Jim also expects to work up a lecture about the expedition to sell to people who like to sponsor lec-

The whole idea started when E.

C. Gasser, a Tennessee Aviation pioneer, flew over this undisclosed destination in southeastern Alaska

during World War II and the com-

To make the uranium hunt possible, interested Nashvillians have invested $15,000. One of the stock-

Much equipment has also been contributed toward the quest. This includes a $35,000 airplane, gieger

counters, jeeps, trucks, and guns for the provision of game. About 20 men went along, including a geologist, airplane pilots, radio

operators, instrument technicians.

nunters, photographers, and writ-

Psychology 323, Educational Psychology; Psychology 332, Mental Hygiene and Guidance; and So-ciology 300, Home and Family

Another point of interest concerning summer school is that 12 hours of a laboratory science can be taken during the summer quarter. Also Home Economics 461.

Home Management Residence, and

Home Economics 462, Problems in Household Management, are of-

Physical Education 103, Golf:

Physical Education 105, Elementary Swimming; and Physical Education 131, Tennis, may be of Eight former May Queens

were present last Friday along with Billye Joyce Howell, this year's queen, for the luncheon held in their honor. Returning to the campus for the activities were

Mrs. Elwin Midgett (Nelle Grandstaff) '31, of Murfreesboro, Tenn.:

Jane Allen Young, '35, Nashville:

Mrs. Harvey Stringfellow (Ruth

Meek) '38 Nashville; Mrs. Phillips

Turner (Betty Gregory) '41, Lebanon, Tenn.: Mrs. Dorris Billingsley

(Sadie Gregory) '42, Nashville;

Mrs. V. M. Whitesell (Lois

Church) '46, Bowling Green, Ky.;

and Mrs. Ted Kell (Evelyn Cole)

special interest this summer.

Alumni Notes

fered each summer.

holders is Morris P. Landiss.

pass "had a fit"

Editorials . . . A Tribute . . .

"I do not know what I may appear to the world," wrote Isaac Newton in exaggerated candor, "but to myself I seem to have been only like a boy playing on the seashore, and diverting myself in now and then finding a smoother pebble or a prettier shell than ordinary, whilst the great ocean of truth lay all undiscovered before me'

Dr. Albert Einstein, who has searched the great "ocean of truth" for an extensive 76 years, died and left his search for truth—like all searches for truth ever undertaken by man-unfilled. He had the same humility Newton expressed above, the humility which increases in direct pace with the amount of knowledge and truth a man obtains for himself.

One is, finally, impressed by the awful lag between what a great human being and scientist can discover of the universe and what his less colossal fellows can do with it. Of this man who gave the Twentieth Century a new cosmology, most newspapers could only think to say, in the headline over his obituary: "TV and A-Bomb Father Dies."

A Moral Here ...

The House of Representatives has now said "no" to the proposition of admitting Hawaii and Alaska to statehood; and this seems to end the hopes for the territories since the 84th Congress will continue in office till 1957.

This comes as a blow to all who desire such statehood. It has been evident that citizens of both areas, desire to be admitted to statehood.

Many citizens of the United States would like to see these two areas admitted, "not only would it make our nation stronger," they argue, "but it would help industry to a great extent."

American businessmen would like to see the admission because it would make it easier to establish factories and other such concerns in the proposed states. Furthermore, the air age has drawn the bodies of land closer-and so go the arguments.

Both political parties had in their platform the admission of those territories as states. Now, statehood is refused. Many feel that the majority has not been represented in the issue.

But on the other hand, when all qualified citizens do not vote for their own representation, they cannot complain about what the representatives decide.

They Packed Their Dolls ...

The anticipated visit of 11 Soviet student editors to the United States came to an abrupt end recently when the Russian entering this country—a perfectly normal The Russians returned home.

ions from the college and national press, as well as lawmakers on Capitol Hill. From the editorial columns of the George Washington University Hatchet at Washington, D. C., comes this impression of the incident which reverts back to the stalling tactics caused by U. S. Immigration laws, when USSR editors first were seeking admission to this country:

"The eleven Soviet editors are staying home. Their proposed visit is no longer forthcoming because they won't be fingerprinted. And on the surface it would seem the Commies have scored a minor propaganda victory.

"U. S. Immigration laws gave the State Memorial Library. Department one black eye when the stalling over whether or not to let the student editors in caused a roar of protest from the American press and Russian officials. The red tape was cut.

"But the State Department recently got a second black eye. An immigration act of 1950 provides that all persons entering this country must be fingerprinted. The Russians have kicked up a storm over this one. They argue that fingerprinting is "humiliating"—that in Russia this treatment is strictly for criminals.

"Only official visitors are exempted Eunice Bradley Press Club Sponsor tian love."

from this regulation and since World War II most visits from the USSR have been official. The unfortunate part about it is that once a bunch of Russian skiers and chess players were admitted and someone forgot to fingerprint them.

"It doesn't seem too far fetched to say the Rooskies never intended to permit the trip and seized on the fingerprinting as propaganda dodge.

"It's pretty disappointing that we won't get a chance to meet these Russians . . . the Western world heard about them when a member, 17-year-old Valery Alexandrovich Lysikov came bounding over to West Berlin a month ago saying

Secretary of Health and Welfare, Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby was under fire this week because of the inadequacy of the government's handling of the Salk polio

After Mrs. Hobby presented her report to the President, she went before the Senate labor and public welfare committee, where she was questioned by Sen. Herbert Lehman (Dem., N. Y.).

Lehman Reprimands Lady

Lehman reprimanded the lady cabinet member for not being prepared to distribute the vaccine more effectively by the time the news was announced.

Said Mrs. Hobby: "The announcement was unique in medical history, that there was never a drug or biologic to compare with the Salk vaccine, that Believe no one could have foreseen the demand' for

The plan that the secretary submitted to President Eisenhower and for which he asked the Congress for $30,000,000 to put into operation, insures all children. rich and poor, of an equal chance to obtain the polio preventative.

Part of the money would go to prevent blackmarketing of the vaccine and for hiring more health personnel to test the product for safety and potency.

The plan contemplates inoculation of all children through age 19 by the end of the next year. First priority would be given to the most susceptible age group, those 5 to 9.

Meanwhile, Sen. Wayne Morse (Dem., Ore.) demanded that Mrs. Hobby be fired for what he termed "gross incompetence" in handling the situation. He issued the demand in a senate speech attacking the secretary.

Pearson Reports Reprimand

Columnist Drew Pearson reported Tuesday morning that the President himself had reprimanded Mrs. Hobby for her inadequate briefing of him on the subject.

Secretary Hobby said that the voluntary when additional vaccine is on hand, and the hands of robbers. It was requirement for all visiting foreigners. insisted that no other plan that could be devised could do the job more fairly or The incident brought a deluge of opin- effectively than the one being offered.

THE BABBLER

Entered as second-class matter, December 26, 1923, at the post office, Nashville. Tenn., under the Act of March 3, 1897.

Acceptance for mailing at special rate God with all thy heart, with all postage provided for in Section 1103, thy strength, and with all thy Act of October 3, 1916; authorized, Nashville, Tenn.

Published weekly during the regular school year except during holidays or examination periods by the students of DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE, Nashville, Tenn.

Office located on second floor Crisman

Member Associated Collegiate Press

EDITORIAL STAFF Editor-in-Chief Peggie Herron Mary Lou Carter Associate Editor Editorial Page George Patterson Cornelia Turman Feature Editor Staff Artist Matthew Morrison BUSINESS STAFF

aul Rogers Business Manager Circulation Manager Benny Nelms

Willard Collins. Faculty Advisor What Do You Want? . . .

For Next Year?

It seems that all are in favor of entertainment over the weekends, preferably on Saturday night.

The biggest problem is what to have. Everyone that was asked about the problem seemed to believe that effective planning could produce some good entertainment, as well as different types of en-

Some mentioned that they would like to see a place fixed up where one could have casual dates.

Helga Wilde and Ed Smith, junior class president, both thought that it would be a good idea to have scheduled movies in the auditorium.

Bobbie Turner said that they should have something to do on the weekends when there is nothing going on; but she also felt, as did Betty Teasley, that if the weekend parties were recontinued, they should be more interesting and better planned.

The fact was mentioned by Glenda Winesett that there are a lot of musical groups on campus, and that possibly some musical would like to hear the Lipscomb quartet more often, and that would be a good time to have

"I think they should have something for those who can't get offcampus." Norvel Williams commented. But, most all of those asked were not sure of what

Committee System

One of the best plans mentioned was a committee system. This committee would be overseen by the Student Board, and would be made up of representative faculty members and students from the different clubs, organizations, and dormitories on campus. This committee would see to it that there was always something planned for each weekend.

Living Religion

When we speak of love in relation to the scriptures, the first thing that many people think about is 1 Corinthians 13. That is truly Criminal Woman. a good reference concerning love.

But, there is more to the love which we should have than just that. It could be said that love is the main underlying theme of the New Testament.

It was love that caused God to send his only begotton son into the world. It was love that caused Christ to give his life for us.

through love that he stopped and cared for his wounds, and left him at an inn to recover.

Jesus was approached once by a certain lawyer who was trying to trick him. That man asked Christ what was the greatest command. Christ answered him saying, "The greatest commandment is this; that thou shalt love the Lord thy soul." He continued, "And the second is like unto it: thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

Here is the axis on which the new law turns—love. Our service and worship should arise from love, rather than fear of judgment. Would not this world be a pleasant place in which to live if everyone loved his neighbor as himself? If God loved us enough to send his son to save us, and if Christ loved us enough to die for us, is it unreasonable for us to present our "bodies as a living sacrafice, holy, acceptable, unto God"? As we go about our daily living let us always strive to develop a stronger love for God, and for our fellow-man. And, let us not forget that love "is the golden chain which binds our hearts in Chris-

DAY by DAY

having some sort of on-campus How about you? Have you got that ailment common to so many at this time? Spring Fever I mean. From the looks of the couples seated under the trees, the crowd draped on the wall outside the cafeteria, and the sunbathers asleep on the roofs. I'd say Lipscomb has an > Nearly everyone saw Bob Sivley roll the peanut across the floor of the Student Center to pay off an election bet with Duard Grace. But not all of you saw George Patterson sprinkle pepper in the path of the boy-turned-bloodhound. What a low blow, George!

> Nature Boy had nothing on Carol Burt, Joyce Wright, Jan Woody, Barbara Wright and Sidney Maddux this past weekend. They decided to camp out one night and have breakfast in the great out-of-doors the next morning. Just one hitch-it took them over two hours to get the fire started to cook on. When they had unsuccessfully tried all the matches they had with them an expedition was made to a restaurant of a nearby camping area. There they asked for an armful of paper and a box of matches. After Joyce had explained the desperate situation of the starving girls, the proprietor said, "Maybe you'd better take two boxes of matches." Have you ever seen a campfire made entirely of matches?

The Choristers were on their last trip of the year and were giving a program in Clarksville. The group was on the next to the last song when Ann Becker left the group to sit down on the piano bench. Everything was going round and round in her head. Ask her sometime programs could be presented. She what caused this strange sensation. It's a clever tale. also mentioned that many students Hope Camp had gotten up as usual and had finished shaving, noticing that the dormitory was a little more still than on other mornings. It was then that his roommate Wayne Tincher happened to open one eye sleepily and inquire what Hope was doing up at such an unearthly hour. Wayne then informed him that it was a little after five instead of six-thirty. Wonder who on earth could have set that alarm forward that much.

Lipscomb has its own version of Mutt and Jeff in roommates Ann Hackett and Margie Long. To cap it all, they have made themselves look-alike smocks to wear in the dorm. In them they still don't look too much alike.

On important occasions its easy to discover who your true friends are. Such as the night John McRae came in with the news that he and Beverly Whitsett had started going steady. First Ed Enzor tricked him into divulging the information, then Ed, Bill Smith, George Patterson, and a host of others gave him a shower—free of charge.

James Hobbs told his education class the other day, "If you can't come on time, don't come at all." And then he wonders why no one came to class the next day.

It's nice to have friends. Particularly like the ones that Bobbie Ann Turner has. Seems that she had been dormed (probably left her clothes rack in the hall during the day) and was finding her four walls very monotonous. So Good Friend Glenda Winesett went to the library and checked out the following books for her: You Too Can Whittle and Carve, How to Make Your House a Home. Invisible Bars and Stripes, and The Mentality of the

Pat Jones had a terrible time getting to bed one night. She fell in bed exhausted at the wee hour of eight-thirty in the evening and was just falling asleep when she was called downstairs. So she took all the curlers out of her hair and went down to see her visitor. Only it wasn't a visitor but a phone call. Soon she went back upstairs, re-rolled her hair and got in bed again. It was no time at all until she had another phone call, which meant another trip down the stairs. Back in bed again, she had The Samaritan had compassion a real visitor-take down hair, go downstairs, back upgroup refused to be fingerprinted before plan she has recommended will take over on the one which had fallen into stairs, roll hair. Then three gals dropped in to chat. Does anybody know whether she ever got to bed or

> Ralph Henley asked one of his political classes if they kept up with the Guardian and several hands were raised to show what alert students he had. He then began to question the scholars on some of the issues recently discussed in that particular paper. Noticing the blank looks on the faces in response to his questions, he made further inquiry and found that while he had been speaking of the Manchester Guardian, his students had had in mind the Gospel Guardian. You can make up your own moral to this story.

> Ed Headrick was seen sitting on the steps of Johnson Hall waiting more or less patiently for his wife Shirley who had run in to see an old friend. He gave these words of advice to the male population of D.L.C., "It's just the same before and after-you never get through

> Roy Davis came into Bible class late and had taken his seat before he realized that there was a test being given. He had tried to answer several questions when he heard II Timothy mentioned. Roy turned to the person next to him and asked why they were being tested on that when they were studying the Apocrypha. Then he looked up and saw that the teacher was Dr. Stroop. It wasn't until that moment that Roy figured out that he was in the wrong class. Such a waste of effort-some of those answers were right.

> All sorts of weird characters can be found if dormitory, but you'd have to look long and hard to find one to top the thing that is sitting in Sonia Riley's room. The first thing that is seen when the door is opened is a bright orange kangaroo. Now, a kangaroo in a dorm room isn't so bad, but an orange one . . .

Critic Praises Recent Opera

May 20, 1955

Music Critic Nashville BANNER The Music Department of David Lipscomb College staged two enjoyable performances of that sure-fire comic opera, "The Mikado,"

Sydney Dalton

on Thursday and Friday evenings. The staging facilities of Alumni Auditorium were put to good use in the production of this Gilbert and Sullivan masterpiece and under the capable musical direction of Miss Irma Lee Batey, head of the music department, the performance on Friday night, the one this reviewer attended, went off

The cast was made up of students of Lipscomb: Duard Grace, Robert Brown, Bill Smith, Nick Boone, Mike McCrickard, Jean Reynolds, Madolyn Hudgens, Nancy Wyckoff, Margaret Rasbury and Patty Walston. All of them carried out their duties commendably, but there were some who are deserving of special mention.

Bill Smith, who played the part of Ko-Ko, the Lord High Executioner, showed distinct talent in that difficult branch of acting comedy. He was genuinely funny and never indulged in exaggeration or slap-stick. And he put over the famous number, "Titwillow," very effectively.

Then there was Nick Boone, as Pooh-Bah, consistently in character. And the three little maids, Yun-Yum, played by Madolyn Hudgens; Nancy Wyckoff, as Pitti-Sing, and Margaret Rasbury as Peep-Bo.

Credit is also due Miss Hudgens, Miss Wyckoff, Robert Brown, who gave a nice performance as Nanki-Poo, and Mr. McCrickard (Pish-Tush) for the way in which they sang the madrigal, "Brightly dawns our wedding day," an impressive bit of vocal writing.

All hands are to be congratulated on their clear enunciation of words, spoken and sung, and Miss Batey for having everything on the stage and in the orchestra pit well under control.

One of America's

really fine

coffees . . . AT YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD GROCER

The National Life and Accident Insurance Co.

NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

CAIN-SLOAN CO.

Nashville's Own Department Store

Fifth Avenue at Church

Phone 5-4661

HIGH QUALITY PRINTING

Books, magazines, catalogs, folders . . . anything Contact one of these Lipscomb alumni in our office: PAUL W. MOORE, CLASS OF '38

LARRY WILLIAMS, CLASS OF '39 V. M. WHITESELL, CLASS OF '41 JAMES W. BOYD, CLASS OF '51

Williams PRINTING CO. 417 COMMERCE • NASHVILLE • TELEPHONE 6-7126

R. OVERALL, PRES.

E. A. BERGSTROM, VIC :- PRES

SMILING AFTER ANNUAL LUNCHEON Friday for former May

Queens are left to right, first row: Ruth Meek Stringfellow, 1938; Billie Joyce Howell, 1955; Lois Church Whitesell, 1945; Second row: Dottie Glenn Travis, 1946; Evelyn Cole Kell, 1954; Nelle Grandstaff Midgett, 1931; Third row: Jane Allen Young, 1931; and Betty Gregory Turner 1941: Sadie Gregory Turner, 1942. (Sisters and flower girls in 1931)

What Are Queens Made of?

Mrs. E. W. Midgett, formerly Nelle Grandstaff and the first Lipscomb May Queen was present for the May Queens' Luncheon Friday along with her two flower girls who were later crowned as May Queens also.

These two little girls are now Betty Gregory Turner, 1941 May Queen and Sadie Gregory Billingsley, 1942 May Queen. They are the only sister duo in the history of May Day.

wav."

Mrs. Midgett was crowned May Queen during her freshman year at Lipscomb. When asked how the May Day Coronation idea developed, Howard White, who was president of the second-year class n 1931 and also editor of the BABBLER, answered, "It must have been because Nelle Grandstaff was so charming and outstanding that the students felt she should be honored in some special that this custom is Lipscomb's way of paying tribute to Christian womanhood as symbolized in the May Queen, chosen by her fellow students because they consider her the representation of the finest and best qualities of womanhood.

President A. C. Pullias explained to convention promotion co-chair-Education Advice man Gertrude M. Hall, director of (Continued from page 1) publicity for Illinois State Normal 132. Personal and Community More than 800 public relations Hygiene; Psychology 271, General staff members from throughout Psychology; Psychology 275, Huthe nation are expected to attend man Growth and Development:

Living

lations programs. News dissemination, radio and television programs, relations with business and industry, and fund raising are a few of the topics to be discussed during the convention at the Drake hotel.

the annual convention to seek ways to improve their public re-

A Dream That Came True:

until winter quarter of this year.

left Sunday for Alaska to search

He signed up with Gasser's

Alaskan Expedition Co., Inc., and will be the camerman for the crew. He will also write stories for the Nashville BANNER to keep interested readers and stockhold-

Willard Collins, vice-president at

David Lipscomb College, has been appointed state promotion chairman for the American College

Public Relations association convention in Chicago June 29-July

Collins will be responsible for timulating interest in the convention among college public relations personnel in the state, according

Collins Appointed

Relations' Head

for uranium!

Alaskan Expedition Resembles

Jim Hart, who was a junior here ers informed about the findings.

Sierra Madre Treasure Hunt

High School Notes . . .

56 Editors Chosen

Nancy Carter, Beverly Vaughan, and Sara Ann Reed have recently been named editors of the two high school publications for next

Miss Carter will edit the Mizpah, school annual, and Miss Vaughan and Miss Reed will be co-editors of the Pony Express, bi-weekly

Assisting Miss Carter will be Linda Gayle Russell, associate editor and Fletcher Srygley and Richard Dickerson, business manager and associate, respectively.

Officers Bring Experience To New Student Body Posts

The recently elected student at Lipscomb, hails from Lewisbody officers who will serve in the burg, Tenn. She is a home ecoyear 1955-56, are Earl Edwards, nomics major and is especially president and Mary Ann Thomas. secretary.

Earl, whose home is in Carthage, Mo., came to Lipscomb last homa. While there, he worked as teach swimming. This camp is lonewscaster for radio station KWON in Bartlesville. He has also worked for station

KNEM in Nevada, Mo., before he finished high school and for WNAH and WKDA here in Nashville. At the latter two, he was a disc jockey as well as an announcer. The sixth of eight children,

Earl was well qualified for the leading role he played of Father in "Cheaper by the Dozen" when a high school senior. He has twin sisters younger than he, Mary and Martha, who are planning to come to Lipscomb next year. At Central Christian he met and married his wife, Gwen, who is a native of Phoenix, Ariz, He also edited the college paper, The Tower. Earl is majoring in speech and preaching regularly at Gassaway, Tenn. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Edwards, of Car-Mary Ann, who has served as a cheerleader all of her three years

Alloway BROS. COMPANY Eggs Poultry Meats

interested in working with children. She has taught a swimming class for two consecutive summers and when school is out in June is year as a transfer student from planning to go to Camp Shiloh Central Christian College in Okla- where she will be a counselor and

> To correct a caption under her picture that appeared in the Nashville Tennessean Sunday, Mary Ann states that she is only 21. The caption said 22. As secretary of the L Club and the Backlog Club this year, she says she has received plenty of practice for her new job of "note taking" next year.

New York.

She has worked as a receptionist at a real estate agency and also wrapped gifts during Christmas holidays at a men's clothing store in Lewisburg. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. James S. Thomas and she has one brother. Jimmie.

'54, Manchester, Tenn. Mr. and Mrs. Myron L. King (Eleanor Goodpasture) '43 are the parents of a little girl, Emily Catherine, born in Nashville April 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Exum Watts (Will Neil Gregory) '46 of Searcy, Ark., cated in New Jersey and is mainly have a little girl, Ellen Gayle, born for underprivileged children from during April.

Trade at Hutcherson's

McKay-Cameron Co.

CHINA, GLASS, SILVER

Headquarters

212 3rd Ave., N.

REALE JEWELRY CO.

Specializing In DIAMONDS - WATCHES - FINE JEWELRY

ENGRAVING, WATCH AND JEWELRY REPAIRING Any Lipscomb Student Can Open A Charge Account! Special Discount to Students Fair Trade Items Excluded

BOB DRAPER, Class of '35

706 Church Street

At Entrance to Doctors' Building

Well it seems as if the Lipscomb baseball team may have hung up their spikes just one game too late this year. After playing an unpredictable brand of ball all year, the Bisons had hoped to make it a successful season by closing with four fast victories in the last week of play. However, as fate would have it, three of the games were cancelled because of rain.

Bisons Rout Middle Tennessee

So the determined Bisons took a notch in their belts and keyed up for what was supposed to be the last game Monday. Playing an inspired brand of ball the Herd probably reached their season's peak in routing highly regarded Middle Tennessee 12-4. The decisive victory seemed to make it a good year after all.

But the season was not quite over. Tuesday morning the Bison's were told that they had to take their spikes out of the mothballs and journey to Clarksville to make up one of the rained out games with Austin Peay. The Herd seemed slow and dull after their inspired effort against Middle Tennessee and the Governors waltzed away with a 6-5 victory. It was a sad ending to a somewhat disappointing season.

Sherrill, Wright in Last Appearance

It was the last time two of the Herdmen, Coach Elvis Sherrill, and senior Wayne Wright, would wear the Bison uniform. Coach Sherrill and Wayne played on the same team four years ago when Elvis was a senior and Wayne was a skinny, freckled-

Wright ended up the season hitting slightly under .300, his best mark in the four colorful years. Wayne made but two miscues this year and displayed fine leadership for the younger boys from start to finish. He tells us he may do some graduate work at U. T. next year, although his plans are still in-

Dugan, Walker Lead Hitting

Centerfielder Ken Dugan and Outfielder-first baseman Carl Walker led the Bisons at the plate this year. Although the batting averages are not yet official, both boys hit around the Ronnie Morrell was the early season slugger and helped the team plenty with his clutch hits. Big Gene Kidwell also chipped in, furnishing the Bison's with the long ball punch. Kidwell's tennis court sacks preserved several of the Herd's victories.

Murphy and Gardner Come Through

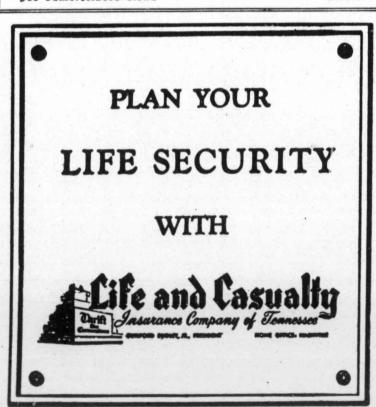

Two of the most pleasant surprises of the season was the fine work of freshman catcher Herbert Murphy and shortstop Tubby Gardner. Herb took charge early in the year and handled the pitchers like a pro. His hitting was also commendable, as he contributed timely base blows in many of the

I do not believe that anyone who has watched freshman Tubby Gardner this year would disagree that he is the best defensive shortstop in the league. Tubby has a smooth style that might well be envied by many professionals. If Gardner can develop a little more plate punch he may have a great baseball career awaiting him.

Purity Dairies

Nashville's Finest Milk

360 Murfreesboro Road

Bisons Win VSAC Net Crown

The Lipscomb tennis team won its third consecutive Western Division VSAC championship by defeating Middle Tennessee State College Monday 7-0. The win was the Bison's third conference win, and their sixth win of the between Charlie Hailey and Charles Williams, Hailey took the win in two sets 6-0, 6-2.

Charles Duncan by 6-0, 6-0.

ham-Southern at Birmingham today, and then play a return en-

tom (B) 6-3, 6-1.
Jim Sweeney (L) beat Sam Lee (B)

Jim Sweeney (L) beat Sam Lee (B) 6-1, 6-1.

James McDonough (L) beat Wendell Skinner (B) 6-2, 6-4.

Jim Oliver (L) beat Oliver Reynolds (B) 6-1, 6-2.

Hailey-Downey (L) beat Draper-Langlos (B) 6-1, 6-3.

Sweeney-McDonough (L) beat Postom-Lee (B) 6-3, 6-2.
Oliver-Gilbert (L) beat Skinner-Reynolds (B) 6-1, 6-1.

Tom Downey won his eighth match of the season by defeating Downey has lost only three

Tennis Team Drops Belmont For Fourth Time Straight

The Bison netters, spurred on by their Western Division VSAC Championship, defeated Belmont 9-0 Tuesday. It was their fourth consecutive win.

Tuesday.

After Charles Hailey got the team off and running with a twoset, 6-0, 6-2 win over Jimmy Draper, the Bisons had clear sailing. Lipscomb won all matches in two sets each—in both doubles and singles. Of the 152 games played, Lipscomb won 118 of them to Bel-

Tom Downey and Spencer Gilbert each won their ninth match against three setbacks. Downey defeated Ray Langlos 6-0, 6-2. Gilbert defeated James Postom 6-3, 6-1

With a victory already more than assured by winning all six singles matches, the Bisons won all three doubles matches to complete the 9-0 shutout. It was the second match in a row in which the Bisons have completely shutout their oppo-They turned the trick 7-0 against Middle Tennessee Monday. It was their fourth consecutive win and their seventh of the season. Their seasonal record now stands at 7-5. They have a 4-0 VSAC record.

Trade at Hutcherson's

TURRENTINE REALTY COMPANY

Sales—Insurance—Loans

Patronize THE LIPSCOMB LAUNDRY

LOVEMANS

All-occasion fashions from dawn to

FITTS & CRAWFORD FLOWERS

2816 West End Ave. 7-5946

WAVERLY BELMONT

SELF SERVICE LAUNDRY

Right on Bus Line

Closest to David Lipscomb College

TENNESSEE REAL ESTATE CO. Nashville's Largest Business Brokers Rentals • AUCTIONS • Sales REALTORS 121 Third Avenue, North

Campbell Jenkins

Wear The Best

'DEER CREEK' SPORTS WEAR

Spencer Gilbert also won his eighth against just three losses. He took Joe Buchanan 6-0, 6-2. Jim Sweeney turned in one of his top performances of the year in beating C. D. Pinkleton 6-3, 6-4. In the final match of the day, James Lee McDonough took a twoset win over Roger Blackwood 6-4, 6-1, and gave the Bisons all five singles matches.

In the first doubles match, Hailey and Downey teamed together against Williams-Buchanan and won the match 6-1, 6-1. Spencer Gilbert and Jim Oliver won the other doubles match from Duncan-Pinkleton 6-4, 6-1.

VSAC Is Next Week

The victory gave the Bisons a They will go against Birming-3-0 VSAC record—good enough to give them the Western Division championship and the right to gagement with Belmont here meet East Tennessee State College here next week for the VSAC Charles Hailey (L) beat Jim Draper B) 6-0, 6-2. Championship. Their season rec-Tom Downey (L) beat Ray Langlos (B) 6-0, 6-2.
Spencer Gilbert (L) beat James Posord is 6-5.

Charles Hailey (L) beat Charles Williams (M) 6-0, 6-2.
Tom Downey (L) beat Charles Duncan (M) 6-0, 6-0.
Spencer Gilbert (L) beat Joe Buchanan (M) 6-0, 6-2. Jim Sweeney (L) beat C. D. Pinkleton (M) 6-3, 6-4.
J. L. McDonough (L) beat Roger Blackwood (M) 6-4, 6-1.
Hailey-Downey (L) beat Williamsbeat Duncan-and Arthur Gardner all hit two-

The pitching was well cared for by right-hander Archie Crenshaw.

Crenshaw blanked the Raiders for eight of the nine innings; the only inning they scored off him was in the hectic fifth when Middle Tennessee poured across all four of Crenshaw walked six and struck out seven as he pitched the entire game and allowed only four hits.

when he made the putout that ended the ball game on a long fly-ball by Doug Shrader. Dugan leaped and made an impossible

catch robbing Shrader of a possi-to the dressing room; many thought that he had dropped the

Ken Dugan scared everyone

Crenshaw Pitched

Herd Trips MTSC, 12-4 Walker, Wright, Bill Banowsky, beat Skinner-

by Kenneth Harwell

Monday afternoon, the Bisons turned back a potent crew of Blue Raiders in Onion Dell by a score of 12-4.

Lipscomb started fast as it tore into Middle Tennessee starter Ralph Sellers, for two runs in the first followed by two more in the second, and three in the third to pile up an early 7-0 lead before the opponents marked up a run. The Herd enjoyed one of the best days at the plate as they smashed 13 safe blows off two Raider moundsmen. Ken Dugan and Wayne Wright collected three hits apiece but Carl Walker, Gene Kidwell, and Archie Crenshaw also had big days Six of these hits were for extra bases as Gene Kidwell and Carl ble home run and then trotted off

Walker both cracked triples, and Twenty-four per cent of all drivers involved in fatal auto acci-

Lost to Austin Peay dents in the U.S. last year were under 25 years old.

The Bisons journeyed to Clarksville Tuesday afternoon to make up a game that had been postponed earlier on account of rain. They dropped this decision, however, to the Governors, 6-5 to Tuin their chances of getting in the V.S.A.C. play-offs.

It ended the season of the team and left them with an overall record of nine wins and six losses.

	1	во	X S	SCORE
Lipscomb .	AB	R	H	MTSC AB	R
Dugan cf	4	2	3	Carson rf 2	1
Morrell 3b	3	1	0	Thom'n ss 4	ī
Murphy c	2	'1	0	Corban lb 5	ī
Walker 1b	3 2 5 2	2	2	Shrader cf 4	ō
Kidwell If	2	2 1	1	Galbr'th 1b 2	0 1 0 0
Wright 2b	4	1	3	Garrett 2b 3	õ
Banow'y rf	5	1	ī	Brown 3b 4	ŏ
Gardner ss	4	ī	ī	Rolman c 3	ŏ
Crens'w p	5	1	2	Willard c 1	ŏ
				Sellers p 1	ő
				Care p 3	0000
	_	_	-		_	_
	32	12	13	32	4

32 12 13 32 4 4
E—Walker, Wright, Banowsky, Thompson. RBI—Morrell 4, Walker 2, Wright 2, Gardner, Crenshaw 2, Shrader, Garrett, Galbreath, 2 B—Galbreath, Walker, Kidwell. DP—Thompson, Garrett and Galbreath. W—Crenshaw 6, Sellers 3. SO—Crenshaw 7, Sellers 2, Care 2. HO—Sellers 6 for 7 in 3 and one-third innings, Care 7 for 5 in 4 and two-thirds innings. Winner—Crenshaw. Loser—Sellers.

Buy Fountain Pens at Hutcherson's

Joy's Flowers 601 Church 6-4144

> LANDON'S Your Neighborhood HARDWARE

The Babbler

Vol. XXXIV

Sneed, Derseweh Achieve Highest Scholastic Honors

Katherine Sneed Has Top Grades . .

Footlighters Give 'Gabler' Tuesday

The Footlighters will give a reading of the play, "Hedda Gabler" Tuesday evening, in Alumni Auditorium.

The reading will be given in connection with the English Department.

The characters cast by Dale Brown, Director of Drama, include: Mrs. Hedda Gabler Tes-George Tesman, not cast; Miss Juliana Tesman, Beverly Youree; Mrs. Elvsted, Kay Morris; Judge Black, Jerry Henderson; Ejlert Lovborg, Nick Boone; Bertha,

Alumni Notes

By Laura Tarence

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hanvey (Vivian Wilson) '42 and '54 are the parents of a little girl. Lisa Diane, born May 16 in Nashville. Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Lee Fudge

'39 are the parents of a little girl born May 12 in Athens, Ala. The Fudge's other five children are There is a new baby in the family of Tom and Maribeth (Smith) Ingram '47 and '46. It's a little girl born during April. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sanders (Reba living in their new home at 1306 Harding Place, Nashville. Louise Walker, '37 is now living in Scottsboro, Ala. where she is Home Demonstration Agent. Mrs. Hayes Denton Westmore- ning in Alumni Auditorium.

land (Martha Armistead) '46 is living on Rt. 4, Lewisburg, Tenn. nounced at that time, according to Hardison School.

JOHN L. RAINEY RECEIVES CONGRATULATIONS from Batsell

Baxter as President A. C. Pullias, extreme left, and Dean J. P. Sanders,

Four-Year Records Are 2.73, 2.65 Katherine Sneed and Ann

Derseweh have been named valedictorian and salutatorian, respectively, of the 1954-55 graduating class. With an average of 2.73, Miss

Sneed, from Nashville, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Sneed. This is her fourth year at She will be graduated in June with a B.A. degree in English and will be qualified to teach on the secondary level next fall. Also from Nashville, Miss Derseweh, averaging 2.65 over a four-year period is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Derseweh. Her major is music education. Currently Miss Derseweh teaches piano in the elementary depart-

Both Miss Sneed and Miss Derseweh attended East Nashville High School prior to entering Lipscomb in the fall of 1951.

High School Notes:

Turman to Speak At Graduation

Commencement exercises for the 1955 graduating class of David man, Mary Cornelia Sparkman; Lipscomb High School will be Friday, June 3, in Alumni Auditorium, at 8 p.m.

Rex Turman, principal of Central High School, and minister at Savannah, Tenn., is the commencement speaker. Former president of the Tennessee Education Association, he is the father of Cornelia Turman, a college sopho-

Bill Corlew, student body president, will speak, followed by senior class president John Vaughan. who will make the class presenta-

The invocation will be led by J. Roy Vaughan, and J. E. Choate will lead the benediction.

Beverly Malone and John Allen McDonald will furnish processional and recessional music, re-At 3 p.m. Sunday afternoon, Dr.

Batsell Barrett Baxter will speak at the Baccalaureate service. The parents and the faculty are giving a senior dinner in honor of the graduates tomorrow night.

Forty-two eighth-grade students will have commencement exercises at 7:30 p.m. Thursday eve-Scholastic honors will be an-

tary principal.

Ann Derseweh

Vandiver Chosen N. Y. Delegate

James Vandiver will represent Lipscomb at the 10th annual Leadership Institute on United Na-

This meeting will be held at Finch College, New York City, from June 12 to 18, and will be attended by approximately 80 college students from all parts of the

Vice-President Elect of IRC Vandiver was elected president of the third Mid-South Model Assembly held at Vanderbilt last month, and he is vice-presidentelect of the International Relations

Hope Camp has been the 1954-55 regional director of the Collegiate Council for United Nations, a post held in 1952-53 by Tommy Trimble, former Lipscomb student, who is now a secondyear law student at Vanderbilt.

Babblerettes

Dr. Morris Landiss has invited all the students who have had upper-division English courses uner him this year to a picnic at his home on Blair Blvd. tomorrow

Ed Smith was recently selected president of the Backlog Club for next year. He will succeed re- will begin at 6:00 p.m. tiring president, Tommy Burton.

Other new officers are vice-president, Nick Boone; secretary,

Marian Johnson; and treasurer, Etta Williams. Tonight at 6:30, 20 members of She is teaching third grade in Miss Margaret Leonard, elemen- the Art club will leave from Sewell Hall for a party at Shelby Marshall Gunselman will chaperon the group, in the absence of the sponsor, Miss Nedra Olbricht.

Today at 2:00 p.m. the International Relations Club will leave for Pine Woods on its Annual out-

The group plans to buy all the necessary food for the three-day affair before leaving, as they will cook all their victuals themselves.

Dr. Morris Landiss preached the Baccalaureate Sermon last Sunday for the high school from which he was graduated-W. T. Thomas High School in Cumberland City, President A. C. Pullias will be commencement speaker on May 26 for Augusta Tilgham High School, Paducah, Ky.

Dr. Ira North was commencemencement speaker for Petersburg High School in Petersburg, Ind., last Thursday.

Memories to Cherish

HAPPY SENIORS enjoy annual president's dinner Tuesday evening in Student Center. Girls in foreground are left to right, Mary Stapleton, Sonia Riley, Bettye Beazley, Gloria McDaniel. Speaker's table is

Also honored at the speaker's

table were President of the Alumni Association, F. Miles Ezell, Jr.

and Mrs. Ezell; President of the student body, Richard Batey and

Mrs. Batey; secretary of the stu-

Senior class officers President,

Robert Sivley; Vice-President,

Tom Warren; Secretary; Ada Elliot; and Treasurer, Billy Mc-

Cleskey were also at the speaker's

Other guests were Director of dent body, Ruth Behel.

Seniors Entertained Tuesday By President, Mrs. A. C. Pullias

The annual President's dinner Other Guests for the graduating class was given Tuesday evening in the Student Center by President and Mrs. Athens Clay Pullias.

The dinner has been an annual affair since 1948 when the first senior class graduated from Lipscomb. It honors seniors and their wives and husbands. Each senior was given an opportunity to tell his fellow-students of his plans for the future.

Seated at the speaker's table with President and Mrs. Pullias were President of the Board of Directors, Harry R. Leathers and Mrs. Leathers; Vice-President and Mrs. Collins; Dean and Mrs. J. P. Sanders: Professor and Mrs. Howard White. Mr. White serves as one of the sponsors of the senior class. Vice-President Collins is the other sponsor.

the Alumni Loyalty Fund, John R. Sanders and Mrs. Sanders; Secretary of the Alumni Association, Miss Laura Tarence; and Secretary to the President, Miss Mary

Dinner music was provided by Carence R. Haflinger.

Working Students Banquet Tonight

The Working Students' Organization will climax its social activities of the year, tomorrow evening with its annual banquet in the Student Center.

The hosts for the evening will the administration of the school. Robert Kerce, administrative assistant and supervisor of the working students, is in charge of

The program for the evening

SUMMER SCHOOL

Summer school schedules will be available in the registrar's office Tuesday, May 31, so that students will have an opportunity to contact their faculty advisers before the end of he spring quarter.

Students should register for the summer session between 8:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. on Monday June 13, in the registrar's office. Students who plan to be in the second session only of summer school may registe July 18.

The following applies only to second and third quarter seniors Thursday and Friday, June 2, 3 Room 324

Unless the teacher arranges to administer the examination personally, he will see that copies of the examination are available in Room 324 at the beginning of the regularly scheduled class period.

Monday, June 6

Speech 233 A, B

9:00 A.M. classes meeting 3, 4 or 5 times per week Speech 113 B, C 305 Speech 213 A, B 300 Speech 213 A, B

H.Ec. 113 A, B 200

Note: Students in courses having more than one section should check for special scheduling rather than regular class period scheduling. If no special schedule is given the examination will be given in accordance with the period schedule.

SENIOR EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

All classes meeting on Thursday will have examinations on Thursday. All other classes will have examinations on Friday. FINAL EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

8:00-10:00 10:30-12:30 1:00-3:00 3:00-5:00 A

Hist. 113 A, B 226 Bible 223 A 226 12:00 o'clock 3:00 F.M. classes

C 309 Bible 313 B 200 and 2 times per week

G, H 324 C 300 week

C 300 week week 1:00 P.M. classes meeting 1 and 2

Tuesday, June 7 Eng. 113 A, E 300 8:00 A.M. classes B, D 324 meeting 3, 4 or 5 classes meeting 3, meeting 1 and 2 classes M 309 Chem. 113 A, B 4 or 5 times per week Span. 123 A, B 226 Math. 153 A, B 309 Greek 123 A, B 305 Psych. 323 A, B 305 Psych. 323 A, B 305

Wednesday, June 8

Thursday, June 9

1:00 P.M. classes 8:00 A.M. classes 2:00 P.M. classes 4:00 P.M. classes meeting 3, 4 or 5 meeting 1 and 2 meeting 3, 4 or 5 times per week times per week times per week times per week

A New Hope

The benefits of educational TV are many. Both viewer and producer benefit a great deal from such programs. Everyone knows that a teacher gets more out of a lesson by his preparing it, than do the students by hearing it.

Keeping that truth in mind, educational programs in which the students themselves do the actual research, preparation, and presentation of the educational material.

Excluding any knowledge which the viewers gained by listening and watching the programs, much was accomplished otherwise. One particular class was divided into six committees. They were to present a program on steel making. Those students learned better how to work and cooperate with each other by this project. They visited plants, consulted their libraries, and combed text books for information—all on their own initiative. Thereby, they learned to accept and fulfill responsibility.

Assembling the data from all the committees and condensing it into the granted length of time taught the students how to evaluate and correlate the material which they had gathered. So, we see a few of the benefits that were derived from such a project. We also see the great potentiality in such a program.

Many people feel that education is becoming too modern and too lenient. They feel that it should be put back on the old system of "readin', 'ritin' and campus event, only to find it closed. You we believe that the above mentioned form so you wait. But after waiting until of education is effective.

It is our hope that as new teachers fill the educational jobs, that they will be has to be in at 10:00 p.m., not much time conscious of the unlimited possibilities in is left to go to the drugstore. this form, and in other types of education; and that our educational techniques will improve as time goes on.

Friends-Riches

Some of our truest and dearest friends have been made here at Lipscomb. For those who are completing their first year, there are friends they will be looking forward to seeing next year. Those who have been here two or three years have probably lost most of their contacts and friends at home: their friends are here at Lipscomb. There are those who are graduating this year, or have friends who will not be back.

Whatever the case is with you, why not keep in contact with your friends during the summer, or on throughout life as the case may be? Does the summer months put a gulf between you and your class mates? A card or letter will do much in preserving these friendships which have been made during the past years at

Along with "a good name," someone has also said that friends are "rather to be chosen than great riches." Preserve those associations, and keep those contacts which you have made here; someday they may prove to be a great help and benefit to you, and possibly to your friends.

Phys. Ed. for All!

We believe in giving credit where credit is due; that is why this medium is being taken to bring to your attention the excellent physical education program which we have enjoyed this year,

We have capable men on that particular staff, and they have done a fine job in arranging for physical entertainment.

Particularly, we are referring to the planned entertainment for the freshman mixer held at the beginning of the school year; also the entertainment and sport which was provided for both our Beautiful Days. We are referring to the croquet court-which is open at all times for any who might wish to play, which have been provided through the 30. Physical Education Department.

good, clean, entertainment and sport for last week. recreational activities. So, to those who U. S. Surgeon General Scheele said that have made these facilities possible, we the number of polio cases resulting from express our appreciation, and that which the Salk vaccine was now 67. Fifty-five we feel is prevalent among all the stu- of these followed the Cutter Laboratories, Paul Rogers . Business Manager dents.

Memories to Cherish . . . IRC Speaker Says

close. There is one more week before final exams. Why not make that last week your best week at Lipscomb?

Apply yourself more diligently in your studies. Put forth an effort to get more out of the chapel periods. Satisfy your own concience in all you do. Speak to all those whom you meet. Be a better room-mate and a little kinder to all

Attend the evening devotionals. Do these things and the memories which are casually gleaned by doing so will be preserved for many years to come. If you want to have memories to cherish, try fulfilling these suggestions.

Outside Eating

Last year in the Spring quarter, the evening meal was served outside on the campus in front of Sewell Hall. Everyone enjoyed the outside meal. Of course, eating outside makes any food taste better; but other than that, it was a change to the students—a welcomed change.

This year is going by in a hurry, and will soon be gone. Queries concerning the absence of these evenings outings have been made by several. Could we

An Appeal . . .

It is disgusting to have a date, and plan to go to the Student Center after a 'rithmetic," and the hickory limb. But, think perhaps that the help is just latepositive they are not going to open, a lot of time has been wasted; and if your date

> It is a date ruined. That is no problem? Well, not to some—but it presents a problem to those whom it does affect. Cannot some system be worked out whereby those who are interested will always know for sure when the Center is going to be opened?

One of the cold war's most notable happenings took place last week when Soviet Russia accepted the invitation of the NATO powers to a four-power con-

The new development was met with satisfaction by western leaders, since it follows the acceptance by Nato of West Germany.

Said Secretary of State John Foster Dulles: "Our experience has shown that when there is only one to about each time we have confronted the Rus- every six or eight tables, and they sians with a strong and determined act are not always full, it gets to be they have been willing to talk seriously." disgusting.

Dulles went on to point out that a single conference could not solve all of the cold war problems before it, but that it might lay groundwork on which the wonder if some new ones should details could be worked out later.

Ministers Talk First

The plan is for the foreign ministers of the Big Four nations (Great Britain, come disgruntled at the outset-Soviet Russia, France, and the United States) to meet to agree on a broad agenda. Then the heads of the Big Four governments would meet to discuss the issues and methods of finding solutions. Later the ministers would deal with the points outlined by the government heads.

The four men who will take part in the conference set for this summer; Eisenhower, Anthony Eden, Nikolai Bulganin, and Edgar Faure.

Outstanding News Events of the Week:

Four-star General Maxwell D. Taylor was named Army Chief of Staff by Presito the horseshoe-pitching facilities, and dent Eisenhower, replacing General to the outdoor volleyball court-all of Matthew B. Ridgeway, who retires June

The bill to make Hawaii and Alaska These facilities have added a great deal the 49th and 50th states of the union was to the student life, and have given us defeated in the House of Representatives

Inc. vaccine.

The school year is about to draw to a Take Another Look

"We ought to take another look at the situation and see where we are going," were the closing words of Dr. Alex N. Dragnich Professor of Political Science at

Those words could have been spoken by a preacher, a doctor, a teacher, or anyone; but they were his feelings on the subject "How good an Ally is Marshal

The speaker was well qualified o elaborate on his subject since ne helped to steady Yugoslavia during the war. He has also written a book on the subject Tito's Promised Land, and plans to write another one.

"The local communist movement started in 1941," Dragnich "Tito became one of the Kremlin's best allies. But he was not in favor of some of the things that were going on in the party. The dissatisfactions caused Tito and the Kremlin to break. "Then," Dragnich smiled, "We (the U. S.) had the problem of recommending what our policy would be toward Yugoslavia. The Trieste frontier, and the revolution in Greece made us undecided."

Slavs Against

The Slavs in general were against the Russians. The bulk of their army is farmers' sons. Yes, they were willing to fight if necessary, but they wanted to be free if they did. Why should they help others and still not have their

On the other hand, the officers were Communists. And so, at that time all the factors made Dragnich think that "at best, Tito was an uncertain ally."

Look Where We're Going

But now he feels that we should look again where we are going. One might draw the conclusion that he does not believe that Tito would make a good ally.

After the 30 minute talk on the subject, Hope Camp, president of the I.R.C., opened the floor for questions. The Doctor seemed to have enough material in mind to be able to give a dissertation on any question which came up.

Dear Editor . . .

Salt That Preserves

I am a student who loves to eat. sit down to eat my food, regardless of what is on the menu, with joy. Maybe that is because I am just lazy and want to sit down for awhile.

But invariably. I always have to get up and take a little exercise by trying to find a salt shaker. Now, I realize that maybe we cannot enjoy the privilege of having salt shakers on every table, but

Now I am already accustomed to the problem, and maybe all other old-timers in the cafeteria are accustomed to it. But, I be acquired before next year. After all, much time and effort is spent in getting students to come to Lipscomb, but if they bewell, that would not be so good.

Seriously however, it would be nice if some salt shakers could be purchased for the cafeteria. It would certainly be more convenient for everyone who eats

THE BABBLER

Entered as second-class matter. December 26, 1923, at the post office, Nashville, Tenn., under the act of March 3, 1897.

Accepted for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1916; authorized, Nashville, Tenn.

Published weekly during the regular school year except during holidays or examination periods by students of DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE, Nashville, Tenn.

Office located on second floor Crisman Memorial Library. Member

Associated Collegiate Press Peggie Herron .. Editor-in-Chief Willard Collins .. Faculty Advisor

DAY by DAY

Lipscomb has established another tradition. Hence forward and forevermore, under no condition to be changed, all Lipscomb banquets must include rain. Since all the banquets this year have been plagued with precipitation, rain with formals has now become a tradition in the true Lipscomb fashion (unchangeable as the law of the Medes and Persians)

It was a battle to the finish. Elayne Laws couldn't make the soap dispenser cooperate, so she gave it a blow that was a little too enthusiastic. At that the contraption squirted soap in her eyes. That's how it happened that Earlene Duncan, Lafond Heflin, Marion Parker, and Phyllis Browning led Elayne into the restaurant on the

One must arrive on time to Dr. Stroop's classes. One must also stay until he decides to dismiss class-which may be anywhere from three to six minutes after the bell rings. Now at lunch time this can put one somewhat nearer the end of the line than one usually likes to be. Joe Black has found a solution, however. He brings a can of black bean scup to class, then when he finds his lunch period slipping by while he listens to the plan he is quite prepared. But who likes cold black bean

The patrons of Howard Johnson's could hardly believe their eyes. In the door came a slovenly man brandishing a bottle and accompanied by a hag in a housecoat. Behind this weird pair came a southern belle-hoops and all—escorted by a gentleman in the glorious grey uniform. Next came an outsized pink bunny, then an oriental slave girl complete with chain, and an Egyptian princess along with other assorted characters savory and otherwise. The whole thing was brought up by an elderly Bible-totin' couple. Only a few of the waitresses who had such previous experiences knew that it was only the Footlighters just come from their own

From all reports, the seniors had a very, very good outing. As one of them expressed it, "We got drenched and ate like hogs." The greatest excitement came when JoAnn Edmundson began to play the piano. Not that her playing inspired such a furor. It was the mouse that ran out of the rattle-trap piano when she banged the

The latest plaque on campus is the "snifflins." If you haven't caught it, be glad.

"I'm sorry, but Bro. Bryant is busy now," said Rachel Alexander as she again refused to admit Bob Bowersock to the inner sanctum of the Registrar's office. Deciding that at this rate he might never be able to get his problem worked out with Bryan's assistance, Bob took matters in his own hands. He stepped into Batsell Baxter's adjoining office, picked up the phone, and called Bryant. Having completed his business there, Bob stopped to thank Rachel for her assistance before going on his merry way.

Bill Banowsky had a car that was somewhat loaded on the way back from the Freshman banquet. The inventory went something like this: Four palm trunks, two palm tree trunks, a bass drum, a loudspeaker, a suitcase, a bass fiddle, a tape recorder, a box of fish (plastic), two other boxes of "junk," many hoops, and lost in the midst of all this was a girl—his date Bobbie Lou Menefee. Wonder ho won earth that fiddle string that was beyond all use upon his return could ever have been

No, your eyes didn't deceive you. You actually saw two kittens cavorting in the second floor hall in Sewell. Perhaps Ann Ledford was lonesome and that's the reason she brought two month-old kitty-cats to the dorm with her, or maybe she wanted to open a circus and meant to advertise them as the wildest cats in Sewell Hall. However, this latter may not be exactly accurate.

This is an invitation to all of you from the boys on the third floor front hall to attend the soccer games that are held there nightly. You are also invited to the boxing bouts held in room 325.

One of our students has made a prediction: if the popularity of one of our friendlier teachers continues to increase at the present rate, he will be able to hold his classes in the phone booth next year.

Wayne Tincher was walking to class with a load of white poster paper under his arm. The explanation was given that the paper was to be used on the discussion questions on the test to be given that day. Pretty thorough test.

Madam Whitten had promised (bless her generous heart) to give her elementary French students one of her petit examens which usually turn out to be anything but little. That's why she found the classroom door locked when she arrived for class the next day. Peering into the little "porthole" in the door, she found that the room was empty. But she didn't know that the whole class was huddled in one corner so as no to be seen. When they at last let her in, she said, "I knew you were there all the time and wanted to throw erasers through the transom at vou."

The fan was droning on during a Bible class as Batsell Baxter told the class about having been upbraided by Caledonia for having given a low grade to a member of the ball team. Finally Stephan Bilac raised his hand: "Bro. Baxter, will you please turn off the fan. I can't tell whether you are talking about Macedonia or Cale-

English 101 . . . Freshmen Students Compose

With a Purpose-Textbooks! School is becoming more and ready being used in English are students leaching several classes in different courses, now they are even writing their own textbooks!

May 27, 1955

At Western Reserve University in Cleveland, Ohio, a new textbook written entirely by freshmen has recently been published. It is a 25-page magazine entitled "Freshman Writing," and is al-

Members Initiated Into Masic Club

The Musicians' Club held its annual initiation and election of officers Monday evening at Avalon

Seven students were installed at the rank of apprentice in the impressive candle light ceremony. The initiates were Jean Arnold, Margaret Deason, Bill Jarrett, Shirley Lee, Jerry Metheny, Margaret Rasbury, and Jean Reynolds. Officers for the coming year are president, Patty Walston; vicepresident, Mike McCrickard; secretary, Mary Katherine Armistead; and historian, Margaret Rasbury. Plans were made for next year's activities. Refreshments were served by the club sponsor, Miss Irma Lee Batey.

more student directed! Not only courses 101 and 102. It consists of some of the better themes position courses this year.

Nineteen first year students at the university contributed to the publication. It was jointly published by Assistant Professor Edith Layer and Instructor Alvin Gold-

STUDENT BOARD NOTES The Student Board meetings of late have been called meetings where only particular problems were of concern, such as the planning of the elections, written in first year English com-

Professor William Powell Jones Chairman of Reserve's English department, explained that the purpose of the new publication was two-fold. Primarily, it gives examples of good freshman writ-

Instead of the previously used method of using the Atlantic Monthly writers as examples of good writing, which was of little practical help to most students, freshman compositions are being used. The psychology behind this is that a freshman is a better judge of a freshman's writing than he is of that of a professional writer.

May Day, and others.

Some medals and gifts have been purchased. Medals are to be given to Miss Lipscomb and Bachelor of Ugliness, May Queen, Billye Joyce Howell, received a necklace from the Board, and Nancy Wyckoff, the Homecoming Open received a bracelet.

Davidson County: Gene Hibbett,

chemistry; Billy Ringold, history,

who plans to teach in Hamilton

Glenda Dabbs, English; Joanne

Edmondson, history; Don Eaton,

music; Virginia Cooper, home economics; Gloria Brannam, elemen-

ary education, who plans to teach

Hoyte Snow, elementary educa-

in Davidson County; Sonia Riley,

tion, who plans to teach in Davidson County; Mary Stapleton, elementary education; Jayne Robinson, elementary education; Marjorie Long, elementary education:

Lorene Nance, elementary education; Bettye Beazley, elementary elementary education.

Waylon Lawrence, history;

New Teachers To Be Initiated This Fall—At Least 53 Graduate

Fifty three members of this Sampley, Bible; Bill Fullerton, year's graduating class are preparing themselves for teaching

Of this number, nine girls and two boys will receive elementary school certificates and 13 girls and 29 boys will be certified for secondary school teaching. Twenty nine persons of the 53 certified, definitely plan to teach.

They include: Patricia Thrasher, music education major; Ann Derseweh, music; Carl Seigenthaler, English, who plans to teach in Kent County, Mich. Gloria McDaniel, home economics; Katherine Sneed, English; Ina

The pedestrian record reflected the fourth consecutive year of improvement for motor vehicle accidents in 1954.

One of America's

Swan, home economics; Betty

Burns, general business; Curtis

education; and Orean Poe, elementary education.

really fine

coffees . . .

AT YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD GROCER

Established 1858

PHILLIPS & BUTTORFF MFG. CO.

Manufacturers of

ENTERPRISE STOVES, FURNACES AND STOKERS FOR COAL—GAS—ELECTRICITY

Furnishers of

Commercial and Residential Air Conditioners Cafeteria Equipment for Schools and Hotels Kitchen Wares-Table Wares-Home Wares

Serving A Value Conscious America for Nearly 100 Years

217 Third Avenue, North

Nashville, Tennessee

Rainy's Retirement Marks End of 32 Years of Service

jects at Lipscomb, John L. Rainey will retire at the end of the 1954-55 session. President A. C. Pullias announced his forthcoming retirement in chapel Wednesday, when a special program was held in his

President Pullias paid tribute to Rainey in the following state-

"In the approaching retirement of Brother John L. Rainey, David Lipscomb College will lose the active services of one of its most devoted and consecrated teachers. "My memories of Brother Rainey run back through more than 35 years. He came to preach at Philippi, in Trousdale County, and stayed in my father's home when I was a small boy. From that moment until this I have known him as a faithful preacher of the gospel, a self-sacrificing and effective teacher at Lipscomb, and as a close and beloved personal

Here 32 Years

"He has stayed with the College as a full-time teacher for 32 consecutive years, which I am sure is longer than any other teacher has taught continuously on a fulltime basis in the academic departments. His loyalty has kept him at his post through good times and bad across the years, and his optimism and pointed bits of wisdom have become a proverbial part of Lipscomb lore. Nearly every stuhistory; Billy McCleskey, history. dent who has attended Lipscomb Robert Brown, speech; Keith will remember the ringing words, Ericson, speech; George Spivey, 'He can who thinks he can!' biology, who plans to teach in

"In his retirement years, Brother John L. Rainey will continue to support the cause of Christian education as he has throughout his life. We wish him happiness and continued usefulness in the well deserved years of rest that lie ahead, and want him to know that he will always have a place at Lipscomb. As long as Lipscomb lasts the influence of John L. Rainey will be a part of that solid oundation of faith in God and the

Trade at Hutcherson's

LANDON'S Your Neighborhood HARDWARE

Joy's Flowers 601 Church 6-4144 we nen upon which the institution President E. H. Jiams, Rainey constands. He is living proof that

Speaking for himself and for Lipscomb's entire faculty, Dean J. P. Sanders added this tribute to Rainey's outstanding contribution as a teacher dedicated to the principles of Christian education:

"Brother Rainey has just completed the longest period of uninterrupted teaching that one has ever served in David Lipscomb College. I am glad to congratulate him on this period of service and to offer him my best wishes and prayers for his retirement years which lie ahead.

'Through my relationship with him as a fellow teacher and an adminstrative officer. I have always appreciated his wonderful spirit of cooperation. He has always gladly performed any task assigned, and he has often taken without any complaint teaching loads heavier than normal. He has even been called upon at times to teach courses that did not lie in the field of his special interest. These, too, were willingly and happily assumed.

"As he read the New Testament, not only in English but in the original language, he has learned to partake of the Master's spiritthe spirit of self-sacrificing devotion to the ideals of truth and right and to God's will as supreme over

"We hope he will be a frequent visitor to the campus, and we know that he will always live in the hearts of his students." Came in 1907

Rainey first came to Lipscomb in 1907 when it was still the Nashville Bible School, and spent a semester as a grammar school student. After attending Burritt College, Potter Bible School, and Western Bible and Literary College, and teaching in the public schools of Maury County for several years, he returned to Lipscomb in 1918 and was graduated from the junior college in 1920. He then spent a year at Peabody College, transferred to the University of Louisville, Ky., and received the A.B. degree there in 1922. On a scholarship award he attended Vanderbilt University the degree on June 13, 1923. Joined Faculty in 1923

next year and received his M.A.

H. Leo Boles, then president of Lipscomb, invited Rainey to join the faculty in September, 1923; and since that time, "through good years and bad," as President Pullias has said, John L. Rainey has been a part of the college. He has taught in the high school as well as the college, and in addition to Greek, Latin, and Bible, has had classes in French, Spanish, history, economics, sociology, and geography.

WAVERLY BELMONT

SELF SERVICE LAUNDRY Granny White At Halcyon

> TENNESSEE REAL ESTATE CO. Nashville's Largest Business Brokers Rentals • AUCTIONS • Sales

REALTORS

121 Third Avenue, North

Campbell Jenkins

Closest to David Lipscomb College

The National Life and

NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

tinued on the faculty, eventually 'he gives the most who gives him- served under President Batsell Baxter's two admistrations, and finally under President Pullias. Among other tributes paid to Rainey on his retirement is the following from Baxter, now president emeritus and head of the Bible department:

"Brother Rainey has a disposition which is wonderful. I have never seen him when he was not cheerful. He has taught mainly Greek and Latin which are regarded by most people as dull subjects, but his classes have never been dull. His words of encouragement have pulled many a student out of the bog of a hard course. I believe he can make any subject interesting. He has been a very valuable teacher for David Lipscomb College ever since I have known him."

On May 21, Rainey completed his 32 reading of the New Testament in Greek-once for every year he's been at Lipscomb, although the project began in 1935. just 20 years ago. Probably no teacher who has ever served Lipscomb is more widely known among preachers who have had their training here.

In 1928, he began encouraging the young ministers among his students to go out and start other Bible schools in sections of the country where none existed. He has taken great satisfaction in watching the results of this teaching as former students have been associated with the establishment of Bible schools in Alabama, Tennessee, Georgia,

Florida, and even Canada. Literally scores of his students have become ministers, and in one issue of the Gospel Advocate he found reports from 18 former pupils who are now preaching.

Rainey has watched the Lipscomb faculty completely change during his 32 years. When he came in 1923 there were 21 teachers and 175 students. He is the only one of the number remaining on the Lipscomb faculty. He has watched every building now standing rise, with the exception of Avalon Hall, the old home of David Lipscomb, and the central part of Harding Hall. He also witnessed the loss by fire of two buildings-the boys' dormitory in December 24, 1929, and the girls'

dormitory about March, 1930. High Peaks of Career

One of the high peaks of his long teaching career came last fall with the news that Lipscomb had been fully accredited as a senior college by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. He ranks this with the building program, the expansion of the faculty, and the growth of the student body as outstanding developments of the past 32 years. Every student who has sat in one of Rainey's classes remembers his appropriate use of adages and other quotations. "Follow Jesus, He knows the way," is one of his favorites: and "It takes rough seas to make skillful sailors." a frequently applied one. Among those original with him is another bit of advice often passed on to students: "I would rather try and fail, than fail to try."

Rainey is married to the former Miss Anna Simms, who has been teaching music and voice 16 years for the Lawrence County High School, Moulton, Ala, His first wife, who died in 1953, was Miss Ada Anne Mitchell of Louisville, Ky., a cousin of Col. Billy Mitchell, of aviation fame.

Memories of students who have been in his classes, pride in their achievements, and satisfaction in seeing their application in their own lives of principles that he sought to instill in them-these are what John L. Rainey has in mind when he says: "I would rather have taught these 32 years at David Lipscomb College than anywhere else in the world."

Accident Insurance Co.

By Bill Banowsky -

With the colorful track meet last Tuesday the boys' Intramural competition officially ended for 1955.

The boys warmed up and made it good as there were close races in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, the broad and high jumps, the shot-put and discus throws and the mile run. The individual winners in each event received a medal and an invitation to the intramural picnic on Thursday.

Comets Softball Champs

The track meet had little bearing on the team trophy, however, as the front-running Rams picked up enough points to ice the cup away. This trophy is awarded each year to the intramural team that gathers the most total points in the various athletic events throughout the year.

Two weeks ago it was mentioned in this column that the Rams might also walk away with the softball championship. However, apologies and congratulations are extended to the year. Comets who decisively pounded the Rams, 12-6, in the cham-

These same Comets were to have met the Peabody College Champs Wednesday.

Donelson, Gilbert, Dugan, Honored

At the annual L club banquet last week the most valuable player awards in Lipscombs three major sports were revealed. Coming as no surprise, the most valuable men were-Ken Donelson, basketball; Spencer Gilbert, tennis; and Ken Dugan, baseball. These three lads displayed fine ability in leading their respective teams this year.

Big "Slim" led the Bison basketballers in total points and rebounds and was named to several all tournament teams.

Gilbert had a great season with the tennis squad establishing an undefeated record.

Dugan, the Herd's fine centerfielder, led the team offensively with a .328 batting average and sparkled on defense in every

Gilbert is a senior, Donelson a junior, and Dugan is a sopho-

Walker to Lead L Club

Also at the banquet Carl Walker was elected president of next year's L Club. Carl, a junior ex-G. I., was an outfielderfirst baseman on this year's baseball team.

Tennis Team Victorious

While we are congratulating it might be well to mention that our tennis team of which Spencer played an important part won the VSAC Western Division. They will play East Tenn. for the championship over the whole shooting match

The Basketball team began spring training this week in preparation for the 1955-56 season. A large number reported for the drills to try and map out strategy for next year's schedule, reportedly one of the toughest in Lipscomb's history.

Coaching Position Question Mark

Little, if anything, is known about who next year's Varsity coach will be. Athletic Director Jennings Davis, in a statement to the press said, "Your guess is as good as mine."

Nashville's Finest Milk 360 Murfreesboro Road

6-1148

Rams Cop Intramural Title

Alister, repeated as club champions this year.

The Rams also won the 1954 championship. The Eagles won the first championship in 1953, when the club system was initiated.

The Rams earned this year's title by capturing the Class AA and B basketball championships, and by winning the volleyball title. They were runners-up in football and softball, and came out on top in golf, track, and swimming. Boys responsible for the Rams'

Tom Warren, Bob Harris, Jim Throneberry, Ken Dugan, Ray Crouch, Bud Dancy, Hal Wilson, Jack Boustead, Pop Brown, Nelson Roark, Dickie Adams, Roger Villines, Charles Lawson, Tom Downey, Tom Burton, Gene Kidwell, George Spain, Bob Bowersock, Don Jenkins, Bill Ables, and Bob

Although the Rams won the title of "All Sports Champions," other clubs excelled in a number of

He gained this title by being selected on the all-star

teams in football and volleyball, and rating the second team in basketball, besides his winning of various indi-

In addition to the trophy presented to Wayne Wright at the intramural picnic medals were presented to the champions in all sports, and to the winners of the many individual tournaments.

vidual events.

Wayne Wright Named Year's Best Athlete

The outstanding individual athlete of the year is Wayne Wright, who also received this honor last the intramurals picnic last night. Wright was awarded the trophy as "Outstanding Intramural Athlete of the Year."

TURRENTINE REALTY COMPANY 2915 Nolensville Road

Sales—Insurance—Loans

THE LIPSCOME LAUNDRY

Patronize

Alloway BROS. COMPANY Eggs Poultry Meats

McKay-Cameron

Co.

Headquarters

CHINA, GLASS, SILVER

FITTS

CRAWFORD

FLOWERS

2816 West End Ave.

7-5946

6-0427

212 3rd Ave., N.

Distinctive Clothes for Men of Discriminating Taste Sixth at Union

The Rams, led by Don Mc- success include Don McAlister, sports. The Pirates captured the football championship, and the Comets won their third successive softball championship.

The Buccaneers, represented by Ed Gleaves, captured the tennis championship. The Comets, represented by Del Elkins, won the table tennis singles championship, and the doubles title was taken by the Knights' duo of Charles Hailey and Wayne Wright.

Dick Batey of the Comets won the badminton singles, and the Knights' Landon and McDonough won the doubles crown.

The bowling champion was Knight Wayne Wright, and he was joined by his partner, Charles Hailey, to capture doubles honors. The Eagles' Elmer Blanton won the horseshoes singles meet. The archery meet was captured by Billy Fort, with 175 points.

Nine Girls Are All-Stars

Girls' Softball Intramurals, held under the direction of Miss Frances Moore, have been played and the All-Star team has been selected.

All-Stars include Pearl Cutts and Anita Johnson of the Rockets: Dot McGee and Beverly Youree of the Ramblers; Claudia Mosley and Priscilla Dellinger of the Kool Kats; and Mary Alice Bell. Ann Laws, and Imogene McAlister of the Mohawks.

The Team was chosen by the captain of each individual team and Miss Moore.

Nashville's Own Department Store

Fifth Avenue at Church

HIGH QUALITY PRINTING

Books, magazines, catalogs, folders . . . anything Contact one of these Lipscomb alumni in our office:

PAUL W. MOORE, CLASS OF '38 LARRY WILLIAMS, CLASS OF '39 V. M. WHITESELL, CLASS OF '41 JAMES W. BOYD, CLASS OF '51

Williams PRINTING CO.

417 COMMERCE • NASHVILLE • TELEPHONE 6-7126 E. A BERGSTROM, VIC :- PRES.

Wear The Best

'DEER CREEK'

SPORTS WEAR

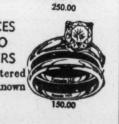

All-occasion fashions from dawn to dating

VERY ATTRACTIVE PRICES AND CREDIT TERMS TO STUDENTS AND TEACHERS By selecting a genuine registered psake, you protect yourself against unknown

quality and unsupported claims. BOB DRAPER, CLASS OF '35

108 Scheduled To Receive Degrees Here Monday

Herron, Burton, Scott Head '55-'56 Publications Staffs

Business Managers Also Selected

Editors and business managers of the three campus publications for 1955-56 were selected and approved by the administration yesterday. Students named were: Peggie

Herron, editor, and Paul Rogers. business manager for the BAB-BLER; Tommy Burton, editor, and Morris Zeigler, business manager of the Backlog; Peggy Scott, editor, and Nancy Davis, business manager, for the Tower.

The new publications heads were nominated by the three clubs that sponsor publications, and the final selection was made by a faculty committee, subject to approval by the administration.

Miss Herron will be serving her second year as BABBLER editor. She has also been associate editor of the Tower for the past two years. Other activities this year have included Student Board memberhsip, and membership in the Press. Scholarship, FTA and Creative Writers Clubs. An education major, she has been a consistent member of the Dean's List and honor roll. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Herron, of La Center, Ky.

Rogers also acted as BABBLER business manager this year. From Birmingham, Ala., he has been active in debate, president of the Press Club and head of an intramural team. He is minister for the Old Jefferson Church of Christ, and is majoring in speech.

Burton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Glenn Burton of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. He served as associate editor of the publication this year, and was named on the honor roll last quarter. He is following a ministerial curriculum.

A native of Pulaski, Zeigler is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Zeigler. He is a business administration major and was Backlog assistant business manager this (Continued on Page 3, Column 1)

Supervisor Is Named

President Athens Clay Pullias today announced the appointment of Miss Billie Nell Mullins as supervisor of Sewell Hall effective Sept. 1. She replaces Mrs. Ollis Smith, whose resignation was announced recently.

Miss Billie Mullin

This action was approved by the Board of Directors this week. Miss Mullin graduated from Lipscomb in 1951 with a B.A. in history, and a minor in speech. She attended Peabody College

Colorado last year. She has taught in the school systems of Dalhart and Corpus Christi, Tex., for the past three

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mullin of Dalhart, Texas.

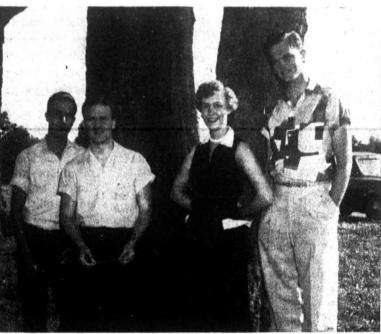

Photo by James Clipp

CHATTING ABOUT PLANS FOR FUTURE PUBLICATIONS are Morris Zeigler, business manager, and Tommy Burton, editor, of the '56 Backlog: Peggie Herron, editor, and Paul Rogers, business manager. of the '56 BABBLER. Editor and business manager for the Tower had not been selected when picture was taken.

Walker, Doran to Speak

Commencement activities for the furnished by Clarence R. Haflin-1955 graduating class are sched- ger, of the music department. uled for Monday, June 6.

Dean J. P. Sanders will host the seniors and their wives at a breakfast in the student center at 8 a.m. Mrs. Sanders will not be present for the occasion as she is customarily.

Members of the administration and their wives, and the senior class sponsors and their wives, Howard White and Mrs. White and Willard Collins and Mrs. Collins will be present at the break-

Ray C. Walker, minister of the South Water St. church in Gallatin will deliver the baccalaureate sermon at 10 a.m. in Alumni Auditorium

Following this service, a rehearsal will be held in preparation for the commencement ceremony. At 1:30 p.m., the Board of Directors will convene in Crisman

There will be a Senior-Parent dinner at 5:30 p.m. on the campus in front of Alumni Hall. Board members and their wives, faculty members and their wives, and the Memorial Library.

seniors' parents are invited to the dinner as guests of the college. The Commencement procession-

al will begin at 8 p.m. with music

The Babbler

Summer Lectures To Begin August 8

The annual Summer Lecture Program, this year on the theme "Christian Worship," will be held from August 8-11.

Classes for all ages, pre-school to adults, will be held each morning, and President A. C. Pullias is to be the daily chapel speaker. In the evenings speakers scheduled to lecture are Dean J. P. Sanders, Monday; Dr. Carroll Ellis, Tuesday; Fred E. Friend, Wednesday; Dr. Batsell Barrett Baxter, Recreation periods under the direction of Gene Boyce will be provided for all members of the family, and two educational films will be shown each afternoon.

On Thursday evening there is to be a dinner for all Bible school teachers, their husbands and

Dormitory rooms for out-oftown families will be furnished without charge, and Miss Ruth Gleaves should be contacted for reservations

Babblerettes

Willard Collins, Vice president will speak on the "Herald of Truth" program, Sunday, July 17. The program will be carried over 300 radio stations affiliated with the ABC network. It will be heard over WSIX, Nashville, at 5:30. The subject will be "Christ in a World of Insecurity."

J. P. Sanders, Dean, and family were in Ft. Worth, Texas the past weekend attending the golden wedding anniversary of his parents. His two brothers, Ralph and Blakney, both of Ft. Worth, were also present. Mrs. Sanders and sons remained for a longer visit.

The fall quarter will begin Sept. 15, with the registration of college freshmen. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors will register on Sept. in the summer of 1951 and was 19. All students planning to return awarded the M.A. degree in edu- in the fall should make room of the alumni. cation from the University of reservations before leaving. Registration for the High School Summer Session will be held Sat., June 11 from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Classes are to begin of Monday, June 13, and the term will end August 12.

MIXING DIGNITY AND RELAXATION in an incongruous fashion are seniors Tommy Warren, Betty Beazley, Charles Gaw and Frances

Alumni Notes By Laura Tarence

The Detroit chapter of alumni held their meeting on Saturday night May 28 in the basement of the Northwest Church of Christ. Twenty persons were present to remember experiences in Lipscomb and to hear Vice-President Collins speak. President of the Detroit Chapter is Warren Jones '48. Ernest Stewart '50 serves as vice-president and Mrs. Stewart (Mary Frances Harris) '48 serves as secretary of the chapter. Guy Nerren '53, stationed with coast in the southern part of the armed forces in Germany, Alaska. writes that there are several alumni in that section, and that they are planning a get-together soon. Among those there are Mrs. Robert Oswald Cody (Sue Roberts) '52, Mr. and Mrs. Dieter Goebels (Margaret Dunn) '49, Mrs. James Cross (Carolyn Jones) '53, and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Shoaf, '52. Mrs. Al Jaynes (Era Mae Rascce) '52 will leave the states soon to join her husband, who is stationed in France and may also get to be at the meeting

(Loretta Green) '52 and '53 of urer. Evarts, Ky., are the parents of a Retiring officers are Paul Rogers little girl, Paula Marie, born on and Peggy Scott. Miss Quandt May 23. Their other children are served as treasurer of the club Harold Paul III, 21/2, and David this year and Patterson, as vice-Jonathan, 1 year old.

Nettervilles Go To Alaskan Work

John T. Netterville, Lipscomb High School chemistry and physics teacher, will move with his family to Ketchikan, Alaska, this summer, where he will spend a year or more teaching and preach-junior high school there in an area where there about 35 members of the Church of Christ. Ketchikan is a city with a population of 10,000 on the Pacific

Netterville will teach in the

A graduate of Lipscomb in 1952. Netterville has been teaching in the High School department

Quandt, Turman Head Press Club

The Press Club elected officers for the coming year Monday. They are: Anita Quandt, president; Cornelia Turman, vicepresident; Jeannette Arnold, sec-Mr. and Mrs. Harold Paul Lewis retary; George Patterson, treas-

Batsell Baxter will lead the in-

Dr. Adron Doran of Morehead.

Ky, will deliver the Commencement address to the senior class. Presentation of honors to outstanding graduates will be made by Dean Sanders and Student Body President Dick Batey. President Athens Clay Pullias will confer degrees upon the graduates.

The benediction will be led by Harry R. Leathers, Chairman of the Board of Directors. The following students are candidates for either Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degrees having completed the college requirements during some quarter since last fall quarter:

Billy L. Akin, B.S., Bus. Ad.; Seth Armstrong, B.A., Bible; Richard Alexander Batey, B.A., Speech; Bettye Carole Beazley, B.S., Elem. Ed.; Ann Grace Becker, B.A., Music; Martha Ruth Behel, B.S., Gen. Bus.; Martin T. Binkley, B.S. Elem. Ed.; Philip A. Black, B.A., Bible: Julius H. Blackman, Jr., B.A., Speech; Norma June Bolt B.S., Gen. Bus.; James Gerald Bowers, B.A., Biogolgy; Winston R. Brackeen, B.A., Speech: Gloria Deane Brannam, B.A., Elem. Ed. George Edward Brazil, B.A. Speech; Robert Louis (Corky) Brown, B.A., Speech; Betty Jean Burns, B.S., Gen. Bus.; Beverly Anne Butler, B.S., Home Ec.

James Dave Clayton, B.A., Speech, Jesse Everett Clayton, B.A., Speech; James C. Clipp, B.A., Chemistry; Robert Lee Collier. B.A., History; Virginia Louise Cooper, B.S., Home Ec.; Martha Virginia Copeland, B.A., Elem. Ed.; Alan Ross Cullum, B.S., Bus, Ad.; Glenda Ann Dabbs, B.A., English; Mrs. Jerry Hicks, B.A., Elem. Ed.; Maxie Dorris Davenport, B.A., History; Charles W. Davis, B.A., History; John Lyman (Continued on Page 3, Column 1)

Gunselman, Clipp Produce Class Film

The first film ever written, dramatized, and produced entirely by Lipscomb students and faculty members was shown to the student body last week. The film, "Relief Models" was prepared by Dr. Wendell Clipp, educational author, and Marshall Gunselman, producer. Charles Chumley was the narrator.

The motion picture, which shows classroom use of relief map models made from rubber molds, was filmed in color and with sound. 16 MM. It runs for 10 minutes.

The narrator stated that relief models should be used along with other instructional materials by good teachers for more permanent learning

Miss Arlie Gibson's sixth grade class in Lipscomb Elementary School is shown in the film. The Educational Service of the Tennessee Conservation Department cooperated by supplying outdoor scenes used in the picture. Dr. Clipp and Gunselman hope to see the film distributed through educational film libraries.

Last Music Recital Of Year Is Sunday

Ann Derseweh and Madolyn Hudgins will be featured Sunday afternoon in the last regular recital of the Music Department. The program will begin at 4 p.m. in Alumni Auditorium. Miss Derseweh will play the piano, and Miss Hudgins will sing.

SUMMER SCHOOL FIRST SESSION: Registration, June 13-8 a.m.-4 p.m.

Term ends July 16 SECOND SESSION: Registration, July 18-8 a.m.-

Classes begin June 14

4 p.m. Classes also meet July 18 Term ends August 20

The ceremony will be performed

Mrs. James Kilpatrick.

Copeland, brother of the bride.

Waggoner-Littrell

Tuesday evening at 5, Willella

Joyce Warren will serve as maid

Two-Week Sessions

The Lipscomb Day Camp will

the direction of Dr. Jennings Da-

The camp is to be held on the Lipscomb campus, using the physical education facilities. The activities will consist of crafts.

swimming, sports and games, tours of points of interest in Nashville,

9 a.m. each day and continue through 4 p.m. Lunch will be served from 12 to 1 in the college

Approximately 100 boys and girls are expected to attend. There will be three groups of boys and one group of girls, with two coun-

STUDENTS

Sales experience is important in the career of your choice. Learn selling and earn $75.00 a week and up this summer. For informa-

ion write REAL SILK HOSIERY

MILLS, 839 Third National Bank

FITTS

CRAWFORD

FLOWERS

2816 West End Ave.

7-5946

McKay-Cameron

Co.

Headquarters

CHINA, GLASS, SILVER

6-0427

212 3rd Ave., N.

Bldg., Nashville, Tenn.

The activities will begin at vis. Jr.

and films.

Student Center.

selors for each group.

two-weeks session.

Day Camp Starts

Littrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

vited to attend.

Mobile will be best man. The

Roberts-Rice

Mrs. W. S. Rice of Marion, N.C.

and Roland Roberts, son of Mr

and Mrs. Berne Roberts, of Taft

Tex., will be married in August at the Acklen Avenue Church of

Other wedding plans are in-

Joe C. Ross, brother of the groom, will serve as best man and ushers will be Guy Pinckley, T.

C. Howell, Harold Smith, and Roy

Bradow-Sitter

Mrs. F. R. Sitter of Detroit, Mich.

will be married next February to

Other plans for the wedding are

Morrison-Grounds

be the wedding of Mary Margaret

Grounds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

E. H. Discher of Wheeling, W. Va.,

and Phillip Morrison, son of Mr.

and Mrs. Paul Morrison of Old

Other plans for the wedding are

Taking place in mid-August will

Ann Sitter, daughter of Mr. and

Carolyn Howell, sister of the bride, will be junior bridesmaid.

definite at this time.

incomplete.

Hickory, Tenn.

Edith Rice, daughter of Mr. and ushers are also from Mobile

Editorials . . .

Swan Song...

All year I have looked forward to the time when we could write "30" on the '54-'55 BABBLER schedule and put it away for the last time.

But I have never really taken time to think what this last "30" means. I know I shall dream of headlines and deadlines for weeks to come because somehow, there will be a huge gap in complishment that each of us is working every week. Sort of like submerging your head in water to escape the wind.

This has been my best year at Lipscomb-not because of anything I've done -but because of what you've done. The departure in the usual way, let us look response you have given to the paper this year has been more than gratifying. about how wrong it would be for the As long as you were reaching for those BABBLERS, we knew we were succeed- Their progress would be hampered and ing, at least to some degree.

No editor ever had a better staff— contributions they have to offer. they just don't make them no more. Every member has been like a foundation stone, helping to support the whole pub- gratulations for their achievements. lication.

Each one has been indispensible. Mary Lou, for her willingness to work through the wee hours of the morning even though it meant facing Dr. Stroop's Bible Class unprepared at 8 a.m.; Cornelia, for her professional touch, dependability and resourcefulness: George, for his perpetual excuses-and for always coming through with something when I was at wit's end. Matt, for his willingness to listen to my cranky ideas about cartoons and such stuff; for Fyfe, whom I dearly love because she always offered "to get some because I always knew he'd "take a look" the printers.

Members of the Press Club are comwilling to help anytime, and that means —and the type—time after time.

cause I didn't know how to say, "thanks" more we learn. -but I find I still don't. I think maybe she will understand.... The easiest thing what you do throughout the vacation can to say it that without her counsel, help, be best done with that in mind. and warm heart, there would have been no paper this year.

The administration, especially Bro. Collins, can never know how much their sincerity and warm interest have meant. A cheerful word can do more than most of us realize. . . .

And to you, I say, "Thank you"because you have read this.

And that's the inside of an editor's

Peggie Herron

Modern Advance

Americans today are healthier and living longer than their ancestors. Even when they go to the hospital they stay a shorter time. These and other encouraging trends in public health are Local Courts Have Charge due, in substantial measure, to the chemical industry's contributions in the field of drugs and medicinal chemicals.

Indicative of the rapid rate of development of new drugs is the statement of a leading pharmaceutical manfacturing firm that 48 per cent of its 1954 sales were in products which did not appear in its catalog five years earlier.

Introduction of new drugs has not meant increased costs to the consumer; in fact, today he spends less han ever before of his medical dollar on drugs.

Job Well Done . . .

The 1955 Backlog rolled off the presses day for editor Martha Copeland and her able staff members.

That the new volume of Lipscomb's history was well received by both faculty and students alike was evidenced by the Board of Education stated Tuesday, mob-like atmosphere which prevailed in the Student Center for nearly an hour after chapel as students stood and pushed in line to get cards entitling them to pick would make no comment. up their copies of the year book.

Of course there were a few misplaced pictures and several misspelled words for many legal battles in the years ahead. throughout its pages, but to have pre- This was the prediction of the last Justice vented this would have been impossible. Robert H. Jackson.

If you happened to be one slighted, be assured such was unintentional.

And so to the Backlog staff, the BAB-BLER says congratulations for a very excellent piece of work. The simplicity, the happy memories and the sad ones. the dedication-all shall be treasured by the 1955 student body for years to come.

More To Come. . .

Graduation from college is an actoward. But with graduation always comes the sadness of farewells.

All of us have plans for after-college, and therefore, instead of viewing the at it from another angle. Let us think seniors to remain here another year. the world would be deprived of any

So let us say to the seniors a good bye. "like we said hello," except with con-Surely, we are made sad by your departure, but on the other hand, happy, because we know you have many useful tasks to perform as you go out into the A liberal arts education is a connotative description of the type of education many of us are trying to gain at Lipscomb. We think of this sort of education as dealing with social studies, literature, art, Bible, music, and other subjects closely related to these.

There is more to an education than what we get out of text books. There is more of wisdom to be gained than more if that's not enough," and Sivley what we gather out of the classrooms. Some feel that at the end of the Spring even though I never saw it until I got to quarter all education is discontinued until the beginning of the fall quarter.

Quite to the contrary however, some of mendable because they were always our best and most lasting educational experiences come through our summer cona great deal. Bouquets are due Mr. Wise- tacts: our summer jobs give us experiman at McQuiddy's, who always waited ence in working with and dealing with patiently while I went through my regu- people; trips made during the summer lar Thursday ritual of changing my mind give us a broader knowledge of the world in which we live; and, as "experience is Miss Bradley I have saved to last be- the best teacher," the more we live the

This summer, remember that you are

The long-awaited decision by the Supreme Court on how the decision of May 17. 1954, to admit Negroes to schools on a non-discriminatory basis, was handed down Tuesday by Chief Justice Warren.

Opinions were that the decision was nearer to that for which the Southern states had pleaded than the ruling desired by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The most important aspect of the decision was to allow local courts to make the decision for cases in their locality and to set no definite date when complete integration must be effected.

The ruling was broad and left great flexibility for the local courts.

While stating that the courts must take obstacles set certain situations into consideration Warren's statement specified:

"But it should go without saying that the vitality of these constitutional principles cannot be allowed to yield simply because of disagreement with them."

Several Southern states have already passed bills or have bills pending which could turn the state school systems over on Tuesday thereby marking a red-letter to private enterprise if integration of schools is effected. Such a bill was recently defeated in the Tennessee state legislature.

An official of the Davidson County "Certainly we will go along with the Court's order. It will be a thing for

An important sidelight of the recent decision is that the way is left open

Living Religion

George Patterson

"Go ye therefore into all the world and teach the gospel to every creature; he that believeth and is baptized shall be saved. He that believeth not shall be condemned."

These words come down to us from many centuries past and face us as we go out from Lipscomb at the end of this school year. They ring ever clear to us, and urge us on to teach the word in our daily living.

When we are among members of Christ's Church, we sometimes grow a little slack in our teaching through our lives. It is easy to be of few good works (spiritually) while we are in school. It is an easy matter to lull ourselves into the false notion that to go to church on Sunday and on Wednesday night is all we need to do. But, we are told to be "instant in season, and out of season." We are to be in the service of the Lord whether or not it is convenient for us to do so. We should always be busy in the work of the Lord. One says there is nothing we can do at school in the service of the Lord. But, as an example, if they would participate in the Friday night singings at the TB hospital, they would find a service they could perform. No Time Like Present

But, so much for those things; they are matters for which we should plan next year. The summer is immediately at hand, and plans are being made by all of us for our summer jobs, vacations, etc. Let us not forget to be of service to God this summer.

There is no time like now for putting college education in use. Those lessons that were learned in daily Bible class. The talks in chapel; and then when the opportunity to teach or serve presents itself, one is prepared to take advantage of the opportunity.

Book Review:

Civil War Journal Is Unique Book

(Fourteen Hundred And 91 Days In The Confederate Army, a journal of W. W. Heartsill. Edited by Bell Irvin Wiley. McCowat-Mercer Press, Jackson, Tennessee: 1953.) Reviewed by George Patterson.

It is reported that this journal has long been recognized in Confederate history as probably the most unique book in the entire field of soldier narratives. It is a day by day record of a Texas private who served both in the Trans-Mississippi Department and The Army of Tennessee.

An interesting item to note in reading this book is that there are reproduced photographs which were sent to the author by members of his company. Pictures of plain people for that period are rarely to be obtained.

The text also includes two manuscript soldier newspapers: The Camp Hudson Times," and

"The Western Pioneer." Heartsill's narrative is an exceedingly valuable one. His military experience was unusually varied. After a year's service on the South-western frontier and a stay in prison, he was shanghaied while heading westward from Virginia to Texas to join his command and compelled to duty under Bragg in

THE BARBLER Entered as second-class matter, December 26, 1923, at the post office, Nashville, Tenn., under the act of March 3, 1897.

Accepted for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1916: authorized, Nashville, Tenn. Published weekly during the regular school year except during holidays or examination periods by students of DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE, Nashville, Tenn. Office located on second floor

Crisman Memorial Library.

Associated Collegiate Press Peggie Herron . . . Editor-in-Chief Paul Rogers ... Business Manager Willard Collins ... Faculty Advisor

DAY by DAY

Is it the end of the quarter so soon? It's hard to believe that nine months of study, play and everything else that goes to make up that indefinable something known as College Life has slipped away closing another chapter in our lives. Just think-the seniors will soon become the wearers of the title College Grad and they can't be kids anymore. But I'm getting a lump in my throat thinking about having to say goodbye for the last time to so many inimitable friends, so if you will stop writing in that annual for a moment I'll tell you some of the things that have been going on this last week of school.

The ballad of Davy Crockett has proved to be very popular, but it now has a rival that threatens to move it right out of its spot on the hit parade. There's a popular ditty going about the campus and the name is "The Ballad of Ira North." The refrain goes something like "Ira, Ira North, preacher at Madison." Gloria Brannam and the others who plan to preach there next year would probably do well to memorize this song as soon as possi-

Life holds its embarrassing moments and many of the girls in Sewell had their share a few days ago. Seems the roof of Sewell was pretty well populated with members of the fairer sex who wanted to soak up some sun. And from the looks of things, a lot of them really wanted to soak up a considerable amount. Suddenly, completely, without warning the coke man appeared on the roof. He said he had come after the empty bottles. Why else would a male want to go on the roof?

Spring quarter has its hazards that boys will never know of. The halls of the girls dormitories are constantly draped with enormous wet petticoats with as much startch in them as they can hold. Consequently there are huge puddles of starch in which one can slide nicely. Some thoughtful soul in Johnson has erected a sign reading: "Danger. Slippery floor."

The most popular way to pass the time is definitely a seasonal entertainment. Most any time of the day-including classes—if you look for a moment you shall see a cluster of students with bowed heads. That's rightthey're writing in each other's annuals. By the way, congratulations to the kids who put in so much hard work to turn out this annual. They have done an excellent piece of work.

It was rather unusual to see Marshall Gunselman standing there outside Johnson Hall directing boys as they swarmed over the trees stringing wires over the limbs. When Jerry Reynolds was asked what they were doing he replied with good news for the boys, "We're putting up a T.V. monitor so the guys over in Elam can watch the girls here." We have not been able to obtain the date when the system will go into operation.

Do my ears deceive me, or is someone actually celebrating the end of school already? For the past few nights there have been loud noises from the area of Elam Hall that sound suspiciously like the exploding of firecrackers. In addition there has been something similar to the Poo-Poo chorus of the past, only now it runs "Elmer."

It takes all kinds of things to make up dormitory life, but lately there has been one factor most of the residents of Johnson Hall agree could very well be omitted. At dusk every evening an aroma is wafted to them on the breeze-and it is anything but fragrant. The nearest we can make out, a fairly large family of skunks has made the area around Johnson their convention grounds and delight in stirring up the place a little.

The I.R.C. held their annual outing at Pineview last weekend-and the tales we have heard! Among them is the one about Hope Camp and the bananas. Seems he has an eye for bargains and really prided himself on the purchase of 10 pounds of bananas for the amazing sum of only 50 cents. He certainly put one over on that country store-keeper. The hitch was that these bananas were slightly on the over-ripe side. But there were 10 pounds of the things, so the other club members dutifully ate them-for breakfast, dinner and supper. They had their revenge on Camp, though. When time for departure came he found his car filled with banana peelings. Guess who?

Heartiest felicitations to Phil McGowan on his recent election to the presidency of the Hall Hoppers. He will take office next year and will no doubt carry out the responsibilities of this weighty position efficiently and well. Progressive, he will seek to bring about the organization of an auxiliary to be known as the Hopperettes in the girls' dormitories. Give him your support he'll need it when the supervisors catch up with him.

Well, it's time to sign off for the quarter. It's been great fun being with you each week. Let me take this opportunity to thank all of you who have aided me in the capacity of spy, Peggy Scott for filling in during my abscence, editor Peggie Herron for putting up with my failures to meet deadlines, those kids whose typewriters I have begged, borrowed or stolen, and you who have read this nonsense. To those who won't be back-the best of luck in the future and Adieu. To those who plan to put in an appearance at this institution again next year-have a wonderful summer and so long. 'Bye now.

Long Awaited 'Backlogs' Come; 10 Seniors Set Wedding Plans Pup Theme Is Well-Received

Tuesday of this week ushered body and read the dedication. The in "Backlog Day" at Lipscomb for new BACKLOG is dedicated ".

June 3, 1955

Editor Martha Copeland presented the annual to the student

New Editors . . .

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 1) year. He belongs to the Backlog

Miss Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Scott, of Old Hickory. She is a sophomore, majoring in history. She was secretary to the Press Club this year, and has been active in both the Press and Creative Writers' Clubs.

Business manager of the Tower. Miss Davis is a junior transfer from Freed-Hardeman College, at Henderson. An education major, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Davis. At Freed-Hardeman she was class editor of the annual. Here she is a member of the chorus, FTA, Spanish and Photographers' Clubs to a memory . . . the memory of one who was dearly loved by all dearly beloved, the late S. C. groom, will be best man and Fred

Last year's edition of the BACKLOG was dedicated to his son, "Fessor" Eugene Boyce.

this year. The book has 182 pages plus fly leaves for autographs The divisions of the annual include: the administration, classes, features, organizations, religion, student life, athletics, campus

108 Scheduled to Graduate . . .

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 5) Davis, B.A., Bible; James Edward Davy, B.A., English; Ann Elizabeth Derseweh, B.A., Music Ed.; B.A., History; William Earl Phillip Albert Dunn, B.A., Sociology; John Henry Eason, B.A., Biology: Joanne Edmondson, B.A., History; Ada Lorene Elliott, B.A., Bus. Ad.; Keith Ericson, B.A.,

Charles Ronald Eubank, B.A., Math.; Bill J. Fullerton, B.A., History: Mary Frances Gaither, B.S., Home Ec.; Herman Spencer Gilbert, B.A., Chemistry; Joheph Dan Gilbert, B.A., Speech; John Cliett Goodpasture, B.A., History; Mary Margaret Grounds, B.A., Psychol-History; Clyde E. Hartman, B.S., Bus. Ad.; Edwin B. Headrick, B.A., Bible; Mark J. Hearn, B.A., Speech: Eugene Prosser Hibbett, B.A., Chemistry; Randall Hopkins. B.A., Biology; Billye Joyce Howell, B.A., Psychology; Hulene Jarrett. B.S., Home Ec.: James Emmett Johnson, Jr., B.A., Speech; Joe Ronald Johnson, B.A., Speech; Patricia Anne Jones, B.S., Elem. Ed.; Charles Myron Keith, B.A.,

Brown, Kinnard, B.A., Bible; Dorothy Jean Koehn, B.A., Elem. Ed.: Robert Fulton Landon, B.A., Chemistry; Waylon Bruce Lawrence, B.A., History; Willella Littrell, B.A., English; Marjorie Ann Long, B.S., Elem. Ed.; Ernestine McAdams, B.S., Home Ec.; Imogene McAlister, B.S., Phys. Ed.; William Donald McAlister, B.S., Phys. Ed.; John Billy McCleskey, B.A., History; John Robert Mc-Ray, B.A., Bible; Donald R. Mc-Whorter, B.A., Speech; Phillip E. B.S., Phys. Ed.; Nancy Beth Wyck-Morrison, B.A., History; Paul Eu- off, B.A., Music.

Emma Lorene Nance, B.S., Elem. Ed.; Charles Kenneth Newson, the chapel of the Charlotte Avenue Church of Christ with G. Willard O'Neal, B.A., History; Halton Lee Collins officiating. Overall, Jr., B.A., Psychology, of honor and Bob Kerce is to be

Jerry N. Owen, B.S., Bus. Ad.; Clifford Samuel Owens, B.A., Bible; George Robert Owens, B.A., Psychology; Bob Plunket, B.A., Speech: James Clyde Puckett. B.S., Chemistry; Donald Newton Ramey, B.A., History; Sonia Cornelia Riley, B.A., Elem. Ed.; Billy Johnson Ringold, B.A., History; Roland D. Roberts, B.A., Speech; Jayne Lucille Robinson, B.A., Elem. Ed.; Curtis Earl Sampley, ogy; Charles Leo Hailey, B.A., B.A., Bible; Robert Bryan Scruggs, B.S., Bus. Ad.; Carl Edwin Seigenthaler, B.A., English; Helen Ann Sitter, B.S., Bus. Ad.; Robert Benton Sivley, B.A., Psychology; Allen Ray Smith, B.A., History: Katherine Boyd Sneed, B.A., English; Hoyte Mason Snow, B.S., Elem. Ed.; George D. Spivey, B.A., Biology; James Harold Stallworth, Jr., B.S., Bus. Ad. Mary Mell Stapleton, B.S., Elem.

Ed.: Frances Elizabeth Swan, B.S., Bus. Ad.: Ina Mae Swan, B.S., Home Ec.; Byron J. Thrasher, B.A., History; Patricia Joan Thrasher, B.A., Music Ed.; Jimmy B. Throneberry, B.A., Biology; Hugh Hendrix Tucker, Jr., B.A., History; Emma Grace Walker, B.S., Home Ec.; Thomas Edward Warren, B.A., Bus. Ad.; Mary Louise Welch, B.S., Gen. Bus.: Bradley Max Wilcox, B.A., Biology; Ray D. Wilson, B.S., Bus. Ad.: James Simrell Woodroof, B.A. Speech: William Wayne Wright

TENNESSEE REAL ESTATE CO. Rentals • AUCTIONS • Sales REALTORS 121 Third Avenue, North Campbell Jenkins

The National Life and

NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Nashville's Own Department Store

Fifth Avenue at Church

Phone 5-4661

Martha Copeland, daughter of land of Eastman, Ga., will become Mrs. Mai Walker and Mr. J. C. Walker of Nashville, on June 10.

who came in contact with him. Because of his kindness, meekness, at Wingate Church of Christ and Godly life, he served as an by Jennings Davis, Jr., at 7:30 p.m. inspiration to all who came his way. Death has taken his physical The bride's honor attendants will be her sisters, Mrs. Dale Martin being from us, but no force can and ever destroy the powerful example Bridesmaids are Billye Joyce and high Christian ideals em-Howell and Ann Sitter. bedded in our hearts by our

Audie Johnson and Charles Neal Gardner will serve as ushers Flower girls will be Carol Ray and Connie Kay, nieces of the

The theme of the yearbook is a road of school life at Lipscomb

Clay Littrell of Tulsa, Okla., and Richard Waggoner, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Waggoner, Sr., of Faygene Mullins, B.S., Bus, Ad.: etteville, Tenn., will marry.

Accident Insurance Co.

CAIN-SLOAN CO.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Cope- and Mrs. L. H. Cooper of Crossville, Tenn., and Bill Bradshaw, the bride of Carl Walker, son of son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bradshaw of Nashville, are engaged. Plans for the wedding are incomplete at this time, since the groom-to-be is in the army at the

Donaldson-Elliot

T. R. Walker, brother of the son of Mrs. and Mrs. Paul Donaldson of Paducah, Ky.

> the Brookport Church of Christ with A. J. Kerr officiating. Ruth Behel will serve as maid of honor and Mrs. Bill Edwards will serve as matron of honor. Ken Donaldson, brother of the

A reception immediately following the ceremony will be held at Johnson Hall. All friends are in-

Billye Joyce Howell, daughter Sparta, Tenn., and Jeff Ross, son Baptist Church. The ceremony will take place at with D. Ellis Walker officiating. Ola Ross, sister of the groom, will be maid of honor and Wilma Campbell, Martha Copeland, and Ann Sitter will be bridesmaids.

At 6:30 p.m. on June 17, Gloria of Franklin, Tenn., and Mobile, There will be two sessions, each Ala., respectively, will officiate, at two weeks in length, for boys and the Plateau Church of Christ. girls 9 to 12 years of age. The Francis Burton of Jackson. registration fee is $25 for each

Miss., will be maid of honor. Flower girls will be Sharon Chamberliss, Shirley Naramore, and

All-occasion fashions from dawn to

J. R. OVERALL, PRES.

Virginia Cooper, daughter of Mr.

On June 17, at 7 p.m., Ada Elliot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Elliot of Brookport, Ill., will be married to Harold Donaldson,

The ceremony will take place at groom, will be best man and Dr. Delbert Bradow, son of Mrs. and Dow L. Orr will be groomsman. Mrs. Harry G. Bradow, also of

Ross-Howell

of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Howell of of Mr. and Mrs. Joe M. Ross of Tompkinsville, Ky., will be married on June 19, at the Sparta The vows will be said at 4 p.m.

Naramore-McDaniel

Ruth McDaniel, daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. L. R. McDaniel of Plateau Ala., will be married to James A. Naramore, son of Mr. be held July 5 to July 29, under and Mrs. Wesley A. Narramore, also of Plateau. J. M. Powell and V. P. Block

LOVEMANS

LANDON'S Your Neighborhood HARDWARE

Patronize THE LIPSCOMB

LAUNDRY TURRENTINE REALTY

2915 Nolensville Road Sales—Insurance—Loans Phone 42-2651

COMPANY

Alloway

E. A. BERGSTROM, VIC :- PRES.

BROS. COMPANY Poultry Meats

HIGH QUALITY PRINTING

Books, magazines, catalogs, folders . . . anything

Contact one of these Lipscomb alumni in our office: PAUL W. MOORE, CLASS OF '38 LARRY WILLIAMS, CLASS OF '39 V. M. WHITESELL, CLASS OF '41 JAMES W. BOYD, CLASS OF '51

Williams PRINTING CO. 417 COMMERCE • NASHVILLE • TELEPHONE 6-7126

PLAN YOUR LIFE SECURITY WITH

Herd Sportlight

By Bill Banowsky

Well, it seems like ten years ago instead of nine months that fall registration began. Perhaps the year has been so long because it was the first that many of us have spent away from mommy, or perhaps because it was so busy and crammed full of exciting experiences.

Certainly it has been a colorful year for Lipscomb sportswise. It has been an interesting sports year with a lot of pleasures, a lot of heartaches, and a lot of hard-learned lessons.

But from a birds-eye view,

IT SEEMS TO ME:

That the school is losing a good coach and fine Christian gentleman when Elvis Sherrill clears out his desk.

That Imogene McAlister could make any of the boys' intramural teams in any sport.

That Tom Hanvey should go to Hollywood and try out for the "Tarzan" movies.

That Brooklyn is trying to run away with the National League pennant race.

That Lipscomb's athletic teams have not had one-half the publicity they have deserved in Nashville's two papers this

That Caledonia should apply for the head coach vacancy.

That anyone who survives a season of flag football at Lipscomb without injury could make Notre Dame's football team.

That Elam Hall sounded as if the Marines were landing on Iwo Jima beach this week.

That Ken Dugan is an excellent professional baseball pros-

That Baltimore is not going to win 50 games this year.

That Gary Colson is the best bull pen pitcher in the league.

That Herb Murphy was the biggest surprise of the baseball

That Lipscomb had disappointing season's in both basketball and baseball.

That Tennessee has more grass and trees than Texas does.

That the Rams will have it a little tougher next year without McAlister, Warren, and Throneberry. That "Fessor" Boyce has done an excellent job with intramural athletics on the campus. That the basketball team will have a mighty tough schedule next year.

That next year's baseball team will give every Lipscomb student plenty of reason to be proud.

That Tommy Hipps is probably the most rabid sports fan in these parts.

DID YOU KNOW

All these things you probably know. But being human beings there are probably a few things that have happened around here that you haven't heard about. For instance did

That Harvey Carter, congenial math teacher, made the all-Memphis football team in his high school days? He also played some mighty rough football in the Army.

That Batsell Barrett Baxter and "Fessor" Boyce once made up a doubles tennis team for Lipscomb that went all the way to the V.S.A.C. finals?

That Wayne Wright has been the outstanding intramural athlete for two straight years. (With all the healthy specimens around here, how does he do it?)

That Tom Warren and Don McAlister were named to four All-star teams this year?

That the third floor boys from Elam's freshmen side defeated the second floor in a softball game, 12-10, Saturday?

That this year is over, good luck, have a nice vacation, and we hope to see you next year?

Year's Sports in a Nutshell

A backward glance at some of the headlines this year reveal: Sept. 17 Bisons Gain Six Prospects

Coach Elvis Sherrill announced that five freshmen products and one transfer would be on hand to aid Lipscomb's basketball team. They include McCoy, Kilpatrick, James Whaley, Tom Pate, Roger Villines, Keith Gerald, and Ed Binkley.

Sept. 24 Fessor is Lipscombite from Way Back

Eugene Boyce enters another year as director of the intramural program.

Oct. 1 L Club Names New Officers

Charles Hailey, president elect of the L Club announced other officers as Wayne Wright, Mary Ann Thomas, and Ralph O'Neal.

Oct. 8 Flag Football League Opens Flag football got underway with the Eagles and Cavaliers tying 13-13, as the Rams edged the Comets

Oct. 15 Varsity Practice Underway A large turnout of boys was noted at the first official practice of the basketball team.

Oct. 22 Girls Begin Play The girls interested in volleyball met this week for organization and scheduling of games.

Nov. 5 Rams, Bucs Cep Football Firsts

Nov. 12 Innerclass Tourney Takes Life

The sophomores will meet the Juniors and the Seniors will play the Freshmen in the first round games of the innerclass tourney.

> Nov. 19 Twelve Football All-Stars Selected

Dec. 3 Seniors Win Class Tourney Tom Warren leads scoring with

Jan. 7 "Big" Donaldson Is

First In Scoring After 10 varsity games Ken Donaldson is leading the Herd with 156 points.

Jan. 14 Herd Paces Austin Peay 73-65

The D.L.C. Bisons finally got back into the winning column as they eased past Austin Peay 73-65, Tuesday night.

> Jan. 21 Tumbling Gains New Interest

Something new has been added to the half-time activities and at all home games.

> Jan. 28 Commodores Down Bisons 88-61

Feb. 4 Elkins Sets Pace In Table Tennis

Feb. 18 A.C.C. Wildcats Trip Bisons 74-66 Before 2,000 Homecoming Fans

Feb. 25 VSAC Tournament Is Success

A successful VSAC tournament was held in Lipscomb Gym this

Mar. 4 Baseballers Start Practice Thirty-two prospects take to the diamond.

Mar. 11 Rams Cop AA Crown As Basketball Closes

The Rams led by classy pivot man Tom Warren won 6 games while losing none to take the title.

Apr. 1 Construction Begins On New Golf Course

(Oh yes! This was the April Fool's edition).

Apr. 8 Baseballers Lose Opener To Union 4-3 A ninth inning single scored two runs as Union defeated the Bisons at Jackson, 4-3.

Apr. 15 T.P.I. Defeats D.L.C. Golfers

May 20 Netters Win VASAC Net Crown

> May 27 Rams Cop Intramural Title

The Rams led by Don McAlister repeated as club champions this

Comets Defeated At Annual Picnic

Last Thursday evening at the annual intramural "champions" picnic, the newly-elected all-stars softball team defeated the Comets, who were champions during regular season play. The score was Herman Montgomery, Bob Thomas, Bill Camp, Bob Harris, Tom Warren, Connell Taylor, Don McAlister, Harry Rose, and Rodney Cloud composed the starting nine for the all-stars!

Opposing them on the championship Comets team were Corky Brown, Billy Gipson, John Friend, Bob Sivley, Shug Davy, Chuck Jones, Larry Chunn, Jerry Mc-Clesky, Max Wilcox, and Don Holliday.

It was a nip and tuck battle all the way with the lead changing hands several times in the fiveinning duel. The all stars took an early four run lead on the power hitting of Camp, Montgomery, and Warren. Then by the top half of the fourth the Comets had overtaken the Stars mostly because of he timely blows of Chunn, Sivley, Gibson, Brown, and

Trade at Hutcherson's

Surprises Running Rampant In Major League Baseball Play Yogi" drove in 30 runs in May, by John Phifer taking over the AL lead with 38 As the major league pennant and raised his batting average races passed the Memorial Day milestone early this week, fans of the great national pastime couldn't belitve their eeyes and ears. Instead of the veterans setting the pace, a flock of rookies in both circuits have been catching the eyes of sports writers and fans alike.

There is a crop of an almost unbelievable number to choose from. But if the voting for Rookie of the Year were to be held today, it is probable that the honors would go o Cleveland's Herb Score in the American League, and the Cubs' Bobby Speake in the Senior Circuit. Score, in pitching 71 innings, has really blazed his fast one by them; and has fans remembering the early days of Bobby Feller. Score has whiffed 82 men in 71 innings-an average of over per inning. In addition, he's given up only 57 hits and has a 2.58 earned run average and a 5-3 record. Score's closet competitor among the Freshmen is probably the Yankee's Elston Howard.

Over in the National Legue, a lad who started the year as a struggling first baseman, is literally setting the woods on fire. Bob Speake, after being switched to the outfield, has a lusty .304 batting average. In addition, he's driven in 31 runs and cracked 10 homers, 7 of them coming in the last 10 games. The almost unbelievable fact thout Speake is that he is the same guy who batted a scrawny .264 with Class A Des Moines last year. Speake's closest opponent, and he's giving Bob fits, is The St. Louis Cardinals' Billy Virdon, International League batting champ at Rochester last year, is currently batting .336, wih 5 homeruns and 11 RBI. He is far superior to Speake as a defensive outfielder.

IF the pennant races keep on going the way they are now, the poor befudled experts are going to have to hunt a hole. In preseason pools, both the Indians and the Giants were picked to reepeat as pennant winners. The Indians are currently 21/2 games off the pase being set by the New York Yankees; and the Gians are in third, trailing the Dodgers by 9 games

The Yankees have, so to speak, had everything their hearts desire. After getting off to a slow sart, Yogi Berra has been earing op-posing pitchers to pieces. "The posing pitchers to pieces.

from .234 to .307. Elston Howard, Negro rookie, has also come through in fine fashion, as have veterans Bill Hunter, Andy Carey Bill Skowron and Micyey Mantle. In addition to this, they've been getting great pitching. "Bullet" Bob Turley, acquired from Baltimore, has a 7-1 record and leads the circuit in strikeouts. He's settled down remarkably from the wildness that plagued him last Johnny Kucks, Whitey and Tommy "Plowboy" Ford, Morgan have also boosted Manager Casey Stengel's hopes. On the other hand, the Indians just don't look like that club that breezed o 110 victories and the AL pennant last year. Only 1954 batting champ Bobby Avilia is batting over .300, and he is batting only .301. Ralph Kiner has failed to come through, and Larry Doby, who sparked their late inning rallies last year, has been simply miserable. About the only bright spot is in their pitching department; and this, too, is marred by the slow start of The Big eBar-Mike Garcia. The Bear will pitch one good game and then pitch two flops. Bob Lemon, is off to another 20 win season, it looks like. Bobby, who has won at least 20 games in 7 of his past 8 major leavue campaifns has won 7 and lost 3. Early Wynn, after an early season illness, is back in the same fine fashion he showed last year. Wynn sports a 5-1 record. brightest hope in their hurliny staff is Rookie Herb Score, who is discussed elsewheree on this Score has lived up to all early season expectations by Manager Al Lopez. The Indians just can't hit thee ball.

One of the most pleasant surprises in the Junior Circuit is the play of the Detroit Tigers. Backed by the fine play of Harvey Kueen, and Sophomores Bill Tuttle and Al Kaline, the Bengals are in fourth, only 7 games back of the Yanks. Kueen, who has 410 base hits in his two major leeague seasons, is leading the league in hitting with a .369 batting average BUT teammate, Sophomore Al Kaline is right on his bumper. Kline is batting .367 and leads the league with 61 hits. Kaline's sensational hitting is backed by the fact that he has his safely in 38 of the Tigers' 42 games. He's had hitting streaks of 14, 11 and 6 games; and currently has one of 8 straight.

Funny Stuff Morrison ULP . SE I THINK YOU BOYS